In some ways these spiritual cliques more resemble the relational dynamics of junior high that the Kingdom of God. Do you remember that popular crowd that most everyone aspired to be a part of and loved by or at least hated by, as long as they weren't invisible? It is fundamental cry of the human heart to be seen. To be loved is wonderful. To be hated is not so wonderful, but is usually infinitely better than invisibility or being systematically ignored. Not to be recognized at all is a relational solitary confinement that starves the soul.

We were created for relationship, first with God and second with one another. The religious systems of man that foster a spiritual in-crowd stand in stark opposition to the heart of God and the ways of His Kingdom. They betray the image of the One they claim to represent by presenting a model of Him as other than who He is. Not one soul, not one person is EVER invisible to Jesus. Every single one of our hairs is numbered by Him. And He calls us to become a family that includes and welcome not excludes and ignores. We do not tolerate sin. But we love the person who is startlingly imperfect enough to commit it. And we invite them to join us on a journey with Jesus to deeper wholeness, greater freedom and growing maturity.

Jesus' harshest words recorded were to the Pharisees and spiritual cliques of His day. He has not changed. His harshest words still are. It is a simple fact beloved that you become like that which worship. The Pharisees for all their religious sounding talk and pious prayers were not worshiping God. Not fundamentally at least. They worshiped power, prestige, position and praise and fell into the trap of believing their own press. They allowed themselves to be placed on pedestals and over time began to believe they belonged there. They did not resemble or even recognize God because it was not Him they were truly worshiping. Their actions and character betrayed the emptiness of their words.

Leaders this is sobering stuff for us, especially for those of us who are growing in influence and name recognition. All of us in our flesh have certain predispositions to Pharisee-like temptations. Who DOESN'T like to be recognized and considered important? Who doesn't like to be part of a close-knit group of relationships and have their own running crowd? Who among us would say being honored doesn't feel pretty darn good?

In my early years, I was set on pedestals in many ways by those around me. I have learned the hard way pedestals are just plain dangerous. They set you apart and make you other-- they might even make you someone's idol. A pedestal is a lonely and precarious place to stand and OH so easy to fall off of. I have also learned the only safe way to deal with pedestals is to systematically jump off them and ruthlessly destroy them through authenticity, reality and at times in-your-face honesty. Avoiding pedestals also demands us to be aware enough to always point folks to Jesus and not to ourselves. Leaders we may be gifted, anointed and appointed for a certain call but we just are not "all that". Shall we get over ourselves and start pointing even more boldly past our gifts and understandings to the One Who so graciously entrusted them to us?

We give the Pharisees a bad rap, but honestly their failings were no different than many of ours could be if we embraced religion and operated out of our flesh. So why was Jesus so much harder on the Pharisees if their failings were common to man? I believe He was as hard as He was on them, because they wrongly claimed to speak for and represent Him. In so grossly misrepresenting Him and following after the idolatry of their own hearts, they effectively not only refused to enter the Kingdom of God, they barred and locked the way for those around them as well.

Since God intimately and experientially knows our hearts, the very core of who we are, shall we ask Him to show us in any way we have embraced the idolatry of the Pharisees? Jesus longs to reveal any hidden idolatry of our hearts to us so that which is false intimacy in our lives can be exposed, renounced and repented from allowing us to come into TRUE intimacy with Him.

THE QUESTION

…that which is highly esteemed, elevated in honor and influence and dignified among men is detestable and idolatry in the sight and presence of God…

This line certainly begs the question: SO what IS highly esteemed, elevated in honor and influence and dignified among men? May I propose a few ideas? Some of these were the same things that became idols in the hearts of the Pharisees. Some of these idols were openly worshiped culturally and had temples with religious orders of their own built in their names. Other idols found their temples simply in the hearts of those that served them.

POWER, POSITION & PRESTIGE: Man honors position, prestige and reputation. The Pharisees sought after the best seats at the table and the places of prominence and recognition in their social spheres. I have been in a number of churches where this is a driving force behind decisions and relational dynamics. Instead of climbing the corporate ladder, members vied for coveted positions on the favored pew or places of relational influence. The in-crowds in these places were alive and thriving. The saddest thing was so much of this was dressed up in religious jargon of "armor-bearers" and "personal intercessors," I very much doubt the people involved had any idea of what they were doing or how it potentially affected those around them, let alone their own relationships with the Lord.

In many places today, you are revered if you are in the graces of certain well-known commodities in the Kingdom. Some people's identities seem to be more associated with the ministries they serve in or run with than their relationship with Jesus. You are considered to have "arrived" (where I am not sure) if a select-elect few know your name. We have created a superstar subculture in the Body of Christ that idolizes fame, ministry, power and the perks that go with it. It is idolatry pure and simple and it MUST be addressed.

Jesus' response was direct. He who is the greatest among you-- let him be your servant. God's Kingdom is not concerned superstars but servant leaders who follow in the footsteps of their Savior. Take the lowest position and be invited higher. And you don't have a reputation. You died. Your only reputation is His reputation and He was despised, hated and crucified. Jesus didn't win any popularity contests in His day. Why do we think if follow Him our paths will lead to popular acclaim when His led to the cross?

One of my favorite poems of all times was written by a man named Gerhard Tersteegen. He clearly understood the call to the cross was to come and die, not come and dine. I quote it to myself almost daily. As he wrote, may we be reminded once more:

Across the will of nature
Leads on the path of God;
Not where the flesh delighteth
The feet of Jesus trod.
O bliss to leave behind us
The fetters of the slave,
To leave ourselves behind us,
The grave-clothes and the grave!

We follow in His footsteps;
What if our feet be torn?
Where He has marked the pathway
All hail the briar and thorn!
Scarce seen, scarce heard, unreckoned,
Despised, defamed, unknown,
Or heard but by our singing,
On, children! ever on!

DESTINY*: Isa 65:11 But you who forsake the LORD, Who forget My holy mountain, Who set a table for Fortune, And who fill cups with mixed wine for Destiny…

I realize I am about to tread on some sacred ground here. Many of our ministries and churches talk about destiny, A LOT. I do understand what is largely intended but I must disagree with the terminology. It is so broadly used and accepted, I fight against using it myself. I sometimes have to catch myself in mid-sentence. So why am I so opposed to what many would consider an issue of semantics? Words have meaning and we need to be using biblical verbiage or we are in danger of promoting unbiblical concepts. This is exactly what I am concerned is happening even when we have best intentions otherwise.

My first objection is Destiny was an idol from ancient times even mentioned in the Bible by name and in modern times is still worshipped under different guises. In many places finding ones "destiny in Christ" has eclipsed knowing Jesus Christ Himself. That makes destiny an idol. Destiny is defined by Webster's Dictionary as "the seemingly inevitable succession of events one has no control over, one's fate". Embracing the concept of destiny is often a fraction away from slipping into a Christianized version of fatalism. Then mix in a slightly skewed understanding of the purpose of the prophetic gifting and you get a recipe for serious deception.

What is the biblical concept that commonly gets referred to as destiny or Calling? There are twenty-two types of callings in Scripture. And it is evident by the progression of when they are introduced biblically the calling of WHO you are or identity is foundational to every other context of calling we commonly term destiny. IF WE WILL BE WHO WE ARE CALLED TO BE, WE WILL DO WHAT WE ARE CALLED TO DO.

Destiny also has within it an inherent focus on doing instead of being… that our destiny is something we do instead of who we are. Calling unlike destiny has no inevitability about it whatsoever. It is wholly contingent on choice and moment by moment obedience to Jesus. No prophetic word or promise concerning calling from the Lord is guaranteed. It hinges on our acceptance and then from the place of His grace in the context of relationship with Him, our daily walk of obeying His words each step of the way. The concept of calling is worlds away from destiny biblically. Destiny also has subtle undertones that it is somehow about us and might happen apart from the Lord. It's just our destiny after all. Calling however is initiated by God, is embraced only in relationship with Him and is fulfilled expressly from the place of His grace and the position our submission and obedience to His Word.

SUCCESS: So what's wrong with success? Well nothing-- unless of course it defines the gospel that you present. And then there is the slight discrepancy between our view of success and God's view of success. Other than that, not a thing… well unless you worship it and let it define your worth and identity.

The church in America has largely embraced the gospel of success that placates sin and crucifies nothing. More sermons are presented on giving church members yet another tool for their tool case to make them more successful, have better relationships, be happier, healthier, richer, thinner, more fashionable, more respectable, get that promotion, marry Mr. or Mrs. right and live the American dream. May I ask a technical question? Where in all of this grooming for success is the cross that bids us come and die?

No, not the Nerf-like cross that doesn't have the power even scrape us, but the cross of the Gospel that has the power to kill our affections and sensibilities, even our aspirations and agendas and most certainly our flesh. The ultimate success looked at the time like the ultimate failure. The ultimate success came at the price of death. Where is the Gospel that calls us to lay down our rights, pick up our cross and follow a crucified Savior on a path that may mean we see no treasure on earth, we may be ridiculed and thought to be failures, we may even be required to love not our lives unto death? Where is THAT cross and that Gospel that says success is nothing less and nothing other than running our race to run into our Savior's arms and see Him smile as He says, "WELL DONE, good and faithful servant?"

Victory is not about our circumstances. Success is not about our accolades. Some of the men and women we herald as giants of the faith, if we met them in our modern day context we would despise them as abysmal failures. Where brother is your faith? Your clothes are worn. Your car is falling apart. You have no stable income except from mending tents. You have published no bestsellers and no one is clamoring at your door to speak at conferences. You can't even seem to have a consistent decent meal and you are always getting trouble with the authorities. Hey Paul, why don't you just truck yourself on to the next town and leave us alone?

No, victory is not about our circumstances. The greatest victory of all time, so great in fact it forever split time as we know it, began on the darkest day the world had ever seen. The second the enemy thought he had won, death's keys no longer belonged to him. For in the place of seeming defeat, Jesus vanquished hell, death and the grave and rendered them powerless. Victory is about what happens IN us in the midst of our circumstances and how we choose to respond the Lord even in the face of hell itself.

I have been physically assaulted overseas by a local pastor who hated women and foreigners... I've been kicked out, blackballed, walked through shootouts, had to foot all my own bills, drank unfiltered water in the slums of S Asia for a year and almost died because of it with over a 106 F fever. No shipwrecks yet, only being stranded for several days in airports. But I am beginning to sympathize with Paul just a hair. I told Jesus 8 years ago I wanted to see genuine revival come to my generation and He asked me if I would be willing to pay the price. I didn't know really what that was but I was desperate enough I said yes and now despite knowing way more of the heartache and at times the hardship-- I can honestly say I would not trade one bit of it and I know Jesus so much better for what He has allowed me to walk through. And in knowing Him and choosing His ways beloved, THAT is victory and success.

MAMMON: We actually hear a lot about this one so I'll keep it brief. We have a culture that is built on materialism and merchandising. The great quest to gain a bigger house, a better car and to fill them both with more stuff seems part and parcel to the American dream. There are times I too have been rightly accused for doing more than my fair share to stimulate the local economy. We are so inundated with the cry for MORE, it can be at times deafening.

I do not believe there is anything wrong with having nice things or even desiring them, as long as it is kept in check with Kingdom priorities and submitted to the cross. Do you own your possession or do they own you? That simple… We are stewards of what we have been given and it ultimately belongs to the same One we belong to: Jesus Christ. We are not our own and neither is our bank account or the sum total of that which we call ours.

PLEASURE: We live in what can be often a "pleasure-crazy kingdom". We have no further to look than the next commercial on TV or ad in the paper. Our society promotes pleasure of all forms. Why? Because we're worth it... The revelers in the ancient world held orgies to Bacchus and Dionysus and we in our modern civilization hold keg parties and watch porno. Now of course no self-respecting Christian would be caught even outwardly contemplating such sin. But statistics are clear that such revelry has infiltrated the church and captured a whole contingent of prisoners to pleasure in our midst.

But does it go farther? Does it get potentially even more insidious? I believe it may. What about spiritual orgies? No I am not talking about the cultic kind. I am talking about believers that have gotten addicted to manifestations and feeling the next rush of what they interpret to be the Holy Spirit moving in the service. Sometimes it IS the Holy Spirit and I love feeling His Presence more than I can convey, but folks not everything that is "spiritual" even in church is the Holy Spirit. We MUST be discerning. Many have been drugged into a spiritual stupor by emotional and experiential highs in the place of at times manipulative worship techniques and hype. They are left to run from conference to conference and speaker to speaker to get their next fix. This is NO way live life. This is NOT the abundant life Jesus promises. This is bondage, not freedom.

I am in no way negating the genuine experiences with the Lord which are life-changing and at times intensely emotional. And I'm the first to sign up for a good conference. But if you are addicted to a feeling you get and feel bereft of God without it, some questions need to be asked. There is absolute pleasure in God's Presence. In fact, nothing is like knowing His pleasure and the pleasures of knowing Him. But our relationship with Jesus should not built on feelings and experiences alone. These must be balanced and evaluated by His Word and knowing the reality of His character beyond emotion and experiential gauges. Our relationship is built on truth and grows through obedience, whether that obedience feels pleasurable at the moment or not.

WAR*:* Like so many of our predecessors before us, we too in our culture tend to worship war. Not overtly but this pension is often expressed in subtle ways through entertainment choices, sports and even some of our understandings of prayer and intercession. I want to clarify that being a warrior spiritually is a wonderful thing-- as long as we keep our eyes on Jesus, our hearts submitted to Him and our worship where it belongs.

I have been in many places though, that instead of delighting in Jesus, they seem to delight in spiritual warfare. Ps 68:30b says "He has scattered the peoples who delight in, incline to, desire and take pleasure in war." Time and again I have watched those who get fascinated with figuring out principalities out of the place of curiosity and not genuine leading of the Holy Spirit, get scattered. We MUST only enter into the battles the Lord chooses for us and then even in the middle of warfare keep our eyes focused on Him. We are to understand our enemy and not be ignorant of him but our focus no matter HOW fierce the battle is to remain on the Author and Finisher of our faith.

STATE: Lastly in some circles we worship our state. This is a delicate subject in some ways with some fine lines in operation. Let me be the first to say that I am about as patriotic as they come. I am grateful for our freedoms and opportunities. I am thankful for the leadership currently in office. I am encouraged by our heritage. I believe we do have a call as a nation. But the USA has the potential as never before to fall ever further away from her biblical heritage in the choices that are made or not made in the next few years.

And the bottom line is as followers of Jesus; our citizenship is in His Kingdom. Our allegiance is to His dreams not the American dream and to His values, not those of our culture around us. When our culture's values clash with biblical, Kingdom values, we are to be a counter-culture not a sub-culture. And we as a nation have a deeply rooted pride in our chosen-ness that must be dealt with by godly humility. We are not immune. I believe the outcome of this nation largely rests in the hands of God's people and the choices we choose to make. We are especially not immune when instead of waking up with the wake up call of 911, we opened our eyes, rolled over and hit the snooze!

It is time for God's people to awake: in prayer, in discipleship, in obedience, in standing against the tide of our times to in love bring His Kingdom. We may have some challenging times ahead as a nation. But beloved, the tide must turn. God is willing to do whatever it takes to turn our hearts back to Him.

THE CALL: ARE THERE ANY JOSIAHS IN THE HOUSE?

I would be remiss in writing an article like this without including a clear call to respond in repentance and returning to the Lord in the places we have embraced any idolatry in our hearts. This article is not to condemn. It is to in the power of the Holy Spirit bring conviction that brings us to a change in the way we think that produces a change in the way we live. In our day as never before we need a generation who will confront the idolatry of their culture and the religious systems of their day and choose God's ways over the ways and systems of man. We need a generation who will choose to honor God and choose the honor of God over that of their culture. We need a generation of Josiah's.

Josiah was the only king in either Israel or Judah that effectively dealt with the idolatry of his day. He restored the Word of God to the land and God's covenant to His people. His name means "Jehovah supports and heals, given of the Lord, the fire of the Lord." God is raising up a Josiah generation supported by His arm, healed and made whole by His hand, given for such a time as this and filled and flooded with His fire.

The kingly mantle Josiah wore is being transferred and this generation is being commissioned from childhood to move in God's authority and do what is right in His eyes. He is restoring His Word to this generation with purity and revelation. Josiah humbled himself and wept at the state of God's people. Where beloved are our tears for the state of the church in our land?

It is time to remove from God's house all the things, even unto mindsets and attitudes, dedicated to Baal and Asherah: those things dedicated to possession and control and set aside to honor the idols of our culture. Kingdoms are about to collide in our midst. That which was dedicated to the enemy will be burned in the place of obscurity. Then the ashes will be taken to the Bethels (the place where Israel initially made a golden calf and fell into idolatry), the entrances and gateways where idolatry and strongholds were originally established in the land, prophetically declaring destruction to the roots and foundations of idolatrous worship and false intimacy.

It is time to address the spirit of prostitution that has crept in and polluted God's people. No longer will we be allowed to run after other loves or seek satisfaction at the hands of the flesh or the world while pretending faithfulness to God. As a generation, we are called to desecrate the high places throughout the land through radical obedience, outpoured worship and broken-hearted repentance. We are called to break down the shrines built at the gates and governments of our cities and states.

See that before the restoration of God's order and Presence could be established in Judah, there had to be a revolution against the pollution and idolatry that held them in bondage for almost 600 years. This day God is calling us to join the Josiah generation and revolt against the enemy's schemes and high places, desecrate his entry points and purify the inheritance He has given us in this land.

Josiahs arise!!! It is time to revolt against the darkness. It is time to live what we pray in radical repentance, desperate dependence, holy hunger and absolute obedience to the Lord. We have been commissioned for a revolution that brings Kingdom reformation. So are there any Josiahs in the house? Are there any willing to confront the idolatry of our culture and our places of worship? Are there those willing to stand to see God's ways restored to our nation and His Kingdom come; His will be done here in our midst, as it is heaven? Let the revolution begin and let it begin in us. Selah.

www.micheleperry.com

Time of Transition
Jeannette Rodgers

October 20, 2005

Many are in walking through places of transition. Many are simply in a place, a layover, a waiting room, or on a stepping stone, waiting for the next step to appear before them. You may be in a place that is difficult, trying, sometimes confusing, sometimes doubting, sometimes questioning, sometimes wondering what you are doing, where you are, what the purpose is, why you are there and where you are going next.

Moving forward requires a change, change is not easy. Change requires faith. Allowing God to work through you and within you while you are waiting is essential, so that you will trained, prepared and/or ready when it is time to be launched forward. It is even more challenging when we move forward ahead of HIS perfect timing and find out we really weren't ready to move at all.

Also, one must be willing to let go of the past so that one can move forward in fullness. Many of us hold on to the past and carry it with us and never being able to fully appreciate where we are or where we are going with so much baggage weighing us down. Never being able to get to that predestined place because the weight of the past has caused us to slow down or fall down. In order to go to the next level or next place we must let go, so we can move forward, and push on.

Places of transition are times of testing, they are faith builders, they are times of needing to trust more, talk less, listen intently, watch closely, pray harder and stand more firmly than in the past. The past is the bridge, the present is the stepping stone and the leap is the transition from here to there. There... is the place that He has for you. A new season, a new path in the journey of Life in Him, a new friend, a new church, a new beginning. Whatever it may be, we must trust that God knows and has wonderful plans for our lives. Things that end or doors that have closed just mean there is something new waiting, an open window of opportunity, a door to another chapter of your life.

Times of transition are difficult because they may require you to wait, trust, stand, and learn to be content until it is time to move forward. Sometimes there are certain things that will push you to where you should be, so that you will be in the perfect will of God and not just the permissive will of God. Frustration can reveal many things if you will watch what it is trying to say to you. If you are willing to accept what is being placed before you even when it is most hard to do so , you will find that God will help you and guide you through.

Being humble enough to admit mistakes and wrong decisions are necessary so we can get to where we are suppose to be. When we fall into mud we don't just flop around in it we get up and wash off and continue on, Right? God is merciful, gracious and loving. He cleanses us over and over again. He picks us up into His loving arms ever so gently and puts us back on our feet. We could never get to where we are suppose to be if we don't recognize where we are just isn't right. Its okay to say, this isn't it. Thought it was but its not. Move on!! That in itself is all a part of humility working in us. That is a good thing as humbling as it may be to admit. No need to justify it or defend it , just shake it off and move forward.

Pride can keep us down and hold us back from smoothly moving through the transition we are in. These obstacles must be removed so that there might be a quick transition and one that will be fruitful in HiM and not just eventful in our lives.

If you are in a place of transition, trust in the One who has the plan for your Life. Jesus Christ already knows where HE is bringing you. It is a decision though, if you are wanting the permissive place where HE allows you to go because He loves you and will guide you and use you there, or you can go to His perfect will, the place where you know in the depth of your very being that without a doubt, or without question you are at peace and rest in Him. All that matters is your relationship with Him. When that is perfected you can be at peace anywhere. As we grow closer and closer to the Lord we will find that His will for us is truly to be at rest in Him as we walk in Him through life. He came that we might have Life abundantly. That we should know of unspeakable joy in Him, even in the most trying times. Find the place where simplicity is, peace in our Lord, rest in our Father and contentment with where you are while you are in transition.

Make your transition with grace, wisdom and peace in the Lord.

Where you were determined where you are and where you are is leading you to where you are going.

Love and Abundant blessings in Jesus Christ, Jeannette Rodgers

Joel 2:19- I AM sending you NEW WINE, OIL, and GRAIN... Enough to satisfy you FULLY.

Joel 3:18-And it shall come to pass in that day, that the mountains shall drop down new wine, and the hills shall flow with milk, and all the rivers of Judah shall flow with waters, and a fountain shall come forth out of the house of the LORD, and shall water the valley of Shittim.

An Easterly Wind
Jeannette Rodgers

October 16, 2005

Hosea 13:15
...even though he thrives among his brothers, An east wind from the Lord will come, blowing in from the desert; his spring will fail and his well dry up. His storehouse will be plundered of all its treasures.

Hosea 10:1-2
1 Israel empties his vine; He brings forth fruit for himself. According to the multitude of his fruit He has increased the altars; According to the bounty of his land They have embellished his sacred pillars. 2

Their heart is divided; Now they are held guilty. He will break down their altars; He will ruin their sacred pillars.

A strong and mighty gust of Easterly Wind is about to start blowing through the land. A mighty wind, a rushing wind, is making Way. Yes, I say loose those things which have caused oppression and depression; loose those things that have caused division; loose those things that have distracted you from seeing and hearing clearly; loose the greed; loose the self sufficient attitudes; loose the self defense sarcasm; loose the arrogance for power; restrain from fighting for fame; Much must be removed and loosed in order that you might move in grace and peace in this hour. For when much is given, much is required.

The unsettling in your spirit and the confusion in your mind and the discontentment in your heart is the frustration that I will use for Good to move you .For your mind cannot comprehend what I have in store. For you have thought with your mind that if you let go you will have to trust more, relinquish control, or appear weak. Humility will be required at this time. Humble yourself and I will lift you up.

This East Wind will come rushing in and will push things into place and remove those things that have clogged the plumb line.

Hold fast, stand firm and know that I AM God. I AM able.

This Wind will align things into position that are according to My plans and not those plans that "seem right" in your eyes. Traditions, rituals, hypocrisy, pride, envy, jealousy, and idols will be blown away by this Easterly Wind.

You will have to let go, you will have to let go, Trust in Me with ALL of your heart and lean not on YOUR own understanding. Those things being removed are meant for good for I love you with an everlasting Love, and give you peace that will surpass all understanding.

Time Is Running Out

Barbara Lynch

October 30, 2003, 4:03 am

This is not the time to be running to and fro looking for advice from others. This is the time to stay focused upon My face and to sit at My feet, knowing that I have all that you have need of and that I will supply all that you need to know and understand at this given time in your walk with Me. I am a faithful and a just God and I am taking care of My peoples that are called by My name.

Many false witnesses are running to and fro and speaking thus saith the Lord, and they have not been sent by Me, but they are on their own timetables and they have their own agendas. All will soon see and know that I am a true and loving Father, that only wants what is best for His children.

Time is running out for My people. They must come into the inner circle of My arms and they must sit at My feet for instruction, or they will be swept away by the false and will never understand the true. Many false prophets have arisen upon the scene and they will shake the nations with what is not of Me, saith the Lord. Discernment is much needed at this given time and great wisdom is demanded of My peoples.

Job knew My voice, but there were times when he wondered just exactly what was going on around about him. Come under the protection of My Holy Mountain and you shall not be deceived nor will you be led astray with every wind and doctrine.

My people, truth must be sent forth and only My prophets can send the truth forth. My prophets, hear what I am saying at this given hour and understand the complete importance of what I am saying. I am requiring a time of fasting and prayer from each of My prophets at this given time. It is as you fast and pray, that you will hear the true voice of the Father and have discernment for this end time display of My hands at work in this unholy nation.

Rejoice before Me, and come bearing gifts of fasting and prayer and see what I will reveal unto your very hearts and eyes. For great visions will I give unto My peoples and great understanding of My Holy Word.

Spots. Do not allow any spots nor blemishes appear upon your most holy garments, but come before Me rejoicing, knowing that I am about to pour out the very core of My heart to My prophets and they will know all things pertaining to My end time word.

The glow of My Holy Wisdom will be evident upon My peoples and all will know that you have set at My feet as Moses did. Have I not been saying that you would see Me face to face? Have I not said that as I was for Moses, so I will be for you? I am becoming the Great I Am, to all those that will pay the price with fasting and prayer. Your heart will reveal yourself to you. Pay no attention to the voices of discord around about you, but stay focused upon My voice and My direction at this given time.

Holiness shall prevail in My chosen vessels at this given time. Knowing what is ahead will be apparent to all that hear My servant's voices. Seek not the wisdom of this world, but stayed focused on the wisdom from above. For it is from above that all wisdom will fall.

What is it that you are looking for? That is the question that I am sending forth for all to hear at this given hour. Is it a reed shaken by the wind? Or is it the truth that will come forth from My Holy Servants? Matthew 11:7. This is the day and this is the hour of Holy Redemption in the land and I am sending forth the harvesters at this given time. Many will find themselves on the road and many will find themselves with a change of authority and position. Be still and know that I am God and be still and hear the still small voice that will lead, guide and direct at this given time in My Kingdom. For I am giving Kingdom authority to My chosen vessels and they shall see truth restored to the House of the Lord. Truth shall prevail and many souls will be brought into the Kingdom, for this is the day of the harvest of lost and dying souls. The harvest truly is ripe unto salvation, and many have been waiting for this day and this hour. Seek not your own ways, but continue to seek My ways saith the Lord, for I am about to do a great and mighty works upon this land and all will soon see the I am in control of the heavens and the earth.

Barbara Lynch
October 30, 2003, 3:46 am

As you wait upon Me in the wee hours of the morning, I will share My heart of discomfort with you. My heart is heavy with the anticipation of what is coming upon My people in America and I am grieved because all of this could have been avoided, if only My people who are called by My name would have fasted and prayed as I commanded them to do, but to no avail. They were too busy with their own little meetings and to wrapped up in their own little worlds to give Me the time that I so desired to fellowship with them.

Truth is being shed abroad in this country and My truth shall be seen throughout the continent of America. Faith will arise within My people and they shall seek My face as never before. They shall see the rise and fall of a Mighty nation. They shall know what it is to sit in the comforts of their homes only to be uprooted and thrown into a state of frenzy as they try to escape My hand of wrath. The pleasures of this world will grow strangely dim and My people will run to the shelter of the Almighty once again and this time they shall stay under the shadow of the Almighty.

Who shall believe My report? Who shall stand upon the Holy Mountain and proclaim My judgments upon an unholy nation? My prophets will believe and My prophets will be sent forth to proclaim My word in Holiness and in My strength and in My power. Fire shall proceed out of their mouths and great signs and wonders will appear all around them. They shall see nation rise against nation and they shall see the Mighty fall, for this is My judgment upon this unholy nation.

Circumstances are about to change around about My Holy Ones! They shall come into the throne room of grace and receive My Grace in great abundance. They shall perceive My call upon their lives and they shall come running into My Holy Arms. For Holiness is where I am at. I am not in the facade of this world religion. I am in My Throne room of Holiness ministering salvation to My true prophets that have set at My feet and listened for My voice and have gone forth prepared and equipped to deliver salvation unto My people. Circumstances are about to change, as I have spoken many years ago. All those who have been warned and did not heed My warnings, will undergo a drastic change in their lives and they will stand amazed at the wonder of what I have done, and in the knowledge that they have missed the very best that I had for their lives. Listen intently to My voice little ones and do not stir from your place of worship until you hear My words of instruction; for this is a time of an unholy war that will ravage all those that did not have discernment of the times.

Barbara Lynch
October 15, 2005, 2:38 PM

I felt very troubled all day and could not pray away the heaviness. Finally I just sat down at my computer and said: (What is this Lord?)

Hurricane! Another hurricane is on the way and this one will do much destruction to the land. Watchman be on the wall and heed My voice at every turn. Much, much destruction is coming across this land and I need My watchmen in place on their walls. Be at the place of listening at all times. I am truly with you and I will cause you to abide under the shadow of the Almighty. This is destruction time for this nation and also My Body. Please little ones, run to the shelter of the rock and stay there.

Barbara Lynch
October 18, 2005, 6:13 AM

The main stream is full of defilement and I must cut off the heads to preserve the body. I am a just and true God and I must bring My axe down upon My houses, if the world is going to be able to trust Me. The defilement in the church has run rampant for far to long now. I must take action upon those in Leadership positions, whether they like it or not. I have sent My Grace ahead of Me for them to repent, but not so. Why would the world want to come into pollution? They live in pollution in the world. They are looking for security, some sense of peace and conformity. They don’t need more confusion.

I drew the line in the sand two years ago and I have been working on My leaders since that time, but to no avail. Now judgment has come to the house of the Lord. Jeremiah saw the judgment and he lamented and cried out to Me, but the peoples would not change. You are living in the same hour.

Then the Father told me to go and read: Jeremiah chapter 10

Time Is Shorter Than People Think

Judy Curmi

10-15-2005

You are my child and you belong to me. The world is not your home; heaven is. You are here on assignment for a short period of time, but time is shorter than people think! Very few are paying attention to the Signs of the Times. They are still in denial because they have not yet been personally effected.

You are to keep your eyes on me and follow me. Don’t get tripped up by all of the messages bombarding you from the world. No one has any idea what is truly going on. All of man’s lofty ideas and brilliant schemes are worthless and useless. They will all come tumbling down - soon.

You are to march to the beat of a different drummer. Soon the noise from the earth and on your television screens will reach a cacophonous* pitch as I shake and shake.

All of this was prophesied in MY Word, but many individuals, even in my body, are in denial. Instead they are preaching and prophesying peace, safety and prosperity! How surprised they will be when the idols they have built to replace MY Word tumble to the ground!

I will not be mocked. I AM still in control I can not be manipulated and I can not be told what to do. Just the reverse is true. You are to pick up your cross and follow and obey ME.

Those who do not follow and obey me will stumble badly in the days ahead. The idols they have concocted to please themselves will not save them. Nor will my children be "snatched away" until I say so, and I do not set my timetables to please men! [2 Thess. 4:13 to 5:11]

I will have a glorious church and I will have a glorious bride. My church is not going down to defeat. My bride is not going to be half-baked, having one foot in the world and one foot in my kingdom. She will recognize me. She will be willing to give her life for me, as I was willing to give my life for her.

The trumpet has sounded. Now the final act begins in earnest. The sheep and the goats will be separated. The fire will fall. There will be great favor for my beloved and great tribulation for the world. I will pull out all the stops in this, THE FINAL ACT.

HOLD ON. GET READY, FOR THE LION IS PREPARING TO ROAR UNTIL BOTH THE EARTH AND THE HEAVENS SHAKE!

Your Jesus

*Cacophonous: Having a harsh, unpleasant sound, discordant, jarring

When I received this sentence I saw a barnyard scene in which an intruder had entered. All of the animals and poultry were "sounding the alarm" with braying, bellowing, quacking, clucking, honking, barking and many other animal sounds. It was bedlam.

Heb. 12:25-29 See that you do not refuse Him who speaks. For if they did not escape who refused Him who spoke on earth, much more shall we not escape if we turn away from him who speaks from heaven, whose voice then shook the earth; but now He has promised saying; "Yet once more I shake not only the earth, but also heaven." Now this, "Yet once more," indicates the removal of those things that are being shaken, as of things that are made, that the things which can not be shaken may remain.

Therefore, since we are receiving a kingdom, which can not be shaken, let us have grace, by which we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear. For our God is a consuming fire. [_NKJ_]

Matt. 24:29 Immediately after the tribulation of those days the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give its light; the stars will fall from heaven and the powers of the heavens will be shaken. [_NKJ_]

Mark 13:21-27 "Then if anyone says to you, ‘Look, here is the Christ!’ or, ‘Look, He is there!" do not believe it. For false Christ’s and false prophets will rise and show signs and wonders to deceive, if possible, even the elect. But take heed; see, I have told you all things before hand.

But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun will be darkened and the moon will not give its light; the stars of heaven will fall, and the powers of the heavens will be shaken. Then they will see the Son of Man coming in the clouds with great power and glory. And He will send His angels, and gather together His elect from the four winds, from the farthest part of the earth to the farthest part of heaven." [_NKJ_]

This Is The Beginning
Stephen Hanson

Sept. 3, 2005

8 All these are the beginning of birth pains. Matt. 24

3 First of all, you must understand that in the last days scoffers will come, scoffing and following their own evil desires. 4 They will say, "Where is this 'coming' he promised? Ever since our fathers died, everything goes on as it has since the beginning of creation."2 Peter 3

(The devastation that has hit the coastline of New Orleans and Mississippi, has been devastating and beyond belief to many of us. I know that all of this is still fresh in our hearts and minds. It is a time of unbelievable suffering and loss through all of this. In some ways, I almost hesitate to send out messages like this, but I must be obedient. I believe that more is yet to come. We pray for the many who have been through this, but at the same time, we must prepare for what lies ahead. Many have asked, “How should I prepare?” Seek the Lord and get your house in order, and He will let you know what you should be doing.)

“I tell you that Katrina is one of many other disasters that will hit the United States. The devastation that has hit this area has cost many lives and has caused the loss of much property, but I tell you that even greater damage will come. For my judgments have begun. You will see people without food and water in even more increasing numbers. “

(The Lord showed me a scene of two large figures who held a huge net in their hands. It had been draped over a huge 3-D map of the United States. Then I saw each of them carefully roll the net up and take it off of the surface of the entire area of the United States.)

“Woe to those who say that their sin is far from Me. Woe to those who say that these days are not pointing to my soon return. I tell you that warning after warning has been given. I am not a God that gets pleasure out of the destruction of many. But when the sins of many have reached the magnitude that they have, then there are consequences that will follow. “

“I tell you people, care for those who are in need. Reach out to the many who have been without shelter during this time. But be ye prepared for the coming trials that are coming upon this earth.”

Stephen Hanson
tseyigai@yahoo.com
http://www.angelfire.com/in/HisTruth

Look Not At The Factions
Stephen Hanson

Look Not At The Factions, But Look At Me”

Aug. 24, 2005 evening,

(I have seen lately how many groups have set-up their own agendas in such a way that anyone who does not totally agree with them that they are then false in one way or another. We all perhaps know of these things and have been either involved or have heard about them. When we pull a particular part of scripture out of context then our belief system follows it. We must be very careful that we somehow find a balance within God’s word and don’t become islands unto ourselves pointing our fingers at those who don't share some of our same "out-of-context" beliefs. This becomes even more important and sometimes tragic, when groups of people follow our teachings or prophecies that speak of a strict adherence to something which we have been given freedom in Christ not to follow with such regiment. Let us be careful how we adopt such views. Let us know how to properly use the word of God, and how to also "hear properly" from the spirit.)

1You foolish Galatians! Who has bewitched you? Before your very eyes Jesus Christ was clearly portrayed as crucified. 2I would like to learn just one thing from you: Did you receive the Spirit by observing the law, or by believing what you heard? 3Are you so foolish? After beginning with the Spirit, are you now trying to attain your goal by human effort? Gal. 3

5For when we were controlled by the sinful nature,[a] the sinful passions aroused by the law were at work in our bodies, so that we bore fruit for death. 6But now, by dying to what once bound us, we have been released from the law so that we serve in the new way of the Spirit, and not in the old way of the written code. Rom. 7:5-7

12What I mean is this: One of you says, "I follow Paul"; another, "I follow Apollos"; another, "I follow Cephas[a]"; still another, "I follow Christ."

13Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Were you baptized into[b] the name of Paul? 14I am thankful that I did not baptize any of you except Crispus and Gaius, I Co. 12

"I tell you that I am in the midst of my people in this hour. I am working ALL things according to my purpose and plan. The troubles that many of you have been facing are building up an eternal purpose. Everything has an eternal purpose. If my people would see the end results of these trials upon the earth then they would know more of their purposes."

"I tell you that you have heard of wars and rumors of wars, but a great war has been building within my body. For indeed, a great Civil War is coming. There will be Christians divided among many issues. This is one of the great tragedies of this time. I have longed dearly that my body would be as one, but I have seen it splintered into many factions. Many pull my word out of context. Some find a part of text from my word and make an entire treatise on it. There are some things to be found in these treatises, but what happens is that entire denominations and schools of thought are created this way; and then other parts of my word are ignored and become less important to them. Have you studied to show yourself as a worthy expositor of my word? What portion of my word is your favorite? Then what have you found that you have ignored? Are you so caught-up in my word that you have ignored my still small voice? Have you been following the letter of the law and not the spirit thereof? Have you been like some who have taught a strict adherence to the Sabbath? My people, where have these notions come from? Are you following the law or are you following grace? Are you in the old covenant or are you in the new covenant? You blind Pharisees, who has bewitched you? I tell you, woe to those apostles and prophets who teach these things. For you have led my sheep astray. You are responsible for the errors of your teachings. You are responsible for the errors of your "supposed prophecies from Me." I say, woe to those who have pointed their fingers at other ministries, for I am the judge and not you. You who have said these things, have misled thousands. But I tell you, that those who have truly stood in my courts will be given a mandate to speak forth my word in truth. "

Stephen Hanson
tseyigai@yahoo.com
http://www.angelfire.com/in/HisTruth
http://www.angelfire.com/in/HisTruth/PayPalform.html (for donations)
1809 Park Ave.
Alamogordo, NM 88310

Speak Forth The Word
Stephen Hanson

Who Would Arise On The Third Day And Speak Forth The Word Of The Lord

For as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of a huge fish, so the Son of Man will be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth. Matthew 12:40

[16] There are six things the LORD hates, seven that are detestable to him: [17] haughty eyes, a lying tongue, hands that shed innocent blood, [18] a heart that devises wicked schemes, feet that are quick to rush into evil, [18] a heart that devises wicked schemes, feet that are quick to rush into evil, [19] a false witness who pours out lies and a man who stirs up dissension among brothers. Proverbs 6:18-20

But avoid foolish controversies and genealogies and arguments and quarrels about the law, because these are unprofitable and useless. Titus 3:9

"Be about my business, my people, for the days are short. Watch out for the dogs, those who would attempt to rip apart my word. You will know them by their fruit. Their tree is full of unhealthy things. They pretend to know my word but it is far from them. These are those who want to debate and argue all day long. They have their own groups and places where they meet together. I tell you that I am against them. My people, I have said in my word that it is good not to get into controversial matters, and some love to 'stir-up things.'"

"I have said before that a great civil war is coming. I tell you that it has begun. But it is not the north against the south. It involves those who are truly speaking for Me against those who are wayward. I tell you that there are some who say that they know my word; they speak it from the rooftops. But I tell you that there is a famine in the land, a famine for hearing the true word of the Lord. Many seek after signs and wonders, but I tell you that the only sign that will be given unto them is the sign of Jonah. For he came preaching repentance. The people did come to Me, but later on I came to destroy the land. But I also tell you that Jonah was in the belly of the whale for three days. On the third day he was spit out. On the third day my Son also arose. Who would arise on the third day and speak forth the word of the Lord? "

Stephen Hanson

tseyigai@yahoo.com
http://www.angelfire.com/in/HisTruth

This Is A Time Of Transition

Shirley Lise

prophecyfortoday@sgci.com January 4, 2004

This is the day of great gain for those who have trusted Me to move on their behalf. Go with the flow. I am opening doors of opportunity, lining things up with My perfect plan, bringing all things into divine order.

Watch and you will see how I move in your midst to take down the high places and raise up the low, how I topple the kingdoms of men and implement My kingdom in the hearts and lives of the people. Watch to see Me gain footing in secular society, how I make changes. This is the time of transition, out of the old and into the new. Everything that can be shaken is being shaken, everything not rooted in Me is being uprooted. Rejoice and do not flinch in times of trial. I will come through for you.

I will birth forth My purposes. I will make sure the callings of the Elect. I will bring in the lost and reap a harvest for My kingdom. I will accomplish those things I promised. I will bring a reward to the faithful, the full measure of My Spirit released to those who have stood firm in the call.

Do not waver. Do not side-step issues, but trust that I will deal with those things that loom up as mountains. Didn't I say that I would grant to you the desires of your heart? Didn't I say that I would move in an unprecedented way to bring things into right order? Well, expect to see things move into place.

Go Into All The World And Make Disciples

Shirley Lise

prophecyfortoday@sgci.com
Jan. 8, 2005

Concentrate on what has been laid out before you. Move forward in the blessing being released to an upright generation. Go forth in the call to evangelize the lost, to bring a harvest into the kingdom of the Lord.

Go forth in the power and admonition of the Lord. Proclaim His ways and do not back down to opposition, for surely the enemy would seek to nullify the ministry of Christ, the work of the Lord ordained for this day and hour. Press in to the promises and do not give up believing for their fulfillment. Do not regard them as ineffective, for surely they shall come to pass and you will marvel at the accuracy with which they are fulfilled.

Wisdom is part and parcel of what I am releasing to you in this day. Wisdom shall guide you, for I am sending you out among thieves and violators into places of darkness to bring the light. And who shall ordain you, you ask? I shall ordain you. I shall instruct you. I shall give you leadership and guidance. I shall carry you and you shall rejoice, for I am covering you with My blood, and pouring out upon you the oil of joy. Joy shall lead you out and righteousness shall be your rear-guard.

I am breaking apart the cisterns of men, wells made to hold back the flow of My Spirit to keep it contained so it cannot flow forth with freedom. I am breaking up the water basins excavated to hold the anointing back. And I am dismantling hierarchies to let My river of life flow forth into the highways and byways, into houses, into streets, into public places, no more reserved only for the "elite."

No More!, says the Lord. No more shall My blessing be held back by power-hungry men. No more will I stand by and watch a generation perish because a religious few refuse to release what I have released to them. I am breaking the bottles of new wine and it shall flow freely into the streets, and every household of the Earth shall be blessed by the Father's love, and every household shall come into full knowledge of Christ. Every household shall experience the presence and power of the Lord.

So, take it to the streets. Go where I send you and release the blessing far and wide over households, over communities, over whole cities, over regions till the whole Earth is filled with the knowledge of the Lord. Go, I say, into all the world and make disciples of men, women and children, teaching them to observe all I taught and did, and the God of peace shall be with you. I command you to go, and I commission you to go, so do not shrink back from the call, but move forward in it, for it surely is to all nations.

I Will Thrust You Forward
Shirley Lise

Grow. You will grow in the mandate, in the calling. You shall stretch until you are able to reach far and wide. I will broaden your perspective. Though you view things through narrow sites, I will broaden your view. I will bring you into the free flow of My river. I will bask you in My presence and present you to the world a changed person, one who shines forth the radiance of Christ.

I have not forgotten you. I will once again put you into places where I will use you to bring down the high places. I am even now opening doors, ready to walk you through them and into those places. I have not removed the gifts and the giftings from you. You will once again mount up with wings as the eagle and I shall bring you into a place where you shall hear and you shall see things in the realm of the Spirit. I will thrust you forward.

Though you have been side-tracked, I will get you back on track. I will open doors for you to walk forward and into revelation of what I am doing in this day. I am quickening your sights and you shall be on target once again. I will move you on and into circles where I will use you to bring order.

Many mock because they believe you a fool and walking in darkness, but I have revealed the truth to you and you shall go on proclaiming the truth and they shall stand in awe as they watch you emerge as a spokesman in their midst. For I have not slighted you. I have not led you on a wild goose chase and down a road that was off track. I allowed you to move out in other areas, yet My hand was upon you and never once did I leave you. It was a time for you to grow in depth, to put down roots, to be influential in your community. But now is the time of your rising and I shall raise you up to great heights. And I shall take you out of hiding. You shall flourish in the call to evangelize.

I shall thrust you out to the nations and you shall walk through and into full-scale ministry. Those who mocked you will stand in awe, for their hearts were hardened against you and they denied you access in their midst. But the tide is turning and I am putting you into a position from which you shall influence kings. This is the calling I have put upon the lives of those who have been willing to give up all to follow Me into the harvest fields. You will go into places of darkness and perform My will, taking back all the enemy has stolen. Watch Me move you on and into the call. Watch Me take down barriers that have held you back. Nothing is able to prevent My plan from going forth, for I plan to move My Own into positions of great authority in this day and they shall shine forth the glory of the Lord.

Break forth in the direction I am leading you. Go forward in the mandate. I am opening doors before you and pushing you forth and into the ministry. Do not look at those around you. Do not consider their views. They are without understanding, without revelation. Focus on Me and I will give to you the desires of your heart. I will move you on and into the free flow of My Spirit. Revelation after revelation shall be yours, so be confident that I have, indeed, called you to prophesy to the nations. I have called you to be a light burning brightly, a light to the lost and erring.

I will give you My heart. I will give you those things you need to move forward and I will remove every hindrance.

Shirley Lise
http://ns1.sgci.com/~riverpub/ riverpub@sgci.com

David Has Arisen
Shirley Lise

Saul's Kingdom Has Been Smitten And David Has Arisen To Take His Place

Shirley Lise
Prophecyfortoday@sgci.com
January 6, 2005

Distant places, that is where I am taking you. You will be sent by your Heavenly Father into the places I have ordained for you and you shall be blessed abundantly, beyond all you could think or imagine.

Yes, the kingdom of Saul is about to fall, and with it, those who refuse to surrender their preconceived ways to My lordship.

Pick up the pen once again and prophesy to the nations, for I am calling out those who have ears to hear, to hear the new sound. I am turning up the volume, and yes, the message will be made clear. I have ordained David to be king. I have ordained an overturning of the order of Saul and the establishment of the Davidic order in your midst. You ask, what is this referring to? It is referring to the old covenant being replaced with the new. All those things rooted in the old will be plucked up, for I am doing a thorough cleansing and I will announce with a trumpet, the call to come out of the traditions of men and to enter into divine authority.

All the high places are coming down. All Saul's barricades are collapsing. No longer will the church of Jesus Christ be bound up by the laws and rituals of the Pharisees. No longer will the old have precedence. I will destroy every pedestal and every platform designated to man and I will come with a turbulent thunderhead to rain down a release of the prophets to call forth the new and to tear down the old. So sound the trumpet and let forth a loud cry, the cry of war, for today I have declared war upon the unsuspecting. Today I have ushered in a bulwark that will not be defeated. I have stormed through the smoke screen and torn down the altars erected to men. And I shall come with even more fervor in the coming days to shake loose what is still standing.

Yes, I have declared war on the armies of Saul. I shall smite them and destroy arsenal aimed at My Elect, My chosen ones. You will surely see that I shall no longer tolerate abuse heaved at My loved ones, those of Mine who are covered by My blood. You will see Me remove every trace of a kingdom steeped in the religion of men. I will tear down every high place and raise up the low, for the way will be made straight for the coming of the Lord.

Yes, this is a forerunner anointing that I am releasing, and My forerunners will run with passion to displace the jurisdiction of the old order. They shall run and not get weary. They shall walk and not faint, for I shall strengthen them with great strength, and I shall nurture them with the bread of life, with life in Me. This is the promise to all who will heed the call, that I shall make the way straight and you shall enter into the way everlasting.

Be ready to run. Be ready to carry this message far and wide, for I am sending My warriors forth, and I am dispensing My word to multitudes who will run with the word to every corner of the Earth. And this is the message they shall carry, that Saul's kingdom has been smitten and David has arisen to take his place.

Rejoice, for your king has come and the kingdom of the Son has been released. Proclaim this message to a new radical generation who will hear the sound of the trumpet and respond.

The Jordan Crossing and the Fighting Heart

Rick Joyner

February 14, 2005

The church now stands on the brink of one of the most important advances in history. It is an advance that must take place. If the church continues to wander in the wilderness, it will only wither away. We are called to be sojourners, but not nomads. Sojourners travel to a destination, while nomads just wander. We are coming to the destination that the entire church age has been preparing us for and now we must cross over.

It is true that some of the greatest revivals and spiritual advances in the history of the church have been taking place over the last two decades. In some of these cases, whole regions are being transformed and whole nations are being impacted. Even though these are all a part of a historic beginning, many of these have been more sporadic than systematic. They have accomplished much and given great encouragement to the body of Christ, but are just the forerunners of what is to come. In modern military terms, they have been like the special forces that have been dropped behind enemy lines before the main assault is to begin. It is now time for the main assault.

A Great Wave Has Come

I wrote in 1987 about a coming spiritual advance which would be so great that many would consider it the harvest that is the end of the age. However, it was not the final harvest, but simply the reaping and preparing of those who would be the laborers for the harvest that truly would be the end of this age. A great wave has come, but an even greater one will follow. It has not yet broken upon the world, but the signs point to it being very near.

When Israel crossed the Jordan River, the first thing they faced was possibly the most powerful, fortified stronghold of all. Jericho seemed impregnable to the entire known world. How would this band of drifters ever conquer Jericho? In every way it was impossible for Israel, but everything since their departure from Egypt had been impossible too. They were now accustomed to doing the impossible. They knew they were dependent on God for the victory, that they had to have a miracle, and so do we. What is coming is far beyond human ingenuity to accomplish.

The conquest of the Promised Land was a combination of the people fighting and the Lord fighting for them. He wanted them to be involved, and they had to have Him involved. It was a partnership, which is the case with every move of God. Those who want God to do everything never accomplish anything, and those who try to do everything themselves always fail. It takes knowledge of the Lord's ways, wisdom, and understanding to walk the fine line of being yoked with the Lord.

Only the wise and mature will walk this narrow way. Just as Israel drifted from this fine line at times and experienced some defeats, we are foolish and immature if we think we are so wise as not to do the same occasionally. However, like Israel we must resolve to learn from every mistake; keep pressing ahead, and not let the mistakes stop us like they have many revivals, awakenings, renewals, and advances in the past.

Facing a Stronger Enemy

Even with the great multitude that the church has now become, what we are facing is still bigger, stronger, and more strongly entrenched than what we can overcome with our numbers or our wisdom. We are facing supernatural strongholds that have had millenniums to sink their roots deeper and deeper into the hearts of men. This is a spiritual battle that will take a remarkable unity and obedience of God's people just as it did when Israel faced Jericho. It is going to take the supernatural power of God to prevail. It will therefore take great faith in Him to proceed. That is the point.

The crossing of the Jordan River when it was overflowing all of its banks was meant to begin unifying the tribes of Israel in a much greater way than they had ever known before. Their advance began with a great supernatural demonstration from God. They could not have even entered into the land without the Lord. However, He required that they step into the water before He performed the miracle. Our part is, at His directive, to step forward into impossible circumstances.

Likewise, as we have covered, the Jordan River was another emphasis of the baptism to which we are called. Our immersion in the coming re-emphasis of the cross and the crucified life is going to bring an unprecedented unity to the church and dependency on God. After their crossing, two events were required that were intended to seal their unity and commitment to obedience. What were they?

Monuments for the Coming Generation

First, Joshua was commanded to have the priests take twelve stones from the middle of the Jordan River and build a monument that would continually remind all of Israel of their crossing of the Jordan, as we read in Joshua 4:19-24:

Now the people came up from the Jordan on the tenth of the first month and camped at Gilgal on the eastern edge of Jericho. And those twelve stones which they had taken from the Jordan, Joshua set up at Gilgal.

And he said to the sons of Israel, "When your children ask their fathers in time to come, saying, 'What are these stones?' then you shall inform your children, saying, 'Israel crossed this Jordan on dry ground.' For the Lord your God dried up the waters of the Jordan before you until you had crossed, just as the Lord your God had done to the Red Sea, which He dried up before us until we had crossed; that all the peoples of the earth may know that the hand of the Lord is mighty, so that you may fear the Lord your God forever."

This was a crucial deed for Israel. First, it would forever remind them that it was not their wisdom or strength that had enabled them to cross the Jordan, but that the Lord, by His strength, had enabled them to cross over "on dry ground" while the river of death was overflowing all of its banks. Such monuments are important for the generations to come who did not personally witness the things that their forefathers did.

Many movements have not had the wisdom to build monuments concerning what the Lord had done for them, and they withered away after a generation or two. Others came to trouble because they stayed at the monument and began to worship it. Again, there is a ditch on either side of the path of life that we can fall into. Even so, the building of a monument for the right reason is not only the right thing to do, but an important thing to do. It is righteous to always think of the generations to come and to build bridges for them that will keep leading them to the Lord.

All of God's People, Not Just Our Tribe

The second reason this was important because it reminded all of Israel that there were twelve stones representing twelve tribes. Regardless of which tribe they were a part, they were all a part of one nation. Just as the high priest had to wear the stones of all of the tribes on his breastplate or on his heart, if we are going to walk in the high calling of God we must keep all of God's people on our heart, not just our tribe.

This is not to negate the fact that there were tribes, all of which were called to have their own territory and purpose. However, they needed to be continually reminded that they were all a part of one great nation that has a common purpose as well. We in the body of Christ also need this constant reminder. It is great to appreciate our movement or denomination with different visions and purposes, but we must never lose sight of the fact that we are all members of one body with an overall vision and purpose to which we must never lose our devotion.

Before Joshua let the priests leave the Jordan, he made sure that this monument was built. I have found that unity is not something which just happens, but we have to work at it, make it an issue, focus on it, and keep bringing it up. One of the things that we started doing the first year we planted our church in Charlotte was to close down all meetings and services for the month of July and encourage our people to visit other churches in the city. This helped to give them a vision for what God is doing in His whole body, not just our little part. We also told them if they find a place where they fit better than with us, be free to stay, letting the Holy Spirit place them in the body where it pleases Him.

Of course, the first week of August we really do not have any idea who will be coming back, but to date there have always been far more than there were at the end of June. Some leave and find a place that they fit better than with us, and we are happy for this. We will miss them, but we feel this is helping to build the whole body, and by sending them out this way we can have fruit that grows in other fields.

Walking in the Highest Purpose of God

We want to walk in the highest purpose of God that we can, and to do this we must, like the high priest, keep the stones of all of the tribes of God's people on our hearts. The unity of His people was mainly what the Lord prayed about the last night He was on this earth as a man. If you knew tonight was your last night on this earth, do you think your prayers would be focused on what were truly the deepest matters of your heart? I think this prayer reveals the heart of God more than any other teaching He gave. If we are going to be in unity with Him, we will have this same heart for the unity of His people.

Any part of the body that grows without regard to the rest of the body is a cancer. We do not want to be a cancer, but a blessing to the whole body. What we do each July has now become something of a monument. It has been an astonishing thing to many other pastors, causing some to want to get to know us better. It has been extremely intimidating and threatening to those who are overly possessive and controlling with their people, causing them to make harsh accusations about us. We cannot help that. We are doing what we do out of obedience, and it is unquestionably good for us and others. We have been able to help a number of other congregations grow by sending them some very good people.

We really do believe that we are all one body in Christ, and those who go to another part where they fit better helps to bring us closer to the whole body. We have also found that those who stay although they really do not fit will cause far more problems than if they would have left and found where they fit better. No church can be all things to all people, and those who try will inevitably become so shallow that they become weaker with growth, not stronger.

We do not necessarily recommend to anyone else what we do in July, but it does work for us. It is remarkable how much zeal for the Lord the people seem to come back with each August. This obvious new energy always helps to start a significant spiritual advance for us every autumn. We also know that many of the new people who join us each fall come because they hear of the liberty, but even more important than this is that the Holy Spirit is going to be where there is liberty, as we read in II Corinthians 3:17. "Now the Lord is the Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty." Also, the Lord made a remarkable promise for those who come into unity, as we read in Matthew 18:19-20:

"Again I say to you, that if two of you agree on earth about anything that they may ask, it shall be done for them by My Father who is in heaven. For where two or three have gathered together in My name, there I am in their midst."

The Greek word that is translated "agree" here is sumphoneo, which literally means "to be harmonious" or "in one accord." It is speaking of unity. The power of unity is if just two of us have unity we can ask "anything" and the Father will do it. That is the kind of power that we are going to need for the battles ahead. That is why it is important for us to take the time to build whatever monuments will continually remind us of our unity in Him

by Rick Joyner
MorningStar Ministries
www.MorningStarMinistries.org

The Liberty of Death
Rick Joyner

The Crossing: The Liberty of Death

February 21, 2005

The world now stands at one of the greatest watershed points of human history. The next few years will be more crammed with destiny and purpose than most will be able to keep up with. For those who serve the Lord, it will be an opportunity to accomplish and witness some of the greatest exploits ever done in His name.

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. once commented that the great tragedy of Rip Van Winkle was not that he slept for twenty years, but that he slept through a great revolution. A great spiritual revolution has already begun, but many are still asleep. It is time to awaken and open our eyes to see.

The End of the Age

Every parent has probably heard the words, "Are we there yet?" Likewise, one of the great questions of the age, which has probably been asked by every believer, has been whether we are really at the end of the age yet. Though there may have been some signs that seemed to identify this period with every generation, the one great biblical prophecy that never did fit before has been the re-establishment of the State of Israel. This is an irrefutable sign that does, without question, mark the general period of the end of this age and the coming of the kingdom.

The establishment of the modern State of Israel has set a timetable, and though it is obvious that the end-time clock is now ticking, some of the most important prophecies are yet to be fulfilled. Even so, it now seems that the stage is being set in an unprecedented way for these to come to pass as well. So what is our part? Are we supposed to be packing our bags so we can get raptured out of here? Or does the Church have a part to play in what is to come -- maybe even the most important part?

I have a great appreciation for the part that Israel and the Jewish people play in the closing of this age and the opening of the next. I am grieved that so much of the Church has embraced "replacement theology" which supplants Israel's part in this and applies it all to the Church. However, I have just as much grief for the theology that replaces the Church's part and gives it all to Israel. Their purposes are actually unified at the end, the emergence of "one new man," as the apostle Paul proclaimed it (see Ephesians 2:15).

It will take great humility for either the Church or Israel to see the purpose of the other. However, God gives His grace to the humble. The grace for us to accomplish our purpose at the end will need to be the greatest in which the Church or Israel has ever walked. Therefore, we will also need some of the greatest humility that we have ever walked in so that we can receive God's grace.

Just as King David perceived the "Age of Grace" a thousand years before it came, and lived in it then, and by this became a prophecy of what was to come, we, too, are called to live in the age to come -- now! We are called to live by the powers of the age to come and grow in them. We have no alternative but to become much closer to the Lord by the end of this year than we are now. We must grow in faith, love, joy, peace, patience . . . We must also grow in the power to demonstrate these to the world, which is going to be increasingly desperate for them.

The Great Sign

The greatest sign of the end of the age will be the Church becoming what she was created to be, while walking in all she is called to walk in. She will become a bride worthy of the King, without spot or wrinkle, passionately in love with the Lord, and full of love for one another. She will likewise walk in unprecedented power, doing the works that the Lord did and even greater ones just as He promised (see John 14:12). When we see the Church becoming like the Lord, and doing the works that He did, then the end will truly be near.

This year will be a year for some of the most rapid spiritual growth that the Church has experienced since the beginning. We saw many great miracles in past years, but we are about to see much greater ones. However, the reason we see miracles is because we need them. Even so, it will be worth it to get closer to the Lord and to see His kingdom coming. Never forget that when we see these things happening, it is the time to look up and rejoice because our redemption is drawing near!

The recent earthquake and tsunamis that struck so many countries in the Indian Ocean are taxing the whole world's relief efforts. In the loss of human lives, it will go down as one of the worst natural disasters in human history. These disasters and the others which will be coming do have prophetic significance that we need to understand and are highlighted in a crucial prophecy for our times in Joshua 3:3-4, 14-17:

"'When you see the ark of the covenant of the Lord your God with the Levitical priests carrying it, then you shall set out from your place and go after it. However, there shall be between you and it a distance of about 2,000 cubits by measure. Do not come near it, that you may know the way by which you shall go, for you have not passed this way before.'

"So it came about when the people set out from their tents to cross the Jordan with the priests carrying the ark of the covenant before the people, and when those who carried the ark came into the Jordan, and the feet of the priests carrying the ark were dipped in the edge of the water (for the Jordan overflows all its banks all the days of harvest), that the waters which were flowing down from above stood and rose up in one heap, a great distance away at Adam, the city that is beside Zarethan; and those which were flowing down toward the sea of the Arabah, the Salt Sea, were completely cut off. So the people crossed opposite Jericho.

"And the priests who carried the ark of the covenant of the Lord stood firm on dry ground in the middle of the Jordan while all Israel crossed on dry ground, until all the nation had finished crossing the Jordan."

In Scripture, the Jordan River often represents death, which is why both Jesus and John the Baptist baptized there. The Jordan River also empties into the Dead Sea. There was a reason why the Lord commanded the ark of the covenant to be carried across the Jordan "about 2,000 cubits" ahead of the rest of the people. The ark represents Jesus and the cubits represent years. This was a prophetic statement that the Lord would pass through death to His Promised Land "about" 2,000 years before the rest of His people.

The Lord said that "...the harvest is the end of the age..." (Matthew 13:39), and we read in Joshua 3:15 that "...the Jordan overflows all its banks all the days of harvest..." This speaks of how death will be overflowing all of its banks all of the days of the harvest, which is the end of the age. Because of this we can expect such natural and human disasters to increase during the coming times.

As all of the Lord Jesus' own prophecies concerning these times make very clear, we are coming to the greatest times of trouble the world has ever known. However, the good news is, if we have built our lives on the kingdom which cannot be shaken, we will not only survive what is coming, but we will be building in the midst of it. This is actually the time when the Church is going to cross over and begin to possess its Promised Land. Even so, death will be all around us, overflowing "all of its banks." For this reason we must learn to keep functioning and pressing ahead, even when a thousand fall on one side and ten thousand on the other.

In Joshua 3:16 we are told that the waters of the Jordan "…were flowing down from above stood and rose up in one heap, a great distance away at Adam…" This could have been translated that the waters of the Jordan "were rolled back all the way to Adam." It was no accident that this little town was named "Adam," just as there are no accidents at all in Scripture. This was a prophecy that when God's people begin to pass through this baptism in the Jordan, we will begin possessing all of the promises of God that we are called to inherit, and death will be rolled back all the way to Adam! This means that all of the death that was the consequence of the Fall will be reversed. The purpose of the coming kingdom is to reverse and restore the whole earth from all of the consequences of the fall of man.

For now we must prepare ourselves for increasing great natural and manmade disasters as we get closer to the end of this age. We will need to learn to cope with death all around us and keep on pressing ahead. Just as no general can be successful if he is overly concerned about casualties, we, too, will have to learn to cope with death. We will even have to send forth missions and missionaries who we know will not return, not being overly given to grieving or mourning the dead, in order to save the living from an even greater, eternal disaster.

Israel's inheritance was the land, and they dispossessed the people who were on it. Our inheritance, which is also the Lord's, is the people. Even though the Jordan will be overflowing its banks and death will be all around us, the power of His indestructible life will be flowing through us to reap the greatest harvest that the world has ever known. We must not sleep or be distracted while the treasure of the earth is ripe for reaping.

Victory Over Death

Baptism is a ritual performed to emphasize an important spiritual reality. One of the great and tragic mistakes of historic Christianity since the third century has been to substitute rituals for the realities that they represented. The ritual of baptism was meant to convey the commitment on the part of the one baptized -- that they would die to themselves to live to Christ. After the third century, one could be baptized in place of living the crucified life, removing the life and power of the cross from the church.

You can dunk someone in the water all day and not have them partake of the death, or resurrection, of Jesus. There is nothing magical about the water. The power is in the crucified life. The baptism is performed as a commitment to live the crucified life in order that we might also be resurrected with Christ as we read in Romans 6:4-5:

"Therefore we have been buried with Him through baptism into death, in order that as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, so we too might walk in newness of life.

"For if we have become UNITED with Him in the likeness of His death, certainly we shall be also in the likeness of His resurrection." (Emphasis mine)

We must note here that in this text there is no mention of water! This is not speaking of water baptism, but of what water baptism represents -- the crucified life. As Paul further conveyed in Romans 6:5: "For if we become united with Him in the likeness of His death, certainly we shall be also in the likeness of His resurrection."

What did the Lord mean when He stated the following? "I have come to cast fire upon the earth; and how I wish it were already kindled! But I have a baptism to undergo, and how distressed I am until it is accomplished!" (Luke 12:49-50) Was the baptism that was distressing Him simply immersion in water? Of course not. He was referring to His impending crucifixion. That crucifixion is also the meaning of our baptism.

Jesus was likewise referring to the baptism into His crucifixion when James and John asked to be seated on His right and left in the kingdom. He said, "You do not know what you are asking for. Are you able to drink of the cup that I drink, or to be baptized with the baptism with which I am baptized?" (Mark 10:38).

It is a basic spiritual principle that death is the path to life in Christ. We are called to live now by the power and authority of the resurrected life of Christ, but by its very definition one cannot experience a resurrection without first experiencing a death. To be baptized with His baptism is to be conformed to the purpose of His death, the laying down of our own lives for the sake of others.

When the Church reduced the truth of the crucified life to a mere ritual, this robbed the Lord of our consecration, the Church of its salvation, and stole from the world the power of the gospel. There are many Scriptures that make the meaning of this very clear. The following are just a few of them, which I encourage you to read carefully as their importance is literally life and death:

"For if we died with Him we shall also live with Him; if we endure, we shall also reign with Him…" (II Timothy 2:11-12).

"The Spirit Himself bears witness with our spirit that we are the children of God, and if children, heirs also, heirs of God and fellow heirs with Christ, if indeed we suffer with Him in order that we may also be glorified with Him" (Romans 8:16-17).

"That I may know Him, and the power of His resurrection and the fellowship of His sufferings, being conformed to His death; in order that I may attain to the resurrection from the dead" (Philippians 3:10-11).

"For to you it has been granted for Christ's sake, not only to believe in Him, but also to suffer for His sake" (Philippians 1:29).

"Therefore, we ourselves speak proudly of you among the churches of God for your perseverance and faith in the midst of all your persecutions and afflictions which you endure. This is a plain indication of God's righteous judgment so that you may be considered worthy of the kingdom of God, for which indeed you are suffering" (II Thessalonians 1:4-5).

"We are afflicted in every way, but not crushed; perplexed, but not despairing; persecuted but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed; always carrying about in the body the dying of Jesus, that the life of Jesus also may be manifested in our body. For we who live are constantly being delivered over to death for Jesus' sake, that the life of Jesus also may be manifested in our mortal flesh" (II Corinthians 4:8-11).

The Lord made it clear in His Word, if we are to partake of His life we must also partake of His death "…that they who live should no longer live for themselves, but for Him…" (II Corinthians 5:15). Any other teaching is a false gospel and an enemy of the cross. Death separates the things that are natural from the things that are spiritual. Again, to have a resurrection there must first be a death. If we want to walk in the resurrection life of Jesus daily, we must be willing to lay down our lives for Him daily. As the Lord Jesus Himself testified:

"If anyone wishes to come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow Me. For whoever wishes to save his life shall lose it; but whoever loses his life for My sake shall find it" (Matthew 16:24-25).

That the Lord intended our baptism to be the daily reality of a crucified life there can be no question. Such a life that dies to itself and its own selfish interests is the most free and powerful life of all. This is what the Lord will give to us in exchange for our life -- the greatest freedom and power to do good that we can know.

The Liberty of Death

Because Israel had to cross the Jordan River to enter their Promised Land, this also speaks of how we must enter into the baptism of the cross before we can attain the promises. This is where the Church has now come. We are at a crossing. If we will enter into the true baptism, the crucified life, which means that we live each day for Him and not just ourselves, we will start to possess all of the promises of God for His people.

We must also keep in mind that death is the greatest liberation that we can ever know. The devil uses fear to bind just as the Lord uses faith in the truth to set people free. What does a dead man fear? If we are dead to this world, there is nothing the world can do to us. It is impossible for a dead man to have fears of failure, fears of rejection, or even fear of the dark. To the degree that any fear still has its grip on us is only in relation to the degree that we have failed to go to the cross. The cross will set us free!

A dead man does not lust, covet, feel anger, seek revenge, or even feel lonely. There is no freedom that we can ever have greater than that which comes from dying to this world so as to be alive to Christ. This is what Israel learned from their first baptism -- the crossing of the Red Sea, as we read in I Corinthians 10:1-2:

"For I do not want you to be unaware, brethren, that our fathers were all under the cloud, and all passed through the sea; and all were baptized into Moses in the cloud and in the sea."

When Israel entered into this baptism in the Red Sea, it resulted in the destruction of the enemies that had kept them in bondage for so long. As Pharaoh and his army were a biblical model of Satan and his hordes who seek to keep God's people in bondage, we see that baptism is the one place where they cannot follow us and will result in their destruction. When Israel entered into that baptism, they were to never see those enemies again. Many of the things that have bound us for so long will likewise be destroyed when we enter the true baptism -- the crucified life.

The Second Baptism

So does the Jordan River represent a second baptism? In a sense it does, though this is not to imply that there needs to be a second ritual of baptism. It reveals how we must go back to the basics and review and recommit to them before we cross over and start possessing our Promised Land.

Deuteronomy means "a second law," and the Book of Deuteronomy was the result of Moses reviewing everything for Israel that was required of them before they crossed over to possess their land. We need this review now. We also need to recommit to the baptism to which we are called to follow the Lord.

After Israel's baptism in the Red Sea, they went through many things during their journey through the wilderness which matured and taught them the ways of the Lord. As we read I Corinthians 11, the church has been going through a similar journey. Now that we are about to cross our Jordan River, we, too, can expect a time of reviewing the basics first.

For this reason the Church can again expect an emphasis of the cross. There is a baptism when we leave Egypt and a baptism when we enter the Promised Land. This is a message that the cross is both the beginning and the end of our journey. The cross sets us free from the world (Egypt) and is the door to entering into our inheritance in Christ.

The wise are forever mindful that the cross is everything. However, the cross does not just represent death -- it is the door to resurrection life, which is represented by the Promised Land.

The Great Change

More than two decades ago, the Lord spoke to me and some of my friends that the cross would be popular again, which would be the time when the Church truly crosses over and begins to possess its Promised Land. We have come to that time. The focus of the advancing Church will become more and more centered on the cross.

There are a couple of basic differences in these two baptisms that we need to understand. As we read in Exodus 13:17-18 and 14:1-4, Israel did not willingly go through the Red Sea. They basically had to be tricked and cornered into it so that they did not really have a choice.

As we look back on most of the trials that have been used to fashion our lives, we will probably have to confess the same thing -- we did not choose the trials, but were cornered into them so that the only way out was to die to self. The Lord is gracious to align our circumstances, and there is absolutely no way out but to lay down our lives and conform to the image of His death.

In the Jordan River baptism, the people were anxious to go through it to get to their Promised Land. Likewise, the Church is going to willingly embrace the cross again for the sake of walking in her purpose. The mature and those who have now grown in faith do not have to be tricked or trapped into their baptism -- they willingly choose to take up their crosses. The mature do not run from the cross, but to it.

Another basic difference between these two baptisms is that in the Red Sea baptism the enemy was chasing Israel and was destroyed because the people entered into their baptism. The second baptism represented by the Jordan River begins our pursuit of the enemy, to drive him out of our land. Once we cross our Jordan River, we are going to go from being attacked by the enemy to being the attackers of his strongholds.

Our Inheritance

There are many powerful and important lessons that we must therefore learn from the biblical, prophetic models concerning what is now taking place. However, just as no map can perfectly match the territory it represents, biblical models are just that -- models from which we can derive important guidance, but are not intended to perfectly match the reality. For this reason, we do need to keep in mind the differences between the biblical, prophetic models of Scripture and the realities they represent. For example, in the biblical model, Israel was to utterly destroy the nations that were in their land. However, we are not called to destroy the nations, but save them by destroying the evil that has them in bondage. The nations themselves are a part of our inheritance in the Lord.

The Great Commission was to make disciples of all nations, not just individuals. When the Lord returns, He is going to divide the nations into sheep and goats, not just individuals. It is being decided right now which nations will be "sheep" and which will be "goats." This, of course, does not at all mean we are to abandon the gospel of salvation. Nations will be changed by saving and teaching individuals the ways of the Lord. However, we must begin to develop national and international strategies which will impact nations with the gospel, not just individuals.

There are also some differences in where the Church is now and where it was in the first century that we need to understand. There are many foundational things that will never change and will always be a basic part of the Church's vision and purpose. But there are also some differences at the end of the age. Just as Joshua instructed Israel in Joshua 3:4:

"However, there shall be between you and it a distance of about 2,000 cubits by measure. Do not come near it, that you may know the way by which you shall go, for you have not passed this way before."

Those who follow the ark, which represents the Lord, by "about 2,000" years, will be going a different way than the Church has gone before. Many things are the same, but many are not and we need to understand the differences.

Before the end of this age can come, the gospel of the kingdom must be preached. This has not yet been done. Until now we have basically preached the gospel of salvation, which is how to get out of Egypt. This is essential and it will continue to be the banner of the cross that we march under, always preaching the gospel of individual salvation, but we must also begin to preach the gospel of the kingdom. The kingdom of God is at hand! The King is coming and He is coming to take over. He is sending us before Him to prepare His way.

The Prevailing Heart

As we discussed, in the baptism represented by the Red Sea crossing, the Israelites did not go willingly. Basically, the Lord had to give them no alternative because of the enemy who pursued them. However, the baptism represented by the crossing of the Jordan was a voluntary one and would begin their pursuit to drive their enemies from their land. This was not just because the circumstances had changed, but the people had also changed during their long sojourn in the wilderness.

The Church has likewise seemingly wandered in the wilderness for nearly two thousand years. Like Israel's trek through their wilderness, this time was not wasted. A great transformation has been taking place in the people. It was one thing to get the people out of Egypt, but it took much longer to get the Egypt out of them. Likewise, there are people who may have apparently just been drifting through life rather aimlessly, but God has been doing a deep work in their hearts, and this time has not been wasted. They are a people prepared for the great challenges ahead that will prepare the way for the coming of the kingdom of God.

The change comes from a life seemingly composed of being chased and harassed by the devil and deep dealings of God in our own hearts, to the mentality of a conqueror. This does not mean we are now perfect, and the conquest ahead will help to continue the work on our character, but there will be a great difference in the conflict. Instead of battling the enemies within, who have kept us in bondage, we will begin battling the ones without, who are keeping others in bondage.

We must never forget that our conquest is not the greedy pursuit of personal gain and advancement, but our treasure is the liberation of souls that are now in the bondage of darkness. Our purpose is to see the truth of the gospel of Jesus Christ set the captives free. We are called as true freedom fighters. Our success in this life will be counted by the release of the captives the devil has had in bondage to do his will.

Expect a Big Change!

So we can now expect a big change to begin to take place in the Church from just seeking to be set free ourselves, to setting the nations free. On the other side of the Jordan, Israel may not have looked very different from the group who had left Egypt, but on the inside they were very different. They were no longer just recently released slaves -- they were conquerors! Right now, by appearances, the Church may not look very different than it has for many centuries -- but it is! We are no longer just recently released slaves -- we are warriors with the greatest cause, preparing for the greatest battle!

I have been asked to speak to a few NFL teams just before their games. The intensity of the focus on their faces was like nothing I had ever seen. In 1990, I was speaking to the Denver Broncos before an important Monday night game with their rivals, the Kansas City Chiefs, and the Lord drew my attention to their "game faces." He then said to me, "When you see that kind of focus on My people, the time is at hand."

Since that night I have looked for this focus on the faces of God's people everywhere I go. For years it seemed in most churches they were more like kids in detention hall after school than a rising, conquering army. However, in the last four years I have begun to see the increasing focus and intensity, which I know means the great advance is now close. The day is not far off when Christians will be as focused and intense about their place in the body of Christ as any professional athlete is about his or her profession.

When you see those football teams just before a game, you think that if they are not released on their foe very soon they will begin to hurt each other! That is actually what sometimes happens in churches. When we build people up and then do not release them on the enemy, their intensity is released as frustration on other believers. This is the cause of many church splits and other devastating problems. It is now time for us to engage the enemy! We need church builders, and this is a job that some will always need to be occupied with. However, it is now time to turn our attention away from just building up ourselves to building the kingdom.

The Enemy of Complacency

The worst enemy of Christianity is complacency, or as the Lord put it, lukewarmness. This is the greatest delusion and deception of all. How could anyone truly know the Lord, the Consuming Fire, and not be on fire? This is why His true messengers are "flames of fire." Lukewarmness is not possible unless the delusions of the cares and worries of this world have choked out the seed of His Word in us. There is nothing that can shake someone out of complacency like war. If there is ever a greater focus than seen on a professional football team before a game, it will be on the faces of soldiers before a battle.

When King David, one of the greatest souls to ever walk the earth and one of the greatest pursuers of God of all time, stayed at home during the time "when kings go out to battle" (see II Samuel 11:1), he fell into adultery and opened the door for some of the worst problems of his life. When it is time to fight and we do not fight, we are almost certain to be overcome and defeated by the enemy in some way. It is now the time when we must go on the offensive and start looking to missions that do not just selfishly build our own church, but will begin to take territory for the kingdom of God. If we will do this, our churches grow and become much stronger than they are now.

Human beings were created with a need for adventure. There is no greater adventure in this life than the true Christian life. Youth especially need adventure, and if they are not captured by missions in some form, they are very likely to be captured by the spirit of the world.

There is nothing more boring than religion. C.S. Lewis once remarked that one definition of hell was to sit in an endless church service without the presence of God. Such services are from hell. It is time to bust out of the four-walled prison of present church life and begin our conquest. We must start to use the divinely powerful weapons that we have been given to engage the enemy and start taking the land that is rightfully ours.

MorningStar Ministries
www.MorningStarMinistries.org

The Jezebel Spirit And The Confrontation At Mount Carmel

Jill Austin

In talking about the spirit of Elijah, many times we say, "We are going to come against a spirit of Jezebel, and we are going to bind it and render it powerless." But, how do you confront and deal with the Jezebel spirit?

The Clashing of Two Spirits

What the Lord started to show me is that there is a clashing of two major spirits: the Kingdom of God and the kingdom of satan. These two kingdoms are coming together in hand-to-hand combat. So what we are coming against is a Jezebel spirit, which is a powerful spirit that comes to destroy the prophets and abort the newborn. If it cannot abort a "baby in the womb," then it will try to abort the baby's calling and destiny. A demonic spirit cloaks, chokes out, strangles, and destroys lives, destiny, calling, and birthright.

In talking about the Elijah anointing, we know that he was one who heard the voice of God. Are you able to legislate in the heavens? What comes against a Jezebel spirit is having a real relationship with Holy Spirit!!!

Heaven Kissing Earth with Power

In Acts 2, 120 people waited in the Upper Room. The wind, the fire, and the person Holy Spirit came, and they all began to speak in other tongues. But was it just something where they only got 5-10 words in tongues? No! The government of Heaven broke in, and it birthed the church. It was a miracle of languages.

Peter's Power

Then they ran out, and Peter moved with an authentic, apostolic anointing. When he preached the Word of God, the power of Heaven and the government of God was behind him, and a breaker anointing was released so that 3,000 people were saved! It broke through and brought radical salvations and healings.

Elijah's Confrontation

When Elijah cried out, he started to confront the demonic spirits through the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, asking for that covenant of the Lord Jesus to be there. The heavens literally opened up, and fire came down from Heaven.

What God Wants from Us

The Lord wants to bring us to a place where we are not just locked into closed churches, but where we are able to go outside the walls of the church and be able to impact our society. He wants us to be able to move with a breaker anointing, as carriers of resurrection life, and have people get saved, healed, and delivered. Then we will have words of counsel and words of wisdom where we are able to legislate from the heavens.

Do You Really Know Holy Spirit?

To be able to do that, we must have an intimate relationship with Holy Spirit. Holy Spirit is not just tongues; Holy Spirit is not just a phenomenon of a wind and fire. He is a person! When Jesus died and went to the right hand of the Father, it was so that Holy Spirit would come and bring the Kingdom and the fire of the Lord to earth.

Elijah lived a life that moved in Kingdom power. He was a man, but when he spoke, God backed him up. Let me ask you, "Does God back you up? Or do your words just dribble down your chin?"

Where Do You Stand?

Do you see any signs and wonders? Do you see anybody healed? Are people hungry to get your wisdom and revelation because you hear from God? Do you have an intimacy with God, and do people come to you because you are a messenger of the Lord?

Is your church so cloistered, so social, and so seeker-friendly that you don't have any cutting-edge wisdom? When you are not moving in revelation and you are not able to move and shift things (not only over your families and neighbors, but over entire cities, then you move into a place of not being able to impact your society).

Who is Jezebel?

In talking about the spirit of Jezebel, you must understand that Jezebel is an international principality that devastates nations and multitudes of sons and daughters. It is a demonic power. It is not female or male--it is a spirit.

It is not just that Jezebel confronted Elijah, but this principality, this Jezebel spirit, confronted the God of Elijah. You see, there is a war going on right now, and the war is for our passion. The same power that comes against the passion and heart of God today, also came against Elijah and the people of God. It is passion versus passion; it is fire versus fire. What is going to grab the passions of these hearts?

The Confrontation at Mount Carmel

If you want to have the spirit of Elijah, then let's talk about Mount Carmel. Where is your Mount Carmel? Where is the place where the altar is torn down in your family?

You cry out that you want to be an Elijah, but how does it come down where it is real for where you are? It is not a place where you suddenly arrive one day; it is that place where we must daily wrestle it out and work through the ups and downs, 24/7, as you keep seeking the Lord with all of your heart. In the midst of our life, we have friends whose altars are torn down. They have been invaded with the Jezebel spirit; they have been invaded with demonic powers that have torn down the covenant relationship that God is intending for them.

A Call to Holiness

How do you rebuild the altar? Part of rebuilding is that you have to be a man or a woman that is clean before God. In other words, if you are going to confront people about their sexual perversion, pornography, eye gates that are constantly seeing violence, and areas where they are constantly being infiltrated by the dark things of our society, then you must be clean in those areas yourself. How can you confront that in other people's lives if it operates in your own life?

Do you have common ground with the enemy in any area of your life? You can have NO common ground with the enemy, you know! There needs to be a call to holiness. There needs to be something in you that presses into the face of Jesus, no. . . matter. . . what!

God's Search Light is Needed

There needs to be something in you that asks, "Lord, where there are areas of darkness in my life, where there is compromise in my life, where there are broken areas from unforgiveness and bitterness or cynical attitudes in my life, I want you to bring your fire upon the altar of my life. Where the altar of my spirit is broken down, I want you to heal me up."

Many walk in defeat because there are places in their lives where the enemy has legal access because of known sin(s), compromise, idolatry, disobedience, disloyalty, or spiritual adultery.

Two Things are Needed

First of all, in being able to move with an Elijah anointing, you need to be able to say, "Ok Lord, here I am! There are areas that are broken down. Most of all, I need you as my Lord and Savior. Then I'm asking you to start to reveal areas of brokenness and areas of compromise in my life."

Secondly, you might want to get healed up and restored. As you start to get healed up, then you will have more mercy for those who are broken because you see your own brokenness.

There is something in you that says, "No, I know what it is like to be broken, but I know a God who can heal me in the midst of my pain! Since He can heal me, and He can heal the altars and the areas of my own brokenness, then I know that He can also heal others where they are hurting, where people have abused them and where they have been betrayed."

You see, if you get healed from different forms of abuse -- emotional abuse, physical abuse, verbal abuse, and even religious abuse (where you shut your heart down from God), then you will start to get healed up in these areas of violation. You will also start to get living stones of God's promises, His destiny, and His calling rebuilt inside of your spirit.

Then you can cry out and say, "God, send fresh fire! I want to be a burning man. I want to be a burning woman. I want to be full of holy passion. I do not want be one with a shriveled up heart. I want to be one who is fully alive, fully passionate and not compromising with any perversion -- but passionate with a clean heart, so I can fully love as You love!"

What I believe the Lord is saying is, "Why not respond to this call right now as you read this article? Let's make this a Mount Carmel, but first, let's look at your own heart."

Jill Austin
Master Potter
www.masterpotter.com

The Judgment of Babylon and Jezebel

Bayo Omoyiola

scroll_of_david@yahoo.com

Just recently I sensed the Lord speaking against Jezebel. Not too long after that, a friend of mine came out with a prophetic word warning Gods people to come out of her and that was a confirmation to me. I `d love to share more on the judgment of jezebel and also talk on the judgment of Babylon. The bible says thus concerning Jezebel:

> ...thou sufferest the woman Jezebel which calleth herself a prophetess to teach and to seduce my servants to commit fornication and to eat things sacrificed unto idols and I gave her space to repent of her fornication and she repented not. Behold I will cast her into a bed and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of their deeds. And I will kill her children with death and all the churches shall know that I am he which searcheth the reins and hearts.- Rev.2:20-23

And I know that she will indeed be judged in this last days. In the previous prophecies shared there were some words concerning Babylon and I want you to see that -

> Come out of her. She is Babylon, the spirit of fools. God is calling for an holy separation. I am bringing judgment on the earth - saith the Lord. I am calling my servants with a pure heart to draw near. Do not involve yourself in the mess that is going on. People are spoiling God's name on the altar of truth. They are blaspheming and saying God said when he didn't even say a word.
> These are the days of judgment. I am judging mount Zion. The mount shall be cleansed. I am raising a standard. I am building my house in purity. I am setting the standards. I am reforming my people. My people shall be cleansed of their idolatry. In their hearts there are many idols. They are vivacious to the things of this world but I am changing all that. I want them to be deadened, cleansed and purified. I am putting my house in order. I'd do what I would do and my house would be a better place.

And God says all this would happen - for Babylon shall be destroyed. A city without habitation she shall be and Zion would gain her freedom. Amen.

Time of Judgment

From the book of Revelations we would see that he judgment of Babylon starts after the seven seals have been opened. It starts about the time when the mystery of God is finished.
Babylon and Jezebel has attacked the church so much but they shall be destroyed.

Refuge in times of trouble

I believe the only way we can save ourselves from the tribulation to come is by drawing nearer to GOD. When we walk in love towards God and man. God keeps us from danger. The only way out of Babylon and jezebel is drawing nearer to God - saying, thinking and acting what the word says for that's the only way out we get empowered and covered against the onslaught of the enemies. Selah.

The Joseph Process

Lanna Perry

2nd November, 2005

My precious and beautiful church, I want to enlighten many of you on the process that is taking place within My church today. It is the Joseph Process. It is a process that I am bringing about within My body.

Firstly, as I did with Joseph, I planted the seed of truth within him, and I planted the vision within him of what I had called him too. So it is with many of you, I have planted this seed of My heart and vision within you. I have shown you a part of what is to come. I have placed part of My passion within you, and have showed you, the destiny I have for you. There are those of you waiting on the manifestation and understanding of this piece to the puzzle, but to you I say, wait on Me.

Be very careful with whom you share the seed of My heart that I have given many of you. For lack of wisdom and great zeal, will lead many of you to share with those who will not rejoice with you, but will turn and try to crush that which I have given each of you. So be discerning and continue to seek Me for with whom to share.

For after I have planted the vision, then comes the preparation. The time of preparation is hard. The training is Me equipping you to do the task which I have called each of you to do. As with Joseph's brothers they turned against him and betrayed him, I used this circumstance to teach Joseph great lessons and prepare him for what was to come. So it is with many of you. Many of you have been hurt, and betrayed by those close to you. Those that you call brother. Those that you call brother have denied the vision that I have given you, and have sold you short. Continually telling you that you are not called to the great destiny that I have placed within you and continue to speak containment over you. Know that I am using the circumstances around you to bring about My Glory and teach you, and prepare you for a greater manifestation of the seed of My vision that I have placed within you.

Many of you feel you are at the bottom of a well, and cannot get out, but I speak to you now, and tell you, I am with you. I am not at the top of the well, or outside the well. I am sitting with you in the midst of the well. For was Joseph alone in the well? Surely not. I was with Him.

In the well, I am teaching many of you My heart. Teaching you greater lessons of intimacy with Me. Teaching you to walk to the beat of My heart. Teaching you to die to self, and carry your cross. I am teaching many of you, that it is all about Me, and My Kingdom. I am establishing a greater level of intimacy with Me, within many of you, as you draw close to Me in this time. Do not despise the well, but embrace this time in the well, and rejoice for I am with you.

A time of promotion will come to many of you. Many of you are now about to take the next step into a step of great promotion and favour. Beware of pride. Do not allow pride to take your eyes off Me, but seek Me. Seek Me, and remember your days of training. For you are always being trained by Me, and a new level of training is coming to those of you who are about to step onto the battlefield.

I am gifting many of you with My favour and influence. Many of you will see My Glory come upon you, and you will have great favour with men. I am now placing many of you in positions of great influence. In these places you will see great things, and you will see Me move mightily in and through you. As I placed Joseph in a great position of influence, so am I doing the same with many of you. Remember in this place to remain with your head on My chest. Do not move from this place, for without the deep intimacy with Me, nothing else matters. Everything flows out of intimacy with Me.

As Joseph was a dreamer, so My church dream My dreams. Allow Me to place My dreams and visions within you. Be prepared to surrender everything to Me and allow Me to have My way in each of you.

Be encouraged by the process knowing that at each step, you are growing closer to your Lord, and going deeper in knowing who I am. I love each of you very much. Know that I have great plans for each of you, and no matter where you are at in the process, I am with you. I am your life. I am your all. I am your Salvation. I am your Beloved.

warriorprincessministries@yahoo.com.au
http://www.ourchurch.com/view/?pageID=216990

The Joy Of Remaining

Jennifer Toledo

"Remain in me, and I will remain in you. No branch can bear fruit by itself; it must remain in the vine. Neither can you bear fruit unless you remain in me."--John 15:4

I have often read this verse and repeatedly asked the Lord to teach me how to 'remain'. Without fail, it seems as though 'remaining' has been one of the greatest challenges in my busy life. The swirl of daily life often finds me squirming rather than remaining.

In my pursuit of learning to remain, I have become so hungry to see true spiritual fruit manifested in my life. In this hour it seems to be the cry of the church as well, especially in the west, that we would come out of our bareness and begin to manifest the rich, powerful, beautiful fruit that we are called to bear.

Our cries have been to go beyond all our talk and begin to demonstrate the transforming kingdom of power (see 1 Cor. 4:20). But the only way to bearing such desperately needed fruit is through remaining.

Partnership With Heaven

In 1 Peter 2:9 we are reminded that we are a "chosen people, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people belonging to God, that you may declare the praises of him who called you out of darkness into his wonderful light." This is our inheritance.

We are citizens of heaven, royalty, children of the kingdom, chosen by God to bear fruit on the earth. The church is called to demonstrate supernatural love, healing, provision, council, wisdom, etc. to a desperately needy world. We live in an hour where partnership with heaven is absolutely necessary so that the gospel of power can be demonstrated on the earth.

It is the very heart of the Father to see His children walking in the fullness of Christ--so that we can "declare the praises of Him who called us out of darkness into his wonderful light". Signs and Wonders are one type of fruit that we have the joyful privilege of bearing as we remain in Him. "And these signs will accompany those who believe: In my name they will drive out demons; they will speak in new tongues; they will pick up snakes with their hands; and when they drink deadly poison it will not hurt them at all; they will place their hands on sick people, and they will get well." -- Mark 16:17-18

As we remain in intimacy with Christ and stand in the faith of who He is--this type of fruit should naturally flow from our lives. The supernatural becomes natural for those who are hidden and remaining in the Source of all power.

A Vision of Hope

I want to share a vision that the Lord gave me because I believe it is an invitation for us all: In the vision I saw myself standing next to a beautiful lake. It was in the early hours of the morning--the sun had not yet come up and a hazy mist glided over the water.

I could see the Lord standing on the other side of the lake. He was so pleasant and full of peace. I asked him why He was here at the lake so early in the morning, and He responded by saying that it was at this time that all the deer came to the drinking hole. I felt such peace there. I knew in my spirit that the water represented the word, and it was in the early hours that the Lord loves to feed his precious flock.

I knelt down at the waters edge and cupped my hands scooping the sweet water to my mouth. I could feel the water seep deep into every part of my being and I felt so refreshed. Next, I began to splash water on my face and as I washed my face, I felt cleansed and renewed. The Lord smiled at me from across the lake, and then to my amazement He began to walk on the water.

He walked all the way until he reached the middle of the lake. From that place, He began to speak to me--He said, "You know, there are many who have faith that if they drink My water (word) they will be refreshed and their thirst will be satisfied. Also, there are many who have faith that if they wash themselves with My water (My word) they will be cleansed and renewed. But-- there are only a very few who actually have faith.... to walk on the water."

As He spoke of walking on the water, I immediately understood that by standing on the word (the water) the supernatural becomes possible. He then beckoned me to come my half of the way and meet Him in the middle of the lake. I laughed a little bit as I tapped my barefoot in the water. I said, "Lord...I don't know how to walk on the water...look...my foot is all wet."

He told me to forget about my circumstances and to just focus on Him. In obedience, I locked my eyes onto His eyes and began to look deeply into who He is. He then asked me, "What do you see?" I was overwhelmed with waves of His kindness and beauty. Within an instant it was as though I became totally lost in the attributes of His character. As I focused on Him, I forgot about myself and began to speak out what I saw in this man so beautiful and holy.

Full of passion, I began to declare-- "You are holy!" "You are beautiful!" You are faithful!" "You are merciful!" "You are sovereign!" "You are not a God that you would lie!" "You are righteous!" etc... Each declaration I made was full of confidence, because as I gazed into His eyes I was overwhelmed with such perfect assurance in His divine nature.

The more I saw of Him, the more I forgot about myself and all my fears and doubts and inabilities. I became absolutely lost in His perfect nature and my heart was filled with love and peace. Every time I declared something of His character, I took a step closer to Him.

The first few steps were a little tricky and it was tempting to look down at my feet--but I knew the slightest distraction would have me sinking. As I got closer to Him, I could feel faith arising in my heart and each step became easier. My heart was so yearning to be near Him, that I could have cared less that I was walking on water.

Once I reached him I threw my arms around Him and just embraced Him. As I did this we instantly began to sink. Shocked and unsure of what was happening I began to flail around in the water. Jesus was so full of peace. He said, "Just hold on to me, we're going under"

I had no desire to go under the water, but I trusted Him and wanted to be near Him. We slowly began to sink deeper, deeper, deeper-- to a very deep place. It was so quiet and His presence was so strong. Although the water saturated every part of me, I was amazed that I could breathe under the water. I felt like I was hidden in the depths of His heart--consumed with peace and the fear of the Lord. It was in this place that He spoke to me and told me that this is the place where revelation is birthed.

I then understood that for those who are willing to get out of the way and lose themselves in who He is; for those who are willing to meet Him in the middle of the lake on His terms; for those who want nothing more than to just be near Him, for those there awaits an invitation into the depths of His heart--the place of intimacy and revelation. This is where we remain; this is where fruit is cultivated in our lives.

You see, as believers we are all called to walk on the water. Walking on the water represents doing supernatural acts that are empowered by the Holy Spirit. Signs and wonders are part of our inheritance as Kingdom children. "For the Kingdom of God is not a matter of talk, but of power" -- 1 Corinthians 4:20

If we focus on the supernatural act, we'll fall short every time. But when our focus is Jesus alone, we can never fall short and the impossible becomes accomplished. We are living in a day where the church will no longer be shamed with her bareness of power. Our generation will truly see a demonstration of power from on high. Signs and wonders will follow those who believe, and it is the very desire of God to see His Kingdom manifested on the earth. As the floodgates of heaven are bulging--ready to be poured out, we are left to make a choice.

Will we be content with just drinking and washing in the word, or will we be ones who walk on the water? For if we are to walk on the water--we must lose ourselves in the beauty of who He is. This is where we are to remain--we remain in Him, in His character, in His nature, in His promises and in His glorious beauty; where the focus is not on us, our gifting, our callings, or our inadequacies-- but simply and wholly on Him.

We must be ones who choose Him--ones who are more impressed with who He is, than in the signs and wonders He will perform. As we fix our eyes and hearts on the absoluteness of His character--we will see even greater miracles than Jesus saw. Our joy is in the remaining, that is what we were created for. The supernatural fruit that follows is for the joy and glory of the Father. As He is lifted up in this fashion, all men will be drawn unto Him.

Thy Kingdom Come
Paul Ekemezie

Nosike_ekemezie@yahoo.com

I woke up at the middle of the night; it was past 1 a.m. South African time, and I had on my mind an American song I learnt in a church I belonged to in Lagos, Nigeria, back in 1990. The song has a line that goes like this, “I’m gonna meet my loving Jesus”. I immediately knew that the spirit was telling me that the long-awaited great move of God is about to commence.

Matt. 6:10—Your kingdom come, your will be done on earth as it is in heaven.

Until now, I used to believe that the Church, as it is now, is the kingdom of God on earth. Many Christians also hold to this belief, with the understanding that the kingdom of God got established on earth on the Pentecost day of Acts 2. However, I have also been checked by the fact that the Lord’s Prayer is still prayed in its entirety; we still pray to God for His kingdom to come. Eschatologists have related the prayer to the physical coming of Christ. Pre-trib rapture followers therefore believe that Christ could any moment snatch up His kingdom that has existed on earth for a very long time.

Closely associated with “Thy kingdom come” is “Thy will be done on earth”. The two of them should be fulfilled simultaneously, but we do not see exactly that on earth today. The general confession I hear among Christians is that no one, no church, is perfect. Is that a confession of “as it is in heaven”?

Why did Jesus ask us to pray for the coming of the kingdom of God? It is because a certain condition must be fulfilled. What is the condition? It is none other than the spiritual condition of the descendants of Israelites of old.

Acts 1:6-8—So when they met together, they asked him, "Lord, are you at this time going to restore the kingdom to Israel?" [7]He said to them: "It is not for you to know the times or dates the Father has set by his own authority. [8]But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes on you; and you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the ends of the earth."

The kingdom of God will be restored to Israel at a time the Father has set by His own authority; Jesus never said “no more Israel of old, the Church has replaced Israel”, as some people teach today. So, what has been delaying the establishment of God’s kingdom on earth? It is this: Is God able to select 12,000 men from each tribe of Israel, men that seriously commit their lives to Jesus Christ? (Rev 7:4) Some people have written that Anglo-Saxons are the lost tribes of Israel. If the theory is true, was it not easier to find 12,000 serious Christians from every tribe of Israel among them in centuries gone by than today?

Acts 11:1-6,11-12,25-31—[1]I ask then: Did God reject his people? By no means! I am an Israelite myself, a descendant of Abraham, from the tribe of Benjamin. [2]God did not reject his people, whom he foreknew. Don't you know what the Scripture says in the passage about Elijah—how he appealed to God against Israel: [3]"Lord, they have killed your prophets and torn down your altars; I am the only one left, and they are trying to kill me"? [4]And what was God's answer to him? "I have reserved for myself seven thousand who have not bowed the knee to Baal. [5]So too, at the present time there is a remnant chosen by grace. [6]And if by grace, then it is no longer by works; if it were, grace would no longer be grace

As for those who teach that the Church has replaced Israel, Rev. 7:4 says that this time around God has reserved 144,000 Israelites (mostly from the so-called lost tribes), which is by far greater than the 7,000 He reserved in the time of Elijah. Rom 11:5 says that there is a remnant of Israelites chosen by grace.

Rom 11:11-12,15—[11]Again I ask: Did they stumble so as to fall beyond recovery? Not at all! Rather, because of their transgression, salvation has come to the Gentiles to make Israel envious. [12]But if their transgression means riches for the world, and their loss means riches for the Gentiles, how much greater riches will their fullness bring! [15]For if their rejection is the reconciliation of the world, what will their acceptance be but life from the dead?

The kingdom of God would have commenced after the resurrection of Christ, but for the unbelief of the Jews. God then handed the gospel over to the Gentiles. In the two millennia the Gentiles have been in charge of the gospel, we all know how they have fared. We all still look back to the early Church, when Jews were in charge. In Rom 11:15 we see a prophecy that says that when the descendants of Israelites of old take full charge of the gospel again, great things will happen in the Church.

Rom 11:25-27—[25]I do not want you to be ignorant of this mystery, brothers, so that you may not be conceited: Israel has experienced a hardening in part until the full number of the Gentiles has come in. [26]And so all Israel will be saved, as it is written:
"The deliverer will come from Zion; he will turn godlessness away from Jacob. [7]And this is my covenant with them when I take away their sins."

The deliverer will come from Zion, that is, Israel of old, and not from any other place. It is obvious that the deliverer meant here is Christ. Is it referring to a future coming or to His first advent? In order to answer this question, we need to see what the coming will accomplish; “turn godlessness away from Jacob”. Has that happened yet? No. Some people prophesy that when U.S.A. has been incapacitated by natural disasters or enemy attack, a coalition of Israel’s enemies will attack her, and this will force her to accept Jesus as their Messiah. These people forget that if a people forget God when they think that all is well with them, when disaster strikes, if they call on God, God will not respond (Pro 1:25-27; Jer 11:11). Another school of thought believe that Israelis will repent when they see the pierced hands of Jesus as He descends to earth during His second coming. Unfortunately, by that time all the ungodly would probably have received the mark of the Beast, Israelites and Gentiles alike; repentance would be too late.

Turning of godlessness away from Jacob will happen before or during the great tribulation. Jacob does not mean only the present nation of Israel; Jacob is much more than the present Israel. It then means that the deliverer will come to do this great work before or during the great tribulation. How is this going to be?

Dan 2:44-45—[44] "In the time of those kings, the God of heaven will set up a kingdom that will never be destroyed, nor will it be left to another people. It will crush all those kingdoms and bring them to an end, but it will itself endure forever. [45] This is the meaning of the vision of the rock cut out of a mountain, but not by human hands—a rock that broke the iron, the bronze, the clay, the silver and the gold to pieces.
"The great God has shown the king what will take place in the future. The dream is true and the interpretation is trustworthy.

The kingdom of God will be established at a time when the kingdoms of men represented in Nebuchadnezzar’s dream of Daniel 2 are all present. That happens in this end time. How will it happen? A Rock cut out of a Mountain, but not by human hands, will appear on the scene. Back in 1997, my personal ministry reached a new level one day the Spirit forged for me a connection between Dan 2:45 and John 1:1. After the connection, I could rephrase John 1:1 as follows:

In the beginning was the Rock, and the Rock was with (integral part of) the Mountain, and the Rock was of the same stuff as the Mountain.

Of course the Rock is Christ. He came to the world with the primary objective to perform a seven-year ministry that would establish the kingdom of God on earth. At the middle of the seven years He shed His blood as a sacrifice of atonement for the sins of humanity. Unfortunately, Israel was not ready for Messiah’s work, so He went back to heaven, and sent the Comforter, the Holy Spirit, to operate His Church until Israel becomes ready for His ministry. The remaining three and half years of ministry will be completed by the Messiah when Israel becomes ready.

Before continuing with the ministry of Christ, which will finally lead to the establishment of the kingdom of God on earth, it may be necessary to address the subject of “Trinity”, since what has been said about the Rock and the Mountain is obviously in the realm of Trinity doctrine, and any believer in the doctrine will definitely feel agitated. I have mentioned the Mountain (Father) and the Rock (Son), where is the Holy Spirit in this description? Well, the Holy Spirit is the life, or breath, or blood, of God (John 3:8, 20:22).

John 5:26—For as the Father has life in himself, so he has granted the Son to have life in himself.

The Son is an exact image of the Father (Col 1:15) in that the Son was brought out of the Father (the same make-up as the Father) and the Father granted Him to have the same Spirit as Himself. You see, there are different kinds of spirits; the human spirit is different from the spirit of animals, and from the Spirit of God. The Son has the same spirit as the Father. Even an ordinary human being who receives the Spirit of God by grace is accounted to be a son of God. Please note that Christ is not human; but He can dwell in a human body.

Heb 10:5—Therefore, when Christ came into the world, he said: "Sacrifice and offering you did not desire, but a body you prepared for me;

Christ dwells in a human body that is prepared for Him. It is now proper to get back to the ministry of Christ; the remaining three and half years.

The deliverer will come from Zion; he will turn godlessness away from Jacob (Rom 11:26). In His first advent, Christ came from Israel and focused all His attention on turning godlessness away from Israel. Unfortunately, Israel was not ready. When He comes for the final phase of His ministry, He will once again come from Zion and His first objective will be to turn godlessness away from Zion. During His first advent, there was no body suitable for Christ to dwell in (Rom 3:10-12), so God prepared an Adam in the womb of a virgin, for Christ to dwell in him. This Adam was subjected to intense test, to prove him, and he passed the test. That Adam is one with Christ forever. Incidentally, in the latter three and half years of Christ’s ministry, we will not see the Adam Jesus Christ. God will make ready 144,000 Jews for Christ to dwell in. Can the one Christ who dwelt in one man during His first ministry now dwell in 144,000 men? Yes, the Rock is an express image of the Mountain. He can bring stones out of Himself, just like the Mountain brought the Rock out of Himself.

1 Pet 2:4-5—[4]As you come to him, the living Stone—rejected by men but chosen by God and precious to him— [5]you also, like living stones, are being built into a spiritual house to be a holy priesthood, offering spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ.

The blood of Jesus qualified mankind to receive the life or Spirit of God. The Holy Spirit prepares a human being to become worthy to host Christ. Whereas the Holy Spirit is the spirit of Christ, He is not Christ. God can empower a human being through the Holy Spirit, to the extent that the person begins to do great miracles, but it is a different matter when Christ Himself dwells inside of a man. The person literarily becomes like God. In this end time we will witness 144,000 people with the capability that Jesus of Nazareth had (John 14:12). Those who talk about Trinity will have a problem on their hands because they may not know whether to begin to say that it is now thousands of persons in one God.

Luke 1:35—The angel answered, "The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you. So the holy one to be born will be called the Son of God.

Eph 3:16-17—[16]I pray that out of his glorious riches he may strengthen you with power through his Spirit in your inner being, [17]so that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith.

During Christ’s first advent, the Holy Spirit prepared an Israelite virgin and enabled her to host Christ in her body. In the next advent, the Holy Spirit will prepare 144,000 Israelites and make them suitable to host Christ in their bodies.

The gospel was initially carried by Israelites. Through unbelief they lost it and God gave it to the Gentiles. The Holy Spirit comes through believing the gospel and it has been that only the Gentile believers with few Israelites receive the Holy Spirit. The fact that Christ must appear in Israel and that Israel is not qualified to host Christ due to absence of the Holy Spirit caused by not believing the gospel has continued to delay the second advent of Christ. Rom 11:25 says that Israel experienced a hardening of heart so that the full number of the Gentiles may come into the Church. God has also made it such that the Israelites must now depend upon the kindness of the Gentiles in order to receive back the gospel. The Gentiles must preach to Israelites in order for them to believe, and receive the Holy Spirit, so that the Holy Spirit will eventually get them ready to host Christ. When finally the Israelites begin to host Christ, the Gentiles will in turn be greatly blessed by their end-time ministry. The Christian ministry of the Gentiles will take a new turn due to the great revelations that will issue out of the mouth of Christ through the Israelites.

The difference between the ministry of the Gentiles and that of the Israelites at the end time is that the Gentiles have a ministry that is empowered by the Holy Spirit only; whereas the Israelites will have both the Holy Spirit and the indwelling Christ. The much-respected early Church had the firstfruits of the Spirit (Rom 8:23), but they eagerly awaited their adoption as sons, which happens when one is indwelt by Christ. The 144,000 Israelites will have the firstfruits of Christ. Like the early Church, the Gentiles will be indwelt by Christ in the spirit world, after the rapture (2 Tim 4:8; 1 John 3:2).

Rev 14:1-4—[1]Then I looked, and there before me was the Lamb, standing on Mount Zion, and with him 144,000 who had his name and his Father's name written on their foreheads. [2]And I heard a sound from heaven like the roar of rushing waters and like a loud peal of thunder. The sound I heard was like that of harpists playing their harps. [3]And they sang a new song before the throne and before the four living creatures and the elders. No one could learn the song except the 144,000 who had been redeemed from the earth. [4]These are those who did not defile themselves with women, for they kept themselves pure. They follow the Lamb wherever he goes. They were purchased from among men and offered as firstfruits to God and the Lamb.

Some ministers of gospel who understand the role of Israelites in the end-time program of God have been making rounds to the nation of Israel, preaching the gospel. Unfortunately, Israelites in the diaspora are even more important. Incidentally, the most critically important set of Israelites are ignored because of the color of their skin. I mean the Israelites in Africa. Yet, there are strong prophetic indications that the Israelites in Africa will play some dominant role. Recently I stumbled on the website of the Messianic Jews in South Africa (http://home.telkomsa.net/signsoftheend/Pp%20Page25%20Prelude%20to%20Great%20Tribulation.htm) and read some interesting things. In particular, with regard to end-time condition of the Israelites, they quoted Zeph 3:10:

Zeph 3:10—From beyond the rivers of Cush my worshipers, my scattered people, will bring me offerings.

The web page of Messianic Jews in South Africa, which link is indicated above, indicates that here the Bible refers to Jews that were scattered beyond the river of Ethiopia (not Ethiopian Jews). They then hold the opinion that it refers to Jews in South Africa. Were any Jews scattered down to South Africa during the great dispersion of Bible times? Was it not in recent times that some Jews migrated to South Africa? Of course the South African Messianic Jews can only see white Israelites in Africa and no more. But God will soon shock those who reason along the color of the skin.

As I wrote in a previous article that was posted on ETPV, I learnt from my friends that some white evangelists that featured in Christian conferences that are annually held in the southern Nigerian city of Port Harcourt proclaimed over some years that the world was waiting for Nigeria. In one of the conferences one evangelist said that he saw the map of Africa in the hand of God like a gun. Nigeria was the trigger of the gun and South Africa was the barrel. God told him that apartheid blocked the barrel of the gun of world revival. For years they prayed for apartheid to go, and apartheid eventually went due to a prophetic word that was delivered to the then South African president by a prominent British minister. I personally heard the then South African president on VOA say, “Power greater than man has made us to hand over power…” The minister who spoke in Nigeria wondered why it was now a problem for the trigger of the prophetic gun to pull.

If you get the map of Africa and turn it in such a way that it becomes like a gun in your hand, with South Africa as the barrel, you will find that your finger will press on south-eastern Nigeria, or Biafra. That is the place where the Israelites referred to by Zeph 3:10 dwell. The annual Christian conference being organized in the city of Port Harcourt by white missionaries apparently is aimed at helping to pull the prophetic trigger, because Port Harcourt lies in the area of the trigger of the prophetic gun. Unfortunately, what is required in order to pull the trigger is much more than annual Christian conferences. Biafra is at the centre of the end-time ministry of Israelites. The same Biafra was battered by British and American foreign policy in the late 1960s. Britain supplied weapons and even officers to the Nigerian troops when Biafra fought for self-determination. The Biafrans were crushed and battered. Since then they have been relegated to frustration and marginalization in Nigeria. Today, resources derived from Biafra are used to sponsor thousands of Muslim pilgrims to Saudi Arabia on annual pilgrimage. With what resources will Biafrans carry out end-time ministry?

In 2002 I came across some information, an article written by a Biafran, but which surprisingly the Spirit made me to understand was authentic. This article had it that some Jews found out that the name of the ship that carried Jonah (the end-time evangelist) is Nigeria. (The purported Jewish discovery is not impossible, given the various Bible codes that now exist.) Just as the ship that carried Jonah was in serious trouble, in the same way the Nigerian nation has been bedeviled with insolvable problems, notwithstanding the oil revenue. The article has it that God Himself will eventually spew Biafra out of Nigeria. Then Biafra will be able to perform its God-assigned role in the end time. Even now, developments in Nigeria are gradually leading towards what was written in that article. Christians are encouraged to pray about the information being released in this article in order to know how they may properly pray "Thy kingdom come."

It is now well-known that the end-time revival will commence this year. On April 9th one prophetess (http://www.ft111.com/p0000013.htm) released a prophetic word that seems to indicate that the month of May is the starting time. I began to think that it could be on Pentecost day, which I understood to be on May 15. I then went to seek for any information on the Internet in connection with this year's Pentecost day, only to find out that May 15 is the so-called Christian Pentecost that was fixed due to pagan Easter that did not fall into the Passover week this year. I then discovered that the real or Jewish Pentecost will take place in June. It was in the confusion generated by this discovery that I woke up one night with the song about meeting my loving Jesus on my mind. I then realized that Christ will restart His ministry in the day on Jewish calendar in which he rose from the dead. That is the Feast of Firstfruits. I expect something to happen as from May 1st.

Look at a prophetic word released by Dr. Ronald Powell (http://ft111.com/powell.htm) on April 28th:

I am releasing power from on high, and those born of My Spirit shall walk as Jesus walked and do the works Jesus did…

I wish to implore that any person who has clearer information than what I presented in this article should please make the information available to me.

Yours in Christ,
Paul Ekemezie
Kwaluseni, Swaziland

The King Is Going To War

Judy Curmi

6-3-2005

The King is going to war. He has an army that he is going to lead. The world has proclaimed this army as unfit and misfits, but I the Great God say differently, for the world does not understand me at all. They do not understand how I think and they do not understand how I act. They do not understand my righteous judgments because so many of their judgments are unrighteous and defiled.

My army will not be mighty in numbers, but it will be mighty in supernatural power and strength. It will be made up of those who have learned to look to me as the source of their wisdom and strength, instead of man.

To these ones I extend my scepter. To these ones I myself will place a mighty sword in their hands. This sword is encrusted with gold and jewels, but it is so heavy that they will not be able to lift it in their own strength. It is only when the two of us are gripping the handle together that they will be able to lift this sword.

This army will be made up of my beloved, my bride to be. She will be as awesome as an army with banners. * She will be beautiful and terrible to behold. She will be mine totally and completely, and I will be hers.

Come closer, my bride. I am calling you now into my private chambers. I wish for you to begin to know me very, very well. The end draws near and your unveiling (that of my mighty army) is at the world's doorstep now.

I will silence the mockers and the scoffers, for you are my best-kept secret and your hour is at hand. This is the hour when I will unveil my power and my glory through you, my beautiful bride.

Yes, I will call you Beulah, my wife, for you are going to set the world on fire. I once said, how I wish the fire was already started,*4 but I say you will see it now, for my people will be flames of fire, dwelling in the earth and yet dwelling in my mighty Presence.

Your Jesus

Song 6:4 O my love, you are as beautiful as Tirzah, lovely as Jerusalem, awesome as an army with banners!* [NKJ]

Song 6:10 Who is she who looks forth as the morning, fair as the moon, clear as the sun, awesome as an army with banners? [NKJ]

 John 14:12-13 Truly, truly I say to you, he who believes in me shall do the works which I do; and even greater than these things shall he do, because I am going to my Father. And whatever you ask in my name, I will do it for you, so that the Father may be glorified through the Son.

Isa. 62:1-5 For Zion’s sake I will not hold My peace, and for Jerusalem’s sake I will not rest, until her righteousness goes forth as brightness, and her salvation as a lamp that burns.

The Gentiles shall see your righteousness, and all kings your glory. You shall be called by a new name, which the mouth of the Lord will name. You shall also be a crown of glory in the hand of the Lord, and a royal diadem in the hand of your God.

You shall no longer be termed Forsaken, nor shall your land any more be termed Desolate; but you shall be called Hephzibah,[1] and your land Beulah[2]; for the Lord delights in you, and your land shall be married.

For as a young man marries a virgin, so shall your sons marry you; And as a bridegroom rejoices over the bride, so shall your God rejoice over you. [NKJ]

[1] Literally My Delight Is in Her

Literally Married

*4 Luke 12:49-53 I came to send fire on the earth, and how I wish it were already kindled! But I have a baptism to be baptized with, and how distressed I am till it is accomplished!

Do you suppose that I came to give peace on earth? I tell you, not at all, but rather division. For from now on five in one house will be divided; three against two and two against three. Father will be divided against son and son against father, mother against daughter and daughter against mother, mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law and daughter-in law-against her mother-in-law. [NKJ]

The Kingdom Of God And The Return Of The Lord

Bill Somers

Mount Gilead Ohio USA

July 12, 2009

> Dan 2:44 And in the days of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed: and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever.

Bible myths: commonly taught statements or assumptions that are not taught or supported by Holy Scripture.

Examples
The Bible never says there were three wise men who came to worship Jesus.

The Bible never says Mount Calvary was a mountain.

The Bible never says ‘God helps those who help themselves.’

There are many other examples that could be given. For now I want to concentrate on this one.

The Bible never says that Jesus sets up his kingdom [with Jerusalem as the capitol] after he returns.

Sometime back I did an article on Revival Redemption and Return of the Lord.
[http://www.etpv.org/2009/rrnrotl.html]

In my opening remarks I said:

> Let me start out by upsetting some peoples theology. God is not coming back so he can set up his Kingdom here on earth, he is setting up his Kingdom here on earth so he can come back.

Then I went into great detail to show why this is so. For now I just want to point to the scripture from Daniel 2 above as a secondary proof.

Notice where this verse from Daniel says 'in the days of those kings' It indicates that Jesus Kingdom comes into being, and then destroys the others. Which are represented by the 10 toes of the great image and also the ten horns of the beast.

The erroneous view is that Jesus destroys the other kingdoms and then sets up his after his return. Here is shows us that these things happen during the end times or so called tribulation period. All of this is to take place before his visible return as the white horse rider.

Preaching of the Gospel of the Kingdom.

In the times past, the good news of the Gospel, was a promise of the coming Kingdom. It will soon be preached somewhat differently. It will be the announcement of the Kingdom. Not that the Kingdom is coming, but that the Kingdom is here. In other words Our God Reigns.

> Revelation 12:10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night.
>
> Isaiah 52:7 How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth!

One last example:

The Bible never says that the Holy Spirit will always agree with the ultimate authority of the written Word of God. Instead the ultimate authority of Holy Spirit is given to help us understand the written Word of God.

The Kingdom Of God Is Calling For Change

Jeremy Lopez

I have a lot of people on my travels ask me, "What is God going to do in this hour?"
I say that He is making a sudden appearance to His bride! As I was on the plane to Phoenix one day, God brought me to this scripture:
Acts 1:3- "He showed himself and gave many convincing proofs that he was alive. He appeared to them over a period of forty days and spoke about the kingdom of God*."*

Christ is making sudden appearances in this hour! Giving "convincing proof" that He is alive! Why is Christ making sudden appearances? To reveal the message of the kingdom of God. We have been so excited about "winning souls" that we forgot what Christ said to the church.

Mark 13:10- "And the gospel must first be preached to all nations."

A Prophetic Shifting Must Take Place

We are called to disciple the nations! The message of the kingdom of God goes beyond the single and reaches the multitude. The prophetic movement is making a shift from personal prophecy to prophesying over the nations of the earth. We must start thinking like Jesus. His goal was to preach the Kingdom and save the nations.

God Speaks A Second Time To Jonah and the Church

Jonah 3:1- Then the word of the LORD came to Jonah a second time: [2] "Go to the great city of Nineveh and proclaim to it the message I give you."

God spoke to Jonah a "kingdom message". This message was to prophetically speak and impart an awakening to a whole city. There is a changing in the atmosphere in the body of Christ calling a second time to turn the "world" upside down! The 12 apostles flooded the earth with the message of the kingdom of God following with it signs, wonders and miracles the first time. The message of the kingdom is calling a second time to affect cities, states and nations. It can only come through a violent people that have a vision for affecting the world. It is the violent that takes it by forth! We must move from having a street ministry to having an international ministry mentality if we are to make a difference for the gospel of Christ. We need to change our perspective of how we minister the gospel.

Having An Ear to Hear

He is showing Himself to those who have an ear to hear and an eye to see the kingdoms of this world become the kingdoms of our Lord and Christ so He can reign!
My prayer is that through His "appearances," we will see "convincing proofs" that the Kingdom of God is truly at hand.

Jeremy Lopez
Identity Network International
Your apostolic and prophetic resource website.
www.identitynetwork.net

The Kingdom Of Joy Is Coming To The Church

Victoria Boyson

January 2, 2005

"The kingdom of God is righteousness, peace and JOY!" Romans 14:17

God is beginning to pour out His joy on the Church in an amazing way, and we will experience a new level of joy in Him! And with the release of His joy, we will truly celebrate the Lord like never before. As we do, blind eyes will see, the lame will walk, and dead bones will rise and dance -- in the spiritual and the natural. We will not only experience physical healings, but as we rejoice in God, we will see our spiritual eyes open to see God in a brand new way! We will truly walk with Him, hand in hand, as we have "fun with Jesus." We will see that which was dead jump for joy!

Instead of just walking in a manner worthy of the calling we have received (Ephesians 4:1), we will jump and dance in a manner that is truly worthy of Jesus!

A TRUCK-LOAD OF JOY!

As we begin to cast off our old assumptions of who God is and throw off the deadness of religious traditionalism, we will begin to enjoy, have fun with, and celebrate God like never before. Jesus said to be sober, but He did not say to be depressed. And God is now releasing a heavenly truckload of His joy to His people.

Joy in God goes hand in hand with faith in Him (Romans 15:13). They are Siamese twins! If we believe in God, then we will automatically rejoice, because who could help but rejoice when we see Him in His beauty! Joy is the evidence of our faith! "The joy of the Lord is our strength (Nehemiah 8:10)" and that joy will protect us from the fiery darts of the enemy. Don't let the enemy take your joy from you with his weapons of worry and fear; defend your joy and it will become your strength!

HE'S WORTH CELEBRATING

Hey, let's have a celebration for Him this year that towers over any celebration the world has ever seen; with wild praise and reckless abandonment of "who we are", let's throw ourselves into the arms of our wonderful Father. No one else could get us to dance in the true freedom we can dance with in Him, but Him. He is worth jumping for!

Do you love Him? I know you do. So, let's rejoice.

I know we have trials and problems, but they lose their relevance when we celebrate our Jesus. When we put our arm in His arm and walk with Him, laughing and sharing joy with each other in true friendship, our troubles seem so distant.

Having fun with Jesus can seem sacrilegious to some. They may become offended by that concept, but it is that offense, the offense of seeing God through old religious mind sets and assumptions of who He is, that needs to be cast off. Not only cast off, but danced on!

We will never walk in the completeness of our relationship with Him, as His Bride, until we celebrate our Beloved and what He's done for us with reckless abandon and radical praise -- until we dance like King David danced. He knew how to celebrate God! Without a care for his personal dignity or position, he danced in radical praise of God's presence coming back to the children of God (2 Samuel 6:14). May we do the same. We need to get our eyes off of ourselves and on to Him, because He is worthy!

THE POWER OF JOY!

A dear friend of mine who attended our Speaking Life meetings was so full of the joy of the Lord, she jumped for joy when she praised God (and she praised God a lot), so we started calling her jumping Joni! But a while back her jumping stopped because her husband died, and no matter how much she tried, she could not get her joy back.

She was heavy with grief. But after about a year with this heaviness on her, stealing her joy, she fought back. During a time of ministry, we had her physically shake off the grief that had overtaken her. She fought her way back to joy and was determined to jump again. Well, she started jumping and she has not stopped yet. Praise God for JOY!

WHAT HAS GOD DONE FOR US?

Oh, beloved, what hasn't He done for us? Has He given you breath to breathe, a heart to feel, and a spirit that will live with Him for eternity?

I believe this "joy" issue will be what divides the tares from the wheat; the proof that we have His Spirit will be indeed be seen in our JOY (Galatians 5:22). I believe we are only truly righteous if we have joy! If we celebrate daily what God has done for us, indeed, that is the highest form of righteousness!

IT'S JESUS-TIME!

Hey Church, get happy! You are marrying Jesus! He is the Groom of all grooms and the Best Man at every wedding, and He is yours! That is indeed a reason to get happy and throw yourself into radical praise of our Lord and King.

He is the King of kings and the Lord of lords, another good reason to celebrate!!!

He won a great victory at Calvary. He took the keys of hell away from Satan and made a way for us to live with Him for eternity. Have we ever celebrated that? We need to have a victory party! Think about it: Jesus robbed Satan, beat Him to a pulp, and rose up as Champion for our sake. . . THAT IS SOMETHING TO CELEBRATE!!!

Precious Saints, lets take a holy holiday from worry, stress, and grief, and declare this "Jesus-time!" It's His party, and oh, what a reason He is to rejoice. He loves us so much!

LET THE EARTH PROCLAIM HIM

>From shore to shore may we praise Him and proclaim loudly what our God has done. May we celebrate the gift of Jesus the Christ, our Victor and Champion! Let everything that has breath PRAISE GOD! Let us come to Him with praise and joy (Psalm 150:6 & Psalm 95:2)!

"The kingdom of God is righteousness, peace and JOY!"* Romans 14:17

Oh Father, let Your Kingdom come. . . let Your will be done on this earth just as it is in heaven. May we, Your Bride, receive Your kingdom of Joy with open arms and respond with explosions of radical praise. May we rejoice in our Maker and be glad in YOU. Let us praise you with dancing because of Your great delight in us. Let us rejoice in honor of YOU!

In Jesus' mighty name, Amen!

"Shout for JOY to the Lord, all the earth.
"Worship the Lord with GLADNESS; come before Him with JOYFUL songs.
"Know that the Lord is God. It is He who made us, and we are His; we are His people, the sheep of His pasture.
"Enter His gates with thanksgiving and His courts with PRAISE; give thanks to Him and PRAISE His name.
"For THE LORD IS GOOD and HIS LOVE endures forever; His faithfulness continues through all generations."* Psalm 100

Love and Blessings,
Victoria Boyson
Victoria Boyson, Inc. www.boyson.org
info@boyson.org

Copyright (c) 2003-2004
All rights reserved.

The Key of Knowledge

Bill Somers

> Lu 11:52 Woe unto you, lawyers! for ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.
>
> Ho 4:6 My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge: because thou hast rejected knowledge, I will also reject thee, ….

In Jesus' time the people known as lawyers were the experts on the Mosaic Law. This article will take a quick look at the lawyers of today. Not the experts in civil or criminal law, but the experts on the Bible. We will see what the Key of Knowledge is and exactly how today's experts have taken it away from great numbers of believers in today's churches.

Literalism Is The Problem

A great number of bible scholars and teachers tell us that the proper way to understand the bible is through consistent literal interpretation. This is expressed as The Law of Literal Interpretation. This law says:

> Always interpret scripture literally wherever possible.
> "If the literal sense makes sense, seek no other sense."

Now what's most unusual about this is that there is never any scriptural justification offered for adopting this principle. You will find many reasons offered, and all of them sound logical, but no bible verses. It's not so much what they are telling us to do, but what this law is telling us not to do? It's telling us not to seek; seek no other sense. That is not to seek any further than the literal meaning of scripture. But what does the bible say? It says just the opposite. It tells us to seek, long, hard and diligently. We must seek after wisdom with a passion.

Scriptures on Seeking

> Pr 2:1 My son, if thou wilt receive my words, and hide my commandments with thee;
> 2 So that thou incline thine ear unto wisdom, and apply thine heart to understanding;
> 3 Yea, if thou criest after knowledge, and liftest up thy voice for understanding;
> 4 If thou seekest her as silver, and searchest for her as for hid treasures;
> 5 Then shalt thou understand the fear of the LORD, and find the knowledge of God.
> 6 For the LORD giveth wisdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding.
>
> Mt 7:7 Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you:
>
> Lu 11:9 And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

> Ps 27:4 One thing have I desired of the LORD, that will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the LORD, and to enquire in his temple.
>
> Isa 45:11 Thus saith the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, and his Maker, Ask me of things to come concerning my sons, and concerning the work of my hands command ye me.
>
> Jer 33:3 Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and shew thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not.
>
> Pr 3:5 Trust in the LORD with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding.

The Key of Knowledge

It's a simple matter to under stand what all these scriptures are getting at. We could write several more pages analyzing these verses, but it's pretty plain what they mean. The Key of Knowledge is to seek for it. But here we are being told by supposed experts not to seek after wisdom and knowledge. And this is exactly how the Law of literal interpretation takes away the Key of Knowledge, by teaching us not to seek for it. So the 'lawyers' who teach literalism today are just like the ones in Jesus' day. They don't acquire any knowledge themselves, and they hinder those who would.

> That their hearts might be comforted, being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to the acknowledgement of the mystery of God, and of the Father, and of Christ;
> In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge*.* Colossians 2:2-3

Hidden in Christ [who is the Word of God] are all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge. This means deep revelation, rich understanding and mature insight await those who seek into the Word after it. The Bible says to seek after it. Literalism says 'don't bother looking', the literal meaning is all there is.

> 1Co 8:2 And if any man think that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.

So keep on seeking.

Two Kinds Of Ministry

Mike Forest

The lives of David and Saul are in contrast to one another and represent two types of ministry. One is of God and the other is of man. God hoveringly chose David to be king of Israel, while Saul was the people's choice for king. The people did not want to be ruled by God through the prophet Samuel, so they begged and pleaded for an earthly king. God gave them the desires of their heart. He gave them a man that was head and shoulders above all other men. The problem is that Saul did not have the inner heart preparation that was necessary for him to lead the children of Israel. He was a man with a title, a position, but without the dealings of the Lord in his life.

Today, much of the ministry within the church is based on position and title, and credentials have become more important than the actual inward work within the man. Jesus said that we would know them by their fruits. Today, we have changed that saying to "we will know them by their titles and degrees." What is it that God is looking for in a man? Is it ability? Is it a high IQ, charisma or speaking ability? If this is what God is looking for then certainly Jesus made a poor choice when he chose the 12 men that He would give the keys to the kingdom of heaven to.

God does not look at any of those outward things that man looks at in choosing those that will represent Him in ministry, but God is looking at the heart of the man. David was a man after God's own heart. He was a man that the Lord had built His character into on the hills of Israel as he was tending his sheep and ministering to the Lord. The Lord chose David to be king because he had the heart of the king. One of the basic differences between David and Saul was that the former was more concerned with God's interests and purposes than his own well being, while Saul was primarily concerned with self promotion and with what benefits he could reap from his position.

Because the people chose Saul, the people ruled Saul, and Saul feared the people more than he feared the Lord. Whenever the people choose the spiritual leaders in the church, then they are at the mercy of the people. The people voted them in and they can be voted out just as easily. The result of this kind of leadership is compromise and weakness.

True spiritual authority can only be given by God. It is the measure of Christ within a leader that gives him spiritual authority. The man that has true spiritual authority is taking his marching orders from God. He is a man that fears God more than he fears the people.

True spiritual ministry is ministry that is under the Lordship of Jesus Christ. It is ministry that is not of the letter but of the Spirit, and the chief characteristic of this type of ministry is life. Where there is life there is growth, and true spiritual ministry builds up and edifies the Body of Christ. True spiritual ministry always points people to the Head to receive whatever they need. There is only one sure foundation that the Church can be built on and that is Jesus Christ who is the chief cornerstone.

True spiritual ministry is ministry before God in the inward court. All true ministry begins with God. All true ministry starts with ministry to the Lord in the inner court and then proceeds to minister to the people in the outer court.

"But the priests, the Levites, the sons of Zadok, that kept the charge of my sanctuary when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall come near to me to minister to me; and they shall stand before me to offer unto me the fat and the blood, saith the Lord God". (Ezekiel 44:15).

God has called all of His children to be kings and priests before Him. The highest calling of God for his people is to come near to Him to minister to Him. The priests of God are not a select few, but the whole house of God is called to be priests. This is why the enemy is working overtime to devalue the true calling of every child of God. The highest calling of God is not to be a pastor of a church or a great leader that is seen and recognized by man, but the highest calling in the Church is that of an intercessor. To stand before God offering up spiritual sacrifices whose incense ascends unto Him as a sweet smelling savor, is the highest calling.

The Saul type ministry will do everything to seek promotion and good standing in the eyes of man, but the heart of David is to minister to the Lord in the secret place. Every believer has been called to minister to the Lord, to enter into God's presence by the precious blood of the Lamb, and to worship the Lord in spirit and in truth. In the end the believer will be rewarded for those works that were done for the Lord and by the Lord. When we are in true fellowship with the Lord, the life that is in the vine will be ministered through us. God is not only looking at the work that is done for Him, but He is also concerned with the source of the power behind our work. Is it the Spirit or the natural life of man that is the energizing force behind our work? Every thing that the Spirit does through a man will bring forth fruit unto God. Everything that man does apart from the Spirit, while maybe looking good outwardly, will be dead inwardly. Only the true ministry of the Spirit can produce life. The flesh profits nothing.

The Kudu And The Priestess

Alison Papenfus

August 22, 2005

Prov 16.9 says "a man's heart plans his way, but the Lord directs his steps" I have been memorising and meditating on this chapter this week - but I didn't really expect that the Lord would bring it into such sharp focus ...

My husband is working outside Johannesburg, we agreed that I would drive up and join him for the weekend. He is staying on a farm in the middle of nowhere - a lovely, quiet, intimate retreat. So I was driving at dusk along a deserted African bush road when a huge buck (locally called a kudu) leapt into the road in front of my car. There was no time to think, no possibility of avoiding collision, in a split second the huge animal smashed into the windscreen, wrecked the roof and landed dead behind the car. Having brought the car under control I discovered that by a miracle I only had a few minor glass cuts, and there was no damage to the vehicles' engine. Though it had no windows and a crumpled roof - the car was drivable. No mobile phone reception, not a person in sight in any direction, not a good place to allow shock to take over! The best option was to try to limp into the nearest small town, which I reckoned to be about 40 kms away. An uncomfortable 40 km drive with the question "why would God ...????" competing for my attention.

I made it to town - as I drove the wrecked vehicle up the main street people turned to stare! Some time in 2002 I had stayed in a guest house in that town, and headed straight for the place I knew. The relief arriving at the gate was immense. The owners let me in - and their kindness was overwhelming. My husband was phoned and set off to join me at once, but he was several hours away. I washed off the blood and the grime of the accident, and found I was the only guest - the guest house was closed for the weekend, and had only admitted me because of my plight!

My hosts sat with me on the veranda - all the usual questions - what do you do? I told them - part time business person, part time in Christian ministry. And then the floodgates opened. "We can talk to you" they told me "because you are a priestess" ! First time I was ever called that, but I was in no mood to sort out the theology! Truth was beginning to seep into my brain - my state of shock was going to have to take a back seat to their needs.

My hostess' husband committed suicide last year, leaving her almost destitute and devastated by the question "Was it my fault?' Desperate, she took a job as manageress of the guest house. My host's wife died shortly after she started work - and he plunged into depression - his wife had been the love of his life, he does not wish to continue to live without her. Thrown together in grief they found themselves sinking in a morass of ad hoc decisions that intensified their pain. Yet in all this the guest house had to remain open - it was their livelihood - and guests had to be entertained, not regaled with problems. And then I came along - the only guest - and a "priestess" They knew nothing of prophecy, had no idea that I was reading mail as we talked. Guilt and pain peeled off them, I talked about the love of God, his mercy, his healing, his acceptance, how the best laid plans will come apart - but God is still directing our steps. Just as he directed my steps to them on this night of nights when they had no other guests to distract them. Pain turned to repentance - at breakfast she told me "I prayed last night, for the first time in a long time" He said "Please continue to pray for me" Are they healed? No. But they have a road map - they know that God is on their side, and how their healing is going to happen. What does it matter if they have no idea they received prophecy? If they touched Jesus, that is enough to transform them.

If God loved the world enough to send his son is it possible that he loved these two people enough to send a kudu? It took a kudu to change my plans and direct my steps to them, just as I am beginning to get a glimpse of the depth of compassion for people that rages in the heart of God. He longs to present people with an expression of his love, a taste of his goodness; he wants them to be overwhelmed by his kindness, to wash off the dust and grime of natural life and discover the unparalleled possibilities of life in God. And who does he choose to impart this treasure to others? Ordinary people like us - who have had the privilege of walking with him. He will direct our steps to the most important work of all - telling people he loves how much he loves them. I give him permission to do that - even if, on this occasion, my insurance company may be a bit annoyed about the bill

The Kingdom United

Dave Hood

Many may say that we are not a United Kingdom, but a divided nation. One only has to look at the troubles in Northern Ireland, the separate and devolved assemblies of Scotland and Wales. Its animosity stretching back centuries for all to observe. In fact Ireland, Scotland and Wales are Celtic nations, yet England rules supreme. Even geographically the boundaries remain. Hadrian’s Wall separates Scotland from England and Offa's Dyke separates England from Wales. Even Northern Ireland is separated by water and indeed the whole of Ireland is separated from itself.

A few years back, whilst attending the first Braveheart Conference in Edinburgh, I believed the Lord said something to me. “Just as Hadrian’s Wall separates England from Scotland and Offa’s Dyke separates England from Wales (physically)”, “so am I uniting them spiritually”.

I then had a picture of England, Scotland and Wales joined to one another, with the Dyke and wall removed. There were not 3 separate entities, but one. Later the Lord said to me “I am doing a work amongst the Celtic nations”. For the first time I understood that Ireland had its place with Wales and Scotland, it to, was a Celtic nation.

He then reminded me of the myth of the giant who built a causeway from the North East tip of Ireland to the South western tip of Scotland. “He said in the same way that I am joining Wales and Scotland to England; I am crossing the divide between Ireland and Scotland and joining them to Wales and each other”. I could see part of Gods plan. He was taking them over on dry ground.

The miracle here is that England is not a Celtic nation, but He will join them to these British nations for his purpose and glory. England is far more akin to Europe. Yet he will make Britain United and Great to transport and transfer his greatness and the unity to Europe and France as a nation.

England blood stock is inherited from the European stock. So at the same time He unites England to Wales, Scotland and Ireland, He also seeks to unite and reattach England, with is Celtic unity residing within it to the European stock. Behold I do a new thing.

When Jesus said in Luke, go ye unto all nations, I believe he was saying, go unto all ethnic groups. The Celts can be seen as an Ethnic group and so can the Anglo Saxons.

Dave Hood

True Love
Don Walker

Love that's pure hopes all things
Believes all things, won't pull no strings
Won't sneak up into your room, tall, dark and handsome Capture your soul and hold it for ransom. (Bob Dylan)

There are probably fewer words in the modern English language that have been more distorted, misused, abused and overused than the word "love." As a consequence the word love has lost its meaning. This is not only true within the current culture, it is also true within the evangelical church.

Love is Biblically depicted, as the greatest of Christian virtues. Paul, in his introduction to his treatise on the subject in I Corinthians 13, refers to love as "the most excellent way." He concludes with the statement: "And now these three remain: faith, hope and love. But the greatest of these is love." Jesus says that love is the distinguishing mark of all of His disciples (John 13:35). In addition, we are commanded to love one another as He has loved us. John tells us that the possession of true love is a means of determining if we are actually in the faith. He says, "Anyone who does not love remains in death" (I John 3:14).

The Apostle Paul affirms the supremacy of love when he makes the declaration that "love is the fulfillment of the law" (Rom. 13:10). If this is the case, then the way of love is inextricably tied to the revelation of God's Law. This seems to have escaped the notice of most Christians today. I am afraid that we have wandered from a Biblical definition of love into a worldly, humanistic, sentimental concept of "love."

This worldly concept of love revolves around man and self. It has replaced the love of God for the love of self. It is therefore not concerned about what is required by God, and is only concerned with what pleases man and his desires. It refuses to address the issue of sin and its consequences. It finds correction, rebuke and admonishment to be "unloving." It has reduced the concept of "loving your neighbor" to showing tolerance and acceptance to whatever ungodly practices your neighbor chooses to engage in. This concept of love is completely self-absorbed and self –seeking, in contrast to true love (I Cor. 13:4-5). This is what Bob Mumford referred to as "sloppy agape."

True love, by Biblical definition, must first be directed toward God. Jesus said, "Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind" (Matt. 22:37-38). He tells us, "this is first and greatest commandment." The second is to "love your neighbor as yourself" (vs. 39). This order is essential, and confirmed by the order of the Ten Commandments. First we have our obligations to God, then we have our obligations to our fellow man.

If our first obligation is to love God, it is exceedingly important that we know what that means. Is my love for God shown through my "excitement" about the Lord? Is it shown through my theological knowledge? Is it shown by my involvement in church activities? All of these things are good, and they should be a result of our love toward God. But there is only one right answer scripturally. Jesus stated the matter plainly, "If you love Me, keep My commandments" (John 14:15). I John 5:3 says, "For this is the love of God, that we keep His commandments."

To love God is to love and obey His word – His law – His commandments. In other words, love is lawfulness. Such a thought seems contradictory to our worldly concept of "love," which reveals our unbiblical thinking on this matter.

David understood the relationship between God's law and demonstrating genuine love for God. Note

David's words in Psalm 119:

"Oh, how I love your law" (vs. 7).

"I reach out my hands for your commandments, which I love…" (vs. 48).

Should this not be true of us under the New Covenant?

What does it mean to "love your neighbor" in the way Jesus commanded us? What does genuine love look like? First of all, I cannot show true love to my neighbor without first loving God. For this reason, the unregenerate are unable to truly love their neighbor, because they do not love God. Paul says that it is possible to give all one has to the poor and even sacrifice his life, but have not love.

How do we know that we love our brothers and sisters in Christ? John says, "By this we know we love the children of God, when we love God and keep His commandments" (I John 5:2). Once again, we find the "C" word. It's inescapable. In order to love my brother, I must obey the commandments of God, as opposed to obeying my own corrupt ideas, as to what determines love.

Love compels me to turn my brothers away from error, when I see them wandering away from the truth (Matt. 18:15; James 5:19). Likewise, I must not reject my brother's love when correction comes my way. Of course most of us have heard that it is "unloving" to correct, and it certainly is not loving to point out error in practice or theology. The noted Bible scholar, A.W. Pink made this observation: "Brotherly love is a holy thing, and not a fleshly sentiment or a loose indifference as to the path we are treading. The exercise of love is to be in strict conformity to the revealed will of God." To love my brother is to have his highest good at heart; to encourage him in the path of righteousness and bring him into remembrance of God's Word.

In regards to children, parents are not to withhold discipline. Proverbs states, "He who spares the rod hates his son, but he who loves him is careful to discipline him" (Prov. 13:24). The worldly concept of "love" rebels against this idea of discipline and protests that this is not love, but "child abuse." Yet, God's wisdom has revealed to our deceitful hearts the true path of love. God says, "Punish him with the rod, and save his soul from hell" (Prov. 23:14).

Our modern concept of "love" involves simply accepting people and whatever "lifestyle" i.e. sins; they choose. To say, that certain behavior is wrong, is viewed as "judgmental" and "unloving." We are told "to make people feel good about themselves," lest we damage their "self esteem." Unfortunately, such sentiment is far too common among believers. True love, on the other hand, is not concerned with gratifying his brother, but reminds him, with patience and kindness, of his God's holy requirements. Love does not pamper our selfish, sinful, wicked hearts. Love confronts and encourages us to walk in God's ways.

Website and archive of past "Arrows of Truth": www.basileiaministries.org

The Lament of a Watchman

David Weber

Fallen, fallen is the virgin church that came forth from the side of the Son 2000 years ago. She has become deserted in her own land; her leaders are without vision and are unable to lift God's people up to the spiritual heights for which they are called. Prophets are sent to her so that the people might be fed with strong meat, and this so that they might be strong to climb to new spiritual heights, but the one who runs with the truth is despised and they hate the one who reproves them because of their erroneous doctrines.

Oh Christians, hearken unto this word; all but a remnant of the church has become a home for demons and a haunt for every wicked and detestable thing; backbiting and division, gossip and slander, arrogance and pride is the fruit that most bear, and the teachings of men and religious dogma is their only daily fare.

Soon, those who march a thousand strong shall have only a hundred left who truly walk with God among them. Those who have a hundred will have only ten. Those who shall walk and talk with the Lord will be only those who seek after HIM and HIM alone. Seek the Lord and LIVE people; do not seek after Bethel or Gilgal, First Methodist this, or Second Baptist that! All of those things; all of those institutions of men will surely go into exile for they are destined to be reduced to absolutely nothing! Soon, our God shall sweep through those religious prison houses of men with a fire that will not be quenched until all of the religious wood, hay, and stubble is thoroughly consumed, and in many of those houses ... there shall be absolutely nothing left! The religious strongholds and fortified cities built by men in the Lord's Name shall soon be brought to utter and absolute ruin!

No longer shall justice be turned into bitterness in the Lord's house! No longer shall righteousness be cast to the ground! No longer shall the poor be trampled under foot and forced to tithe to men who desire to build their stone mansions! Those who have forced God's people to give of the fruit of their labor to build the kingdoms of man will surely see the beautiful and lush vineyards that they have planted ... but they will not drink of the wine. No, there shall be wailing in all of those vineyards when the Lord passes through their midst in holy fire and judgment.

I hear many people calling unto the Lord in this day; praying that the Day of the Lord soon come. But why do they long so for that Day to come? Most of them are not prepared for that Day! For many, that Day will be a Day of darkness and not a Day of light! In that Day, many will cry out to escape the lion only to meet with the bear! In that Day, many will rest on a wall only to be bitten by a snake!

Oh, if only we could know how much the Lord hates most of our religious feasts and assemblies! We bring to Him burnt offerings and grain offerings and fellowship offerings and we think that that is pleasing to Him, but are we willing to give Him that which He desires the most - a sacrificed life; a life of absolute and total abandonment to Him through the fellowship of Christ's sufferings? That is the only thing that will prepare one for the Day of the Lord beloved. Let us do away with the noise of all the religious songs for they are utterly worthless!! The Lord will not listen to the sound of the harps and guitars of man's soulish banquets any longer! Men strum on their instruments like David and drink of the Babylonian wine by the bowlful but do they grieve over the ruin of Joseph? Do they care if those who are truly pursuing holiness and self-sacrifice unto the Lord are cast from their assemblies and thrown into a pit? No they don't, but the Lord will raise up those despised ones in due season, for they are called to a place of great authority. But for the others, they will be sent into exile ... where their soulish feasting and complacent lounging will end.

Oh dear people, if you are hearing the Lord's voice to come out from the harlot systems of man then you had better obey Him. The day is nigh and at hand when He shall strike the tops of the pillars of those religious houses and the thresholds will shake! Those systems which He abhors but has tolerated for a long season shall soon be brought down upon the heads of those who refuse to leave them. The eyes of the Lord are surely now upon the sinful kingdoms of men, and He will soon destroy those kingdoms and abolish them from the face of the earth. But He will not totally destroy the house of His people. No, for He has a plan of restoration and rebuilding after He has torn down.

In that Day which is coming beloved, the Lord will restore the Tabernacle of David; a corporate manifestation of an earthen tent filled with the fullness and glory of the Son. These are those who shall possess the remnant of Edom and bring all of the nations of the earth to worship at the feet of the Lord!

The days are coming beloved ones, when the harvest in the earth will be so bountiful that the reaper will be overtaken by the plowman and the planter will be overtaken by the one treading grapes! New wine is going to drip from the mountains and will flow from the hills, and then the Lord will even bring back the exiled peoples to rebuild the ruined cities according to His plan and as directed by His Spirit. Then the people of the Lord will plant vineyards and drink of the wine, and then they will make gardens and eat of the fruit! Then the Church; the Lord's ECCLESIA will be planted in a good and plentiful land where He will bless them, and prosper them, and nurture them, and they will never again be uprooted from that place ... never again.

The Lampstand

Mary Clark

November 2005
barnabessie@earthlink.net

John 8:12
Once more Jesus addressed the crowd. He said, I am the Light of the world. He who follows Me will not be walking in the dark, but will have Light which is Life.

I want you to know, beloved, that the Light of the world has never flickered for a moment. My light has shone brightly since eons past and it will continue. I want you to regard this wonderful Light – this Light that you cannot fully comprehend – as a most prized wonder sent to your heart.

In the days to come, this light will take on a new sheen in the lives of My dear child. Yes, I am filling you with that wonderful oil of My Spirit in such a way that you will shine forth My glory in a most pronounced fashion. Look forward to this, beloved, and know that this is more equipping that is coming by My hand to your heart. It is certainly beneficial, and it will bring you much pleasure deep within your heart – this oil of equipping that will enable you to shine forth the glory of your God.

I am the Light of the world. I am the true Light. All light as you know it has an artificial sheen to it, but I am the real thing. I am the true Light. I am the Light from above that shines forth My goodness into any heart that welcomes Me. Welcome My light with open arms, beloved. Welcome all that it brings to you. It will shine in many directions, offering you the opportunity to grow stronger in Me. It will shine on things that you regard as well-kept secrets, and it will shine on things that you regard as holy unto Me. No matter which way it shines, beloved, it is pointing out the mysteries of My love for you. It is offering you the opportunity to grow stronger, relinquishing all that is a hindrance, and it will shine on those things that I wish to purify for My service. I am a God Who leaves no stone unturned when I am at work in a heart.

Look forward to the brightness of My light taking on a new glow within your heart. Look forward to a warmth in your heart that you have never experienced. Get quiet before Me, asking Me to refill you daily with My wonderful oil. This will enable that flame to take on new life within your heart.

I am so eager for My light to reveal the real Me to the world. I am so eager for My dear ones to step into My fancy, and know the wonder of My heart – the wonder of serving Me from a totally new vantage point.

I am at work, beloved. Never doubt it. Never doubt your Master's plan. It is certainly unfolding, taking on new life within every heart that will let it. Be filled! Be filled today. Be filled tomorrow with that wonder-working oil of My Spirit. Know My divine will for you. Walk in it with swift, easy steps. For I have a plan for YOU. It is a good plan – a wondrous plan. My light plays a major role. It will certainly shine forth as the noonday sun, and when it does, the world will see the bright light of My glory emanating from you, My beloved.

You will glow with the wonder of My love. My light will shine forth, offering new hope to those who will draw near, and you, beloved, will know a new wonder about your God deep within. You will know about a wonder that you will extol to the highest heaven. And I will be glad – so glad – that finally this wonderful light – this wonderful revelation – has shone forth from the hearts of My children, enabling them to walk in a new season – a bright new season of everlasting hope!!!

The High Priest and The Sacrifice

Mary Clark

barnabessie@earthlink.net November 8, 2005

Hebrews 7:27 He has no day by day necessity, as (do each of the other) high priest to offer sacrifice first of all for his own personal sins and then for those of the people; because He (met all the requirements) once for all when He brought Himself (as a sacrifice) which He offered up.

I want to explain something to you, beloved. I want you to know that I did all, I am all – I am the all-sufficient One. I am your All in All. I want to set the record straight. Many think that My work is not a complete work. Many think that I am not working in this day, bringing forth the desires of My heart for My children. Many think that the living God has not and will not show Himself mighty on behalf of His chosen. I am here to tell you today, beloved, that I did all for My beloved. My work is intensifying in the lives of those who will let Me work in them – those who have given Me access to their hearts. Yes, My wonderful work does go on, but I accomplished once and for all the ultimate of sacrifices when I died on that tree. I accomplished an exemplary work for My dear, chosen beloved, and that work is alive today – it is working today to bring forth My most masterful plan.

I want you to know that a season of wonder is coming for those who believe – a season too wonderful for words – too high for your imaginations. And when this season takes shape in your lives, beloved, you will think that it is forever spring – forever the season of aliveness and wonder, as it permeates your heart, offering you new hope – new-found hope in the ability of your God.

I know, I know that I do a lot of talking. But, beloved, I have a lot to say – a lot to tell you. I am not manufacturing these words, they are already alive – they are already truth. So rest in the knowledge that your God has seen fit to offer the ultimate sacrifice for His beloved. He gave His life that you might walk in this unprecedented hour. He gave His life as the ultimate sacrifice that you might know the wonder of belonging to Him. He gave His life that you might walk in newness of life on earth.

Get ready for a major undertaking to come your way, and when it does, know this: This major undertaking that I have prepared and qualified you to walk in is all a part of the package. It is all a part of what I purchased for you as I hung on that tree. And with it is coming more than your heart can imagine. With it is coming the hour of success for which My beloved church has longed. That is a part of this wonderful package – this ultimate sacrifice – also, beloved.

Yes, and remember: There is more where this major undertaking is coming from than you ever thought could be in the offing. Yes, the words that your Beloved is speaking – these words that are alive with truth and spoken with much emotion – is to tell you – to let you know NOW – of the wonder that is soon to be presented by the One Who gave Himself as the ultimate sacrifice that you might walk in this fine hour, totally devoted to Me, and totally mesmerized by the gift that I am presenting to you, My beloved, at this most appropriate hour – this hour that I foreordained, and that I am happy – so happy – to see coming to pass!!!

The Lord At Your Side

Yolanda Ballard

Dec 2, 2005
(roarnworship@netzero.net)

THE LORD AT YOUR SIDE

Fear thou not for I AM with thee. Be not dismayed for I AM thy God. I will strengthen thee. Yes, I will help thee. I will uphold thee with the right hand of My righteousness.

Do not measure your faith by how well things are going for you, for I AM strengthening you by what I allow you to go through. Yes, it shows that you have great faith by the intensity or the severity of your trials at this point. For many are going through the fire and say that I am turning up the flames even more, but it shows how much that I can trust you by how much I allow you to go through.

So draw near, My holy ones, and fret not, for I do love you and want you to be ready for what is ahead. Yes, My children, I want you to be prepared to the max, for the battle rages, and the enemy is coming on stronger, yet I AM right by your side giving you all that you need to succeed in the fight. Yes, I have given you My name and My authority enabling you to pull down every stronghold set up by the enemy of your soul. I have given you My very own weapons of warfare and My armor to wear in the fight. I have given you the power of My Blood able to extinguish every weapon the enemy hurls at you. But most of all I have given you My love enabling you to repel all the powers of the evil one.

Yes, My love is My greatest force, and don't allow the enemy to rob you of it this day. Do not allow offense, bitterness, or unforgivingness to defile you for this is where you will greatly fall short, for great faith works by the love you allow to flow forth. So I admonish you this day to do an inner heart check. Make sure you do not have anger suppressed towards anyone that I gave My life for. Make sure you have not developed bitterness in your heart for those things I've allowed you to go through, for all things work together for your good if your heart is right towards Me.

So measure the intensity or the severity of your trials at this point, and you will see the level of trust I have in you. Do not fret that you don't have what it takes to make it through to the end. Keep your eyes upon Me and My promises, and most of all, keep your heart pure, not tainted with any form of offense towards Me or My children. Walk uprightly and give your life a sacrifice holy and acceptable unto Me. I love you and admonish you so that you will not fall short in any way. For this is the day of salvation. This is the day to count the cost and not retreat in any way. Rise up and take the land. Be aggressive in the fight and not try only to cover your own back. Fight for your brother, for I said that if you pray for others, then I will heal your own. For My ways are higher than those of man, and love is the only way that you can overcome your foe.

Be assured that I AM with you and that I keep My word. No matter what you see or feel I AM faithful. Keep your sword and shield at hand. Keep My word fresh in your heart, and do not dwell on your circumstances. Be ready for My great outpouring. Do not lose vision. Refresh yourself in My presence, and rest in My secret place often, and rise up, My mighty army. Rise up!

The Lord Breathes On Them

Karen Francis

Sep 30, 2005
Vision..."The Lord Breaths On Them"

Original date received: February 14, 1999

While in a time of worship before the Lord, I saw a vision of a church full of people, all of which were standing. I then saw to the East of them, the face of the Lord. It was very clear to see, because the size of His face was very large. I watched as the Lord blew on the people, which caused a very powerful windstorm (East wind).

This wind stirred up all the hidden dirt and garbage that was in their midst. The dirt and garbage was being blown out of the church, along with many people that were doing all they could to keep from being blown away, but the Wind was too powerful for them. There was debris flying everywhere and some of it was trying to attach itself or cling to many of those standing, but some managed to throw it off of themselves by force.

When the storm ceased, I noticed that only a small amount of people remained standing. The church was now cleansed and those that remained standing were the remaining remnant after the storm.

Prov. 10:27 says, "When the whirlwind passes by, the wicked is no more, But the righteous has an everlasting foundation."

Then a very soft wind began to blow over those that remained standing. I looked to see where this wind was coming from and seen that it came from a pair of huge wings behind the Lord who was now to the West (Westwind) of them. The large wings were flapping slowly and causing this soft gentle wind to blow upon them, which was bringing healing to each one.

Mal. 4:2 "But to you who fear My name The Sun of Righteousness shall arise with healing in His wings; And you shall go out And grow fat like stall-fed calves"

I continued to watch as this soft wind blew upon them and then noticed that the people now had wings. The wind from the Wings of the Lord continued to gently blow upon those standing and as it did, their wings began to expand. Some of the wings of the people were damaged and some were wet (weighed them down), which made them unable to fly. As this wind continually blew over each one, their damaged wings were being healed and those that were wet, dried.

This Wind then began to flow through them, coming out of their mouths, nose, ears, etc. They were just standing there being totally healed, refreshed and strengthened as the Wind blew over them and throughout their body. The Wings of the Lord stopped and the wind ceased.

Again, I seen the Lord breath upon them. As His breath blew over them, the people spread their wings and the Wind lifted them up. The Wind was carrying each one of them to different directions all over the World. There was only a small number of people going, which reminded me of Gideon's army of 300. I knew as they soared off with the Wind, that the Lord alone would receive all the Glory, because it was ALL by His power and leading alone.

East wind: Dry, desolate, judgment West wind: Restoration

All For His Glory,
Karen Francis

* Not seeking a reputation among men, but to be known in the spirit realm *

Transformational Living
Priscilla Van Sutphin

Feb 11th, 2005
The Lord said, “transformational living”.
Phil 3:10-12 AMP [For my determined purpose is] that I may know Him

[that I may progressively become more deeply and intimately acquainted with Him, perceiving and recognizing and understanding the wonders of His Person more strongly and more clearly], and that I may in that same way come to know the power outflowing from His resurrection [which it exerts over believers], and that I may so share His sufferings as to be continually transformed [in spirit into His likeness even] to His death, [in the hope]

11 That if possible I may attain to the [spiritual and moral] resurrection [that lifts me] out from among the dead [even while in the body]. 12 Not that I have now attained [this ideal], or have already been made perfect, but I press on to lay hold of (grasp) and make my own, that for which Christ Jesus (the Messiah) has laid hold of me and made me His own.

“ My River of Life is flowing down with My fiery love. This River is not like any other River. It looses a torrent of adversity and tests, yet helps remove all the FLESH LIFE in My beloveds. I am building up My army ! But an army is not built through easiness of living. An army must practice PRAISE in the midst of torments and trials in order to overcome ! This is so you don’t react like others, nor with complaining like those in the wilderness, but that you RUN TO ME, the Author and Giver of Life. And you lay your life down at the cross. The CROSS releases LIFE giving Resurrection power!

Rom 5:3-6 AMP

3 Moreover [let us also be full of joy now!] let us exult and triumph in our troubles and rejoice in our sufferings, knowing that pressure and affliction and hardship produce patient and unswerving endurance. 4 And endurance (fortitude) develops maturity of character (approved faith and tried integrity). And character [of this sort] produces [the habit of] joyful and confident hope of eternal salvation. 5 Such hope never disappoints or deludes or shames us, for God's love has been poured out in our hearts through the Holy Spirit Who has been given to us. 6 While we were yet in weakness [powerless to help ourselves], at the fitting time Christ died for (in behalf of) the ungodly.

If the troubles were those you could overcome on your own, they would not build FAITH. You would move out in presumptive self sufficiency and solve them yourselves. But when they are beyond your solving, then you MUST rely on ME - Depend on ME. This dependence is important in an army. They must look to the leader for directions. You CANNOT be independent of ME in your thinking when you are in MY army ! You must obey and follow orders.

How can you follow orders if you stop up your ears and are too busy or have your own plan ?

Faith that pleases me is enduring faith. Faith that WALKS through. Faith that holds on if even by your fingernails you do it ! Do not berate yourself for anything. This is how the enemy gets you misdirected to look at your own failings. Thank ME for your failings and give ME PRAISE even when you fail. That is especially the time that you need to come and let me heal your heart. The enemy would have you beat yourself up and criticize yourself.

But MY GRACE is sufficient for you in ALL things. Even your weaknesses !

Even your failures ! Even your inconsistencies in faithfulness ! My GRACE covers it all, just as MY BLOOD covers ALL of you.

NOTHING can separate you from My love. If your heart fails you in wrong motivations. Thank Me that I am helping you to overcome these weaknesses.

Do not focus on your failure and dwell there. That is what the enemy WANTS you to do. For then you get your eyes OFF ME. I AM your RESOURCE for all you need. I give you the overcoming power to resist the enemy, and to overcome all odds. I will walk you through anything and My goal is ALWAYS for your best interest. Like a good FATHER, I love to give gifts to My children and with overcoming each hurdle, more GRACE and glory is poured into you. So do not fall to self condemnation for to do that is to fall into the hands of a RELIGIOUS spirit ! It separates you from trusting in GRACE alone.

My yoke is easy and My burden is LIGHT ! I am YOUR KING and MASTER.

Look to Me, and WAIT on Me for all your directions. Each day has it’s own problems. So step by step I am leading you. I am overcoming in MANY the predisposition to stray from GRACE. It is not by your trying to do better that you overcome. It is ONLY MY GRACE that maintains your walk, and maintains your joy, and peace , and only by MY PRESENCE that you receive all you need to get through. Do not fall into guilt or condemnation. As you yield to self condemnation, then the temptation comes to condemn others as well. I would have you to be quick to listen and slow to speak. Ask for a guard to your mouth. Stop and ask ME, before you speak about anyone else.

Remove the plank from your own eye before talking about what is in someone else’s eye. Avoid criticizing anyone else OR yourself ! CUT OFF THE ACCUSER ! Ask for MY GRACE to fill you at that very moment that the temptation comes ! Bring every thought captive. Give the grace to others that you want for yourself.”

Abba

John 13:34-35 NKJV   A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another; as I have loved you, that you also love one another. 35 By this all will know that you are My disciples, if you have love for one another."

The Long Journey Will Come To An End

Stephen Hanson

Dec. 17, 2005

This is why it says: "When he ascended on high, he led captives in his train and gave gifts to men." Eph. 4:8

"I tell you, my people, many of them, have walked long in the wilderness. I tell you that their long journeys are coming to an end. Their series of one trial after another will be lessening. I say these things because judgment has first begun with the household of God. After all of these trials are done then judgment will begin to fall more severely upon the earth. "

(The Lord showed me a scene with a Santa Claus figure driving a sleigh. He was encircling the sky and was whipping his reindeer speedily.)

"This season has been falsely labeled the season of giving gifts. I have come to give gifts to men. Seek Me with all your hearts, for the gifts that I give unto men are for the building-up of the body of Christ. I also tell you that those things that I've given unto you will be multiplied over ten times ten. For the journey's end you will need all the things that I've given unto you. You will be satisfied by the brook of my Spirit, and you will be sustained. "

Stephen Hanson
tseyigai@yahoo.com http://www.angelfire.com/in/HisTruth

The Land Must Be Purged

Stephen Hanson

Feb. 5, 2005

JOEL 1:6 A nation has invaded my land, powerful and without number; it has the teeth of a lion, the fangs of a lioness.

ISA 25:4 You have been a refuge for the poor, a refuge for the needy in his distress, a shelter from the storm and a shade from the heat. For the breath of the ruthless is like a storm driving against a wall.

“I tell you that the winds continue to blow upon the land. I tell you that there are difficult days ahead for those who live in the United States. I tell you that this nation will face many things in the days ahead. There is a strategy at work that would bring desolation to the people. I tell you that my people will not be left desolate, but they need to know that difficult days are ahead. I tell you that China and Russia will join forces. For they have no intentions of following out the plans for world peace. When will peace come? Is true peace to be found in a government system? I tell you…..there is no peace to be found apart from Me. Peace will come after the land has been laid desolate. These are difficult things to understand, but how else can the land be purged? “

Stephen Hanson

HCR 79 3081

Cuba, NM 87013

If anyone has any of the ebooks that I have done, (ebook 10-14) I would like to receive a copy in the email. I have not been able to access them due to losing them.

Thank you…..

tseyigai@yahoo.com

http://www.angelfire.com/in/HisTruth

Words-From-the-Father mailing list
Words-From-the-Father@theprophets.org http://theprophets.org/mailman/listinfo/words-from-the-father
Donated by NewLifeWebs <http://www.newlifewebs.com>

The Leprosy Of Greed

Danny Korakas

Jan 1, 2005

"Gehazi, the servant of Elisha the man of God, said to himself, 'My master was too easy on Naaman, this Aramean, by not accepting from him what he brought. As surely as the Lord lives, I will run after him and get something from him. 'Naaman's leprosy will cling to you and to your descendants forever. Then Gehazi went from Elisha's presence and he was leprous, as white as snow. (2Kings 5:20, 27)

We wrote an article entitled "A Cinderella Story" earlier in the year that received a lot of heart-warming feedback. We tend to be drawn toward stories and events that have happy and joyful endings. (I know that I do. Behind closed doors, I am a "easy crier" for movies with adversity that end happily ever after.) The brief glimpse we have of Gehazi's life is not so much talked about or publicized in that it had such a tragic and sad ending. The story of Gehazi is about a man that began with so much potential and promise. He had the honor of walking beside a wonderful and godly spiritual father, along with experiencing the ministry example and integrity of Elisha.. However, Gehazi was a man who left a natural and spiritual leprosy as a legacy to his family and friends. The leprosy that had once plagued Naaman would now scar and ruin the life and ministry of Gehazi that once seemed so promising.

Gehazi began his ministry as a servant or assistant to the prophet Elisha. The Bible seems to indicate that things started out well. It even seemed as we begin reading in 2 Kings 4 that Gehazi was a model servant and minister. Elisha included Gehazi in much of his ministry and it looked as if the mantle might one day pass to this seemingly obedient partner in ministry. But by the time we get to chapter 5, something goes terribly wrong and Gehazi is "externally" marked with something that had lain "internally" hidden in his heart. What had manifested externally was the "LEPROSY OF GREED" and the love of money by an individual who was called to serve in prophetic ministry.

As one who ministered prophetically, Elisha refused to take a reward of money for the ministering of God's Word and healing power. Gehazi, on the other hand, could not resist the easy opportunity and temptation of playing on Naaman's emotions and wealth. In verse 20 we read that Gehazi said to himself, "As the Lord lives, I will run after Naaman and take something from him." Like Gehazi, we are seeing "ministers" wrongly chasing after people through the medium of television and radio for money in the "Name of the Lord." Likewise, they are void of so much as a guilty conscience as they plan their sermons (marketing schemes) to prey on the emotions and wallets of the saints who are in need themselves of finances and the touch and healing power of God.

I can imagine that Gehazi had witnessed the entire event unfold before him, and knew that Naaman had come prepared to pay a handsome price for his healing. Gehazi could not stomach the fact that Naaman was heading back to his native Syria (a pagan land) loaded with silver and gold. So what, if the ministry of Gehazi preached a little "twist" to the truth and exaggerated the real needs and purpose of the ministry to "twist" Naaman's arm.

What it boiled down to was Gehazi's lust for a little more of the world's riches and what it had to offer. I can imagine that Gehazi convinced himself that it was "God's MONEY" and God needed the money to support "His" work and ministry through the "man of God." Many justify and rationalize this argument today. Jesus clearly teaches us in Matthew 25:31- 46 that our "PERSONAL" giving to those who are hungry, thirsty, unclothed, sick and in chains is the barometer of our faith and love for Him. Not only are the believers giving their hard earned money to the "money changers" in the temple, many are likewise in their spiritual laziness giving their money for someone else to be an extension of Christ's love and compassion. Maybe this is the underlying reason why the church has desired to "pay" someone else full-time — to feed the hungry, give a drink to the thirsty, clothe the naked, visit the sick and those in prison, so they don't have to.

I do not know all of the reasons why many ministerial leaders have had to continually manipulate and beg for more and more money from the saints. However, I do know that its abuse is being exposed by the Lord and it will reap the same awesome severity if the church continues to turn a blind eye and hide this leprous blemish as we approach our wedding date. On Sky Angel, I witness ministries and station owners promoting 3 and 4 "give-a-thons" a year with the same motivational speakers to make you feel guilty for not giving. Many even go so far as to blame your financial situation on your lack of "seed sowing" — as if we could "buy" God's favor and blessing in the first place. This is a blatant misrepresentation of God's Word of a PROMISED provision for those who serve Him and call upon His name. For crying out loud, even Jerry Lewis only does one telethon per year! It seems that these ministries preach a message that they fail to believe themselves. If the tithe, offering, and sowing of money is the key to bring you financial wealth and prosperity, then why do THEY have to come back week after week, month after month, and ask YOU for more? The church needs to honestly consider and answer this question.

Beloved, the popular and often preached "robbing God of tithes and offerings" verse in the book of Malachi is not about money as much as it is our heart for the kingdom and presence of God. (Example — The rich young ruler) The Hebraic word for "offerings" should be rendered "heave offering" which is an offering of grain and an expression of obedience and worship to God. The word "tithe" in Hebrew is "maasrah" meaning, "a tenth." Malachi 3:8-10 continues: "Bring the whole tithe into the storehouse, so that there may be food (The Hebrew word for "food" should be translated "prey.") in My house. "Ministers" have completely taken this verse out of context and have twisted it for the purposes of making money. Some may say, Danny, that's your interpretation of these verses. My response is, "keep reading the passage." It has everything to do with supplying the food needs of others and nothing to do with money. In other words, "show me the money!" I am all for supporting ministries and most importantly the needs of others that the Lord has brought across the path of my life. It is the twisting of scripture for the purposes of manipulating people to give that has caused us to err. Quite frankly, it is witchcraft.

"Look at the birds of the air, that they do not sow, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not worth much more than they? And which one of you by being anxious can add a single cubit to his life's span? And why are you anxious about clothing? Observe how the lilies of the field grow; they do not toil nor do they spin, yet I say to you that even Solomon in all his glory did not clothe himself like one of these. But if God so arrays the grass of the field, which is alive today and tomorrow is thrown into the furnace, will He not much more do so for you, O men of little faith? For all these things the Gentiles eagerly seek; for your heavenly Father knows that you need all these things. But seek first the kingdom and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added to you." (Matthew 6:26-34 condensed)

So why would God give leprosy to a man and his descendants for this action? Why did God consider this sin to be so grievous and serious that He imposed a life of leprosy upon Gehazi?

God took Gehazi's action very seriously because the testimony and Word of the Lord was manipulated and directly affected other people. Gehazi's manipulation for money DEFILED the Lord's precious and free gift of grace. The "works of man" will always defile the "work of the Lord." Not only that, but Gehazi defiled the trust of Elisha, the Lord's servant. Gehazi did what many are doing behind pulpits and upon platforms today — The distorting and twisting of God's Word for monetary gain and the building of personal ministries and kingdoms. We need to understand what had transpired here. Gehazi's action not only disgraced the testimony of the Lord in Israel, it would also discredit the testimony of God's grace in a foreign land that desperately needed the truth of God's unconditional love, healing and provision. (Naaman was from Syria and held a tremendous amount of influence there.) As "Christians," our actions and words paint a picture of Christ for the world to behold. I am embarrassed by most of what I see the gift of "Christian" media portraying to the world. Gehazi's SIN of manipulation and misrepresentation of God's Word was very serious and it bore tremendous consequences in his life.

First, Gehazi defiled the Lord's work in lying about his ministry and his TRUE needs. He told Naaman that two other prophets had come to Elisha unexpectedly from the back country and were poor — in need of money, food and clothing. Nothing could have been further from the truth. It was all made up, but yet sounded believable because it had to do with the "REAL" Lord's work. It seems that the church is an easy bunch to fall for a good heart-breaking story. It is a sin for today's ministers to live in million dollar homes and own private jets at the expense of the saints and then continue to plead for your money. If ministries can justify buying 20-30 million dollar corporate jets for the purpose of frequent travel and ministry, it would seem to me that a failure to equip the saints for the work of ministry and the presenting of believers mature in Christ is seriously lacking in leadership today. It would seem that building the ministries and the kingdom of God in others has been neglected in place of personal kingdom building. If you have $20.00 in the bank today, you have more than 75% of the people in the world. What an insult and slap in the face the American church must be to the rest of the world. What have we evolved into from the first century disciples that walked with our Lord Jesus Christ?

I am involved in the international marketplace and I am bi-vocational. (I support my own ministry to serve Christ.) I can honestly say from first hand experience that the world laughs at the deplorable nakedness of greed and the lack of faith that constitutes much of today's western church. They mock our pleading and begging for money and have greater discernment in recognizing man-made kingdom building than many in the church itself. I am appalled that on internetministry sites, people are constantly sending out newsletters "begging" for money or trying to sell me something as I attempt to navigate to the actual message. Even more appalling is that the majority of it is within "prophetic ministry groups." This is not our calling and is an embarrassment to our prophetic heritage.

I understand the reality that it takes money to get things done in the real world. I am not oblivious to that. However, as a PROPHETIC movement, we are slowly heading down the road of "INSTITUTIONALISM" that has corrupted the church and our Hebraic heritage. The prophet and prophetess of God should be self-supporting and reliant upon the Lord and not those to whom they have been called to bring His Word. (If you're honest, there is a certain line that many will not cross when the congregation or listeners are paying their light bill. How could you possibly be a true and complete prophetic voice in this bondage?) Any other area in life would consider this to be a blatant conflict of interest.

Paul, as a model of godly prophetic ministry, could say with a clear conscience that he ministered the Word of God without burden to anybody. (See 2 Corinthians 11 & 12) It needs to be this way, but can we say this is the case in today's church structure and prophetic ministry? Well, of course not. The church, along with much of the prophetic movement, has become an institution rather than a living and reproducing organism. Institutions need buildings and mammon to survive. Living organisms need intimate relationships and a HOST to survive.

For the sake of balance and practicality, we need to understand that Paul DID have needs and the Bible states that the brethren came from Macedonia to meet his needs in Corinth. As believers, we need to cheerfully give to those who are ministering the gospel to the unsaved. As I stated earlier, we need to give financially to support harmony within the local fellowships in which we participate. This is Biblical and meeting the real needs of each another. However, the money given by the deacon board or the visits by the pastor to others are not going to answer for YOU as you stand before Christ and give account of your life. I believe people are begging for our money because they know we are too spiritually lazy to do anything with it anyway. It's much too convenient to go to the temple courtyard and buy a sacrificial lamb, than to raise one ourselves.

In 1 Timothy 6, we read that "people who want to get rich fall into temptation and a trap and into many foolish and harmful desires that plunge them into ruin and destruction. For the love of money is the root of all kinds of evil. Some people, eager for money, have wandered from the faith and pierced themselves with many griefs." The love of money, especially in prophetic ministry, defiles the Lord's work and leads to spiritual leprosy. If we are honest with ourselves, the two greatest downfalls within Christian ministry reflect or mirror the spirit of the world — the love of money and sexual sins. These two sins have tarnished our heritage as the church and the model of respect that the lost are searching for.

Gehazi also dishonored the Lord's true servant. He lied about Elisha. In lying to Naaman about the "prophets in need," Gehazi literally put words into the prophet's mouth. Likewise, those who are twisting God's Word and the gift of ministry are putting words in God's mouth. Putting words into the mouth of Elisha certainly made the story more credible and believable, but the story defiled and slandered the true servant of the Lord. This is a serious sin in the eyes of God. The reason of which is because the world and unsaved have a tendency to lump the hypocrisy andabuse of a minority into the sum total of all.

Gehazi's sin is also serious because it defiles the Gospel of the "good news." God's good news is that salvation and healing are a FREE gift to all who believe in Jesus Christ's atoning work on the cross. By taking money through deception, Gehazi distorted the good news that God's forgiveness and healing are free.

I am certain that upon Naaman's arrival in Syria, the good news of Naaman's healing became very apparent. The underlying tragedy is that the people would soon find out that the life-saving healing and ministry of the PROPHET came with a cost of only 300 pounds of silver. What a deal!

Permission granted to reprint WaterMark Ministry articles in their entirety.

www.watermarkministry.org
www.watermarkministry.injesus.com

Three Levels Of Grace
Susan Cummings

The Lord began to speak to me last week about the date 5-05-05.

He had previously given me a small quiz one day as I was traveling. He asked me what is greater than grace? I thought, well, the Blood.
He said great grace. He then asked me, what is greater than great grace? I said, I don't know. He said, amazing grace.

He then began to speak to me about the Three levels of Grace.

5- Grace
5- Great Grace
5- Amazing Grace

He then said to me, that we would begin to walk in the third level of Grace, because the changes to come, would warrant the necessity of it. We would not only know His grace but would have to stand within it, and it would be His Amazing Grace that would bring us forth. That 5-05-05 was the changing mark in time, that would signal the greater things that would break forth in the earth, and we, His People, would begin to walk in a greater level of authority, but also of opposition. But His Amazing Grace, would go before us, if we would embrace God in all things.

Few will embrace the Amazing Grace, as it is the most costly and the most glorious at the same time.

The Song named, Amazing Grace tells us a lot about the days ahead.

The highest level of Grace is utilized during the highest level of need. That is why the lord has been speaking to us, and preparing us to stand IN Him, and to be conformed to His Image. It is time to enter in, and begin to walk in His Grace daily, and know His Miraculous Hand upon you.

-Susan Cummings
5-8-05
9:50 pm

http://groups.msn.com/CummingsFamilyAdventures
http://topica.com/lists/JustHisWords

The Urn In The Wilderness- Part 2
Susan Cummings

Friday, while in the office praying, the Lord brought me into a profound prophetic experience that I will share below.

I was walking back and forth in the office and the Lord began to open up the experience and I began to see that I was walking on a platform or a vast area that was spread out before me. It was in the heavens, suspended somehow. Upon this platform or expanse, were rows and rows of fiery chariots. They all were different, and some were different colors, and sizes, and each was lined up behind the other. But they all were of fire.

In another line next to the chariots, were people lined up as well. They were lined up as far as you could see. There were men, women, and children in the line. The chariot would move towards the edge of the platform, and the person would also, and then would enter the fiery chariot and it would take off out of the expanse in the heavens.

I am in the line amongst the people. Several are ahead of me, as I watch each one move forward and climb into their designated fiery chariot. It finally came to my turn. I stepped forwards, and looked, and my fiery chariot was a large, coach of sorts. The coach had an angelic driver on top of it, that held the reins of the fiery horses that drove it. He had on a black coat and hat, and was very awesome. He had eyes of fire too. The door opened for me to get into the coach. So I did.

Inside the coach is pure white lights that emanate from the entire interior. It looked like the entire interior is one big diamond from within. It glittered all over. It was very bright inside. A man was sitting opposite from me inside, and he had fiery blue eyes. He had a leather strap that went across his chest and fell to the side of his outfit. He looked at me. Instantly, I am taken before the Throne.

Then, I am again in my prayer room at the office. I walk over and lie face down on the carpet, and await the Lord. I again, go into another prophetic experience:

I see myself lying face down on the floor. I see myself rising up higher and higher through the ceiling, into the heavens. I arrive at a place somewhere in heaven, and it is a vast wheat field. There were very tall grasses and the heads of the grains were full. The wheat was gently swaying in the breeze that was blowing. It was beautiful.

As I watched the wheat field, a fire began to erupt and spread across the field. The wind increased and fanned the fire all across the field. I was alarmed, and cried out. The whole field became ablaze with this wild fire. The fire eventually overtook the entire field and covered it.

I watched in dismay, and the Lord then spoke, and said, “It is necessary to release the heads of wheat and the jewels within.”

Then, I looked, and I see that the heads of wheat indeed are still standing under the fires that roared over the fields. They are not destroyed after all, but the wind had caused them to burst forth and the grain heads broke forth, and began to shine forth as jewels under the fire. They each seemed to wave and shine forth with God’s Glory.

The Lord then said to me, “The full birth cannot come to the whole body without My Fire and My Wind. Even though the fires will burn and the winds will blow, those planted by Me will stand, and will break forth fully, in this hour of travail.”

“Indeed, the fields are ripe unto harvest, but few discern my true fields, and what I am birthing. Few have prepared themselves for the fires and the winds. Those who prepared will burn with My Glory in the fields of the world and will show forth My Will.”

Then, as I looked, the winds blew harder and the fires roared and the jewels began to fly off of the heads of grain, as the wind lifted them up and it carried them upon the currents of air over the fields. Soon, some lowered down, and here and there, they began to form clusters as they did. Clusters of Jewels began to form all over, and soon they all joined together, as the wind drove them to their places.

Slowly the clusters formed over time, into the Urn in the Wilderness. It stood in the area, shining with each jewel in it's place. This time, the Urn lifted up, and was suddenly before the Throne.

I am standing before the Throne now, and the Urn is before the Throne. The Heavenly Hosts are standing around the Urn. They gazed at the workmanship of the Lord and stood in awe. The Lord then nodded, and took the Urn into His hands and stood.

He held it and it glowed with His Glory. Then he reached up, and threw it to the earth below. As he did this, It ignited and exploded into millions of fiery rain drops and it rained fire upon the earth. Then the thunder sounded and the lightning flashed.

-Susan Cummings
5-13-05
1:00 pm

Then, after contemplating this visionary experience, I was sitting in the office again, and the phone rang. Pastor George Marin, from Grace Christian Church, called me. He said the Lord told him to call me. He asked me, “What is the Lord saying?”

So, I proceeded to share with him the above experiences and he then gave me some scripture that the Lord had just given to him after 7 days of prayer were completed, before he called.

Psalms 20
2 Sam 10:7-12

The phone call ended at 1:10 pm

-Susan

The Lusts Of Islam
Danny Korakas

Islam The Lust For Money
Danny Korakas

Apr 24, 2005
As Muhammad set his sights on conquering Medina, the most vulnerable of the three Jewish communities was the Banu Qainuqa. Unlike the other two, it lacked land to call its own. Most of its people were artisans, laborers, or soldiers for hire. A complex situation arose in that the "governor" of Medina was in debt to the Jewish tribe and swore a defense alliance to them. It was during this defense pact that Muhammad abruptly demanded that the Jewish Qainuga recognize him as "The prophet of god." The Qainuga refused and warned Muhammad not rest or rely on his victory at Badr as a means for their surrender and submission. The Jewish tribe stated that "A war with the Qainuga would not be another Badr." Muhammad withdrew and the Qainuga praised themself on calling his bluff. (Notice that the Qainuga did not praise the God of Israel but relied and took pride in their strength). They would later reap the consequence of this act of arrogance amd self-sufficiency.

The Qainuga would soon be left to their own devises apart from God. They misjudged their "enemy" and failed to see the danger both (spiritually and naturally) that they were about to enter. Just a matter of days later, a young Jewish boy was accused of lifting the skirt of a Muslim woman. Of course, her Muslim relatives killed the young boy without a trail of witnesses. In the midst of the malady, the relative was killed and this gave Muhammad the excuse that he was waiting for. Muhammad invaded the Jewish Qainuga at the head of his army. The Qainuga withdrew to a nearby fortress and appealed to the governor (chieftain) for his pledged aid. Amazingly, the chieftain attacked Muhammad by his breastplate protection and threatened his life. "Let me go, wretch" shouted Muhammad. However, Muhammad knew that he was not yet powerful enough to challenge the old order of Medina. As a "compromise" Muhammad stated that the Qainuga should be deported, with their goods and weapons left as Muslim spoils of war.

This was nothing in comparison to a Muslim hundred man raiding party that was organized by a former "Christian" slave (Zayd) who would serve as Muhammad's secretary. The old Meccan caravan route to Syria had know become extremely dangerous. (We see the same dangerous travel issues today due to Muslim or Islamic initiatives and violence). Almost every war of violence, genocide and hatred over the face of the earth toady has Muslim or Islamic roots. An enormous expedition loaded with silver and other luxury's decided to take a back road toward modern Iraq to avoid Muslim raiders. The word had leaked and was intercepted by Muslim spies in Medina, and Zayd's raiding party easily overpowered the caravan and hired escorts. Zayd's men returned with 800 pieces of silver for each man and of course Muhammad demanded 20,000 pieces for his household. We will see this pattern as we continue in this Islamic series. What a sharp contrast to the giving, sacrifice, and love of Jesus Christ.

The message was becoming clear...Islam was not only easy on the flesh, it also paid very well to those who would adhere to its doctrine.

A delegation from Mecca (sensing Muslim desires of conquest for their lands)sought out Jewish help in an all attack on the Muslim rear guard if it were to approach. Muhammad's plan was simple for conquest of the Meccan lands -- Sow distrust between the Meccan's and the local Jewish clans. Another Jewish community, (Banu Qurayza) demanded that the Meccan's provide hostages as security and the Meccan's commitment to win the battle. If the battle was lost – the Meccans would simply return to the city. On the other hand, the Jews would lose everything. The Meccans balked at this and the resulting situation would fall into Muhammad's hand. Distrust was now prevalent and no Jewish attack would take place. Disease and discord broke out in the Meccan camp and the Arab Bedouin tribes began pulling out. Muhammad was now considered invincible to the Arab peoples of Mecca.

Muhammad stated that he sought the angel "Gabriel" on how to deal with the Banu Qurayza, Medina's last Jewish community. The answer from this so-called angel was clear. Muhammad dealt with the Jews with such barbaric butchery, that it would permanently sever any lasting Islamic-Jewish relations up to the present day.

Islam - The Lust For Power.
Danny Korakas

Apr 25, 2005

The besieged Jews faced three terrible choices: Embrace Islam, which would betray the God of Israel. They could essentially slaughter their families and fight to the death. Or break the Sabbath with a surprise attack...

We read in the last article that Muhammad said that he heard from an angel named "Gabriel" as to what to do concerning the Jewish – Banu Qurayza. The Qurayza barricaded themselves within their fortress a few miles from their settlement. As Muhammad's army approached the fortress, Jewish arrows came raining down upon them. Some Muslims were killed by large millstones that were thrown over the retaining walls. However, the situation seemed bleak and the Jews sensed their futile position. The three choices listed above would not be chosen. Instead, the Qurayza appealed to the Aus clan or tribe, whom they had previously saved from destruction. The Aus chief realized the dire situation and said to Jews, "To surrender was to perish under the Muslim code of conduct...they should fight to the death."

The Qurayza would reject this as well and surrender twenty-five days later, on condition that their fate would fall into the hands of the Aus. Muhammad agreed under one condition – that their request not be made by the local Aus chief, but by the grand chief of the entire Aus confederation. Ironically, this man was known to be a merciless and a hater of the Jews. Imagine that! The grand chief arrived at the Qurayza stronghold with the local allies pleading for the sparing of the Jewish people and their homes. All along the Muslim army was eyeing up the vast booty within the fortress and the Jewish women. As we stated in the first Islamic series (Those who are new subscribers can visit our archives which details the period leading up to this event) rape was allowed by Muhammad "the prophet of god" as a reward for victorious warfare. Muhammad himself had already set his eye on a beautiful Jewish "girl" named Reihana, aged seventeen.

Muhammad, desiring his warped sense of reward said, "Proceed with your judgement." "My judgement," stated the old chieftain, "is that the men shall be put to death, the women and children sold into slavery, and the spoil divided among the Muslim army. Wails of agony and pain resonated from the fortress. Muhammad gestured silence with his hand. This he stated, was "the judgement of god."

The God of Israel. The God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, says in His Word that He is "LOVE." The Lord could have chosen to refer to Himself through anything and everything in the universe that painted a picture of supreme power. But He stated to all of humanity in His splendor that the essence of His being is "LOVE." Only two covenants exist under the sun and shine upon mankind – The New Covenant through the shed blood of Jesus Christ (Yeshua) for the remission of sins and the covenant of marriage. Both of these commitments were instituted by God and are the foundation of abundant life. These two covenants reveal the intimate nature of a caring and loving God.

Neither of these covenants and commitments are embraced in their purity through Muslim doctrine. Quite the opposite is true. Muslims have rejected Christ and worship a dogmatic and revengeful god with no certainty of eternal life and intimate relationship with their Creator. As we will continue to see and read, the Muslim foundation laid by Muhammad, has degraded women to a standard reserved for common livestock. Islam would grow through hundreds of battles that promoted the lust for pillage, power, and the incessant rape of innocent women and children. These attributes were the mind of Muhammad and the roots of Islam.

Islam - The Lust For Blood
Danny Korakas

Apr 26, 2005

So all of the Jewish (Qurayza) were force marched into Medina and penned into an area like cattle. We clearly see this anti-christ - anti semitic manifestation all through history. From the captivity in Egypt to the camps and enclosed ghettos of Nazi Germany – The strategy and result has been the same toward God's chosen people. The Qurayza men prayed throughout the night, encouraging one another to remain steadfast in faith. (I personally believe that this posture represents many of us today. We "call upon" the Lord in our time of tragedy and need, but fail to "call upon" Him in simply desiring His presence and company.)

The men reasoned that Muhammad could not possibly behead some 800 men. But as the night passed and daylight approached, a Muslim soldier led away half a dozen of them, then returned for another half dozen, then another, and another... Even as the remaining men saw their numbers dwindle, they could not believe that all of their kinsmen had been killed. However, this was very much the case. Each group was made to kneel by a deep trench (Again, we have witnessed this within our living generations and is eerily familiar) dug the night before across the town square. As their heads were severed, their bodies were pushed into the pit.

The order of business would continue for the Muslims as they placed their attention on the booty and the women. Over 1500 swords, 1000 lances, 300 coats of armor, 500 shields, flocks of livestock, gold and silver vessels, along with jewelry and 1000 women. The traditional one-fifth of all booty went to Muhammad. Included in his exorbitant share was the lovely Reihana. Muhammad proposed marriage to Reihana as soon as her husband, brothers and father had been executed for the Muslim cause. In a stand of faith and commitment to her God, Reihana refused to marry Muhammad, but was forced to be in his concubine. I believe the Lord took Reihana as she died just four years later.

Only one woman would be put to death. She admitted to having been one who had crushed a Muslim attacker with a millstone thrown over the wall of the fortress. She met her death fearless and with a smile, a smile that would haunt A'isha (Muhammad's primary wife that he consummated in marriage when she was just nine years old!) the rest of her life. (This statement was recorded by the confession of A'isha herself later in her life).

The mass murder of the Banu Qurayza would destroy any possible relationships between the Judaism and Islam. Muhammad's lust for blood and domination stands in stark contrast to the ministries of God's "prophets", both yesteryear and today. It also stands in stark contrast and opposition to the ministry, Words, and actions of Yeshua – Jesus Christ. To recognize Muhammad by his fruit, is to recognize a "false prophet" who indulged in incessant rape of women and cold-blooded murder. The Bible says "that a man is known by his fruit." In studying the life of Muhammad and the foundations of Islam, I have failed to find one trace of good fruit. I fail to see true and sacrificing love, eternal joy, lasting peace, loving kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control. Most "prophets" today do not want to confront such an issue as Islam. However, the true prophet will confront this anti-christ spirit. Why? Because it is leading, literally, millions of people through the gates of hell and numerous hundreds in just the short time that you have read this article.

Muslims have excused and justified Muhammad's actions and massacres as being in perfect accord with the Bible and Jewish conduct. They have quoted Deut. 20:12-14: "When the Lord thy God hath delivered it into thy hands, thou shalt smite every male therein with the edge of the sword: but the women and little ones, and the cattle, and all that is in the city, even all the spoil thereof, thou shalt take unto thyself." The difference is clear and must be understood. This was pronounced only after an offer of peace and God's Word was rejected. No such offer was made to the Banu Qurayza.

W. Muir states (The Life of Muhammad from Original Sources) "The indiscriminate slaughter of eight hundred men, and the subjugation of the whole tribe to slavery, cannot be recognized otherwise than as an act of monstrous cruelty."

If God were to send another prophet, would he send a man like Muhammad?

"Either make the tree good and its fruit good, or else make the tree bad and its fruit bad; for a tree is known by its fruit." (Matthew 12:33)

Islam - The Lust For Land
Danny Korakas

Apr 27, 2005
The fate of the Jews in the Arabian peninsula was settled in the summer of 628. Muhammad had succeeded in bringing Mecca into a long term truce and turned his attention toward the town of Khaybar – a Jewish settlement about 100 miles north of Medina. Khaybar was a place of refuge for many Jews who had escaped previous Muslim acts of brutality and conquest. Muhammad reasoned that Khaybars elimination (extermination) would solve the Jewish problem (Their refusal to submit Muhammad and Islam). Similar to Medina, Khaybar was rich in agriculture and prosperous. However, another similarity to Medina existed – The Jewish tribes or clans were divided, occupying separate fortresses or strongholds upon steep cliffs. Interestingly, these tribes would rely on allies such as the Christian Ghassen to the north.

Muhammad's campaign would start with an often used tactic as a prelude to conquest – a number of strategic assassinations. The siege would begin with only 1600 Muslim soldiers, but a string of events would soon bring victory to the Muslim raiders. All seven Jewish fortresses bolted their gates and prepared for the siege. Muhammad circled and took each one in turn. Sadly, not one tribe came out to help the other. (I believe that we can see and understand a parallel concerning ourselves as the church). History states that there were Jewish traitors (just as there is in the church today) who helped the Muslims because of their own lust for money and what the present world has to offer. One showed the Muslims a hidden cache of siege equipment, something the Arabs had scarcely seen before and would now have in their possession to reproduce for further destruction. (Likewise, we can see a parallel in our day as well). Another traitor revealed the source of an underground spring to one of the fortresses. The Muslims blocked it, forcing the defenders to surrender.

One fortress remained that seemed impregnable – The al-Kamus fortress and citadel of the Banu al-Nadir tribe. The Banu al-Nadir were previously expelled by the Muslims from Medina. Remembering the siege in Medina, the Jews stormed out into the field with their skilled archers. (The Banu al-Nadir were the most highly skilled archers on the Arabian peninsula). Bravely, they repelled the repeated Muslim attacks. But it would only be a matter of time before the Banu al-Nadir would be forced to capitulate. Once again, they were allowed to roam the desert under the condition that they surrendered everything in their possession including weapons, land, and wealth of any kind.

The wealth seemed slight or meager to the Muslims who remembered their wealth of colorful fabrics, jewels, and gold they had fled Medina with. The Jewish chief denied that there was more until Muhammad had him tortured in the form of an isolated fire kindled upon his chest. Needless to say, the rest was seized and the chief along with a cousin was decapitated. Within weeks, the strongholds of Khaybar fell to the Muslims. From this moment, the Jewish presence in the Arabian peninsula would cease to have any significance. Within two short decades, both Judaism and Christianity would be prohibited on the Arabian peninsula.

The wealth and booty taken from Khaybar would far exceed that taken from Medina. Muhammad associated this as a reward for faith in Allah. Needless to say, the opportunity of theft and plunder would play a central role in future conquests and Islamic fundamentalism. From this time, the Muslims prized the ownership of slaves and had many in their possession. Once again, Muhammad took for himself one-fifth of all the plunder. But it goes even father...Muhammad received over one half of all the Jewish lands. (The same anti-christ spirit has always attempted to destroy the Jews through the stealing of their land. The enemy understands that it is difficult for a people or nation to hold together both naturally and spiritually without their land.) The Native American has suffered the same fate as the Jews. The robbing of their lands has hindered their spiritual and natural well-being as a distinct people of anointed power, and identity. I will prophesy and declare that a tremendous spiritual reviving is coming to Native Americans. It will not be superficial and rest upon the surface. It will be a deep outpouring of the Lord's Spirit in drawing to the forefront a native prophetic voice of leadership. They know the Ancient of Days and the proper means of warfare, for they know the enemies of this land that most are ignorant and blind to. Lord, so let it be.

Muhammad would go on to divide the other lands to his army. As usual, Muhammad spotted an especially beautiful "girl." At his victory banquet, the seventeen year old Safiyah who had been widowed in the battle was presented. Muhammad would consummate the marriage that very night. It seems that the amount of wives that the Quran states that a man may have did not apply to the "prophet" who received and wrote it.

If this by chance reaches your hands and you are a Muslim, I plead with you to reason and stand for truth. Would God (The Creator of life and all that is true) send such a man? Would a true holy man live with such blatant hypocrisy and blood upon his hands? Would a prophet of God condone the incessant rape of women and children as reward for the brutality of war? Would he consummate a marriage through sexual intercourse with a nine year old girl? Would a true prophet sent from God torture his fellow man and God's creation?

While we were yet sinners, God sent His only begotten Son who died a horrible death on a cross and suffered for our sake. He took our place as a perfect sacrifice for our sins. Jesus was not forced to die for us. The Bible says that, "He willingly laid His life down for you." The realness of Jesus and the experience of His love and presence is as simple of just asking Him to come into your life. The love and forgiveness of Jesus Christ or the brutality and hypocrisy of Muhammad? The choice is ETERNALLY yours.

Islam - The Lust For The Flesh
Danny Korakas

Apr 28, 2005

Dear friends,

This will be our last article in the Islamic series. These five articles were in conjunction with five others that we posted several months ago. I thank you for your patience in receiving five e mails in five days. We normally send 2 articles per week. However, I sensed an urgency to send these out daily. Look, if touches one soul who is bound in Islam for Christ, in this I will greatly and "eternally" rejoice. Please believe with me. I stated in these articles that many within the prophetic umbrella will not address Islam. Personally, as a prophetic voice (One who speaks the heart of God) how could I not have a passion for souls? Is this not the heart of God? As a matter of fact, how can we all as believers not have passion for souls? Islam has been one of the greatest tools in the hands of Satan in building and over-populating the kingdom of hell. Its time to arise and get off our assinine and confront this spirit of eternal damnation with the truth and love of God. dk

It would be Muhammad Himself who would institute and confirm the Muslim rules of morality and conduct toward women – both freeborn and captured (enslaved). In 626 in a battle against native Bedouin tribes, Muhammad would reveal the true condition of his heart in the actions of his army toward the women who were captured. In a raid (razzias) against the Banu al-Mastalik, the booty was great and substantial. The Muslim raiders stole thousands of camels, sheep, goats, and 200 women.

One of Muhammad's men later recalled "that they were lusting after women, and chastity had become too hard for us." The question is how Muhammad would respond to this and similar desires of his followers? His men were desiring and proposing the raping of these 200 women to satisfy their fleshly desires and were looking to Muhammad for an answer. The "prophet" ruled that his men could force immediate intercourse upon the female captives. The next question of his followers was, "should they practice coitus interruptus to help prevent pregnancy?" Muhammad stated that the precaution was not necessary. During the battle with the Banu al-Mustalik, the Muslim historian Bukari states in volume 9, book 93, number 506, quoting from eye-witnesses that the men were wanting to have intercourse with the captive women without impregnating them. Therefore, they asked Muhammad for his direction. Muhammad said, "It is better that you should not do it, for Allah has written whom he is going to create till the day of resurrection." I hope that this will give you insight into the gross perversion and warped mind of the founder of Islam. It is disgusting and yet heart-breaking that so many have embraced the doctrine, teachings, and actions of a man whom the modern world would have relegated to a prison or institution.

I understand that abuses and the raping of women have tragically occurred in many instances throughout history by many nations and people groups. However, my purpose in revealing these truths is that the foundational doctrine of Christianity has deemed rape and forced prostitution as a capital offense of morality and human conduct. The act of rape is incomprehensible to a civilized society. Sadly, millions across the planet are adhering to a faith that acquired its growth through conquest, plunder (robbery) and the continual abuse (rape)of women.

Muhammad claimed that he received the revelations of the Koran through an angel named Gabriel. Through the instruction of Gabriel, Muhammad decreed that Muslim men could have as many as four wives. In the Koran, Sura 4:3 states, "marry such women as seem good to you, two and three and four; but if you fear that you will not do justice, then (marry) only one or what your hand right hands possess." Along with this, a Muslim man can divorce his wife by simply stating, "I divorce thee" with no rights given to the women. In this event, she has no claim to property or financial support...Only the amount of her families original dowry.

The Koran states that a Muslim man can marry a captured slave if he wished. However, if she bore him a child, he could not sell her and she would become free if he were to die. On the other hand, a female prisoner could be sold, abandoned, given to another and even killed at the whim of a man for no reason...All of this was found acceptable to the founder of Islam. Again, what is amazing, is that Muhammad had a dozen or so wives and broke or rebelled against what he supposedly received as the "word of god."

First hand accounts and historians have documented that Muslim warriors commonly raped on the very battlefield that a war would be raging within view of their husbands and fathers. Muhammad authorized this as a display of dominance. The Arab general Khalid once forced himself upon a young maiden as another battle wore to a close, ordering her father while he was on top of her, "Man, give me your daughter!"

My dear Muslim friends, God loves you and is calling you to a personal relationship. He desires to place His love, hope, and mind within you. All He asking, is for you to receive Him into your life. You must know in the depth of your heart that something is missing and incomplete. You know the truth concerning the foundation of your beliefs. Let today be the day that you truly experience the love and forgiveness of a creator who passionately loves you...So much, that He was willing to die for you. Let today be the day that you begin to truly LIVE and enjoy the abundant life through Christ our Lord and Savior. Amen.

All articles by WaterMark Ministry may be reprinted in their entirety.
www.watermarkministry.org
www.watermarkministry.injesus.com

The Lion Of Judah Is On The Prowl

Mark Kaphaem

For some time I have been having impressions and visions of the coming wave of God. After Sunday and the seventy foot tall wave hitting a cruise ship heading for New York, I believe it's time to share what the Lord has been showing me.

First of all, the main impression I get is that this will be a wave that will be marked by Holy Spirit Power. To illustrate this I would like to share a vision I had.

I saw a huge conference center with three sections. Right behind the middle section was a huge wave suspended in the air. The speakers on the stage were calling out for all in the middle section to prepare because the wave was about to hit. Just then the wave came crashing down on top of them. Of the thousands of people in the section, after the wave passed, only ten were left standing. Those ten were riding the wave in the Spirit. After allowing them some good riding time they asked those ten to pray for the others who were knocked down by the wave. Then they called out to the section on the left. The wave hit again, only this time the results were much better. Thirty people were left standing after the wave passed. As they were riding the wave in the Spirit you could see the excitement on their faces and their smiles were radiant. They sent someone over with a microphone to interview one of those who was riding the wave. They asked her how she was able to ride the wave when so many others failed. Her answer was simple. She said she did not do anything. She just surrendered to the wave and the wave lifted her up. Out of this vision I gleaned a few points about this wave.

Those who try to lift themselves up in this wave will find themselves under a lot of water sucking for air and crying out for daylight. There they will learn their desperateness for the things of God and helplessness to do any of it on their own. You have to surrender to the this wave and allow the wave to lift you up. Not the other way around.

The second point is that you do not tell this wave where to go. You do not direct this wave, this wave directs you. Those who try to control this wave will also find themselves sucking for air and crying out for daylight. To ride this wave you must learn to be led, to follow, to ride on it's momentum not your own. You will not want to get to far out in front of this wave. You want to be right on the cusp and allow the wave to push you forward. For I heard the Lord say this is a wave that will move people and take them places. This is not just a wave to play in. Play is good and there has been much healing and freedom in recent years playing in the waves of the Spirit. This wave is not for play. This is a violent wave, a wave for warfare and to bring the body into maturity.

I also felt the Lord say that this wave will ride on the sea. This is not a wave that will be closed behind four walls. This wave will take the church into battle. It is time to take the fight to the enemy and this wave will go wherever the enemy has a stronghold.

I also believe this wave will restore to the church a healthy awe and fear of the Lord God Most High. The Holy one who reigns in Power. I remember hearing of a conference where the Holiness of the Lord fell and people were trying to get under the carpeting. I believe those days are returning. We serve an awesome God.

This past Sunday I was in Cincinnati at the Passion & Fire worship Center. I was praying with the intercessors before the morning service. As we were praying I saw in the Spirit a huge Lion pushing forth waves with His paw. As the waves went forth they had the feeling of a bowling ball heading down the alley for a strike. I knew this was the mighty Lion of Judah and that He was sending forth these waves with power and precision. The next morning when I heard of the seventy foot wave that hit the cruise ship, I could not help to think of this as a wake up call to the body of Christ.

There is a wave of awesome power coming to the church and it is being directed by the Lion of the tribe of Judah. This is not a wave to trifle with. This is a wave to be obeyed. And the call coming to the body is to sound the trumpet and prepare for battle. For The Lion of Judah is on the prowl.

Mark Kaphaem mkap@insightbb.com http://home.insightbb.com/~mkap/

The Law Of Kingdom Concealment
David Orton

“The kingdom of heaven is like a treasure hidden in the field…” Mat 13:44

The laws of the Kingdom of God are contrary to the ways of men.

Hidden from the casual seeker, the Kingdom is not superficial to be stumbled upon. It does not lie on the surface and is not obvious – it is “like a treasure hidden in the field”. It is in fact, concealed, obscured from our natural perceptions.

Christ the King – the Rock of Offence

This fact flavors the whole coming of Christ the King in his first advent. The promised Messiah did not come as the anticipated warrior-King delivering Israel from Roman tyranny. To the contrary, born in obscurity he came as a humble Nazarene, the son of Joseph riding on a donkey. Thus, Nathaniel’s rhetorical appellation of the Christ, “Can any good thing come from Nazareth?” (Jn 1:46). Defying human expectation of an earthly kingdom he became a stumbling stone – the rock of offence (Rom 9:32, 33).

Even after association with him as his closest intimates, throughout his earthly ministry, the disciples still misunderstood the Kingdom. After the resurrection and despite forty days of Jesus speaking concerning the Kingdom of God, nursing hopes of a worldly kingdom, they could still ask, "Lord, is it at this time you are restoring the kingdom to Israel?" (Acts 1:6).

They still perceived the Kingdom in terms of external criteria, particularly social and political ones. However, while the Kingdom will manifest through external signs, which I will discuss in a moment, it is primarily an inner and hidden reality. It is therefore, not discernible to the natural senses or cognitive abilities.

An Invisible Kingdom

Jesus underlined this when he said,

"…God's kingdom isn't something you can see. There is no use saying, 'Look! Here it is' or 'Look! There it is.' God's kingdom is here among you (or, ‘within you’)." Lk 17:20, 21

Whether the original text refers to Christ standing ‘among’ them or being present ‘within’ them is a moot point. Either way, the Kingdom was present through the presence of Christ. Christ, whether incarnate or indwelling, is only so by the Spirit. The Kingdom is, therefore, only present in its fullness when Christ dwells amongst men by the Spirit.

There is only one explicit New Testament descriptor of the Kingdom of God:

“…for the kingdom of God is not eating and drinking, but righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit.” (Rom 14:17)
Here we learn that the Kingdom is not only experiential but that it is ‘in the Holy Spirit’.

His presence is supernatural and, therefore, cannot be detected by natural observation.

As Paul declared,

"… the natural man is not able to take in the things of the Spirit of God: for they seem foolish to him, and he is not able to have knowledge of them, because such knowledge comes only through the Spirit." 1 Cor 2:14 (BBE)

Therefore, the first and primary sign of the Kingdom is invisible. It is Christ 'in us' the hope of glory (Col 1:27). This is personal and experiential.

No one will be able to say, "Look, here it is!" or "There it is!" No external or natural criteria will assist in locating the Kingdom. It will not be found by looking at the outward – at the crowds, the leader, or the success. Nor will it be located in any particular structure, group, or event. Neither will it be found in political presence, community impact, or social transformation. We make a mistake to equate the Kingdom with any of these. This is not to deny that they may occur through its presence, but they are not the Kingdom. Nor are they the primary signs of the Kingdom.

The nature of Jesus' Kingdom is revolutionary, completely defying every human expectation of worldly influence and power. He declared,

"My kingdom is not of this world. If My kingdom were of this world, then My servants would be fighting so that I would not be handed over to the Jews; but as it is, My kingdom is not of this realm." (Jn 18:36 NASB)

With our contemporary quest for church growth, on one hand, and social transformation on the other, this lesson is crucial to the integrity of our high call in Christ Jesus. If we are desirous of pursuing Christ alone, we must not confuse that call with any lesser thing. If we do, it will be easy to trade the Kingdom for a fast track – for visible results and perceived success – for numbers or community impact. The scary thing is that God may give us our desires, but with it 'leanness of soul' (Ps 106:15).

Signs of the Kingdom

Flowing from the supernatural presence of Christ, the primary signs of the Kingdom are the preaching of the Gospel (Mtt 4:23; Lk 4:18), healings and miracles (Mtt 4:23; Lk 7:22), deliverance (Mtt 12:28), the new birth (Jn 3:3; Acts 26:18; Rom 14:17), Christ-likeness (Col 1:27, 28), and suffering (Acts 14:22; 1 Pet 2:21; 2 Tim 2:12).

Consequently, the Kingdom advances in the earth not through campaigns of moral, political, or social reformation, nor even church growth, but through the primary sign of its presence – Christ dwelling in the hearts of men. As individual hearts yield one by one to the regenerating power of the Spirit the Kingdom will increase and eventually accelerate to the transformation of whole cities and nations. Nation building and social transformation will only flow to the degree individual hearts are transformed. We can be confident, however, that the river of God's Spirit will continue to flow in revival to the ultimate healing of the nations (see Rev 22:1-2).

The More Excellent Way

However, not all the signs of the Kingdom are equal. Remember, like the Corinthians, we may experience the supernatural but still be called upwards to the 'more excellent way' (1Cor 12:31). As necessary as they are, even some of the supernatural signs of the Kingdom (the gifts and operations of the Spirit) can sometimes distract from the main play – from the Giver himself. As the descendants of Greek culture the West is prone to the Corinthian distraction with gifts and 'super-apostles' – with charisma and personality – "looking only on the surface of things" and "taking pride in what is seen rather than in what is in the heart" (2 Cor 10:7; 5:12).

Nevertheless, through the din of competing voices, through the madding crowd of false values and shimmering images, there is another sound being heard. And it is the sound of heaven – of deep calling to deep – of the heart of God calling to the hearts of men – and of our hearts burning within us: "When You said, 'Seek My face,' my heart said to You, 'Your face, O LORD, I shall seek.'" (Ps 27:8).

This is a call upward to the 'more excellent way' – it is the 'high calling of God in Christ Jesus' (Phil 3:14). Others may, but you may not. As Paul said, "Everything is allowable, but not everything is profitable. Everything is allowable, but everything does not build others up." (1 Cor 10:23 Weymouth). It is not the way of reputation and success in the systems of men, but the high road of agape – of love without hooks – of self-giving and perfect obedience to the Father. It is the love-slave who when given his freedom returns abandoning all for love of the master, having his ear pierced against the doorpost (see Ex 21:16). This is the question: has my ear been pierced by the high calling of God? Have I truly heard what the Spirit is saying to the church in this hour? Moreover, am I willing to abandon my way, my ministry, and my gifts for the 'more excellent way'?

The 'more excellent way' is the way of selfless love. This is what Paul is referring to when he says, "… three things remain: faith, hope, and love. But the greatest of these is love" (1 Cor 13:13). There are three realms in God – faith and hope are the first two, but our goal is the third – love. Faith and hope relate to the gifts and callings of God, but love to who he is. This is a realm of complete abandonment, of being filled with the God who is agape and who fills all in all (1 Jn 4:8; Eph 1:23).

When we attain this realm, the 'perfect' (mature) will have come. All else will lose its currency (1 Cor 13:10). When we discover and walk in this new way our ministry, our impact in the community, our churches, endeavours and successes will seem as mere chaff. We will count all things as loss by comparison.

This call to maturity (1 Cor 13:11) – to agape is, in fact, the way of the Cross – the way of selfless abandon – of Mary who chose the 'better part', sitting at Jesus' feet. It is the way of the 'Great Commandment' over the 'Great Commission', of devotion over production, and of intimacy over activity. It is the Shulamite being lost in her beloved – in the realisation that, "I am my beloved's, and that his desire is for me." (S of S 7:10). It is all about him.

Our identity is no longer tethered to task or title. It is in our union with him. We are no longer authenticated by the work of our hands – by our ministry or success, but only by the Father.

This 'more excellent way' is foolishness to men, but the wisdom of God for the mature. It is concealed from the wise and spiritually prideful:

"Yet we do speak wisdom among those who are mature; a wisdom, however, not of this age nor of the rulers of this age, who are passing away;

but we speak God's wisdom in a mystery, the hidden wisdom which God predestined before the ages to our glory;

the wisdom which none of the rulers of this age has understood; for if they had understood it they would not have crucified the Lord of glory;

but just as it is written,

'Things which eye has not seen and ear has not heard, and which have not entered the heart of man, all that god has prepared for those who love him.'

For to us God revealed them through the Spirit; for the Spirit searches all things, even the depths of God."

1 Cor 2:6-10 (NASB)

There is another way – an alternative to the ways of men in the church. However, it is not accessible to all. The secrets of the Kingdom are revealed to some but hidden from others: "You have been given knowledge about the secrets of the kingdom of heaven, but it hasn't been given to them." (Mtt 13:11).

It is revealed by the Spirit only to the humble of heart,

"At that very time He rejoiced greatly in the Holy Spirit, and said, 'I praise You, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that You have hidden these things from the wise and intelligent and have revealed them to infants. Yes, Father, for this way was well-pleasing in Your sight.'"

Lk 10:21 (NASB)

If we are to see the fullness of the Kingdom there is no alternative. We must humble ourselves under the mighty hand of God, yielding those things we hold dearest: our reputations and ministries, our abilities and successes – in fact, our very motivation for living.

It is time to align ourselves exclusively with the one who made himself of no reputation and embrace "the more excellent way".

If you have been blessed by this article why not forward it to a friend: Forward
REPRINT AGREEMENT:
Duplication and re-transmission of this writing is permitted provided that complete source and website information for Lifemessenger is included.
Thank you. Copyright © David Orton 2005
www.lifemessenger.org

The Lightning Of The Lord
Timothy Snodgrass

7/31/05

As we approach the first phase of Israel's scheduled withdrawal from covenant land promised to her by God, I have very serious concerns for America, especially in light of recent prophetic warnings received pertaining to some serious judgments and cataclysmic wake up calls during the latter half of 2005 if we continue on our current path. August appears to be a crucial month in interceding for America, continuing through Rosh Hashanah (early October), up until the anniversary of the 9.3 Sumatra quake on December 26. I personally believe that by 12/26/05, a line will have been drawn in the sand, and by 2006 America will begin to reap the harvest of what she has sown into God's covenant land of Israel. There is still time to change the course we have taken in endorsing the creation of a Palestinian terrorist state within the biblical borders of territories promised to Abraham as an eternal inheritance, but our time is short.

In my last report, I published a vision received on 6/14/05 of the Lord standing above California, having a look of grave concern on his face, and the number '8' was impressed upon my mind. This vision was immediately followed by large quakes in California and Alaska (7.0 and 6.8). Data received from this vision (highlighting '8') and other prophetic words dealing with seismic judgments in California, Alaska and the U.S. West Coast, seem to indicate not only the magnitude of a potential quake this year if we continue on our current course, but also a specific time frame in which we need to be on high alert and in a time of focused prayer. It is not by coincidence that '8' is also the month Israel is scheduled to enter into the first phase of abandoning the covenant land restored to her in 1967 under U.S. pressure. Between now and the anniversary of the Great Sumatra quake on December 26, I believe that a line will be drawn in the sand – if wake up calls continue during this period of time, it indicates that little or no progress has been made. But if wake up calls cease in the immediate months ahead, it is an indication that something positive has transpired behind the scenes, which although may not be apparent on the surface, will be brought to light in God's perfect timing. Do not be too quick to judge President Bush, but pray for him according to the pattern in Psalm 21; bless him, and do not curse him, for there is still time to amend the situation and begin laying the foundations to reverse oversights and miscalculations in the 'Roadmap', and bless the Palestinian people without rewarding terrorism with a Palestinian State within sovereign Israeli land. The borders of Israel have been laid by God, not man, and anyone who touches those borders – including Jerusalem and the Temple Mount – will have to answer to God himself. The lightning of God is poised to strike America, and the moment of decision has come. Which way will we turn by the end of the year? Will the lightning of God strike our enemies because we have blessed Israel, or will the lightning of God strike America in judgment, making our land tremble at the terrible presence of the Lord? Need multitudes perish in a great quake before we finally get the message? The time of decision is now at hand!

Blessings,
Timothy Snodgrass

The Lord's Prayer
Mary Clark

barnabessie@earthlink.net
December 9, 2005

"Our Father, Which art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name."

I want to tell you something, beloved. When you come to Me with your heart held high in worship to Me, it thrills My heart. It satisfies something deep within. It makes Me want to scoop you up in My arms of love and embrace you with an everlasting hug. Yes, that is how I feel when I hear you address Me as Father, and praise My name. It absolutely thrills My heart!

"Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven."

Yes, beloved. Pray that My kingdom will come and My will, will be done on earth as it is in heaven. These are words worth saying. These are words that you will delight in seeing unfold as your Beloved presents Himself to the masses in the near future. I am a God Who delights in hearing My dear ones pray My will. I delight in knowing that your heart's desires lines up with My heart's desires. You, My beloved, are going to see things unfold before your very eyes that will delight you. So keep on praying those words. Keep on looking expectantly for My return, and for My will to shine forth in your lives and across the world brightly.

"Give us this day or daily bread."

Yes, beloved, I will supply you the bread that you need to sustain you in this life. I will give you the physical bread and the spiritual bread that you so desire. I have never denied My own that bread that He desired to eat, whether it was for his livelihood or for the essence of My presence. I am a God Who supplies well. I withhold no good gift from My beloved. You may rely on having the Bread of life supply you with all that you need in this life and in the life to come. So be it. Again, I say, "So be it!"

"And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors."

Beloved, beloved, I want you to be free from the encumbrances of unforgiveness. I want you to know the true joy of your Lord. Step out of that shell of unforgiveness, and into My forgiveness – into My joy and peace – true heart contentment. I am a God Who delights in one who will lay aside his unforgiveness and receive from Me the pleasure – the sweet, rich pleasure – of My company. For that is how we can commune, one on one, when you are free of the encumbrances of unforgiveness.

"And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil:

Did I not tell you that I would guide you in all truth? Did I not declare to you that I would never leave you or forsake you? I did, and I mean those words. They are just as true today as they were when I spoke them to My disciples. So hear the word of the living God. Receive My truth. Bow down to Me with devoted hearts of worship, and know that My plan is to bless you, moving you forward, closer to My heart – to a place where you will know My will for you and walk in it with joy and peace.

I want you to know, beloved, that I gave this prayer to My devoted disciples, and I give it to you today for the same reason. I want you to know My heart. I want you to know all that My heart contains. And what does My heart contain for you? It contains untold blessings. It contains all the love a heart could hold. It contains guidance in the direction of My waiting arms of love. Yes, My heart contains much – much more than any heart could desire, and I want it all for you, beloved. I want it all for you.

So look on this prayer as a loving gift from your Father, and know that every word contains guidance to that place in Me where you will receive a wealth of blessings, and the love of your God that will thrill and excite you – thrill and excite you, sending you catapulting into that place of freedom and delight that is found in knowing Me – in knowing My heart and resting in the divine arms of the living God – your very own true and loving Savior.

"For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory forever. AMEN."

Yes, beloved, My kingdom is forever, My power never wanes, and My glory is everlasting, supplying every willing heart with the sweet fragrance of the Beloved. So know, dear one, that the One Whom you serve is a God Who has been and will be around for a long, long time – all eternity. Know that it delights My heart to draw you into this eternal realm where you will know Me, My power, and My glory.

I am delighted to introduce you to the essence of My love in a most phenomenal way. I am delighted to show you the depths of My love and the wonder of it from a very interesting vantage point. That is where I am taking you, dear child – close, still closer, into the heart of your God.

I want you to know that it delights Me to present this feast that I have prepared for those who have chosen to serve Me unswervingly. It delights Me to draw you closer into the bosom of My love. In spite of anything the enemy could do, we should be having our happy reunion soon. So prepare your heart, dear one, to climb higher into that realm of divine hope that I have so aptly provided, and know with each rung of the ladder that you climb you are entering into a new hour of hope – new hope in the provided victory of the living God, your Beloved, your Savior – the One Who looks on you with adoring eyes and desires to draw you close into this new hour of love made real to every willing heart.

Oh, yes, those who comply with My wishes will not be disappointed. They will know the power and the glory of the living God, for they will be abiding in My kingdom of love and light – in that place created for you to know the will of your God, and rest in the presence of His love forever, beloved – forever and ever!!!

I want to make a few comments, I believe the whole church needs to repent, the leaders included, because the congregation patterns itself after the Pastor and the leaders. We ALL need to repent for one thing or another, but we need to be on our faces before God if we want revival. 2 Chronicles 7:14 is where we need to be, the Lord would rather have people repent than bring judgment, the choice is ours. Judgment begins at the house of God, so how ought we be living? He said SEEK MY FACE.
Love,
sis. Shanna

2Ch 7:14 if my people, who are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land.

The Latter Rain Shall Be Poured Out

Kenneth Hagin

Kenneth E. Hagin Winter Bible Seminar - Tulsa, OK February 18, 2003

On February 18, 2003, the Lord gave the Body of Christ a glimpse into the future through the following prophecy, delivered by Rev. Kenneth E. Hagin during the annual Winter Bible Seminar in Tulsa, OK.

Many are concerned about the future and they wonder what will happen. Will darkness overtake, or will the light shine bright? Yea, saith the Lord of hosts, remember that you're in My hands. And remember that I know the future better than you know the past—and all is well! I will alert you concerning that which will affect you. I will show you the way to go, and you'll walk in it and be blessed. Above all the people of the world, upon the earth, you shall be blessed.

For thou art My people, and My people shall rule and reign. And the blessings of God will fall upon them. The latter rain shall be poured out. Yea, upon nations that are now barren and void. But the rain will be poured out. The seed will be planted. The harvest will come. The glory of God will shine upon the earth. And they of the world will walk on in the way in which they've walked! And the darkness shall overtake them.

But ye shall walk in the light! The entrance of His Words giveth light! Walk according to the Word. Walk in the Word. Walk in the Spirit. And the power shall rest upon you. And the glory of God shall be seen upon your face! Many shall turn to the Lord. Great days, great times, great blessings are ahead. So rejoice and be glad. Many are concerned about things that have happened, the terror that has taken hold of the hearts of many. Many are concerned about war. Many are concerned about the future. Darkness seems to be developing. Dark clouds are on the horizon of time.

But, yea, saith the Lord of hosts, walk not by what you see with the physical eye. But walk according to what My Word says. Walk according to what the Holy Ghost is saying unto you! For He's speaking unto many hearts. And they walk on in the natural and pay no attention to their heart. He's speaking to many spirits! They walk on in the realm of the mental, thinking their own thoughts, planning their own way.

But, yea, saith the Lord of hosts, listen to what the Spirit is saying to your heart, to your spirit. And what He said to you, act upon it! Act upon it! Act like it's so! Rejoice and be glad. In the face of adversity. In the face of seemingly natural defeat! Because you have inside information, information inside the Word, information given by the Spirit. And it shall all come to pass. Amen. We pride ourselves in being a Word church and Word people. And right and good. For it is true, saith the Lord, you are a Word people.

But do not forget that you're also a Holy Ghost people—spiritual. Yes, the Word goes forth. But again and again, the Spirit has endeavored to move in your midst and you've ignored Him, and you've kept quiet. Some have yielded temporarily to the Spirit. For the Spirit seeketh to manifest Himself. He'll manifest Himself in revelation, revealing unto you through the word of knowledge, the word of wisdom, the discerning of spirits. And He's endeavored to speak! For He does speak unto His people by the Holy Spirit. By tongues and interpretation, by prophecy. And many have held back and would not speak out. And by so doing have quenched the Spirit, and have not only quenched the Spirit, but have grieved the Spirit.

Yea, listen to what the Spirit is saying. For there will be an outpouring of the Holy Ghost in these latter days. The latter rain—the early rain and the latter rain to gather in the fruit of the earth which He is waiting to receive before He comes again. Yea, it's coming! And this year, the year of 2003, is a year of preparation. It's a year of separation! There will be those who will separate themselves from you, and walk in their own way, carry out their own plan, and have no power, and no glory, and no Spirit. But a deadness shall overtake them.

But there shall be those who will respond in fullness and will say, "Yes, Lord. Yes, Lord, I've missed it in times past. I've even been disobedient. Forgive me." And remember that He forgives. Remember that there is mercy. Remember that it is stated, "Let us come boldly to the Throne of grace that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in the time of need." And so there's mercy and there's grace. And so pick up and go forward and learn. Learn the ways of the Spirit. Study! Meditate! There shall be a restoration! There is a restoration in progress at the moment. A restoration! A restoration, spiritually speaking, when there shall be restored a full manifestation of the Spirit. . . and He's endeavored to divide the manifestations unto many who sit here, and you have not responded.

Be not afraid. Yes, man is human and very often man misses it—misinterpreted, missed just [exactly] what He's saying. But do not let those things deter you, but let them be a learning experience. Yes! Yes! This is the time of restoration. And there is coming a restoration in the world, in the natural realm. Restoration of marriages. Restoration of those who have been out of fellowship one with another....

Many are out of fellowship! But get into fellowship. Get into fellowship with one another. And get into one accord in praising and worshipping God. And the glory shall come in a way that you've never seen it before. So this year 2003 is a year of preparation. It's a year of not only preparation, but it's a year of restoration. And 2003 will be glorious; it'll build and build one upon another, so to speak. But it will not all be glorious. Yes, God's blessings are always glorious. But remember Jesus was led by the Spirit into the wilderness. And that wilderness experience was not all glorious until the end.

And so there will come to some who sit here a time that'll not seem so glorious. Tears [weeping], oh yeah, tears shall be shed. Grief shall be endured. But joy cometh in the morning. And so in many ways, 2003 is a year of opportunity—a year of restoration, a year of rebuilding.

But 2004, what about 2004? 2004 will be a year for more. More power, more glory, more manifestation, more saved, more filled with the Spirit, more healed! 2004 will be a year for more.

What about 2005? Will time last or will it cease? 2005—oh my! A year of judgment. Judgment. If we judge ourselves, we'll not be judged. But when we are judged, we're turned over to Satan for the destruction of the flesh so that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus. There'll be judgment in the individual realm. There'll be judgment in the family realm. There'll be judgment on the national level. A day of sternness. A day of discipline. A day of correction.

But the end of the year will be glorious. Amends shall be made. Many shall judge themselves. Nations will turn to God. And it'll end in a glorious manner.

Now what about 2006? There is no way to tell it! Oh Lord, oh my! How do you describe it? And that's just the beginning. Yeah, when I say "beginning," I'm talking about what happens just at the beginning of the year! And it'll grow in intensity....it will be a glorious year. It will be a year of heaven on earth! But the end will be [even] more glorious than the beginning.

So rejoice and be glad. The enemy is a defeated foe! Jesus has triumphed. Victory belongs to everyone. No one should come up empty-handed, but everyone should walk in full victory, commanding and demanding their rights and privileges in Christ Jesus . . . demanding nothing of the Father—He's the One who made the provision. But demanding of the devil, who is endeavoring to thwart the plan of God, who is endeavoring to keep it from coming to pass. But it will all come to pass. It will all come to pass at last. And the Holy Spirit has spoken unto a number of ministers here tonight. And He's spoken to you in times past. He's told you exactly what to do. You have not done it yet!

And you wonder why He withholds certain things. You wonder why it's tough, or the way seems rough. Go ahead, listen to what the Holy Ghost is saying. Make your church not only a Word church, but a Holy Ghost church. Put the Word first always. Move in the Holy Ghost in line with the Word. And the glory shall be made manifest. The glory shall even be seen by many. And the blessings of the Lord will flow like a mighty river. Thank You, Lord Jesus.

The Lord Who Sees

Luz Cintron

There has been a long timeline of events that has extended too far. I hear "Disregard". Personal and collective. Indifference through disregard that is fear. Survival according to the wisdom from below. We seem to have forgotten that "He Sees" because we fear to see. Last night the Lord spoke to me about a cleansing He is about to do. A cleansing even from childhood of all that has been allowed to remain that does not belong. Under the Spotlight, bright spotlight for even the filthiest of the hidden things. All of it, things done and things endured, will be dealt with. This is not about judgment but about restoration. We are not the ones judged but the ones rescued. The one that is judge in our redemption is another.

Things we place in denial are not gone. From their places they hinder and torment us like Amalekites in our rearguard placed to kill, steal and destroy. Its time they go and fear release its captives. In our darkness He is light! Because there is an increase ordained His vessels are to be cleansed in order to be made able withhold His glory. Do not be troubled it is your day of glory.

He is the Lord Who Sees!

The Maelstrom Of A New Year

Chad Taylor

The Maelstrom Of A New Year & Where Do We Go From Here? by Chad Taylor

QUOTE OF THE WEEK: "While women weep as they do now I'll fight! While little children go hungry as they do now I'll fight! While men go to prison, in and out, in and out I'll fight! I'll fight to the very end!" - General William Booth - Founder of the Salvation Army

Many thought the entrance into a new millennium Jan. 2000 was a spiritual leap into the future but it doesn't hold a candle to the magnitude of what we face in 2005. The earth itself has already declared this year as historical. Every pattern and tide is pointing toward massive change and inevitable glory. It's best described in Isa. 60:2 -

"For, behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people: but the LORD shall arise upon you, and his glory shall be seen upon you..."

Tragedy and catastrophe are hinges on the door of His glory. They are the backdrop for His power and might to be revealed. They create a divine vacuum for His presence and it is His desire to fill it. What does the maelstrom of the new year show us? Unprecedented harvest and revival. As many souls the enemy swallowed up in those fateful hours a hundred-fold will surely come to know the Lord Jesus Christ in the forthcoming years. It has opened the grave and released Jesus into the hearts of men. Look at the parallel in this same kind of occurrence, Matt 28:2-4 -

"Suddenly there was a great earthquake, because an angel of the Lord came down from heaven and rolled aside the stone and sat on it. His face shone like lightning, and his clothing was as white as snow. The guards shook with fear when they saw him, and they fell into a dead faint..."

This catastrophe in the East has opened the grave of that region and a Lazarus generation shall emerge. The seeds of the slain will produce a harvest beyond our human comprehension and open doors of ministry that have stood closed for centuries. The human displacement is nothing compared to the spiritual displacement as principalities, powers and wickedness in high places have fallen. This awesome change in spiritual hierarchy has created massive doors of missions and ministry. The crosshairs of God's grace and power are aimed to the East and He will now unleash His glory.

This great earthly shaking is only a mirror to the spiritual shaking that will occur waking the church from its slumber and then sending her out. A great move of God is always underlined by great moments in history and landmark events that drastically change our world. The early missionary movement in the book of Acts was emphasized by a natural and supernatural shaking that propelled the church past the dire circumstances that faced them. The backdrop of tragedy and death only added fuel to the fire of revival. These modern day apocalyptic events will not only turn the unsaved to Jesus it will move the Church into position to receive them.

"And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness..." (Acts 4:31)

The Matchstick

Heather Butler

Hidden Treasures Ministries International

April 2005 word released December 8th 2005

http://www.ourchurch.com/member/k/keys/

The vision of the lighted Matchstick.

I believe that the Lord showed me a tiny flame, about the size you get on a matchstick.

The room had been pitch black only moments before lighting the match, yet the minute it was lit it had complete authority over the darkness of that room. No matter how big that room was, and no matter how consuming the darkness seemed to be, there was evidence of something going on from the very moment that tiny flame was lit! The darkness could do nothing against it, and it had to flee. Things that were hidden in the room suddenly came to light, there was clearer vision, and a clearer pathway to follow without falling over the obstacles.

Have you ever lit a flame and not seen it have an effect, of course not, and shouldn't it follow that if we carry the light of Christ within us no matter how small we may feel then we have the same effect upon the darkness of the enemy. Did you know that we bring a piercing blinding light of Christ that shatters the darkness, and a warmth that melts the coldest heart the moment that we enable the lord by faith in Him to ignite us in the darkest place.

We all feel small and insignificant at times, but we have the life force, the very essence of the saviour dwelling by His Holy Spirit within us.

We are carriers of the light and life of Christ! How can we fail if Jesus is for us who can be against us!

when the enemy tries to intimidate we simply don't have to listen, instead we shine our light upon the word of God and illuminate it firing it straight back at the enemy. These words of light and life penetrate the darkest moments bringing healing, "by His stripes you are healed". Restoration into your life, "Therefore there is no condemnation for those in Jesus Christ". We speak out courageously and with boldness knowing that these words are as powerful as those that brought the world and everything within it into existence, we can rely and depend upon them. They carry the supreme authority of God within them and we carry these words within us to destroy the enemy in the darkest hours of our lives!

When we have revelation of the word of God its fascinating, Gods word never returns void, and always accomplishes that which it set out to do, when by faith we see and call into being those things that we do not yet see with our eyes, but see with the eyes of Faith all things are possible they really are!

Greater is Him that is in me than Him that is in the world, whether it be intimidation, or fear. I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me, in the amplified version it says 'who infuses himself in me!. Have you ever tried to take the tea out of the water once its infused into it you can’t, there is no separation point that will take place, and so it is when the Lord infuses Himself by His Spirit into us, we bear the mark and impression of the one who carries all authority in the world.

Take heart, when you aim arrows of light at the enemy he has to flee, he cannot match up to or stand the word of God, it’s life to us and death to the enemy. So be encouraged, Jesus in you is great, no matter how you feel. So don’t worry small isn't so bad after all, it helps to build up our confidence in the Lord, it helps to build a relationship of trust and faith and love when our relationship in Him is intimate.

Spend time with him and get to know his ways his truths the words of life and light.. The power source for the light lives within you every day, so SWITCH ON and brighten up someone’s day.

As you aim the word at the enemy every day you will see changes, things that were unbearable and so heavy you thought you would crumple under the pressure become no problem, as the lord sorts them out one by one. The atmosphere in your home, in your children, at work and your day to day living becomes more of a blessing than a chore!

I now pass on the match to light the flame for you, are you ready to be ignited by the Holy Spirit

A Vessel Of Anointing

Heather Butler

This is an account of two dreams one night after the other that have spurred us to run on into the nations. I pray that the release of these dreams will spur you on into that next wave of the lord. Blessings Heather.

Dream 1. I dreamt that I was in a temple, there were empty vessels lining the marble floor. I could see that each alabaster jar was a person, each one empty and ready to be filled. I heard the lord speak and say " I am about to pour myself in" I recognised one of the empty vessels, it was a young man called John who was one of the youth in our church. I woke up.

I prayed about the dream and asked the lord if this was Him, I believe He gave me a verse in Luke 3 which says "He who comes after me will baptise you with Spirit and with fire. I was also given verses from Ezekiel 47.

I had arranged to go to a womens aglow meeting that evening, and had asked the lord what I should do about the dreams I had had. It was evident from the moment that the meeting began that the Lord was speaking to me, Jean Bosworth said "The lord is ready to fill the white hot empty vessels with his fire" she then began to speak about stepping out into the deep deep things of God!

I could hardly contain my excitement, I couldnt see the fullness of what was about to happen, but could see that this was the workings of the Holy Spirit. Jean smiled at me and gave me a candle, on it was written "he who comes after me will baptize you with Spirit and with Fire" I told her about the dream and she said, "the Lord gave you Luke 4 and Ezekiel 47 didn't He" I was so amazed I could hardly speak.

John the young man phoned me that evening, I had tried to get in touch with him earlier that day to tell him that I dreamed about him but he had not been at home. His conversation started like this. "Hi there Hev, mom said you phoned, I’m glad you did, last night I was praying and asked the lord If he would empty me of everything that gets in the way of His will for my life, and I asked Him if he would pour his Holy spirit into me"!

This young man has such a call on his life that its incredible, since this dream, he has been out to speak in Africa, and has been into America, and India, wherever he goes people are touched by that charisma about him.

The Second Dream Is About The Life Boat Man.

2. I heard the boons go off, and watched as a lone lifeboat man ran to man the boats. A storm was raging, it was the most ferocious seas I had ever seen, the wind was howling, and the rain was beating down upon 30ft waves. I remember thinking 'what, only one life boat man, he cant do this alone,' so I ran along the promenade after Him. Suddenly I missed my footing and fell into the sea! I was coughing and spluttering, and began to panic, I opened my eyes and realised that I was hundreds of yards from the beach. The wind and the waves were billowing all around me, and the rain lashed at my face. I suddenly realised that I wasn't drowning, in fact I was on my back coursing through the huge waves like a ships rudder cutting through the waves which were opening either side of me. Foolishly I decided to flip over onto my front and try to swim back to the shore, but, the moment I did I began to slip under the water and drown. I knew I had to turn back over onto my back to stay alive, and just go with the flow! As I lay on my back cutting through the high seas I looked behind me and noticed that the sea ran into a huge river, on either side of the river were trees, huge roots were sticking up out of the river on either side, and I realised that if I could just go with the flow and down the fast flowing river I could catch hold of a root and pull myself out of the water. As I thought this I was standing on the banks of the river, with a three stranded cord in my hand! I was now looking at the biggest waves I had ever seen, and couldn't believe that I had come out of the storm alive. I was so excited that I ran into the towns and the villages, clutching my three stranded chord, waving it at people as I ran shouting "look at the three stranded chord that saved my life" and I proceeded to tell those who were curious to hear How the lord had saved my life. I woke up from the dream.

Time to Run with the Horses.

September 2004.
Word given for Kentucky and the Nations.
It says in the word of God that if we cannot keep up with men, how can we run with horses. As I was praying this is what I saw, and I speak it as a prophetic declaration over Kentucky and the nations in the name of Jesus.

I see an open heaven, a rolling back of the heavens as the lord gets ready to release his fire from heaven.

This fire will consume those who have cried out who are hungry and thirsty, although it is a costly fire it is greater than gold, as the dross is burned away I see what could have been devastation turn into the most fruitful place.

I entered in and saw men on white horses protecting the harvest, standing watch to protect this yield.

I watched as a whirlwind came and whipped up the fire and planted it in neighbouring towns, a funnel of fire swept from Kentucky across the nation, keeping the enemy at bay, and releasing the annointing of the glory of God.

The enemy wants to kill you, and the father needs you to die so that he can live in you.

The men on the white horses are without fear, they have been tested by the fire, consumed by its flames, they know what is expected of them to run with the Spirit of the lord wherever he will lead.

There are those who have not yet learned to run with the horses, those who fear change and challenge, but the lord says to them do not be afraid, as I was with your forefathers so I will be with you, stop looking at what has gone before, I am doing a new thing, I have opened the doorways of heaven to pour out my heart upon this place, to lavish my bride with every good thing, but first comes the fire.

Will you run with the fire of God in your bones, will you allow me to consume your every thought, take your thoughts and ambitions, strip you of everything that you are and replace your thoughts and ambitions with my perfect will for you. Will you run with me, stand with me even unto death. Come, I call you come. prepare the way I am soon to come.
That still small voice.

Many over the years have cried out, "oh lord send the fire" and when the lord sent the fire they very nearly missed it! because it didn't come in the package that they expected it to.

I believe that when we cry out for fire two things will happen, firstly there will be a cleansing purifying fire that comes, that is painful and all consuming.

The way you handle this consuming fire, will determine how you look when you come out of it! Will you be a pure shining vessel ready for the lord to fill.

A suddenly of God is waiting to hit each of us, but there are requirements to being filled with this Holy Fire, this fire kills, and in the wrong hands can wreak havoc and chaos, but in the right hands can bring illumination, warmth, and light to those who are struggling in this world.

When you have come through this consuming fire, when you have allowed it to touch every area of your life rendering you to ashes, then and only then will new life spring forth. To many this time is horrifying, just like a blaze in the forest, it strips the trees bare, and many fall into piles of ashes, but, when the rain comes, rising from the ashes you will see new growth, not like before, but more prolific, so fruitful.

You know when you are in the presence of someone who has been touched by this fire, they are not self seeking or religious, they are not seekers after fame or money, there only purpose in life is to live for the Father, to live a life like Jesus did, the way he spoke, the way he dealt with people, the way loved each person with such compassion. These are the world changers, the ones who trust in there God, who know that he will never forsake or leave them. The ones who lead the blind out of the darkest of places and into the light.

Lets just for a moment examine the word about Running with the Horses, and see what this could mean for you.

1. I see an open heaven. This simply means that the Fathers heart has been moved, that He has heard the cry of the heart, he has seen the preparation and the cost to those who have humbled themselves before Him in Prayer, and He is releasing of Himself an anointing, a move of the Spirit to enable those who have cried out for His help.

The Tent Of The Lords Meeting
Heather Butler

Founder Spiritual Director
Hidden Treasures Ministries International

This song was given to me at the same time as I had a vision about the tent of the lords meeting. I believe it is now time to release this over the nation. This word and song is documented, and was given as a word of prophesy over our nation, and over Anglesey North Wales. Below is the vision, and the song for the nations.

The Vision.

I was woken during the early hours of the morning June 27th 1996. I had been interceding for our nation at the time, and I believe that what I am to share with you now was a vision of the Lord concerning our Island.

I saw a large beacon type structure, around it were seven struts of wood, on top was a flame. There were ropes running from this structure out into the towns, villages, and nations.

I asked the lord “what is this” A bivouac was the reply, I thought I had heard wrong and crossed out the word and put beacon! The Holy Spirit said “no, it’s a bivouac”

I later found out that a bivouac is two things it’s the overnight encampment of the watchman tent, but also a Celtic celebration tent!

I asked, “Lord if this is a tent what are the seven struts of wood around it and why is there a flame on the top, and what are the ropes for?”

I was shown that the struts were seven churches around the Island coming together in unity. The flame on the top was evidence of what was going on inside the tent, it was combustible, as people came together to praise to worship to pray. It was incredible the most powerful thing I have even seen.

The ropes are the forerunners, those that take up this call, and run with it into the place where they live and also into the nations.

The bible passage I was given was from Isaiah 54.

Please read the whole chapter, It’s amazing, and incorporates much within it that has been shown to us over the years. Please read the amplified version if you can.

The lord also gave me a song to sing out over the land which is really beautiful, and more recently a song called ‘The Sound of Wales’
Much of this call has been hidden for those 9 yrs, many of you know me to be a woman of Prayer, and a woman with a heart for Israel.

The vision about the setting up of a house of prayer and prayer network was broadcast via the God Channel network. In 1996, and is documented. We have sat and waited for the birthing of this project for 9yrs. I have waited on the lord for the right time to implement this venture on the Island,(and I believe in other towns cities and nations of the world) and know through prayer and another dream that now is the right time.

Future plans and the next step concerning the vision will be to set up a house of prayer 24/7 on the Island, a place which will be open for people to come into and be prayed for and a place for people to come and pray together with Christians from other denominations. This will take commitment from the churches involved around the Island on a rota basis, and people will need to be trained, we have a package for this. (but that’s for a much later date).

Also I am in touch with prayer partners nation wide who are praying about the infrastructure for this and timing, and also others who have set up Houses of Prayer in the nations in Israel and in America. I received a very welcome word from a visiting speaker just before going into Kentucky in May, he said “The Lord hasn’t forgotten about the setting up of a house of prayer on the Island” ! Only one other Pastor knew about this word that was given to me by Ken Gott and Don Pitman all those years ago in Sunderland.

The light of Christ.

The light of Christ shines brightly across this barren land
The Father whispers words of love this nations in my hands
I’ll wipe the teardrops from your eyes
And replace them with songs of Joy
My breath will breath new life in you
Revival my children is nigh.

The oil of my lamp burns brightly across this barren land

Lost but not forsaken this nations in my hands
The light of Christ so piercing it makes the darkness flee Know where to turn know where to run except to come to me.

Repentance and forgiveness will be brought before my throne
I'll gather all who call to me and make them all my own,
And through the blood of Jesus I'll restore that taken from me
Bringing healing and forgiveness
Like you have never seen.

Revival will roll upon your shores crystal waters will flow free,
I'll sweep across this land for which I've waited patiently
I'll gather you again in love I'll set the captives free
From the chains of sin that bind them
Allowing the blind man to see.

Hallelujah sing praises to the king,
Great Britain forgiven for everything
Fill our lives with your love and your fire
Fill our hearts with desire for you
Hallelujah sing praises to the king
On the winds of the spirit new life he brings
Fill our hearts with your love and your fire,
Fill our hearts with desire for you
Show us Jesus how to pray this through
All the glory belongs to you.

The More Excellent Way
Ron McGatlin

1 Cor 12:29-31: Are all apostles? Are all prophets? Are all teachers? Are all workers of miracles? Do all have gifts of healings? Do all speak with tongues? Do all interpret? But earnestly desire the best gifts. And yet I show you a more excellent way.

The more excellent way is a diverse Body of Christ connected and working together by LOVE.

Not all but some are apostles. Some are prophets. Some are teachers. Some do work miracles. Some do speak in tongues. Some do interpret.

Do all preach fiery repentance that leaves the floor covered with weeping and wailing bodies? Do all always emphasize the gospel of being born again? Do all preach the full gospel of the kingdom that Jesus preached? Do all always preach Holy Spirit baptism. Do all preach soaking in His presence and demonstrate it? Do all preach His rest and entering it? Do all shout and shake? Do all fall down overcome in the Spirit? Do all see spiritual visions? Do all dream spiritual dreams? Not all but some do.

God does all of these ministries and more through His people and by His Spirit. At various times and in various people according to His will and the availability of the person.

"Well we don't do this or that in my church and I will never do this or that!" Maybe it is not your part to do or be this or that. The important thing is to do and be the part God has made you to become and to fully love and connect to those who have other parts.

You may never be able to understand some of the other parts of what God is doing. We only truly have the revelation of truth that He has given us. It is our intellectual pursuit of the tree of knowledge that establishes traditions of men and causes us to believe we have the only correct understanding of the Scripture. We have so little knowledge and intellectual understanding of God and all He is and Has done and is doing that our wisest is silly and foolish compared to God. (1 Cor 1:25-31)

Again, we only truly have the truth He reveals to us by His Spirit. By the anointing of the Holy Spirit we can function in knowledge and wisdom beyond anything we have in the natural.

Only one substance can bring all the vast diversity of the Body into unity. Only the love of God overwhelming men's understanding with the reality of godly humility and wisdom can bring order and function to the Body of Christ.

Father is calling to His immature children to grow up and mature in His love. God desires to relate to us intimately and heal all of our misconceptions and deformed parts - to conform us to the image of Christ in His presence. Abiding in Him we become like Him. Father is grieved by older children that should be mature yet are still crying out against one another like small children in the market place. (Luke 7:32)

Thank you Father that you are raising up a people who will trust and serve you without regard to their own lives. A people of your presence healed of all that would cause them to need to do it their own way. Father, we thank you for the abundance of your love flowing through us forming the Spirit of Christ within us. We choose to no longer live but are crucified with Christ and filled with His resurrection life. We praise you and honor your Holy Name. Amen

Ron McGatlin
www.openheaven.com

The Mustard Gardens Of Babylon

Bill Somers

Mount Gilead Ohio USA

> Then Samuel told the people the manner of the kingdom, and wrote it in a book, and laid it up before the LORD. 1 Samuel 10:25

Our title is a takeoff from the noted Hanging Gardens of Babylon, one of the seven wonders of the ancient world. We are going to look at the teaching on the mustard seed in the Gospel of Matthew and note some comparisons with the origin of Babylon.

In Matthew 13, the Lord is teaching about the Kingdom of God or Kingdom of Heaven in a series of parables. The first one is the famous parable of the sower, found in verses 3 to 23.

> Matthew 13:3 And he spake many things unto them in parables, saying, Behold, a sower went forth to sow;

Now in verse 4 we read this.

> Matthew 13:4 And when he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the fowls came and devoured them up:

And the explanation is given in verse 19, showing that the fowls represent the wicked one. Similar teachings are found in the other gospels. In Mark 4:15 he is identified as Satan and in Luke 8:12 as the Devil.

> Matthew 13:19 When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the wicked one*, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart. This is he which received seed by the way side.*

Farther along, we find the parable of the mustard seed.

> Matthew 13:31-32
> 31 Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field:
> 32 Which indeed is the least of all seeds: but when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in the branches thereof.

There are a couple odd features about the Kingdom as Mustard Tree parable. One is that mustard grows along the ground. Here is some info about mustard I found on the internet.

> Mustard Growth Characteristics
> Mustard seedlings emerge rapidly but tend to grow slowly after emergence. Under favorable moisture and temperature conditions, the ground will be covered in four or five weeks.
>
> Five weeks after emergence, the plant will begin to bud. At this stage, the crop will appear rather uneven. A week to 10 days later the plant will develop into full yellow bloom and the stand will appear more even. Good moisture supplies favor a long blossoming period, and longer blooming periods result in higher yield potential. Full-grown plants vary in height from 30 to 45 inches, depending on type, variety and environmental conditions.
>
> Author: Theresa Golz, market research specialist,
> NDSU Institute for Business and Industry Development
> http://www.ag.ndsu.edu/pubs/alt-ag/mustard.htm

So if mustard grows mainly along the ground, and only fully mature plants become bushes, 45 inches tall at the max, it's odd to see it described as a great tree. And the second odd feature is that the fowls of the air nesting in this tree were just previously identified as the devil in the parable of the sower! This is not such a favorable picture now it it? So how is it that the kingdom of heaven becomes a hangout for the devil?

One answer that has been proposed is that the mustard plant is a model of the church. In this view, the church is intended to spread throughout all the world, just as the mustard plant is to spread out along the ground. But when the church becomes corrupted or backslidden it takes on a vertical structure. This is a perversion of the intended growth pattern of the church. Instead of spreading out from house to house, as in Acts 4 it begins to follow the way of the world.

> Acts 2:46 And they, continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart,

So the mustard seed parable is not meant as a definition of the kingdom but a description of what can and does happen as the kingdom is coming into being. This can be seen in the story of the wheat and tares as well. A man sowed seed, but the enemy came along and sowed tares.

As for a definition of the Kingdom, I tend to think of it in terms of the Disciples Prayer, thy kingdom come, thy will be done. This would mean, that where the Father's will is done, the kingdom has come. Or The Kingdom of God is wherever God is King. Also from John 3 you can see that entering the Kingdom requires being led by the Spirit.

The Origins Of Religion are found in Babylon

Now lets compare this to the origins of Babylon. After the flood, the Lord commanded the people to go forth and replenish the earth. His intent was for the tribes that would be descended from Noah to spread over the face of the earth.

> Genesis 9:1 And God blessed Noah and his sons, and said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth.

In Genesis 11 we see that the people had another idea, one contrary to the Lord's wishes.

> Genesis 11:1-4
> 1 And the whole earth was of one language, and of one speech.
> 2 And it came to pass, as they journeyed from the east, that they found a plain in the land of Shinar; and they dwelt there.
> 3 And they said one to another, Go to, let us make brick, and burn them throughly. And they had brick for stone, and slime had they for morter.
> 4 And they said, Go to, let us build us a city and a tower, whose top may reach unto heaven; and let us make us a name, lest we be scattered abroad upon the face of the whole earth.

Instead of scattering over the whole earth, they wanted to stop and build a city, and a tower that might reach unto heaven. This is the essence of religion, man's efforts to reach heaven by his own efforts. It required that they establish an organization with a vertical structure, a hierarchy. The urge to make a name for themselves is the essence of denominationalism. That is the tendency to form denominations. Here is a good definition.

> Denomination noun
> 1.A large group of religious congregations united under a common faith and name and organized under a single administrative and legal hierarchy.
> 2.One of a series of kinds, values, or sizes, as in a system of currency or weights.
> 3.A name or designation, especially for a class or group.
> It comes from the word denominate, which means to give a name to; designate. This comes from the Latin nomen, which means name).] Excerpted from The American Heritage Dictionary of the English Language

The Lord's reaction to this is to introduce a confusion factor to frustrate mans efforts here.

> Genesis 11:7-9
> 7 Go to, let us go down, and there confound their language, that they may not understand one another's speech.
> 8 So the LORD scattered them abroad from thence upon the face of all the earth: and they left off to build the city.
> 9 Therefore is the name of it called Babel; because the LORD did there confound the language of all the earth: and from thence did the LORD scatter them abroad upon the face of all the earth.

Here are a couple more definitions.

> Babel, [Strong’s: H894]
> לבב > bâbel
> baw-bel'
> From H1101; confusion; Babel (that is, Babylon), including Babylonia and the Babylonian empire: - Babel, Babylon. [Strong’s]
>
> Babylon
> The Greek form of BABEL; Semitic form Babilu, meaning “The Gate of God.” In the Assyrian tablets it means “The city of the dispersion of the tribes.” [Easton’s Bible Dictionary]

So you can see that Babel, which originally meant the Gate of God, came to mean confusion. This is saying that man’s efforts to reach God by his own effort, which is self-righteousness, only leads to confusion. [This applies to any religion or ideology, not just the Judeo-Christians.] So while God had directed the people one way, an enemy came and brought in the spirit of religion.

The Parallel

This forms quite an interesting parallel with the mustard seed parable. When mustard is growing across the ground as it does normally, you can’t tell when one plant stops and the next one begins. They all look the same. But if you have a mustard tree here and there, they are clearly different and distinct. So it is in the history of the church. Once it stopped spreading over the earth, from house to house, denominations were formed. And these denominations had many differences even wars among themselves.

Another feature of the mustard seed parable is that the fowls built nests in the tree branches. This speaks of demonic strongholds and doctrines of demons, or confusion, becoming mixed into the church teachings.

The mustard seed parable then is a picture of the spirit of Babylon at work in the church. And the ‘mustard tree’ has much in common with the ‘fig tree’, as a symbol of the law of sin and death which is the tree of knowledge of good and evil.

The Missing Ingredient

Chip Brogden

www.watchman.net

"And I will very gladly spend and be spent for you; though the more abundantly I love you, the less I am loved" (II Corinthians 12:15).

Besides prayer, no other subject has been talked about more and practiced less than the subject of loving one another.

We all know we are supposed to love one another. We have heard it preached a thousand times. But there is a difference between knowing the Path and walking the Path.

I want to speak specifically to the issue of love as it relates to "ministry". That word "ministry" is a loaded word now, and we really need to question someone when they use that word so we can find out what they really mean. I think most people will agree that what passes for "ministry" these days is something very far removed from the ministry practiced in the New Testament. And I am not referring to some kind of method or technique that they practiced. The "missing ingredient" is not something so superficial as meeting in homes versus meeting in buildings. How far we have fallen to think that the secret of New Testament life is found in some way of conducting a meeting.

Leadership exists in the Bible, and leadership exists in the Church. There is no getting around that. Jesus showed us, both in word and in deed, that His idea of leadership is based on service to God and to others. The question we need to ask is what constitutes godly, Spirit-led, Christ-centered, servant leadership? What makes someone a spiritual father? What really qualifies someone as an apostle, prophet, evangelist, pastor, or teacher?

You might say the calling of God is what qualifies someone. Perhaps, but many are called and few are chosen. Many are called but they fail to respond to the call. You need more than a calling.

You might say the gift of God is what qualifies someone. Let me tell you something, brothers and sisters. Gifts no longer register much with me anymore. Gifted brothers and sisters are really a dime a dozen. I am just speaking frankly. Often I will meet people and come away thinking how gifted they are, but they leave me hollow inside. They have a lot of potential but I would not trust them to watch my dog much less watch over people's souls. Many of them claim to be in some kind of pastoral or prophetic or apostolic ministry. But that in and of itself does not qualify a person. I have seen gifted brothers and sisters with absolutely no wisdom, no maturity, and no spiritual discernment make a real mess of people's lives.

You might say revelation from God is what qualifies someone. I absolutely believe that revelation is a necessity for teaching others because you cannot point the way to a place you have never been. But revelation by itself does not qualify a person.

There came a time in my life when I realized I was called, and I was gifted, and God had given me great revelation, but I still lacked something. Now when I was younger I believed that having a calling from God and being gifted by God was all you needed. Then I began to learn some things by revelation and thought that was God's seal of approval upon me.

Even so, I could not get away from the fact that there were then, and there are now, lots of people in the world besides me who are called by God, have spiritual gifts, and enjoy an abundance of revelation. But God cannot trust them in any kind of a servant leadership capacity. They may have a title or a ministry but they are unqualified because they do not have the missing ingredient. I noticed they lacked something, and worse, I lacked the same thing. Eventually I discovered what everyone, including myself, is lacking.

What is the missing ingredient? The missing ingredient is LOVE.

Let me share something to illustrate what I mean. A pastor told me something that happened many years ago between him and his associate pastor. They worked together in the church but fortunately they were also good friends. He said his associate came to him one day with tears in his eyes and told him, "You're the best preacher and teacher of the Word I have ever heard in my life. But you just don't love people." When the pastor shared this story with me he had tears in his eyes, too. It was a powerful reminder to him, and an important lesson to us. We can be called and gifted and full of revelation and still fall short because we are not walking in love with people.

Now we could go to many examples of love demonstrated and love commanded in the New Testament. You know them as well as I do. But when I turn to this little obscure passage in II Corinthians 12 I find something mostly overlooked. Paul writes, "I will VERY GLADLY spend and be spent for you; though the more ABUNDANTLY I love you, the less I am loved." Now that is what qualifies a person. That is the missing ingredient.

Paul wrote this to the Corinthians. You know Paul had more trouble with the Corinthian church than all the others combined. Most people would have quit, but not Paul. Paul has the heart of a father. That is a real apostle. That is a real pastor. We know he was called, we know he was gifted, and we certainly know he had a depth of revelation. We could understand if he felt like he was wasting his time with Corinth and wanted to turn his attention elsewhere.

You see, that kind of thinking has the flesh all over it. I read something many years ago that I accepted at first as wisdom, but have since changed by mind. A man wrote, "Go where you are celebrated, not where you are tolerated." At the time I was feeling very unappreciated so I thought this was sound advice. But God has been gracious to me, and He has helped me to see that this attitude is the whole problem with "ministry" today. We love people who love us, and we serve people who serve us, and we thank people who thank us, and if you scratch my back then I'll scratch your back. What kind of Christianity is this? What if Paul only went where he was celebrated and avoided places where he was just tolerated? What a foolish statement, but this is the prevailing attitude among "ministers" today.

Paul gave us an example to follow. Don't just look at his calling and his gifting and his revelation. Look at his heart of love. He gave all – not just for the Lord, but for the Lord's people. And they were a most carnal, unappreciative bunch of people. Even so, the heart of a father is demonstrated. That is the reason he had authority. I tell you his authority was not in his title, his position, or his status as having founded the church. His authority was not in his calling, gift, or revelation. His authority was in the abundant love he showed.

Make no mistake: I am not there yet. I still struggle with how to be a good brother, much less a spiritual father with abundant love for everyone. I obviously have a long way to go, but now I see the missing ingredient and I am following after love. How about you?

You know, the days of a person just "showing up" to exercise their gift and do their little ministry event are just about over. I have been guilty of that, I think we all have either done it or seen others do it. Is that what Jesus has called us to do? Is that being an example? Hold some meetings, have some talks, shake hands and go home? It doesn't mean a thing if we are not loving one another. It is all tinkling brass and clanging cymbals.

Paul saw himself as a father caring for the needs of his children. He entered right into the heart of God, because that is exactly the way God sees it. That is why Paul was able to love them more even as they loved him less. There is a vacuum of that kind of leadership in the Body of Christ today. We have people who cannot even be good brothers and sisters and yet they aspire to be spiritual fathers and leaders, apostles and prophets and pastors and teachers. Instead of serving people WITH their gift they expect people to serve them BECAUSE of their gift. It is seen in things so seemingly insignificant as the pastor's reserved parking space right by the front door.

In recent months I have prayed, "God, take away my calling, take away my gifts, take away my revelation, but give me a heart of love." Really friends, we have plenty of gifted brothers and sisters. But where are the Pauls and the Peters and the Johns of our generation? Where are the spiritual fathers, the leaders, the elders, the ones giving a godly example to those who follow after? An example is most definitely being given, but all too often it is an example of what NOT to do.

Where are the ones who will very gladly spend and be spent in the service of God and of others – who will love abundantly even when they are not loved in return? One father is worth more than ten thousand teachers.

All you who are called and gifted, hear me. Love is the missing ingredient. Follow after love and the calling, the gifting, and the revelation will find its deepest and fullest expression.

The Missing Ingredient
Chip Brogden

http://www.watchman.net/articles/ingredient.html

"And I will very gladly spend and be spent for you; though the more abundantly I love you, the less I am loved" (II Corinthians 12:15).

Besides prayer, no other subject has been talked about more and practiced less than the subject of loving one another.

We all know we are supposed to love one another. We have heard it preached a thousand times. But there is a difference between knowing the Path and walking the Path.

I want to speak specifically to the issue of love as it relates to "ministry". That word "ministry" is a loaded word now, and we really need to question someone when they use that word so we can find out what they really mean. I think most people will agree that what passes for "ministry" these days is something very far removed from the ministry practiced in the New Testament. And I am not referring to some kind of method or technique that they practiced. The "missing ingredient" is not something so superficial as meeting in homes versus meeting in buildings. How far we have fallen to think that the secret of New Testament life is found in some way of conducting a meeting.

Leadership exists in the Bible, and leadership exists in the Church. There is no getting around that. Jesus showed us, both in word and in deed, that His idea of leadership is based on service to God and to others. The question we need to ask is what constitutes godly, Spirit-led, Christ-centered, servant leadership? What makes someone a spiritual father? What really qualifies someone as an apostle, prophet, evangelist, pastor, or teacher?

You might say the calling of God is what qualifies someone. Perhaps, but many are called and few are chosen. Many are called but they fail to respond to the call. You need more than a calling.

You might say the gift of God is what qualifies someone. Let me tell you something, brothers and sisters. Gifts no longer register much with me anymore. Gifted brothers and sisters are really a dime a dozen. I am just speaking frankly. Often I will meet people and come away thinking how gifted they are, but they leave me hollow inside. They have a lot of potential but I would not trust them to watch my dog much less watch over people's souls. Many of them claim to be in some kind of pastoral or prophetic or apostolic ministry. But that in and of itself does not qualify a person. I have seen gifted brothers and sisters with absolutely no wisdom, no maturity, and no spiritual discernment make a real mess of people's lives.

You might say revelation from God is what qualifies someone. I absolutely believe that revelation is a necessity for teaching others because you cannot point the way to a place you have never been. But revelation by itself does not qualify a person.

There came a time in my life when I realized I was called, and I was gifted, and God had given me great revelation, but I still lacked something. Now when I was younger I believed that having a calling from God and being gifted by God was all you needed. Then I began to learn some things by revelation and thought that was God's seal of approval upon me.

Even so, I could not get away from the fact that there were then, and there are now, lots of people in the world besides me who are called by God, have spiritual gifts, and enjoy an abundance of revelation. But God cannot trust them in any kind of a servant leadership capacity. They may have a title or a ministry but they are unqualified because they do not have the missing ingredient. I noticed they lacked something, and worse, I lacked the same thing. Eventually I discovered what everyone, including myself, is lacking.

What is the missing ingredient? The missing ingredient is LOVE.

Let me share something to illustrate what I mean. A pastor told me something that happened many years ago between him and his associate pastor. They worked together in the church but fortunately they were also good friends. He said his associate came to him one day with tears in his eyes and told him, "You're the best preacher and teacher of the Word I have ever heard in my life. But you just don't love people." When the pastor shared this story with me he had tears in his eyes, too. It was a powerful reminder to him, and an important lesson to us. We can be called and gifted and full of revelation and still fall short because we are not walking in love with people.

Now we could go to many examples of love demonstrated and love commanded in the New Testament. You know them as well as I do. But when I turn to this little obscure passage in II Corinthians 12 I find something mostly overlooked. Paul writes, "I will VERY GLADLY spend and be spent for you; though the more ABUNDANTLY I love you, the less I am loved." Now that is what qualifies a person. That is the missing ingredient.

Paul wrote this to the Corinthians. You know Paul had more trouble with the Corinthian church than all the others combined. Most people would have quit, but not Paul. Paul has the heart of a father. That is a real apostle. That is a real pastor. We know he was called, we know he was gifted, and we certainly know he had a depth of revelation. We could understand if he felt like he was wasting his time with Corinth and wanted to turn his attention elsewhere.

You see, that kind of thinking has the flesh all over it. I read something many years ago that I accepted at first as wisdom, but have since changed by mind. A man wrote, "Go where you are celebrated, not where you are tolerated." At the time I was feeling very unappreciated so I thought this was sound advice. But God has been gracious to me, and He has helped me to see that this attitude is the whole problem with "ministry" today. We love people who love us, and we serve people who serve us, and we thank people who thank us, and if you scratch my back then I'll scratch your back. What kind of Christianity is this? What if Paul only went where he was celebrated and avoided places where he was just tolerated? What a foolish statement, but this is the prevailing attitude among "ministers" today.

Paul gave us an example to follow. Don't just look at his calling and his gifting and his revelation. Look at his heart of love. He gave all - not just for the Lord, but for the Lord's people. And they were a most carnal, unappreciative bunch of people. Even so, the heart of a father is demonstrated. That is the reason he had authority. I tell you his authority was not in his title, his position, or his status as having founded the church. His authority was not in his calling, gift, or revelation. His authority was in the abundant love he showed.

Make no mistake: I am not there yet. I still struggle with how to be a good brother, much less a spiritual father with abundant love for everyone. I obviously have a long way to go, but now I see the missing ingredient and I am following after love. How about you?

You know, the days of a person just "showing up" to exercise their gift and do their little ministry event are just about over. I have been guilty of that, I think we all have either done it or seen others do it. Is that what Jesus has called us to do? Is that being an example? Hold some meetings, have some talks, shake hands and go home? It doesn't mean a thing if we are not loving one another. It is all tinkling brass and clanging cymbals.

Paul saw himself as a father caring for the needs of his children. He entered right into the heart of God, because that is exactly the way God sees it. That is why Paul was able to love them more even as they loved him less. There is a vacuum of that kind of leadership in the Body of Christ today. We have people who cannot even be good brothers and sisters and yet they aspire to be spiritual fathers and leaders, apostles and prophets and pastors and teachers. Instead of serving people WITH their gift they expect people to serve them BECAUSE of their gift. It is seen in things so seemingly insignificant as the pastor's reserved parking space right by the front door.

In recent months I have prayed, "God, take away my calling, take away my gifts, take away my revelation, but give me a heart of love." Really friends, we have plenty of gifted brothers and sisters. But where are the Pauls and the Peters and the Johns of our generation? Where are the spiritual fathers, the leaders, the elders, the ones giving a godly example to those who follow after? An example is most definitely being given, but all too often it is an example of what NOT to do.

Where are the ones who will very gladly spend and be spent in the service of God and of others - who will love abundantly even when they are not loved in return? One father is worth more than ten thousand teachers.

All you who are called and gifted, hear me. Love is the missing ingredient. Follow after love and the calling, the gifting, and the revelation will find its deepest and fullest expression.

Chip Brogden
http://www.watchman.net

(c)2005 Watchman.Net. Permission is granted for non-commercial (free) distribution provided this notice appears.

The Mud And Mire

Olivia Reitz Long

October 8, 2005
faithbuildersministries@yahoo.com

The Pit, the Mud and Mire, the Desperation and My Deliverance

> "I waited patiently for the Lord; He turned to me and heard my cry. He lifted me out of the slimy pit, out of the mud and mire; he set my feet on a Rock and gave me a firm place to stand. He put a new song in my mouth, a hymn of praise to our God. Many will see and fear and put their trust in the Lord." Psalm 40:1-3

My Beloved Faithful Ones, you have been in a desperate situation and a desperate time, tasting the mire and the desperation that My faithful ones have been and are living in and even many have lived in for most of their lives. For many now you have been in a pit so deep for years now that surely there is no way out but I say unto you, there is no pit so deep that your Lord is not deeper still. For many you say, it's as a living hell and your soul is screaming for relief from the pain and disappointment of it all. When you decided to walk this walk that was chosen, you did not expect to experience just "how wonderful and how awful" it could be at the same time. You experience both pain and the glorious presence of God. Yes, you have suffered, and still are suffering much loss and experienced much tragedy --- BUT --- you are now finding that you can enter into the "depths of God" that only those who have suffered know about.

I see My hurting daughters. I see and hear your cries and anguish of what happened in your childhood and adulthood. I know of how many of you have suffered in the "torture chambers of abuse." I see the healings that are needed. I see ALL that you are going through. I see My daughters who hesitate to even share what has been happening to you for you are filled with the shame and the stigma that many calling themselves My own would place upon you. Therefore, you retreat, sadly many retreating into an isolation even from the very ones who I have sent to help you and to stand with you. Desperation, you have tasted total desperation in ways you never dreamed possible. Beloved, you are not alone, think of infertile Hannah and what I did in her desperate situation Think of the outcast Rehab. Think of the unwed AND pregnant Tamar.. ponder about Tamar, what a glorious blessing I bestowed upon her! Think of the grieving sisters, Mary and Martha. Think of Esther. Think of all the hurting and desperate women in My Word and see again the wonderful blessings and deliverance that I brought to each of them.

My faithful sons and daughters...suffering, suffering for things that have happened to you, even from the ordinary everyday situations of life AS WELL AS the terrible "traumas" that have afflicted you. My Son, also suffered and when crucified, He went into the deepest pit, of the deepest mud and mire in order that you would know that He suffers not only WITH you but For you! As I brought deliverance to My Son from that pit, so I will bring deliverance to you.

Suffering, My Beloved sons and daughters, I see it all! I see the desire to give up - of the feeling of going under. You have tasted what My Faithful Ones have been going through, those who have said "here am I, send me." You have experienced what many are living under and through this I have been equipping you to minister to those - they are the downcast. Just as My Son took on the sins of the world, so you, My Beloved, so you have tasted and taken on desperation and as you have experienced the desperation, so you will experience My deliverance of this desperate situation. All that you have gone through, this is your testimony and it will enable you to minister to those I will send you to, others who will be brought out of the pit, the mud and the mire and the desperation.

If you could see the whole picture as I do, you would see that My hand has been in your situation the entire time. You have wondered how you have made it this far, know how, My Beloved, it's because of Me in you and with you and My hand of protection upon you.

I have called you, continue in obedience and faith. Have I forgotten you? Did I forget My Son? You are a joint heir, therefore, I cannot forget the ones I have chosen. Be strong and courageous for you will possess the land and all it's riches. The enemy is defeated, you will take back all that he has stolen from you and more. I have declared it! You are the victor though My Son. Be ready, be expectant for I will be sending you out to help all of My hurting ones around the world and they will know that 'you know' what they have been going through and they will be lifted out of the pit, out of the mud and mire and desperation by your Lord and Savior, Christ Jesus.

The Ministry of Death

Priscilla Van Sutphin

Jan 24th, 2005 11:11 pm

All today the Lord has been confirming the call to death to self in what I've been reading. Then tonight He said " Ministry of death".

Ps 102:19-21 AMP For He looked down from the height of His sanctuary, from heaven did the Lord behold the earth, 20 To hear the sighing and groaning of the prisoner, to loose those who are appointed to death, 21 So that men may declare the name of the Lord in Zion and His praise in Jerusalem.

2 Cor 4:5-12 AMP
5 For what we preach is not ourselves but Jesus Christ as Lord, and ourselves [merely] as your servants (slaves) for Jesus' sake.
6 For God Who said, Let light shine out of darkness, has shone in our hearts so as [to beam forth] the Light for the illumination of the knowledge of the majesty and glory of God [as it is manifest in the Person and is revealed] in the face of Jesus Christ (the Messiah). [Gen 1:3.]
7 However, we possess this precious treasure [the divine Light of the Gospel] in [frail, human] vessels of earth, that the grandeur and exceeding greatness of the power may be shown to be from God and not from ourselves.
8 We are hedged in (pressed) on every side [troubled and oppressed in every way], but not cramped or crushed; we suffer embarrassments and are perplexed and unable to find a way out, but not driven to despair;
9 We are pursued (persecuted and hard driven), but not deserted [to stand alone]; we are struck down to the ground, but never struck out and destroyed;
10 Always carrying about in the body the liability and exposure to the same putting to death that the Lord Jesus suffered, so that the [resurrection] life of Jesus also may be shown forth by and in our bodies.
11 For we who live are constantly [experiencing] being handed over to death for Jesus' sake, that the [resurrection] life of Jesus also may be evidenced through our flesh which is liable to death. 12 Thus death is actively at work in us, but [it is in order that our] life [may be actively at work] in you.

" Many of you have cried out to have the ability to do miracles and to raise the dead ! And I am about to release those miracles more and more. The one who is willing to go all the way with Christ is the one to whom much is given. When much is given, much is required. Hence many have been going through the dying process. Dying to self that is ! Dying to the OLD MAN.
And learning to live with ME - Learning to trust in ME fully – learning to lay down your lives for the sake of others. This is a lost paradigm in some circles of My church. But it is about to be revived.

You need the wisdom to walk in MY WAYS. That means you MUST die…the grain that dies and falls to the ground will bear much seed for harvesting.
I am separating I have said. I am separating you from everything that comes before ME. I am breaking down all idolatry to man and his ways.
I am tearing away from you the fleshly nature. I am delivering you from ALL evil…if you are willing. I don't force anyone. I answer your prayers for release. I answer your heart that wants to be like ME.

If you want to bring life, then you must decrease to the point of death to self, so I can be brought forth in you, and in others. I will do it, if you are just willing. You can't DO it yourself anyway. Apart from ME, you can do nothing. Your will must be conformed to MY will. That means you must die to all you will, and live for what I WILL. Are you willing to pay the cost for apostleship ? There are many who say they are, but in their hearts cannot."

1 John 3:20 AMP Whenever our hearts in [tormenting] self-accusation make us feel guilty and condemn us. [For we are in God's hands.] For He is above and greater than our consciences (our hearts), and He knows (perceives and understands) everything [nothing is hidden from Him].

"If you are just willing, then I will make your heart and will, and mind conform to MY heart, will and mind. But you must be willing of your own volition. The groaning of your heart is the dying that is within it. There is a dying I am bringing you to, so that you will LIVE abundantly and without perplexsion, without striving and self centeredness. I have promised you abundant life and I am bringing it about as you yield yourselves to ME.
Don't grow weary in the lessons for I am here for you and desire that you live out the fullness of the call on your lives. And in this hour it is necessity to be content with the things that you have – earthly things, and the things of this world will die away, but the LIFE you have in ME will NEVER DIE. I AM perfect. And in ME, you are made perfect - ONLY in ME ! You will NEVER reach perfection through striving. You will never reach perfection through others. It is only through communion and union with ME that all will be accomplished.

I AM everlasting love and kindness. I AM the Way the TRUTH and the LIFE. It is only through ME, that you can have all you need to get through this life. No amount of striving to please Me will do it. Without HOLINESS no one will see God says My Word. The way of holiness, the narrow path is through ME. I AM the WAY. Come away with ME and find your true life in ME."

Rom 8:13 NKJV For if you live according to the flesh you will die; but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live.

Rom 8:37-39 NKJV For I am persuaded that neither death nor life, nor angels nor principalities nor powers, nor things present nor things to come, 39 nor height nor depth, nor any other created thing, shall be able to separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

2 Cor 1:9-11 NKJV Yes, we had the sentence of death in ourselves, that we should not trust in ourselves but in God who raises the dead, 10 who delivered us from so great a death, and does deliver us; in whom we trust that He will still deliver us,

2 Cor 2:15-16 NKJV For we are to God the fragrance of Christ among those who are being saved and among those who are perishing. 16 To the one we are the aroma of death leading to death, and to the other the aroma of life leading to life. And who is sufficient for these things?

2 Cor 6:9-12 AMP [We are treated] as unknown and ignored [by the world], and [yet we are] well-known and recognized [by God and His people]; as dying, and yet here we are alive; as chastened by suffering and [yet] not killed; 10 As grieved and mourning, yet [we are] always rejoicing; as poor [ourselves, yet] bestowing riches on many; as having nothing, and [yet in reality] possessing all things. 11 Our mouth is open to you, Corinthians [we are hiding nothing, keeping nothing back], and our heart is expanded wide [for you]! [Isa 60:5; Ezek 33:22.] 12 There is no lack of room for you in [our hearts], but you lack room in your own affections [for us].

Zech 11:8-12 AMP
8 And I cut off the three shepherds [the civil authorities, the priests, and the prophets] in one month, for I was weary and impatient with them, and they also loathed me. [Jer 2:8,26; 18:18.]
9 So I [Zechariah] said, I will not be your shepherd. What is to die, let it die, and what is to be destroyed, let it be destroyed; and let the survivors devour one another's flesh.
10 And I took my staff, Beauty or Grace, and broke it in pieces to show that I was annulling the covenant or agreement which I had made with all the peoples [not to molest them].

11 So the covenant was annulled on that day, and thus the most wretched of the flock and the traffickers in the sheep who were watching me knew (recognized and understood) that it was truly the word of the Lord.
12 And I said to them, If it seems just and right to you, give me my wages; but if not, withhold them. So they weighed out for my price thirty pieces of silver.

Col 1:24-29 NKJV Sacrificial Service for Christ
I now rejoice in my sufferings for you, and fill up in my flesh what is lacking in the afflictions of Christ, for the sake of His body, which is the church, 25 of which I became a minister according to the stewardship from God which was given to me for you, to fulfill the word of God,
Col 1:24 AMP [Even] now I rejoice in the midst of my sufferings on your behalf. And in my own person I am making up whatever is still lacking and remains to be completed [on our part] of Christ's afflictions, for the sake of His body, which is the church.
Col 1:24 Darby Now, I rejoice in sufferings for you, and I fill up that which is behind of the tribulations of Christ in my flesh, for his body, which is the assembly;

1 Peter 3:18-19 NKJV Christ's Suffering and Ours
For Christ also suffered once for sins, the just for the unjust, that He might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh but made alive by the Spirit, 19 by whom also He went and preached to the spirits in prison,

1 John 3:14-15 NKJV We know that we have passed from death to life, because we love the brethren. He who does not love his brother abides in death. 15 Whoever hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him.

James 5:20 NKJV let him know that he who turns a sinner from the error of his way will save a soul from death and cover a multitude of sins.

Heb 9:15 NKJV And for this reason He is the Mediator of the new covenant, by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions under the first covenant, that those who are called may receive the promise of the eternal inheritance.

Heb 9:16-17 NKJV The Mediator's Death Necessary
For where there is a testament, there must also of necessity be the death of the testator. 17 For a testament is in force after men are dead, since it has no power at all while the testator lives.

2 Tim 1:10-11 NKJV but has now been revealed by the appearing of our Savior Jesus Christ, who has abolished death and brought life and immortality to light through the gospel,

Col 3:5-7 NKJV Therefore put to death your members which are on the earth: fornication, uncleanness, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry. 6 Because of these things the wrath of God is coming upon the sons of disobedience, 7 in which you yourselves once walked when you lived in them.

Phil 3:9-11 NKJV that I may know Him and the power of His resurrection, and the fellowship of His sufferings, being conformed to His death, 11 if, by any means, I may attain to the resurrection from the dead.
www.upstreamca.org
tearsofthefather@comcast.net

The Midnight Hour
Priscilla Van Sutphin

Jan 27th, 2005 12:00

A friend Judy Peloquin wrote and said this week she keeps hearing midnight over and over again. And as I asked the Lord if He wanted to say something…He spoke:

“The midnight hour” so I looked up scriptures and asked Him what He wanted to say about it…

“The Bridegroom awakens at the midnight hour looking for His bride. Why the midnight hour ? Because at last He is called to finish the robe for His bride. He will clothe here in righteousness and bedeck her with jewels, making her the jewels in His crown. She will shine before all those who look upon her, and they will be jealous, who refused to come in to the chambers to be adorned. Those who were too busy, those who were too wanton for the things of this world will be amazed at what I will do. The nations will bow down before the display of My precious bride, as I put the finishing touches on her and display her to the world.

Who are these who fly like a cloud, and like doves to their roosts ? Are they not the bride of My Son who learn to soar in the heavenlies, who have come to the chambers of their King and have been clothed with gold of ophir and perfumed with the finest oils ? I have prepared a wonderful surprise for My beloveds that no one can take from them. I alone am LORD and I ALONE know all they have been through for the sake of My name. I will do all My heart purposes to do, and the nations will bow down, and all those who hated you for My name’s sake will bow down and know that I have loved you !

The King of Kings is about to display His glory as never before. He is longing for His bride to see all He wants her to see. Come into My chambers He is calling to you, that you may behold My glory and receive My love. I am delighted by you, and I will grant you like I did Esther, whatever you wish in your heart of hearts that is one with My heart. I see many struggling and striving, but I have called you to REST in Me. I am eager to perform My mighty act ! I am eager to see My Son arise.

Remember that I told you, that when My glory comes, with it comes judgment ! It will break your heart to see the shaking that comes, but you will also see great miracles, great salvations, great glory all over the earth.

Do not neglect your time with me. For when this awakening comes, will come a great tsunami of peoples into the church. Fear will tempt you. You will feel overwhelmed by the numbers. PREPARE your hearts for HARVEST.

In harvest you must separate the grain from the shaft, you must clean the fruits and vegetables so they are edible. Everyone who is willing will receive all they need to help in this harvest. All members of the body will be necessary. There is no need for competition and no room for jealousy in the KINGDOM. Cleanse your hearts NOW from all unworthy suspicions towards brothers and sisters. Do not be caught pointing the finger. Remove the log from your own eyes, and you will be able to see more clearly, the measure of GRACE and COMPASSION I HAVE FOR ALL WHO ARE WILLING TO COME TO ME.

Let ME do the judging. Be conduits of My love and you will see great miracles. Miracles come through MY compassion, from being united to MY heart and MY love for the one you see before you. Ask ME, and I will show you all you need to know. I will give you the compassion if you ask for it.

You have but to ask for anything you need, as I AM THE RESOURCE of all you need.

LOVE ONE ANOTHER AS I HAVE LOVED YOU.

BY THIS ALL MEN WILL KNOW YOU BELONG TO ME.”

Ruth 3:8-9 NKJV Now it happened at midnight that the man was startled, and turned himself; and there, a woman was lying at his feet. 9 And he said, "Who are you?" So she answered, "I am Ruth, your maidservant. Take your maidservant under your wing, for you are a close relative."

Isa 61:10-11 NKJV I will greatly rejoice in the LORD, My soul shall be joyful in my God; For He has clothed me with the garments of salvation, He has covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decks himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorns herself with her jewels. 11 For as the earth brings forth its bud, as the garden causes the things that are sown in it to spring forth, so the Lord GOD will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

Mal 3:17 NKJV "They shall be Mine," says the LORD of hosts, "On the day that I make them My jewels. And I will spare them as a man spares his own son who serves him."

Zech 9:16 NKJV
The LORD their God will save them in that day, as the flock of His people.

For they shall be like the jewels of a crown, Lifted like a banner over His land —

17 For how great is its goodness and how great its beauty! Grain shall make the young men thrive, and new wine the young women.

Isa 60:8 NKJV "Who are these who fly like a cloud, and like doves to their roosts?

Ps 68:13 NKJV Though you lie down among the sheepfolds, You will be like the wings of a dove covered with silver, and her feathers with yellow gold."

Ps 119:62 NKJV At midnight I will rise to give thanks to You, because of Your righteous judgments.

Hag 2:6-9 NKJV "For thus says the LORD of hosts: 'Once more (it is a little while) I will shake heaven and earth, the sea and dry land; 7 and I will shake all nations, and they shall come to the Desire of All Nations, and I will fill this temple with glory,' says the LORD of hosts. 8 'The silver is Mine, and the gold is Mine,' says the LORD of hosts. 9 'The glory of this latter temple shall be greater than the former,' says the LORD of hosts. 'And in this place I will give peace,' says the LORD of hosts."

Matt 25:6-10 NKJV "And at midnight a cry was heard: 'Behold, the bridegroom is coming; go out to meet him!' 7 Then all those virgins arose and trimmed their lamps. 8 And the foolish said to the wise, 'Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out.' 9 But the wise answered, saying, 'No, lest there should not be enough for us and you; but go rather to those who sell, and buy for yourselves.'

10 And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with him to the wedding; and the door was shut.

Mark 13:35-37 NKJV Watch therefore, for you do not know when the master of the house is coming — in the evening, at midnight, at the crowing of the rooster, or in the morning — 36 lest, coming suddenly, he find you sleeping. 37 And what I say to you, I say to all: Watch!"

Luke 11:5-13 AMP And He said to them, Which of you who has a friend will go to him at midnight and will say to him, Friend, lend me three loaves [of bread], 6 For a friend of mine who is on a journey has just come, and I have nothing to put before him; 7 And he from within will answer, Do not disturb me; the door is now closed, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot get up and supply you [with anything] ? 8 I tell you, although he will not get up and supply him anything because he is his friend, yet because of his shameless persistence and insistence he will get up and give him as much as he needs. 9 So I say to you, Ask and keep on asking and it shall be given you; seek and keep on seeking and you shall find; knock and keep on knocking and the door shall be opened to you.

10 For everyone who asks and keeps on asking receives; and he who seeks and keeps on seeking finds; and to him who knocks and keeps on knocking, the door shall be opened.

11 What father among you, if his son asks for a loaf of bread, will give him a stone; or if he asks for a fish, will instead of a fish give him a serpent?

12 Or if he asks for an egg, will give him a scorpion?

13 If you then, evil as you are, know how to give good gifts [gifts that are to their advantage] to your children, how much more will your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask and continue to ask Him!

Ex 11:4-6 NKJV Then Moses said, "Thus says the LORD: 'About midnight I will go out into the midst of Egypt; 5 and all the firstborn in the land of Egypt shall die, from the firstborn of Pharaoh who sits on his throne, even to the firstborn of the female servant who is behind the handmill, and all the firstborn of the animals. 6 Then there shall be a great cry throughout all the land of Egypt, such as was not like it before, nor shall be like it again.

The Minister Of Defense

Conrad Lampan

I had a dream yesterday night, with very unusual contents. It was one of those dreams that are so strange that you think there should be a hidden meaning to it. I want to share it with you and also to share the interpretation the Lord gave me.

I was somewhere in the West Coast with some friends discussing some news that have come a few hours ago. The news was that I had been chosen to be the Minister of Defense of the present administration.

In the dream I was excited but even more than excited I was frightened, almost freaking out, and a lot of questions kept coming on why, what. It was a rather highly unlikely situation. Although in the past I was involved in politics in my own country that was way back in the past, so this seemed to be simply a unrelated even weird dream, most especially being in a foreign country.

However, I was asking questions to my friends and to myself. This position would mean that I need to communicate in a very special fluent way and being hearing impaired I was not able to. This was one of the questions. Then another was how I can be the Minister of Defense of the nation if I am a foreigner? Someone has made a mistake here.

Moreover, I am a preacher now, not a politician or not even qualified as a defense advisor or the like, so even in my dream I was aware that there was something out of picture, as things like this simply cannot happen.

When I thought about it and somewhat accepted it as a fact, still in the dream, I asked myself another question: what can I offer? Looking at all what I explained above, there was not much that I could really offer the administration. So the final question was actually "why me?"

I accepted the position, and was getting ready to go not knowing what was going to happen and how I was going to cope with it all.

Then I woke up.

I had been thinking about this dream and praying for revelation all morning until a moment ago when God suddenly shouted out:

THE CHURCH IS THE REAL MINISTER OF DEFENSE OF THE NATIONS.
I tuned up my ears to hear all that He was saying, and here it is, I will try to convey it as succinctly and clearly as I can:

THE UNLIKELY
God always uses unlikely people to fulfill His purposes. And He says that the real defense of the nations does not lie within the scope of human strategies but rather in the "unlikelies" of His supernatural power. He says, just get ready because you are the one who He will use.

THE RESPONSIBLE

The Church IS responsible for the defense of our nations. We are responsible for what we let happen when we do not take our position as "ministers of defense". However, this is not to be achieved by lobbying physical capitols, but rather by lobbying and literally storming the heavenlies in first place!

THE AVAILABLE

What I can offer, anyway? The Lord is saying "you have much to offer, you have the actual defense of the nations in your hands because you can use My power". We do have much more to offer than we could ever imagine.

The Pastor responsible for the first crusades that lead to the revival in Argentina was asked what they did to have such a revival and he replied simply "we made ourselves available to God. God is telling you today, it is not your power; it is your availability and My power.

THE DESPISED

God says that He is going to use those who have been despised. In fact this is not new, as we already read in the Word that "he uses the despised of the world, what is not to put to shame what be". And who have been the despised in our nations? They are the native peoples, and the foreigners, immigrants that have been either misused or mistreated or both. You could add to the list a few: the poor, the disabled, the no names.

THE OUTCAST

Above all there stands the big despised: the Church itself. The nation has despised the Church, but in the end it is the Church that will stand up and out offering the only possible help: the power of God! The nation that has "cast out" God, and has despised and marginalized the Church will come to the Church for help. Amidst of troubles it will be like when Israel was about to leave Egypt "There was darkness in all the land of Egypt...but in the houses of the Israelites there was light"

THE OUTCOME

In my dream I did not have the end of the picture, as I did not see the outcome of it all. But I can see in the Spirit the outcome of the Church taking its position as Minister of Defense of the nation: "If My people, upon whom My Name is called, shall humble . . . I will hear, I will forgive, and I will heal their nation".

Be Blessed and Be a Blessing

Conrad Lampan
www.conradlampan.org www.revivalstudies.org

The Measure Of Maturity

Francis Frangipane

(www.frangipane.org)

It has been my experience that too many of us, as Christians, have been confused about love. We have assumed that attaining the look of love was the same reality as actually being transformed into a loving person. I'm not saying that we have consciously planned on being shallow or noncommital, but that somehow we have settled on the cosmetic instead of the real.

We have developed an "altar" ego, a look for church that lasts, at best, just a few minutes longer than the church service itself. All we have really accomplished is to perfect the art of acting like Christians.

I think we have yet to learn to consistently walk according to the standards of Christ's love. I hear how quick some are to speak about the flaws of those they supposedly love, and I wonder, what kind of love demeans an individual behind their back? When I witness unloving words from a Christian's mouth, I am reminded that we have much to learn about Jesus and what it means to follow Him.

David prayed, "Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in thy sight, O LORD, my rock and my Redeemer" (Ps 19:14).

Our words are the by-product of our meditations. Whatever is brooding in our hearts will eventually ascend to our lips. If we have unforgiveness prowling within, our conversations will be barbed with negative comments; even in moments of light-hearted banter, if we are harboring bitterness, it will slice through our speech. Jesus taught that "the mouth speaks out of that which fills the heart" (Matt 12:34). We cannot fix our words without first fixing our hearts.

When the Lord judges us for our words, it is because He is seeking to purify our hearts. True, the heart is deceitful above all things and it is difficult to know our own iniquity. Yet if we simply pause and listen to how many of our words are without love, we can track them back to the real problem: loveless hearts.

A New Anointing

Christians are in the fire of God. The Holy Spirit is purging the church from negative chatter. A fresh anointing is at hand where God's people shall speak with the character necessary to represent Him. What the Lord told the prophet Jeremiah He is speaking also to us:

"Therefore, thus says the LORD, 'If you return, then I will restore you -- before Me you will stand; and if you extract the precious from the worthless, You will become My spokesman'" (Jer 15:19).

Let us pray that as God exposes our lack of love a time will soon come when we will pray with credibility: "You have tried my heart; You have visited me by night; You have tested me and You find nothing; I have purposed that my mouth will not transgress" (Ps 17:3).

Do we see this? God judges the quality of our entire lives by the soundness and substance of our words. Thus Jesus warned, "But I tell you that every careless word that people speak, they shall give an accounting for it in the day of judgment" (Matt 12:36). Let us consider Christ's warning soberly. He continued, "For by your words you will be justified, and by your words you will be condemned" (Matt 12:37). James adds, "Judgment will be merciless to him who has shown no mercy; mercy triumphs over judgment" (James 2:13). I have a holy fear in my heart concerning these warnings. I know that if I am merciless toward others, God will be merciless toward me.

Character Counts

Sometimes I think we try to mask our critical attitude by calling it "discernment." The fact is, most of what manifests in our discussions about others is simply judging after the flesh. If we truly love an individual, we will be as loving in their absence as we are in their presence.

Jesus said His disciples would be known by their love. Paul said that the love of Christ is supposed to control us, which means it is the nature and discipline of love that keeps us from joining in verbal attacks or even subtle criticisms. You see, it takes character to avoid being sucked into gossip and criticisms. There is a high road we can take. It starts with prayer, it extends to grace, it is slow to speak, it approaches an individual with a meek heart, it talks privately with the person; it is forgiving when wronged and patient with the spiritually immature.

Of course, if someone is involved with criminal activity or seriously endangering others through their sin, we must love the greater community and take steps to protect the innocent. There is a time to discipline or even publicly expose sin (Matt 18:15-17), but it's after we exhaust other means of correction -- and even then, our motive should communicate our hope of redemption and not allow our disclosure to become a smokescreen for revenge. In all things, love must guide our words.

Child's Eye-View of Love

Recently my youngest daughter, Eden, sent me a list of quotes that came from little children. Each child was asked to describe what love meant to them. Their answers were, at times, quite intriguing. One in particular, from a four year old boy named Billy, has stuck with me. He said, "When someone loves you, the way they say your name is different. You just know that your name is safe in their mouth."

That thought seems to say it all: "When someone loves you . . . your name is safe in their mouth." Behold this clarity of vision as love is defined by a little child. When we truly walk in Christ's love, those around us will be safe -- and others will see the love of Christ that controls us.

Beloved, to walk in covering love is to show ourselves truly acquainted with Christ. Let us ask God, "Father, show me my heart. Is Your love ruling, even in the unseen areas of my life? Are the names of others safe in my mouth?"

The Marriage of the Word and the Spirit

Shawn Bolz

Martin Luther and the Wittenberg Door

I had a vision of a hand with a hammer in it. With violence in its strokes, the hand was nailing a paper to a large door. I looked at the paper and heard a loud noise that sounded like an explosion that shook the entire heavens.

As I was observing this scene, I remembered Martin Luther nailing his thesis to the Church door in Wittenberg, Germany, on October 31st in the early 1500's. These 95 theses carried the theme that we are not justified by the Church but by faith, and that we all had the God-given authority to have our own relationship with God. The main fruit of this was that Martin Luther was able to print the Bible for every one to have the opportunity of reading it; the common people were empowered to read the logos Word for themselves.

Since the early church, never had the entire world changed so much. It was not revival of God's people or a few saved in one church; all of society began to change as people were able to understand who they are to God. It was a reformation of identity and the protestant Church came out of this incredible dynamic. It affected art, music, science, business, politics, and, of course, the Church. Nothing went unaffected by the great revelation of God being poured out.

A Thesis is Again Being Nailed to the Door of Every Church

I saw a paper being nailed to a door in my vision, just like the one Martin Luther nailed to the door in Wittenberg, but this one, although similar, was different. If Martin Luther's read in theme like this: "All people shall have access to the Bible; to have their own identity in God through reading His Word and no one, not even a priest, can get in the way of this . . . " Then this new thesis was themed with a similar message but about the Spirit: "All people shall have access to the Spirit of God; to have their own identity in relationship to Heaven by hearing the voice of God, and no one can interfere with this spiritual heritage . . . "

This paper I saw was the release of the Spirit of Revelation to the common person on the earth. It was like Joel saw in Joel 2:28, with the Spirit of God released on all flesh. This is available to our generation; a relationship to heaven and Jesus. As God empowers His people with a Spirit of Revelation to have the Logos and the Rhema, there is again going to be a change in all society that transpires.

The Marriage of the Word and the Spirit

I believe what a well-known prophet prophesied in 1989 about this end-time mandate is essential to understand now. He prophesied that God is going to restore the Rhema word so there will again be a marriage between the Logos and the Rhema. Furthermore, it is going to bring the greatest revival the world has ever seen. The enemy would love for us to disregard or forget these powerful declarations prophesied in light of the difficulties experienced by several high profile prophetic people. However, we need to hear this message more now than ever.

A Divine Frustration

There is a disinterest and even frustration in people's hearts towards the prophetic ministry right now. We have had several accusations against our own ministry on a level we have not had in years. One day, while asking the Lord about this, He spoke to me and said, "The reason why these letters and communications are being spread and have found such a broad audience is because there is a root of disappointment in My people towards prophetic ministry and its ministers. I am allowing frustration within people's hearts so that they will be hungry to have their own life of revelation and not exalt ministries to do it for them. I am a jealous God and I will not let the main source of their revelation be from a man, no matter how much I love that ministry."

God wants each one of us to have a prophetic journey and a life of revelation birthed from His heart. This does not negate the need for the prophetic ministry but enhances it. We need prophets, but we can not live out of an unhealthy desire for them to replace our need for our own revelation. The way that most of the church treats the prophetic right now is not a function of relationship with the Kingdom; but instead we are allowing a few prophetic ministries to hold a position that God wants to be common in the body of Christ . . . that all of His people will have revelation and therefore prophesy.

God is Judging the Prophetic Ministry on the Earth

God is presently judging ministries of revelation, not because He is upset with us, but because he wants to make us better. It is His kindness not to leave us where we are. It's easy to get discouraged when we see many are being disciplined, but if you see God's heart of love, you will not feel like the sky is falling but that His heart is more present. Jesus longs for a corporate people who will cry out on earth with revelation of His heart and Word. He loves the prophetic ministry and is calling it higher. The fruit of this will far outweigh the discouragement some feel in the process.

The Modern Day Printing Press

In Martin Luther's day the printing press was inspired by God in technology to spread the Word quickly. The Bible was given into the hands of every human who wanted it, and many other books were quickly distributed which caused world wide change as the Logos was given back to the body.

In our day God has invented the internet, television, radio, and movies. He has a goal for each one of these mediums to be used as broadcasters of His Rhema and Logos words. He allowed these inventions so He can get glory from them. Many Christians protest these very powerful communication networks because they are frustrated with the materials being put out by them. Nevertheless, the most powerful protests will be when we overtake them because we have such revelation of Jesus that we begin to use them to broadcast His name all of over the earth with fresh manna from heaven. This is our portion.

Do You Want a Visitation?

Has your heart come to a place where you don't want another prophetic word from someone else? Have you come to the place that you just long to see Jesus and hear from Him yourself? Do you want a visitation of Him alone? This is mature hunger, and it's being given all over the world right now.

In John 17, Jesus cries out to God: "Father, I want them to be with me where I am! I want them to see My Glory."

He wants you to be with Him, to know Him intimately and to hear His voice. In this most powerful prayer of the Bible, He expresses His longing for you to know Him with full knowledge and full understanding that can only come through the Spirit and the Word being married.

Whenever your heart groans to encounter Him, remember this: He wants it more than you do. Will God deny Himself?

WhiteDove Ministries
www.WhiteDoveMinistries.org

The Moment of Time We're In

Jessica Miller

September 24, 2005

Today, while praying and pondering the natural disasters the United States is experiencing, I heard thunder, and I saw an enormous angel with a sword and a ruler (to measure with). He was very ominous. I saw Him go to New Orleans, then Galveston, and then to Houston. He cast the ruler into each city.
Next, He went to Southern California and cast the ruler down. The ruler seemed to cover a region, rather than a city. The angel then went north and cast a ruler over Northern California. Next, He went up to northern Oregon and Washington and cast the ruler to the ground. Once again, this seemed like a region rather then a specific city.

I asked the Lord what was happening, and He showed me Joshua 5:13-15. In this passage, Joshua was about to lead the children of Israel into battle to destroy Jericho. Joshua looked up and saw a man opposite him with His sword drawn in His hand.
Joshua asked Him "Are You for us or for our adversaries?" He replied, "No, but as Commander of the Lord, I have now come."

Joshua's response was two fold:
1. He fell down (humbled himself) and worshipped.
2. He asked, "What does the Lord say to his servant?" (willingness to hear God).
Although Jericho was to be completely destroyed, one woman's response in acknowledging the Lord and what He was doing, not only saved her, it also saved all those who aligned themselves with her in a place of designated protection. She (Rahab) hung a red cord (representative of the blood of Jesus Christ) out her window. When destruction came to the city, she and all those who were with her were spared because of the red cord.

What an amazing picture this is of God's mercy, protection, and provision to those of faith, and even to those who align themselves with the righteous.

Next, the Lord showed me the ruler the Angel had cast down and Malachi 3:18:
"Then you shall again discern between the righteous and the wicked, between the one that serves God and one who does not serve Him."
The ruler that the Angel cast down seemed to release events, situations, and truth that will make it very clear who is for the Lord and who is not. Malachi 4:1-6 is both sobering and comforting. It speaks of "The day of the Lord that will burn like an oven. And all the proud, yes, all who do wickedly will be stubble. And the day that is coming shall burn them up."

But on the other hand, at the same time that judgment is occurring, Malachi 4:2 is an awesome promise to those who fear the Lord:
1. The Sun of righteousness shall arise with healing in His wings (Wholeness)
2. They shall go out (liberty)
3. Grow fat like a stall fed calf (provision)
4. They shall trample the wicked (effective authority and power)

The following verses in Malachi 4 are a wonderful guarantee for those who are hearers and doers of the Word of the Lord. The Spirit of Elijah, the prophet, will be sent BEFORE the great and dreadful day of the Lord. This is a promise of a fantastic release of reconciliation, as well as a mandate to BE RECONCILED, lest the Lord come and strike the earth with a curse.

Though we are facing almost unbelievable times, there is a 'ROCK SOLID PROMISE' of great blessing for those who are on the side of the Lord. He is calling us to faith, repentance, and expectation of the promise and the power and the protection of His blood. . . to us and to those we are interceding for.

Let us remember Rehab, believe and obey, and "HANG THE RED CORD OUT OF OUR WINDOW, FOR OURSELVES, AND FOR THOSE WHO WE ARE PRAYING FOR!"

By Jessica Miller
The Elijah List
Email: jmiller@elijahlist.net

The Message of Zephaniah

Tracie Hall

Jan 10, 2005
(To Those Who Have Ears, Let Him Hear...)
Tracie Hall, Heartcry, www.heartcrymin.org

The trumpet of the Lord is sounding even louder. Where spiritual discernment abounds in the spiritual ears of those who inquire of the Lord, the message He gives is resoundingly clear; the day of His wrath is soon approaching. God's day is at hand; and there are many who are not listening to the warning given. This day is soon to come upon us; a day in which God will greatly intervene in human affairs. Sin must clearly be punished or God wouldn't be just. Secure and careless people will be dealt with. They are secure in the sense that they say in their heart, the Lord will not do good, neither will he do evil; that is, they deny both his administration of rewards and punishments. But in the day of the Lord's judgment, it will become clear that those who perish, will fall a sacrifice to Divine justice for breaking God's law, and because they have no interest by faith in the Christ Jesus' atoning sacrifice.

This day of the Lord is very near; it is a day of God's wrath, wrath to the utmost. It will be a day of trouble and distress to sinners and hypocrites who profess to know God and yet in their hearts serve Satan. It is not be wise for them to try the patience of God. What is a man profited if he gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? And what shall a man give in exchange for his soul? Let us flee from the wrath to come, and choose the good part that shall never be taken from us; then we shall be prepared for every event; nothing shall separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

There is also a warning to the nations who have rejected God, that have no desire toward Him, is not desirous of his favor and grace, and has no mind to repent and reform. On the day of God's coming wrath He will justly say, Depart from me. However it is not God's will that any should perish, but that all should come to the saving knowledge of God through Christ Jesus. He is saying to the elect church, "Seek the Lord all ye meek of the earth which have wrought his judgment, seek righteousness, seek meekness; it may be that you shall be hid in the day of the LORD's anger (Zeph. 2:3)."

To those who would inquire of the Lord and turn to Him with a repentant heart, they are the ones that are ever humble and dependant on Him; not trusting in themselves or their possessions; and He has promised to save them from this day. They will be hidden safely in Him on the day of His wrath. God has said that He will restore their fortunes (Zeph. 2:7), eliminate their enemies (Zeph. 3:8), increase their territory (Zeph. 1:13; 2:7,9) give them peace (Zeph. 3:12) bring them salvation (Zeph. 3:14-20).

God's people will be righteous in our treatment of one another, loving one another as we truly love God, and are drawn to Him by that love in Christ Jesus.

We know what God's decree will bring against impenitent sinners, therefore it highly concerns all to repent in the accepted time. How careful should we all be to seek peace with God, before the Holy Spirit withdraws from us, or ceases to strive with us; before the day of grace is over, or our lives; before our everlasting state is determined! Let the poor, despised, and afflicted, seek the Lord, and seek to understand and keep his commandments better, that they may be more humbled for their sins. The foremost hope of deliverance from national judgments rests on the hinges of prayer.

Remember, God is full of gentleness (Zeph. 2:7, 3:17), joy (Zeph. 3:17), and grace (Zeph. 3:9-20), but He is also a God of justice (Zeph. 1:8,9; Zeph. 1:15, 18).

We must trust God to work out His plan in these coming days, and:

Seek Him through a close and intimate relationship with Him. Truly know Him as the Father He is to the righteous in Christ Jesus. (Zeph. 2:3) Be meek and humble in heart and die to selfish desires. (Zeph. 2:3b) Simply stand, and wait on the Lord to carry out His restoration of righteousness through justice, and be sure that you are among the righteous. (Zeph. 3:8) Pray and intercede for the elect of God continuously.

The Most Startling Development in World History

Jim Rutz

WORLDNETDAILY - by Jim Rutz - May 24, 2005 - As I was leaving New Delhi in 2003, I called an Indian friend, Rodrick Gilbert, who leads a network of house churches with 26,000 former Hindus.

"Rod," I said, "I have a little credibility problem in the United States when I teach people about resurrections. Could you send somebody over to my hotel who has come back from the dead? I'd like to take a few snapshots."

Rod graciously brought someone over himself 7-year-old Arjun Janki Dass, along with his mother Mina, and Savitri, the lady who prayed him back to life.

Arjun died at age 5. The gist of his story:
At six o'clock on an April evening in 2001, Arjun was accidentally electrocuted by 220-volt wires touching his head.

His parents took him to a medical clinic where they worked on his body for two hours without success. They tried CPR, electroshock paddles, adrenaline shots all the usual. But they couldn't get him off flatline. So the doctor charged them 5,000 rupees (about $110) and told them to call an undertaker.

But they didn't. Instead they called Rod at the nearby Deliverance Church. He then called upon Savitri, one of his staff members.

Savitri brought two other Christians to Arjun's home, and the five of them began praying over the dead body about 10:00 p.m. They prayed their hearts out for six hours with pleading and tears. Then, at 4:00 a.m. the next morning, Arjun snapped back to life with no brain damage, no physical problems.

Today, he's a normal 9-year-old kid except for two nasty scar lines behind his left ear where the wire hit.

The most shocking aspect of the growing turn of the world toward Christ is this: People are coming back from death after being prayed for by ordinary folks like you and me. To be specific, my newest book, "MEGASHIFT: Igniting Spiritual Power," documents resurrections in 52 countries, mostly in the last 15 to 20 years. And these are not the well-known, "near-death" experiences where someone on an operating-room table passes out and goes down a long tunnel toward a light. These are stone-dead corpses.

The lockdown of the common man has come to an abrupt end. Many of the limitations your ancestors endured for centuries are now fading into the bleak and brutal past. The resurrections are only the most obvious evidence of a megashift in the functioning of eager-hearted believers whom the book of Revelation calls "overcomers."

Link:
http://www.wnd.com/news/article.asp?ARTICLE_ID=44416

The Mouth Speaks The Heart’s Condition

Arlette Pollard

Revelation 16:13

When wandering in a spiritual wasteland
Where living streams run dry
No sustaining sustenance
To quench the desire burning deep inside
Don’t waste time considering
A journey to the other side
To encroach upon unknown mysteries
Where knowledge walks with pride
And where stories of self preservation
Ring out loud but don’t sound right.

The hour could be declaring a salvation
Far beyond the strength of man’s might
Where you realize the definition of liberation
Is a truth that exists within the Light.

Promises are easy
When no one holds you account
Rules can change daily
When dependent on the attitude of the crowd
What may be heralded as truth on Sunday
May on Monday be cast down
And if you grow too tired to follow
You may find yourself back on the same old mount
Positioned in the middle of a spiritual wasteland
Marked by yesterday’s troubled doubts.

Is today the day of your reckoning
Where you lay your accounts down
And accept the Lord’s saving grace
So He can establish you on solid ground.

The words of men are many Reason demands to speak its will
But when a cause has risen
Will the effect lead you to sorrow’s hill?
Or will reason’s voice present itself
As truth spoken from the Saviors mouth
Where understanding is given
To remove the cruel bondage of doubt.

> “And I saw three unclean spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet.” Revelation 16:13

> "Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world. Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is of God: and every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is not of God: and this is that spirit of antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it should come; and even now already is it in the world. Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you, than he that is in the world. They are of the world: therefore speak they of the world, and the world heareth them. We are of God: he that knoweth God heareth us; he that is not of God heareth not us. Hereby know we the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error." 1 John 4:1-6

"I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service." (Romans 12:1) It is reasonable that a person, would desire to live honorably and sincerely unto God, who has been awakened to righteousness found in Christ. It is reasonable that if a person has placed their faith in Christ, that they would have some understanding of God's Word that proclaims they are "dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ" so that they are inspired to live holy unto God.

It is reasonable that a person to whom Jesus Christ has come would be inspired of truths that reflect the Lord's mercy and love. They have been born again of the Holy Spirit, so that God's kingdom authority without, now reigns upon their heart and mind. It is also reasonable that a person - who understands that they stand under heavens, that have purged and made new by the blood of Christ - would be inspired of God's message of grace that is now trumpeted throughout creation.

But what is reasonable for a person, who has found their identity in Christ, will be foolishness to someone else who denies that Jesus Christ is the Son of God. A person, who rejects any possibility of a relationship with God, through faith in Jesus Christ, is walking in a spiritual wasteland; they are unable to see the markers of God's holiness that God has established upon the earth, found in His Word. To a person who denies the possibility of partaking of the river of life, where God's Spirit is released from His throne room in heaven - which will cause a person to experience the power of God's love toward them - will live their lives as the first Adam, in bondage to sin, death and self. They will find it natural to exalt their own opinions above the power and authority of God. And if they continue to deny that Jesus is God's beloved Son, they will live out their lives looking to the opinions and ideas of mankind, and not God, to satisfy the desires of their carnal, Adamic nature.

> "For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh, but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit. For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace. Because the carnal mind is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be." Romans 8:5-7

Those who are "after the flesh" are those who have no understanding of a spiritual relationship with a holy God. They live according to desires that are not under the influence of a forgiving, merciful, and loving God. When someone lives in submission to the desires of the flesh, they are said to be carnally minded. Because their lives are not influenced by the Holy Spirit, they live dependent entirely upon the earthly realm. Those who deny that God has a purpose and plan for their lives, feast on understandings that they believe to be true, yet which do not reflect the nature of a holy God, to satisfy the appetite of their carnal nature.

To be "carnally minded is death" because this type of mindset looks away from God for an identity in life. A person who has a carnal mindset, who denies Christ, has no understanding of the purpose of God's love toward them. Though each person is born with the natural, Adamic, carnal mindset, each person has also received a spirit, God's breath of life, which is able to respond to God. If a person continues onward in their life, denying the value of a relationship with God, then their spirit will look to other sources, which will influence the thoughts and actions of their body and soul.

In seeking an identity in life, if a person's spirit is not influenced by the Holy Spirit, they will look to other sources outside of God, which will rule and reign over their emotions, opinions, desires and understandings. When a person lives out their life without the influence of the Holy Spirit, they remained in the realm where the Adamic, carnal nature reigns. In this realm of existence, it will be natural for a person to exalt their own ideas, and opinions above God. All of creation declares God's glory, but when a person discounts this truth, then their spirit - which influences their soul (heart and mind) in the way they will interpret their surroundings, their past and future, their purpose for existence - will continue to roam the earth, seeking out ideas, and the opinions of others, so that they can experience some sense of identity in their life.

> "There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one." Acts 5:16

The blood of Christ - which purged the heavens so that God opened wide His temple doors and released His Spirit upon the earth - has made it possible that whosoever should believe in His Son, will receive the Holy Spirit. A person filled of God's "Holy" Spirit, now stands before God, covered in the righteousness of Christ, made holy in the sight of God because of what Christ has accomplished for them. The pollutions of the world, the thoughts and opinions that deny the power and authority of the living God, will be cast down from a position of influence within the person's life as they experience the power of God's love realized in the Holy Spirit. When filled of the Holy Spirit, a person's spirit, soul and body are placed under the divine authority of God. When a person's spirit is influenced by the Holy Spirit, unbelief's power will lose control over their thoughts, so that the Word reveals an understanding of who they were created to be in Christ.

Thoughts, ideas, and opinions aligned with unbelief will be cast off of a person's heart and mind, as the Word and the Spirit reveal to them the beauty of God's holiness, kindness, mercy and love. When their spirit is in submission unto the Holy Spirit, through faith in Jesus Christ, they will be given spiritual eyesight to see the world around them through God's eyes of mercy. The Holy Spirit is able to bring into submission the spirit, soul and body of a person, so that they are able to escape the pollutions of this world, which are unclean thoughts and opinions in the sight of God. When a person is filled of the Holy Spirit, then their spirit, soul and body are cleansed by the blood of Christ, so that they stand righteous in God's sight; but when a person denies that Jesus is the Christ, so that they do not receive the Holy Spirit, then their spirit, soul and body will remain unclean in the sight of God.

A person's spirit influences their body and soul, just as the body and soul will influence their spirit. When a person's spirit is not under the influence of the Holy Spirit, then they are sure to be influenced by "unclean" spirits (a person's spirit that influences the soul, but is not under the influence of the Holy Spirit) that shape the opinions of others. It is when a person is adorned in the righteousness of Christ, having received the Holy Spirit, that they are renewed and made clean in the sight of God. Then the desire to partake of unclean, unwholesome understandings that would deny that Jesus is God's beloved Son, will lose influence over their lives. But if the Holy Spirit has no influence in a person's life, so that they remain captive to unwholesome thoughts and ideas that cater to the lusts of the carnal, Adamic nature, then their spirit (which influences their body and soul) will remain "unclean." Through faith in Jesus Christ, a person will receive the Holy Spirit, so that the unclean becomes clean, in the sight of God.

When a person is immersed into the living waters that flow from God's throne room on high, they will be washed clean in the holiness of God's love. When filled of the Spirit, then their spirit, which influences their body and soul, will be renewed, so that a person will be encouraged to take their thoughts captive to the Word of God, having confidence that God will lead them unto all truth. Though a person was an idolater, adulterer, thief, covetous, or a drunkard, when washed in the living waters of God's Holy Spirit, they will be sanctified, and justified in the name of the Lord Jesus. "Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool" when a person, who through faith in Jesus Christ, receives God's Holy Spirit.

> "And the river shall bring forth frogs abundantly, which shall go up and come into thine house, and into thy bedchamber, and upon thy bed, and into the house of thy servants, and upon thy people, and into thine ovens, and into thy kneading troughs." Exodus 8:3

Because the early Egyptians existed in the middle of the desert, they knew that without the Nile they would have perished. To the Egyptian, the Nile River gave them life. The Nile River was of such significant importance to the Egyptians, that from this natural life force would arise their greatest and most powerful god, who was given the name Hapi. The Egyptians also saw that when the Nile River rose, that the frog population increased. They assumed this force of nature, (the rise of the Nile River and the increased frog population), to be incarnate in the frogs. Because the Egyptians saw that there were many frogs, all appearing from the Nile, they associated the frog with fertility (life) and resurrection. Heqet would become the frog goddess. She became the goddess of childbirth, creation and grain germination. She was depicted as a frog, or a woman with the head of a frog.

When God spoke to Moses, and told him to say unto Pharaoh, "Let my people go, that they may serve me," God also said, that if Pharaoh refused, that He would cause the river to bring "forth frogs abundantly." When God told Moses to tell Aaron to call forth an over abundance of frogs to rise from the river, which would cover the land of Egypt, the Egyptians would become eye witnesses to the power of the living God, the God of Israel.

The frogs, which symbolized life and resurrection, became the reality of their sorrow. For the Egyptians, an over abundance of frogs made it impossible for them to live out their daily lives. What was supposed to bring life would instead bring destruction, and perhaps death, because their lives were interrupted in such an extreme measure. Through Moses, God showed Himself to be the one true God, who ruled over the forces of nature. God proved to the Egyptians that He was greater than the many gods that they worshipped.

> "And I saw three unclean spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet." Revelation 16:13

Moving forward from Moses and the Egyptians to the time of Apostle John, when he walked in visions on the island of Patmos, we read that he saw "spirits like frogs" come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and of the false prophet. John had partaken of the Holy Spirit. As a blessed partaker of God's kingdom of righteousness, he would be chosen of God to receive a revelation that revealed God's involvement with mankind and the spiritual condition of the lives of mankind. He would, through the visions, share with others truths and understandings of the power of God's Spirit, which influences all of life, and how God intervenes in the lives of mankind.

Through the Apostle John's visions, revelation was given regarding how the spiritual condition of a person's relationship with God affected their interaction with the world around them. In some instances, John would be shown visions to describe how the Spirit inspired and encouraged those who loved the Lord with all their heart. He was given revelation to see how the Word and the Spirit influenced, encouraged, refined and edified a person's life. At other times, John would be given visions that would show the torment and torture of souls who denied that Jesus was the Son of God.

Through the visions, John saw spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of the dragon (Satan, the ruler of darkness, which is the realm of unbelief), out of the mouth of the beast (the carnal, Adamic, fleshly nature, that exalts self above God) and of the false prophet (those who proclaim there is peace outside of a personal relationship with God, who even deny the "Lord that bought them"). Through John's vision, God reveals the spiritual condition of the heart of those speakers, and the intent behind the words spoken.

> "But those things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart; and they defile the man. For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies: these are the things which defile a man: but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not a man." Matthew 15:18-20

Jesus Christ proclaimed that what a person believed in, is what would be the beliefs that person spoke. It was the condition of a person's heart that defiled a person. If a person was filled of the Spirit, then God's love shed abroad upon their heart would then influence the words they spoke. But if a person's spirit was not under the influence of the Holy Spirit, then the words they spoke would reflect this truth. The words a person speaks reveals the spiritual condition of their heart. If a person's spirit is not influenced of the Holy Spirit, then it will be natural for them to speak words that reflect the carnal, Adamic nature. This is what will defile a person's soul; when their spirit is not under the influence of the Holy Spirit, then their spirit seeks out an identity apart from God.

When we read of John's vision where he sees "spirits like frogs" proceeding out of the mouth of the dragon, the beast and the false prophet, we are being given insight into important truths. Because of who is speaking, we can understand that the words spoken do not reflect the words of the Father, Son or Holy Spirit. The dragon, the beast and the false prophet all stand opposed to the will of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit. They will always speak words that do not reflect the holiness, mercy and love of God. The "spirits like frogs" reveal the spiritual condition in the heart of the one speaking. For from out of the heart the mouth speaks, and in this instance, the one who is speaking has no fellowship with the living God.

To the ancient Egyptians the frogs represented life and resurrection. The frogs in John's vision represent the same basic concept, that there is a way to obtain life and resurrection. In this instance, the dragon, the beast, and the false prophet proclaim there is a way to obtain life and resurrection apart from God. The dragon (ruler of darkness, which is the realm of unbelief), the beast (carnal, Adamic, fleshly nature) and the false prophet (who proclaims there is peace apart from God and even denies that Jesus is the Christ) only speak words that are opposed to the Word of God. If they say there is a way to obtain life and resurrection apart from God, then according to God's Word, we know that they speak falsely.

The words a person speaks reveal the spiritual condition of their heart. Anyone who says there is life and resurrection apart from faith in Jesus Christ is speaking from the same spiritual realm as the dragon, the beast, and the false prophet. To believe that there is life and resurrection apart from faith in Jesus Christ is to stand in the same spiritual realm as the ancient Egyptians, who believed life and resurrection were from their gods, who represented forces of nature.

Any person, who speaks words that proclaim there is life and resurrection apart from faith in Christ, is speaking words that belong in the realm of unbelief in a holy God. The spiritual condition of their heart is led of the flesh; and they will find it natural to seek out ideas that will cater to the lusts of their carnal nature. Any person who says that there is life and resurrection apart from faith in God's beloved Son, is not likely to feel any condemnation for exalting their ideas, which they profess will give life and inspiration to others, but which are given for the sole purpose of seeking money or their own glory.

God is very clear in proclaiming that there is no other way to obtain eternal life, than through faith in Jesus Christ. If any person professes they have obtained an understanding that will bring about life and resurrection, apart from faith in Christ, then according to God’s Word, they speak falsely. Their words are unclean because their words are not under the influence of the Holy Spirit, and do not reflect the purpose of what God accomplished through Jesus Christ. They walk with a heart defiled, not influenced of the Holy Spirit, so even though they promise abundant life to another, they will themselves remain in the realm of sorrow and grief where unbelief holds reign.

Jesus Christ proclaims that the words He speaks are “Spirit, and they are life.” The words of Jesus Christ will bring life, eternal life to the hearer, when through faith they believe and receive the Holy Spirit. Those who hear the words of Jesus Christ but do not believe will continue to abide in darkness, blind to the love and mercy of God. They will not be partaker’s of eternal life, realized in the Holy Spirit. The words a person speaks can bring about life or those words can bring about death; there is power in the words we speak. May God bless His children with an abundance of great mercy, so that they are encouraged to look to Him, and to speak words that will impart eternal, spiritual life to those around them.

> “Little children, it is the last time: and as ye have heard that antichrist shall come, even now are there many antichrists; whereby we know that it is the last time. They went out from us, but they were not of us: for if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us: but they went out, that they might be made manifest that they were not all of us. But ye have an unction from the Holy One, and ye know all things. I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth. Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son.” 1 John 2:18-22

The Mountain States

David Wagner

Dec 7, 2005

"The mountain states of America shall serve as a fault line in the Spirit and in the natural. These states will be a region of very rapid spiritual and prophetic movement. I am birthing a new thing in this region as I strategically use my people to declare the greatness and glory of God" says the Lord.

"New Mexico shall be a state of new beginnings and unusual signs and wonders. There will be close encounters of the God-kind in out of the way places. New Mexico will also be known as a 'David's Army' state. Those who do not seem to fit elsewhere in the body will be made into an undefeated and faithful army for the Lord. The harvest shall be abundant in the days ahead, especially amongst the Hispanic and Native American population. Supernatural encounters shall also become common place in many unlikely places. Old missions shall be revived in days to come."

"Colorado shall be taken to new heights in the Glory of God. I will cause an avalanche of my power to overtake the enemy in this region. Denver shall be host to a sustained move of God that will flow out of the walls of the church and into the streets. An end-time reformation and revival shall spread from here to other regions of the nation. Strongholds of the occult and New Age are going to be torn down. Colorado shall be a place known for the High Praises of God. A generation of no compromise and no retreat will rise up and take new territory for the Kingdom in these days. There is also a new spring coming forth in Colorado Springs. It is time for many different streams and organizations to begin to come together in unity."

"Utah shall shake with the power of God. There is a shifting of the earth that will begin to rumble under Salt Lake in days ahead. Mormon steeples will fall and the fire of God and the shaking of the Holy Spirit shall purge temples of deception. I am going to release a light of revelation that will set the captives free in this region. Places of perversion will become places of purity. I am restoring my name and my glory in the midst of people who have said that they were gods. The Lord is beginning to rise up reformers in the midst of Utah."

"Montana is an open heaven and pure atmosphere state. The Lord is rising up forerunners here with the anointing of John the Baptist. There are many prophetic people in hiding in Montana but the Lord is calling them forth. I see many people coming to their mountain-of-change experience in this state. New natural resources will be discovered within the Rockies of Montana in the next decade."

"Wyoming shall be a place of spiritual pioneers and deliverers. The voice of the Lord will go forth from the mountains and the prairies of Wyoming. This shall also be a place of refreshing for many who dwell here. There will be a notable population and real estate boom in the next 4 years. Wyoming will serve as a womb for many nameless, faceless prophets and apostles to come."

"Idaho will be the place where hidden treasures are revealed. Many people of influence will retreat and hide here as well. The Lord shall use the body of Christ in this state to be a habitation for many who are anointed like Cyrus. (Isaiah 45)

Authors note: As stated in an earlier message, the Lord has given me instructions to prophesy concerning the destiny of every state. This, by no means, exhausts what the Lord is saying over each state and region. It does, however, provide a glimpse into the heart and mind of God for each state, for different regions, and for our country.

If you are interested, you can view other prophetic words to other states in the message archives.

fathersheartministries-subscribe@MyInJesus.com

To My Weary Bride
Brenda Dowdin

Beloved,

I desire to talk with you...I desire to give you great comfort and rest in this hour for there is a storm coming upon the horizon. Many of you are already weary because of the storms that have hit you broadside... It's time to come and tuck yourself under my wing of comfort and rest....this place of "complete peace", it is in me, it is my "Shalom-Peace".

(Shalom means in Hebrew: safe, well, happy, welfare, health, prosperity, peace, favor, perfect: such as to be at peace. A place of "wholeness".)

Comfort, Oh Comfort My People...

I have come to comfort you, I have come to speak life in to you....., Oh yes Beloved, There are seasons where I long for you to run after me. But, this is the season I am chasing after you! I am drawing you, compelling you to come and dine in my presence. I have promised you the new, and the new is coming. The new in your personal life and new in ministry. New favor is coming, new opportunities, the new is before you.

Come into my garden....

You have stepped over the threshold, through the gate in to a very large and beautiful garden with me. Oh the wild fern grows next to my streams of living water. There is a swing in the garden, it hangs from your favorite tree. There is a cobble stone walk way that winds around my garden. The lilies they stand next to the walk way and they omit a beautiful fragrance every time you come near. I have captured your heart in my garden and I show you my love and devotion as we come together to share love in this intimate place. You will know greater depths of my love. I will increase my "love anointing" upon you. You please me, your "walk", pleases me so Beloved. I have come to you, I have brought you in to my chambers. I am here with you. I am so pleased with your faithfulness. I am pleased with what we have accomplished together in prayer, your obedience to come beside me and pray my heart...oh how it has pleased me so...

My Love Song To You...

Beloved, I have rescued you out of the deepest darkness, as a damsel in distress, I have come to you my bride. I have fought for you and know one else can have you, I am the only one, for truly I am the lover of your soul. Oh yes, Many things have tried to steal you away, but I say to you Beloved, This day you are mine. There is no other, I am your Beloved one, your Lord!

Spend intimate times with me, out of our intimacy will be birthed the new. New wine, new intimacy and the gift of faith. Yes, faith will arise and touch your heart in a new way....a mighty war cry will be heard across the land, but it is out of this new place of intimacy that this shall arise. So come before me. I am waiting for you.... I ask you to come in to my chambers it is a time for greater favor and grace. My scepter is extended to you...Beloved. Come before me, there is a refreshing I yearn to give you.

My chambers are of velvet, and satins of fine purples and royal blues. My bed is of a silken fragrance, and great peace comes upon my bride as she rests in my arms. Her pleasant fragrance.... I long to know. Time is near, and I shall come for her, and give her a place of permanent rest in my heavenly throne.

The purple in the sky is a sign... for my new wine is coming....wine of joy, shalom peace, no striving in this place, such a peace... a releasing of new sensitivity coming. Greater depths of intercession being released. The birth of this intercession will be in a place of joy and peace....my yoke is easy Beloved...not burdensome...

Your loving Lord and Bridegroom...

Isa 40: 1-2 "Comfort, comfort my people, says your God. Speak tenderly to (my Beloved's) Jerusalem, and proclaim to her that her hard service has been completed, that her sin has been paid for, that she has received from the Lord's hand double for all her sins."

Isa 40: 28 "Your name inserted", "Do you not know? Have you not heard? The Lord is the everlasting God, the Creator of the ends of the earth, He will not grow tired or weary and increases the power of the weak. Even youths grow tired and weary, and young men stumble and fall; but those who hope in the Lord will renew their strength. They will soar on wings like eagles; they will run and not grow weary, they will walk and not be faint."

Song of Solomon 2:8-14 "The voice of my beloved! Behold, he comes leaping upon the mountains, skipping upon the hills. My beloved is like a gazelle or a young stag. Behold, he stands behind our wall; He is looking through the windows, Gazing through the lattice. My beloved spoke, and said to me; Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away. For lo, the winter is past. The rain is over and gone. The flowers appear on the earth; And the voice of the turtledove is heard in our land. The fig tree puts forth her green figs, And the vines with the tender grapes give a good smell, Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away!" "O my dove, in the clefts of the rock, In the secret places of the cliff, Let me see your face, Let me hear your voice; For your voice is sweet, and your face is lovely."

Dear Ones:

As I waited upon the Lord this week I sensed an overwhelming sense that he really wanted to bring "comfort", to His people. Out of this place, was birthed, "The Love Song of the Lord", ... I pray that you enter in to the secret place of the most high. That he draws you in to his chambers, and that as you hear him and see him peering through the lattice of your hearts that you will let him in. He is a fearsome God, but not to be afraid of. He is a holy fire, but never leaves the smell of smoke upon his Beloved One's. He is truly the lover of our souls. You will never find another who will love and cherish you more than he!

Lovingly in Him, Brenda Dowdin firebrand007@hotmail.com

The Narrow And Constricted Way
Sandy Warner

Apr 22, 2005
THE NARROW AND CONSTRICTED WAY
You remind Me of the precious donkey I rode into Jerusalem. I watch you carefully plodding along the high, narrow and constrained mountain trails. Your gait shall always be sure-footed and easy as you are waiting upon Me in the Tabernacle of My presence. I see the power of the mantle of holiness blanketing your shoulders. I also see your saddle bags stuffed full of My good promises and My daily Word loaded with benefits.

The mountains in your life, those that were too difficult to cross on your own, I am joining you to split them to half their size. The power that will accomplish this is walking in My mantle of holiness. Dear one, go forth with My message. Tell them to lay down their personal agendas and also hold the line of My holy standard.

This is a story with a happy ending. Even as your saddle bags are loaded with good gifts, all the odds are stacked in your favor. Yes, the way has been constrained and I AM compelling you forward, but My help is all you need. I AM thoroughly equipping you for My good work.

John 12:14-15 NKJV
Then Jesus, when He had found a young donkey, sat on it; as it is written: "Fear not, daughter of Zion; Behold, your King is coming, sitting on a donkey's colt."

Words to Ponder are summaries of prophetic revelation, punched with the word of wisdom and written under inspiration. [Sandy Warner: swauthor@usa.net / website: www.thequickenedword.com] Permission given to forward or post with this footer attached.

Keep Flushing
Sandy Warner

Apr 20, 2005

KEEP FLUSHING
There are times when the demonic takes on a campaign to aggressively bombard your thought life over and over and over again. Beloved, stand in the power of My might, in My Name and with the blood of Jesus. You may feel that your resistance is getting nowhere, but trust Me - that when the pressure is the strongest, this is also the sign of a climax for your breakthrough. Even as you grow weary, so does the powers behind the demonic also wear down. They spend themselves for an all out frontal attack, hoping you will grow hopeless and give in. But I have given you the power to stand and resist in My Name. So with each and every thought that does not measure up to My Word, send it captive to My cross to obey Me. Flush it out and away from you and do not stop flushing. Even though it will take some time, you will find your peace once again, I promise. Don't give up!

2 Cor 10:4-6 NKJV
For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal but mighty in God for pulling down strongholds, casting down arguments and every high thing that exalts itself against the knowledge of God, bringing every thought into captivity to the obedience of Christ, and being ready to punish all disobedience when your obedience is fulfilled.

Phil 4:8 AMP

For the rest, brethren, whatever is true, whatever is worthy of reverence and is honorable and seemly, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely and lovable, whatever is kind and winsome and gracious, if there is any virtue and excellence, if there is anything worthy of praise, think on and weigh and take account of these things [fix your minds on them].

Words to Ponder are summaries of prophetic revelation, punched with the word of wisdom and written under inspiration. [Sandy Warner: swauthor@usa.net / website: www.thequickenedword.com]
Permission given to forward or post with this footer attached.

Truth Will Settle Your Conscience
Sandy Warner

Apr 24, 2005

Truth Will Settle Your Conscience
When to speak and when to be silent,
Needs My wisdom when among the violent.
For the enemy seeks to accuse your hearts.
Remain faithful to My Word, do not depart.

As you remain in the place I've put you,
I will weave the loose ends and mend you too.
In time, you will see My Truth in clarity,
Of what measures up to My image in thee.

Your conscience being weak will accuse you too much.
Your liberty to taste, wrestles in the touch.
So wait on Me to release your freedom.
I will settle issues and their outcome.

My Truth will quicken your conscience alive
To release the lies of demonic contrive.
Let not your heart condemn you for love,
To love is pure, My design from above.

Whatsoever is not of faith is sin,
To partake without such you will not win.
To separate the dross from My pure Truth,
Will release your walk above the uncouth.

I mature your conscience as you grow in faith.
Step by step Truth releases you unscathed.
Rest in the process and grow in virtue.
I will grant you My peace in all that you do.

Listen to that important gage inside.
It goes up and down as you learn to abide.
It's My peace that helps you grow in measure,
As you yield to Me all that you treasure.

To step outside your boundary or metron,
Ahead of Me is unsafe like a pawn.

The enemy seeks to move you forward
Outside your measure of trust in My Word.

I will go before you and stretch your border.
You will know the way as I put Truth in order.
Listen for My cues of quickened candor.
They will punch your heart with drawing for more.

Yes, continue to listen for My voice.
I will help you to make the righteous choice.
I will speak through everything in your life,
If you but listen as you rest without strife.

I will open your ears to hear the details,
And punch with relevance, hammered with nails.
Each cue will establish and stretch your border,
As I confirm and plant with life-giving mortar.

Connect My Words from the common sums.
Tiny Words connected enlarge eardrums.
To hear the common denominators,
Increases your measure of land to explore.

Step by step your conscience will find freedom.
Great joy you'll discover in My kingdom.
Wait upon Me to build what's lacked in thee,
And soon increased boundary will be history.

And those treasures you gave to Me to hold,
Will become My glory as history unfolds.
Your fast from touch will have taken its course,
While you waited upon Me to know your Source.

I impart good gifts for you to partake.
I will open your eyes and draw you awake.
Your choice to fast, seeking faith to sustain,
Your boundaries for freedom will become gain.

My child, I know your heart, I know it's pure.
All that you have held, is so very dear.
But you must know your own heart that's true.
So fast right now and I will buy you new shoes.

Your feet are growing, if that be possible!
The expanse of your metron must be stable.
Always remember My peace is your gage.
My peace will keep you in your maturing age.

Listen to Wisdom, He is at your door.
He will draw your heart always wanting more.
I have planted a gift within your life.
You have yet to know the depth of its knife.

It separates and cuts the Truth from the lie,

Regardless if your soul accepts or denies.
Your soul and mind wrestle with your spirit,
When you approach the Truth and come near it.

As your conscience grows through faith in measure,
You will embrace the Truth of My purest treasure.
I have bestowed upon you My finest wealth.
It's My great favor because you've denied self.

Rom 2:15-16 NLT
They demonstrate that God's law is written within them, for their own consciences either accuse them or tell them they are doing what is right. The day will surely come when God, by Jesus Christ, will judge everyone's secret life. This is my message.

1 John 3:19-23 NKJV
And by this we know that we are of the truth, and shall assure our hearts before Him. For if our heart condemns us, God is greater than our heart, and knows all things. Beloved, if our heart does not condemn us, we have confidence toward God. And whatever we ask we receive from Him, because we keep His commandments and do those things that are pleasing in His sight. And this is His commandment: that we should believe on the name of His Son Jesus Christ and love one another, as He gave us commandment.

Acts 24:16 NKJV
This being so, I myself always strive to have a conscience without offense toward God and men.

Titus 1:15 NKJV
To the pure all things are pure, but to those who are defiled and unbelieving nothing is pure; but even their mind and conscience are defiled.

Poetry2Ponder are poems birthed out of intimacy with the Holy Spirit through yearnings of intercession. They are posted once a week.
Sandy Warner : swauthor@usa.net ~ Website: www.thequickenedword.com
~ Permission given to forward or post. ~

The New Civil Rights Movement

Shawn Bolz

The New Civil Rights Movement--Living the Dream

On October 24, 2005, Rosa Parks, the mother of the civil rights movement in America, passed into glory. This voice of justice was a forerunner for a cause that is about to hit its second wave of importance and freedom in America.

In January of 2001, God spoke to me audibly as I watched a pastor on television who was addressing civil rights. The voice of God spoke during this time and said: "The issue of civil rights is one of the most precious issues in my heart." I never knew the depth of Jesus' heart on it until I again read His prayer in John 17:21: "that all of them may be one, Father, just as you are in me and I am in you. May they also be in us so that the world may believe that you have sent me."

He was speaking about this issue because this is something that He is going to invest Himself into throughout our nation. He wants to bring his virtue to empower great changes in the days ahead.

The Civil Rights Mantle Is Coming Upon Many In a Generation

As Rosa Parks passed away, I saw a mantle of authority that she wore begin to fall to the earth, knowing that a generation is called to rise up and grab hold of it. She sparked the civil rights movement through her simple act of defying an unrighteous act towards her and her race, and the nation exploded into debate, rage, sympathy, identification, pride, and love, all over this one woman's bold act. That was just her beginning; just think about how awesome her life ended as she continued to be a trumpet of freedom for future generations.

It is no longer about black and white anymore in America, but every type of culture is at risk to be persecuted if there is not a deeper level of Kingdom value placed in the hearts of America. Some of this value is going to be birthed through further persecution that will be brought up into the public eye, but God is looking for Prophetic Civil Rights leaders who speak with wisdom and understanding (insert "those") whose very lives are a bridge from one race and culture to another.

Nation Against Nation

Just like it says in Matthew 24:7: "Nation will rise up against nation. . . "

Jesus prophesied about the (omit "the") nations rising up against nations, but this isn't just in the context of wars from one whole country to another; it is also a prophecy about one culture or ethnic group rising up against another within the same nation. God wants to give the keys of racial unity to a new breed of civil rights champions. He is about to release the next wave of righteousness on behalf of the racial issues.

I AM THE DREAM!

There is a fire on this generation participating with the civil rights. And they are not only going to declare justice, but they are going to look at the dreams dreamt by Martin Luther King and boldly declare, "I AM THE DREAM!"

Then we will have our next installment of dreamers who are exponentially more bold in their visions of what the future will hold for every tongue and tribe of people in this country. Martin Luther King and other great leaders in his generation caught the thief that was trying to divide and plunder, but Proverbs says when you catch the thief, he has to pay back seven times what he stole. I believe there is a generation who is about to enter into a manifold blessing from which the previous generation paved the way for.

The Black Culture of America Has An Opportunity to LIVE THE DREAM!

There are times of blessings coming specifically for the black culture of America, even in the day of adversity, but it is also much broader then this. I heard the Lord say, "Some of the African Americans are about to live the dream that Martin Luther King prophesied so many years ago." Even more, He spoke, "Some of the greatest pictures of unification between races will happen in this generation, between white and black people. I will put unity on display; especially in efforts that My people partner with My agenda!"

Shawn Bolz
WhiteDove Ministries
www.whitedoveministries.org
office@iburn.org

The New Reformation

David Orton

Its Spirit & Structure

Part 1 of 2

> "…until a time of reformation"
> Heb 9:10

Part 1 of this teaching will explore the spirit of the New Reformation and Part 2 the structure.

Christ's coming triggered a 'reformation', inaugurating a new order.

The letter to the Hebrews is a transitional and therefore reformational book. Using both comparison and contrast, it shows the superiority of the new over the old, calling the believing Hebrews into complete transition. With a foot in both camps, they were caught in the external requirements of the old, despite having put their faith in Christ in the new.

The Greek word 'reformation' in our text (Hebrews 9:10) is 'diorthosis', meaning 'a making straight, a rectification, correction'. But what was the nature of this 'reformation' – what was it rectifying or correcting?

The "Appointed Time"

The answer to this will provide the DNA of every future reformation. Beginning with Christ's first coming there have been various 'times of reformation' in the history of the church.

The word for 'time' in our text is 'kairos', which is qualitative time, referring to a critical moment, which may not recur, in which certain events and actions must occur. It therefore carries with it a sense of urgency and destiny. This is in contrast to 'chronos', referring to quantitative time, to its general flow.

'Kairos' moments are 'appointed times' in history:

You will arise and have compassion on Zion; For it is time to be gracious to her, For the appointed time has come.
Surely Your servants find pleasure in her stones And feel pity for her dust.
So the nations will fear the name of the LORD And all the kings of the earth Your glory.
For the LORD has built up Zion; He has appeared in His glory.

Psa 102:13-16

They are times of restoration, rebuilding, and increased revelation of God's glory.

They are also prophetically foreshadowed, demanding great patience until their time arrives:

"For the vision is yet for the appointed time; It hastens toward the goal and it will not fail. Though it tarries, wait for it; For it will certainly come, it will not delay.

Hab 2:3

Prophets and seers, having seen the vision of an 'appointed time' are called to wait for God in the face of delays and disappointments. A prophetic delay tests the prophet, reducing them and ensuring the fulfilment is of God.

Even so, once the window arrives they demand response. God has appointed ‘times of reformation’ – moments of destiny, calling forth a ‘rectification and correction’. Jesus came bringing a correction to the old order, setting the pattern for every future reformation.

Like the Hebrews of the first century this is a transitional generation. In my estimation the period 1950-2025 approximates a new hinge in history – one on which a re-formed and restored Christianity swings, which having been reached will fill the earth with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord. We are again in a season of radical reformation, an ‘appointed time’, when root issues are being unearthed and a new obedience is being call forth. A time when every plant that the Father has not planted will be plucked up, and when the spirit of Elijah will be crying out in the wilderness, “Prepare the way of the Lord.”

Continuities & Discontinuities

The ‘kairos’ moment unequivocally brings a sword and not peace (see Mtt 10:34). While the transition to a new order reflects both continuities and discontinuities, the latter far outweigh the former. The scribe of the kingdom draws out things both old and new (see Mtt 13:52), but the movement is inexorably toward the new. Jesus put it plainly,

"No one sews a patch of unshrunk (new) cloth on an old garment; otherwise the patch pulls away from it, the new from the old, and a worse tear results.”

Mark 2:21

While there is continuity in terms of ‘chronos’ (the general flow of history), there is discontinuity in terms of ‘kairos’ (the moment of destiny). The new, in that moment, inevitably separates from and supersedes the old.

A Fundamental Flaw – the Basis of the Reformation

It flies in the face of tradition and the established order. However, why is this? Because of a fundamental flaw demanding rectification. This is germane to every reformation.

Until this flaw is recognised our best attempts at developing new wineskins will only produce hybrid and bastardised versions of the true. This is tragically the case in much of the contemporary church, including the ‘emerging church’ and the ‘new apostolic movement’. Like the Hebrew believers we have a foot in both camps. We want the new, like Jonathan, but cannot make the break from Saul’s house, his values and mindsets, to pursue David in the wilderness. This phenomenon surfaced in the tension between the mainstream Reformers such as Luther and Calvin and the radical arm of the Reformation (the Anabaptists), but more of that in Part 2. Therefore, we fall short, ultimately proving to be spiritually impotent. We unwittingly pour old wine into new wineskins.

But what is the old wine?

The Leaven of the Pharisees

Jesus, in bringing the ‘rectification’ to the old order, consistently warned about the ‘leaven of the Pharisees’ (see Mt 16:6, 11; Mk 8:15; Lk 12:1). This is the foundational flaw of the old order, both then and now.

The old wine is the leaven of the Pharisees, and their teaching:

“Then they understood that He did not say to beware of the leaven of bread, but of the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.”

Mat 16:12 NASB

But what did the Pharisees teach? The ‘traditions of men’.

For the Pharisees and all the Jews do not eat unless they carefully wash their hands, thus observing the traditions of the elders; and when they come from the market place, they do not eat unless they cleanse themselves; and there are many other things which they have received in order to observe, such as the washing of cups and pitchers and copper pots.)

The Pharisees and the scribes asked Him, "Why do Your disciples not walk according to the tradition of the elders, but eat their bread with impure hands?"

And He said to them, "Rightly did Isaiah prophesy of you hypocrites, as it is written: 'THIS PEOPLE HONORS ME WITH THEIR LIPS, BUT THEIR HEART IS FAR AWAY FROM ME.

'BUT IN VAIN DO THEY WORSHIP ME, TEACHING AS DOCTRINES THE PRECEPTS OF MEN.'

"Neglecting the commandment of God, you hold to the tradition of men."

Mar 7:3-8 NASB

So, what are these traditions and teachings?

The ‘Rules of the Flesh’

According to our headquarters text (Heb 9:10) the old consists of the ‘rules of the flesh’. It was these that required ‘rectification’. They are the “tradition of men, according to the elementary principles of the world” (Col 2:8). These, in terms of Judaism, related to certain external ritual protocols but for us today can refer to any emphasis on ‘external protocols’. How does this work?

The Pharisees’ emphasis on externals became a religious system and stronghold of which Jesus warned, describing it as ‘leaven’. It is therefore insidious and subtle in its workings. These influences are not out in the open, they are not obvious to the naked eye. Even so, as leaven, it is ultimately all-encompassing, infiltrating and influencing the whole person or group.

When this dynamic is active the ‘rules of the flesh’ gradually overtake the “commandment of God”, replacing the “law of the Spirit of life” (Rom 8:2) with human rules. Despite operating in the church of God, in reality they are the ‘principles of this world’.

Humanly derived rules of membership to the group take over. These can be written or unwritten requirements – certain measurements of success, knowing the right people, having the right sized church, or a certain worship style, having the appearance of success or celebrity. It might be whether you pay tithes or attend certain meetings and support the church programme. For every group there are certain ‘shibboleths’ or protocols for entry. In essence, they become a worldly value system based on outward appearance. As the Lord said to Samuel, “Man looks at the outward, but God looks at the heart” (1 Sam 16:7).

The Leaven of Pride & Reputation

Now, what is the active agent of this leaven? Pride. The core disease of pride is revealed in our desire for reputation – for being well thought of and accepted by men. We consequently wear masks to build an image, to present to those around us a face of popularity – of success and spirituality. It is what Jesus called hypocrisy, which is by definition acting, or playing a part.

“… ‘Beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy.

‘But there is nothing covered up that will not be revealed, and hidden that will not be known.’”

Luk 12:1-2 NASB

"So when you give to the poor, do not sound a trumpet before you, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, so that they may be honored by men. Truly I say to you, they have their reward in full.”

Mat 6:2 NASB

"When you pray, you are not to be like the hypocrites; for they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and on the street corners so that they may be seen by men. Truly I say to you, they have their reward in full. “

Mat 6:5 NASB

"Whenever you fast, do not put on a gloomy face as the hypocrites do, for they neglect their appearance so that they will be noticed by men when they are fasting. Truly I say to you, they have their reward in full.

Mat 6:16 NASB

It is significant that all the activities Jesus described were spiritual: giving to the poor, prayer, and fasting. Nevertheless, they were done to be “noticed by men”, to build a reputation.

This is the animating spirit behind Babylon:

“They said, ‘Come, let us build for ourselves a city, and a tower whose top will reach into heaven, and let us make for ourselves a name, otherwise we will be scattered abroad over the face of the whole earth.’”

Gen 11:4 NASB

The Driving Force Behind Ministry

Therefore, the leaven of the Pharisees is very often the driving force behind seemingly spiritual activity – planting and building churches, growing our movements and ministries, evangelising, pastoring, and even feeding the poor. Beneath all the activity lies a hidden desire to build a reputation, “a name for ourselves”.

It is what the writer to the Hebrews calls “dead works” (Heb 6:1). Remember, the believing Hebrews were caught between the old and the new. With one foot in the new order they were still operating out of works-righteousness, which is always rooted in self, in self-effort and self-promotion. Any righteousness derived from ourselves, through our activity, even in ministry, is self-righteousness and therefore Pharisaic.

The Stronghold of Ministry

This is the substance of a stronghold. In military terms, a stronghold or fortress is constructed for self-defence. According to Paul, our own “reasonings” (Gr logismos – computations) are mental building blocks thrown up to establish a high place (see 2 Cor 10:1-5). But what kind of reasonings? Those that defend us – our practices, performance, perspectives, or position. Any argument of self-justification is symptomatic of a stronghold and is at heart the spirit of anti-Christ. “Anti-Christ” literally means ‘in the place of Christ’. Self-justification inevitably stands in the place of Christ’s justification, which comes only by faith, not by works. This explains why the Pharisaic spirit is so antagonistic to the spirit of Christ and so given to activity. It drives the religious machine and builds towers to heaven. It can possess to whatever degree individuals, churches, movements, and religious organisations. Lying at the root of this religious stronghold is a deep unresolved spirit of independence, pride, and rebellion.

According to Paul though, “the weapons of our warfare are mighty to the pulling down of strongholds” (2 Cor 10:4). But what are these weapons? In the context of Paul’s statement they are the weapons of the cross – of brokenness and humility. The Corinthians, and more particularly the super-apostles (2 Cor 11:5, 13), were boasting among themselves and “comparing themselves with themselves” (2 Cor 10:12). They were saying that Paul was “unimpressive in person and that his speaking amounted to nothing” (2 Cor 10:10). They, like us, had received “another spirit” (2 Cor 11:4), “boasting as the world does” (2 Cor 11:18), self-promoting and exploiting the people (2 Cor 11:20). Like passive smokers, they had imbibed a false value system from the surrounding culture and were operating according to the “elementary principles of this world”.

Consequently, Paul operating in the opposite spirit, boasted only of his sufferings and weaknesses (2 Cor 11:21-30).

The Spirit of the New Reformation

This is the spirit of the new reformation. It comes from a “broken and contrite heart” which God will never despise (Psa 51:17). He looks to the person or group with this spirit and dwells with them (Isa 57:15; 66:2).

So what is the message to the transitional generation between two orders? For the Hebrew believers, stepping into the new order cried out for the ‘rectification’ of the old. This demanded a heart-rending transaction – “repentance from dead works” (Heb 6:1).

For us, this demands recognition of our congenital rebellion against God and the deep spirit of pride driving our activity. It is time to strip away the religious cloak and expose our hearts to the light. Without this, we will continue to build religious towers to heaven, creating meaningless reputations for our churches, movements, and ministries, inviting the displeasure of God.

The new reformation is first a reformation of the heart. Only then will God release us to re-form structures.

Now is the ‘appointed time’ – it is time to turn from our dead works – from our worldly value systems and put our faith in God.

Part 2of 2

> "…until a time of reformation" Heb 9:10

In Part 1, we saw that the new reformation demands a heart-rectification.

Before we can attempt any reformation of structures our spirit must be clean. Only by turning from dead works – from every humanly derived activity – from our innate rebellion and independence – will we be released by God into the reformation of structures.

Without this deep work of the Spirit we will only replicate the past. The rivers of reformation only ever flow from the deep wells of regeneration. For this reason Jesus refers to the final rectification and revolution of His kingdom as "the regeneration" (see Mtt 19:28).

Having established the deeply personal heart-foundation of reformation let us move from the individual to the corporate – from the new wine of the processed heart to the wineskin of corporate life.

Like the Reformation of the 1500's the new reformation will be triggered through the revelation of truth.

However, the unfolding of truth in its restoration is progressive – "The path of the just is as a shining light shining more and more to the perfect day". Jesus explained that, "Man doesn't live by bread alone, but by every word that is proceeding from the mouth of God" (Mt 4:4). The verb "proceeding" is present tense. There is always a 'present and proceeding' word for every generation. Martin Luther received it concerning 'justification by faith', John Wesley 'holiness', and the Pentecostals the 'baptism of the Holy Spirit'. But what is the word for this generation? God give us an ear to hear what the Spirit is saying to the church today!

Priest, Prophet, & King

As the consummate and final word of God, Jesus is revealed in three dimensions: as Priest, Prophet, and King.

He showed Himself in the historic Reformation as our 'Great High Priest', resulting in the recovery of 'justification by faith', the 'priesthood of the believer', 'water baptism'; and two centuries later through Wesley, 'sanctification'. The ascension-gift ministries restored in this time were that of the teacher, pastor, and evangelist.

In the revivals of the 20th Century, particularly in the mid-century outpourings, Christ was revealed as 'Prophet', resulting in the recovery of 'the laying on of hands' and the ascension-gift ministry of the prophet.

And now, in the coming outpouring Christ will be revealed as 'King'. Through this last great outpouring of the Spirit the ascension-gift ministry of the apostle will be restored hand-in-glove with 'resurrection life and eternal judgment'. The body of Christ will finally come to maturity – to the "full measure of the stature of Christ" (see Eph 4:11-13 & Heb 6:1-3).
Parenthetically, I might add that the restoration of the ascension-gift ministries has only been in measure. We view them very much through 1,900 years of tradition and Greek worldview. Their fullness awaits that time when Christ, who is the "Apostle and High Priest of our calling", reveals himself in full measure to the church. At that time He will release mature apostleship as pivotal to the full emergence of the other ascension-gift ministries.

The Crux of the Current Reformation

The spiritual unveiling of Christ as Priest triggered revolutionary structural reformation, likewise the revelation of Christ as King. Christ revealed as Priest cut off the human priesthood at the knees, and so the revelation of Christ as King will cut off the human kingship at the neck.

This is the crux of the current reformation.

Through the prophet God protests, "They set up kings without my consent; they choose princes without my approval…" (Hos 8:4). This is alluding to 's rejection of Samuel for a king. They had relinquished the Priesthood to Aaron but now they went the next step, tragically relinquishing the Kingship to Saul. The old covenant church (ancient Israel) had been called out from the nations to be corporately a "kingdom of priests" (Ex 19:5-6) – to be God's vice-regents spreading the knowledge of the glory of the Lord throughout the earth by a personal and intimate knowledge of the true God. But now through her rebellion and rejection of this knowledge of God she sold her calling, losing it to a separate caste of kings and priests.

As a type this foreshadowed the greatest miss-development in the entire new covenant church's history – her relinquishing of the 'royal priesthood' (1 Pet 2:9) to a separate caste of kings and priests – the clergy – and therefore, to human control. The second and third centuries saw the rise of the 'monarchical bishop'. As did ancient , the church effectively declared, "Give us a king like all the other nations" (1 Sam 8:5). Rejecting the Samuels, the men of the Spirit (apostles and prophets), they were replaced with a human office – the 'monarchical bishop', the direct equivalent of 'senior minister' (pastor) in today's church. Authority gradually shifted from a relational and spiritual base to a hierarchical and organisational one, plunging the church into progressive idolatry and spiritual decline.

Confusion between Secular & Spiritual Authority

This was accelerated by state patronage of the church under Constantine and subsequent emperors. The pagan role of the Emperor as high priest, as Pontifex Maximus, was used to legitimise his interference in the church. The lines between secular and spiritual authority became completely blurred as the Emperor presided over church affairs and bishops acquired civil jurisdiction. Spiritual authority was effectively replaced by hierarchical authority.

The teaching of Jesus on this issue was ignored resulting in confusion between secular and spiritual authority. They are two completely different kinds of authority relating to two separate spheres. Jesus taught this when He said,
"You know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great men exercise authority over them. It is not this way among you, but whoever wishes to become great among you shall be your servant" Mtt 20:25-26; also Mk 10:42-43

One is 'secular' relating to the civil/business sphere (the Gentiles) and the other is 'spiritual' relating to the house of God (it is not this way among you). The former is organisational and hierarchical (lord it over you), the latter is relational and spiritual (greatest shall be your servant).

The former is upheld by the "sword of the magistrate", by legal, organisational, and ultimately coercive means (eg police, courts, laws, rules, constitutions etc) and the latter by the "sword of truth and love" (the word of God and conscience only). The former is reflected, for example, in the employer/employee relationship requiring obedience to a position of authority. This does not imply that the person who occupies the position may not be a good or kind employer. If so, they are merely functioning as a 'benevolent despot'.

And so the same applies in traditional church authority. There are many fine men and women of God who occupy traditional positions of authority, whether they are called pastor, apostle, bishop, superintendent etc. The descriptor of the 'position' is not so much the issue, although it is when it becomes a title – a proper-noun rather than an adjective (i.e. 'Apostle Bill' instead of 'Bill the apostle', or 'Bill is apostolic'). The issue, however, is that we unconsciously view the ministry described as a 'position' rather than an anointing. And once we do this it is accompanied with an official authority and title. This is despite Jesus' clear teaching that we were not to carry honorific titles: "But do not be called Rabbi; for One is your Teacher, and you are all brothers.

Do not call anyone on earth your father; for One is your Father, He who is in heaven.
Do not be called leaders; for One is your Leader, that is, Christ." Mtt 23:8-10 NASB

The contemporary 'apostolic movement' is falling foul of Jesus' teaching at this point. Its fondness for titles (e.g. 'Apostle Bill', or 'Pastor Jack') is only symptomatic of a deeper Constantinian and non-reformational view of authority. Without distinguishing between spiritual and secular authority it will only replicate history – more control, abuse and spiritual confusion.

The root problem was not fully addressed by the Reformation. Despite the recovery at an individual level of the 'priesthood of the believer', at a corporate level priests were merely replaced by pastors. A 'protestant priesthood' with official powers was the inevitable result of the reformer's refusal to distinguish between spiritual and secular authority. The confusion between the two legitimised the Inquisition prior to the Reformation, and the drowning of Anabaptists by the thousands under the watchful eye of the Reformer's during it. In both cases the church (whether Protestant or Catholic) self-consciously used the secular/civil arm.

Because of the Constantinian confusion of authorities great abuse was perpetrated on the people of God. To transfer the same concept of authority from pastors to apostles, often under the term 'covering', is to miss the heart of the reformation. It only serves to perpetuate the historic problem of a human intermediary between Christ and His congregation. And as such it can only be defined as 'anti-

Christ' which by definition means 'to be in the place of Christ'. This is a serious indictment on the current 'apostolic movement' and more broadly on both traditional and contemporary church structures. To take the place of Christ over God's inheritance is to invite the displeasure of God.

In the light of the above miss-development, the revelation of the 'priesthood of the believer', and new covenant freedom it demands repentance and rectification. The fear of the Lord is about to fall on the church. Many leaders will see the error of their ways and turn to the Lord.

The Two Streams

There are two streams apparent in the current reformation. One flows on the surface and the other in the depths.

The former, flowing on the surface is more visible, but prone to contamination. It pursues a profile and is more accommodating to man's ways and methods usually appealing to the cognitive. It is usually identifiable with particular men or movements.

The latter is hidden, flowing underground and is free from contamination. It is deep calling to deep. It pursues a deep spirituality and doesn't seek a public profile or man's recognition – it does not yield to man's ways or methods. It is more intuitive pursuing the ways of the Spirit. It is impossible to identify this stream with any particular man or movement.

The surface stream was seen in the mainstream Reformers such as Luther, Zwingli, and Calvin. They were given great profile which allowed the Reformation to survive and indeed spread in the face of great opposition. However, this profile led Luther to trade his earlier call for freedom for the patronage and protection of the German princes. The stream was contaminated. Secular and spiritual authority was again mixed and the Reformation retarded.

However, the underground stream refused to compromise on this very point. What has been commonly recognised as the 'medieval underground', a broad-based faceless movement of dissent and spiritual renewal dating back 1,000 years, surfaced almost contemporaneously with Luther. They became known during the Reformation as the Anabaptists. So named for their commitment to rebaptism coming out of the revelation that the church (ecclesia) are the 'called out ones' – a 'gathered community' distinct from the unbelieving one.

This was in stark contrast to Christendom – a prevailing monolithic system consisting of an unholy alliance between secular and spiritual authorities. Entry to this system was by physical birth and infant baptism. One was simply born into Christendom. To be re-baptised as a believing adult was therefore viewed as a declaration of war on the old system and was deeply subversive – both socially and politically. From Constantine onwards Christianity, as the state religion, had been politically used as social cement.

This prophetic posture of the underground in rebaptism, separating secular and spiritual spheres, paved the way for the separation of church and state and the religious freedom now enjoyed in the and most Western nations.

The Ultimatum

However, the ultimatum is this: if the underground stream does not take the reformation to the next level by redefining the nature and function of authority within the church even the religious freedoms that have already been won out in the state will be lost. In fact, the state will either revert to Christendom where Christianity, as a de-facto state religion, is used as social cement or to occult paganism for the same reason. To whom much is given much is required.

We have the separation of church and state. But it is now time for the separation of secular and spiritual styles of leadership within the church – for the exorcism of hierarchical and indeed 'Gentilic' authority from the house of God.

Pastors and leaders now is the time to humble ourselves and seek the Lord. He will not share His glory with another.

It is time to relinquish what belongs only to Him.

For a fuller treatment of leadership structures refer to the author's book, 'Snakes in the Temple : Unmasking Idolatry in Today's Church', see ch. 9 'Idolatry & Human Leadership'.

Click here for more info or to purchase: 'Snakes in the Temple'
REPRINT AGREEMENT:Duplication and re-transmission of this writing is permitted provided that complete source and website information for Lifemessenger is included. Thank you.

www.lifemessenger.org

Copyright © David Orton 2005

The Nature of Hypocrisy

Priscilla Van Sutphin

March 3rd, 2005
www.upstreamca.org

Matt 7:3-5 NKJV And why do you look at the speck in your brother's eye, but do not consider the plank in your own eye? 4 Or how can you say to your brother, 'Let me remove the speck from your eye'; and look, a plank is in your own eye? 5 Hypocrite! First remove the plank from your own eye, and then you will see clearly to remove the speck from your brother's eye.

Merriam Webster: hypocrite : a person who puts on a false appearance of virtue or religion

“ I want to talk to you tonight about the nature of hypocrisy. You’ve heard it is written, a little leaven leavens the whole lump. What this means is that just a little sin, allows in more sin, till the whole soul is spoiled. One thing leads to another. Pride is at the root of hypocrisy. The person who forgets that he too is a sinner, who thinks somehow he has obtained a righteousness apart from ME, is one who is walking in pride. He cannot see anymore his own sin. He is too busy evaluating the sins of others to see his own. He considers himself better than all those around him.

Remember the publican and the Pharisee? Who was the more righteous? Was it not the one who realized he was with sin? Much of My church has bought into a false identity. They think they have to be perfect when there is only ONE WHO is perfect. In trying to attain righteousness by their own efforts they have abandoned GRACE. And when you abandon grace, then you come under the law, and the curse of the law. This is where trouble begins, because then the enemy has a foothold to leaven the whole lump. Shame then comes and tries to COVER over what is reality. Pretense then comes to cover and act as if everything is ok when it isn’t. Less and less time is spent with ME, and more time doing things and being busy with other things. There is a vicious cycle to pride and shame and pretense.

Pretty soon, there is a blindness then that sets in and you become immune to your own sin. Judging comes and pointing of the finger at the sins of others.
Put away the pointing of the finger My children. Do not give in to the accuser of the brethren. For when you accuse and retail facts about others that are not from Me, but from your own heart and what you have seen, without taking that to prayer with ME, then you are moving into dangerous territory.

You who are wanting freedom from religion, ask for death to flesh. Admit your faults to one another and pray for one another, that there would be no room for pretense and shame to get a foothold. I don’t want you walking in Self condemnation either or false humility. Do not berate yourself for the mistakes you make. PRAISE ME IN ALL THINGS. Praise Me, that I am helping you to overcome…even when you don’t feel it. Do not allow the enemy a place to accuse you. When you confess your sins to ME, then I am Faithful and just to forgive you. So why do you walk around like a worm? YOU ARE THE CHILD OF THE KING! You are not to belittle yourselves. You are not to walk in false guilt and condemnation. Condemnation is a symptom of religion. I do not condemn you. When you let self condemnation in, then it keeps you open also to condemn others, for if you’re free to condemn yourself, why not everyone else? So put away all the self accusation! Confess your sins daily and put away all the guilt and condemnation of the enemy. It doesn’t help you become more holy, but only masks true religion.
It exchanges it for a façade.

You don’t understand My grace if you are still self condemning. You need to understand the POWER OF THE CROSS. The cross is central to GRACE. Grace is not only mercy, but my power to overcome. Ask for it in time of need, remember? Ask for grace to help. Ask for the power to overcome.

GRACE is about that also. No, you don’t deserve My grace. You don’t deserve My love. But that is why I came. I came to bring LIFE and to RESTORE relationship. If it is so easily stolen, then where is the power of the cross? Think about it! Do you think My blood is so weak, so useless, that it is not enough to forgive anything you do out of immaturity and lack of complete sanctification?

The nature of humility is to recognize that you cannot do anything by yourself apart from My grace! That is why the publican was more pleasing to ME. He knew his sins and acknowledged them. The Publican was blind to his own sins. He was acting, even before ME! That is really blind you know.
For the one who thinks I don’t see is truly blind inside and out. They are forgetful of My power and My heart of love. So often the thing that causes you to embrace shame is that you don’t really believe how much I LOVE YOU!
You don’t really believe that I desire your company, that I desire to spend time with you – that I love you unconditionally! NO CONDITIONS is what it means to love unconditionally. No matter what, I LOVE YOU! The one who walks in pride has not a clue to the depth of the power of My love.

Who are you oh man to judge another? I AM the only TRUE JUDGE. LET ME be the one to say what to do or not to do. Let ME tell you if this one is someone to pray for or to ignore. Let ME be the one to give you discernment. And do not spread around the sins of another. Do not open your mouth about anyone to spread rumors or even truths that are personal.
LOVE YOUR NEIGHBOR. Would you want someone doing that to you?
Then lay down your life for a friend, and cover their sins with PRAYER.
Do not admonish another if you are doing the same thing. Do not hide your sins for the enemy is looking for an excuse to accuse you before ME. Open up to someone and allow ME to heal those areas of pain and hurt. Allow me to sanctify your soul – to touch you with My glory! I LOVE YOU and want you to be ready to receive the fullness of My love and glory that I want so to pour out in you. Your heart will ache when you see the reactions of those walking in darkness to My glory! You will then weep and cry. So instead of finger pointing now…PRAY and fast. Keep your hearts TENDER and free from judging and bitterness. Honor one another and love one another with a pure heart. Ask ME for that love you need. I AM your Resource.

And do not look down your nose at the wickedness of the lost! I came not to condemn the world, but to save it. I am calling you to be My ambassadors. But if you disdain what I love, how is the love of GOD in you? Pray for the lost, and you will have authority to witness to them.”

NT:5272 hupokrisis (hoop-ok'-ree-sis); from NT:5271; acting under a feigned part, i.e. (figuratively) deceit ("hypocrisy"): KJV - condemnation, dissimulation, hypocrisy.

NT:5271 hupokrinomai (hoop-ok-rin'-om-ahee); middle voice from NT:5259 and NT:2919; to decide (speak or act) under a false part, i.e. (figuratively) dissemble (pretend): KJV - feign.
NT:5259 hupo (hoop-o'); a primary preposition; under, i.e. (with the genitive case) of place (beneath), or with verbs (the agency or means, through); (with the accusative case) of place (whither [underneath] or where [below] or time (when [at]): KJV - among, by, from, in, of, under, with. In comp. it retains the same general applications, especially of inferior position or condition, and specifically, covertly or moderately.
NT:2919 krino (kree'-no); properly, to distinguish, i.e. decide (mentally or judicially); by implication, to try, condemn, punish: KJV - avenge, conclude, condemn, damn, decree, determine, esteem, judge, go to (sue at the) law, ordain, call in question, sentence to, think.

NT:5273 hupokrites (hoop-ok-ree-tace'); from NT:5271; an actor under an assumed character (stage-player), i.e. (figuratively) a dissembler ("hypocrite"): KJV - hypocrite.

NT:5271 hupokrinomai (hoop-ok-rin'-om-ahee); middle voice from NT:5259 and NT:2919; to decide (speak or act) under a false part, i.e. (figuratively) dissemble (pretend): KJV - feign.

HEBREW – hypocrite

OT:2611 chaneph (khaw-nafe'); from OT:2610; soiled (i.e. with sin), impious:
KJV - hypocrite (-ical).

OT:2610 chaneph (khaw-nafe'); a primitive root; to soil, especially in a moral sense: KJV - corrupt, defile, greatly, pollute, profane.

Job 8:13-15 NKJV So are the paths of all who forget God; And the hope of the hypocrite shall perish, 14 Whose confidence shall be cut off, And whose trust is a spider's web. 15 He leans on his house, but it does not stand. He holds it fast, but it does not endure.

Job 17:8-9 NKJV Upright men are astonished at this, And the innocent stirs himself up against the hypocrite. 9 Yet the righteous will hold to his way,
And he who has clean hands will be stronger and stronger.

Job 20:5 NKJV That the triumphing of the wicked is short, And the joy of the hypocrite is but for a moment?

Job 27:8-9 NKJV For what is the hope of the hypocrite, Though he may gain much, If God takes away his life? 9 Will God hear his cry when trouble comes upon him?

Prov 11:9 NKJV The hypocrite with his mouth destroys his neighbor,
But through knowledge the righteous will be delivered.

Isa 9:17 NKJV Therefore the Lord will have no joy in their young men, Nor have mercy on their fatherless and widows; For everyone is a hypocrite and an evildoer, And every mouth speaks folly. For all this His anger is not turned away, But His hand is stretched out still.

Luke 13:15-17 NKJV The Lord then answered him and said, "Hypocrite! Does not each one of you on the Sabbath loose his ox or donkey from the stall, and lead it away to water it? 16 So ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan has bound — think of it — for eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the Sabbath?"

Gal 2:13 NKJV And the rest of the Jews also played the hypocrite with him, so that even Barnabas was carried away with their hypocrisy.

Abundance of Me
Priscilla Van Sutphin

Feb 23rd, 2005 1:53 am

Just before I sat down with the Lord, I went outside to stick an envelope in the mailboxes and forgot to take my keys, but locked the door. It took till now to get someone to let me in.
The Lord spoke, “abundance of ME”….then,
“I have an abundance of Me to give to you. I am not slack concerning My promises. Awakening is near and he who has ears hear - for I am coming like a MIGHTY RUSHING WIND once again. I will shake the heavens and the earth, and I will turn all who will to the Desire of All Nations! Do you hear the sound of the abundance of rain?

Havoc is coming upon the earth. His horse thunders across the earth to cause confusion and to distract you away from what is most important. Remember when this awakening begins to keep your thoughts on ME. For great turmoil, confusion, and insanity will be with him to stupefy and try to paralyze those who come to ME. Even as I loose My glory will another rise to try to take away the focus to himself, mimicking and causing signs and wonders as well.

But know this, that those who are truly IN ME, will be safe from all that confusion and insanity. Stay close My beloveds to Your King during these times so that what is in the world will not overcome you. Come to me now while I may be found. Come and commune with ME. REST in ME so that when all these things come about, you will be grounded firmly in My love.
As I loose My Spirit in awakening world wide, you will be catapulted into what I've planned for you since the beginning of time. Each has his own role to play in what is coming about. Do not look at how important someone else is. Do not be given to comparison with others. EACH PERSON is needed and valuable to the Kingdom. Just ask ME what is your role, and do that to the best of your ability.

Again, I tell you, refrain from looking at what is on another's plate. Rejoice with those who rejoice, and weep with those who weep. Ask to be filled with My love and to be one with MY HEART, so that you may walk in the fullness of what I have for you. I am blowing on My garden and I will blow away all the clutter, all the strongholds, so that My bride is arrayed in the fullness of My love and all that I desire for her to have in Me.

Startling miracles are coming as you reach out and help others who are confused by the circumstances of life. Healing anointing will flow even in the children to such a degree as to amaze those who are outside of My love! I will use whomever I will to bring many to ME in this hour. Do not be afraid My beloveds. I AM WITH YOU. And I will be with you until the end. Grow in dependence on ME. Keep in close communion with ME. Submit your lives to ME so that I can be glorified in all you say and do. Step by step, you will See amazing things in this hour! Keep your eyes fixed on ME. I will take my stand on the earth!"

153 – fruit bearing, the sons of God

Breaker - Breaker
Priscilla Van Sutphin

Feb 28th, 2005

www.upstreamca.org

Ps 42:7-11 NIV
7 Deep calls to deep in the roar of your waterfalls; all your waves and breakers have swept over me. 8 By day the LORD directs his love, at night his song is with me — a prayer to the God of my life. 9 I say to God my Rock, "Why have you forgotten me? Why must I go about mourning, oppressed by the enemy?" 10 My bones suffer mortal agony as my foes taunt me, saying to me all day long, "Where is your God?" 11 Why are you downcast, O my soul? Why so disturbed within me? Put your hope in God, for I will yet praise him, my Savior and my God.

Ps 93:4-5 NIV Mightier than the thunder of the great waters, mightier than the breakers of the sea — the LORD on high is mighty. 5 Your statutes stand firm; holiness adorns your house for endless days, O LORD.

Jonah 2:1-3 NIV From inside the fish Jonah prayed to the LORD his God. 2 He said: "In my distress I called to the LORD, and he answered me. From the depths of the grave I called for help, and you listened to my cry. 3 You hurled me into the deep, into the very heart of the seas, and the currents swirled about me; all your waves and breakers swept over me.

I heard the Lord say "Breaker, Breaker!" and He had me look up scriptures, then said,

"A BREAKER anointing is coming to My church. And in order for those who are going to move in it to understand it and use it, first they have to go THROUGH it and see that I AM the BREAKER. That no matter what happens I will see you through. For then with the comfort they are comforted with, and the power they are delivered with from the circumstances, can they then go forth to use this and take authority for the lives of others. And they will know from experience, not just from head knowledge, that I AM THE RESOURCE for all you need, and no weapon formed against you will prosper.

They will understand what it is to stand even when you have lost all energy and motivation to stand. They will know how to lie still in MY ARMS and ALLOW ME to fight for them, and bring them through! They will know how to FULLY TRUST ME for all their needs! Many of you are like Jonah now, up to your neck and head in troubles and circumstances coming against you, and you've fallen sometimes to condemnation from yourself and others, and guilt, and self accusation. BUT it is not something you did. IT IS TRAINING! IT IS WARFARE. I've shown you in the Word, even Paul was opposed by Satan when he wanted to go to Asia, so there were times when he couldn't do what he was called to do at that moment, but it was delayed. That's because sometimes you have no idea of ALL the circumstances going on in the world, but I DO. I know all things. I do what is best for you and especially for the development of your character. I am making you my strong horse in battle!

The GLORY of the Lord will be your rear guard, and the GLORY will be seen upon you! I will sanctify My beloveds and break every chain of bondage to the enemy so that you will walk in holiness and truth. You will become the living flames of fire I want you to be. You will walk and not faint. You will not grow weary in doing good. You will follow where I lead, and you will make disciples of all men. I will send you out to the streets and the highways and byways to gather in the harvest of all harvests. And there will be JOY in your heart as you see My delight in you and bring you to the place of great LOVE and healing. You will be like the trees that bear fruit every month
And whose leaves are for the healing of the nations. You will not wear out, for you will walk with ME and have communion and union with ME the rest of your days and your days will be full, while other times you just rest and seek My FACE. Your delight will be in ME and you will KNOW MY PRESENCE as Enoch did.

YOU WILL NOT BE AFRAID after I do my might work in you. You will go forth with singing and dancing. You will rejoice and give me glory as you go forth in harvesting souls and demonstrating My love to the nations. I will be with you. I will walk with you and talk with you at greater levels of revelation than anything you've known. Do not be afraid. I will have My stand in the earth!"

Zech 10:3-12 NKJV "My anger is kindled against the shepherds, And I will punish the goatherds. For the LORD of hosts will visit His flock, The house of Judah, and will make them as His royal horse in the battle. 4 From him comes the cornerstone, From him the tent peg, From him the battle bow, From him every ruler together. 5 They shall be like mighty men, who tread down their enemies in the mire of the streets in the battle. They shall fight because the LORD is with them, and the riders on horses shall be put to shame.

6 "I will strengthen the house of Judah, and I will save the house of Joseph.
I will bring them back, Because I have mercy on them. They shall be as though I had not cast them aside; For I am the LORD their God, And I will hear them. 7 Those of Ephraim shall be like a mighty man, and their heart shall rejoice as if with wine. Yes, their children shall see it and be glad; Their heart shall rejoice in the LORD. 8 I will whistle for them and gather them, For I will redeem them; And they shall increase as they once increased.

9 "I will sow them among the peoples, and they shall remember Me in far countries; They shall live, together with their children, and they shall return. 10 I will also bring them back from the land of Egypt, and gather them from Assyria. I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon, Until no more room is found for them. 11 He shall pass through the sea with affliction, And strike the waves of the sea: All the depths of the River shall dry up. Then the pride of Assyria shall be brought down, and the scepter of Egypt shall depart.
12 "So I will strengthen them in the LORD, and they shall walk up and down in His name, "Says the LORD.

Volunteers
Priscilla Van Sutphin

March 2nd, 2005

Ps 110 NKJV Announcement of the Messiah's Reign
(Matt 22:44; Acts 2:34,35) A Psalm of David -
1 The LORD said to my Lord, "Sit at My right hand, Till I make Your enemies Your footstool." 2 The LORD shall send the rod of Your strength out of Zion. Rule in the midst of Your enemies! 3 Your people shall be volunteers in the day of Your power; In the beauties of holiness, from the womb of the morning, You have the dew of Your youth. 4 The LORD has sworn and will not relent, "You are a priest forever According to the order of Melchizedek." 5 The Lord is at Your right hand; He shall execute kings in the day of His wrath. 6 He shall judge among the nations, He shall fill the places with dead bodies, He shall execute the heads of many countries. 7 He shall drink of the brook by the wayside; Therefore He shall lift up the head.

The Lord spoke to me “volunteers” and the above scripture came to mind…
What do You want to say Father?…

“ I am looking for volunteers for the day of My power is at hand. I am looking for the hearts who will turn to ME. I am looking for those who will not take the glory for themselves, but will caste down their crowns at My feet and worship ME. I am looking for the soul who will accept my love into his or her heart with JOY and eagerness. For I am EAGER to do My great work and I am longing for union with My bride!

I am so desirous to shower you with my gifts, and favor. I am so desirous to have a bride who will bow to My will in her life and who will do what I WANT, and not just what you want. I am weeping with desire for a bride who loves ME, above all the things of this earth, above all the other people of this earth, above all she could have in this earth. I am looking, and I am looking, and I see so many caught up in the ways of the world. I want to do something to draw you to my side and say to you…WILL YOU BELIEVE ME WHEN I SAY I LOVE YOU? WILL YOU BELIEVE ME WHEN I SAY, I HAVE YOUR BEST IN MIND? Will you take on this mantle of being a nobody, of being of no reputation? Will you be like My SON? Will you honor me and not just your own opinions? Will you come away with ME, just because you are excited like a bride to spend time with your Bridegroom?

I want to hold you in my arms and speak tenderly to you. But so many are refusing to spend time with me. You dart off and run away and reject my advances. You think that doing all these other things is more important than time with ME. But I tell you that time with ME is NEVER wasted. It is ok to waste your life on ME. For when you come to ME, you get LIFE. I AM THE WAY THE TRUTH AND THE LIFE. And there is no other way to get what I have to give you, than to come into my presence.

I am going to bypass some of the barriers to My love and presence, and I am going to startle you with My advances. THEN you will know, that I truly love you. I am the Good Shepherd. I leave the 99 to go and reach out to the one who is far away, and wandering! I am so in love with you! I cannot stand separation from the ones I love! I am longing to set you free. I AM rending the heavens and I WILL come down. I will surprise you with My love!
I want you to draw honey from the Rock. I want you to move and have your being in ME. You are going to know FREEDOM as never before. CRY OUT for that freedom. It is coming. I AM COMING. I WILL set you free from all that has entangled you of this world, the flesh and the devil!

In a flood of many waters, I will protect you! I will surround you with songs of deliverance. I AM the KING of KINGS and the LORD of LORDS. NOTHING is impossible with ME! NOTHING! NOTHING shall separate you from My love! Only believe! I have the best dinner prepared for My beloveds. I have a feast on the lees. I have a sumptuous affair I am inviting you to…and I will surprise you over and over with My love.

Ps 32:6-7 NKJV For this cause everyone who is godly shall pray to You
In a time when You may be found; Surely in a flood of great waters
They shall not come near him. 7 You are my hiding place; You shall preserve me from trouble; You shall surround me with songs of deliverance. Selah

Isa 25:6- NKJV And in this mountain The LORD of hosts will make for all people A feast of choice pieces, A feast of wines on the lees, Of fat things full of marrow, Of well-refined wines on the lees. 7 And He will destroy on this mountain The surface of the covering cast over all people, and the veil that is spread over all nations. 8 He will swallow up death forever, and the Lord GOD will wipe away tears from all faces; The rebuke of His people He will take away from all the earth; For the LORD has spoken.

9 And it will be said in that day: "Behold, this is our God; We have waited for Him, and He will save us. This is the LORD; We have waited for Him; We will be glad and rejoice in His salvation."

10 For on this mountain the hand of the LORD will rest, and Moab shall be trampled down under Him, as straw is trampled down for the refuse heap. 11 And He will spread out His hands in their midst as a swimmer reaches out to swim, and He will bring down their pride together with the trickery of their hands. 12 The fortress of the high fort of your walls He will bring down, lay low, and bring to the ground, down to the dust.

The Next Wave

Paul Davies

The following Revelation was received by Paul Davies in Jan 2005. As with all prophetic words, these must be weighed and tested with a spirit of humility and repentance. Where Bible passages are referred to, the interpretations given are not intended to be seen as the interpretation of the passage, but as God speaking to his people's current situation by giving an interpretation.

In a series of World events at Christmas 2004 the Lord began to speak to me about the coming Harvest – and particularly the Next Wave of the Holy Spirit.
(http://users.chariot.net.au/~pdavies/nextwave.htm)

On Christmas Day we were in the Grampian Mountains, Victoria, staying in a Caravan Park. Ten minutes up the hill at McKenzie Falls a tragedy occurred which affected me greatly. The man in the Cabin next to us told of his visit to the Falls, where 4 people had drowned that day. He was coming down the steep stairs as they heard the screams and yelling. Over the next few days the details emerged on the News. A family group of around 50 Pakistani Muslims had gone to the Falls. A twelve-year-old girl had slipped on the wet rocks and fallen into deep water, about 2m from shore. Instead of throwing or passing something to her, 4 of her relatives jumped into the water to “help”.

None of them could swim!

Only a 17-year-old sister survived, being resuscitated on the shore by a stranger. The girl, her father and two uncles drowned. This affected me quite a bit, as in my job as a teacher I train teenagers in Swimming and Lifesaving in our Adventure Ed. course. I actually felt guilty for not having visited the Falls (instead of having Christmas dinner with my extended family), because I would have been able to save someone.

I “knew” God was saying something.

The very Next Day came tragedy #2 – the Tsunami which killed at least 250,000 people in South East Asia. This event dominated the News for over three weeks, and has led to a lot of confusion in the church about judgement and whether God was responsible.

The third tragedy was a week later, when visiting the grandparents at Warrnambool, Victoria. We took the children swimming at Stingray Bay on Friday, a sand spit along the breakwater between two small islands, which at low tide forms a great sheltered beach. Saturday, we drove home to Adelaide. Sunday, 4 people drowned at Stingray Bay. They were trying to wade across to one of the islands as the tide was coming in (Why? Beats me). A freak wave came and swept 4 people into the sea.

I was a little nervous about going to VacSwim the next week.

Then the Lord began to put it all together. Ten years ago Next October (2005) I was asking Him about the “receding tide” of the Wave that brought in the River, or the Toronto Blessing. I saw people in ministry looking at their feet and saying: “Where is the depth we saw?” (maturity), “Why is the tide receding?” “We thought this would last.” The vision zoomed out till the people were tiny, and I could now see a massive tidal wave poised to fall on them, which was drawing the water into itself. Then the wave fell vertically, cut the sand from beneath their feet, and they went from paddling depth to out-of-depth in seconds. I was reminded: “Suddenly the Lord your God will come into His temple.”

The Lord told me: The Next Wave will be as far beyond Toronto as Toronto was beyond the former.

So, when I saw the Sth East Asian Wave I began asking the Lord what was happening. He replied:

THE WAVE IS COMING! TIME IS SHORT TO BE TRAINED (to get ready).

The Lord did not initiate this wave – Satan did! The enemy knows what God is about to do, and always responds by attempting to kill off the potential harvest. When God sends judgment, few survive (Noah, Sodom). God rescued many by miracles. He definitely uses the enemy’s plans for His own purposes, as some have pointed out in this circumstance (eg Aceh), but He is about to send revival to Sth East Asia.

Unlike the Pakistanis, we need to be able to survive when the depth suddenly increases. We need to learn to “swim”. Time is short! Maybe October will be “it”. At the moment, we don’t have the “lifeboats” (structures/leaders) in the church to rescue the people the Lord’s Wave will sweep in.

We need to encourage one another to be ready, and train as many as we can ourselves. Stockpile resources. Start classes. Seek the Lord for His divine strategies, so that we are not found wanting when the Wave hits.

Blessings,

Paul D

Website: http://www.cobweb.com.au/~pdavies
Email: pdavies@cobweb.com.au

The Church Of Tomorrow

Andrew Strom

"We want to get back to real 'New Testament' Christianity." But what exactly does that look like?

This is an important topic - and something I have pondered a great deal over the years. What exactly would the 'New Testament Church' look like if it was translated into a modern western city?

To get started, I want you to forget about today's church just for a moment - with all her obvious problems and contradictions, and picture something quite different. I want you to imagine that you are still living in the same city, in the same year, but you are right in the middle of a 'Book of Acts'-type scenario. Somehow everything has changed.

For some reason, all of the Spirit-filled Christians in your city have left their Denominations and divisions behind. They have truly begun to fulfill the prayer of Jesus - "That they all may be ONE". They now hold huge gatherings all over the city - right out in the open. And as well as these united gatherings, on most streets there is now a house-meeting, where all the Spirit-filled believers from that street gather together, eating and sharing and having communion, etc. (ie. A "NEIGHBORHOOD CHURCH"). The power of God flowing in these house-meetings is amazing. Many healings and miracles are occurring. The 'gifts' flow freely every day.

It seems also that many of the church buildings and cathedrals have simply been abandoned. No longer do Christians want to hide themselves away behind "four walls". They want to gather out where the people are - presenting Jesus to the whole world. They want to be truly "one body". There is no way that any of their old buildings could contain the crowds, anyhow.

And the men whom God has raised up to lead this vast movement do not seem much like the 'Reverends' or even the 'televangelists' of old. In fact, quite a few of them have never even been to Bible College, and they seem to be very plain, ordinary people from humble backgrounds. But what an anointing! It is very clear to everyone that these 'apostles and prophets' (as they are known) have spent many years in prayer and brokenness before God - drawing closer and closer to Him. When they speak, the very fear of the Lord seems to come down, and many people repent deeply of their sins. Demons are cast out and the blind and crippled are made whole. -These kinds of things are happening all the time. The whole city is just in awe of what is going on, and thousands upon thousands are being saved. Even the newspapers and television are full of it.

As soon as someone repents they are immediately baptized in water and hands are laid on them for the infilling of the Holy Spirit. -This is expected from day one! And it is also expected that every Christian has a gift and calling from God - and that they should be encouraged to move forward and fulfill their calling. No longer is there a distinction made between those who are "ministers" and those who are merely 'laity'. Now it is expected that EVERYONE is a minister of the Lord! (However, there are 'elders' - ie. older Christians to guide things).

Some of the bishops and pastors from several denominations have actually denounced this great move of God very strongly. They say it is "deception" and warn their people to stay away. (-Every Revival in history has been accused of this - usually by religious leaders). But to be honest, it is so obvious to most people that God is the one behind it all, that very few take these men seriously. The Spirit of God is sweeping all before Him. The glory of the Lord has come.

One of the reasons that these leaders are so upset is that a lot of the Christians' GIVING now does not go to church buildings, but rather to the POOR. In fact, God has spoken to many people to start supporting widows and orphans overseas, etc. They also give generously to anyone in their midst who is in need. Many even sell their own possessions in order to do this.

The huge over-riding theme of this great movement is LOVE. "Behold how they love one another" is the catch-cry of many who watch this 'new church' in action. And everyone is given to MUCH PRAYER.

And so, gathering "as one" in the outdoors and breaking bread from house to house, they eat together with glad and sincere hearts, praising God and enjoying the favor of all the people. And the Lord adds to their number daily those who are being saved.

Can This REALLY HAPPEN?

The above description is taken straight out of the Book of Acts - as applied to today. Everything in the above paragraphs is put there to give you an idea of what it would be like to live in the Jerusalem church at the start of Acts. -And it was like that for YEARS. Imagine the impact of such a church on the world around it! God is wanting to do this again. And He wants to use ordinary people like you and me to help bring it to pass.

I am convinced that we are NOT supposed to treat the early church as a "special case". It was given to us as an 'example'. It is what the "normal" church should be like all the time! And yet we have fallen so far below this standard. Only in times of Revival do we approach it again for a time. But I believe it is supposed to be "normal" for the church to be like this - day in and day out. This is the way that Jesus always wanted us to be.

However, one thing is clear. It will take a great "SHAKING" for us to get anywhere close to the above description today. You have to be aware that in order to get there from here, a whole lot of 'hierarchies' and church boards and careers and titles and positions would be on the line. And a lot of men simply don't want to lose those things. It doesn't matter to them whether it is Truth or not. If it affects their reputation, their position or their organization, they will oppose it with everything they have.

Sadly it is very difficult to see a "smooth" transition to this kind of Christianity. I believe we are in for a shaky ride. But I certainly believe that it is on God's agenda. And like the Great Reformation before it, I believe He will do WHATEVER IT TAKES in order to get us there.

Here's to true 'NEW TESTAMENT' Christianity, my friends - the kind that Jesus and the apostles actually invented in the beginning.

Let us settle for nothing less - WHATEVER IT TAKES. -by Andrew Strom.

Times Of Glory

Ayman & Hala Mikhail

Times of Glory: 2005 And On

Times of Glory are coming. Waves of Divine Supernatural interventions are ahead. God's Glory is going to fill the earth in a scene that never happened before. His Glory will be reflected as powerful as HE is.

The reflection of His Glory will be manifested in a wide range of Divine interventions.

"The God of Glory thunders" (Psalm 29:3).

In our pre-set minds, there are some limited figures of reflection of God's Glory. We only see one side of the coin. In 2005, we will see so clear His Waves of glory in all reflections. His Glory will be so vivid, so decisive. His Glory will bring things into ends with no time to waste. It's season of Acceleration.

Good news for the Church

The Lord is stretching His Hand to you to reveal to you and through you an unprecedented wave of divine encounters like never heard or seen. It's season of Acceleration.

Quick answers for long waiting prayers, waves of healings (physical & inner), floods of deliverance and freeing the captured,
showers of release,
doubles of anointings,
repeated (daily) heavenly visitations,
Signs and Wonders,
Visions and Dreams,
words of knowledge,
words of wisdom,
heavenly discernment, abundant Grace.

What was taking long to happen will be achieved in short. What was happening rarely will be the every day experience.
The encounters of few will be the testimony of many children of God. What was taking years or months will be seen in days. For God's Glory.

Love and intimacy is the road for His Glory, Faith is the key, Praise and Worship is the atmosphere of His Splendor.

For the nations of the world, God's encounters of reflecting His Glory will cover the earth.

"....And I will gain Glory through Pharoh and all his army....will know that I AM the Lord when I gain Glory through Pharoh." (Exodus 14:17,18).

Even the nature will have its share in reflecting His Glory.

"The voice of the Lord is over waters; the God of Glory thunders, the Lord thunders over the mighty waters.
The voice of the Lord is Powerful; the voice of the Lord is Majestic.
The voice of the Lord breaks the cedars; the Lord breaks in pieces the cedars of Lebanon...
The voice of the Lord strikes with flashes of lightening.
The voice of the Lord shakes the desert; the Lord shakes the desert of Kadesh.
The voice of the Lord twists the oaks and strips the forests bare,
And in His temple all cry " Glory ".
The Lord sits enthroned over the flood; the Lord is enthroned as KING forever.
The Lord gives STRENGTH to His people; the Lord bless His people with peace."
(Psalm 29:3-11).

The Lord will come close to the Land and show His Glory. He will show His Glory in and through the church in to the peoples and the nations.

It's a time of Glory,
It's a season of Acceleration.

Let Jesus be glorified,

Ayman & Hala Mikhail
Cairo, Egypt
aymanhala@myrealbox.com

The Origin Of Racism

Walter James Taylor

A prophetic utterance from the Lord, October 9, 2004

"And, yes, white men have that 'black dot' or self-deception—big time—and ever wear it as a badge of honor...in many things, not the least of which are in the matters of race relation and race: and particularly so concerning the black race.

Nowhere have I ordained that one race of men and women should be superior to another race of women and men, for all races as we know them today have their roots and origins in sin. For with Noah began I race, and continued it with his sons until at the tower of Babel, when I scattered the sons of men over the face of the whole earth, saith the Lord.

And, yes, the sons of Japheth by which I populated the isles of the Gentiles[1], have carried this ‘black dot of self-deception’ to the far corners of the earth, thinking of themselves more highly than they ought to think, because from Acts 10:6-10, when I prevented the Apostle Paul from taking the gospel to Asia but in my Divine providence determined that it should go to Europe, I also caused them to become the recipient depository of my Word, of my gospel, to carry it to the ends of the earth—which they have done—but which they have gotten lifted up on pride in thinking that they themselves were such and such, and such-a-much, not realizing that it was the ‘entrance of my Word[2]’ which lighted the channels of the sea, and prospered their way.

These same sons of Japheth, which have become the Caucasian race—white people, if you will—when through such servants of mine as Martin Luther, I was able to get my Word into the dark ages of Europe and its barbarous living conditions, and, when my Word began to prosper the white European in the financial realm, they again through pride sought to lift themselves above me, and prosper themselves without me, in the enslaving of the black African (who was without my Word), solely for commercial purposes, greed, and the love of money; and then to rationalize and justify their wickedness, that this debauchery was both necessary and appropriate to ‘save the black heathen souls,’ whereas in truth, it was their souls in need of salvation, because of my Word already at work on their consciences that had been seared[3] with the hot iron of greed, licentiousness, lasciviousness and sex.

Herein lies the origin of racism*, of the rape of a continent, of the slaughter or enslavement of well over 50,000,000 black Africans, and of the cruelest kind of commercial debauchery for money and for sport, far exceeding the sport of Nero in Rome—rapes, burnings, constant terror, torture of every kind, mutilations, castrations, maimings, daily scourgings, brandings, and lifestyle terrorism—all because the Word of God, my Word was working in their consciences seared with the hot iron of licentiousness lust, in their refusing to walk in my laws of love toward the black Africans, and then their having the audacity to use my Word to rationalize and justify the whole sordid mess.* African slavery is in my eyes a Christian institution*, for in every land it touched, all the “heathen” knew “the Christians are coming” in to preach one gospel, but to practice another, saith the Lord.”*

Judgment Shall Begin At the House of God

"It is far past time that 'judgment shall begin at the house of God[4],' saith the Lord. That judgment is recorded in the 5th Chapter of James, verses one through eight, and beginning with the United States of America, it will fall on the descendants of the sons of Japheth wherever they have taken this race-based economic slavery throughout the entire world, for it is still true that 'the sun never sets on the British Empire.'

Although it was the Portuguese, the Spanish, and the Dutch that pioneered the African slave trade to a world new for them, but which I created for my glory, saith the Lord, it was the British that became the most efficient at it, and the Americans that went the furthest in use of my Word to justify the evil imaginations of their own hearts. The earthly depository of the throne of David until the return of my Son, and the primary carriers of my gospel to the islands of the sea—the best I've got for good each became the worst that I've had to contend with in the business of African slavery. 'Black dots' of hypocrisy—big time!"

What Happens To America Is In the Hands of the Church

"So, I have recorded the judgment for African slavery in my Word, in the fifth Chapter of James. What happens to America is not up to me, but is in the hands of my Church. What happens in England, in Holland, in Spain and in Portugal is not up to me, but is in the hands of my Church. What happens in Australia is not up to me, but is up to my Church, for although the issue there is not African slavery, the same British 'black dot' exists there with the Aborigine people."

Only South Africa Can Be Spared the Judgment of James 5

"Only South Africa is in the position to be spared the judgment of James 5, although she is far from where she needs to be, she is on the right track, saith the Lord. Although she was forced to, she nevertheless had the wisdom to make the major structural changes in her government to allow me into that nation, and that's who I'll use to preach my gospel to all the world for a witness of the second coming of my Son."

[For the much that the Lord has spoken to me on the subject of slavery over the past several years: please visit www.whattimeitis.org and click first on the Voice of the Lord link, and then the Judgments of James 5, Slavery, and God's Call to the US link; see also the Judgments of James 5 link on the home page.]

It Is Not God Who Will Destroy America

"No, as I told my servant Oral Roberts in the vision I gave him of a judgment, that I will stay my hand from hitting New York City in 2005, that 'I will not destroy America, for I have a covenant with her, and she has been the primary carrier and financier of most of the gospel that's being preached around the world.' I will not destroy America, but the curse of James 5 will, saith the Lord, if my preachers—my white sons and daughters of the gospel—don't begin to preach with fire in their bellies the gospel of repentance for the sin of slavery—which won't be hard to do, once the decision is made that I am requiring this of my Church—and to preach with the same intensity that America's future prosperity is wholly dependent on payment of the bill for slavery the way I count money, and not for the chump change that you will want to offer blacks, saith the Lord.”*

The Prayers of Millions of Slaves Are Still In God’s Face Daily

*“African slaves were never taught my Word. They were given just enough to hopefully keep them thinking about the ‘sweet by-in-by’ rather than the ‘nasty now,’ and to attempt to address the constant fear daily of slave revolts (or as my son, Walter, calls them ‘freedom strikes’), but millions of black slaves over hundreds of years got just enough of me, saith the Lord, to be able to cry out to me with a loud voice, “How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood of them that dwell on the earth[5]?”*

What most of my Church does not even begin to appreciate is that recorded in heaven with me is every prayer in faith that has ever been prayed*, and death in the natural does not cause them to go out of existence. I also have in my halls of tears every tear that has ever been cried in desperation or in longing for me to move on one’s behalf, and that these tears when poured out will reveal with words written what precipitated the cry, and then they are returned to the bottle[6], and again stored—forever.*

These prayers and those tears of slaves are in my face daily, and I will avenge them speedily upon the earth, saith the Lord*.* What happens now is not up to me, but up to you, saith the Lord*, for I have said in my Word to ‘Occupy till I come[7].’ I have sent a prophet into the land with a message of repentance, and not of judgment. If you hear him, you will be hearing me on this issue, saith he Lord, for he truly knows just where I am coming from on this issue, saith the Lord of Hosts.*

My Church was silent in Nazi Germany, and judgment came on the Jews first for rejecting my Son—really, for the curse on their nation uttered by the Jewish people themselves[8]—and then on Germany itself at the close of World II. The curse that I have written in James 5:1-8 fell on America during the Civil War. Six hundred thirty thousand lives were lost, one hundred thousand more in the North than in the South—all because my Church had kept silent for two hundred and fifty years about the incompatibility of slavery with the law of love*.*

The curse of James 5 returned on September 11, 2001 in the attack and fall of the World Trade Center twin towers, which I recorded in my Word would occur 700 years before the birth of Jesus by the prophet Isaiah, Chapter 30, verse 25*.*

This curse for un-repented sin—a particular kind of sin: slavery—will return in 2005*, but because ‘My people are destroyed for a lack of knowledge9,’* I will stay its force this once*, and it will hang over New York City for a time: blood, fire and vapor of smoke…in fulfillment of Acts 2:19, and then will be disbursed across America and throughout the world—to every place where other of my sons have either carried or caused to go this race-based economic Christian slavery subsidized by a silent Church.”*

For God’s Word To Fail Would Destroy Both Him and Us

“For me to cancel the curse written would cause my Word to fail, and that would destroy both me and you. So, be clear of my love for you, for each of you, and for this nation that I created and with which I am in covenant. I will perform all that I have promised and oh, so much, so much more, saith the Lord. But, I am requiring of America an individual, corporate, national and evangelical repentance, so that we may get to the real business, and that is the second coming of my Son.*

Will America survive and prosper? It is out of my hands, saith the Lord, for I have given that power unto each of you, saith the Lord."*

[1][1][1] Genesis 10:5, [2] Psalm 119:130, [3] 1 Timothy 4:2, [4] 1 Peter 4:17, [5] Revelation 5:10, [6] Psalm 56:8, [7] Luke 19:13, [8] Matthew 27:25, [9] Hosea 4:6

A further prophetic utterance from the Lord, October 11, 2004

Question: How could America exist and not be used in the end time preaching, and what about the division of the wealth in South Africa?

Answer: "Leave the division of the wealth issue up to me, saith the Lord. I know the heart of your question, and I have a plan, and it shall be accomplished, saith the Lord. As to how could America exist and not be used, you're right, I cannot destroy her, or more accurately, allow her to be destroyed, because you're here, saith the Lord. But, she will be too broke to fund the preaching of anything if she doesn't repent. For like the Church at Ephesus, I will put out her light of revelation and allow the darkness of sin to engulf her over this issue of slavery, and it will be just about all her preachers can do or will be able to do, saith the Lord, is to barely stay afloat, saith God. I know that sounds impossible, but none of you are looking at the things I clearly see, if America turns her back again on me over slavery, saith the Lord."

Though Out Of Sight, Is Not Out Of Reach

Miq Miles

My dearest child,
That which you asked of me, though out of sight, is NOT out of reach!
Rest in Me. I AM able -when you are weak I AM strong, for this can only come through the power of My strength, stop relying on the arm of flesh.
Let Me ask you:" what you tried to accomplish in your own power and strength, did it work?"
No, it can only work once you realize this.
You can't but I AM able!
I need you to trust Me with your whole heart to handle this. I AM able!
Then, STAND my child, and behold My deliverance.
Again I declare:" that which you so earnestly seek is out of sight for the moment;
but NOT out of reach.
The only condition - put on My armour and then STAND,... STAND and behold My deliverance.
Be it done to you according to My Word. I AM for you so who can be against you, what can man do unto you? I will fight for you only when you are prepared to trust Me enough to know that I AM able to do this, yes, without your help. Put your trust on Me, I AM able!
I require you to STAND and not fight. For I AM with you to deliver you and to bring you to still waters where you will find peace, beyond all understanding.
Re position yourself today as you decide to stop fighting and struggling in your own strength and STAND knowing that I AM arising from My resting place and I AM doing mighty miracles on your behalf.
I AM able.
Your Heavenly Father.

Eph 3:20-21 Now to HIM WHO IS ABLE to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that works in us, to Him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus throughout all ages, forever.
Amen. "

Miq Miles
Northern Province
South Africa
miqra@mweb.co.za
http://www.geocities.com/miqra2/

To Provoke Them To Jealousy

Bill Somers

Mount Gilead Ohio, USA

May 2007

> Prove all things; hold fast that which is good. 1 Thessalonians 5:21

The phrase quoted in our title above comes from The Book of Romans. The them spoken of here are Israel, the Jews, unbelieving Jews.

> Romans 11:11-14
> 11 I say then, Have they stumbled that they should fall? God forbid: but rather through their fall salvation is come unto the Gentiles, for to provoke them to jealousy*.*
> 12 Now if the fall of them be the riches of the world, and the diminishing of them the riches of the Gentiles; how much more their fulness?
> 13 For I speak to you Gentiles, inasmuch as I am the apostle of the Gentiles, I magnify mine office:
> 14 If by any means I may provoke to emulation them which are my flesh, and might save some of them.

I have long had a problem understanding the purpose of provoking them to jealousy. I really can’t recall any testimonies of people getting saved because they were provoked to jealousy. Neither does the present state of the church, for the most part, contain anything to make the Jews the least bit jealous.

Most Jews today are atheists! Except for the ultra orthodox, they do not even believe in God, and do not consider the scriptures to be the Word of God. Rather for them, Judaism is a matter of culture and tradition. Even so, there are many being saved these days as the Spirit of God is drawing them to himself. The ultra orthodox have some advantage here as they actually do believe in the God of Israel and study his word believing it is truly divinely inspired. If secular Jews were taught their bible and read it for themselves, we might see many more come to the Lord.

In her article State Of Affairs Rimona Frank discusses their attitude toward the bible, called in Hebrew The Tanach.

> Up until sometime in the 19th century, Jews by and large, in all of their places of dispersion, had been practicing (orthodox) Judaism. One fact which may be stated about Judaism's attitude toward the Tanach, is that it is only secondary to the "Oral Law", which is a compilation of commentaries on the Tanach with added rulings, laws, parables and stories that, in turn, are interpreted some more and supplemented by further rabbinical writings. Thus, this massive literary body is revered and taught in religious circles more than the Tanach, this being especially so since the explicit instructions contained therein are also useful vis a vis daily conduct, as well as religious practices. At the same time, these complex directives can exempt one from having to seek YHVH and His Spirit for guidance, and what's more they also demand expertise that only rabbinical authorities can render. This makes the orthodox person dependent on rabbis and teachers more than on the Holy One Blessed Be He. For many centuries this was basically what the Jewish nation relied on, as do religious Jews all over today. The Tanach gets their attention mostly by way of the weekly reading of the Torah portions ("parasha" singular – "parashot" or "parshiot" - plural), and the short passages from the Prophets ("haftara" – singular, "haftarot" – plural), that are read in the synagogue.

So your typical Jew couldn't care less what the Christian Church does or does not do. Yet we are often told that it's the Church's job to provoke the Jews to jealousy. Some have said that the church will not operate in her full apostolic calling till she is able to provoke the Jews to jealous. This seems to point to an end time context, naturally. It may be that only the end time church will be able to succeed in such provoking. Or that when the church comes into her end time anointing, that very fact will be enough to provoke the Jews to jealousy. Let's look at this more closely.

If the Lord's ultimate aim is the salvation of natural Israel, what has jealousy got to do with it. It seems to me that the main issue is spiritual blindness. This is mentioned in the following passage.

> Romans 11:25-32
> 25 For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery, lest ye should be wise in your own conceits; that blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in.
> 26 And so all Israel shall be saved: as it is written, There shall come out of Sion the Deliverer, and shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob:
> 27 For this is my covenant unto them, when I shall take away their sins.
> 28 As concerning the gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are beloved for the fathers' sakes.
> 29 For the gifts and calling of God are without repentance.
> 30 For as ye in times past have not believed God, yet have now obtained mercy through their unbelief:
> 31 Even so have these also now not believed, that through your mercy they also may obtain mercy.
> 32 For God hath concluded them all in unbelief, that he might have mercy upon all.

This same blindness is seen in 2 Corinthians 3:12-17 where the Lord makes it clear that it has to do with not being able to understand the scriptures.

> 2 Corinthians 3:12-17
> 12 Seeing then that we have such hope, we use great plainness of speech:
> 13 And not as Moses, which put a vail over his face, that the children of Israel could not stedfastly look to the end of that which is abolished:
> 14 But their minds were blinded: for until this day remaineth the same vail untaken away in the reading of the old testament; which vail is done away in Christ.
> 15 But even unto this day, when Moses is read, the vail is upon their heart.
> 16 Nevertheless when it shall turn to the Lord, the vail shall be taken away.
> 17 Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.

In Luke we can find a perfect illustration of this blindness in action.

> Luke 18:31-34
> 31 Then he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things that are written by the prophets concerning the Son of man shall be accomplished.
> 32 For he shall be delivered unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and spitefully entreated, and spitted on:
> 33 And they shall scourge him, and put him to death: and the third day he shall rise again.
> 34 And they understood none of these things: and this saying was hid from them, neither knew they the things which were spoken.

Here the Lord is telling them plainly what is about to happen. They were not able to understand any of it because it was ‘hidden from them.’ This shows the Jews unable to understand the Word of God. And in this case the blindness was specific to a most crucial event; that Messiah would have to die. 1 Corinthians 1:23 speaks of this blindness as a stumbling block.

> 1 Corinthians 1:23 But we preach Christ crucified, unto the Jews a stumblingblock, and unto the Greeks foolishness;

In Luke 24 we see an illustration of blindness being removed, at least for the two men involved, as the Lord reveals to them how the scriptures spoke of him.

> Luke 24:25-27
> 25 Then he said unto them, O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken:
> 26 Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?
> 27 And beginning at Moses and all the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the scriptures the things concerning himself.

Here the Lord himself removes the blindness and teaches them the meaning of the scriptures. As long as the blindness remains, the scriptures remain a closed and sealed book.

Now considering Romans 11:11 where it says through their fall salvation is come unto the Gentiles, it’s easy to jump to the conclusion that this blindness came upon the Jews after they rejected the Messiah and had him crucified. However the passage in Luke 18 illustrates blindness upon the Jews before the crucifixion. And the text goes on to make reference to prophecies given much earlier. They are in Psalms 69 and Isaiah 29 among other places.

> Psalms 69:21-28
> 21 They gave me also gall for my meat; and in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink.
> 22 Let their table become a snare before them: and that which should have been for their welfare, let it become a trap.
> 23 Let their eyes be darkened, that they see not; and make their loins continually to shake.
> 24 Pour out thine indignation upon them, and let thy wrathful anger take hold of them.
> 25 Let their habitation be desolate; and let none dwell in their tents.
> 26 For they persecute him whom thou hast smitten; and they talk to the grief of those whom thou hast wounded.
> 27 Add iniquity unto their iniquity: and let them not come into thy righteousness.
> 28 Let them be blotted out of the book of the living, and not be written with the righteous.

> Isaiah 29:10-12
> 10 For the LORD hath poured out upon you the spirit of deep sleep, and hath closed your eyes: the prophets and your rulers, the seers hath he covered.
> 11 And the vision of all is become unto you as the words of a book that is sealed, which men deliver to one that is learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: and he saith, I cannot; for it is sealed:
> 12 And the book is delivered to him that is not learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: and he saith, I am not learned.

There is even a passage from Moses that says the same thing.

> Deuteronomy 29:4 Yet the LORD hath not given you an heart to perceive, and eyes to see, and ears to hear, unto this day.

This blindness did not come because they rejected the Messiah, it came much earlier. It was there all along to ensure that they would reject the Messiah. We often lament the fact that they rejected the Messiah, but what would have happened if they had accepted him instead?

Briefly they would not have crucified him, and the penalty for sin would not have been paid. There would be no fulfillment of Passover and no salvation for all mankind! So clearly, this is something that had to happen.

In Micah 5 where the birthplace of Jesus is spoken of, the very next verse speaks of their fall. It is saying he will give them up. This will be till the end time, when All Israel will be saved.

> Micah 5:2-3
> 2 But thou, Bethlehem Ephratah, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come forth unto me that is to be ruler in Israel; whose goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting.
> 3 Therefore will he give them up, until the time that she which travaileth hath brought forth: then the remnant of his brethren shall return unto the children of Israel.

We see that word therefore in verse 3 above. This is telling us that God planed for Messiah to come forth out of Bethlehem. And that he would become the ruler of Israel. Therefore he had to give them up to spiritual blindness, or the plan would not work. But it is also saying that he gives them up, not permanently, but only till such and such a time.

So it’s not quite correct to say that Israel’s acceptance of Jesus as her Messiah depends on her being provoked to jealousy by a predominantly gentile church.
Israel’s acceptance of Jesus as her Messiah will come with the removing of the blindness, and that will come after the fulness of the Gentiles be come in [whatever that might mean].

We see this removing of the blindness prophesied in Zechariah 12.

> Zechariah 12:10 And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplications: and they shall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his firstborn.

Removing the blindness causes all Israel to be saved. Provoking them to jealousy is an other matter. If you look at Romans 11:14, the word emulation is used. In the original Greek, the word is the same as that translated jealousy in verse 11. It can also be translated rivalry. Here it is again.

> Romans 11:11-14
> 11 I say then, Have they stumbled that they should fall? God forbid: but rather through their fall salvation is come unto the Gentiles, for to provoke them to jealousy.
> 12 Now if the fall of them be the riches of the world, and the diminishing of them the riches of the Gentiles; how much more their fulness?
> 13 For I speak to you Gentiles, inasmuch as I am the apostle of the Gentiles, I magnify mine office:
> 14 If by any means I may provoke to emulation them which are my flesh, and might save some of them.

Now it seems to be saying here that salvation is come to the Gentiles to provoke them [Israel] to jealousy that he might save some of them. Removing the blindness has the effect of saving all of them, as mentioned in verses 25 and 26.

Now consider that the fall of Israel, which is the spiritual blindness, is to bring salvation to the Gentiles. This as we see is something that had to happen, and it's mentioned way back in Deuteronomy. It had to happen because it's purpose is to fulfill the Covenant the Lord made with Abraham in Genesis 12.

> Now the LORD had said unto Abram, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I will shew thee: And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing: And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed. Genesis 12:1-3

We tend to focus on the part of the promise that Israel will have the land. The very land that is being fought over in the middle east these days. Joshua and the children of Israel entered the Promised Land by crossing over Jordan. Jordan speaks of death. God's people will enter into the Kingdom of God by means of death to self. This should be our clue that the Promised Land is no less than the Kingdom of God. So in the promise made to Abraham, possessing the land, though important is only secondary. The most important part here is the very last clause: and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed. This is the promise that Salvation would come to the Gentiles. But not just the Gentiles but all nations, including Israel.

This promise, is the promise of a new covenant and is called the gospel in Galatians 3:8

> And the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the gospel unto Abraham, saying, In thee shall all nations be blessed. Galatians 3:8

Now look at Romans 11:27 and 28.

> For this is my covenant unto them, when I shall take away their sins. As concerning the gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are beloved for the fathers' sakes. Romans 11:27-28

Note that the words Covenant and Gospel are both used here.

Also consider that the salvation here spoken of is that which is ready to be revealed in the last days as mentioned in Peter.

> Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. 1 Peter 1:5

And compare the language in Romans 11:11 with 11:14. one says Salvation provokes and the other says I provoke. And who is the chief Apostle to the Gentiles save the Lord himself? If we have an end time context here, then it can't be strictly referring to Paul. He is just the scribe here. We are reading the words of Jesus. He will provoke some and He will save some, at the first. Then in the end, all Israel will be saved.

To back up the idea that we have an end time context here, let's look at the opening passage of Romans.

> Romans 1:1-8
> 1 Paul, a servant of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle, separated unto the gospel of God,
> 2 (Which he had promised afore by his prophets in the holy scriptures,)

> 3 Concerning his Son Jesus Christ our Lord, which was made of the seed of David according to the flesh;
> 4 And declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead:
> 5 By whom we have received grace and apostleship, for obedience to the faith among all nations, for his name:
> 6 Among whom are ye also the called of Jesus Christ:
> 7 To all that be in Rome, beloved of God, called to be saints: Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.
> 8 First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your faith is spoken of throughout the whole world.

Note that the gospel is mentioned in verse one and that verse two tells us that the gospel is part of the promise to the fathers. That is the covenant. We can saw this spelled out in Galatians 3:8 quoted above.

Then in verse 5 it mentions obedience. That is obedience to the faith among all nations, which include, according to verse 6 those whom this letter is addressed to, the called of Jesus Christ. Verse 7 says they are beloved by God and called to be saints. In verse 8 we see that their faith is spoke of through all the world. So we are looking at a people from the nations [Gentiles] who are obedient to the faith and have a world wide reputation for that faith.

So who are these ‘Romans’? In other words who does this description given in Romans fit. Is it the early church, today’s church or the end time church? If you answer the early church, that is only because they are a type of the end time church. Today’s church seems to fit the description of the foolish Galatians. If you answer the end time church, you are starting to catch on. Certain passages of Romans only make sense when applied to the end time church. This means that they are still waiting to be fulfilled in the end times. So these Romans are Gentiles to whom Salvation has come. Jesus is Yeshua in Hebrew and Yeshua means Salvation!

The Revelation of Jesus Christ is the salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. It can be seen in another form in Hosea 6.

> Hosea 6:1-3
> 1 'Come, and let us return unto the LORD; for He hath torn, and He will heal us, He hath smitten, and He will bind us up.
> 2 After two days will He revive us, on the third day He will raise us up, that we may live in His presence.
> 3 And let us know, eagerly strive to know the LORD, His going forth is sure as the morning; and He shall come unto us as the rain, as the latter rain that watereth the earth.'

Looking back to Romans 11:11 when it says salvation is come to the Gentiles, there is a double meaning. In the historical sense, it means that salvation is made possible for the Gentiles, through the fall of the Jews. This is because they rejected their Messiah and had him killed. This was God’s intention all along.

In the end time sense, it means that Salvation, in the person of the Lord has actually come to the Gentiles in the form of the latter rain which is the last days outpouring of the spirit. Now this will be an event so awesome and great that it will provoke some them to jealousy and many of these will be saved. One reason is that it will be clear that the promise made to Abraham, the blessing of Psalm 133, is being poured out on the Gentiles! And that the Lord’s covenant is being fulfilled for the Gentiles, not the Jews. Then they may well say:

> 'The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved.' Jeremiah 8:20

Yet the ultimate end of this all is still the removal of the blindness for the whole house of Israel.

> For God hath concluded them all in unbelief, that he might have mercy upon all. O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor? Or who hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again? For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen. Romans 11:32-36

Once the blindness is removed, Israel will be able to see and to truly behold:

> Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity! It is like the precious ointment upon the head, that ran down upon the beard, even Aaron's beard: that went down to the skirts of his garments; As the dew of Hermon, and as the dew that descended upon the mountains of Zion: for there the LORD commanded the blessing, even life for evermore. Psalms 133:1-3

Tower Of Refuge

Celia R. Okhuysen (USA)

I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress;
my God, in Him I will trust.

(Psalm 91:2)

DREAM — December 7, 2004

It was a gray day. I was with a group of men and women as we hurried toward a high-rise glass enclosed round tower type building. It stood out by itself in the wide, open landscape. We were alarmed, sensing an approaching attack. When we arrived at the building we quickly ran inside. Everything was completely white: doors, ceilings, walls, and floors. The place was immaculate. Other people were already there. They were moving about urgently as we joined them. I do not recall seeing any one particular object inside the building. It's almost as if it was void of furnishings, yet everyone moved about with determined focus and total order.

In the midst of all the "busy-ness" I saw a man partly exposed as he quietly sat on a toilet commode in the center of an enormous interior room. I watched him for a few moments while he sat as still as a statue yet keeping his eyes firmly focused at something ahead of him.

I once again focused on all the hasty movements by everyone. At one point, the ceiling suddenly opened up. A few women peered through the opening from the floor above. A mattress appeared on the floor wrapped in white sheets and covered with a white blanket. It was quickly pulled up while several women helped to steady it from below.

Suddenly, I was suspended outside in mid-air at an altitude of about 2,000 feet as I watched a WW2 vintage single nose propeller aircraft (similar to the English Spitfire single engine fighter plane) dive toward the building while approaching from the left. It began firing at the building as it made a close pass directly overhead. The aircraft went out a short distance and returned, once again firing at the building.

Suddenly again, I was back inside the building. Everyone was either crouching down on the floor against walls, or huddled in room corners. No one made a sound. The only sounds heard were of the attacking fighter plane and its continued approaches and firing at the building. Interestingly, no windows shattered. They remained intact. During the fighter plane's passes, I remained crouched by a wall. At one point, the aircraft's strafing ju-s-s-st missed me! As I crouched down by the wall, I clearly saw the fighter plane's machine gun "bullets" bounce from the wall, landing right by me. The fighter plane's unceasing attacks lasted for quite a while. Yet, there were no yells, screams, or hysteria. Everyone remained quiet and crouched without moving. The interesting thing that stood out so vividly was the lack of panic among the people.

After the aircraft finally left, everyone began to move about again. There were no injuries. I saw a group of women open a door. I quickly ran over and followed them into a type of "narrow" closet. The narrow (which seemed more like a corridor approximately five feet wide) and deep, deep closet's walls were completely white. It was bright in the "closet corridor." We sang as we entered.

Next, I once again stood in the middle of the enormous interior room. I saw the single blue toilet commode sitting right in the center of the room unoccupied. I walked toward it, and without hesitation I sat on the commode. END

[NOTE: Bolded, capped, and underlined emphases in the NKJV scriptures are mine. I encourage the reader to read this document with a Bible in hand.]

INTERPRETATION

The glass enclosed high-rise building symbolizes the transparency of the Tower of Refuge, Lord Jesus Christ of Nazareth (Ps. 46:1 Ps. 141:8). The white immaculate environment inside represents Him as the holy dwelling place in which His Church abides (Jn. 15:4, 5) while also hiding in Him (Ps. 119:114) and in His shadow (Ps. 91:1 — Ps. 63:7). The people in the building represent the five-fold ministry:

>> And He Himself gave [appointed and anointed] some to be apostles, some prophets, some evangelists, and some pastors and teachers, for the EQUIPPING [providing; furnishing; supplying] of the saints for the work of ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ (Eph. 4:11, 12).

The man sitting on the commode symbolically represents a member of the five-fold ministry in deep prayer as he purges himself of sin that needs to be confessed to Lord Jesus (Rom. 6:12-18).

The white mattress bed hoisted up represents the infirmities within these Saints' lives and their spiritual needs that are being lifted up to Lord Jesus through prayer by members within the five-fold ministry.

My outdoor mid-air suspension allowed me to observe the approaching attack the servants of God were coming under. The firing aircraft can portray a dual symbolism:

1. "…spiritual hosts of wickedness in the heavenly places" (Eph. 6:12), portraying Satan's demonic presence in the air through his evil spirits. His fiery attack against God's servants is an ongoing and unceasing effort to hinder God's work and His Word from going forth in the power and might of His Holy Spirit, OR

2. spiritually confused and spiritually uninformed ministries within the Church of Lord Jesus. These are spiritually blind, dogmatic (rigid, inflexible, unbending) and misguided ministries / members within Lord Jesus' Church who do not WALK nor OPERATE in the Spirit of the Lord. (Lk. 11:13) Because they do not KNOW or STUDY the Word of God with the help of Holy Spirit but operate in their flesh with carnal understanding (1Cor 3:1-3), their slandering (Pr. 10:18 — 2Tim. 3:3) and worldly inspired attacks continue against the anointed servants of God. The anointing upon God's called servants will only increase as the Spirit of the Lord continues to burst forth in greater power achieving God's plans and purposes in the Church and throughout the world through His five-fold ministry servants for HIS glory.

>> Who is wise and understanding among you? Let him show by good conduct that his works are done in the *meekness of WISDOM. But if you have BITTER ENVY and SELF-SEEKING in your hearts, do not boast and lie against the truth. This wisdom does not descend from above, but is earthly, sensual, demonic. FOR WHERE ENVY AND SELF-SEEKING EXIST, CONFUSION AND EVERY EVIL THING WILL BE THERE (Jas. 3:13-16).

The blazing aircraft symbolizes the fast paced, highly visible persecuting attacks the anointed servants of God will increasingly be afflicted with through "higher" (Satanic) authorities in the spiritual realm as well as authorities in the Church. (Ps. 91:5, 7 — Ps. 23:5 — Acts 9:1-5)

>> "Blessed are you when they revile and persecute you, and say all kinds of evil against you falsely for My sake. Rejoice and be exceedingly glad, for great is your reward in heaven, for so they [priests, scribes, O.T. Saints] persecuted the prophets who were before you" (Mat. 5:11, 12).

These Saints' lack of fear or hysteria reveals Holy Spirit's sanctified anointing, Word filled hearts, empowered faith, and steadfast faithfulness in the hearts of God's TRUE and CALLED servants as they persevere and ENDURE to the end.

>> You therefore must ENDURE hardship as a good soldier of Jesus Christ. No one engaged in warfare entangles [COMPROMISES] himself with the affairs of this life, that he may please him who enlisted him as a soldier. And also if anyone competes in athletics, he is not crowned unless he competes according to the rules. … This is a faithful saying: for if we died with Him, we shall also live with Him. If we ENDURE, we shall also reign with Him. ... Be diligent to PRESENT YOURSELF APPROVED TO GOD, A WORKER WHO DOES NOT NEED TO BE ASHAMED, RIGHTLY DIVIDING THE WORD OF TRUTH. … And a servant of the Lord must not quarrel but be gentle to all, able to teach, patient, in humility correcting those who are in opposition*, if God perhaps will grant them* [the quarrelsome and foolish] repentance, so that they may know the truth, and THAT THEY MAY COME TO THEIR SENSES AND ESCAPE THE SNARE OF THE DEVIL*, having been taken captive by him to do his will* (2Tim. 2:3-5, 11-12; 15; 24-26).

>> And on some have compassion, making a distinction; but others SAVE WITH FEAR, PULLING THEM OUT OF THE FIRE [through the Word]*, hating even the garment defiled by the flesh (Jude 22, 23).

>> ALL SCRIPTURE IS GIVEN BY INSPIRATION OF GOD and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness, THAT THE MAN OF GOD MAY BE COMPLETE [spiritually mature], THOROUGHLY EQUIPPED FOR EVERY GOOD WORK (2Tim. 3:16, 17).

The narrow closet symbolizes the prayer closet where God's Saints enter to spend time with Him. Here, the Saints assembled to pray corporately for protection, peace, stronger faith, greater anointing, wisdom and strength to persevere and ENDURE the persecution they now find themselves under. (Ps. 121 — Ps. 145:18 Mt. 7:13, 14 — Phil. 3:3, 13, 14)

My sitting on the blue commode symbolically reveals a servant of Lord Jesus humbly searching her heart before Him as helped by Holy Spirit (symbolized by color "blue") Who surfaces any possible remnant hidden sin in the heart. He helps the Saint of God receive revelation of hidden sin, then acknowledge it to Lord Jesus, repent (purge oneself) of the sin, and receive forgiveness and cleansing by the Blood of the Lamb. (1Jn. 1:9, 7 Phil. 4:6, 7) The Church is to be found in an attitude of spiritual vigilance through prayer at Lord Jesus' appearing in the clouds to call us Home (1Cor. 15:51-53 — 1Thes. 4:13-18). — [See RAPTURE PREPAREDNESS, http://www.etpv.org/2003/rprep.html, for further understanding of "commode purging" symbolism.]

COMMENTARY

This dream was given to me in the morning hours of December 7. This is the anniversary date (1941) of the Japanese attack at Pearl Harbor. The aircraft represents a ministry, and symbolically, a stronger approaching RESISTANCE (attack) is on the way upon the five-fold ministry servants of God in Ephesians 4:11, 12.

These servants know that now is the time to be totally surrendered to Holy Spirit's control and His anointing. We are to be deeply immersed in prayer and in the Word as never before as we spiritually witness and ENDURE increased persecutions—RESISTANCE— by some in the Church of Lord Jesus worldwide, and also discern the fast pace toward the end of this age (Matthew 24). The imminent Rapture of the Church of Jesus Christ of Nazareth is almost upon us, and we who are called into the five-fold ministry have the sure Word of God:

>> "Therefore settle it in your hearts not to meditate beforehand on what you will answer: for I will give you a mouth and wisdom which all your adversaries will not be able to contradict or RESIST (Lk. 21:14, 15).

>> You sitffnecked and uncircumcised in heart and ears! You always RESIST the Holy Spirit (Acts 7:51).

>> Let every soul be subject to the governing authorities. For there is no authority except from God*, and the authorities that exist are appointed* [called] by God. Therefore whoever RESISTS the ordinance [the Word] of God, and those who RESIST will bring judgment on themselves (Rom. 13:1, 2).

>> But know this, that in the last days perilous times will come: … For men will be lovers of themselves … unloving, unforgiving, SLANDERERS … having a form of godliness [professed Christians] but denying its power*. And from such people turn away!* (2Tim. 3:1, 2, 3, 5)

Therefore, let us pray one for another that Lord Jesus' strength and increased faith will find us empowered to STAND:

>> For we do not wrestle [war] against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this age, against spiritual hosts of wickedness in the heavenly places. Therefore take up the whole armor of God, that you may be able to WITHSTAND in the evil day, and having done all, to STAND. STAND therefore, having girded your waist with truth, having put on the breastplate of righteousness, and have shod your feet with the preparation of the gospel of peace; above all, taking the shield of faith with which you will be able to quench all the FIERY DARTS of the wicked one. And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is THE WORD OF GOD (Eph. 6:12-17).

>> For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war according to the flesh. For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal but mighty in God for pulling down strongholds, casting down arguments and every high thing that exalts itself against the knowledge of God (2Cor. 10:3-5).

>> Therefore be patient, brethren, until the coming of the Lord. See how the farmer waits for the precious fruit of the earth, waiting patiently for it until it receives the early and latter rain. You also be patient. Establish your hearts, FOR THE COMING OF THE LORD IS AT HAND (Jas. 5:7 8).

~~~~~~~~~~

My previous post:

HARLOT CHURCH
http://www.etpv.org/2004/harch.html

~~~~~~~~~~

POST DATE: January 2, 2005

Tragedy Of Tsunami

Clo DiPilato

The Tragedy of Tsunami, the King of Glory, and the Power of the Priesthood

January 22, 2005

Dearest Friends in Jesus,

Here is what the Lord of Harvest revealed to me through the tragedy of Tsunami:

Since the first of the year, my spirit has been bowed very low because of the tragedy of tsunami.

On New Year's Eve, I flipped the channels to see how the world would celebrate in light of the very recent and horrifying tragedy. There are no words to describe the depths of my dismay when I saw the whole world celebrating with drunken revelings when such a tragedy as over 100,000 people being swallowed up by the voracious appetite of tsunami had occurred not even a week before.

I have literally been in spiritual shock. In that spiritually arrested state, I could not call a prophecy up from the depths of my inner being that keeps ever poised toward the Lord, nor could I have called one down from heaven in a time of turning my face upward toward Him, no matter how much it would have been in my heart to do so, nor how much I would have desired to join in the chorus of prophetic voices addressing the issue.

I have simply been too spiritually numb and literally struck dumb, and it's taking me till this 3rd week in January to feel even a little bit of a release to now share the things the Lord has been speaking to me since that time.

Every celebration on New Year's Eve world-wide should have been marked by three things:

1. great thanksgiving to God that the breath of life was still in our nostrils
2. repentance in sack-cloth and ashes
3. and for the servants of God, a deep inward "coming to terms" with hearing some very hard words from God.

And it's that third item that I wish to address in this article:

There is a present word of God in the earth coming forth to shake religious foundations to the core in order that the message of reconciliation might go forth and set people free from the bondages of those things that hold them captive to judgments against which there is no release apart from the knowledge and mercy of Almighty God.

The whole world witnessed the flood-tides of tsunami spawned by an earthquake that shook the foundations, and so unsettled things under the seas that the flood waters were released out of the inhabitant to do their great damage. But water always cleanses as it sweeps things away. The earth has been cleansed in a measure from paganism and idol worship because of the tsunami. It's easy to watch from thousands of miles away and receive revelations of why God allowed such a thing to happen, or debate the "God or the devil" question.

However, the Spirit is going to drive it home to many that it would do the church great service to acknowledge that when natural events happen, there are parallels in the Spirit realm, and we best seek the Lord to understand what He is doing in the Church in the realm of the Spirit.

I would say there's going to be a wholesale shaking of the foundations laid in religious flesh (spiritual earth-quakes) till the spiritual landscape is so re-arranged and the waters of the Spirit of life are going to wash out those things so that God's people can build afresh and anew, and on right foundations .

Only then can the gospel of the kingdom be preached with power and demonstration. Relentless waters of the power and glory of God are coming to sweep away everything preventing the glorious truth of the gospel of Jesus Christ from being proclaimed and preached in this earth with the power and authority given to the saints in His Name!! Joe's Bar and Grill down on the corner may be A problem, but it's not THE problem.

The problem is a powerless church operating in a present context which binds up the waters of life from truly flowing because it has refused to release the authority of the believer to operate in the power of the priesthood. Such truth flies in the face of religious dogma and reason. But, there is a shaking in the earth whereby we are going to see the release, and it's through even this violent shaking by way of such tragedies that we have recently witnessed that God's people are going to rise up, and refuse religious bondages that keep God's kingdom from being manifested in the earth. When you can take your rightful authority in God to remit sins, you open up the way for the glory of God to manifest in the lives of people!

It's one thing to note how that tragedy will always give people time pause and reflect on their need for God, going to church, greater spirituality, and more of an intent to "live right". These things were a subject covered on every broadcast and cable news station following the events of 911. However, what is the message to the servants of the Lord already successfully doing those things? The message is one of getting a higher perspective, and coming up into a new dimension in the Spirit. It's not just "church life " and "body life" as usual.

It's learning to walk life out in a whole new realm of spiritual authority where the King of Glory is manifesting in and through your life, and if it means submitting to the dealings and shakings of God that upsets religious flesh, then in Jesus Name, let it be so!!! The joyful end result is that true redemption is drawing nigh!!!

While God is talking to the heathen by harnessing the elements (wind, water, fire and earth) as vehicles of His judgments, He is also talking to His people, and here is what He is saying:

LOOK UP, and LIFT UP YOUR HEADS.

25 And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring;
26 Men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth: for the powers of heaven shall be shaken.
27 And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory.
28 And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh. Luke 21:20-28

Beloved, it's a time for God's people to have a gaze fixed upward upon Him, and our heads lifted up. It's interesting to note that there is only one other portion of scripture where the scripture commands people to "lift up your heads." It's in Psalm 24:

Psalms 24:7 ¶Lift up your heads, O ye gates; and be ye lift up, ye everlasting doors; and the King of glory shall come in.
Psalms 24:9 Lift up your heads, O ye gates; even lift them up, ye everlasting doors; and the King of glory shall come in.

Why is God saying to "lift up your heads"?? It's so the King of glory can come in!!

My dear friend, with every natural disaster that occurs to shake up lives and nations, I submit to you that God is reminding you to LOOK UP because it's YOUR HOUR in which the KING OF GLORY is surely to come in!!! The only hope for yourself as well as those in this world who will be given ears to hear is CHRIST IN YOU, the HOPE OF GLORY!! (Ref. Colossians 1:27)

We are not going to see the gospel of the kingdom preached in demonstration and power in this earth until it's done in the context of the presence of the King of Glory operating in and through the lives of

His people.

Beloved, I am convinced that the message of reconciliation IS the message of this King of Glory, and Jesus clearly laid it out to His disciples in John 20:21-23 when He imparted to them this power of the priesthood . The "power of the priesthood" is not the right of the select clergy of some certain denomination laying historical claim to it, and holding "confessional" sessions. EVERY BELIEVER is a priest unto God, and has been given the right in the Name of Jesus to stand in that stead through the power of the Christ within!!

Even RIGHT NOW, you have the scriptural right to knock on your neighbor's door, look them square in the eye, and tell them that their sins are remitted, and they are forgiven!! The choice that person makes as to how they will work out their own salvation with fear and trembling after you've declared to them the message of reconciliation is between them and God. But believe me, if you've told that neighbor their sins are remitted, those sins are GONE, and they are clean before God!! There is now NOTHING standing between their soul and the Saviour! They are now reconciled to God!

The religious system of man does not want God's people to recognize their authority to remit sins. When was the last time you sat in your church and heard the preacher preach on John 20:23, the words in red below:

John 20:21 Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you.
22 And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost:
23 Whose soever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained. John 2o:21-23.

No, you won't be hearing that message in the local church, but I will tell you the Spirit of God is saying if HIS PEOPLE are going to be operating in HIS MIND with the manifestation of the King of Glory within, they are going to have to recognize their kingdom right to remit sins in order to lay the groundwork for the gospel of the kingdom to be manifested in the earth!!

When God's people begin to get revelation that in the time of tragedy and trouble we are summoned by the Holy Ghost to advance upward into a position of greater authority to work in conjunction with His judgments in the earth, there will be massive in-gatherings of the harvest!!

My dearest friend, I am going to tell you what I am NOT looking for: I'm not salivating to hear about the location of the next tsunami, or earthquake, or tornado, or mudslide, or hurricane, or avalanche so I can receive accolades that I've got a good and true prophetic gift operating in my life. The cry of my heart is to be so close to the Lord that I know these things, so that if God desires to place me in position to speak a message of reconciliation, and invoke the power of the priesthood, I will be in the RIGHT PLACE at the RIGHT TIME!!

If God were to tell me He's fed up with the diabolical manifestation of homosexuality in San Francisco, and intends to allow the whirlwinds of a tornado to rip through that city in the month of March, I'd get on my face before God NOW to ask Him for the money for a plane ticket, and a mighty anointing to go to that city and BOLDLY ANNOUNCE to the inhabitants of San Francisco that their sins are forgiven, that they can be free, and then believe God for a "gospel of the kingdom release" of mighty delivering and cleansing power to wipe that scourge of homosexuality out of the lives of those people, and out of that city all together!

Every day now, my mailbox is flooded with prophetic words about where the next tsunami is about to occur. My friend, if you are getting those words, and believe they are from God, then you need to get on your face before God to ask Him if you're supposed to GO and ANNOUNCE THE COMING KINGDOM before God Almighty shows up in His dread fury through the elements!! You just MIGHT prevent the judgments of God, but if this situation is too far gone in the mind of God, know this: You will save a multitude from hell by declaring the remission of sins, and proclaiming reconciliation!!

I know you are waiting to read words in this article like "repentance" and "decision". It's further down in the article, Part 2. Be patient.

After the tsunami, I heard an anointed man of God on TBN declaring boldly to all that you cannot persecute Christians and violate God's anointed servants, and think that God will forever turn a blind eye toward it, and never release His judgments. The man was mighty in His authority to speak up for the Name of the Lord in avenging the people of God. I wish he would have gone a step further: I wish he would have looked into the camera and said this:

In Jesus Name, your sins are remitted!! I declare unto you that your sins are forgiven, and you are set free from the powers of darkness so that you can receive with meekness the ingrafted word that is able to save your soul (the ongoing renewal and sanctification of the mind, will, and emotions)!!

Hell would have been shaken to it's core, and scores of humanity would have been released from the kingdom of darkness! Preparation would have been laid for healing and deliverance to come to those souls so distraught and distressed and in agony because of loss and destruction that had come to them! Why do I believe such a thing? Because I believe what Jesus said in John 20:23!! Here it is from the Amplified Bible:

[23][Now having received the Holy Spirit, and beingled and directed by Him] if you forgive the sins of anyone, they are forgiven; if you retain the sins of anyone, they are retained. John 20:23, Amplified.

Beloved, while man has to "clean up" the mess in the natural, God's people get to (that means it's a privilege....... you don't HAVE to, you GET TO) "clean up" the spiritual devastation to people's lives!! Oh, how WONDERFULLY REDEMPTIVE are all the judgments of God!!!

The message of reconciliation through the power of the priesthood is the FIRST ADVANCE into the harvest! It then can be followed up with anointed men and woman of God who can teach the people to live holy lives, making decisions to LIVE for God, and follow on to know and serve the Lord. Before the fish were cleaned, they needed to be caught!

By the Spirit, I am seeing massive crusades full of heathens clad in garments of paganism, emoting out of every pore every evil spawned of hell, and THEN men and women and boys and girls full of the Holy Ghost going through the crowds, and commanding the demons to leave, and the captives to be set free, and their sins to be remitted in the name of Jesus!! It's not just going to be the big-name preacher standing on the platform preaching under the power of God! EVERY BELIEVER is a priest unto God, and has the power of the priesthood!!

I see the transformations from darkness to light be every bit as evident and awesome as it was when that demon- possessed lunatic who ran up and down naked in the tombs came face to face with Jesus. He was then found clothed and in his right mind because Jesus took authority over those demons, and cast them out. The light of God filled that man's soul. The people of that day wanted Jesus OUT of there because they could not stand the manifestation of the power of God! But it was TOO LATE. The VINE had already spread into their village, and there was no stopping it!! (Ref. Luke Chapter 8.)

Beloved, if you're nervous at the manifestation of God's power, it's time to find out what spirit you are of. You can cry out for souls and for people to make decisions for Christ to your heart's content, but we're in the time when the gospel that will be most effective in reaching the world IS the gospel of the kingdom!! It's not the gospel of filling out decision cards, or shaking the preacher's hand. It's not the gospel of "every head being bowed, and every eye being closed so you can slip up your hand when no one's looking because you're too ashamed to acknowledge Jesus and how He gave His life for you with everyone looking". I'm not suggesting the end of those things, but those things are not what Jesus calls the "gospel of the kingdom."

It's the gospel of the kingdom that Jesus said would be preached in all the world for a witness before the end comes. (Matthew 24:14.) The gospel of the kingdom has signs following them that believe. It's the gospel that heals the sick, raises the dead, opens the doors of the prison houses, and sets captive free. It opens deaf ears, and blind eyes, and looses the tongue of the dumb, and causes the lame to leap as the hart!

This gospel of the kingdom is preached to the poor, binds up the broken hearted, sets at liberty them that are bruised.......(hmm........that sounds like a gospel that we need to see preached more in our churches!! I've certainly needed to be set free from a few bruises in my time!!) It's the gospel that preaches the acceptable year of the Lord. What is the "acceptable year of the Lord"?? That's another article, but it's the 50th year when every slave is set free, and every man is released from his debts, and gets a fresh start in life, brand new, as if the past never happened! That's what is ACCEPTABLE to God: for people, and you and me to be FREE from every bondage the enemy would place upon our lives!!

And this gospel of the kingdom is the SAME gospel where God's people have power to forgive sins because JESUS gave His people authority to do so!! We feel we have been given much authority to pray for the sick, and to heal the sick, and the afflicted, but if we say we also have authority to forgive sins, it's as if we have touched a sacred cow of some 4 or 6 point "plan of salvation", and the bottom of Christendom will fall out, and that in very short order. Jesus made NO difference between forgiving sins, and healing the sick. The same God who gives authority to do one, gives authority to do the other!!

Matthew 9:2 And, behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed: and Jesus seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy; Son, be of good cheer; thy sins be forgiven thee.
Matthew 9:5 For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and walk?
Mark 2:5 When Jesus saw their faith, he said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, thy sins be forgiven thee.
Mark 2:9 Whether is it easier to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk?
Luke 5:23 Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk?

And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him. James 5:15

I believe that kingdom authority is going to release the ministry or reconciliation, and the Lord is literally going to raise up men and woman of God who are going to run ahead of His judgments to proclaim His Name and the remission of sins. The ministry of reconciliation will release souls that are held captive by sin and uncleanness so that when the judgments of God come, many who would have been lost will instead fall into one of two categories:

1. There will be those who are washed and cleaned and spotless in the blood of the Lamb because God's people took their rightful place of priestly authority in remitting sins. Had this happened prior to the tsunami, many who had never heard the gospel would have been ready to meet their Maker.

2. OR the Lord will number them among those He is preserving in the earth for a time yet appointed to die, or a time in the latter days when He shall stand on the earth, and rule and reign from Zion!! God always preserves a people in the midst of His judgments!

When you "run ahead of God's judgments", (as I was speaking of in my little illustration in Part One of this article about San Francisco) you're going to be alerted in your spirit where to go with a word from God and a priestly anointing to remit sins before God gets there!! Jonah was one called to run ahead of the judgments of God. Had Jonah been tenderhearted toward the people, he might have partaken of that anointing, but he was a proud prophet, and wanted to see God's judgment to confirm his prophetic gift more than he wanted to see the people in repentance and change of heart. Praise

God, the Lord over-rode that proud prophet syndrome in Jonah, and sovereignly moved by conviction in the hearts of the inhabitants of Nineveh so that they came to repentance.

I know that many years ago, the Lord put the nation of Sri Lanka on my heart. I didn't think of it as a burden, but there was simply a marked interest that I knew was from the Spirit of God. I began to research it online a bit. At that time, it was not in the news for any reason, but simply "a knowing" that the Lord quickened that country to me, and I pondered it much. Had I a better- developed "hearing ear", I may have heard the Lord tell me to go to that country to start remitting some sins.

But I had neither the ear, nor the confidence in the anointing in my life, nor the faith for the money to make such a trip, nor the prophetic savvy to know at that time that I was so impressed with that country because the Spirit within me knew the devastation that would be coming to that little country. For someone else it might have been Indonesia, or Thailand. For me, it was Sri Lanka.

If you've got a burden for souls, don't just picture yourself begging and pleading with one person to come to Jesus, and accept Him as their Saviour. Instead ask the Lord to add to you a rising up into a place of authority where you are even declaring to nations that Jesus paid the price for their sins, and you've come in His Name to inform them that they are forgiven, and that God is NOT imputing their trespasses against them! You've FREELY receive of His grace. You are FREELY allowed to give it!! You don't need to beg or cajole people into the kingdom!! You just need to declare the truth of God's Word that they are forgiven, and very freely so because Jesus paid the price in response to the heart of His Father who was not willing that ANY should perish!!

What about decisions, and repentance and those things? Am I circumventing the message of repentance?? Absolutely not!! I simply am believing that when we speak the word of reconciliation to people that the searchlight of God will go on in their souls, and repentance is not going to be a religious emotional act, but a call will come within to depart from the works of iniquity to serve the Lord with a renewed and pure conscience. Repentance means to change the mind, and go in a different direction. Notice that Jesus breathed on the disciples and they received the Holy Ghost, and in that context the Lord told them that they would have power to remit or retain sins. I believe that same Holy Ghost impartation will be transmitted to instigate the ongoing works of conviction and repentance!!

(Before I get bombarded with mail that I am preaching "ultimate reconciliation", I am not. However, I am preaching that there is Ultimate Victory in the Lord Jesus Christ!! There were only two in the garden for whom the Lord made coats to cover their nakedness with the skins of animals, thus signifying the shedding of blood for the remission of sins. It was Adam and Eve. The Lord did not make a covering for the wicked serpent. He was not included in the plan of salvation, however, all the other members of the garden were. The same God that can forgive and cover the sins of two, can forgive the sins of a whole nation if He desires to do so!! The Bible says that He can save by many, or He can save by few!! 1 Samuel 14:6)

I am seeing by the Spirit of God that He is raising up a people who have a confidence in their authority in Him to know they can release the kingdom into the lives of people through PROCLAMATION! It's the difference between asking someone if they wish to be free, and declaring to them that because of the supreme sacrifice of Jesus Christ they ARE free!!

¶How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth! Isaiah 52: 7.

Beloved, God's judgments are appearing in the earth, and I want it to be very clearly understood that I have the deepest respect for those who preach the gospel through warnings and pleadings with people to repent. The prophet Isaiah, under the unction of the Holy Ghost said, "Cry aloud and spare not......."
The prophets are called to get into the watchtower, and issue warnings when danger is coming, and it doesn't matter if it's an overflowing scourge from hell, or a manifestation of the wrath of Almighty God. God's Word will never return unto Him void!!

However, I am going to submit to you something that I fully believe is from the Lord. I prophesied a word a couple of years ago entitled,

Thinking Differently in A Season of Change, and I believe this flows along with what was presented in that word.

I truly believe that because of the lateness of the hour, and the fact that God's judgments in the earth are going to be tumbling out one on top of the other, God's people MUST recognize that the new wine of the kingdom is going to be released from new wine bottles, or wineskins. Preaching the remission of sins with the authority of actually DOING IT, and not leaving it up to "decision processes" is the NEW WINESKIN in the church that will hold the key to the power and glory of God being preached and proclaimed to multitudes!

It makes me spiritually heartsick to see that people believe the "new wineskin" means instead of singing the old hymns of the church, or the lively choruses of Zion, or the Psalms set to music, it means the saints are to boogie and jive to heavy metal music and rap with "saved" words. All that is doing is imitating the world.
That certainly is NOT a "new wineskin!" In fact, that's very much the OLD wineskin as you should have become a NEW CREATURE in Christ Jesus departing from the love and desire for the OLD SOUND to get a NEW SONG!!

I believe the NEW wine skin in the word of God are things so clearly defined in scripture as the believer's rights and commodities in the kingdom that we've never experienced in the measure that God desires for us because the Pharisaical, religious mindset has been too busy saying that the old ways and methods are better, and because we have been lacking in true revelation into these things. It's a great study to simply go through the gospels and pick up on things that Jesus did and said that upset the Pharisees. That will give you a clue.

Both Matthew 9 and Luke 5 give an account of the parable of the new wine being placed into new wine bottles. Read these chapters paying careful attention to your context.

14 ¶Then came to him the disciples of John, saying, Why do we and the Pharisees fast oft, but thy disciples fast not?
15 And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bridechamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast.
16 No man putteth a piece of new cloth unto an old garment, for that which is put in to fill it up taketh from the garment, and the rent is made worse.
17 Neither do men put new wine into old bottles: else the bottles break, and the wine runneth out, and the bottles perish: but they put new wine into new bottles, and both are preserved. Matthew 9:14-17.

The question was presented to Jesus concerning a very noble and religious thing to do: Fasting. His response to them was that as long as the bridegroom was with them, they could not fast. Who is this bridegroom to the Church of the Lord Jesus Christ, and ESPECIALLY those that love His appearing, but that KING OF GLORY whom I declared at the beginning of this article will COME IN, when we TURN OUR FACES TO HIM, and LIFT UP OUR HEADS that HE MIGHT COME IN!! (Again, review Psalm 24, and Luke 21:28)

When God's judgments are in the earth, the KING OF GLORY is COMING INTO HIS PEOPLE who have hearts to discern His presence and His coming!

Some will continue with the old wineskins, never realizing that the glory of the Lord IS HERE because they have been so caught up in their religious ways they've never LOOKED UP to SEE JESUS!! . They will continue in old ways and methods, but to that one who has LOOKED UP, and LIFTED UP HIS HEAD, there is going to be a completely different order in how God uses that one to advance His reconciliation and redemption in the earth!

Don't let the religious crowd make you feel guilty that you've got new wine flowing from a NEW wineskin!!

And in closing, I declare that God's people are FREE to rise up in a John 20:23 anointing to lay the groundwork for the advancing message of the Gospel of the Kingdom!!

Now, I am going to ask you a question that is going to cause every religious fiber in your being to convulse. The religious earthquake in your soul will probably hit the Number 9 on your religious Richter scale. I know it certainly is on mine!! But, I am going to ask it anyway because I believe I have the authority of God's word to do so, though I don't have the boldness to highlight it or put in caps because, you see, what I am saying is even causing tremors in my own spirit. Oh how those "tsunami waters of life need to come and wash away all fear and dread of the religious system and old ways so that we can rise to walk in newness of life, and HIS ways which are so far above our own!!

Have you forgiven anyone's sins lately?

Always in the Love of Jesus,

Clo DiPilato

Herald of His Kingdom

Thoughts On The Season

Susan Cummings

Many people have contacted me concerning the events taking place, and what we are to be doing, and what God is doing in our midst.

I have been formulating some thoughts for you all, as to some of the things the Lord has shown me. I pray these will also bring further illumination to you as well, as we walk out our destinies.

Matthew 25 (New King James Version)
New King James Version (NKJV)
Copyright © 1982 by Thomas Nelson, Inc.
Matthew 25

The Parable of the Wise and Foolish Virgins
1 "Then the kingdom of heaven shall be likened to ten virgins who took their lamps and went out to meet the bridegroom. 2 Now five of them were wise, and five were foolish. 3 Those who were foolish took their lamps and took no oil with them, 4 but the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps. 5 But while the bridegroom was delayed, they all slumbered and slept.
6 "And at midnight a cry was heard: 'Behold, the bridegroom is coming;[a] go out to meet him!' 7 Then all those virgins arose and trimmed their lamps. 8 And the foolish said to the wise, 'Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out.' 9 But the wise answered, saying, 'No, lest there should not be enough for us and you; but go rather to those who sell, and buy for yourselves.' 10 And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with him to the wedding; and the door was shut.
11 "Afterward the other virgins came also, saying, 'Lord, Lord, open to us!' 12 But he answered and said, 'Assuredly, I say to you, I do not know you.'
13 "Watch therefore, for you know neither the day nor the hour[b] in which the Son of Man is coming.

In this season, the Lord has been calling to His People to draw near to Him, to be cleansed and refined and purified. He has been dealing with us and challenging us to change. He has given us many years to do so, but this generation has slept on, like the virgins. We are a sleeping generational church. We have not tended to our lamps nor sought to be full of the life, light, and presence of God from within. We have little oil.

What you see happening in the natural also mirrors what God is doing in the Spiritual.

He is after the hearts of men. He is after the oil. He is after His Presence being fully formed and ignited within them.

What just got hit the most in our country? The oil.

What is needed the greatest in this midnight hour in the church? The Oil.

The criers are riding throughout the lands, crying, prepare ye the way of the Lord! But few listen, and most turn over and go back to sleep.

The few that have prepared in this sleeping generation, have done so, and they cannot give to others, as each person is responsible for their own personal intimacy with Christ. Each must go out and purchase or pay the price of refining and purification and change, to obtain their own relationship. For most, the price of carrying our cross daily, is too high, and they settle in for compromise and comfort.

The Lord has also brought a breaking and a rending and a division of those who are His and those who are not. In every area, we see the separation beginning and increasing. Between families, friends, workers, and peoples. God will have a holy people who are fully given to Him. All that is not of Him is being exposed, judged, and dealt with.

This breaking open and rending is redemptive if we embrace Him in it. The Lord said to me many times, that he must break open the heart of America to get to the heart, for it was crusted over and hardened. He must rend it asunder to lance it, and open the sin, so He can bring healing.

The Lord also told me while ministering in NY recently, that we are more concerned with our W and E borders and either the security of our coasts, than we are watching the heartland. We are vulnerable, and the greatest damage will occur in the heartland, for we do not guard our heart. We also are more concerned about our image and might than our state of being. We compromise and lose our purity and eternal inheritance for a temporary morsel of carnal food.

This is seen as a natural event and a spiritual one.

The natural one being shown as the coming earthquake that will divide America down the middle, of which I have seen in dreams and visions 3 times now. The last time was the most terrifying and profound encounter. A literal breaking open to expose the heart will come if we don’t repent and return to the Lord. If God can’t get our attention, He will get louder.

The spiritual type as being the division and separation of the church, Namely, those who are truly His heart, mind and soul from those who say they are His, but their hearts are far from Him. God wants heart relationship and not lip service anymore. He is dividing the sheep from the sheep. The Remnant from the apostate church systems of men.

He will deal with both.

We are at the midnight hour. What will we be found with?

The events are only a wake up call so far. We haven’t even begun to see the shaking of the heavens and the earth. Yet, the scriptures plainly tell us that men will not repent and their hearts will turn colder and harder, and they will curse God rather than turn to Him.

So, the earth will travail, the heavens will be altered, and we will walk through it all with our Lord, till He chooses the timing to bring us home.

The natural shows us what the Father is doing, if we have eyes to see.

Katrina means Purity. God desires Holiness in His House.

He is dealing with sin. He is breaking it open and fully disclosing it, and dealing with it head on. No more will we get by with our sins, big or little, for all is sin. All needs to be cleansed and atoned for. None of us are exempt. Let us seek God.

Just as the coastal states have been hit hard and the worldliness and blatant degradation issue addressed. So it will also hit the church and many will fall also because of this same issue. The Church looks like the world, acts like the world, and there is no distinction of difference.

That will change. We will separate, and be clean and pure, and be holy and be full of His Truth and Light and Love or we will be utterly dark and lost without Him. Its our choice.

Our self sufficiency, independence, greed, and pride have caused us to love ourselves, our images, our works and accomplishments, and our positions. We have lost our first love and have gone after another. We have committed idolatry in this nation and serve many things.

We lust after power and control. But we deny the Lord. Our independence and strength is now being tested and our pride dealt with. We will be bound to the gods that we serve. We will be given over to that which we love the most. We will either embrace the Truth and have illuminated minds and hearts full of His Light, or we will become fully reprobate and darkened. We will not stand in the days to come, apart from our utter returning to the Lord.

Lots of Images, and lots of Truth.

Hopefully we learn from our mistakes and we change and draw close to the Lord.

The days ahead will see greater shakings and chaos as the hearts of men are laid bare and they are dealt with, and choices are made.

May we humble ourselves and seek God, and make the right choices.

May we find ourselves awake and full of Oil.

Susan Cummings
9-2-05
1:33 am
http://groups.msn.com/CummingsFamilyAdventures
http://topica.com/lists/JustHisWords

Stand By Me
Susan Cummings

Stand by Me
Do not run to look and see
For I told you that I would bring
All things into their final places

Such as it has been seen and done
Is nothing compared to what will now run
For I showed you all that is to come
And now many look and fear and run

Stop, and stand firm next to Me!
Do not give way even to your curiosity
For the hearts of men will harden even more
As I burn down all the erected doors

Be settled firmly in your minds
Leave all your fears and thoughts behind
Take up My Word and let it deeply in Or you cannot rise above the earthly din

Keep your hearts fixed upon Me
Trust not in your flesh to support thee
For I AM all that you will hold dear
As you walk out the latter part of this year

Never before has the seas roared as they now will Even still, the hearts of men will grow dim more
As they cannot go after their earthly prizes
Shaken and brought down to show their demises

What is fixed and firmly planted will stand
Take heed where you stand lest ye also fall
For the waves will become even a greater wall
As the towers of men topple and fall

Great is the sea's and the earth's travail
As the fullness comes now to a greater fruition
Lands will indeed change, but the peoples will only rage
As they behold the closing of the Current Age

I told you in My Word that it is to come
I gave you My Plan so that you could stand
Be seated and settled now, next to Me

As I work My Work, dealing with the hearts of men

You have the keys that will show men the way
Take what I have placed within you and go your way
For I Am with you until the end
Shining My Light of Truth through women and men

Across the lands and the seas will you go
Directed by My Spirit through the bloody flow
Reaching to My lost ones who cry out to see the light
Taking them up into their heavenly flight

Stand By Me
Look upon Me and see
For what I will now bring
As the earth shakes and rings

Susan Cummings
8-31-05
4:22 pm

http://groups.msn.com/CummingsFamilyAdventures
http://topica.com/lists/JustHisWords

The Darkness At Noonday
Susan Cummings

The Vision below takes place at my office while sitting at my desk.

As I am sitting here, I begin to see myself standing in a place of complete darkness. There is no light around anywhere. It seems like it was day and then it was night. There was no gradual darkening, just a sudden change.

I don’t feel any fear or even any anxiousness at the change, only the peace of the Lord. I know that I am in Him, and He has brought me here for a reason, so I wait for the Lord to show me what He wants me to see.

The darkness is total and it seems almost like a solid mass around me, and it does not have a beginning or an ending point, as you would expect if you drove into it or walked into it, as it is just there.

As I stand there, I also notice that there is no sounds. No sounds of life or wind, or air, or anything. It is like a vacuum. It is like a place of total isolation, kind of like being in a dark sound proof room. This must be what the absence of Gods Presence is like, I thought to myself.

"You are correct", the Lord then said to me. I knew the Lord was standing beside me, even though I could not see Him. "The darkness is the absence of My Presence and My Light, and it is the place of total separation from the Truth."

"When people reject Me, they embrace what they love. The darkness becomes their abode and their portion. It is a place of total spiritual poverty and no illumination. When the Truth is rejected, and men choose to believe a lie, then they give themselves over to a reprobate mind and the darkness then becomes complete."

"The famine of My Word has begun to greatly increase now, even amongst My House, for even those of My House are being tested and tried, and what they give their hearts to, will be what they will be bound to."

"My corporate church has lost their first love, and have given their hearts to many things, and have denied Me the reins of their lives. They want their own ways and to walk their own direction, and have strayed from the Truth. They do not love the Light, and have not applied the Word to their lives, and have given themselves over to the darkness. For they are not lovers of the Truth."

"What you see before you is the famine of the Word and the complete falling away of those who say they love Me, but deny Me, and who will not embrace Me. The darkness is real and they wander around in the light of day bound in total darkness. They hear, but do not perceive the Truth."

"They can read the Word and will not understand it, but it will be closed and be as a wall before them. They will see, but do not have eyes to see what I am doing, and they grope around looking for answers but they will never find them, for they rejected Me and My Word in their lives. They loved their pleasures more than My Holiness."

"The darkness is also fear. Those who do not know Me and walk in My Love, will walk in fear and be bound by it. The opposite of absolute faith is absolute fear. I have repeatedly commanded My people to come to Me, to know Me, to fully and completely trust in Me, and to have faith in Me. But they continually stray away from Me, and feed upon everything that comes along, and are now filled with mixture, darkness, and do not have My Truth fully formed and established within them."

"I have been forming Myself within Mine, and have been purging them and preparing them to stand in this hour. But even amongst Mine own, many have chosen to attack, tear down, and come against what I am building. They forever resist the Truth and the Spirit of Grace that has been given for this hour. When My Grace is finally rejected, there is only wrath afterwards."

"Mine will abide in Me, and walk in total darkness and not be affected. They will not fear, nor be dismayed, nor want for anything, for I AM their portion. When you abide in Me, then you are as I AM. Do not grieve, for My Word has warned men for generations of the coming darkness and the famine. But few applied My Word and allowed me to change them. Men think it will not come, or happen to them, or that it is only a Truth and not a reality. Now, it is too late, for it is already done. Those who are Mine, will walk fully in the light as I am in the Light. For they loved me more than themselves."

"What is meant for slaughter is given to the slaughter."

"What is meant for the darkness, now will abide in it’s place."

"What is meant for the destroyer is already in it’s hand."

"What is meant for the storm is already in it, for few paid heed."

"What is Mine, is Mine, and will remain in Me."

"The spiritual darkness is complete and few see it, for it is still day in the earth, but it will soon be fully night and then no man will work."

"The darkness will work it’s work, and it will be given all that is not Mine. I am fully disclosing the darkness and the light. I am showing all men what both looks like, so no man will have an excuse and say to Me that they didn’t know or that they were taken unawares or were deceived, for all men will know."

"Both darkness and light will be seen and understood, and both will be inhabited and both will continue till the end, as I bring My House into it’s place."

Until then, the final race continues, and men will rise and fall, and nations will roar and the earth convulse as the darkness swallows it’s due."

"You are to stand in the darkness and show forth My Light. For nations are coming to the light, and the knowledge of Me will be shown, and men will choose, and determine their eternal destiny. The books are open, and many are writing their names in the books. Some to eternal damnation and some to eternal life. This is the Hour of Truth, and all men will stand in their places."

"Do not waver, but stand firm, and know that even in the darkness, you abide in Me. Do not look at the waves, the winds, or the storms, but remain fully abiding in Me, and know that you walk out your destiny in Me. Give no place to fear that will rule the masses, but yield to My Spirit, and follow Me. For I have given you My Truth, to light your path. Go to all who will gather, and speak the Truth to them, and show them the way to Me. For some will cleanse their garments through the dark hours ahead, as they see the Light and choose to come out of the darkness. Many will not. But you must continue on, and leave the men to Me, just walk forth knowing that I Am in the midst of all things."

"The Fear of the Lord will keep you in the Truth. Never allow the fear of men to divert you, but fear God more than men, and lead them on and through the storm. For it has only just begun, and the full force has yet to come. I have warned Mine to remain in Me, and now the Truth is plain to see, for all that are looking for Me, will find Me, even in the trials of fire to yet come."

"My Glory will illuminate you, fill you, and flow forth from you into the darkness, as you obey Me. Guard your heart and walk humbly in the earth, for it labors to fully give birth, and great will be the rending that will come. But you have all that you need with you, and so, walk on."

I stood there, allowing His Voice to flow through Me, strengthening me, and bringing me closer to Him. There is so much happening in the earth and in the heavens, and it pulls on you, and drains you at times. But we must come aside and be refreshed and strengthened and listen to our Lord. So, I await in the darkness, in Him.

He is our portion and refuge in the storms and our Standard in the midst.

Let us walk in the light, while there is light to work, and reach out to those who grope in the darkness at the noon hour. Let us press on to the mark and the high calling in Christ, and be found faithful in the end.

Susan Cummings
8-30-05 1:45 pm

The Path To Victory

Bayo Omoyiola, jr.

scroll_of_david@yahoo.com

I want you crucified and always crucified for that is the only way through which I can lead you. I have created that path for you and its in me. That path is called sacrifice and its only on it I can lead you and guide you to your destiny.

I am Jesus, the author and finisher of your faith. Look to me and be strong. Look to me and run the race before you patiently seeing the great cloud of witnesses that encompass you. I have ran the race before and they all have also ran it before. Therefore be still and know that victory is ahead of you. I have given you the record. Therefore put on the confidence and know that victory is sure. In all you go through remember that I have given you all things ...(2 Peter 1:3) ...and this is the record (1 John 3:11) ...and this is the confidence (1John 3:14) ... and this is the victory (1 John 5:4)

The Pope As A Sign Of The Endtimes

Lishan Desta

Is there anything God wants us to learn from the life and mission of Pope John Paul II? I believe, in the following regards, the life of this great man of God can be taken as a sign for this age and times.

1. John Paul II traveled the world to reach out the masses of humanity with the word of God; he determinedly preached and taught the moral statutes of the Word of God. Like Elijah, he untiringly worked to restore the ruined altar of God in the world which has been destroyed by the forces of modernity. Like John the Baptist he was the apostle of repentance, calling the world back to God. His passion to see God's morality and eternal truth restored in the world is with few parallels in recent world history (Malachi 4:4-6; Luke 1:76-77).

2. As Elijah and John the Baptist and the other prophets did in their days, John Paul II stood up against the powerful and the mighty to challenge them to rule and behave as God wants them to do. He openly championed the dignity and the image of God in every human person. He clearly showed that everyone is precious in the eyes of God, and that the ordinary man has a God-given right to life, freedom and property which authorities cannot trample upon (2 Sam. 27- 36; 2 Kgs. 20). God used this Pope in a unique way in the bringing down of the throne of wickedness – communism. He was also fearless to castigate the dehumanizing aspects of unbridled capitalism (1 Kgs 18:18; Jerm 22: 13-16; Luke 3:1-22).

3. Though the Pope championed the cause of the poor and the disfranchised; however, he refused to accept the idea that the problem of the poor will be solved through Liberation Theology. In this regard, he eschewed the mixing of Marxist ideology with Christianity. On the other hand, he preached the sufficiency of Christ in addressing the spiritual as well as the social and political problems of the world. The Pope effectively resisted the program of some priests to put the need of the people over and above the eternal truth of the Lord (Rev. 2:6). Hence, the Pope was used of God to cleanse the church and the priests from dangerous the virulent pathology of Marxism, etc., that threatened to afflict the Body of Christ.

4. In a very unique way God used this Pope to reach to the young people of the world. This is also in line with what the Lord prophesied about the Endtime Elijah saying, he will restore the hearts of the young to the fathers', and those of the fathers' to the children (Malachi 4:6). For example, the last words spoken by the Pope underline this particular mission of his life. Apparently, addressing the youth who were amassed under his window praying and chanting for his healing, he sent this message, 'I have been looking for you; now you have come to me. Thank you.' God foresaw a generation gap opening in the Endtime, that will take the young adrift from the faith and devotion that has been the older generations'. Therefore, the Lord promised to send someone who will be used of Him to heal this rift. The Pope to a great extent has been used of God to fulfill this role. To this end, for example, the Pope instituted the yearly, World Youth Day.

5. John Paul II led a life worthy of a prophet of God. Reputedly he spent hours and hours prostrated on the floor of his chapel in intercession. He led a very simple and ascetic life, eschewing material pursuits and pride. He was meek and humble in his demeanor (Mark 1: 6-8). He immensely cared about the poor, the suffering and the disfranchised of this world (Lam. 2:11). Typifying the action of Christ to forgive those who crucified Him, this Pope also forgave the man who attempted to kill him in 1981. This Pope was not also afraid to ask for forgiveness even when the sin was not his, but that of his church or Christendom in general. He reached out across cultural and religious divides to bring reconciliation and understanding with Christians. For example, he asked the Jews and God for forgiveness for the anti-Semitism the Jews have suffered down the centuries at the hands of Christians. This had an immense implication for Christian – Jewish relationship and understanding.

6. One of the great signs of a prophet, or any great man of God, is the mark of Christ's suffering the man is asked to bear in his body by the Lord. This is what the Apostles call the sign of the 'fellowship of His suffering' by which Christ fulfills the mission of the cross further in the life of the world (Col. 1: 24, Phil. 3:8-11, 1 Pet 4:12-13). To such prophetic suffering God has called John Paul II ever since his childhood. He knew bereavement; he knew sorrow and pain; he knew sickness and brokenness. But most importantly, he understood the meaning of his cross, the loss of family me members, the hate and persecution of Nazis and Communists, of pain and sickness His Lord asked him to bear such a cross, and he carried his cross with dignity and thanked God for that (2 Cor. 12:6-10).

7. Last year by this time God used the Catholic-made movie, Mel Gibson's 'The Passion of the Christ' to reach the whole world with the Gospel, with the atonement price paid for our sins by the Lord. This year again the Lord used a Catholic, the life of the dying Pope, to enter almost every home in the whole world to preach the Gospel truth. It is very hard to assume another time as this one occasion where the Lord preached the Gospel truth – in its spiritual, moral as well as its social-political implications – to the whole world through and including the secular media. Who knows this man of God 'killed' more enemies of the truth of God than he did while he was alive (Judges 15:30; Phil 1:18)?

What will follow once the Lord gave this sign of the prophet Elijah through His great servant, Pope John Paul II? Most likely the Pope was that prophetic figure sent into the moral wilderness of the world in these last days calling the people back to God. He like John the Baptist is man sent of God to prepare the hearts of world for the soon to be coming of the Messiah (Mark 1: 2-3; Luke 26-33).

The Prophet Cries

Robin Paisley

The Prophet Cries, the Wolves Rejoice and the Owl Sings High from the Tree."
Jun 20, 2005

The prophet cries
The wolves rejoice
The owl sings high from the tree

I was given to rest upon our Father's chest, his voice was in my ear, ever so gently he began to whisper, "the time is near, tell my people, the time is here."

The church inlaid by wood, the church covered in bark, the church whose walls are thick in protection of that which is built of man; its kindling is ready for fire. Do you not see, do you not hear that Christ indwelling in thee, is not made of the things of the earth that man's hands have welded in pride but made of that which is holy, holy, holy as the cherubim cried; our Father speaks, 'SET MY PEOPLE FREE.'

If thou wilt not hear God's voice in thy ear, but continue to run with ravishing wolves than a wolf shall ye be; thou wilt become what thou has eaten.

If thou wilt not see God's Kingdom come but continue building upon sand, than so shall the waters cover thee and make ye part of the sea.

The cry of the prophet is gone through out the land but the leaders have turned away; men appointed by God himself have turned wicked in their pursuit of wealth and have led many, many astray.

Do you not see, do you not hear that Christ indwelling in thee; has made habitation in a company of people that will set his people free.

If thou wilt tarry on high while excavating the deep; thou wilt run with horses fashioned by the King, while others lie awake but sleep.

If thou wilt but stand upon the rock looking over the sea and sound the alarm through out the land, than thou wilt but become like flint and a wall in my castle will thou be.

The wolves are rejoicing, in the pack they do gather the weak, the sick, the old and the young, like sheep led to the slaughter in blindness, territory not theirs is overcome.

The owl doth sing the song of the night as he travels to places unknown to man, to gather but treasures, the hordes of delight; oh the second realm does one see.

Be very wise in your choice of meat for the owl is roaming the night as the wolves do travel in packs; they are seeking to feed those who are but in shallow waters, seemingly to the deep things of Christ. But to their own delight doth drowning occur in man's ways and prideful life, the soul in bondage in self is Sheol in the making.

The prophet doth cry.

"And then God answered: "Write this. Write what you see. Write it out in big block letters so that it can be read on the run.

This vision-message is a witness pointing to what's coming. It aches for the coming--it can hardly wait! And it doesn't lie. If it seems slow in coming, wait. It's on its way. It will come right on time.

Look at that man, bloated by self-importance--full of himself but soul-empty. But the person in right standing before God through loyal and steady believing is fully alive, really alive."

Habakkuk 2:2-4

The Power Of Agreement
Sandy Warner

Mar 2, 2005
THE POWER OF AGREEMENT
When you are sifted in your relationships, the enemy has tried to bring division and strife for a specific purpose. I AM leading My people into a unity on a massive level never before experienced. This unity brings multiplied increase for breakthrough against the kingdom of darkness and towards collecting your rewards and loot.

The power of agreement I AM leading My own into is built upon faith and love. This is a sold out faith that I AM Sovereign in all things and a love that is willing to lay down your lives for your brethren. With such passion behind unity, there is no end to the power of agreement.

Matt 18:18-20 NKJV
"Assuredly, I say to you, whatever you bind on earth will be bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth will be loosed in heaven. "Again I say to you that if two of you agree on earth concerning anything that they ask, it will be done for them by My Father in heaven. For where two or three are gathered together in My name, I am there in the midst of them."

Words to Ponder are summaries of prophetic revelation, punched with the word of wisdom and written under inspiration. [Sandy Warner: swauthor@usa.net / website: www.thequickenedword.com] Permission given to forward or post.

Faith To Wait For The Glorious Visitation
Sandy Warner

Feb 28, 2005
Faith To Wait For The Glorious Visitation
You have gone through a washing, a cleansing of your soul when in a mighty whoosh, I sent My waters to cleanse your striving. I also brought Wisdom to your door where I gave you Myself in disguise. Yes I wounded you with wisdom that I might lance the malady within your soul and bring it up for a thorough washing. Am I not the One Who wounds, tears, then binds up the broken heart and heals once again? Yes this is strong meat, more than you bargained for in your faith of a sugar Daddy God. Trust that I know exactly what you need for abundant health. As you see the light of My truth, and open the door, it will release your promises of face to face visitation.

Dear One, do not grow hopeless when My face is withheld from you. This holding back is only a pause, a temporary place that will bring deeper wells of passion and anointing into your life. I know that you long for our communion to be complete, that we might share the cup. Now hold on as I have forged your armor of faith like blue steel, to mount up and stand, pressing past the oppression. When I return to your door, will I find faith?

Allow this temporary restraint to dig down deep into the wells of your soul and spirit. This will bring your passionate responses to My Presence into deeper wells and yearnings. My passion within you shall never die. It's My anointing, My power, My glorious cry. I light your fire. And stir your coals. Allow My fire to penetrate the layers of your heart as You wait for Me. Have courage little one, your reward is coming. When I knock on your door, your faith will explode as I grant your vision of promise and we shall have our glorious visitation.

Hos 6:1-3 KJV
Come, and let us return unto the LORD: for he hath torn, and he will heal us; he hath smitten, and he will bind us up. After two days will he revive us: in the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live in his sight. Then shall we know, if we follow on to know the LORD: his going forth is prepared as the morning; and he shall come unto us as the rain, as the latter and former rain unto the earth.

Words to Ponder are summaries of prophetic revelation, punched with the word of wisdom and written under inspiration. [Sandy Warner: swauthor@usa.net / website: www.thequickenedword.com] Permission given to forward or post.

Learn To Give Without Strife
Sandy Warner

Mar 4, 2005
LEARN TO GIVE WITHOUT STRIFE
Dear ones, when I send you with My message, your only assignment is to deliver the Word and then back off and let Me do the convincing. It is not your job to play Holy Spirit. To step beyond the boundaries of your assignment is to fall into a downward spiral that results in striving and debate. This does not represent Me or My message. Such behavior represents the Pharisees and wolves who are blind and lost in their own mind-sets. They defend their opinions in frank and bold speech. They point the finger silhouetting their own wounds and know not the wisdom of their God.

When I serve My Word, it is as a humble and lowly servant. If I, being Lord, am gentle and lowly of heart, how much more should you? Listen to the word give. It means to bestow, grant, offer, present, donate, furnish, impart. When I give it is served on a platter of choice. I do not force Myself on the non-teachable. As you come into synch with My purposes and with one another, you will learn that giving through My Presence and through My Spirit will result in pure, sweet peace.

2 Tim 2:23-26 NLT
Again I say, don't get involved in foolish, ignorant arguments that only start fights. The Lord's servants must not quarrel but must be kind to everyone. They must be able to teach effectively and be patient with difficult people. They should gently teach those who oppose the truth. Perhaps God will change those people's hearts, and they will believe the truth. Then they will come to their senses and escape from the Devil's trap. For they have been held captive by him to do whatever he wants.

Words to Ponder are summaries of prophetic revelation, punched with the word of wisdom and written under inspiration. [Sandy Warner: swauthor@usa.net / website: www.thequickenedword.com] Permission given to forward or post with this footer attached.

The Harvest From Letting Go
Sandy Warner

Mar 6, 2005

The Harvest From Letting Go

As you let go of the ones you've loved
And gave them to Me to keep from above,
It released My hand to continue My molding,
As you released to Me whom you were holding.

Your prayers and your words have taken root.
They empowered the journey to find their loot.
Their path was prepared along the way,
For a destined future and brighter day.

Letting go of the treasures you've held so dear,
I know it hurt and I know your tears.
You gave them roots and gave them wings
That they might fly with hearts that sing.

This is the hope in the power to let go:
That My will is manifest, and you may know,
That since you set your loved ones free,
That when they return it was meant to be.

Phil 4:1 NLT
Dear brothers and sisters, I love you and long to see you, for you are my joy and the reward for my work. So please stay true to the Lord, my dear friends.

Poetry2Ponder are poems birthed out of intimacy with the Holy Spirit through yearnings of intercession. They are posted once a week.
Sandy Warner : swauthor@usa.net ~ Website: www.thequickenedword.com
~ Permission given to forward or post. ~

The Power Of A Transcendent Life

Francis Frangipane

www.frangipane.org

There are a great many books written today about developing our spiritual gifts or discovering our purpose, most of them are absolutely worthy of our attention. Recognizing our gifts and being trained to serve God in our individual calling is part of doing His will. Yet, there is a deeper, more essential goal -- an objective that is ultimately far more valuable both to God and ourselves. I am talking about the genuine quest to possess the likeness of Christ.

We marvel at the life of Paul. Here was a man who wrote Scriptures, who led many thousands to Christ; he founded churches and was proficient in all the spiritual gifts. Yet, what compelled him forward in life was not his calling, but his passion to be like Christ. He articulates this profoundly in Phil 3:10. He wrote,

"that I may know Him and the power of His resurrection and the fellowship of His sufferings, being conformed to His death."

My concern is that, over the years, I have seen far too many people who devoted themselves to perfecting their gifts or ministry, but neglected the deeper quest of conformity to Christ. To seek spiritual fulfillment from "our ministry" or "gifting" is to walk a path that actually leads away from the fulfillment.

Let me reinforce this point about the nature of our calling: my calling is not the core element of my destiny. A person's calling is a combination of divine preparation and a present assignment. A calling often unfolds or even changes throughout the seasons of life. As important as our calling is, the core of our destiny is not rooted in what I do for God, but in the conformity of my heart to Christ's. Christlikeness is my destiny. God may use my calling to perfect Christlikeness, but the purpose of my existence is to become like Jesus. Spiritual gifts and ministry assignments are only passengers in the car as I journey toward the fullness of Christ.

Predestined to be Conformed

Speaking of destiny, Paul wrote, "For those whom He foreknew, He also predestined to become conformed to the image of His Son, so that He would be the firstborn among many brethren" (Rom 8:29). Do we see this? We are "predestined to become conformed" to God's Son. When the New Testament speaks of destiny, it is almost always in the context of becoming Christlike. A "calling" or task may be to serve as a pastor or teacher or a housewife or in the marketplace, but regardless of my outward responsibilities, my core destiny -- the reality that continues unfolding within me regardless of outward circumstances -- is to embrace a life "conformed to the image of [God's] Son."

You see, our destiny is not what we do for God, but who we become to Him. As we reach for Christlikeness, our love for God becomes richer, our witness to sinners more powerful, and our secret life holy. As we seek conformity to Jesus, we discover that all our spiritual desires are rooted and nourished by conformity to Him.

Apart from Him, we may think we are doing great or important things, yet Christ tells us "If anyone does not abide in Me, he is thrown away as a branch and dries up" (see John 15:1-8). With Christ, however, even in the midst of conflicts, trials and temptations we manifest "the life of Jesus . . . in our mortal flesh" (2 Cor 4:8). This, indeed, is the transcendent life of God.

The Gifts and Callings
It is to our shame in the west that many of our seminaries do not focus on becoming Christlike, but rather devote themselves primarily to theology and hermeneutics. Obviously, we need correct biblical knowledge, but even more do we need conformity to Christ. Even in our churches we labor to see people released in "their gifts," and may we never stop! But let us not neglect the more foundational work of seeing Christlikeness structured into the congregational attitude.

Paul taught that the gifts and calling of God were "without repentance" (Rom 11:29 KJV). The apostle was writing about Israel and the irrevocable place she has in God's future, yet the principle of which he speaks is true for us as well: God's calling on our lives, and His gifts, remain living realities independent of our state of heart. The gifts and calling of God exist "without repentance."

A pastor can still preach and even inspire the congregation, though he is living in serious sin. His "calling" is not dependent upon the current state of his righteousness. A worship leader that commits adultery Saturday night still may stir a congregation Sunday morning because his gift still works "without repentance" of his sin. The evangelist that weeps as he saves souls, even after he spent the night drunk, thinks that God has excused his lawlessness. Yet, even while the Holy Spirit is working through the minister's gifts, the man himself is in grave danger. For after he has preached to others, he himself might be disqualified (see 1 Cor 9:27). We have all seen gifts and callings remain functional even though individuals led double lives, with hearts that were trapped in sin.

The fact that the gifts and calling of God operate somewhat independent of our character tell us that God will use imperfect people. But we still must beware. A day may come when we look to our gifts or ministry and plead, "Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in Your name, and in Your name cast out demons, and in Your name perform many miracles?" But Christ will not have it. Instead, He will utter those most terrible words, "I never knew you; depart from Me, you who practice lawlessness" (Matt 7:21-22).

You see, our gifts are necessary and understanding our calling is vital. Yet, attaining the nature of Christ is our destiny.

Beloved, as we approach the end of the age, a new priority is coming to God's people: the summing up of "all things in Christ" (see Eph 1:9-10). Both our gifts and our calling must serve our destiny, which is to reveal the nature of Christ. The focus that brings meaning and fulfillment is that which works to conform us inwardly to Christ. Our lives are to become "a fragrance of Christ to God" (2 Cor 2:15). Yes, the path to Christlikeness is the way to transcendent life of God.

There is a Mysterious Drowsiness to Overcome

Francis Frangipane

Perhaps we need to be shaken from our slumber to possess the promises of God! Amazingly, in spite of all the signs, wonders, and warnings announcing that we are truly in the last days, Jesus also said there is a mysterious drowsiness that we have to overcome. Indeed, immediately after highlighting the various evidences of the end (see Matthew 24), He compares the church to virgins who "all got drowsy and began to sleep" (Matthew 25:5).

Virgins sleeping at the end of the age: This seems incomprehensible with all the signs in the heavens and wonders upon the earth, not to mention the increasing presence of Christ. Yet this phenomenon is something we each battle: the tendency to become spiritually drowsy and lose our focus as we wait for the Lord's return.

There is a subtle activity of the enemy that dulls our perception and seduces our zeal. Our vision takes a backseat to other less important aspects of life. From the beginning, the voice of Satan has had this lulling effect on mankind. Eve's excuse for disobedience was, "The serpent hath caused me to forget" (Genesis 3:13 YLT).

This sense of spiritual forgetfulness, of drowsiness, is the cloud of blindness that we each must discern and overcome. It was in regard to this that the Holy Spirit spoke to my heart through the following dream.

"For Dreams to Come True"

There was a temple standing in an open field. My view of the temple was from its side, about 200 yards away. I could not see its front, yet it must have been completely open because great light flashed out from the inside; it pulsed like lightning, yet was solid like sunlight. The block of light issued straight out and I knew this light was the glory of God.

The temple was so close, I knew that with a little effort I could enter the glory of God. His Holy presence was clearly within my reach. There were also others directly in front of me that I recognized as people from church. Everyone seemed very busy. And while the temple and its light were visible and readily accessible to all, every head was bent downward and turned away from the light; each was occupied with other things.

I heard one voice say, "I have to do laundry." Another said, "I have to go to work." I could see people reading newspapers, watching televisions, and eating. I was sure everyone could see the light if they wanted to -- even more sure that we all knew His glory was near.

There were even a few people reading the Bible and praying, but everyone maintained the downward distance of their gaze; each had a barrier of some kind between themselves and the place of God's presence. No one, in fact, seemed capable of standing up, turning, and walking into the very near glory of God.

As I watched, suddenly my wife lifted her head and beheld the temple in the field. She stood and walked without pausing toward the open front. As she drew closer to the light, a garment of glory formed and thickened around her; the closer she went, the more dense the light surrounding her became until she stepped in front of the temple and turned completely toward the face of God.

Oh! How jealous I felt. My wife had entered the glory of God before me! At the same time I realized that there was nothing stopping me from approaching God's presence -- nothing except the pile of things to do and responsibilities that, in truth, ruled my life more than the voice of God.

Pushing the weight of these pressures from me, I determined to rise and enter the temple myself. But, to my great regret, in my dream as I rose up, I suddenly woke up!

The longing and disappointment within me seemed unbearable. I had been so close to entering God's presence. How I wanted to enter the temple and be swallowed up in His glory! I cried, "Lord, why did You let me wake up?"

Instantly, the word of the Lord responded to my cry. He said, "I will not have My servant's life fulfilled by a dream. If you want your dream to come true, you have to wake up."

Breaking Passivity; Setting Priorities

Beloved, today, God is awakening us to the reality of His presence. The promises God gives us in the Scriptures must become more to us than a dream-like reality only reserved for the hereafter. Moses frequented the glory of God! Israel's 70 elders ate and drank in God's resplendent glory (Exodus 24). Jesus unveiled God's glory on the Mount of Transfiguration! Paul says that we all can behold the glory of God and be transformed by it (II Corinthians 3).

For this reason, the Scripture says, "Awake, sleeper, and arise from the dead, and Christ will shine on you" (Ephesians 5:14). If we truly want Christ to "shine" upon us, we must arise from the distractions that entomb us in lethargy and spiritual darkness.

Right at this moment, the presence of the Living God is near enough to hear the whisper of your heart. But if we want our dream of standing in the presence of God to come true, we must wake up.

Francis Frangipane
Frangipane Ministries, Inc.
www.frangipane.org
comments@frangipane.org

The Power Of God Unto Salvation
John Piper

The Gospel Is The Power Of God Unto Salvation

Romans 1:16
For I am not ashamed of the gospel, for it is the power of God for salvation to everyone who believes, to the Jew first and also to the Greek.

Be Shamed, but not Ashamed
Last week I focused on the first words of Romans 1:16, "For I am not ashamed of the gospel." I tried to make plain that there is a difference between being shamed for the gospel and being ashamed of the gospel. If you are a faithful Christian, you will be shamed for the gospel. That is, you will be the target of shaming behavior. But there is a very good reason why you do not have to be ashamed when that happens.

I compared Paul's reason with Jesus' reason for not being ashamed when they were shamed for the gospel. Hebrews 12:2 says, "For the joy set before Him [Jesus] endured the cross, despising the shame." The shaming behavior against Jesus was as ugly and cruel and demeaning as it gets. But instead of letting the shame eat him up, or make him ashamed, or turn him into someone as weak and ugly as his shamers, he fixed his heart on the joy set before him. In other words, the assured triumph of his death and resurrection to save sinners and vindicate his righteousness and bring him home to God kept him from being ashamed or disobedient. When he was tempted to feel ashamed, he focused his mind on the joy set before him. He endured short-term pain because of long-term gain.

And Paul was like that. He said, "I am not ashamed of the gospel," – I am not ashamed of the message and the reality of Christ crucified for sinners and raised with power and saving all who trust in him. Why not? Because "[the gospel] is the power of God for [unto] salvation to everyone who believes." This is the same way that Jesus overcame feelings of shame when he was shamed for the gospel. Jesus looked to the joyful triumph of his cross and resurrection; Paul looked to the joyful triumph of the gospel in eternal salvation.

We do not avoid feelings of shame by altering the gospel to make it popular and inoffensive (see I Corinthians 1:18). We avoid feelings of shame by remembering that the gospel is going to be vindicated in the end. We remind ourselves that the gospel alone brings forgiven sinners to final, everlasting joy. Nothing in the world can do this except the gospel of Jesus Christ. Judaism, Buddhism, Hinduism, Islam – they do not have a Savior who can solve the problem of separation from a holy God through sin, and offer sinners hope by grace and not works. Only one message saves sinners and brings them safely into the presence of God – the gospel of Jesus Christ. It alone is the power of God unto salvation.

Therefore, Paul would say – Jesus himself would say – suffer, yes. Be misunderstood, yes. Be shamed, yes. But do not be ashamed. Because the message of God's saving work in Christ is the only final triumphant message in the world. Short-term pain. Long-term gain. For the joy set before you, for the salvation that only the gospel can gain, take up your cross, follow Jesus and despise the shame.

The Gospel Is the Power of God unto Salvation
Now today I want to dwell on the words, "for it [the gospel] is the power of God for salvation to everyone who believes." And I will take up only one question: What is this salvation that the gospel so powerfully brings about? We will see in answering this how our faith relates to the gospel in bringing about our salvation.

There are other crucial questions, especially the question of how the gospel becomes the power to save. But that is the point of verse 17, which we will plan to take up on August 9. "The gospel . . . is the power of God unto salvation . . . for [= because] in it the righteousness of God is revealed from faith to faith" – that's why the gospel is the power of God to salvation.

So the question today is: What is this salvation that the gospel so powerfully brings about? "The gospel is the power of God for [unto] salvation." Does this mean, "The gospel is the power of God to win converts"? Now I do think that is true, but I don't think that is what this statement means.

The reason I think it is true that the gospel converts people – brings them to faith and repentance – is because Romans 10:17 says, "So faith comes from hearing, and hearing by the word of Christ." And 1 Peter 1:23-25 says, "You have been born again not of seed which is perishable but imperishable, through the living and enduring word of God. . . . And this is the word which was preached to you." So it is true that we are born of God and converted by means of hearing the powerful word of God, the gospel.

And it's true that this conversion is called "salvation" in the New Testament. For example, Ephesians 2:8-9: "For by grace you have been saved through faith; and that not of yourselves, it is the gift of God; not as a result of works, so that no one may boast." So conversion to Christ by faith is called "being saved." If you are a believer in Christ this morning, you "have been saved." The book of Romans should be precious beyond words to you, because, like no other book in the Bible, it unfolds for you what has already happened in God's saving you – your election, your predestination, your calling, your justification, your sanctification, and the obedience of faith. These are all part of the salvation that is already true of you through faith.

The Final Triumph of the Gospel

But what is the salvation that Paul has in mind in Romans 1:16 when he says, "For [the gospel] is the power of God for salvation to everyone who believes"? I think he has in mind not primarily the first event of conversion, but primarily the final triumph of the gospel in bringing believers to eternal safety and joy in the presence of a holy and glorious God. There are four reasons why I think this is what he means. Looking at these reasons is the best way to unpack the meaning of the verse.

1. The power of the gospel is what frees us from being ashamed of the gospel

The first reason is that the power of the gospel to bring about salvation is what frees us from being ashamed of the gospel. "I am not ashamed of the gospel, for it is the power of God for salvation." But if this meant only that the gospel has the power to make converts, why would that solve the shame problem? Lots of religions make converts. Lots of different religious and secular movements win people over to their faith. When Paul said that the gospel has such a powerful effect that you don't have to be ashamed of it, did he simply mean that it does what other religions do: win converts? I don't think so.

Jesus triumphed over shame by looking at the future joy that was set before him as he died. I think this is what Paul, as well, has in mind in Romans 1:16. You don't have to be ashamed of the gospel because it doesn't just make converts; it saves those converts utterly. It brings them to final safety and ever-increasing joy in the presence of a glorious and holy God forever and ever. This is what makes us bold with the gospel – not that it can make converts; any religion can do that – but that it is the only truth in the world that can really save people forever and bring them to everlasting joy with God.

2. "Salvation" is future-oriented elsewhere in Paul and the New Testament

The second reason I think "salvation" in verse 16 refers to the final triumph of the gospel in bringing believers to eternal safety and joy in the presence of a holy and glorious God, is that the phrase "for salvation" or "unto salvation" has this future-oriented meaning elsewhere in Paul and other New Testament writers.

For example, in 2 Thessalonians 2:13 Paul says, "God has chosen you from the beginning for salvation through sanctification by the Spirit and faith in the truth." Now here, salvation is not just what happens at conversion, which leads to sanctification, but salvation is what comes later "through sanctification," and is in the future. In other words, salvation is the future triumph that brings the saint into God's presence with everlasting joy.

Or again, in 2 Corinthians 7:10, Paul speaks to Christians who are already converted and saved, but need fresh repentance for their sins: "The sorrow that is according to the will of God produces a repentance without regret, unto salvation, but the sorrow of the world produces death." Here again "unto salvation" refers not to conversion, but to the final, future state of safety and joy in the presence of God. (See also 2 Timothy 3:15.)

Similarly, Hebrews 9:28 says, "Christ . . . will appear a second time for salvation . . . to those who eagerly await Him." This final, complete salvation happens at the Second Coming. 1 Peter 1:5 says, "[Believers] are protected by the power of God through faith for salvation ready to be revealed in the last time." This salvation is "ready to be revealed in the last time." It is not conversion. It is the last great work of God to rescue us and bring us to safety and joy in his presence forever.

In Romans 5:9-10, Paul talks about this future salvation as rescue from the final wrath of God: "Much more then, having now been justified by His blood [that's the present reality of salvation!], we shall be saved from the wrath of God through Him. For if while we were enemies we were reconciled to God through the death of His Son [here again is the present reality of salvation!], much more, having been reconciled, we shall be saved by His life." In other words, the full experience of salvation, in Paul's thinking, is still future. Romans 13:11: "Salvation is nearer to us than when we believed."

So when Paul says in Romans 1:16 that "[the gospel] is the power of God unto salvation," I take him to mean that the gospel is the only message in the world that powerfully can bring a person not just to conversion, but to everlasting safety and joy in the presence of a holy and glorious God.

3. Ongoing belief is the condition for this salvation

The third reason I think "salvation" in Romans 1:16 is the final triumph of the gospel in bringing believers to eternal safety and joy in the presence of a holy and glorious God is that ongoing belief is the condition for this salvation. Notice that verse 16 does not say, "The gospel . . . is the power of God to bring about faith and salvation." It says, "The gospel is the power of God for [unto] salvation to everyone who is believing [present tense in Greek, signifying continuous action]." In other words, Paul's point here is not that the power of the gospel creates faith, but that, for those who have faith, the gospel brings about salvation. So the point is not that the gospel is the power for conversion to faith; the point is that the gospel is the power to bring about future salvation through a life of faith.

The tense of the verb "believe" here is crucial. It signifies ongoing action, not just the first act of faith when you were converted: "The gospel . . . is the power of God unto salvation to everyone who is believing" – who goes on believing. It's the same as 1 Corinthians 15:1-2 where Paul says, "I preached to you [the gospel], which also you received, in which also you stand, by which also you are being saved, if you hold fast the word which I preached to you, unless you believed in vain." Faith that does not persevere is a vain and empty faith – what James calls "dead faith" (James 2:17, 26).

So the point of Romans 1:16 is that you don't have to be ashamed of the gospel, because it is the only truth in the world which, if you go on banking on it day after day, will triumph over every obstacle and bring you to eternal safety and joy in the presence of a holy and glorious God.

4. Paul says the gospel is for believers, not just unbelievers

The last reason I think this is what "salvation" means in verse 16 is that the verse is given as the reason Paul wants to preach the gospel to believers (not just unbelievers). We've seen this, but look again. In verse 15 Paul says, "I am eager to preach the gospel to you also who are in Rome." He is eager to preach the gospel to "you" – you believers – not just unbelievers. Then he gives the reason: "because I am not ashamed of it, because it is the power of God unto salvation to all such believers."

So I conclude that the reason Paul is not ashamed of the gospel is that it is the only truth in all the world that will not let you down when you give your life to it in faith. It will bring you all the way through temptation and persecution and death and judgment into eternal safety and ever-increasing joy in the presence of a holy and glorious God. All the other "gospels" in the world that win so many converts will fail you in the end. Only one saves from the final wrath of God and leads to fullness of joy in his presence and pleasures at his right hand forever. Therefore, there is no need to be ashamed of it, no matter what others say or do. And O how eager we should be to speak this gospel to believer and unbeliever alike.

Do You Feed on the Gospel Day by Day?

I close with one huge implication of what I have said. Do you feed your faith day by day with the promises of this triumphant gospel? Do you, as a believer, go to the gospel day by day and savor its power in verses like Romans 8:32, "He who did not spare His own Son, but delivered Him over for us all, how will He not also with Him freely give us all things?" The gospel is the good news that God gave us his Son, so as to obtain for us everything that would be good for us. Therefore the gospel is the power that gives us victory over temptation to despair and to pride and to greed and to lust. The gospel alone can triumph over every obstacle and bring us to eternal joy. Whatever it costs, stand in it, hold it fast, believe on it, feed on it, savor it, count it more precious than silver or gold. The gospel will save you. And it alone.

I love to tell the story; for those who know it best seem hungering and thirsting to hear it, like the rest.
And when, in scenes of glory, I sing the new, new song,
'twill be the old, old story that I have loved so long.
I love to tell the story,
'twill be my theme in glory
To tell the old, old story
Of Jesus and his love.

John Piper
Desiring God Ministries
www.DesiringGod.org

The Power Of My Name
Stephen Hanson

June 15, 2005

…a day of darkness and gloom, a day of clouds and blackness. Like dawn spreading across the mountains a large and mighty army comes*, such as never was of old nor ever will be in ages to come.* Joel 2:2

Benaiah son of Jehoiada was a valiant fighter from Kabzeel, who performed great exploits. He struck down two of Moab's best men. He also went down into a pit on a snowy day and killed a lion. 2 Samuel 23:20

No one is like you, O LORD; you are great, and your name is mighty in power. Jeremiah 10:6

“Tell them that it is not my will that anyone would perish, but the time is short and it may become too late for those who want to come to Me. “

“From a distant land hordes of an army are coming. They are coming to wage war with the people of the United States. They are joining forces and they are in league with other people. What will you do, oh proud people of the United States? Will you be prepared or will you be taken by surprise? For they will come to take you by force. For these are the days that many have looked into. These are the days that are leading up to my soon return. “

“I tell you that I am against the proud, but I am with the lowly of heart. I tell you that many will fall prey to evil spirits in this time. False prophets and teachers will abound. The love of many will wax cold, but to those who know Me, I will give them the power to resist these things. They will do great exploits and they will be filled with the measure of the power of my name. For in the power of my name you can do great things. For in it you will find everything that you need.“

Stephen Hanson
tseyigai@yahoo.com
http://www.angelfire.com/in/HisTruth
http://www.angelfire.com/in/HisTruth/PayPalform.html (for donations)

I Will Come And Destroy The Wicked
Stephen Hanson

June 25, 2005

Though your people, O Israel, be like the sand by the sea, only a remnant will return. Destruction has been decreed, overwhelming and righteous. Isaiah 10:22

"I tell you that this earth has gone through many changes over the course of its creation, but over the next few years it will be changed for good. Woe to those who live on the coastlines for there will be an earthquake not like man has known. For it will split asunder the coastline of California. For a wall of water will separate it. Gone will be all the luxurious homes. Gone will be the movie industry. In the space of about an hour or so, all of this will occur. "

"Woe to those who live in New York City. For you have faced one onslaught, but the next one coming will be your devastation. You will be invaded by an outside force. The electrical system and the communication network will be down. There will be no way to communicate with those around you. But I will provide a way out. You will be warned ahead of time. Some will listen and others will not. "

"I tell you, beware of those who live in the southern tip of Florida, for yours is to be met by sudden and swift destruction. "

"You may say, 'Why will these things come?' I tell you that your nation has reached the peak of its sinfulness. I do not glory in wiping out man because of these things, but the stench of these things has gone on and on. You will ask, 'When will things happen?--within the space of three to four years, the destruction will begin.' But I also tell you that places of safety will be established. For I will always provide a way out for those who will trust Me. "

"I do not want you to live in fear because of these things but to be prepared for what lies ahead. In its time, these things will come to pass."

Stephen Hanson
http://www.angelfire.com/in/HisTruth
tseyigai@yahoo.com
HCR 79 3081
Cuba, NM 87013
http://www.angelfire.com/in/HisTruth/PayPalform.html (for donations)

The Purpose Of The Hour

Arlette Pollard

Revelation 15:7-8

Of all things get understanding
To the purpose of the hour
Let thoughts of grace
Be your escape
From seduction’s enticing power
In wisdom there is honor
In mercy there is faith
To gain the strength of perfect love
Found in God’s beloved Son
Whose loving arms will keep you safe
Within salvations heavenly gates.

He who has eyes to see
The glory of God’s majesty
Is wisdom’s precious child
Holy, merciful and mild
Having been conceived
In the knowledge
Of the mighty King
Then fed with manna from above
Will grow up bearing gifts
Worthy of God’s abundant love.

Of all things gain understanding
Through faith in the risen Lord
Who puts within man’s outstretched hands
Keys to open wide heaven’s door
So that wisdom bears witness
To the riches of God’s eternal reward
Men are clothed in righteousness
Empowered to walk in one accord
So that they gladly sing
Praise to God’s holy name
Who redeems, renews and restores.

> “And one of the four beasts gave unto the seven angels seven golden vials full of the wrath of God, who liveth forever and ever. And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power; and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels were fulfilled.” Revelation 15:7-8
>
> “When the Lord shall have washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion, and shall have purged the blood of Jerusalem from the midst thereof by the spirit of judgment, and by the spirit of burning. And the Lord will create upon every dwelling place of mount Zion, and upon her assemblies, a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for upon all the glory shall be a defense. And there shall be a tabernacle for a shadow in the daytime from the heat, and for a place of refuge, and for a covert from the storm and from rain.” Isaiah 4:4-6

According to the righteousness of Jesus Christ, the cords of God's heavenly habitation have been lengthened, the curtains stretched forth, and the stakes strengthened so that God's heavenly temple is able to receive both Jew and Gentile. The blessed Redeemer, Jesus Christ, has prepared a way for all of mankind to enter into God's holy chambers and partake of God's heavenly riches, found in the Holy Spirit. The old has passed away and all things have been made new, through Jesus Christ's obedience toward the Father. God's relationship with the tribes of Israel, according to God's divine first covenant, which was a foreshadow of better things to come, has now taken on greater depth, width, height and length, according to the righteousness of Jesus Christ.

The precious blood of Jesus Christ is a sacrifice that has made absolute atonement for mankind's sin. Because of Adam's transgression in the garden, sin and its punishment, which is death, was passed down from generation to generation. For the tribes of Israel to stand acceptable before God, God commanded that a high priest offer a sacrifice of the blood of bulls and goats. But the sacrifice of bulls and goats could not continually make any man acceptable in God's sight, so yearly God required the high priest to make atonement for the "errors of the people". But when Jesus Christ, the great High Priest, ordained of God unto righteousness, shed His blood upon the cross, God proclaimed: "It is finished." The precious blood of Christ made an end of all things that are aligned with the ordinances, rituals and sacrifices of the first covenant.

As it was appointed for all men to die because of sin that entered the world through Adam, so it is appointed for those who look to Jesus Christ in sincere faith to gain eternal life, through the Holy Spirit. Because the blood of Christ is the purposed fulfillment of what God required in order for mankind to stand acceptable in His sight, His blood was shed, not to uphold the pattern of heavenly things, which are aligned with the first covenant, but to purify the heavens themselves, so that a new covenant was established in heaven, which testified of God's love and authority toward men who stood upon earth.

Within the heavens, God sits upon His throne over all of creation, determining judgment according to a new governmental order, which is established upon the atoning work of the blood of Christ. According to God's perfect judgment, which bears the testimony of Jesus Christ, God had determined it was time to open wide the floodgates of heaven, so that the earth would be filled with His glory. God prepared a way for those who look to Jesus Christ in sincere faith to partake of the living waters (the Holy Spirit) that flow from His throneroom in heaven, so that His kingdom rule, reign and authority could be established upon the hearts of men. God's glory now fills the earth, but wisdom declares that only those who have eyes to see, will be able to comprehend and appreciate this truth. Until a man's eyes have been touched by the healing hand of Jesus Christ, he will remain as a blind man, who cannot see and appreciate God's glory that has been released from God's throneroom on high.

> "For the Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son: that all men should honor the Son, even as they honor the Father. He that honoreth not the Son honoreth not the Father which hath sent him. Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life." John 5:22-24

Through God's perfect plan of redemption, based upon the atoning work of the blood of Christ, God no longer looks upon mankind according to the law, but according to faith in His beloved Son, in determining judgment. Men who seek after righteousness, which is found in Christ, shall pass from death unto life. Though all men are born as Adam bearing the penalty of sin, which is death, when their hearts seek after Jesus Christ, they shall be born again of God's eternal Spirit, which has been released from God's throneroom on high. God breathes eternal life unto the souls of mortal men who seek after righteousness found in Jesus Christ. The soul of a man is united unto God, through the Spirit, so that a man can proclaim: "I was once blind, but now I am able to see God's goodness toward me."

All of creation now bears witness to the glory of God. All things in heaven and on earth now testify of the blood that was shed in order to redeem man from the punishment of sin, which is death, so that men may live in honor unto God, through faith in Jesus Christ. Men, whose eyes have been anointed to see the glory of God, will give all praise unto the Lord for His mercy and longsuffering toward them.

The wounds they received in the night, while walking upon a path of unrighteousness, which caused misery to take hold of their souls, will be healed by the Physician's gentle touch. They will no longer stand naked before the Father, because their faith has caused God to place upon their shoulder's robes of righteousness, which reflect the Lord's glory and majesty.

> "Justice and judgment are the habitation of thy throne: mercy and truth shall go before thy face. Blessed is the people that know the joyful sound: they shall walk, O Lord, in the light of thy countenance. In thy name shall they rejoice all the day: and in thy righteousness shall they be exalted. For thou art the glory of their strength: and in thy favor our horn shall be exalted." Psalm 89:14-17

Justice and judgment are now given unto the Son in determining who shall partake of God's glory that has been released from His throneroom on high. God no longer determines justice and judgment according to the first testament, with its carnal ordinances, but according to the righteousness of Jesus Christ, who is the testimony of God's perfect plan of redemption. Justice and judgment are now founded upon the better promises of a new covenant, which bears testimony to what God has accomplished through Jesus Christ.

No man can deceive God as to the true condition of his heart. A man who professes to others that Jesus Christ is Lord, yet his heart continually exalts self, or idols far above God's holy name, cannot expect to partake of God's glory that has been released from His throneroom on high. He cannot expect to understand the meaning of mysteries foretold of prophets long ago. He cannot expect to have the great physician heal his wounds while walking in the darkness of unbelief. The Word may have been heard, but without it taking root in his life, through sincerely seeking the Lord, Jesus Christ, so that no idols are exalted above God's holy name, he will find that the mysteries of God's Word, will be sealed shut unto his understanding.

For a man to partake of the riches of the Spirit, where peace, love, mercy and joy are released in abundance within the man's life, the Lord must see that his heart is sincere toward Jesus Christ. A man who is judged worthy of receiving the riches found in the Holy Spirit, may suffer for a season, as the Adamic nature is crucified by the holiness of God's Spirit moving upon his every thought and emotion, but in due time the man whose faith is toward the Lord, shall be strengthened so that he is able to go out with peace and contentment, knowing that all things have been used of God to prosper his soul.

The beast in Revelation 15:7, who is one of four beasts, who stood outside God's temple on high, giving unto the seven angels seven golden vials full of the wrath of God, is the same beast spoken of earlier in Revelation 4:6-9, who is full of eyes "before and behind", and "within: and they rest not day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord God almighty, which was, and is, and is to come."

Under the new covenant, God determines judgment according to a man's faith in Jesus Christ, and not according to outward adherence to laws and rituals aligned with the first covenant. It is then significant to note that it is the beast, who is one of four mentioned in Revelation 4:6-9, who is full of eyes before and behind, and within, who gives unto the seven angels (seven, representing perfection, completion, and rest) vials full of the wrath of God. In God's use of the beast full of eyes before and behind and within, reveals God's ability to see what is transpiring before Him beyond a superficial perspective. He has the power and ability to see and comprehend the motive behind a man's actions as He looks directly upon thoughts that exist within a man's heart and mind.

God is able to see all that takes place within the physical boundaries of mankind's conception of a limitless universe, and at the same time He is able to look upon the thoughts and intents of a man's heart and mind. Because God is able to look upon a man's heart and mind, no man can stand before Jesus Christ, and proclaim that His judgment is in error. No man can refute God's judgment if God should say: "I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity" even though the man may proclaim he: "prophesied in thy name? And in thy name have cast out devils? And in thy name done many wonderful works?" (Matthew 7:21-23)

> "Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a > wise man, which built his house upon a rock: and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not; for it was founded upon a rock. And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand: and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it." Matthew 7:24-27

These words were spoken before Jesus Christ ascended on high, purging the heavens with His precious blood, so that God opened wide the temple gates and poured out the riches of His heavenly kingdom upon men. Though Jesus Christ spoke that the kingdom was at hand, until He ascended on high, those He spoke to would not understand the great mystery of these words. Yet, His words were soon to become a reality that men partook of, as God opened wide the heavenly gates releasing the glory of heaven upon men.

Those whose hearts continually seek to exalt self above seeking after the righteousness of God, are judged unworthy of partaking of the riches released from God's throneroom. Jesus compared these people to a foolish man who built his house upon sand. Perhaps these people never understood, because they denied the Lord access to their hearts, through seeking after idols that abound within the darkness, that God judged them unworthy of His kingdom. Perhaps they never understood, because they tried to establish purpose and security in life according to truths, understandings, events, and things that have no eternal value that Jesus Christ denied them access to the riches found in the Holy Spirit. But because they did not understand that God judged them unworthy of partaking of His spiritual blessings, does not make God an unfair judge.

But if a man should call out to the Lord words such as: "Jesus, dear Savior, Blessed Son of God" the Lord will be faithful to establish this man within His kingdom, as He releases His Holy Spirit within his life. Jesus would compare this man, to a man who has built his house upon the rock (who is Christ). Jesus proclaimed that to stand with faith toward His holy name, is to stand upon a solid foundation of truth that cannot be shaken.

Though events that run contrary to a man's understanding of comfort should arise upon the earth, a man whose heart is toward the Lord shall stand secure in the knowledge of God's great love toward him. This man will not fall into the grave of despair, grieved of life, but will continue to be lifted up by the hand of God, whose desire is toward him. This man shall be blessed with wisdom that is only obtained through faith in Jesus Christ. He will be used of God, to help others stand secure in the knowledge of God's great love toward them.

> "But now I must go my way to him that sent me; and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou? But because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart. Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you. And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment: of sin, because they believe not on me; of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more; of judgment, because the prince of this world is judged." John 16:5-11

No man could enter the Lord's temple on high until God's perfect judgment, aligned with the righteousness of Jesus Christ, was established in heaven, which was then established upon the earth, within the lives of men, as God opened wide His heavenly gates and released His Spirit of holiness. God is holy, in Him is no darkness at all. And when the Lord's holiness, His heavenly Spirit, was released from heaven upon the world covered in darkness, the darkness comprehended it not. "Men loved the darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil."

Jesus Christ proclaimed to His listeners that He must go away so that the Comforter would come unto them. Unless Jesus Christ ascended on high, purging the heavens with His precious blood, the Holy Spirit, God's Comforter to those who seek the righteousness of Jesus Christ, would not be released from heavens throneroom. To those who seek after the righteousness of Jesus Christ, God's Holy Spirit brings comfort to their souls. Though for a season, God's Spirit purges their conscience of dependence upon unrighteous works, in due time, their hearts will be strengthened by the knowledge of God’s love toward them, so that they are able to rejoice in the day of their salvation.

When God released His Spirit of holiness from on high, the prince of darkness was judged according to the righteousness of Jesus Christ, and was found guilty, in that he did not express the heart and nature of the Lord. The prince of this world, Satan, is the prince of darkness, in whom is no truth of the righteousness of God found. As in God there is no darkness, so it is that in Satan is found no light. The prince of darkness will always remain hidden in darkness, speaking lies and accusation against the goodness of God.

Those who give honor unto the prince of darkness, refusing God’s hand of salvation according to the righteousness of Jesus Christ, will not experience the supernatural blessings that are found in the Holy Spirit. They will be left wallowing in their sins. There will be no healing balm for the wounds received in darkness, from the very one they give all honor unto. And as God’s Spirit of holiness judges the prince of darkness guilty of representing all that is contrary to the goodness and purpose of Jesus Christ, so will those who align themselves with darkness be judged. They will not partake of God’s love. They will not partake of the abundant riches found in the Holy Spirit. They will continue to war against the Lamb of God, not understanding the destruction they bring upon their souls.

But to those who hear God’s voice calling to them, as the Word of God is spoken by holy men sent of God, so they turn from the darkness to the Light of God, Jesus Christ, to them will God’s judgment against sin and the sin nature be seen as holy, perfect in all its ways. God’s holy temple is now ready to receive men who have partaken of the Light; men whose souls have been joined in union to God, through the Holy Spirit. Judgment has been established upon the earth according to the righteousness of Jesus Christ. May all men seek to understand the beauty of the “Light”, so that they may proclaim: “Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come.”

> “But if our gospel be hid, it is hid to them that are lost: in whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them. For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; and ourselves your servants for Jesus’ sake. For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.” 2 Corinthians 4:3-6

The Plight Of The Perplexed

Cheree Bartlett

There was a God I used to know-one in whom I was very comfortable. But one day that all changed and I found myself not in the paradise of religious bliss but in the severe heat of desert scarcity. The God I had come to know took on a new face and he became more difficult to identify in the well-known biblical verses cited for solutions to my ailment. In the beginning I looked to my regular church and other mainstream Christian communications for answers and some were good for shedding some light at that time; however, as time went on I searched other avenues and found other works which better addressed my dilemma. Still the onus of understanding this new face of God and where he is leading me rest squarely upon my shoulders.

Recently, I attended the services of my regular church. I left feeling a bit confused because when I would again look at the message in the light of my life it did not fit. It later occurred to me that my life was not conforming to the usual modern day Christian paradigm due to it acquiring a biblical cast of the historic kind. I will try to explain what I mean, but my words may prove inadequate. When usually we are taught from the bible from our pastors or others we are taught from a perspective of how does this scripture apply or help me in my life. Or we are taught from a position designed to get the congregation to respond in a certain way whether its tithes and offerings or some other agenda. The focus is usually on us and always about us. It's mostly what God wants to do for us—expand our potential or fulfill our dreams prosper us etc. It is not my argument that God doesn't do these things for the saints, but if it has been the principle focus of a ministry, it is insufficient to address the situation when one's life is running counter to this perspective. As Christians we are usually divorced from the historic movements of God for his divine plan and it's understandable why we would be. There are a lot of distractions even of a spiritual kind which prevent us from observing our faith in a historic context which goes beyond how much I can get out of this life. We become so preoccupied with life and religious doings that we do not perceive a historic shift and moment building up. And herein lies the problem for someone or people who are called to be a part of divine history. When your life goes topsy turvy in an unprecedented not your run of the mill trial sort of way, conventional bible study and thirty minute sermons will not explain it all.

When I speak of historic context I am referring to God's use of people at certain historic junctures for the progression and eventual culmination of his redemptive plan for mankind. Since the fall of Adam and Eve in the garden, God has been strategically working out his plan for the amelioration of that broken relationship through the course of human history. From Noah all the way to the apostolic beginnings of the early church we see God engineering and intervening in human history to accomplish his purpose. To illustrate, Joseph the next to youngest son of Jacob had a dream which he related to his other brothers. Due to his fractious relationship with them, they sold him to the Ishmaelites , (which was better than their previous plan to kill him) who in turn took him to Egypt and sold him to Potiphar captain of the guard.

Most regular church attendees and bible devotees are familiar with this story. They know that Joseph is shown favor in Potiphar's house, falsely accused, imprisoned and eventually released based on his interpreting Pharoah's dreams. He is then promoted and in a position to help his brothers when a famine hits the land. There are many principles which can be derived from Joseph's story, but the one which may not be so obvious and perhaps rarely spoken of is the subtlety of God's movement to accomplish what he told Abraham about his descendant's being enslaved in a country not their own for four hundred years. To be more succinct, although much can be gleaned from Joseph's ordeal, the overarching consideration is that God used Joseph and the messy relationship with his brothers to pave another step in his historic plans. And in his use of Joseph God let him first suffer enslavement and then imprisonment while being a slave. I don't think it presumptuous to assert that Joseph was bewildered on occasion during his ordeal, and may have wondered how he went from being a favorite son, to having a dream to being enslaved. It was only once he was free and the famine as foretold came upon the land and he was reunited with his family, that he realized God's intention—that God sent him ahead of his family to preserve for them a remnant on earth and to save their lives by a great deliverance. Exodus 45:7.

It is interesting to note that Joseph equated his enslavement with God sending him ahead. I thought it a strange way for God to send someone. Why not just have him take a less circuitous route. Why all the pain and drama? It seems all historic sending is accompanied by some measure of suffering, pain and even death. While the focus of Joseph's story is usually on his character and handling of his ordeal, in the quiet backdrop is God initiating and engineering human events at pivotal moments for his divine purpose. For it should be observed that it is God who initiated the famine which propelled Joseph's family to leave Canaan and seek grain in Egypt. See Exodus 41: 28.

This is the pattern of all God's working in human history. Through the rise and fall of nations and empires and the buzz of human activity, God will interject himself into human affairs, not in some overt flashy way, but just under the radar when it's time to add another stone to his divine road. Another example is the Lord Jesus. There was no great announcement to the religious establishment of his arrival. He didn't drop out the sky as a full grown man, but came as a baby and only a few people were privy to the knowledge of his arrival. In the midst of his birth life carried on as usual and would continue as such into his adulthood until he fulfilled his destiny as God's cap stone in his divine road. After Jesus' death, burial, and resurrection the apostle's and the early church would be the organism integral in God's stone paving work for the next crucial juncture in history, namely the return of Jesus and the establishment of his kingdom.

However, here is where the wheel falls off the wagon for modern Christianity. I believe that once Christianity became formalized we either ceased to see ourselves in the context of God's historic plans or somewhere along the way we lost that perspective of being a part of God's historic interventions so that now we have this complete book called the bible in which we read stories about people but haven't understood ourselves as continuing the overall story which God is penning. The central point to realize is that in these last days, although a great amount of time has passed since the apostles first spoke of them, the day and time eventually comes when God will set things in motion for the next paving of the historic road, and as God usually does it will involve the use of someone or in this case a body of believers. It will not be obvious to the world or the religious establishment and life will seemingly go on, but for some of us it is the receding of the God we use to know and the introduction of the God who is wholly biblical yet entirely unfamiliar because of the historic context of the moment.

Although I did not originally have this view, it would be odd for God to wrap up this age with the church no where in sight as some believe. It would run counter to his employment of men to further his divine purposes just as in times past. In his examination of the prophetic call Art Katz writes, "It is the distinctive privilege of the church as it is with prophets to see the continuing influences that issue from the past and profoundly affect the present and the ultimate future. They see the continuum, the unbroken span of past, present and future as few see it. Regrettably, the church more or less does not have this context. It does not see itself in the broad perspective of God, nor in the eternal purposes of God and therefore, everything suffers loss." (paraphrase)

If the church generally has lost God's broad perspective, the individuals who find themselves thrust into that perspective equally find themselves perplexed by the unsettling events of their lives. I being one of those individuals write this article as much for my family as for others. I would like to tell my family and friends that I know where my life is headed but I do not. I used to have concrete plans and ideas for my life of which vocational issues and financial hardship was not a part. I know they may wonder what is wrong with me and would like to see whatever dreams they have for me fulfilled. I feel the heat of my predicament everyday and the humiliation on more than one occasion. I confess that I do not know when my view will clear as it is more than little challenging to understand how God works in actuality as opposed to just theoretically. T. Austin Sparks expresses my sentiments well when he writes:

If God were dealing with us as sinners, that is, if He were dealing with us because of certain personal sins and personal faults we could quite clearly understand that; but when he is dealing with us in relation to divine purpose, as His servants, His dealings with us go far beyond our understanding. We are taken out into a realm where we do not understand what the Lord is doing with us, and why the Lord takes certain courses with us. We are out of our depth, we are altogether baffled and we are compelled , that is if we are going on with God to believe that God knows what He is doing…(The Ministry of Elijah).

To my family I say "thank you" for your support in spite of perhaps not understanding where I am or what's going on with me. In and of myself I have longed for the surety of foot in my direction and whereabouts and desire to be able to supply you with an explanation of my situation. I am learning gradually and I believe the Lord will clean the murky glasses of my view. Until then your patience is appreciated and your prayers ever more desired. May God bless you more with a revelation of himself in these days, in these times.

To God always the Glory,
cnbartlett11@yahoo.com
7/11/05

The Pope's Passing

Rick Joyner

A True Saint
The passing of Pope John Paul II is a major event because we have all lost one of the most remarkable leaders of our time. I am not a papist and do not believe that any man on earth should be called "the head of the church," which is the rightful place of Christ alone. However, I do not doubt that John Paul II was a man of God that all Christians should be thankful for and should rightly mourn. It was not his title but his character that caused him to transcend the Roman Catholic Church and become a leader who blessed and advanced the whole church, and, indeed, the cause of Christianity itself. He was one of the greatest leaders of our time, and will be sorely missed.

I have said for years that John Paul II prophetically pulled the string that began the unraveling of Communism. He stood for freedom and human dignity with a resolve like few others. He also stood for life, without compromise, against the atrocity of abortion. Also, in one of his very last statements, he called on America to count as dear the life of Terri Schiavo.

Pope John Paul II Clung to the Cross

John Paul II also took the remarkable and unprecedented step of apologizing for the Catholic Church's persecution of Protestants and Jews, as well as its historic role in oppressing other people groups. This was done with unquestioned sincerity, as it could have caused major political and legal problems for the church, but he did it because it was true and the right thing to do. Instead of opening the door to problems, this raised the world's esteem for and trust in John Paul II, the Catholic Church, and, indeed, even Christianity itself.

Pope John Paul loved the Holy Spirit, and in an article which we printed in our Morning Star Journal, he encouraged all Catholics to seek the gifts of the Holy Spirit. It was during his tenure that more than 100 million Catholics became Charismatics and were born again and baptized in the Holy Spirit. Pope John Paul II clung to the cross and tried to pray without ceasing.

Reaching Across the Barriers

I have been accused of being a papist and of being anti-Catholic. I am neither. I have fundamental problems with some Catholic doctrines, which I see as being in clear and basic conflict with Scriptures, but this is because I am for my Catholic brothers and sisters, not against them. I have Catholic friends whose intimacy with Christ I envy. I do not hesitate to disagree with them on certain doctrines and practices, but I also love them dearly and have been richly blessed by their friendship and faith in the Lord. I loved and admired Pope John Paul II. He was one of the greatest men of God of our time.

If you feel the same way, consider honoring him by reaching across some barriers the way that he did. Send condolences to the Catholic Churches in your area for the loss of their shepherd, while expressing appreciation for all that he did for the whole church, and indeed the world.

The Preparation Of The Bride

Maurice Sklar

Nov 24, 2005

Dear Friends,
During the past few weeks the Lord has led me to intercede for the nations. The world has experienced numerous disasters and tragedies and continues to do so. There is no question that we are living in the final days before the return of our Messiah, Jesus. This prophecy was given to me a few weeks ago, and I was reluctant to release it because it is so strong. But the Lord has compelled me to do so. I want to say emphatically that I believe that it is conditional. If we will pray and intercede, perhaps, many of these calamities can be averted and/or postponed.

I pray that as you read this, that you will keep an open mind and receive the main message: We must be ready for the Lord's return. We must return to our first love and live a pure and consecrated life if we are to be pleasing to Him when He appears.

May the Lord purify our hearts so we can be a part of His wonderful and beautiful Bride!

Amen.

"And to the angel of the church of the Laodiceans write… I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot. So then, because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spew (vomit) thee out of my mouth. Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked: I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white rainment that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness do not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eye-salve, that thou mayest see. As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent. Behold, I stand at the door and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me. To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches."

(Revelation 3:14-22)

As I was reading and meditating on this scripture, the Lord said to me:

"I am sending my refining fire into the church. I am separating My bride from the Laodicean church of today. I am preparing her. I am purifying her. She will be without spot and without blemish. I will return for her in the midnight hour. Only those that are watching and praying; only those who are embracing the message of the cross and holiness; only those that walk in the power of My spirit in moment by moment obedience; only those who are overcomers will be a part of My bride.

Most of those in the church will not be ready for Me when I come for My bride. Many think they are saved, but they are not at all. They are serving pleasures, lusts, and are in love with themselves. They are consumed with this present world and its' selfish ways. They are in love with money, success, and covet fame, position and power. They do not want to deny themselves, take up their cross and follow Me. They refuse to forsake all. Therefore, they will not be ready and will be left behind to face the great judgments that are about to come upon the world. Warn those that are lukewarm and have left their first love for Me, that if they do not repent, I will vomit them from My body.

I am preparing My bride. This is her hour of glory! I am purifying her. I am adorning her with My crowns and My jewels and My beautiful gowns. She shall be without spot or blemish. She will be dressed in My robes of righteousness – pure, clean and white. Who will come to Me and buy from Me what they so desperately need? It still is not too late. Repent, and return to Me with all of your hearts, so that you do not perish with this evil world.

I am sending a mighty army from mainland China along the old silk trade routes and into the unreached nations that have been called the 10/40 window. When they finally reach Jerusalem, THEN KNOW that the wedding day is upon you. Look up, for your redemption draweth nigh. I will then come in the clouds and meet you in the air! But, the remaining nations must still hear my gospel of grace. This will be the final and greatest harvest that the world has ever seen.

Many hundreds of millions are waiting to hear the good news in China, in India, and in the other Buddhist and Muslim dominated regions of Asia, the near east and the middle east, as well as the poorest of nations in Africa and central and South America, as well as the hundreds of islands in the oceans of the earth. I am shifting my focus to them. But you, O church of America and the West have prostituted yourself at every opportunity before every high place and idol shrine. You have substituted religion for My Presence. You shall surely perish when the fullness of My wrath comes upon Babylon. You shall be utterly burned with fire. You have heard and received the fullness of My love and grace, America. Still, you spit in My face and harden your hearts and refuse to turn back to Me.

Europe, you rejected Me and through Me out. For hundreds of years you provoked Me to wrath. You despised My people Israel and slaughtered them in a rage that reached to heaven after robbing the Jewish people and throwing them out of nation after nation. You did this all in My Name!! How can you escape the wrath to come?! You cannot. Therefore, you shall receive and drink the fullness of My cup of wrath. Prepare to meet your God, O Europe! Europe, you shall receive the King that you desire to worship instead of Me. He is soon to come forth. When you receive his mark, you will be eternally damned.

O Babylon, You drove My people from their homes in Gaza, and then started upon Judea and Samaria in Israel. Therefore, I will drive you from your homes in direct proportion, of 10,000 to 1, as you have seen in New Orleans, Louisiana, and the Gulf Coast. There will follow two more judgments – one in a major city of Europe and one in the Arab nations in the middle east before the end of this year.

I will shake California in a warning, and then there shall finally come the earthquake that I have mercifully withheld for so many years. Millions shall perish in the ensuing floods and the west coast of America shall be removed and fall into the ocean. Boston shall experience a major attack upon a great school that once preached My gospel in ages past but has left the faith of their fathers – never to return again. It will never be rebuilt again. There shall be 5 terrorist attacks that will hit America in ever increasing destruction upon the major cities. Before the end of 2007, a nuclear "dirty bomb" will blow up in a major city in the south of America.

New York City will receive 3 major judgments before the end of 2008. Each one will be more devastating than the last. One will shake the entire financial world and cripple the once invincible financial power of America. Millions will lose everything in a moment. It will make the crash of the stock market in 1929 look like a little thing in comparison. America will no longer be the financial leader of the world. Another judgment will destroy a major stadium during a sports event. Yet another explosion will destroy nearly an entire Borough of New York. But for the sake of the Jewish people in New York, I will supernaturally spare them. After this, I will cause the largest aliyah (return) of My people (the Jewish people) from New York (and other regions throughout the developed world to Israel) in all of history. But only after the entire financial system that they are dependant on collapses will they all return to the land that I have promised them.

Tokyo, Japan. Hong Kong, China. Johannesburg, South Africa. Calcutta, India. Sidney, Australia. Chicago, Illinois. Los Angeles, California. Paris, France and many other cities will experience major catastrophes in the next five years. Millions upon millions will perish. The aids epidemic will devastate the population in Africa to half of its' present size in the next 4 years. Many other incurable diseases, famine, drought and starvation will soon devastate the under-developed nations of the world in a way that has never occurred before. North Korea will launch a sudden nuclear attack and then be completely destroyed. Only the prayers of South Korea can stop it. Pakistan will become a leading center for world terrorism and will experience a nuclear attack, also.

Israel is soon to once again send their planes and blow up the nuclear "plants" of Iran. Syria will soon collapse economically and be replaced by a fanatical Islamic government. A major coordinated Al Qaeda terrorist attack will blow up many historic places in Europe that were once bastions of true Christian faith, worship, art and music.

If America does not stand up now and defend Israel instead of forcing Israel from their land, we will continue to face the devastating consequences here. At the rate of 10,000 to 1, we will continue to face destruction of our homes and communities. For every Jewish soul that is touched – I will require 10,000 souls in America to account for it.

This is but a fraction of what is soon to come if there is not repentance and turning back to Me.

I will shake all the nations, and then after each disaster, I will pour out My grace and bring in a mighty harvest of souls for My kingdom. As birth contractions happen with a pregnant woman, so will these events happen ever faster and greater. Each one will be more devastating than the last one, and each one will come closer and closer together. Haven't I said exactly this in My Word? Each disaster will judge and smash an idol that is worshipped by the world system of Babylon. I will then show Myself as the one true God over them all.

I will judge Hollywood and the entire movie industry for the millions upon millions of souls that they seduced and sent to hell. I will judge the news media and the television industry. I will judge the music industry. I will overturn the whole music industry in such a way that they can never pollute the world ever again. I will judge the internet pornography industry. Whole internet computer systems will be permanently shut down. I will judge the abortionists and their supporters. I will judge and reverse the Supreme Court. For a short time they shall change the laws to fear and honor Me.

There is coming a revival of morality and religion in America as a result of these calamities, but it will be a false one for the most part. God will become popular in the culture, but not the Bible and My name (Jesus). It will be a false gospel message. Not many will truly be born again. Only a remnant in My church will truly stay in right relationship to Me. When you see me take Billy Graham and Oral Roberts home, you will know that America and the West have received their last call. As I said in My Word, unless the Father would shorten these days, even the elect would not be saved. The deception of "Christian religion" will grow so great, that it will be nearly impossible to recognize the true prophets and teachers from the false ones.

Counterfeit miracles and false "signs and wonders" will come and deceive many. Churches will preach a "success and personal achievement" gospel. Even false healing meetings will come and actually produce real miracles, but they will not bring the people to Me. The preaching of My supreme Lordship, the cross, My blood, holiness, and the fear of the Lord will become more and more rare, even more than it has become during the last 35 years.

Nevertheless, I have supernaturally preserved and kept My bride pure and faithful to Me. I will continue to do so. Most of My bride is in mainland China now. Many are in Asia, and Korea and India and Brazil and Russia and Kenya and Nigeria and throughout Africa. Most of My bride is hidden away in their prayer closets and have been persecuted and driven out of the churches by abusive pastors and false prophets, ministry leaders, and oppressive government leaders.

Many are in prison. Some are daily dying of starvation and disease. Most of My bride has been beaten and left by the side of the road by the religious 'wolves in sheep's clothing'. They have been forgotten by the blinding greed of those hoarding their money and riches. Only the Good Samaritans can even spot them and see them. The rest are blinded. Only a few really love My bride the way that I do.

My bride is being purified through the fire of many trials of afflictions and persecutions at this present hour. Those that walk in My love and embrace the cross are being separated and persecuted by the Laodicean church. Those that are truly anointed and bringing the pure Word from My throne are being thrown out of the pulpits of the land and off of 'Christian Television' in favor of the confession of the Laodicean church: 'I am rich, I am increased with goods and have need of nothing. I am healed. I am blessed.' Really???? Are you???? It doesn't look that way from My throne in heaven!

Beware of any teaching that is selfish and appeals to your lusts and feeds the love of money in your lives. THAT teaching does not come from heaven. That is not My voice. My blessings come through seeking first the Kingdom and My righteousness, not from heaping riches upon yourself while the rest of the world starves to death and dies and goes to hell because of your selfishness and greed. You will see when you stand before Me what the TRUE RICHES are. The souls of the lost are the jewels in the crown of My bride.

My worshippers and musicians, artists and those that carry special anointings have been almost systematically removed from ministries and church leaders in favor of what is popular and can bring in the most money and please the people. This is an abomination in My sight.

Watch and pray that you may be accounted worthy to escape the things that are coming upon this earth. Receive My grace through the refining fire of the Holy Spirit so that you can be a part of that beautiful lady and bride. I am preparing her! It still isn't too late! Join with her and take up your cross and deny yourselves and follow Me.

That is how to be TRULY blessed and healed and delivered and fulfilled in life! That is the only way that My gift of eternal life can shine into the darkness of the world around you"

"Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you, and will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty…Having therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God." (1 Corinthians 6:17-18, 7:1) "And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come out of her (Babylon), my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues." (Revelation 18:4)

Love in Our Messiah,
Maurice Sklar

The Proper Response in a Storm

Don Walker

Several times in the Gospels it appears that Jesus left His disciples "on their own" without any immediate visible assistance from Himself. One of these times is recorded Matthew 14:22-33 and Mark 6:45-52. On this occasion, Jesus sent His disciples straight into a storm, while He went away to pray. Both Matthew and Mark record that Jesus was quite direct about it and "compelled" (KJV) them to go. The Greek term here means "to force." Once out in the middle of the sea, a storm arose, so that their boat was "battered (Greek word meaning "tormented") by the waves."

Let us stop here and ponder a couple of questions: Where did the storm come from? Who sent the storm?

The Bible teaches that Jesus is the supreme Ruler of the world, we are told that "all things were created by Him and for Him. He is before all things , and in Him all things hold together" (Col. 1:15-17). Hebrews 1:3 states that He "sustains all things by His powerful word." In Psalm 147, we are told that it is God who "covers the sky with clouds, He supplies the earth with rain . . . He stirs up His breezes and the waters flow." The Scriptures show us that God is in control of the wind and the water. I believe that Jesus wanted His disciples to learn the lesson of "storms." Storms, of all kinds, should not make us afraid – because "storms" are sent by the Lord while He prays for His people (Heb. 7:25). Nothing touches your life unless it passes through the Hand of God.

Later, around 3:00 a.m., Jesus went out to meet the boat – walking on the water! He cried out to His disciples "Take courage! It is I. Do not be afraid." He had sent the storm, not to frighten them, but to teach them about His nature, goodness, and power.

With his usual impulsiveness, Peter responded by asking to walk on the water out to Jesus. Jesus responds to Peter with one word: "Come." I believe that the lesson Jesus was teaching through this is that faith runs toward Christ in a storm, not from Him. As long as Peter kept his eyes on Jesus he was able to walk on the water, in the midst of the storm.

But the miracles were not over. Once Jesus and Peter got into the boat, the storm stopped. Why? Because it's job was finished. The purpose of the storm's existence was to teach the disciples about Christ's power, as soon as that had been accomplished, there was no longer a reason for the storm. The storm lasts until its mission is accomplished. Jesus was teaching His disciples that not only did He have the power to "conquer" the elements, but that, whether the elements are "conquered" or not, He is in control. It is here that Matthew records that those who were in the boat worshipped Him saying, "Truly, you are the Son of God" (Matt. 14:33).

If we pay attention, storms can enable us to recognize Christ's power and learn to trust Him. In the midst of the storm Christ is calling to us to trust in Him. He is sovereign over the storms, and He sends them to display His goodness and power. Along with Job, we should confess that blessing and calamity alike come from God (Job 1:20-21; 2:10), and the crucial point is not that we can see what God is totally up to, but that "He knows the way that I take, when He has tested me, I will come forth as gold" (Job 23:10).

What should be our response in the midst of a storm? We should run to Him, trust Him, imitate Him, and keep our eyes fixed on Him (Heb. 12:2). Look at Jesus, not the "storm." As the Scripture tells us; "The Lord is a refuge for the oppressed, a stronghold in times of trouble. Those who know your name will trust in you, for you, Lord, have never forsaken those who seek you" (Ps. 9:9-10).

The Prophetic Blade
Danny Korakas

Pt 1

As we move into the summer months, I have sensed very strongly that the benefits of a heavenly "information highway" is available for this season. I believe that greater clarity and precision within the prophetic voice is beginning to come forth through those who have truly repented from the past abuse or even neglect of the prophetic calling and ministry. We are all guilty to some degree and have needed the confrontation that has come through far too "few" individuals who are willing to forsake the approval and affirmation of man to proclaim truth before God. Although I may not agree on everything these prophetic voices are declaring, I can certainly agree with their mandate to confront the works, greed, and insecurity of the flesh that has corrupted the prophetic movement in our generation and has rendered it virtually powerless and irrelevant. Whether we want to face it or not, today's prophetic ministry is a bunch of prophetic people speaking prophetic lingo to a bunch of other prophetic minded people. We (the church) and the lost need prophetic words that address the heart of God for humanity in a way that is applicable to everybody in their everyday life.

There is simply too much man-made clutter, religious litter, and pot-holes of irrelevancy along the heavenly information highway for us to "move" in Spirit and purposes of God with direction and precision. I can remember growing up in the 1960's and watching the tears of the Indian chief as cars would drive by tossing debris at his feet with a backdrop of chimneys and a smog filled sky. Sadly, humanity was numbed and blind to their natural landscape until a voice began proclaiming for people to look around themselves and notice the natural quagmire that they were living in and passing to the next generation. I believe we can clearly see the spiritual parallel as well.

A prophetic voice is once again arising that is sounding the alarm…They are proclaiming that people honestly look around themselves and notice the spiritual quagmire that they are living in and passing to the next generation. Come on man, we must stop looking through rose-colored glasses at our corporate condition. What spiritual "environment" or ecology are we really living in? Is the spiritual landscape and environment clear and pure with precision and direction? Or, is it cluttered and polluted with religion? Is our present Sunday morning routine the best we can offer humanity and the next generation? Beloved, one of the primary functions of prophetic ministry is to bring directional clarity and focus back into the church.

I realize that as one small part of a greater body, I can only offer and prophesy in part concerning the fullness of God's purposes. This is why it is essential that we honor the value of one another and understand that we can only grow as a whole and healthy body when each part does or supplies its share. With that said, the Lord has given me in this summer season some words of clarity and direction that I hope and pray will be a benefit to you and the life of the church.

THE GOLDEN YEARS

The first miracle of Christ was turning the water into wine. This is a wonderful picture of the Lord saving the best or "seasoned" wine for the last. Our elder citizens within the church and even in the world have been shelved and the wisdom they have gained through the hills and valleys of a long life has not been partaken of. The blessing of our elders holds an even more dynamic anointing and impartation than Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. (For they not only possess a lifetime of insight, but the Spirit of God as well within them through a better covenant) However, we have not sought the best wine of those in their "latter" days and the church along with humanity has suffered in our youthful arrogance and independence.

The church's greatest day and a "golden" opportunity is upon it. Literally millions of souls hinge upon this understanding and ultimate choice that the church must take. Not only has the church become an institution, but we have institutionalized the elderly in nursing homes that more closely resemble prisons behind the mask of a "care center." Our grandest citizens in their golden years are locked within a building that is NOT their home and told when they will eat, sleep, and leave. I realize that there are dementia and mental issues in some instances. But the institutionalization of who should be our most honored is a travesty, disgusting, and utterly selfish by a self absorbed generation. Many are perceived to have mental issues when it is no more than the result of the sickening environment they are forced to live in. Hopelessness, uselessness and despair to regression should be expected.

The church must arise and realize that these millions of precious souls are most likely the closest to their eternal destination. Heaven and Hell hang in the balance every day within the confines of nursing homes. The silver lining around the dark cloud of institutionalized living is that these millions of precious souls are within arms reach of the church to share with them the love of Christ. I have walked into numerous nursing homes where the majority of its "boarders" had not seen a family member except a few times in the course of an entire year. Sadly, many others had gone years only to see a few brief moments of an understaffed and underpaid care worker each day. I have had many of these precious people grab onto my shirt and plead and desperately cry for me not to leave them. For Christ's sake, where is the church? The great harvest field is white before our very eyes in every town.

The federal government is trying to hide from the public a dilemma that it does not know how to solve concerning the elderly. We are having trouble supporting the growing senior population today with housing and medical care. Medicare and Medicaid will continue to be depleted as the elderly population begins to outnumber the tax payer population. The burden will be tremendous based on the current system and model of institutionalized "care." If we cannot adequately meet and care today for the needs of what should be our most honored citizens as they move through their golden years; what will we do in just 15 years when the over 65 population will double by 100%? What about in just 45 short years when the over 65 population grows by a staggering 400%? By 2050, those over 85 and the closest to their eternal destiny will grow sharply as the baby-boomer generation draws to a close. In 1995 there was 3.6 million Americans over 85. In 2050, it will rise to 18.2 million. Who will shelter, care, visit and feed the "least of these?" Will it be the government with literally millions passing through the gates of hell? Or, will the church seize one of its greatest opportunities for salvation and revival?

Like Jesus, it is time that we break out the best and "aged" wine for the last.

BACK TO THE FUTURE

As being a part of one of the most technically advanced companies in the world, I see and understand clearly the direction that employment and manufacturing will continue to transition. Due to a tide of tremendous greed in the last two generations, labor will continue to be exported to appease the stock-holder for greater profits. Technology will continue to progress and robotics and automation will continue to perform jobs with greater speed and efficiency. If you were to walk into a factory 20 years ago, you would witness hundreds or even thousands of people making a decent wage and living. Today, in the same factory, you will find robotics and machinery with a hand full of technicians to operate them. Technology is not bad for those who understand and find wisdom. The church's children and young adults who are not college material need to be ready and prepared to operate, repair, and understand the technology of tomorrow. Some of the greatest evangelist and revivalist the church has known will arise out of the technical maintenance sector to bring hope to the common man in times of tremendous unemployment and need.

Pensions will continue to dissipate as companies will hold more people on retirement than actually working. The numbers simply do not add up and it is now beginning to surface. Taxes will increase as fewer people will be supporting a growing retirement population. Our current economic and financial structure is built upon the forecast of greater earnings to justify investment. In other words, the economies of the west are hostage to the stock market. The question is how long will companies be able to make a greater profit than the year before? A billion dollar profit by a company today must make a million more the following year to receive a favored investment status – This can only be sustained for so long and this pressure will be more and more passed to the work force affecting the quality of life for many. If the church is crying for money now to "survive." What will it do tomorrow? How much debt will the church be held hostage to the "system." How much will it compromise to hold on to its assets?

The days of ministries pleading and begging for money is drawing to a close. It is the Lord's desire that we prosper and exercise wisdom in supplying for ourselves concerning the financing of His calling upon our lives. The Lord has "designed" us for a purpose. He has "called" us to fulfill His purpose. He has already "given" us the skill and gifts to finance His purpose. And He desires to "affirm" His calling and purpose (your ministry) in our lives. However, it seems that the church operates exactly the opposite. We wait on "man" or a pastor to tell us our spiritual purpose and ministry. We desire and seek the ordination of man to validate and send us. We plead from one another for money and we gauge our spiritual success on the affirmation of man.

I believe a prophetic call is sounding forth for the church to prepare and seek wisdom in the future employment of our young people (future) and the practical support of each other as believers as we transition into change both naturally and spiritually. The days ahead will come and with them will come ever increasing darkness and deception. Beloved, this is not the time to stick our head in the sand and pretend that the Bible is not clear on this...It is! This is our greatest hour and the souls of literal billions hinge upon our living a life worthy of Christ dying for. This is truly our dress rehearsal for eternity and we must begin to corporately get our house in order.

If there is one thing that the prophetic revival has failed to address, it has been: "keeping the main thing – the main thing." The salvation of souls should always be the primary concern of the corporate church. These are not my words but the command and commission of Christ. Our love for the salvation of others will require a greater focus and "lifestyle" from each of us. It is truly a reflection of our relationship and intimacy with the Father. The Lord is calling us into preparation and focus to be in a position and posture to meet the shelter, clothing, and food needs of millions upon millions as the days continue to darken. Matthew 25 is a terrible judgment of not providing for those in need. It is hard to fulfill this commission of Christ if we have nothing ourselves.

TERRORISTS OF POVERTY

Contrary to our great investment of lives and resources, terrorism will continue to grow and have its roots in Islam. It is no surprise to the discerning person that Islam is the fasting growing religion in the world for one reason – It feeds upon the poor of the world. The greatest promoter of terrorism is not the sheiks and mullahs of the world, it is the daily looking into the face of POVERTY. Although I disagree a great deal with many European viewpoints, I am thankful that many over there are beginning to recognize poverty as their greatest adversary and key to defeating terrorism.

As we move toward the return of Christ and as the antichrist spirit grows stronger, the church must address the issues of poverty in our own backyard and in third world countries. I have been in the same congregation with people who were losing their homes and having their lights shut off. Although the church had money in the bank, these needy people were "judged" unworthy because they did not tithe or attend as much as they should. This is sin and will be "judged" by God. The Bible does not say that the man laying injured by the side of the road was a tither, church attender, or even saved.

PT. 2

In our last article (Prophetic Blade Pt. 1) we stated that a "spiritual information highway" was releasing words of direction and purpose for those who are willing to move upon it. Like highways in the natural, signposts and markers must be recognized and obeyed for the traveler to get his or her destination in a safe, accurate, and timely manner. Also, the speed in which we travel will determine whether we are moving with the Spirit of God or prone to an accident through presumption and reckless behaviors. I would like to continue and share what I believe the Lord would speak to His people in this season as we seek a greater sense of application from the prophetic ministry to our everyday lives.

RECKLESS BEHAVIORS

Most of us have become accustomed to the "preacher" proclaiming the "promises of God" for those who would simply, "sow, tithe, believe by faith, speak it into existence, stand upon the Word...You get the picture. There is tremendous value to all of these actions and they are biblical. However, if a born again believer has health issues and they smoke cigarettes or have terrible eating habits; why should healing take place in the midst of open rebellion to the Lords' temple (our body)? The "man or women of God" cannot promise anyone anything who is moving through life recklessly and in rebellion.

The Lord desires that we live a long and prosperous life. He also desires that we walk in supernatural healing and health – both naturally and spiritually. The truth is that we must acknowledge the sin of reckless and addictive behaviors that corrupt and destroy the bodies that we are to steward well. If we cannot control the appetites of the flesh, then we certainly cannot steward the greater gifts of the Spirit. Many in this season are wondering why their individual lives and personal ministries are not moving or accelerating. The answer may be that these individuals have failed to exercise discipline over their own bodies and lives. Thus, how can we expect the Lord to give us authority or to exercise disciplined ministry in the life of another if we are not disciplined ourself? Beloved, we can only give and impart what we truly have.

We are the "body" of Christ (corporately) and the "temple" of God's Spirit (individually). The Lord is summoning us to care, nurture, and steward it well. Our physical and sexual appetites need to line up with God's Word for a long and prosperous life that exudes with the anointing and favor of God.

HIDDEN ADULTERY AND FORNICATION

The Lord has spoken clearly to me that masturbation is griping and holding many of the men within the church in bondage. The guilt associated with masturbation is one of the primary sins that has prohibited and paralyzed the church to change and impact the world around it. How can we with a clear conscience continue to lift our hands to Lord that were used to sin against our own bodies the day before? The Bible says "that there is no greater sin than one who sins against his own body." (See 1 Corinthians 6:13-20) I believe that many have read this and have pondered that murder or robbery should certainly warrant this distinction. The seriousness of masturbation is that it sexually sins against one's own body and creates a demonic based soul tie.

When a man and a woman pronounce their wedding vows, they are not in covenant relationship before God as husband and wife until the marriage vow is consummated sexually. It is at this point that a man and a woman become "one flesh." Likewise, sex outside of marriage creates a demonic based soul tie upon sexual intercourse with the participants becoming "one flesh." In other words, all of the rebellion, rejection, and whatever else had led to this reckless behavior had suddenly been transferred or exchanged from one partner to the other. All of his junk and all of her junk had just compounded upon their already insecure and spiritually unprotected state. (The same holds true in homosexual relationships) It is no mistake that teens who engage in premarital sex have chronic depression and are most likely to commit suicide. Why? The answer is clear: These young people cannot handle the compounding and transferring of another person's baggage and ungodly or demonic issues.

Masturbation creates the same "spiritual" soul ties. The escapism of masturbation becomes so real that a demonic based soul tie is made with the person of the photograph or movie. It is the same scenario – All of the demonic bondage of the pornographic actor(ess) has suddenly become "one flesh" with the sexual recipient. This is why the bondage of pornography continues to tighten its grip upon an individual...As the new pornographic material (individual) is partaken, so are the new demonic influences associated with them.

Our Lord is a compassionate and loving Father. It is His desire to see and help us move in victory and anointing. He can easily heal you of pornographic addiction. Look, I have been there myself at a point in my life. If the Lord will heal and deliver me, He will certainly heal you and give you the strength to overcome. So much depends on the men (and women) of the church coming clean with this. I cannot stress enough the spiritual weakness that has manifested in the church through this hidden sin. Our eyes, nose, mouth, ears, digestive and sexual openings are the gates to our soul. What we allow through these gates dictates who we become (for the good and the bad). A reliable survey was conducted that stated that 70% of pastors and upwards of 80% of the church's men were in the grip of masturbation. The Lord is clear on this – We must get our NATURAL house in order for the SPIRITUAL house to fulfill its purpose.

Who shall ascend the hill of the Lord? He who has CLEAN HANDS..."

THE GAMBLER

A couple months ago I was picking up something at the convenience store and could not help but hear a man talking about leading worship at his fellowship while purchasing a bunch of lottery tickets. I am sure that many have excused this as nothing that God would be concerned about. Many have probably rationalized that their purchases were helping the local school system. Beloved "playing" the lottery is gambling with God's resources and is a stench to His nostrils.

First of all, Why are you playing the lottery? Is it to get rich quick? Is it to get you out of poverty? Why are you in poverty? God states in His Word that He would provide all of your shelter, clothing, and food needs if you are obedient to His ways. Are you? The Bible says that a lazy and disobedient man or woman will suffer hunger and want. I am sickened at watching hundreds of people (many who are poor or in poverty) spending their last dollar on a lottery ticket for the hope of winning more money only to be left with nothing.

Gambling in any form is a "reckless" and unappreciative stewardship of the Lord's resources. Many continue to witness their livelihood deteriorating at the expense of the state sponsored lotteries and gambling casinos. As believers in Jesus Christ, we set a pitiful example in our desire to gamble with God's provision. The Bible says that "it is impossible to please God without faith." The church's growing willingness to involve herself in gambling is a sign of a faithless and undiscerning generation that moves in self indulgence and compromise. For Christ's sake, if the world sees us gambling our provision, what kind of God and Father will they think we have? One who has promised NOT to meet our every need for everyday life? The witness of the church is not so much the words that we speak, but the life of faith in God's power that we live.

"Render to Caesar what is Caesar's and to God what is God's."

Sadly, I have heard of numerous "churches" that have now gladly received the "gift" of a lottery winning. This is a disgrace to the church that bears the name of Jesus Christ. We need to begin to get our financial house in order and make fruitful and wise investments with what the Lord has entrusted to us. The man with the five talents "invested" it wisely – He did not gamble it. The spiritual information highway that I have referred to in the last two articles is a divine portal of heavenly information designed for our well-being and prosperity. It is not a name it and claim it formula steeped in presumption. Nor, is it a man centered sow and tithe formula built upon manipulation. It is a direct word from the Lord and His design and desire for your life. It is a VOICE of reason clarity in a season of confusion and haze. Devine employment direction and areas of investment are available to us as sons and daughters of God. It is His desire that we partake of the fruit of the land. However, it is not going to come through the recklessness and unhealthy stewardship of our body, relationships, and resources.

The summer season of growth and prosperity is upon us. It will first and foremost require a willingness to listen to voice of the Lord. In other words, what do really expect in life concerning God's promises and provision if you do not spend time with Him. Standing upon God's Word requires being in right "standing" with God. Being in right standing with God is not founded upon your works. It is desiring what God desires most from us – A RELATIONSHIP.

All articles by WaterMark Ministry may be reprinted in their entirety.
www.watermarkministry.injesus.com
www.watermarkministry.org

The Great Pretenders
Danny Korakas

(Ablessedbunch@Aol.Com)
Www.Watermarkministry.Org

It is amazing how much popularity and money that the entertainment business generates. Whether it is the big screen, television, or DVD rentals, both Christian and non-Christian alike "invest" much of their time and money in this form of entertainment. Just as amazing is the fact that most of it is make believe. It is the "make believers" whom the world and a great part of church has set apart and set on a pedestal as celebrities and icons of our culture.

The skill of "acting" has become a profitable endeavor for both reward and award. Our society has heaped praise and trophies upon those who are professional pretenders. Sadly, some of the greatest actors and pretenders are not in the Hollywood hills, but within the city that is to be set upon a hill -- The church.

Hypocrisy or pretension has its origins in the root of idolatry. The church attending actor(ess) is desperately seeking the approval and affirmation of man rather than God as his or her primary source of meaning and direction.

Needless to say, the idolization of man is idolatry in its basic form because it places humanity on par with the Lord in giving meaning and direction to life. Worse yet, many of these individuals have been walking in man-centered idolatry for so long that they are led to believe that they are "something" that they are really not or doing something that they are not to do.

Without the healing touch of God to liberate us into transparency and truth, the "actor" will come to a point of believing their own warped natural and spiritual viewpoints. The element and proof of spiritual truth in our life can be summed up by asking ourselves two simple questions: "Does my public life (the life that I "present" to others) reflect my private life? Does my spiritual life line up with God's Word?

Much of what I witness in the church meeting, broadcast and gathering is on par with a Broadway production worthy of an Academy Award. The western church has become a tonic of entertainment that satisfies the flesh and multitudes have been indoctrinated with the belief that all men and women who speak on behalf of God are ordained by God. And of course, "Don't touch the Lord's anointed."

This could not be farther from the truth and this verse has become perverted from its original language and meaning to justify control and silence objectors. (We must remember, that ALL believers are filled with the Spirit of God. Thus, I would say that qualifies ALL believers as being anointed in some aspect of the Christian life).

We see a clear picture of this in Numbers 16 where Abiram, Dathan, and Korah took on the authority of a true minister of the Lord and we read that most within the congregation followed them! The sin of Korah is what stands out as a signpost to many who have been trying to repair this old and torn wineskin we call the church.

Korah was a Levite by birth and a true minister called by the Lord. Likewise, we have the same birthright as believers in Christ. The difference with Korah and what we need to understand is that he sought to usurp the position and function of the high priest.

The prophetic insight for today is clear: The true church is the tabernacle or temple of the Lord's Spirit and presence. The Bible states that the Spirit of God dwells within us individually as well as corporately. Within the temple, the Holy of Holies is not so much a place as it is the Shekinah or weighty presence of God which manifests beyond time and place.

The Holy of Holies represents the Spirit of God and also represents our spirit-man created in God's image. The Holy of Holies represents the attributes of God's glory and power. It is through the glory and resurrection power of God that our spirit-man is revived and renewed. The glory and power of God should radiate through our corporate lives as the church built of living stones. The Holy Place represents our renewed mind or soul.

It is within the holy place that "conscience" choices and sacrifices are made that reflect our true relationship with God and one another. It is within the Holy Place of our lives that the sacrifices of TRUTH must be held over the escapism, rationalization, and desires of the flesh that the world and the worldly church offer. (This is where Korah, Abiram, and Dathan began to fall).

The Outer Court is a reflection of our physical bodies and an area where both the desires of world, and the desire for God are within sight and arms reach. The Outer Court is both the place of defeat and glorious victories. It all hinges upon what direction we are looking when temptation and truth draws near.

Most of us know that the present religious system, whether traditional or spirit-filled is a distorted caricature of what Christ left us. The time has come and the Lord is desiring a church and bride that is built upon the truth of His Word. A church, whose leadership is about giving and not begging and manipulating. A leadership who will truly begin trusting the Lord for their resources and not man.

Look, if the Lord is not providing for your ministry, then its time to get a real job and support it yourself. Paul would single-handedly turn the known world on its ear without begging for money to support his ministry. This allowed him to bring an uncompromising message of truth. Why? Because there was not a conflict of interest in bringing the radical truth to those who were paying his light bill.

It is ridiculous to pay someone to visit people at the hospital, pray for people, bring the Word, and minister the good news -- we should all be doing this without excuse as the proof of being born again believers.

The only way that I can justify paying a minister full-time, is one who willingly desires to equip others to become greater than themselves in serving the Lord and humanity. (Jesus desired that we would do greater works than Him.) All others are acting or pretending to be leaders and have been ordained by the auspices of man.

The "pastor" who fails to equip others in doing everything that he or she does (Like Jesus) is burdened with control and insecurity. What is the function of the TRUE church? It is that true leaders become true servants and equip the saints for the work of ministry and encourage their spiritual destinies. Yes, and that includes bringing the Word on Sunday mornings. To listen to one man preach 50 weeks out of year is a blatant sin and injustice to God's people.

Rather than taking an interest in the vision of the congregation, today's religious leadership desires the congregation fulfill their vision. This is completely backwards from the TRUTH. Rather than continued growth and dynamic, the current religious system promotes a hierarchal structure and spiritual dependency. The Bible gives us the blueprint for ministry finances and it does not require an academy award performance, spiritual manipulation, and a worldly telethon.

Sadly, we have come to point of rationalizing this "money changing" as normal and acceptable in the church. A prophetic portrait comes in view in looking at the death sentence that was passed upon these three men as they chose to take the place of "high priest" in the presence of God and minister to His people. In the New and better covenant; Jesus Christ alone is our high priest.

The true church and ministers of the Lord are those who make disciples of Christ rather than taking the place of Christ in the lives of others. In today's modern church, many have created disciples of themselves -- The Word comes through "their" teaching. The healing comes through "their" hands. The abundant life and prosperity comes through the tithing and offering into "their" ministry. Spiritual promotion and growth comes through obedience to "their" vision.

Thus the emphasis of what "man" can do becomes the barometer of spiritual affirmation rather than simple obedience to Christ and His Word. I have stated in previous articles that "the highest form of worship is simple obedience to God's Word and voice."

Isn't this what it all boils down to? To go into all of the world and create disciples of Jesus, the following fruit will be produced: We will teach and encourage all believers who are willing to share and preach the Word, and provide them a platform. We will send out equipped believers to lay hands on the sick and pray for those in need. We will encourage an interest in each others vision, spiritual gifts and talents and cheerfully give to their success. This sounds like the ministry of Christ and the model that He gave us for the church.

The system of man-centered religion led to the downfall of Korah and his followers. It is interesting that out of these three men, two were not even Levites, yet were "ministering" before the Lord and His people. We can conclude that two thirds of the ministers present at this service were NOT ordained by the Lord.

Whether we want to believe it or not, there are those who are ordained by God and those who are ordained by man. Somehow, we have been brainwashed into believing that all men and women who are "ordained" or went to some school and received a piece a paper to hang on the wall are ministers. Beloved, God does not validate "titles." He validates and affirms "function." We are all ministers of reconciliation and no person is head or above another.

The "Korite" doctrine that has made its way back into assembly of God's people manifests in itself in the focus and support of a counterfeit temple (Church). The Old Testament Temple was a type and shadow of the finished work of Christ. It would be a people redeemed by His blood that would become a living temple and dwelling place of the Lord's Spirit and presence.

The New Testament temple is you and me. The Korite doctrine focuses and spends its resources and energy on the preservation of the present religious system. If today's present "leaders" were truly led and ordained by God, then I believe we would witness a whole lot of change and shaking going on.

The Bible states in Matthew 25:31-46 that our resources, focus and energy should be meeting the needs of each other as God's people. As a matter of fact, the Bible goes on to say that we will be judged by how we meet these needs. However, it seems that much of our focus has been conditioned to turn to the supporting and sowing into the ordained of man for the purpose of reaping both earthly and eternal blessing rather than simply meeting the needs of those who cross our path in life.

The spirit of Constantine and the leadership model of today is drawing to a close.It will be the "servants" who will arise with a heart to restore the church back into the hands of the Lord and her original meaning and function. For too long we have "played" church and performed our way into irrelevance to a world that is searching for something real. Those who are in the present church system, know in the core of their heart the frustration and the sense that something is incomplete and unfulfilling.

The spiritual loneliness and irrelevancy that many are experiencing in the church is the failure ofothers to take an interest in their vision. We can blame many things for this. However, we must take the blame ourselves. We have created an environment that spiritual validation and calling is recognized and "released" by the "leadership." Maybe its time we start encouraging and releasing one another. Better yet, let's start taking an interest in one another. This is the TRUE church...

The Provisioners

Chad Taylor

I Heard The Lord Say Today, "Open Up The Supply Lines And The Provisioners Will Come!"

pro·vision·er: n : a supplier of victuals or supplies to an army...

We met today in the thick humid air of Southwest, GA. and I heard the Lord say, "OPEN UP THE SUPPLY LINES AND THE PROVISIONERS WILL COME!" A provisioner as I later found out at dictionary.com was a supplier to the army during battle. This is a strategic prophetic statement that we must declare over Ochlocknee, GA. and beyond. I believe the Lord made this statement as it relates to the team coming from Haverhill, MA. as released in our previous report, "THE YANKEES ARE COMING!" last month.

A team from "The Edge of The Jordan Cafe" will be leaving Massachusetts this Monday July 4th (how ironic?) and driving with trucks and trailer to Ochlocknee to help us rebuild the pool house and bathrooms to the public pool we have take possession of. Amazing that the laborers have to come from New England because the workers are so few here? We have literally been at a complete standstill because of the lack of workers and have been forced to simply stand our ground and occupy. The reality as it was in Jesus' day is the believers are many but the ones willing to get in the trenches and bleed are very few. By and large we have become so preoccupied with self and religious activities that often disguise themselves as good works, we are no longer effective in expanding God's true Kingdom. We have become a charismatic machine that spins it's prophetic wheels and really goes nowhere...

Our cities remain desolate and still not rebuilt as we parade to the next event. But thank God He is raising up deliverer's and builders that will do the work of 20 and the walls of the city will be restored! Like Ezra and Nehemiah they will face down the resistance and criticisms and forge ahead to finish what they have started. Be of good cheer the Lord will give us the Kingdom! I want to decree a challenge to the "provisioners" or those able to "open up the supply line". I believe one interpretation of this word is that there are certain individuals that have the "POWER" to open of the windows of Heaven and release a blessing that the frontlines will not be able to even contain. They have the power in their willingness to give that will break the stubborn resistance that has held places like Ochlocknee, GA. hostage for decades. Their offering will break the back of poverty and release a river of provision to finish the work at hand.

The provisioners will open up the supply line by their radical obedience to give! This is truly a profound word that we must pray through and release. Will you do this with me? Also those that are "provisioners" and suppliers to the army of God in position to take these cities will you be obedient to release what God has given you? First you must break the gravity of what can be seen and begin to see the invisible and only then will you have the faith to release the provision needed without fear. Millions of souls and the future of a generation literally hangs in the balances of obedience; on one side fear and the lack of courage to release and on the other hand self-sacrifice and vision that will see the outcome and rend the veil of the temporal and reach into the future of our cities and land.

I pray that this very day provisioners are raised up out of the ashes of previous disappointment and let downs to give into our campaign here in Ochlocknee, GA. What a shame that they will travel 1500 miles on their own means and we can not have the ability to help them once they arrive? We need a supply NOW to meet the needs of this public pool and the team that arrives Wed. July 6th. We need to rent a back hoe and heavy machinery to clear the land and the other tools needed to make this possible. We need food and water and other necessities to feed and care for the workers coming. Not to mention our basic needs as a ministry to function and accommodate the army that is being raised up around us to possess this land. The last three months has been a literal miracle of survival as "provisioners" from around the world have helped us hold this ground from being robbed and pillaged by the enemy. We must have more to finish the fight.

This Proverb applies to this message, "Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of your hand to do it. Say not to your neighbor, "Go, and come back later, and tomorrow I will give it; when you have it by you..." Proverbs 3:27-28. You that have the "power" to release the supply lines please respond now. Go to this link and use the options presented to give today and advance the Kingdom of God exponentially. The team from New England leaves Monday July 1st please pray for their provision in coming and their safety.

Yours for Him, Chad Taylor

LINK: http://www.consumingfire.com/ochlocknee.htm

The Prodigal Son
Christine Beadsworth

Fresh Oil Releases
October 2005 Newsletter
www.freshoilreleases.com

Greetings in the glorious Name of Jesus

Last month we looked at Joseph being released from the prison of preparation and receiving a robe and a signet ring, being given authority to rule in Egypt. This month I want to discuss another man who received a robe and a signet ring – the prodigal son! His story on the surface seems far-removed from Joseph's but there are intriguing similarities.

In Luke 15 we find the prodigal son demanding his share of the Father's substance. It is interesting that at this point, he was not intending to leave. Only once he had received the wealth, he decided to go into a far country and waste his inheritance.

Luk 15:12 And the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me. And he divided unto them his living. And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living.

We all have a measured portion of that which is our Heavenly Father's. It is set aside for us until His appointed time of release when we reach a state of maturity. This son knew his rights as a son but wanted them released to him before he was ready to handle the responsibility. There is something about receiving our inheritance before the appointed time that causes us to become completely self-absorbed and squander the precious deposit. According to the Word, the elder brother also received his portion at this time but we learn later, he did not make use of it at all. The one is as bad as the other; a son who serves himself and wastes the riches deposited in him and the son who has no revelation of his sonship and only sees himself as a servant, thus burying the talents apportioned him.

Joseph also was wasteful with the deposit of revelation given him, casting his pearls before brothers who did not perceive the meaning of the garment his father had given him. He also spoke of 'I, I, I' and 'me, me, me'; impressed with the greatness of what God was going to do through him. Both Joseph and the prodigal son ended up in a type of prison.

The difference between them was Joseph fled from the advances of the seducing spirit but ended up in prison anyway. The prodigal son deliberately indulged himself and kept company with harlots and ended up trapped in the pigsty. In a sense, looking in, one would say he deserved to end up in the pigsty. The elder brother would definitely say so from his position in the ranks of his father's servants.

We find it so easy to identify with Joseph, waiting faithfully for release. We don't feel much in common with the prodigal; oh yes, we know other prodigals and have shaken our heads at their flirting with the world and its ways. Yet we do not realize that the 'far country' this son went to, is not a physical location but a spiritual one. It is possible to sit in the pew every Sunday and yet your heart is in a 'far country' fellowshipping with seducing and unclean spirits. How is this possible?

It comes insidiously, through the deceptive veil of pride and selfcenteredness. It happened in the same way to satan when he was the covering cherub. He looked at himself and the beauty with which God had equipped him and decided he was worthy of more honor than he was receiving at present. He wanted promotion – after all, he was greatly gifted.

Isa 14:13 For thou hast said in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north:

Both the prison and the pigsty are designed to rid us of all pride and self-worship.
Spiritual ambition is a subtle trap. After all, it is our inheritance, isn't it? What is the harm in having it right when we want it? Simply put, it is because our hearts are not ready to handle it. Our value system is different to God's and until His tailor-made prison has worked His character into us, we are not ready for the robe and the signet ring. The Israelites in the wilderness were not satisfied with the daily manna; they lusted after meat and eventually God gave them what they nagged for but He sent leanness into their souls. The prodigal son wanted what was his and ended up with leanness in his soul.

Luk 15:14 And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land; and he began to be in want.

Interestingly, the famine only started when he had depleted his resources. The external circumstances began to mirror his internal state. He had left home feeling rich and invincible. He kept company with those who were only too eager to help him squander his inheritance; and the blindness that pride bestowed on him prevented him from seeing his true state and the nature of those who whispered in friendly tones in his ear. In fact, when he began to be in want, the Bible tells us that he then joined himself to a citizen of that country. This Hebrew word for 'joined' also means 'cleave'. This was not just an acquaintance but an intimate relationship. He was going further into bondage, now there was a yoking together male-to-male picturing a perverse alliance with an unclean homosexual spirit and this brought slavery as he was sent to feed the pigs belonging to this principality. How tragic that a son of the Father can be brought to this place within, eating pig's food (doctrines of demons) and yet still unaware of his true spiritual state.

It is shocking to contemplate that people could be in this condition inside the four walls of the church. Yet in Revelation 3:17, we find the prodigal-son-company being addressed by God;

Rev 3:17 Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked: I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness do not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eyesalve, that thou mayest see.

Here is our Father describing the true state of this lukewarm church as He waits for their return from the pigsty. They are like the Emperor in 'the emperor's new clothes', who believes he is wearing a glorious garment when in reality, he is parading down the streets naked…Once again, pride has caused blindness to their true state.

You see, Beloved, I believe it has to do with our value system as the Church of Jesus Christ. This church had money and possessions and therefore felt they stood in a place of blessing and favor. However, God does not see as man sees. Man looks on the outward appearance, God looks on the heart. Although outwardly wealthy, these people were inwardly poverty-stricken; much the same as the prodigal son when he left to a far country. The church has largely taken her inheritance and squandered it on herself and wasteful living.

We hear much in these days about entering into the Promised Land and receiving the fullness of our inheritance but sadly there is great emphasis on houses, lands and material wealth, prestige and position. We do not understand that in God's value system, gold is not a treasure. In fact, the streets of the heavenly Jerusalem are paved with it. In other words, it should be under our feet, not up on a pedestal. If we are looking forward to a great inflow of wealth into our bank accounts, then we are not ready for our inheritance to be released to us. I believe the reason God has yet to release considerable finance to the Church is because our heart has been corrupted by money and we have served two masters. There are few He can trust with stewardship of finance for the Kingdom because we, as the Church, have not been faithful in little. We want to be like the church of Acts but it is no good selling houses and lands and laying the money at the feet of those who call themselves 'apostles' if they are only going to use it to pay for better carpets and fancier sound systems. We declare that God is going to release the treasures of darkness and the hidden riches of secret places to us but we don't understand that what is treasure to man is not treasure to God. In fact, Jesus explains God's value-system clearly just before the passage about the prodigal son. He tells about the lost sheep and the woman who lost one of ten coins and then explains:

Luk 15:10 Likewise I say to you, there is joy before the angels of God over one sinner who repents.

Souls are God's treasure, His riches. People are what the Father measures as valuable and worth investing in. One person is more valuable than all the money in the world to God. That is why you are Christ's inheritance spoken of in Ephesians:

Eph 1:17 that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give to you the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of Him, the eyes of your understanding being enlightened, that you may know what is the hope of His calling, and what is the riches of the glory of His inheritance in the saints,

Beloved, you are Christ's inheritance and He is yours. If you are looking for a huge release of finance as your inheritance, you are not thinking with the mindset of heaven. A deeper and deeper revelation of Jesus manifested within you is what heaven has stored up for you. The priests had no natural inheritance, God was their portion:

Deu 18:2 Therefore they shall have no inheritance among their brothers. Jehovah is their inheritance, as He has said to them.

This does not mean that God does not provide finance for the extension of His kingdom; the silver and the gold are all His but if we have a wrong understanding of what true riches are, then we wait for the wrong ship to come in! In Luke 12, we find another man wanting the inheritance divided with his brother

Luk 12:13 And one of the company said to Him, Master, speak to my brother to divide the inheritance with me. And He said to him, Man, who made Me a judge or a divider over you? And He said to them, Watch and keep yourselves from covetousness. For a man's life is not in the abundance of the things which he possesses.

Right here Jesus begins to address the issue of inheritance and correct this man's wrong focus. He speaks about seeking first the kingdom of God and righteousness and then says:

Luk 12:33 Sell what you have and give alms. Make for yourselves purses which do not become old, an unfailing treasure in Heaven, where no thief comes nor moth corrupts. For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.

He is dealing with what is considered treasure on earth and what is treasure in Heaven. Jesus did not die to secure bank-fuls of money for His followers; He died to reconcile the world to the Father. That was considered a treasure worth dying for!

When we begin to understand that the treasures of darkness promised to us are the kind of people Jesus enjoyed mixing with, those who are still in the kingdom of darkness, in prisons of addiction and idolatry and sin of every kind, then our hearts will not seek earthly wealth and comfort. We will begin to rearrange our priorities and instead of pouring money into buildings and luxurious trappings and self-indulgent programs, we will invest and release finance to reach the poor and the down-trodden and the outcast. These are God's treasures waiting to be mined out of the earth. Money is only a tool in the hands of a wise steward.

I stand amazed at the awesome wisdom of the Father in allowing His sons to go on the journey into the far country because it is here they discover the difference between true and false riches. When the prodigal son's resources ran out, his friends were nowhere to be found and finally, when he came to a place of desperate hunger, he came to himself and thought of His father's house and the way even servants were treated there. People were considered valuable in the father's house and all their needs met, no matter what their position. There was a different value system in the Father's house.

Beloved, if we have focused on the wrong things as treasures, we will come to a place of extreme hunger, where nothing satisfies us any more. We can be sitting in services week after week but all will taste like dry husks and the hunger inside will go unquenched. What our deepest soul needs is to be fed with the food that satisfied Jesus. He said, " my food is to do the will of Him who sent Me and complete it."

The sin of the prodigal son was self-centeredness. He thought his inheritance was about himself, for his own pleasure and comfort. Sadly, the church in large measure has thought the same. We have eaten of His Word, been drunk in the Spirit and yet still we remain within the four walls of the building. We are guilty of 'I, I, I' and 'me, me, me' and do not realize we are of a different spirit to Jesus, who laid down His life to reconcile the world to Himself. This is why God counsels the Church in Rev 3:17 to buy from Him true gold, white garments (righteous deeds) and salve to heal their vision. We feel we are His Bride, arrayed in beautiful garments; we don't realize we are dressed in rags, poverty-stricken and blind to our true state. We need to come to ourselves, like the prodigal son and realize what we hold in our hands are husks and that we are in the pigsty that self-centeredness and self-indulgence has brought us to. When our vision is restored, we will realize that the true riches are lying outside in a broken world, waiting for us to come and dig them out.

Rom 10:14 How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher? And how shall they preach, except they be sent? as it is written, How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things!

The interesting thing is that when the prodigal son came to his senses, realized where he had been sitting and in humility returned to his father's house, the fatted calf was slaughtered for him. When we, as the true sons of God return in our hearts to our Father's house, run according to our Father's value-system, there will be some holy cows slaughtered! Mindsets and ways of doing things that have been carefully nurtured for years, will be thrown out. Isn't it interesting that it was the killing of the fatted calf that so upset the elder brother! He represents those moving in a religious spirit, with no revelation of the rights and priviledges of sonship, entrenched in religious mindsets and labouring outside the house. He had a poverty of spirit within although outwardly he was doing all the right religious things. He had no understanding of his father's heart toward him. He was under a spirit of slavery instead of a spirit of sonship through which we cry 'Abba, Father'. He could not receive the robe and the ring because he valued the fatted calf more than his own brother. The Pharisees were angry when Jesus put to death their 'fatted calf' of the Sabbath by healing people on that day. Let us not value our religious mindsets more than we value the repentant sinner. In the coming days, the Lord is going to bring in the poor and the lame and the social outcast, Let us not respond as the Pharisees did, muttering about rules and regulations and holding our noses at the smell. God is only giving out robes and rings and delegating spiritual authority to those who are humble and mourn over their sinful state, know they are poor in spirit and have Heaven's currency system branded on their hearts. One cannot make a silk purse out of a sow's ear and one cannot make garments for the Bride of Christ out of Babylon's silks and the satins of religion! Jesus described the prodigal-son-company as they returned to their Father:

Mat 5:3 Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted. Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth. Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.

In the coming days, as the Lord cleans up His church according to Malachi 3 (refiner's fire and fuller's soap) there is coming a clear separation between the wheat and the tares. As natural disasters multiply across the earth, the true Bride of Jesus Christ will begin to rise out of the darkness, clothed in white linen with the glory of God upon her. Just watching what has happened after the flooding in New Orleans, we can see the hand of God sweeping away the denominational barriers between believers as God’s people go in and pour out the love of God to devastated people in a multitude of ways. This is just the beginning of a huge change in the focus of the Church, away from herself and her programs and her comfort towards the lost and the brokenhearted, God’s jewels waiting to be found. God is beginning to employ the shaking in the natural to cause a shaking in the spiritual and take the scales of the eyes of His Body, to see as Heaven sees, to measure as Heaven measures. He is using the spotlight of Heaven to highlight His priorities and He is going to change hearts of stone into hearts of flesh as He pours His compassion into us for the recovering of His inheritance, the true wealth of the earth, precious oaks-of-righteousness-to-be.

Isa 60:1 Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the LORD is risen upon thee. For, behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people: but the LORD shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee. And the Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising. Lift up thine eyes round about, and see: all they gather themselves together, they come to thee: thy sons shall come from far, and thy daughters shall be nursed at thy side.

Lift your eyes, Church, and look at your spiritual sons and daughters. They are coming in buses and on foot from New Orleans and every place of flooding, earthquake or devastation; they have lost all and are brokenhearted. They need to know the love of the Father. Among them are prodigals who wandered far from God’s call on their lives, hiding in brothels and bars . You will not judge them because you too, wandered into the far country of self-indulgence and squandered your portion. It is God’s kindness that leads people to repentance and takes scales off their eyes. He wants them to experience His heart of compassion through you. Can you look past the matted hair, the smell, the rags and see with the Father’s eyes one of His jewels? Can you throw away the dry husks and leave the pigsty of self-worship and smash the altars to mammon in your life? If so, then you are ready to receive the robe and the ring that marks you as a true son. You are ready to be trusted with Heaven’s resources. You can be released into the fullness of your inheritance.

Psa 2:8 Ask of Me, and I shall give the nations for Your inheritance; and the uttermost parts of the earth for Your possession.

The Present Truth

Becky McLendon

Wherefore I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, though ye know them, and be established in the present truth*.* 2 Peter 1:12

Carnal energy cannot walk with God. It cannot keep up with the Lord. When it comes to energy, all He needs is a few loaves and fishes. When it comes to wine, all He needs is a little water. When it comes to understanding, all He needs is a listening heart that is eager to hear Him. Man's wisdom has never understood His word. The carnal ear has never heard his voice. Only those with a heart after God will ever understand God's words or His ways.

Our prayer is take us to your generation, and He will. And He is doing it. He has a plan, and there is an order, and a time. There is a glory that belongs to Jesus and a glory that belongs to the bride. Oh to be what He is saying now. This is the reward of the ashes. This is the beauty they will always know. This is what remains after all of US is burned away. What He has said in the past is not our light. It is what He is saying right now. We are in the now in Jesus. We are in the today with Jesus. Being absent from the flesh (carnal) is being present with the lord; we are present with the lord this day. Present truth is "what is god saying today?" He preaches to ears that have been made ready to hear.

These denominations are like riding a bus. People find one going their way and as far as they want to go. The easy way is just to die in all that foolishness. One that hears adds life to what they have. Broken cisterns remain, dead and lifeless. But we cannot bring the carnal mind into this. The carnal mind cannot reason with the lord. He says come let us reason together, but this is by revelation only. It is not by man's reasoning that he says this... The carnal mindset says that means lets all study together and discuss things from our minds but it is not from his heart. When we talk to carnal people it is not reasoning with the Lord. So when we come together as believer to believer, we ask, "what is the lord saying? What is present truth?" Revelation is what the lord is saying now. To live in the spirit is to live in present revelation, that belongs to us this is walking in the light. Present truth is how we live now. Present truth revelation endures the contradiction of sinner teachers every day. Revelation is being in his blood stream.

When we add to what the Lord has given we are trying to help the carnal understand. The carnal will never understand, so why do we add to what he says? When we are interested in numbers and a "successful" program, that is what we do. A people living in sin, could hear the lord preaching through some one, yet could not partake because they have no understanding. A preacher living in sin does not and cannot feed from the Lord's Table. Denominational sin, has done away with the Lord's Table and substituted it for a piece of ecclesiastical furniture with "in remembrance of me" engraved on it. The lord took the cup and blessed it and said this is my blood which is shed for thee...take and drink ye all of it. Unworthy preachers are going through the motions of a "communion service" and giving the "cup" to unworthy recipients. It's the cup of death.........and they are drinking death. What they have is a "form" of godliness when they do "communion". Religion is always dealing with symbols, but never the real. To religionists, symbols are the means to the end, but never the revelation. For that matter written words in the bible are made up of symbols (letters)...it all needs the spirit of the lord. But the glory has departed these things.

Sin entertains and gathers crowds, and churches need more room for sinners. It is sin that gathers. He said, “they gather but not by me.” Religionists get caught up in do-good activities, offering free clothes and free food. They shout: “we have free food whether you want Jesus or not! We will feed your "being anxious" over what to wear and eat. You don't have to trust Jesus...we will supply your needs instead. And then maybe you will want to join the church and add to our numbers. We will teach you in our doctrines and include you in the “sacraments of the church.” Little do they know that, woe, woe the lord's table is not for bastards. Instead of calling a church to a fast, they are being called to free food. So many of these churches are now "seeker friendly".... Appealing to the sinner...having programs that sinners will feel "comfortable" in. Many are also gearing their whole program towards teenagers (generation x) and leaving out the mature people and shutting them off. That ear that goes to church for entertainment cannot hear what the lord is saying. They crucify the lord afresh daily. They go to "hear the music" and hopefully get a good "word”.... But they don't want to hear what brings life to them. They are "faithful attendees" and take "communion' regularly. But they do not eat the bread that jesus gives, nor do they drink his cup, the blood which is life.

Jesus is saying follow thou Me. What Jesus is saying now is our communion. His cup is one of holiness. Those who worship devils cannot drink the cup of holiness. Jesus has said his word does not return to him void, and that it will accomplish that for which it was sent. When his word returns, we go to him with it. Revelation our way to God is going with the word the word is like a bus it takes us to the father. We carry His revealed word in our fleshly bodies back to Him as we run in to Him.

Revelation Will Declare His Generation
Becky McLendon

Acts 8:33 In his humiliation his judgment was taken away: and who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.

"His LIFE was taken from the earth" would mean DEATH was left on the earth until someone who can declare His generation, bringing LIFE back into the earth is sent. LIFE here is not BIOS, which is this “physical” life. The word used in this verse is ZOE, which means: the state of one who is possessed of vitality or is animate. ZOE is absolute fullness of life, both essential and ethical, which belongs to God, and through him both to the hypostatic "logos" and to Christ in whom the "logos" put on human nature WORD MADE FLESH! It is a life real and genuine, a life active and vigorous, devoted to God, blessed, in the portion even in this world of those who put their trust in Christ, but after the resurrection to be consummated by new accessions (among them a more perfect body), and to last for ever

Not long ago the Lord awakened me with the phrase: go to the land of quick healing. Then He said “Gaza Strip”…Acts 826 makes mention of Philip being told to “arise and go toward the south . . .to GAZA, which is desert.” This is where he found the eunuch reading a passage of scripture. What followed brought “quick healing” in Gaza, because Jesus WAS PREACHED. HIS GENERATION WAS DECLARED.

Acts 8:26 And the angel of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying, Arise, and go toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza, which is desert.

32 The place of the scripture which he (the eunuch) read was this, He was led as a sheep to the slaughter; and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth: 33 In his humiliation his judgment was taken away: and who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth. 34 And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other man? 35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same scripture, and preached unto him Jesus.

Those that study men's teachings all the time, and have great titles and degrees will never declare his generation. They can never bring life into the earth. Jesus will bring His LIFE back into the earth in His chosen ones! We shall declare His generation!

DECLARE means to lead or carry a narration through to the end; to set forth, recount, relate in full, describe. It is a preaching of Jesus to those who have ears to hear. GENERATION means that which has been begotten, men of the same stock, a family, especially a group of men very like each other in endowments, pursuits, character. Now remember, when we say MEN here we are referring to humans. So HIS generation has been begotten of the Son as HE was begotten of the Father. His generation is of the same stock, the same "gene pool" a new creation family. We are IN HIM, IN HIS NAME, HIS CHARACTER. We are His generation.

So JESUS is the "father" of this generation that we are to declare, men (saints) who have gone before us, and saints who are NOW and saints yet to be!!! THE ELECTION is HIS GENERATION. He preaches TO this generation OF this generation!! WOW the generation of the HEARING and Understanding of REVELATION given by Him in the ANOINTING. THIS BRINGS LIFE to the earth. Philip was sent to Gaza to preach JESUS to an Ethiopian eunuch who would then preach JESUS in his land! We will be sent many places to preach Jesus to the hearing ones, so that THEY can preach Jesus in their land.

Look at what Jesus said in Luke 4:18: The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised,

When the very Lord says this through us, he is declaring then his generation in us. To declare his generation we lay aside all helps and studies and let him fully take our place. The words I speak are not mine. His generation life, speaks, as he speaks. Those that declare his generation are those that have gotten out of his way. His life does not need our help. It is Jesus only flowing out from us. His generation declares, "if you have seen me you have seen Jesus."

"My ministry" boasting will be abolished and not found in this generation. The" my ministry" crucifies Jesus every day the dead and the blind build churches on the "my ministries." They have laws and by-laws to save "my ministries," And the Lord's generation slips out away from them. They are called backsliders and even worse by the wise and prudent who remain in the "my ministry" kingdom. But the truth is: his generation will be the only ones that can hear.

In John 17: Jesus interceded for his generation!! It was not for unbelievers but for his generation that he foreknew! He foreknew those who would be declared and then go forth declaring his name in the earth.

His powerful foreknowledge knows who his generation is, and he will show them to us. We will be sent to declare his generation to his generation! His generation is an anointing. His generation anointing will declare his generation. His generation anointing is and has been our teacher. It is the whole seven spirits of god. His generation is a one-generation people no matter what their ages are. No matter what their race or gender is: neither Greek nor Jew; male nor female. It is one generation.

The generation anointing has made us one generation; this revelation is pouring life into us -- life being brought back to the earth. This is revelation that you can feel making you alive. Is he ever laying his head upon the earth now! Thank you Jesus. This revelation just gets more powerful: my body is going to know about this. Yours will too.

With us it is revelation, but if you get three or four together who are into “my ministry,” they try to get it into bible study, debate and discussion and eventually build their ministry upon it, build church houses upon it and finally make a denomination out of it. They tried to do it on the mount of transfiguration, and Jesus said no! Some things are not for them to know. A mountain has been given to us: a mountain of transfiguration! And we know not to build a shrine upon it and call it our ministry.

Romans 8:11 But if the Spirit of him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you, he that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies by his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

He is giving us power to go way into his kingdom. So deeper and deeper, we run further in. There is a special anointed place to me in New Brunswick, Canada. The name of the town is “Shediac.” When I learned the meaning of that name, I realized why it was so anointed to me. It means, “run further in!” Being a coastal town, that would make sense in the natural to run further in to dry land when storms approach. But in the spiritual, we are to run further in to His deep calling and the anointing of revelation to get sheltered from the lashing waves of stormy seas.

When we have run IN to God, revelation comes OUT of God and IN to us! Then and only then shall we have something for the nations! We will have His present word.

Amen and Amen

Becky

The Rains Are Coming

Timothy Snodgrass

October 24, 2005

Today in Manila, while packing my bags and preparing to depart for Los Angeles, I was taken in the Spirit above the United States and saw much angelic activity over the atmosphere of North America. As the winds began to stir across the land, and leaves from trees began to shake, a downpour of rain suddenly began to descend upon the earth. In California, I saw eagles gathering from every direction. As the majestic birds began to arrive in California from different parts of the world, the wet ground began to shake violently and fruit began to fall off the trees. A trumpet was sounded to gather the Lord's harvest across the land which was being transformed by God's presence. As the ground began to shake, a large boulder fell off a high mountain, and the Holy Spirit spoke to me that, "The boulder represents the strongman over California which is about to fall, which will impact the entire continent of North America. The change in the atmosphere which begins in California this fall will move like a mighty wind across the land, releasing a downpour of healing from America to the ends of the earth".

On October 11, I returned to the Philippines from Australia, spending one night in Manila before flying to the Visayas in the Central Philippines. On that night, I was awakened by a dream of a terrible plane crash in the Visayas, in which I was among only three survivors. The dream was very vivid, and I remember every detail of being rescued while trying to stay afloat in the Pacific Ocean. The following morning I alerted our intercessors to begin praying for all our domestic airlines in the Philippines. That afternoon I boarded my flight for the Visayas as scheduled. Thirty-minutes after take-off, we lost one of our two engines, and dropped 10,000 feet within a matter of seconds. At the last minute, our engine was revived and we were able to gain altitude before crashing into the sea. There was no plane crash, no casualties, just 110 passengers who suddenly got a crash-course in prophetic intercession! This experience is a good example of why prophetic teams normally do not run away from disaster, but run right into the heart of it, because they understand God's heart that not even one person would perish. This October and November, we are sending prophetic teams into California and Sumatra, right into the heart of areas we have been warned are on the verge of judgment, believing for a total turn-a-round and the beginnings of reformation which will release rivers of grace and showers of healing across the entire world.

I had such a wonderful trip to Western Australia, this year has been moving by so quick, like lightning. My special thanks to Jocelyn Lane, who orchestrated our ministry itinerary for Perth, Australia. Also, thank you Pastor Gordon and Sue Vockins, what a pleasure it was to minister at your beautiful African fellowship. My special thanks also to Pastor James and Madeline Yan, for allowing me to minister to your anointed Chinese fellowship in the heart of downtown Perth, and thank you David & Juliette Haddy, what a powerful Messianic meeting we had on Rosh Hashanah! There is not room enough to personally thank all the ministers involved in the Australian mission, but thank you so much everyone! What a blessings and honor to be a small part of what God is doing in your nation. The prophetic word we received for Perth, briefly, is that God's covering is on Western Australia to use the region as a place of refuge in the future, especially as China, Indonesia and some of the other regions north of Australia begin to violently shake as we approach the second coming of Jesus Christ. Australia will be used a lighthouse to the region, sending in ships with food and aid, assistance, and the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

I am preparing to depart on 10/27/05 for California, and will be extremely busy now through Christmas in Indonesia, Malaysia and the Philippines. Lately, I have gotten very little writing accomplished because of our busy ministry schedule. Please be patient if you have been trying to contact us, whereas my three secretaries have been very busy (me, myself and I). Please pray for my strength and health over the next several months, and also for our support base, that God would send us partners to help funds these missions. During the last week, our ministry income has been exactly one-hundred dollars. We need not only regular monthly financial partners, but also regular intercessors, especially over the next two months as we travel into some difficult areas in this part of the world. Please stand with us in agreement that ASIA SHALL BE SAVED!

Blessings,
Timothy Snodgrass
Philippines

Send all Donations & Correspondence within the United States to:
Timothy Snodgrass - 61540 American Lane, Suite 203 Bend, OR 97702
Website: www.Elijah1.com

The Resurrection And The Life
Catherine Brown

Jesus' Blueprint For Resurrecting Shattered Lives, Hopes And Dreams
by Catherine Brown

I Am -- The Resurrection And The Life

"Jesus said to her, 'I am the resurrection and the life. He who believes in me will live, even though he dies; and whoever lives and believes in me will never die. Do you believe this?'"* John 11:25,26 NIV

When Jesus says, "I Am," it is of tremendous significance. Just a few examples include, "I am the bread of life" in John 6:35; "I am the light of the world" in John 9:5; "I am the Alpha and the Omega," in Revelation 1:17; "Before Abraham was born, I am," in John 8:58; " I am gentle and humble in heart," in Matthew 11:29; and, "I am the gate for the sheep," in John 10:7.
The Lord makes provision both physically and spiritually for those who hunger and thirst; for those who are oppressed and in darkness; for those who question his eternal presence, power, and knowledge; for those who are anxious about the future; for the tired and weary, or whose hearts ache with loss. We are made complete in Christ. In all that we are not, Jesus is our All-Sufficient One, the Great I Am.

JESUS WEPT

"When Jesus saw her (Mary) weeping, and the Jews who had come along with her also weeping, he was deeply moved in spirit and troubled. 'Where have you laid him?' he asked.

"'Come and see, Lord,' they replied. Jesus wept.
"Then the Jews said, 'See how he loved him!' But some of them said, 'Could not he who opened the eyes of the blind man have kept this man from dying?'"* John 11:33-37 NIV

Once again, the Scriptures remind us of the depth of Jesus' compassion as He wept over the death of Lazarus, the sorrow of the sisters, and the other mourners. Jesus weeps with those who weep. Likewise, He rejoices with those who are filled with joy. The Lord is not malevolent towards us in our misery. He responds in compassion to our tears and releases miracles onto the earth, with the power to heal and totally transform lives.

Jesus could previously have gone to Lazarus and prevented his death, but He did not. Instead, as the resurrection King of Glory, Jesus was about to demonstrate to Martha, Mary, Lazarus, and all the onlookers that He is not only able to heal us in life, He is also able to completely heal us in death!
He is the Resurrection and the Life and, when we walk with Him, the power and penalty of death and sin is broken. Child of God, death has no hold on you! Sin has lost its power and penalty through the blood of Jesus! Jesus is the Cure. He provides completely for us in every way, caring so much about us that He gave His life for us.

JESUS' BLUEPRINT FOR RESURRECTING SHATTERED LIVES, HOPES AND DREAMS

"Jesus, once more deeply moved, came to the tomb. It was a cave with a stone laid across the entrance. 'Take away the stone,' he said.
"'But Lord,' said Martha, the sister of the dead man, 'by this time there is a bad odor, for he has been there four days.'
"Then Jesus said, 'Did I not tell you that if you believed, you would see the glory of God?'

"So they took away the stone. Then Jesus looked up and said, 'Father, I thank you that you have heard me. I knew that you always hear me, but I said this for the benefit of the people standing here, that they may believe that you sent me.'
"When he said this, Jesus called in a loud voice, 'Lazarus, come out!' The dead man came out, his hands and feet wrapped with strips of linen, and a cloth around his face.
"Jesus said to them, 'Take off the grave clothes and let him go.'" John 11:38-44 NIV

1. TAKE AWAY THE OBSTACLES THAT KEEP YOU FROM JESUS

"TAKE AWAY THE STONE." verse 39 NIV (emphasis mine)
Jesus wants to remove every obstacle that would stop us from hearing His voice and responding to His call on our lives.

Devastation has a din; catastrophe and confusion release a cacophonous sound that pounds weary hearts and ears and clamors for attention to drown out the life-giving voice of God.
"Father, by Your Spirit, we ask that You remove all the things that would hold us back from responding to the loving voice of Jesus."

2. UNDERSTAND THAT JESUS DOESN'T CARE ABOUT THE SMELL!

"But Lord . . . by this time there is a bad odor, for he has been there for four days . . . " verse 39 NIV

Martha is concerned that the Lord will be overcome with the smell of rotting flesh within the burial cave. Jesus is not concerned with the smell, because He is much more concerned with our hearts than He is with our circumstances.
He will go to any lengths to reach us and comfort us in our affliction and save us from our sin. Such is Jesus' compassion as He reaches out to us in His magnificent love. There is no hellhole that can hold or intimidate Jesus, for the Lord has literally gone to hell and back to release grace into our lives.
We must not allow difficult or even "impossible" situations to bully and/or control us, for nothing is impossible to God. He will not abandon us.
"Father, help us to know the width and length and height and depth of Your incomparable love that we might yield our lives completely to Your healing touch."

3. ONLY BELIEVE

"Did I not tell you that if you believed, you would see the glory of God?" Verse 40 NIV

The Lord wants us to exercise faith to believe He is speaking to each of us personally, to revive the dreams and desires of our hearts.
When our hearts have been broken it is often difficult to trust again. In grace, the Lord asks that we choose to trust Him and give Him our pain. When the Lord takes us by the hand, He leads and guides our footsteps into resurrection glory.
"Father, help us to trust You completely. We will not allow pain to become an idol in our lives. We give You the first place in our hearts."

4. TURN YOUR FACE TO FATHER AND SEE JESUS

"So they took away the stone. Then Jesus looked up and said, 'Father, I thank you that you have heard me. I knew that you always hear me, but I said this for the benefit of the people standing here, that they may believe that you sent me.'" Verses 41,42 NIV

We mustn't focus on circumstances. Rather, we should be like Jesus: turning our faces to Father, as we look towards heaven [and not earth] for our miracle!

All of Jesus' actions and divinely inspired efforts are for our benefit and for God's glory. There are so many things that clamor for our attention and affections in life, but it's important that we put all distractions and preoccupations aside and concentrate on Christ.
"Father, by your Spirit, help us to choose Jesus first and foremost in our day-to-day affairs. We turn to You in humility and in faith, and seek Your face."

5. LISTEN FOR YOUR WORD!

"LAZARUS, COME OUT!"* Verse 43 NIV (emphasis mine)

Jesus had a specific word for Lazarus that spoke to His spirit and released resurrection anointing from heaven onto the earth. Jesus made a way where it seemed there was no way.
Father's provision came in the powerful voice of Jesus Christ. With authority, the proclamation by the Prince of Peace raised the dead man Lazarus to life.
Similarly, the Lord's words hold power and authority in our lives today. We simply need to learn (or re-learn) how to listen when Jesus speaks His sovereign word to us. The Lord longs to bring hope where there is no hope, and restoration and revival through His saving grace, to YOU. There is nothing and no one beyond His saving grace. Jesus is the Way. The Scriptures are life to us.
"Father, give us ears to hear your Resurrection Words of Life and to respond to them with surrendered hearts."

6. RESPOND TO CHRIST

"The dead man came out, his hands and feet wrapped with strips of linen, and a cloth around his face."* verse 44a NIV

Lazarus responded to Christ's command. The Lord told him to "come out," and Lazarus did exactly what Jesus told him to do. The result was breathtaking.
To each and every believer, Jesus has a perfect word that will bring transformation at the deepest place. Lazarus' resurrection profoundly affected his life, that of his family, and also the whole community. Many were saved because of his miracle. What a word of holy hope to us today, that we might affect our neighborhoods in like manner!
"Father, we ask that as we share Your love, and experience Your miracle-working power in our lives, that we would be used by You to transform our families and communities for Your glory."

7. TAKE OFF THE GRAVE CLOTHES AND THE BURIAL CLOTH

"Jesus said to them, 'Take off the grave clothes and let him go.'"* Verse 44b NIV

God wants us to see things with His perspective. Jesus instructed helpers to assist Lazarus to remove the grave clothes and burial cloth from his face.
We cannot see if our vision is clouded, nor can we pursue God's call on our lives if we are spiritually restricted by past conflicts, anxieties, doubts, or disappointments. There are times when we need a little bit of help to re-focus on God and concentrate on His word for our situation. At such times we may need the help of another human being to lift our weary heads. What joy to reach out selflessly in God's love to another.

The Lord wants us to take off the grave clothes -- all of the things that would keep us from a life rich and full in Christ. Perhaps for some this is old ways, old habits, or perhaps it is a fresh wound or the loss of a loved one, a sickness or a disappointment. Perhaps for others it is self-condemning lies or a false burden of shame? Whatever the grave clothes, they belong in the grave and not on a child of God.

"Lord, help us to remove every hindrance to the fullness of life in the Spirit."

"NOT SOMEHOW, BUT VICTORIOUSLY"

Christ calls us to believe His Word of Knowledge for our lives. He calls us to faith, to believe that He is the God of miracles.
In our whispered prayers, he wants us to know that Father always hears. He says to us, "In nothing be anxious."
When my mum died a number of years ago, a friend sent me a card that said, "The Lord will bring you through this, not just somehow, but victoriously." Those words lifted my spirit to a new place of faith. Jesus doesn't live in vague promises of "somehow." He is the Resurrection King of Life that says, "I will carry you victoriously above your situations and trials, despite and because of your frailty and your smallness." There is not one ounce of meanness in Jesus. His love is extravagant, abundant, and uplifting. He is beautiful in every situation.

A TIME OF OPENING

Lazarus' community was impacted in a mighty way by his resurrection by Jesus. Many came to salvation through one life changed. God wants us to live daily in the reality of His peace and joy. God is opening up new Kingdom opportunities and windows of grace. He is opening portals of glory to release His miracle anointing. He is opening His heart and His Word to us and is pouring out an anointing to pray to and praise Him in untold measure.
The Lord is lavishing blessing from the abundance of His heart. We have access to the treasury of heaven -- the presence of Jesus -- in our every breath and heartbeat. God waits to receive our petitions, and loves us unconditionally, desiring to provide for our every need.
"Holy Spirit, help us to open our hearts afresh to Jesus today. I pray for resurrection anointing to be released in mighty power upon every person who reads this article. May you, Lord Jesus, have the last word in our lives. For your Names' sake. Amen."

Lovingly,
Catherine Brown,
Founder, Gatekeepers Prayer & Mission
www.gatekeepers.org.uk
Director, Million Hours of Praise
www.millionhoursofpraise.com

Traveling Tumble-stones

Christine Beadsworth

I would like to share with you some prophetic insights found in the account where David slew Goliath. There is a glorious picture of what God is doing in this day hidden in its folds.

> 1Sa 17:40 And he took his staff in his hand, and chose him five smooth stones out of the brook, and put them in a shepherd's bag which he had, even in a scrip; and his sling was in his hand: and he drew near to the Philistine.

Jesus, born of the House of David is also taking His staff, or rod, in His hand at this time. The church under Saul's leadership is in camp, trembling on hearing the threats of this giant. Goliath represents the Babylonian religious system under the control of the religious spirit that has kept the church of Jesus Christ bound in fear in their tents, unable, to a very great extent, to fulfill the great commission. This great army of God has meetings about fulfilling what Jesus said. They form committees to discuss what Jesus said but fear keeps them from stepping out. How glorious that in this day, the Lord is raising up a corporate Body of the House of David; like David they will be worshippers in Spirit and in truth and they will say;

> "who is this uncircumcised Philistine, that he should defy the armies of the living God? "

The Lord is about to rule from Zion:

> Psa 110:2 The LORD shall send the rod of thy strength out of Zion: rule thou in the midst of thine enemies. Thy people shall be willing in the day of thy power, in the beauties of holiness from the womb of the morning: thou hast the dew of thy youth. The LORD hath sworn, and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek. The Lord at thy right hand shall strike through kings in the day of his wrath.

There is a holy set-apart people arising, who will offer themselves willingly, saying, "here am I, Lord. Send me!" and through their laid-down lives the Lord will strike many principalities over the nations. Out of Zion God is sending forth His missiles, those in whom the Word spoken over them has become flesh and their lives speak a righteous word because of holiness. The womb of the morning is the Lord of Hosts' shepherd's bag. I see the Lord at this time selecting smooth stones out of the brook. These stones have been tumbled, refined and prepared in His brook of living water. The Hebrew word for 'brook' means 'winter torrent, narrow valley, mine shaft'. This place where they have been prepared has not been a gentle trickling stream. They have been turned upside-down and ground against other stones very painfully. The force of the water refining them has at times seemed too much to bear. At times they have lost complete sense of direction and perspective as the water has relentlessly pounded them. Yet the Lord has not let up in His preparation process. There have been those living stones who have fled the powerful torrent of refining and sought gentle waters at the edge of the river but others have said, "not my will but Thine be done. Have Your way with me, Lord no matter the cost" and the water has removed from them every sharp place and polished the surface of their heart, bringing out the beauty hidden inside for all to see. The root of the word for 'brook' means ' to inherit, to bequeath'. This winter torrent is the place of inheritance where you have been prepared to possess that which the Lord has bequeathed to you. This narrow way you have chosen to walk is the path that leads you to your portion of divine inheritance. This dark mine shaft you have been in is the place from which the Lord selects His jewels:

> Malachi 3:16(Amp) Then those who feared the Lord talked often one to another; and the Lord listened and heard it and a book of remembrance was written before Him of those who feared the Lord and thought on His Name. And they shall be Mine, says the Lord of Hosts, in that day when I publicly recognize and openly declare them to be My jewels…

The word for ‘bag’ in 1 Samuel 17:40 means ‘something prepared, artillery, instrument, jewel, vessel, weapon’. This shepherd’s bag is the storage place of His chosen vessels and weapons of war. The Lord of Hosts is selecting tumble-stones who have endured the polishing and refining of preparation to His satisfaction and He is placing them in His scrip, or ‘travelling pouch’, because he is on the move and about to do something. No-one has taken too much notice of these stones all jumbled together in the fastest place of the river of Life but according to the book of remembrance which has been written, He is choosing some for a purpose ordained before the foundation of the world. It has been a hidden work of preparation but the time of openly displaying is upon us.

> Isaiah 49:2 He hath made my mouth like a sharp sword; in the shadow of His hand hath He hid me, and made me a polished shaft; in His quiver hath He hid me

This quiver that contains the polished arrows is the same as the bag that contains His weapons of war. The word for ‘polished’ means ‘ to refine or purify’. The arrow has been repeatedly polished in the hand of the Lord of Hosts in order to make it fast and accurate in reaching its destination and striking a death blow to the enemy.

David chose five stones. Five is the number of grace and favor. These stones selected will walk with the favor of God openly displayed upon them. There will not be a literal five living stones as it only took one well-aimed stone to kill Goliath. This stone represents a corporate man after the pattern of the One born of the House of David, who was made manifest to destroy the works of the evil one. All over the earth, God’s polished stones are being taken from their place of refining and stored in God’s traveling pouch, ready for the moment of unleashing on their target. The time of preparation is over and the Lord is about to put you in His sling and twirl you round and round and release you to your assignment against the enemy. You will strike the forehead of Goliath, representing the mindsets of the religious spirit, and bring him down.

The word ‘stone’ comes from the Hebrew, word “eben’ which is translated ‘stone, plummet, weight’. The dictionary defines ‘plummet’ as:

PLUM'MET, n. [See Plumb.]
1. A long piece of lead attached to a line, used in sounding the depth of water.
2. An instrument used by carpenters, masons, &c. in adjusting erections to a perpendicular line, and with a square, to determine a horizontal line. It consists of a piece of lead fastened to a line.

Jesus is building His church according to Heaven’s perpendicular or standard of righteousness and these living stones will be measuring instruments to correct the construction of the Church of Jesus Christ according to the standard of the Carpenter of Heaven, Jesus. They will be sent or thrust, out of the Lord’s sling into the harvest field to build the Body of Jesus. A door of opportunity is opening along with many adversaries; but let this not discourage you. As you are placed in that sling and swung around in your Beloved’s embrace, he will deal with every enemy arrayed against you:

> 1 Sam 25:29 Yet a man is risen to pursue you and to seek thy soul: but your soul shall be bound up in a living bundle with the Lord your God; and the souls of thine enemies, them shall He sling out as out of the center of a sling

There is a tremendous centrifugal force generated by being swung round in a circular fashion; something which scientists have employed to good use in separating particles out of liquids. In the same way, anything that stands against you in your life will be separated from you and slung out of your life as you are bound in this bundle with your Bridegroom. Even the enemy that you have prayed against for so long without an answer manifesting, will, in this season, be removed. The Hebrew word for ‘bundle’ in the above verse can also be translated ‘ a kernel, the least grain, a small stone’. This is the grain of wheat that has fallen to the ground and died so that it can bring forth a rich harvest. This is the small stone, Peter, whom the Lord will use to build His church founded on the revelation of Jesus Christ and the gates of hell will not prevail against it. As you remain in intimacy with the Lord, your eyes upon His face, those enemies you wrestle with will be dealt with and you will be propelled with heaven's momentum towards your target. Victory is sure.

When David killed Goliath and cut off his head, it brought about an amazing change in the army of Israel:

> 1Sa 17:52 And the men of Israel and of Judah arose, and shouted, and pursued the Philistines, until thou come to the valley, and to the gates of Ekron. And the wounded of the Philistines fell down by the way to Shaaraim, even unto Gath, and unto Ekron.

Suddenly they received fresh courage to route the enemy and completely crush them. In the same way, as the Lord sends out His living stone or many-membered weapon of war to bring down the Babylonian religious system with one Heavenly blow, the rest of the Body will be infused with power and might to finish off all the enemy host arrayed against them. The men of Israel pursued the philistines to the gates of Ekron, which means 'eradication'. The enemy fell down and was destroyed by the way to Shaaraim, which means 'double gates'. These are the double open doors that are coming to the Body of Christ in the coming season. The enemy has previously blocked the way and we have not been able to enter through them but the Lord of Hosts is about to give us victory over that which has stood in the way, blocking entrance to our destinies.

> 1Sa 17:55 And when Saul saw David go forth against the Philistine, he said unto Abner, the captain of the host, Abner, whose son is this youth? And Abner said, As thy soul liveth, O king, I cannot tell. And the king said, Enquire thou whose son the stripling is.

Saul had no idea who David was. The Lord will be using those who are unknown in the coming season and it will cause the established leadership of the Church to say, " who on earth is this?" The word 'stripling' means ' to veil from sight, to conceal'. These that the Lord releases in the coming season are the ones who have been veiled and hidden from the present leadership of God's people. They will appear young and inexperienced and people will scorn their appearance but they are God's grains of wheat that have fallen to the ground and died to the opinions and praise of men. They will bring forth a rich harvest and victory for the whole Church.

So be encouraged, living stones who have been churned up in your Father's refining process. The grinding and polishing have been for a purpose and your time of removal from the place of preparation is upon you. Remain yielded to your Beloved and lay your head upon His breast as you rest in His embrace. The power of the Lord of Host's strong right arm will propel you to your assignment in His perfect split-second timing. The secret of success is remaining in that living bundle, you in Him and He in you and His glory shall be seen upon you.

Reading The Bible Between The Lines

Bill Somers

Mount Gilead Ohio USA

> Jeremiah 30:2 Thus speaketh the LORD God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the words that I have spoken unto thee in a book.

September 2008

As a young schoolboy, I was puzzled by our reading teacher telling us to learn to read between the lines. Being a true Genius, as I was at the time; I concluded this was mere nonsense since there clearly is nothing but empty space between the lines. So much for the ways of the literal minded. It would have helped if the reading teacher had presented some good examples of this. Perhaps old teach didn't really have a clue either.

What I want to do in this essay is present some examples of what the Lord has shown me about reading between the lines of the Holy Bible. Some of this has to do with multiple meanings, some with typology, and some related to hearing the voice of the author behind the pen of the scribe.

So what does it mean to read between the lines, as the world understands it? Here are a couple citations from reference works.

read between the lines
To perceive or detect an obscure or unexpressed meaning > http://www.thefreedictionary.com/read+between+the+lines

read between the lines
to deduce something that is not made explicit (informal)

> Encarta® World English Dictionary © & (P) 1999,2000 Microsoft Corporation. All rights reserved. Developed for Microsoft by Bloomsbury Publishing Plc.

interpret (verb)

explain, clarify, account for, elucidate (formal), make clear, shed light on, illuminate; construe, understand, read, take, take to mean, infer, read between the lines, deduce; translate, decode, decipher, unravel, figure out > Encarta® Thesaurus © 2000 Microsoft Corporation. All rights reserved. Developed for Microsoft by Bloomsbury Publishing Plc.

Let me make it clear at the start that I follow the 'dictation theory' of biblical inspiration and inerrancy. This means that the bible was dictated by the Holy Spirit directly to the scribes, just like it says in the quote from Jeremiah above. There are many scriptures that support this view. The inerrancy part means that the written word in the original languages contains exactly what God intended it to contain. So if you think you have found an error, anomaly, or contradiction in the text of the bible, which you cannot resolve by comparing translations with the original text, then it is something God put there deliberately. And you can only resolve the issue by seeking Him for understanding.

Blind Bartimaeus

Here is a case where someone thought they found a contradiction.

> Mark 10:46 And they came to Jericho: and as he went out of Jericho with his disciples and a great number of people, blind Bartimaeus, the son of Timaeus, sat by the highway side > begging.

>
> Luke 18:35 And it came to pass, that as he was come nigh unto Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the way side begging:

There is a story told by a well known healing evangelist about a minister who thought these two verses above revealed a contradiction in the bible. In Mark, Bartimaeus cries out to Jesus as he is leaving Jericho, but in Luke he cries out to Jesus as he is coming into Jericho. This minister, according to the story was so crushed by finding what he thought was a contradiction, that he left the ministry and backslid. The evangelist relating this commented that if he had sought the Holy Spirit about the matter he would have learned that Bartimaeus cried out to Jesus the entire time he was passing through Jericho, from one end to the other. Bartimaeus was persistent in prayer and Jesus healed him. The two verses are not contradictory at all.

Reading Between The Lines Shows Authorship
Let's look at the opening of The Gospel of Luke for one illustration.

> Luke 1:1-4
> 1 Forasmuch as many have taken in hand to set forth in order a declaration of those things which are most surely believed among us,
> 2 Even as they delivered them unto us, which from the beginning were eyewitnesses, and ministers of the word;
> 3 It seemed good to me also, having had perfect understanding of all things from the very first, to write unto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus,
> 4 That thou mightest know the certainty of those things, wherein thou hast been instructed.

I want to focus on verse 3 here and see what lessons there may be.

Several dictionaries I checked tell me that Theophilus means friend of God, one says the name means loved of God. All of the dictionaries and commentaries view the word as a proper noun or name of an individual, in part because of the phrase most excellent is understood to be addressing someone of rank or status. Theo here means God and philus is related to phileo meaning love. We have similar words in English derived from Greek such as Francophile which means lover of France or the French. Philosophy means love of knowledge, which is Sophia in Greek. The name could easily mean lover of God as well as loved by God. So another possible interpretation, reading between the lines is that the writer is addressing the reader as most excellent lover of God.

Take a look at the language in the first part of verse 3. The writer describes himself as having had perfect understanding of all things from the very first. Look at this literally. Is Luke here claiming to have perfect understanding? Is this understanding of all things? Does it go back to the very first? Is this literal or is this an example of exaggeration? The term for that is hyperbole. That's where we get our word hype. It can't be literal unless this writer is the Holy Spirit speaking to us through Luke, the human vessel he is using to convey his truth.

In verse 2 the writer describes themselves as one whom from the beginning were eyewitnesses, and ministers of the word. Is this a description of Luke or of the Holy Spirit? Was Luke a minister of the word from the very beginning? I don't think so.
If you can see that this is the Holy Spirit speaking here, then you will realize that this is one example of the Spirit reassuring us that He is the Author.

Acts Of The Apostles
Let's look now at how Luke opens the Book of Acts.

> Acts 1:1 The former treatise have I made, O Theophilus, of all that Jesus began both to do and teach,

Once again our pal Theophilus is mentioned, the lover of God. Focus on the phrase the former treatise. The natural or literal interpretation of this is that Luke is speaking of the first book attributed to him, The Gospel According to Luke. The spiritual interpretation is that the Holy Spirit is speaking of the first book attributed to HIM, the Old Testament. By the Spirit you can see Jesus all through the Old Testament and all that he began to do and teach is written there. Is he not called The Word Of God? And once again the Holy Spirit is showing himself the Author of the Word.

Tertius

> Romans 16:22 I Tertius, who wrote this epistle, salute you in the Lord.

Here again in Romans, you can see the Holy Spirit identifying himself as the author of the scripture. The clue is that Tertius means third. Literally it speaks of a Roman custom of naming children first, second, third, fourth etc. Spiritually it speaks of the Third Person in the trinity, the Holy Spirit.

Tychicus

Now this example gets a little deeper. The ministry of the Holy Spirit is depicted as far more than just authorship of the scriptures.

> Ephesians 6:21-24
> 21 But that ye also may know my affairs, and how I do, Tychicus, a beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord, shall make known to you all things:
> 22 Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that ye might know our affairs, and that he might comfort your hearts.
> 23 Peace be to the brethren, and love with faith, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.
> 24 Grace be with all them that love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity. Amen. <To the Ephesians written from Rome, by Tychicus.>

At the end of verse 24, we read: To the Ephesians written from Rome, by Tychicus. The name means fateful, or fortunate, or chance or by chance. This is set off as a footnote in the King James Version. Other translations omit it altogether. What makes this fellow special is that he is mentioned in the text and having certain characteristics and certain tasks to do.

Tychicus is said to be a beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord.
He is assigned to make all things known to the Ephesians
And he is to comfort their hearts.

So here is a picture of the Ministry of the Holy Spirit. First note in verse 24, the use of three words to describe our savior. When you see the words Lord Jesus Christ it speaks of the trinity. The description of Tychicus as a beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord is easy to discern one member of the trinity speaking about another. The idea that he is make all things known and to be a comforter is clearly the function of the Holy Spirit.

> John 15:26 But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me:
>
> John 16:13 Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will shew you things to come.

What we are showing here is the character Tychicus is used as a type of the Holy Spirit, and said to be not only a writer of scripture; but sent by God to be a minister, teacher and comforter. There are also end time implications to his ministry and his ministry. Tychicus sent by Paul to the Ephesians relates to the unity of the faith that the Ephesians are coming into. This has a parallel to the Holy Spirit being poured out in the end times to bring the Church into a unity of the faith.

Tychicus is also mentioned in Colossians 4 in a similar manner.

> Colossians 4:7-9
> 7 All my state shall Tychicus declare unto you, who is a beloved brother, and a faithful minister and fellowservant in the Lord:
> 8 Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that he might know your estate, and comfort your hearts;
> 9 With Onesimus, a faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They shall make known unto you all things which are done here.

The chapter concludes with this note: <Written from Rome to Colossians by Tychicus and Onesimus.> if you have a King James Translation.

Timotheus

The name Timotheus means honor of God; valued of God. Here in this verse from First Thessalonians Timothy is sent as a comforter and he is described as a brother, minister and fellowlabourer. This is just what Tychicus is doing in the other places we have quoted from.

> 1 Thessalonians 3:2 And sent Timotheus, our brother, and minister of God, and our fellowlabourer in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith:

The following quotes from Philippians and First Corinthians show Timothy performing similar functions. But there is an added factor involved also.

> Philippians 2:19-24
> 19 But I trust in the Lord Jesus to send Timotheus shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state.
> 20 For I have no man likeminded, who will naturally care for your state.
> 21 For all seek their own, not the things which are Jesus Christ's.
> 22 But ye know the proof of him, that, as a son with the father, he hath served with me in the gospel.
> 23 Him therefore I hope to send presently, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me.
> 24 But I trust in the Lord that I also myself shall come shortly.
>
> 1 Corinthians 4:17-21
> 17 For this cause have I sent unto you Timotheus, who is my beloved son, and faithful in the Lord, who shall bring you into remembrance of my ways which be in Christ, as I teach every where in every church.
> 18 Now some are puffed up, as though I would not come to you.
> 19 But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will, and will know, not the speech of them which are puffed up, but the power.
> 20 For the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power.
> 21 What will ye? shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love, and in the spirit of meekness?

Here is the added factor. In both these passages the natural interpretation is that Paul is sending Timothy and that he [Paul] will follow shortly after. The Spiritual reading is that Jesus is sending the Holy Spirit first, after which he will come himself. So there are end time connotations to all this. In fact it’s a direct parallel with Joel’s prophecy that Peter quotes in Acts 2. First comes the Spirit, then the Day of the Lord, or Second Coming of Jesus.

> Acts 2:17-20
> 17 And it shall come to pass in the last days, saith God, I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams:
> 18 And on my servants and on my handmaidens I will pour out in those days of my Spirit; and they shall prophesy:
> 19 And I will shew wonders in heaven above, and signs in the earth beneath; blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke:
> 20 The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come:

Titus
So war we have looked at Theophilus, Tertius, Tychicus, Timotheus and now Titus. All these names starting with T makes them God's T-Men. The name Titus means pleasing or honorable. He plays his greatest part in Second Corinthians. Notice how he is described in these passages.

> 2 Corinthians 8:6-7
> 6 Insomuch that we desired Titus, that as he had begun, so he would also finish in you the same grace also.
> 7 Therefore, as ye abound in every thing, in faith, and utterance, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your love to us, see that ye abound in this grace also.
>
> 2 Corinthians 8:23 Whether any do enquire of Titus, he is my partner and fellowhelper concerning you: or our brethren be enquired of, they are the messengers of the churches, and the glory of Christ.

Now Titus' most important role is seen here in chapter 7 where it mentions the effect that the Coming Of Titus has on the Corinthian church. Recall how the first epistle to the Corinthians mentions all the contention, division, sin and corruption in that church. Now with the coming of Titus all that changes.

> 2 Corinthians 7:6-11
> 6 Nevertheless God, that comforteth those that are cast down, comforted us by the coming of Titus;
> 7 And not by his coming only, but by the consolation wherewith he was comforted in you, when he told us your earnest desire, your mourning, your fervent mind toward me; so that I rejoiced the more.
> 8 For though I made you sorry with a letter, I do not repent, though I did repent: for I perceive that the same epistle [First Corinthians] hath made you sorry, though it were but for a season.
> 9 Now I rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye sorrowed to repentance: for ye were made sorry after a godly manner, that ye might receive damage by us in nothing.
> 10 For godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation not to be repented of: but the sorrow of the world worketh death.
> 11 For behold this selfsame thing, that ye sorrowed after a godly sort, what carefulness it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what vehement desire, yea, what zeal, yea, what revenge! In all things ye have approved yourselves to be clear in this matter.

Here we are looking at the coming of the Holy Spirit typified by Titus as a factor in producing repentance. John 16 mentions the role of the Holy Ghost in revealing of sin.

> John 16:7-8
> 7 Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you.
> 8 And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of > judgment:

And now notice in verse 10 and 11 how this godly sorrow with the coming of Titus works an awesome transformation in the Corinthians. As Titus plays the part of the Holy Spirit, his coming is a picture of revival or redemption. There is sorrow because of judgment, then fear of the Lord and then great rejoicing to the point where it is said in all things ye have approved yourselves. Sorrow brings repentance, repentance brings getting right with God. That is the righteousness of the Kingdom. And the Kingdom of God brings righteousness, peace and joy in the Holy Ghost. What we are looking at here folks is a picture of the End Time Revival that brings in the Kingdom of God.

Natural and Spiritual voices.
Lets look at another element of reading between the lines. That is comparing the natural voice speaking as the scribe of the word and the spiritual voice of the Lord as the author.

> 2 Corinthians 1:8-10
> 8 For we would not, brethren, have you ignorant of our trouble which came to us in Asia, that we were pressed out of measure, above strength, insomuch that we despaired even of life:
> 9 But we had the sentence of death in ourselves, that we should not trust in ourselves, but in God which raiseth the dead:
> 10 Who delivered us from so great a death, and doth deliver: in whom we trust that he will yet deliver us;

Here the natural voice is that of Paul talking about his troubles. But consider this. These words would be just as true if they were spoken directly by Jesus himself. You just have to remember that Jerusalem in Israel is located in Asia. It was there that Jesus gave up his life. He was under a sentence of death, but He trusted in God for his resurrection. So the spiritual voice here is that of Jesus speaking of his death and resurrection.

The same can be said of this verse from Phillipians.

> Philippians 1:12 But I would ye should understand, brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto the furtherance of the gospel;

Here the natural reading is speaking of Paul's sufferings leading an increase of preaching the good news. The spiritual reading is Jesus telling us that what happened to him was really good news. We commonly think of His crucifixion and death as a great injustice. And we lament that the Jews missed their time of visitation. But do we forget that the Jews were supposed to miss their visitation? If they had not been blinded and unable to see their messiah in Jesus, then they would have seen their visitation as from the Lord. And embraced him as King.

But then there would have been no crucifixion, and no penalty paid for sin, and no salvation available to anyone! That would have been the greater tragedy. So he is saying don't be upset by what happened to him, it was meant to be for the redemption of all of us. It is what made the good news possible. If the Jews had not been blinded, there would be no good news to preach.

The Lord Speaks Of His Return.
We quoted these next two verses earlier. In both of these the spiritual voice is that of the Lord Jesus speaking directly to the reader.

> Philippians 2:24 But I trust in the Lord that I also myself shall come shortly.

> 1 Corinthians 4:19 But I will come to you shortly*, if the Lord will, and will know, not the speech of them which are puffed up, but the power.*

Here are several more that exhibit the same feature.

3 John 1:14 But I trust I shall shortly see thee, and we shall speak face to face. Peace be to thee. Our friends salute thee. Greet the friends by name.

Romans 1:9-11
9 For God is my witness, whom I serve with my spirit in the gospel of his Son, that without ceasing I make mention of you always in my prayers;
10 Making request, if by any means now at length I might have a prosperous journey by the will of God to come unto you.
11 For I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end ye may be established;

Romans 15:24-25
24 Whensoever I take my journey into Spain, I will come to you: for I trust to see you in my journey, and to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first I be somewhat filled with your company.
25 But now I go unto Jerusalem to minister unto the saints.

Romans 15:29 And I am sure that, when I come unto you, I shall come in the fulness of the blessing of the gospel of Christ.

In all of these Jesus is concerned with his Second Coming. What could be more important?

Trial By Fire
Priscilla Van Sutphin

July 14th, 2004
tearsofthefather@comcast.net

1 Peter 4:12-18 NKJV Suffering for God's Glory Beloved, do not think it strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened to you; 13 but rejoice to the extent that you partake of Christ's sufferings, that when His glory is revealed, you may also be glad with exceeding joy.

14 If you are reproached for the name of Christ, blessed are you, for the Spirit of glory and of God rests upon you. On their part He is blasphemed, but on your part He is glorified. 15 But let none of you suffer as a murderer, a thief, an evildoer, or as a busybody in other people's matters. 16 Yet if anyone suffers as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God in this matter.

17 For the time has come for judgment to begin at the house of God; and if it begins with us first, what will be the end of those who do not obey the gospel of God?

Rev 3:9-13 NKJV Indeed I will make those of the synagogue of Satan, who say they are Jews and are not, but lie — indeed I will make them come and worship before your feet, and to know that I have loved you. 10 Because you have kept My command to persevere, I also will keep you from the hour of trial which shall come upon the whole world, to test those who dwell on the earth. 11 Behold, I am coming quickly! Hold fast what you have, that no one may take your crown. 12 He who overcomes, I will make him a pillar in the temple of My God, and he shall go out no more. I will write on him the name of My God and the name of the city of My God, the New Jerusalem, which comes down out of heaven from My God. And I will write on him My new name. 13 "He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches."'

"I AM the Alpha and Omega, the Beginning and the End! I know the end from the beginning in the lives of all who live! I know what the future holds and I know what you will do before you do it! I have seen it, even as I formed you in the womb, and knew you before the foundations of the earth!

So why do you worry? Why do you fret? So many before you and so many in the east already know what it is to suffer for My sake. But you, My church, haven't a clue to what real suffering is like, many of you. You have lived in affluence compared to the rest of the world, and you have been blessed beyond imagination. Only a remnant lives that knows what suffering is. I have refined them in the fires of rejection, affliction, crippling sickness and persecution, so that they would be able to speak into the lives of those when true persecution comes, when true trials come. They have paid the cost, and they are familiar with suffering and they know the value of that suffering!

They know HUMILITY! They know DEPENDENCY on ME, as they had to rely on Me, when no one else was a comfort to them. They knew My comfort in the midst of people judging them instead of loving them! They have had hours and hours, and years of time alone with ME! And I am now going to exalt the HUMBLE, and bring down the PRIDE and ARROGANCE that leads to corruption in My house!

Dan 4:37 NKJV Now I, Nebuchadnezzar, praise and extol and honor the King of heaven, all of whose works are truth, and His ways justice. And those who walk in pride He is able to put down.

I am coming quickly and I will level every mountain and exalt every valley, and I will form a bride who is without idolatry in her heart! I am doing that right now, and I will not allow any competition with My love! And I will put into the hands of the humble, the means to help the poor, the power to overcome the enemy in the lives of others, and the resources to house the homeless! I will raise up a standard that will RESTORE My church to the Bride I want it to be! I will have no other gods before Me! I will have no more harsh taskmaster ruling in My house!

The humble will see vindication and those who have slandered the humble will be tried by FIRE that will expose all that is in their hearts, till all the dross is burned away! I am a FAITHFUL and JEALOUS LOVER! I will not allow anything to get in the way of My love! And I will make you restorers and repairers of the breech, and you will be called trees of righteousness! The planting of the Lord! And many will come to the brightness of My glory because of what I do in you!

It has begun!

{ keep in mind this was given last summer before tsunami and hurricanes and quakes! }

I have sounded the trumpets and you have been warned, and now I come. I will lift Myself up! I will be exalted in all the earth! I will make My name glorious, and there will no longer remain any on earth who do not know WHO I AM! For I will be revealed and I will make My Son a majestic bride from all nations of the earth! Who will go for US? Who will consider the cost? Who will be willing in the day of My power?

Have I not shown you the end from the beginning? Do you not know Who wins? YOU ARE THE VICTORS MY BELOVEDS! I will no longer hold back My love from My bride. I will bring you forth as GOLD refined in the fire!

You will shine like the stars in the heavens and My glory will be SEEN upon you! And the knowledge of the Lord will cover the earth as the waters cover the seas!

Isa 60:2 NKJV For behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and deep darkness the people; but the LORD will arise over you, and His glory will be seen upon you.

Isa 61:1-8 NKJV The Good News of Salvation "The Spirit of the Lord GOD is upon Me, because the LORD has anointed Me To preach good tidings to the poor; He has sent Me to heal the brokenhearted, To proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to those who are bound; 2 To proclaim the acceptable year of the LORD, and the day of vengeance of our God; To comfort all who mourn, 3 To console those who mourn in Zion, To give them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; That they may be called trees of righteousness, The planting of the LORD, that He may be glorified." 4 And they shall rebuild the old ruins, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the ruined cities, the desolations of many generations. 5 Strangers shall stand and feed your flocks, and the sons of the foreigner shall be your plowmen and your vinedressers. 6 But you shall be named the priests of the LORD, they shall call you the servants of our God. You shall eat the riches of the Gentiles, and in their glory you shall boast. 7 Instead of your shame you shall have double honor, and instead of confusion they shall rejoice in their portion. Therefore in their land they shall possess double; Everlasting joy shall be theirs. 8 "For I, the LORD, love justice; I hate robbery for burnt offering; I will direct their work in truth, and will make with them an everlasting covenant.

Ps 45:9-11 NKJV Kings' daughters are among Your honorable women; At Your right hand stands the queen in gold from Ophir. 10 Listen, O daughter,consider and incline your ear; forget your own people also, and your father's house; 11 So the King will greatly desire your beauty; because He is your Lord, worship Him.

A Flame
Priscilla Van Sutphin

Dec. 7th, 2005

A vehement flame of fire will I make my one desire
A flame that burns and burns till it becomes a great pyre.
For night after night He brings, love songs that He sings

And in my ears a great treasure He brings.
Longing for Him grew dim for My heart had grown faint
Worldly cares & enemy's dares taunted me and my mind did taint
And all around was the din of the fray
Of changing times and much DELAY.
I tired for want of seeing His face
I felt so alone and longed so much for the GRACE
To see Him again and to feel His sweet touch
The longing so long and delay became too much.

I lost strength in the battle and felt like so much chattel.
I forgot the many times of treasured talk He gave.
My heart seemed to move closer to the grave.
The season was so long and so dry,
All my heart could do is weep and cry.
I longed for my Lover and I thought I would die
When suddenly there was a sign of life again nearby.
I knew He'd always been there for He promised never to leave
But in my heart I was sorely grieved
For I longed for that wonder, that awe to behold
And I wanted again to taste of Him and be BOLD.

His sweetness is always around when in need
But I longed for more and more in my need.
I knew He had more, and my heart was a rush
To see what He would do in the midst of the hush.
"I'm making you a flame", He said from His heart
"I'm making you a flame, so you will start
A fire in the hearts of others you will see
A fire in their hearts that will make them think of ME.
I'm the ONE above all they need to know
And I'm the One who has power for them to grow!
I'm needing an army that will not back down you see
I'm needing an army to GO for ME.

I'm love and I'm kindness, I'm hope amidst the fray.
I'm peace and I'm joy and I'm justice in this day!
I'll love you forever and by your side will I stay!
I'll put an end to the madness and to the enemy I'll repay.
I'll repay his deceit with many a miracle, sign and wonder,
To his minions, will My voice THUNDER!
A final blast of the trumpet will I blow
To that last enemy; death, will I throw
Down in the pit will he go and no longer know
The pleasure of stealing My sheep from their glow.
For JOY will fill every heart in the nations
That longs for the KING and with HIM wants relations!

Chattel: def. 2 : SLAVE, BONDSMAN

Routed
Priscilla Van Sutphin

Dec. 8th, 2005
tearsofthefather@comcast.net

www.upstreamca.org

Ps 92:11 NIV My eyes have seen the defeat of my adversaries; my ears have heard the rout of my wicked foes.

Ps 144:5-15 NIV Part your heavens, O LORD, and come down; touch the mountains, so that they smoke. 6 Send forth lightning and scatter [the enemies]; shoot your arrows and rout them. 7 Reach down your hand from on high; deliver me and rescue me from the mighty waters, from the hands of foreigners 8 whose mouths are full of lies, whose right hands are deceitful.
9 I will sing a new song to you, O God; on the ten-stringed lyre I will make music to you, 10 to the One who gives victory to kings, who delivers his servant David from the deadly sword. 11 Deliver me and rescue me from the hands of foreigners whose mouths are full of lies, whose right hands are deceitful.
12 Then our sons in their youth will be like well-nurtured plants, and our daughters will be like pillars carved to adorn a palace. 13 Our barns will be filled with every kind of provision. Our sheep will increase by thousands, by tens of thousands in our fields; 14 our oxen will draw heavy loads. There will be no breaching of walls, no going into captivity, no cry of distress in our streets. 15 Blessed are the people of whom this is true; blessed are the people whose God is the LORD.

"I am sending forth My arrows into the camp of the enemy! I will rout as you tout the wonders of My love, and shout your praises! I am anxious to perform My glorious surprise! For I have you directly in My eyes and I know the longing in your heart My beloveds to see the church restored to it's former power. But I tell you now that I am CAPABLE. I am WANTING it more than you! And I will establish a pure and HOLY bride!

I am not slack in My promises. I do all things perfectly in My time! And it will not be because you prayed enough! It will not be because you were faithful enough, but because of MY GLORY, and MY FAITHFULNESS to you,
That I do a marvelous work in your time! I have many faithful in the midst of the weak, and in the midst of the tares. But I have seen the enemy's snares, and I will rout the enemy unawares! I will cleave the head of the harlot and I will rout all that is rotten and profane in My true church.
I AM THE ALMIGHTY GOD, AND THE ONE AND ONLY GOD, AND THE EARTH WILL KNOW THAT IT IS I, THE LORD GOD OF ISRAEL THAT RULES IN THE HEAVENS AND OVER ALL THINGS IN AND UNDER
THE EARTH. FOR IN THE END, MY RULERSHIP WILL TRIUMPH OVER ALL THINGS. Man thinks he has the upper hand, and My enemies think they Will succeed. But that kingdom runs on deception and dillusion and I have Many surprises in MY arsenal.

Come, NOW IS THE TIME TO WORSHIP! Now is the time to worship ME.
Now is the time to PRAISE MY NAME IN ALL THE EARTH. For the earth will be filled with the glory. The earth will be filled with the knowledge of Your LORD, as the waters cover the seas, and ALL NATIONS will bow to ME.

Do not be afraid of his arrows, for MY ARROWS are much bigger. And I am making many of your sons and daughters into great ARROWS of LIGHT that will fill the earth with My fragrance! They will be shot forth like arrows into the darkness, and they will bring RESTORATION to cities, and nations across the earth. Pray for your SEED! PRAY FOR THE YOUTH OF THE EARTH to receive revelation! For I am going to do a marvelous thing in the earth. A think you cannot fathom. A thing that is GLORIOUS and AWESOME! I WILL ROUT THE ENEMY and you will do mighty exploits in My name!

Come into My gates with THANKSGIVING for what I am going to DO! Enter into My courts with PRAISE for what I have done, and what I WILL DO! For I am increasing in the earth and I am increasing in your hearts, and I will increase until you are filled to the full with My glory! COME, COME, COME My bride and come into My chambers for I want to hold you and pour My life giving LOVE into you! I will give you STRENGTH, and I WILL pour in MY LOVE that casts down ALL FEAR! COME, for I will transform you as you lay down your agenda and take ME as Your inheritance!

Ps 18:1-17 Amp [A Psalm] of David the servant of the Lord, who spoke the words of this song to the Lord on the day when the Lord delivered him from the hand of all his enemies and from the hand of Saul. And he said:

I LOVE You fervently and devotedly, O Lord, my Strength.
2 The Lord is my Rock, my Fortress, and my Deliverer; my God, my keen and firm Strength in Whom I will trust and take refuge, my Shield, and the Horn of my salvation, my High Tower. [Heb 2:13.] 3 I will call upon the Lord, Who is to be praised; so shall I be saved from my enemies. [Rev 5:12.] 4 The cords or bands of death surrounded me, and the streams of ungodliness and the torrents of ruin terrified me. 5 The cords of Sheol (the place of the dead) surrounded me; the snares of death confronted and came upon me.

6 In my distress [when seemingly closed in] I called upon the Lord and cried to my God; He heard my voice out of His temple (heavenly dwelling place), and my cry came before Him, into His [very] ears. 7 Then the earth quaked and rocked, the foundations also of the mountains trembled; they moved and were shaken because He was indignant and angry. 8 There went up smoke from His nostrils; and lightning out of His mouth devoured; coals were kindled by it. 9 He bowed the heavens also and came down; and thick darkness was under His feet.

10 And He rode upon a cherub [a storm] and flew [swiftly]; yes, He sped on with the wings of the wind. 11 He made darkness His secret hiding place; as His pavilion (His canopy) round about Him were dark waters and thick clouds of the skies. 12 Out of the brightness before Him there broke forth through His thick clouds hailstones and coals of fire. 13 The Lord also thundered from the heavens, and the Most High uttered His voice, amid hailstones and coals of fire. 14 And He sent out His arrows and scattered them; and He flashed forth lightnings and put them to rout .

15 Then the beds of the sea appeared and the foundations of the world were laid bare at Your rebuke, O Lord, at the blast of the breath of Your nostrils.
16 He reached from on high, He took me; He drew me out of many waters.
17 He delivered me from my strong enemy and from those who hated and abhorred me, for they were too strong for me.

Upstream Ministries
15660 Tustin Village Way #27
Tustin, Ca 92780

Unbridled Passion
Priscilla Van Sutphin

July 12th 2004
tearsofthefather@comcast.net
www.upstreamca.org

Song 1:2-4 NKJV Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth — For your love is better than wine. 3 Because of the fragrance of your good ointments, Your name is ointment poured forth; Therefore the virgins love you. 4 Draw me away!

THE DAUGHTERS OF JERUSALEM
We will run after you.
THE SHULAMITE
The king has brought me into his chambers.

THE DAUGHTERS OF JERUSALEM
We will be glad and rejoice in you. We will remember your love more than wine.

"My kisses are not like your kisses. My kisses are holy. My kisses are revolutionary! My kisses REVEAL ME! My kisses are revelation of My love for you and Who I AM! And for this reason, the virgins,[those not defiled by idolatry], love ME ALONE! And I am taking you into MY CHAMBERS! I AM TAKING YOU IN to INTIMACY with ME, for I AM the LOVER of your soul! And I am a jealous God, and I will have a pure and spotless Bride!

My kisses are sweeter than honey! My kisses reveal to you so many things including My secrets. I only share My secrets with my lovers! Those who are willing to surrender to Me all that is them, and all that is their's. I am FAITHFUL AND TRUE, and My kisses are not betraying. I don't kiss you, then remove My love!

I am faithful and true to My WORD! I will NEVER leave you nor forsake you! I am in love with you! I am eternally forgiving and eternally faithful in My love that is unconditional for you. Like a good parent, My love NEVER FAILS.

Can you imagine a world void of love? THAT is the enemy's camp! There is never any love there! It is to be eternally separated from My love! Can you imagine that My beloveds? Then you can realize the importance of HARVEST!

Every day the enemy is taking with him many who have died without ME deceived into unbelief and skepticism and hatred! Will you LOVE ME ENOUGH to lay down your lives? Is it too hard My loves? Is there anything I ask of you, that I don't give you the GRACE to do? Don't be afraid to lay it all down! I am speaking of everything. EVERYTHING. Your hopes, your dreams, your family, your things, your ministry, your business, your home, your car, your pets, your opinions - these all can be idols. So I ask you to commit them all to MY keeping, and for the purposes of My Kingdom! Then you will know what TRUE FREEDOM IS!

Mercy and TRUTH have kissed each other! Righteousness and peace are the foundation of My throne. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow you all the days of your lives, and you will dwell in the house of the Lord forever, and ever and ever! I desire MERCY and not sacrifice I have said. So I am asking you to lay down and receive MY LOVE and My healing, that you might endure the reproof that is at the door!

I am raising up the tent of DAVID and I will establish MY WILL. Just as in the days of Moses, I am calling out, "LET MY PEOPLE GO! THAT THEY MIGHT WORSHIP ME! " I will remove the cover of oppression that is trying to keep you from the fullness of TRUE WORSHIP! And you will fulfill the call of holiness and the days of POWER that are coming! You will fulfill the expression of My love when you love one another AS I HAVE LOVED YOU! So lay aside all unforgiveness and any hatred or disdain in your heart for those in My church.

Relent from all desire for vengeance! LOOSE the chains of unforgiveness and I will loose the chains of oppression over you! Charity covers a multitude of sins! LOVE IS KIND!

1 Cor 13:4 NIV Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud.

1 Peter 4:8 KJV And above all things have fervent charity among yourselves: for charity shall cover the multitude of sins.

CHARITY
NT:26 agape (ag-ah'-pay); from NT:25; love, i.e. affection or benevolence; specially (plural) a love-feast: KJV - (feast of) charity ([-ably]), dear, love.

NT:25 agapao (ag-ap-ah'-o); perhaps from agan (much) [or compare OT:5689]; to love (in a social or moral sense): KJV - (be-) love (-ed). Compare NT:5368.
OT:5689 `agab (aw-gab'); a primitive root; to breathe after, i.e. to love (sensually): KJV - dote, lover.

NT:5368 phileo (fil-eh'-o); from NT:5384; to be a friend to (fond of [an individual or an object]), i.e. have affection for (denoting personal attachment, as a matter of sentiment or feeling; while NT:25 is wider, embracing especially the judgment and the deliberate assent of the will as a matter of principle, duty and propriety: the two thus stand related very much as NT:2309 and NT:1014, or as NT:2372 and NT:3563 respectively; the former being chiefly of the heart and the latter of the head); specifically, to kiss (as a mark of tenderness): KJV - kiss, love.

If I am so charitable towards you, can you not be charitable to those who have offended you? Is there anything that I have not forgiven you? Is there anything hidden from Me? Is there anything you have done or are going to do that I don't know about? The same is true of those around you! There is nothing I do not know about what they have done or what they will do!

So ask of ME when you need wisdom about others. Be forbearing of others, even as I forbear all the things you do to offend Me! I DON'T hold a grudge against you! So why do you hold grudges? Is this what I have taught you by My example or by My Word?

I AM LOVE! I AM MERCY! I AM FAITHFUL and TRUE! I AM ALMIGHTY! Is there anything too hard for ME?

Think of something you think is too hard and ask if it is something I could do!! With GOD ALL THINGS ARE POSSIBLE! So think BIG, and ASK BIG My BELOVEDS! I AM the GOD OF THE IMPOSSIBLE!

ABBA

Upstream Ministries is a nonprofit organization registered with State and Federal authority. Donations may be given online at www.upstreamca.org or check or money order sent to 15660 Tustin Village Way #27, Tustin, Ca 92780

The Refiner's Fire

Don Walker

Hurricane Katrina, and its resulting devastation and suffering, raises the inevitable question of "Why would a loving God allow such human suffering?" You, like me, have certainly heard this question posed by various people as they wrestle with this age-old dilemma. This same thing was voiced four years ago following 9/11. We find this issue addressed in what is generally regarded as the oldest book in the Bible, the Book of Job. But we also find it being spoken to by God in many other places in Scripture.

For us as believers we rest in the goodness and the sovereignty of God (Rom. 8:28). That confidence enables us to trust God even when we don't understand the "why." As God relates to us it is always for a redemptive purpose. Peter tells us that the purpose of trials is, "that the tested genuineness of your faith – more precious than gold that perishes though it is tested by fire – may be found to result in praise and glory and honor at the revelation of Jesus Christ" (I Peter 1:7). Elsewhere the Scriptures teach us:

"The refining pot is for silver and the furnace for gold, but the Lord tests hearts" (Prov. 17:3).

"But who can endure the day of His coming? And who can stand when He appears? For He is like a refiner's fire and like fuller's soap. He will sit as a smelter and purifier of silver, and He will purify the son's of Levi and refine them like gold and silver, so that they may present to the Lord offerings in righteousness" (Mal. 3:2-3).

God is as serious about "refining" us as the silversmith is about purging all the dross out of his silver. He will keep working until the result is pure. Note that God says He "will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver"; in other words, God has all the time in the world. He is in no hurry. He will wait patiently until the job is done.

If gold or silver had feelings it would feel that it was being abused, being subjected to unbearable and pointless suffering. But silver and gold are not competent to judge their own condition or the ultimate result of their sufferings; that is solely the prerogative of the refiner. Likewise, we must bear in mind that the "divine refiner" alone knows "the end from the beginning" (Isa. 46:10). We need to view suffering as part of God's loving ministry to His own peculiar treasure (I Peter 4:12-19). God afflicts us in order to refine and purify us to be fit vessels for His Kingdom. G.K. Chesterton made this observation: "The mystery of suffering may be a strange honor and not a vulgar punishment; that the King may be conferring a decoration when He pins the man on the cross as much as when pins the cross on the man."

But how does the Refiner know when His job is "done?" The ancient refiner had a foolproof method of ensuring the purity of his product. He would gaze into the molten silver until he could see his own reflection. When the silver took upon itself that "mirror–like quality" it was properly refined. Romans 8:29 states that God's purpose, as He works in our lives, is that we "become conformed to the image of His Son," a reflection of Christ. In II Corinthians 3:18, Paul reverses the illustration when he says: "But we all, with unveiled face, beholding as in a mirror the glory of the Lord, are being transformed into the same image from glory to glory, just as from the Lord, the Spirit." Our Lord will continue His purifying work until He sees His reflected image.

How does this take place? If God's foreordained plan is for us to become as an "exact" image of Christ (as is possible for a creature to be), how does He accomplish it? It is through the refiner's fire that He must take us. John Flavel, a 17th century Puritan, wrote: "Let a Christian be but two or three years without an affliction, and he is almost good for nothing: he cannot pray, nor meditate, nor discourse as he was wont to do; but when a new affliction comes, now he can find his tongue, and comes to his knees again, and lives at another rate." Paul relates, in his second letter to the church at Corinth, the manner of afflictions and sufferings he experienced on his spiritual journey. He recounts his numerous beatings, shipwrecks, imprisonments, and distresses. He speaks of being "always delivered to death for Jesus' sake" (II Cor. 4:11). But how does Paul view all this?

He sees it this way: "For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, is working for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory, while we do not look at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen. For the things which are seen are temporary, but the things which are not seen are eternal." (II Cor. 4:17-18).

Paul Billheimer, in his book Don't Waste Your Sorrows remarks, "In order to grow in character it is necessary to understand that nothing that God permits to come to his child, whether "good" or "ill," is accidental or without design. Everything is intended to drive him out of himself into God." The Biblical approach to suffering is not fatalistic -- it is purposeful for the believer. It therefore, though not sought for, should be embraced when it comes. In Romans 5:3-5 we are told:" … we also exult in our tribulations, knowing that tribulation brings about perseverance; and perseverance, proven character; and proven character, hope; and hope does not disappoint, because the love of God has been poured out within our hearts through the Holy Spirit who was given to us."

Charles Spurgeon told the story of Betty, a poor old woman who had been tirelessly active in the Lord's service. She visited the sick; out of her own poverty she gave to those who were still poorer; she collected a little money from others when she could give none of her own, and told many of the love of Christ. At last she caught a cold and rheumatism and lay in bed month after month, racked with pain and helpless. A minister went to see her and asked if after her abundant activity she did not find the change hard to endure.

" No sir, not at all. When I was well, I used to hear the Lord say day by day, 'Betty, go here. Betty, go there. Betty, do this. Betty, do that, and I used to do it as well as I could. And now I hear Him say every day, 'Betty, lie still and cough.'"

As difficult as it is for our flesh, I pray that we would embrace the "refiner's fire." May the "Heavenly Refiner" be able to look into our lives and see the reflection of Himself.

Tribulations

Gaylene Womack

While on a Sabbatical Rest

July 27, 2002

discipleministries@msn.com

Income lost, social security subsides. Many will curse God and for a morsel of food, their inheritance deny . . . taking the mark of the beast, God they will curse, many to fall to the way side, with the devil they will coerce.

Judgment beginning at the house of God, into the fire they go . . . sifted as wheat. Faith failing them because their foundation is not of Me.

Bringing despite to the Spirit of grace, many fornicate . . . this should not be. The church full of leaven with no one offended . . . out come My sheep to partake of a new heaven – the third is where they will be . . . as in the third day; third day water made into wine, God came down to visit Moses and the people on the third day, Jesus arose on the third day, His Second Coming is in the third day. In the third day, I am all they seek, it is My meat that they eat . . . the chosen of Me.

Great despair is coming for those not prepared. Repentance is required and separation from the world and all that offends Me.

For those that love Me the new wine shall soon be poured out from My third heaven, My throne. New wineskins, My manifested sons are to Me. They shall not be drunk as with wine from man but they shall be filled with My Spirit right to the brim . . . the adversary shall fear and from these he shall flee; these that dwell in the holy of holies, partaking only from Me. They have come from the outer court, to the inner court and into the holy of holies; from the flesh they did flee. Again there is the number three. Three courts that end in the manifestation of Me within . . . the refined, purified, sanctified vessels they are to Me. Three processes to become like Me . . . doing the works of My Son, they are well pleasing to Me; garments of praise they will be for Me. Hated by man but loved by Me.

Their message to the people shall be: repent and come unto Me. Choose this day which way it shall be; either hot or cold, lukewarm I will spew out. Off the fence you will be thrown. You are either for Me or against Me. No other decision . . . one to life, one to death, either in the light or darkness you will be. The choice is yours with no more delay; for all that has been prophesied from old will soon begin, the last hour, the seventh day, the last scene until I come again in the clouds for all to see; bringing My rewards, giving you the last victory . . . a mystery complete.

From now until then, keep your eyes stayed on Me, that by the devil you will not be deceived; but over those in the outer court he will have victory; those in the inner court, harder it will be for him to deceive; those in the holy of holies have the complete victory. Those that will be martyred will gladly lay down their lives; for with Me they shall soon reside. Those that make it through the last 3½ years, overcomers they will be.

Deny yourselves, take up your cross . . . that has not been the gospel preached. The morning dawns, the Star shall arise, bright and shining throughout this world they shall be preaching truth of My sufferings you must go through, or My inheritance you will not receive.

The lake of fire is real but there has been no focus on that eternal abode. Only of heaven do I hear from defiled lips that are deceived; thinking in heaven is where they shall be; such deception does not come from Me, for My Word says no unclean shall be with Me, you must go through the process to be in the holy of holies with Me. No fornicator, drunkard, reviler, liar nor unclean shall ever be with Me, for by My blood you must be cleansed. Washed in My water, baptized with My Spirit, sanctified and filled, denying your flesh in order to be with Me. You choose which place you'll be . . . in the lake of fire for eternity or with Me.

There is a price to pay, sufferings, tribulations will be the order of that day. They say all is well, but that is a lie. I told you, you would know them by their love and by My fruit. Liars serve the evil one and are not of My kingdom. How much more do you need to hear to know the deceiver is near? Satan comes as an angel of light, even speaking My Word, only to deceive and entrap into his deception. Beware children, those deceivers serve him well. Unprepared they would have you to be. In My Word, does it not say do not call evil good? That seems to be the order in this day, for in this nation there is great deception. Take heed to yourselves lest you be ensnared.

Banners fly, praises sing, in My third heaven hallelujahs ring; in My third heaven they are about to shout . . . here comes your victory.

To The Weary Saints!
Gaylene Wolmack

discipleministries@msn.com

Moses speaks. . .

As Moses and his followers were in the midst of the battle of taking possession of the enemy's land (they had come out of the wilderness), he became tired and his uplifted hands fell. That stopped the anointing that was giving them power to take the land (Ex.17:11). If you've been in the isolation/preparation chambers for years and are at this point of being weary, take heart, there is good news. Your time of going into the enemy's camp and taking his goods is upon you.

Moses' two companions sat him down on a stone. Why? This is a type/shadow of today's remnant that has been through the fires and in the wilderness for years and are now come forth out of the wilderness to go and possess the kingdom of God. The rock Moses sat on is Christ. . . the rock of our salvation (deliverance). This is representative of our new Sabbath. . . rest from our works and dependent on the finished work of the cross. It's not by might nor by power but by My Spirit saith the Lord. The battle is the Lord's and the victory is ours. We've entered the 7th day, which is the Sabbath rest.

Aaron (a Levite, a priest – of which we are to be) and Hur (means white linen – we must have on the robe of righteousnes) held up Moses' hands, with the rod of God in one of them (Ex. 17:9), so Joshua and his troops could finish the battle before the sun went down. This signifies our battle (of entering the promised land; our inheritance) is to be won within the time frame of one day. We know that the Lord will suddenly come to His temple (Mal. 3:1), of which we are! What is the purpose of His coming? Ex. 15:17 Thou shalt bring them in and plant them in the mountain of Thine inheritance*, in the place, O Lord, which Thou hast made for Thee to dwell in, in the Sanctuary, O Lord which Thy hands have established.* We are that sanctuary and we are being prepared to receive our inheritance within a one day span of time!

The Holy Spirit is trying to unite His troops together to hold each other up in this time of fierce battle (James 5:16). The adversary does not want to lose this battle because he knows the purified battle axes (Jere. 51:20 Thou art My battle axe and weapons of war: for with thee will I break in pieces the nations, and with thee will I destroy kingdoms) are coming forth as a rod in the hand of the Lord.

We have also entered the 3rd day since the ascension of Christ. Let's see what our instructions are for this 3rd day. The Israelites were told to make a 3 day journey into the wilderness (Ex. 3:18) to make a sacrifice unto the Lord the 3rd day. We know they were punished and it was extended to 40 years and the unfaithful did not enter into the promised land, their inheritance. However, those that have obeyed the Lord and stayed faithful in their wilderness experience, of many multiplied years, the 3rd day is upon us. We are instructed to be sanctified and wash our clothes (search our hearts for any unforgiveness or bitterness that may reside there because of all the rejection and betrayal we've experienced in our wilderness journey) (Ex. 19:10). The Lord is about to suddenly come to His temple (Ex. 19:11; Mal. 3:1).

Remember, as the Israelites left Egypt, they had favor with the Egyptians and took their silver and gold jewelry. They left their preparation chambers, so to speak, with the goods of the adversary!! Expect to receive the silver and the gold, that you may go forth to establish the kingdom of the Lord! After all, it does take money, along with the anointing.

Trust in Me

Priscilla Van Sutphin

Dec. 12, 2005

Prov 3:5 NKJV Trust in the LORD with all your heart, And lean not on your own understanding;

Isa 57:13 AMP When you cry out, let your [rabble] collection of idols deliver you! But the wind shall take them all, a breath shall carry them away. But he who takes refuge in Me shall possess the land [Judea] and shall inherit My holy mountain [Zion, also the heavenly inheritance and the spiritual Zion]. [Ps 37:9,11; 69:35,36; Isa 49:8; Matt 5:5; Heb 12:22.]

Isa 57:13 NKJV When you cry out, Let your collection of idols deliver you.
But the wind will carry them all away, A breath will take them. But he who puts his trust in Me shall possess the land, and shall inherit My holy mountain."

Ps 37:9-13 AMP For evildoers shall be cut off, but those who wait and hope and look for the Lord [in the end] shall inherit the earth. [Isa 57:13 c.]
10 For yet a little while, and the evildoers will be no more; though you look with care where they used to be, they will not be found. [Heb 10:36,37; Rev 21:7,8.] 11 But the meek [in the end] shall inherit the earth and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace. [Ps 37:29; Matt 5:5.]
12 The wicked plot against the [uncompromisingly] righteous (the upright in right standing with God); they gnash at them with their teeth. 13 The Lord laughs at [the wicked], for He sees that their own day [of defeat] is coming.

“ I’m taking you through a tunnel of hope. There is much warfare ahead and more than you can imagine all over the world in the days ahead. So I am embuing you with more of My Holy Spirit that you will be able to TRUST ME MORE than you ever have. You have not been beaten down like the Chinese for years, and murdered, and maimed like the Vietnamese, Laotians and many in Pakistan and India. My Western BRIDE, you are like children crying in the marketplace, we played our flutes for you, we sang our songs for you, but You did nothing. YOU need FAITH, extraordinary faith for the days ahead, so you will be able to endure the hardship and wickedness that is growing.

KNOW THAT I AM WITH YOU IN THE FIRES, I AM WITH YOU IN THE STORMS,
I AM WITH YOU IN THE VIOLENCE AND OPPRESSION. KNOW THAT I AM SENDING MANY OF YOU OVERSEAS. SOME WILL GO WILLINGLY. OTHERS WILL GO UNWILLINGLY. Some will go because they were unwilling to do what I wanted as Jonah was. So like he got swallowed in the whale, and like Thomas was taken as a slave to India, you will go!

You have been abundant with riches WESTERN BRIDE, and now you will experience what it is to be a foreigner in a strange land, because you were unwilling to go, unwilling to give, unwilling to endure hardship as a good soldier. Now you will have another chance. Changes are eroding your nations, and you will see great miracles and signs and wonders all over the earth as I use you to harvest the nations. Other nations will come to your shores and share what you are unwilling to share in your streets and cities. They will be unafraid, because they have already paid the cost.

Those who have been willing but held back; there is an appointed time! I have not forgotten you. I am building in you greater intimacy with me through sufferings and hardships, that you may truly react as a Christian when confronted with hate and violence. For the darkness grows darker, as My light shines brighter in you. Those who endure to the end will receive the crown of LIFE! Do not be dismayed! Do not be moved by circumstances, but REJOICE in ME. SHOUT with JOY as I am drawing nearer the earth, and MY GLORY will be SEEN UPON YOU as you go out! Those of like minds and hearts will be drawn to you My beloveds! They will know you because they have My Spirit. Those who persecute you will be those who walk with a carnal mind and heart. I am purifying you with FIRE.

As My glory comes, it exposes all that is in your heart, good and bad, light and dark.
Do not be dismayed by what you see that is not of Me! Renounce, and ask for MORE OF ME! I am cleansing all that is not of Me. There is also a strategy of the enemy to accuse you over and over, though you have repented. So do not fall for his tricks.
Give it all to me, and do not condemn your own hearts. I am bigger than your hearts!

I have paid the price so you can walk in freedom. You have ability to enter the HOLY OF HOLIES. All it takes is drawing near. Do not punish yourself, but renounce all self condemnation, all self accusation and self hatred. If your body is already clean, by the waters of redemption then you only have to wash your feet daily! I am forever FORGIVENESS. I am forever YOUR KING, and YOUR LOVER! I am not carrying a whip. I correct those I love. And I love you unconditionally, forever and forever, and forever. Throw off the accuser! CAST HIM OUT!

Do not be anxious for ANYTHING. I will sustain you, day to day, hour to hour, minute to minute. Rise up and LAY HOLD OF THE SWORD I HAVE PUT IN YOUR HAND. WIELD IT AGAINST HIM. PROPHESY TO THE SPIRITS OF FALSE RELIGION AND ACCUSATION, AND WITCHCRAFT OF THIS AGE. PROPHESY!
PROPHESY THEIR END! PRAY TO BRING DOWN THE WALLS OF ISLAM! PRAY FOR MICHAEL TO ARISE! THIS IS THE HOUR HE WILL ARISE FOR THE SAKE OF ISRAEL, AND FOR THE SAKE OF ALL MY BELOVEDS! PRAY FOR THE SON OF RIGHTEOUSNESS TO ARISE WITH HEALING IN HIS WINGS! WORSHIP ME IN THE BEAUTY OF HOLINESS, FOR WITHOUT HOLINESS NO ONE WILL SEE GOD, I HAVE TOLD YOU! Ask and you shall receive, knock and the door will be opened!
I am opening MANY DOORS in this hour. Discern son of man those around you! Discern their condition! Ask, and it will be given you for the sake of the KINGDOM.
Lay hold of the SICKLE and wield the SWORD of the Spirit!

I love you immensely My bride! I am only doing what you have asked of ME, to make you like ME! You have asked, and I am answering! You are tested in fire but you will come forth AS GOLD! I AM EMMANUEL, GOD WITH YOU! I will soon be with you MORE and MORE. I will destroy all that has oppressed you and purify you as gold refined in the fire as promised, and I will make you the jewels in MY CROWN!”

Priscilla Van Sutphin
Upstream Ministries
www.upstreamca.org
tearsofthefather@comcast.net

The White Dress
Priscilla Van Sutphin

Sept 28th, 2005

I woke up seeing a vision of a woman’s back, zipping up a white dress, like a bridal dress. Then I saw two large hands and a man’s form standing behind her with his hands placed on her back on both sides of the zipper, as if assuring her, and at the same time holding it in place. I felt the Lord say

I am finishing up the new dress for My Bride. I am giving her pure white garments to wear. She is adorned in My glory that all may see her beauty.
Though she has been bedraggled and disdained by many, now I will finish the final touches and imbue her with My love and power so that all the world will know that she is Mine! They will know that she has spent time in My presence! They will know because she will reflect My character and My power both.

Know that the things I am doing now in the earth will produce a most beautiful bride who loves and cares for others. Have I not said, that when the enemy comes in like a flood, the Lord will raise up a standard against him? The enemy has come down spreading his filth in all directions, but I have a plan too. I am JEALOUS for My Bride. I will not allow her to continue to wallow in filth. I will revive her heart and heal her wounds that others have not cared for. I will do all I've said I will do. I will not leave you comfortless.

Remember My beloved ones that this is NOT your home! Heaven is your home. I am your HOME. In this world you will have troubles, but know that I have overcome the world and broken the power of the enemy. You will fulfill all I've destined for you, and when that is done, then only will you come home to ME.

Evil men continue to conspire and pride is rampant, but I AM with you and I will sustain you and fight beside you as you enter into the final war with the enemy! He has come down with great wrath, knowing his time is over and wanting to destroy all he can. Do not be PRAYERLESS! Keep your lamps trimmed and supplied with the oil of the Holy ONE. Keep in communion with Me. Stay beloveds close to ME in this hour. You need My advice. You need My discernment in all things pertaining to all around you. Do not go days without speaking to me! How would you who are married feel if your mate didn't talk to you in days? Would you not feel neglected? How do you think I feel when you go day after day without stopping to take time for communion with ME, Who is your Husbandman?

My advice to you is to buy from Me gold refined by fire, that you may be rich; and white clothing, so that you may be dressed and not have to be ashamed of your nakedness; and eye salve to rub on your eyes, so that you may see! As for Me, I rebuke and discipline everyone I love; so exert yourselves, and turn from your sins! Here, I am standing at the door, knocking. If someone hears My voice and opens the door, I will come in to him and eat with him, and he will eat with Me. Rev 3:18-19 CJB

Know that my heart is not to hurt you. I am a God of restoration, not destruction. But the world is escalating into wickedness, and I cannot stand by and see men continue to oppress without consequence, nor can I stop what will bring the culmination of all time. Know that I love you and my heart is ravished for My bride. Come to Me and let me hold you and heal you and bring to you all that I am! So when you have opportunity, you will have what you need to give to others and to declare My word and be My witnesses!

Upstream Ministries

Dregs
Priscilla Van Sutphin

July 30th, 2005
www.upstreamca.org
tearsofthefather@comcast.net

Phil 3:8 AMP Yes, furthermore, I count everything as loss compared to the possession of the priceless privilege (the overwhelming preciousness, the surpassing worth, and supreme advantage) of knowing

Christ Jesus my Lord and of progressively becoming more deeply and intimately acquainted with Him [of perceiving and recognizing and understanding Him more fully and clearly]. For His sake I have lost everything and consider it all to be mere rubbish (refuse, dregs), in order that I may win (gain) Christ (the Anointed one),

"In My hand oh Western church I have a cup. I have a cup of wrath for those who are wicked and unchanging, and I have a cup for those whose hearts want to be changed. I drank from My Father's cup the cup of suffering. I PAID THE PRICE so that you could be free from the law of sin and death. But I never said you would be free from suffering for the sake of My name did I? Am I so worthless, and the sacrifice of My Son so cheap, that you are unwilling to pay the cost for the power that you so want?

Certainly My hand is not too short to strengthen. But will you drink from MY CUP. Will you drink My blood and eat My flesh as I asked My disciples to do?
Or will you be like those who left after I said that? Will you be the ones to deny ME when the going gets rough. I ask because I want you to think about what I have said, not to focus on man's teachings, but MY TEACHINGS. Will you eat My flesh? Will you drink My blood? Or will you cling to your own life? I told you that if you seek to SAVE your life, you will lose it? I told you that what does it profit a man if he gain the whole world but lose his soul? I told you that a man's life does not consist in what he owns. I told you to store up in heaven blessings, not here on earth where thieves can break in and steal it. I told you to LOVE ONE ANOTHER.

But you are not willing oh Bride to let go of your things. Many of you have not turned your belongings over to ME. You want me, but you also want your homes, your cars, your fancy clothes and your abundant wealth. You cling to worthless idols of entertainment and extra cars, and extra homes, and all manner of THINGS that fade away in eternity. I also told you that the heart is willing but the flesh is weak. So I KNOW how hard it is for you to give up things.

So I MUST take away what is robbing you of the fullness of your inheritance, if you truly say, I LOVE YOU, and surrender to ME, then what you have is not your own. You are bought and paid for with a very costly price…the blood and suffering of My Son. I said the words but many do not believe My words. I said that he who leaves country, home, wife or children for the sake of My KINGDOM will inherit the Kingdom of heaven. It doesn't mean everyone will have to do this. In fact many will be like Jeremiah and have all they need, even in the midst of devastation and turmoil.

Oh WESTERN BRIDE you are filled to the full with advantages, but devoid of understanding and self denial. You are full of selfish ambition, pride, arrogance, presumption, greed, selfishness and contempt for the poor & tormented, and you do not realize that you are wretched, miserable, poor, blind and naked. What will I do with you? FAITHLESS generation who walks in complacency and apathy to the needs of others while the world around you languishes. Indeed the very thing you have feared is coming upon you. For you have been heartless to My prophets and you have spurned My Holy Word, and walk not in holiness, but in adulteries beyond imagination.

How can I oh church allow you to continue misleading My flocks? You have carried your harlotries and greed to the ends of the earth. You have polluted the streams of My church and neglected My gardens. You have stored up riches for yourself in these end times, and you do not give to the widow, the poor and handicapped. You are not willing to separate the precious from the vile in your own lives. So I WILL COME and I WILL make changes that will catapult you into the TRUTH of who you are to be. Many will fight against the goads and be unwilling to accept My chastisement. But you know that a good Father, chastises His children. A GOOD FATHER does what is best, despite how much it may hurt.

I AM THE ALPHA AND OMEGA, THE BEGINNING AND THE END! I KNOW THE END FROM THE BEGINNING AND I KNEW THE DECISIONS YOU WOULD MAKE BEFORE YOU MADE THEM. I AM IN CONTROL. I AM GOD, and YOU ARE NOT! You say you want APOSTOLIC power, yet are you willing to be as the apostles were? Are you willing to drink the cup Paul had to drink? I am coming to offer the cup of fellowship in My sufferings. To him who overcomes, I will give the keys to the Kingdom. I am willing to offer all your heart desires of My kind of prosperity of SOUL. I said your body will prosper even as your soul prospers. I said that if you loved ME, you would OBEY ME. NO man can serve two masters. He either loves the one but despises the other. Choose this day whom you will serve I spoke through Joshua. And now I speak to YOU OH WESTERN BRIDE. TIME IS AT HAND. You must choose the cup I offer you, or you will be sadly disillusioned in the days to come. KNOW THAT I LOVE YOU and only want the BEST for you, which is eternity with ME. You are strangers here. But you will no longer be strangers to ME or to sharing in My suffering. "

2 Cor 11:23-30 AMP Are they [ministering] servants of Christ (the Messiah)? I am talking like one beside himself, [but] I am more, with far more extensive and abundant labors, with far more imprisonments, [beaten] with countless stripes, and frequently [at the point of] death. 24 five times I received from [the hands of] the Jews forty [lashes all] but one; [Deut 25:3.] 25 three times I have been beaten with rods; once I was stoned. three times I have been aboard a ship wrecked at sea; a [whole] night and a day I have spent [adrift] on the deep;

26 Many times on journeys, [exposed to] perils from rivers, perils from bandits, perils from [my own] nation, perils from the Gentiles, perils in the city, perils in the desert places, perils in the sea, perils from those posing as believers [but destitute of Christian knowledge and piety]; 27 In toil and hardship, watching often [through sleepless nights], in hunger and thirst, frequently driven to fasting by want, in cold and exposure and lack of clothing. 28 And besides those things that are without, there is the daily [inescapable pressure] of my care and anxiety for all the churches!
29 Who is weak, and I do not feel [his] weakness? Who is made to stumble and fall and have his faith hurt, and I am not on fire [with sorrow or indignation]? 30 If I must boast, I will boast of the things that [show] my infirmity [of the things by which I am made weak and contemptible in the eyes of my opponents].

Ecclesiastes 9:1-2 NLT This, too, I carefully explored: Even though the actions of godly and wise people are in God's hands, no one knows whether or not God will show them favor in this life.

Zeph 1:12-18 At that time I will search Jerusalem with lamps and punish those who are complacent, who are like wine left on its dregs, who think, 'The LORD will do nothing, either good or bad.' 13 Their wealth will be plundered, their houses demolished. They will build houses but not live in them; they will plant vineyards but not drink the wine.
14 "The great day of the LORD is near- near and coming quickly. Listen! The cry on the day of the LORD will be bitter, the shouting of the warrior there.
15 That day will be a day of wrath, a day of distress and anguish, a day of trouble and ruin, a day of darkness and gloom, a day of clouds and blackness, 16 a day of trumpet and battle cry against the fortified cities and against the corner towers. 17 I will bring distress on the people and they will walk like blind men, because they have sinned against the LORD. Their blood will be poured out like dust and their entrails like filth. 18 Neither their silver nor their gold will be able to save them on the day of the LORD's wrath. In the fire of his jealousy the whole world will be consumed, for he will make a sudden end of all who live in the earth."

Rev 2:18-3:1- The Corrupt Church "And to the angel of the church in Thyatira write, 'These things says the Son of God, who has eyes like a flame of fire, and His feet like fine brass: 19 "I know your works, love, service, faith, and your patience; and as for your works, the last are more than the first. 20 Nevertheless I have a few things against you, because you allow that woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess, to teach and seduce My servants to commit sexual immorality and eat things sacrificed to idols. 21 And I gave her time to repent of her sexual immorality, and she did not repent. 22 Indeed I will cast her into a sickbed, and those who commit adultery with her into great tribulation, unless they repent of their deeds. 23 I will kill her children with death, and all the churches shall know that I am He who searches the minds and hearts. And I will give to each one of you according to your works.

Ps 75:8 NIV In the hand of the LORD is a cup full of foaming wine mixed with spices ; he pours it out, and all the wicked of the earth drink it down to its very dregs.

Isa 51:17-18 NKJV God's Fury Removed
Awake, awake! Stand up, O Jerusalem, You who have drunk at the hand of the LORD The cup of His fury; You have drunk the dregs of the cup of trembling, and drained it out. 18 There is no one to guide her Among all the sons she has brought forth Isa 51:17-23 NIV Awake, awake! Rise up, O Jerusalem, you who have drunk from the hand of the LORD the cup of his wrath, you who have drained to its dregs the goblet that makes men stagger. 18 Of all the sons she bore there was none to guide her; of all the sons she reared there was none to take her by the hand. 19 These double calamities have come upon you — who can comfort you? — ruin and destruction, famine and sword — who can console you? 20 Your sons have fainted; they lie at the head of every street, like antelope caught in a net. They are filled with the wrath of the LORD and the rebuke of your God.

21 Therefore hear this, you afflicted one, made drunk, but not with wine. 22 This is what your Sovereign LORD says, your God, who defends his people: "See, I have taken out of your hand the cup that made you stagger; from that cup, the goblet of my wrath, you will never drink again. 23 I will put it into the hands of your tormentors, who said to you, 'Fall prostrate that we may walk over you. 'And you made your back like the ground, like a street to be walked over."

The Road Less Traveled

Julie Volby

Few choose to walk,
The way of the unknown.
Few choose to trust,
In the God who knows all things.

Many are called to come into the light,
But few have answered.
Too bound by fear and unbelief,
Fueled by teaching,
That has not yet matured.

Seed scattered in soil,
Watered down by religion.
These are ever learning, ever longing,
For something to fulfill.

Their hearts desiring something solid,
Yet the simplicity of the Gospel,
Eludes their best efforts.
That love is the consummation of all things,
Seems too simple, too unadorned.

The misguided run and hide,
But they find no consolation.
They look on the outside,
For the One who dwells within.

Yet, God's hand of mercy extends,
To those crying out in the darkness.
Burdened by the chains,
Of man's expectations.

They cry out for deliverance,
From that which binds them to the earth.
It is only by the Spirit,
That they will find release.
Through faith in the Living Word,
The One who gives true peace.

For whom the Son sets free,
Has been given eyes to see.
Ears to hear the sound,
Where the joys of heaven abound.

The road less traveled,
As narrow as it may be.
It is the way of life,
For one who is truly free.

Troubling Times
Priscilla Van Sutphin

June 18th, 2005

Nah 1:7 NKJV The LORD is good, A stronghold in the day of trouble;
And He knows those who trust in Him.

Hab 3:16 NKJV When I heard, my body trembled; My lips quivered at the voice; Rottenness entered my bones; And I trembled in myself, That I might rest in the day of trouble. When he comes up to the people, He will invade them with his troops.

2 Tim 2:8-10 NKJV Remember that Jesus Christ, of the seed of David, was raised from the dead according to my gospel, 9 for which I suffer trouble as an evildoer, even to the point of chains; but the word of God is not chained. 10 Therefore I endure all things for the sake of the elect, that they also may obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory.

“Times ahead will be troubled, but I have not left you helpless. I WILL enable you to bear through all you need to if you will lean on Your Beloved and lean on My understanding and wisdom and knowledge for all you need.
Lay your head on my shoulder! Listen for the sound of the still small voice!
I am not in the fire, in the earthquake or in the wind. I am found in the QUIET place. I AM KINDNESS. I AM LOVE. I AM PEACE. I AM GRACE.
I AM TRUTH. Whatever you need can be found in INTIMACY with Me.

[I thought to a conversation with a young woman tonight of how when we are intimate with our husbands in communication, I was telling her, then the sexual intimacy {the UNION} is also good. But if we neglect each other, then things go awry and it just doesn’t work in a marriage to neglect the personal need met in communication then expect the other person to be intimate in the most intimate way if we don’t respect and honor one another.

If we can’t relate to one another honestly, then how can we be ONE?
That same principle holds true with our heavenly father. I was a nurse for years so I know that in counseling couples about sex, that communication is the number one problem they found. So it is not surprising the parallel in the Spirit realm is it?] Then the Lord continued….

I love spending time with you. I don’t ignore any plea coming from the mouth of My Beloveds. Sometimes I am bound by things going on that you have not been obedient in, but I am not harsh or ever ignoring you! I am always listening to you! I really am a great listener. I even listen to your heart and mind, and all the things unexpressed, I KNOW! So I’m much better than any earthly counselor, for I know you inside and out! Trust that nothing you do surprises Me! Nothing the world does surprises ME! I wrote the Book, so I know how it ends. I know all that is coming against you, and I have made MY OWN PLANS for My beloveds!

I have a few surprises of My own for the enemy! I have kept a few secrets to only be revealed in this time! I have kept some things secret to keep him off guard. So come to me and I will tell you great and awesome things of which you do not know! I am the REVEALER of SECRETS! I am the I AM!
I know how to help you and there is nothing I won’t do for an extravagant LOVER. Pour out your heart in openness and honesty and EXPECT Me to ACT! Many of you cry out, but not many EXPECT ME to do something. People have grown tired and weary! Those of you who KNOW ME, SPEAK OUT, and do not hold back. Don’t hide your light under a basket! BE BOLD! BE STRONG, FOR THE LORD YOUR GOD IS WITH YOU!

HOLD ON TO ME FOR THE RIDE WILL GET BUMPIER, BUT THE CLOSENESS OF ME TO YOU WILL BE AWESOME! LIFE IS HONORED AMONG MY OWN. But life is NOT honored in society overall. It has become cheap and even valueless by many. If you don’t believe you will have to suffer for your sins, or if you believe you can try again in another life, then why would you have any impetus to change? Many are so deluded by false religions and false ideologies that mock the TRUTH! But I will give you KEYS and I will give you the wisdom and power to astound them – IF you will trust and depend on ME!

Remember the power of My LOVE! Love is the greatest. My compassion will birth miracles and signs and wonders! Come and lay at My feet, and learn of ME. Let Me share My wisdom , My knowledge, My understanding. Will you wait on ME? Will you come and wait, and not grow impatient, but just wait in My presence and trust ME for all you need to know? Earthly wisdom has no value for the times to come! Only MY WISDOM will see you through. MY LOVE will empower you soon as never before. And many DOORS will swing open wide for those who have been willing to bear the reproach! I love you My beloveds, and nothing will keep that love from you! PEACE, PEACE, PEACE will flow to you like a river if you will just come and worship in My presence!"

Zeph 1:15-18 NKJV That day is a day of wrath, A day of trouble and distress, A day of devastation and desolation, A day of darkness and gloominess, A day of clouds and thick darkness, 16 A day of trumpet and alarm Against the fortified cities And against the high towers.
17 "I will bring distress upon men, And they shall walk like blind men, Because they have sinned against the LORD; Their blood shall be poured out like dust, And their flesh like refuse." 18 Neither their silver nor their gold Shall be able to deliver them In the day of the LORD's wrath; But the whole land shall be devoured By the fire of His jealousy, For He will make speedy riddance Of all those who dwell in the land.

Zech 10:2-8 NKJV For the idols speak delusion; The diviners envision lies, And tell false dreams; They comfort in vain. Therefore the people wend their way like sheep; They are in trouble because there is no shepherd.
3 "My anger is kindled against the shepherds, And I will punish the goatherds. For the LORD of hosts will visit His flock, The house of Judah, And will make them as His royal horse in the battle. 4 From him comes the cornerstone, From him the tent peg, From him the battle bow, From him every ruler together. 5 They shall be like mighty men, Who tread down their enemies in the mire of the streets in the battle. They shall fight because the LORD is with them, And the riders on horses shall be put to shame.

"I will strengthen the house of Judah, And I will save the house of Joseph. I will bring them back, Because I have mercy on them. They shall be as though I had not cast them aside; For I am the LORD their God, And I will hear them. 7 Those of Ephraim shall be like a mighty man, And their heart shall rejoice as if with wine. Yes, their children shall see it and be glad; Their heart shall rejoice in the LORD. 8 I will whistle for them and gather them, For I will redeem them; And they shall increase as they once increased.

Matt 6:34 NKJV Therefore do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about its own things. Sufficient for the day is its own trouble.

Acts 7:11 NKJV Now a famine and great trouble came over all the land of Egypt and Canaan, and our fathers found no sustenance.

2 Cor 1:3-4 NKJV Comfort in Suffering
Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort, 4 who comforts us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort those who are in any trouble, with the comfort with which we ourselves are comforted by God.

2 Thess 1:6-10 NKJV since it is a righteous thing with God to repay with tribulation those who trouble you, 7 and to give you who are troubled rest with us when the Lord Jesus is revealed from heaven with His mighty angels, 8 in flaming fire taking vengeance on those who do not know God, and on those who do not obey the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. 9 These shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord and from the glory of His power, 10 when He comes, in that Day, to be glorified in His saints and to be admired among all those who believe, because our testimony among you was believed.

James 1:27 AMP External religious worship [religion as it is expressed in outward acts] that is pure and unblemished in the sight of God the Father is this: to visit and help and care for the orphans and widows in their affliction and need, and to keep oneself unspotted and uncontaminated from the world.

Gracious Love
Priscilla Van Sutphin

June 15th, 2005 3:33 am

John 16:27 AMP For the Father Himself [tenderly] loves you because you have loved Me and have believed that I came out from the Father.

Isa 40:2-3 AMP Speak tenderly to the heart of Jerusalem, and cry to her that her time of service and her warfare are ended, that [her punishment is accepted and] her iniquity is pardoned, that she has received [punishment] from the Lord's hand double for all her sins. 3 A voice of one who cries: Prepare in the wilderness the way of the Lord [clear away the obstacles]; make straight and smooth in the desert a highway for our God! [Mark 1:3.]

4 Every valley shall be lifted and filled up, and every mountain and hill shall be made low; and the crooked and uneven shall be made straight and level, and the rough places a plain. 5 And the glory (majesty and splendor) of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together; for the mouth of the Lord has spoken it. [Luke 3:5,6.]

“ I am the Lord Your God, and you shall have no other gods before Me. You know this verse, but to live it is much harder for you! The world is full of idolatry so I have called My own to be set apart for a time to just worship and lay at My feet. It is warfare to rest in this way! For the rest of the world is busy, busy, busy – too busy to have time for God, even if they do know Me. So I have said, come away My beloveds, come and lay down and rest in My arms, because I want to heal you of course, but also because it is rest for your soul, and warfare against all the idolatry in the land!

Many spend all their time watching TV or going to movies, partying, and drinking, doing drugs, and spending. Lives are full of the pursuit of pleasure rather than the pursuit of GOD. They are not mutually exclusive. I want people to enjoy life and have fun, but not exclusively away from ME. What has your time? What has you bound oh man, that you cannot give to ME the praise worthy admiration that you give to others?

Others in My house, worship Me with their lips, but they are living a double life, one person in front of others, and another entirely different person away from church and other Christians! This is true from the head to the tail. I wish it were not so. I wish I could only give good reports when I measure My temples! I wish I didn’t see all the invasion of the enemy into My churches. I wish I could see a people grateful and thankful! FAITH has waned, and appearance means more than being real now in many places.

I see though a faithful remnant, and they are praying and worshiping and trying to do what pleases Me. And because of those who see also what is going on and cry out to ME, and because of My great love for My church, I am coming to pour out a river of healing and love that will transform it to what I WANT it to be. There will still be those who refuse My love and will for My church. There will be tares till the end comes. But everywhere there is a remnant Who know their GOD, and KNOW HIM in a deeper way than most are willing to try even to know.

To those who have been willing to suffer with ME, I will restore and bless you in a mighty way. Look for your deliverance and healing, for I AM COMING and I will make a way where there seems to be no way! I AM the GOD of the impossible! Nothing is too hard for ME. My love endures forever and My love will conquer all that is wrong with the church! For perfect love casts down all fear! FAITH WILL BE RESTORED DRAMATICALLY and SUDDENLY! So REJOICE and be glad for the Lord Your GOD is with you and reverses are in order! I speak FAVOR to My children in this hour. FAVOR will bring you to the forefront, when you have been thought discardable by most! I will RESTORE! I will repair the ancient foundations! I will, I WILL, says the Lord!

Come unto ME, all who are heavy laden and I will give you rest. Cease from struggling, and come to ME. Lay your head on My shoulder and let Me speak sweetly and tenderly in your ear! I will sing to you a new song! I will tenderly speak to My bride and woo her to My side! I will not abandon you, even though the enemy tries to make you think so! I will NEVER, NEVER, NEVER leave you nor forsake you I have said. So rebuke the liar and speak tenderly to your Bridegroom and let Him know you are longing for more of HIM, and willing to wait for HIM. Grab hold of the hem of His garment and do not let go until you receive the blessing intended for you! Cry and weep for the My people! Cry and weep for the LOST! Cry and weep for the sleeping ones to wake up! Speak LIFE to the dead, dry bones!

REJOICE, and again I say REJOICE in Your Beloved! Delight yourself in the Lord and HE will give you the desires of your heart! RAIN is coming, even as the rains in the natural have come, NOW RAINS will come SPIRITUALLY and you will be flooded with new believers oh CHURCH! So take time now to get filled up with MORE OF ME! Rest NOW in ME, for soon you will be very busy!”

Love, Abba

Hos 2:14 NIV "Therefore I am now going to allure her; I will lead her into the desert and speak tenderly to her.

Luke 7:45 AMP You gave Me no kiss, but she from the moment I came in has not ceased [intermittently] to kiss My feet tenderly and caressingly.

Rev 3:19 AMP Those whom I [dearly and tenderly] love, I tell their faults and convict and convince and reprove and chasten [I discipline and instruct them]. So be enthusiastic and in earnest and burning with zeal and repent [changing your mind and attitude]. [Prov 3:12.]

2 Kings 22:19 AMP Because your heart was [tender and] penitent and you humbled yourself before the Lord when you heard what I said against this place and against its inhabitants, that they should become a desolation, [an astonishment and] a curse, and you have rent your clothes and wept before Me, I also have heard you, says the Lord.

Ps 25:6 AMP Remember, O Lord, Your tender mercy and loving-kindness; for they have been ever from of old.

Ps 40:11 AMP Withhold not Your tender mercy from me, O Lord; let Your loving-kindness and Your truth continually preserve me!

Ps 103:2-4 AMP Bless (affectionately, gratefully praise) the Lord, O my soul, and forget not [one of] all His benefits--3 Who forgives [every one of] all your iniquities, Who heals [each one of] all your diseases, 4 Who redeems your life from the pit and corruption, Who beautifies, dignifies, and crowns you with loving-kindness and tender mercy;

Ps 119:156 AMP Great are Your tender mercy and loving-kindness, O Lord; give me life according to Your ordinances.

Ps 145:9 AMP The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works [the entirety of things created].

Isa 5:1 AMP LET ME [as God's representative] sing of and for my greatly Beloved [God, the Son] a tender song of my Beloved concerning His vineyard [His chosen people]. My greatly Beloved had a vineyard on a very fruitful hill. [Song 6:3; Matt 21:33-40.]

Isa 66:14 AMP When you see this, your heart shall rejoice; your bones shall flourish like green and tender grass. And the [powerful] hand of the Lord shall be revealed and known to be with His servants, but His indignation [shown] to be against His enemies.

Lam 3:22 AMP It is because of the Lord's mercy and loving-kindness that we are not consumed, because His [tender] compassions fail not. [Mal 3:6.]

Lam 3:32-34 AMP But though He causes grief, yet will He be moved to compassion according to the multitude of His loving-kindness and tender mercy. 33 For He does not willingly and from His heart afflict or grieve the children of men. [Ezek 18:23,32; Hos 11:8; Heb 12:5-10; 2 Peter 3:9.]

34 To trample and crush underfoot all the prisoners of the earth,

Zech 7:9-10 AMP Thus has the Lord of hosts spoken: Execute true judgment and show mercy and kindness and tender compassion, every man to his brother;10 And oppress not the widow or the fatherless, the temporary resident or the poor, and let none of you devise or imagine or think evil against his brother in your heart.

Luke 1:78 AMP Because of and through the heart of tender mercy and loving-kindness of our God, a Light from on high will dawn upon us and visit [us] [Mal 4:2.]

Luke 6:36 AMP So be merciful (sympathetic, tender, responsive, and compassionate) even as your Father is [all these].

Rom 15:1 AMP WE WHO are strong [in our convictions and of robust faith] ought to bear with the failings and the frailties and the tender scruples of the weak; [we ought to help carry the doubts and qualms of others] and not to please ourselves.

Phil 1:8-9 AMP For God is my witness how I long for and pursue you all with love, in the tender mercy of Christ Jesus [Himself]! 9 And this I pray: that your love may abound yet more and more and extend to its fullest development in knowledge and all keen insight [that your love may display itself in greater depth of acquaintance and more comprehensive discernment],

The Lion Will Roar!
Priscilla Van Sutphin

June 22nd, 2005
www.upstreamca.org

Joel 3:16 NKJV The LORD also will roar from Zion, and utter His voice from Jerusalem; The heavens and earth will shake; But the LORD will be a shelter for His people, and the strength of the children of Israel.

Job 37:2-4 NIV Listen! Listen to the roar of his voice, to the rumbling that comes from his mouth. 3 He unleashes his lightning beneath the whole heaven and sends it to the ends of the earth. 4 After that comes the sound of his roar; he thunders with his majestic voice. When his voice resounds, he holds nothing back.

Hos 11:10-11 NKJV "They shall walk after the LORD. He will roar like a lion.
When He roars, then His sons shall come trembling from the west; 11 They shall come trembling like a bird from Egypt, like a dove from the land of Assyria. And I will let them dwell in their houses," Says the LORD.

I had read the story of the young woman rescued by three lions and afterwards I was contemplating it.
And the Lord said, “The Lion will roar!”
So I asked Him what He wanted to say about that…

“Tzion is a place in communion with Me. I will roar, and I will roar over my people. I will roar THROUGH my people! I will demonstrate My MIGHT in the midst of darkness. Even as the Lion hunts by night time, will I hunt in the dark hour that is coming. I will roar over the earth and there will be signs and wonders as never before! I am increasing FAITH in My beloveds, for without FAITH it is impossible to please God I’ve said in My Word. You cannot have the opportunity to stand in Faith unless it is tested. Testing proves you and takes you to a deeper place of intimacy with ME if you turn to Me in the testing and TRUST in Me to see you through.

Apart from ME you can do nothing anyway. So in being tested, you learn to persevere and to stand patiently in the waiting for Me to see you through.
It is demanding and it also crushes the FLESH. So do not despise the testing as it is working a greater glory in you! I have said that those who share in My suffering will share in My glory!”

Rom 8:17 NIV Now if we are children, then we are heirs-heirs of God and co-heirs with Christ, if indeed we share in his sufferings in order that we may also share in his glory.

“My glory is not attained by striving. It is attained by persevering and intimate relationship with Me and My sufferings. Human thinking is always to escape any suffering. No one likes to suffer. I did not send My Son to suffer without enduring pain in My own heart, knowing the humiliation He would have to endure! I am not delighted in you having to suffer. I want you to know wisdom & understanding. The person who never has to suffer has learned very little about life. That person doesn’t know what it is to comfort the sick or dying, or the distraught and broken people. They will not be able to empathize with anyone except they gain My wisdom. I can give anyone compassion who asks for it. But those who never suffer seldom ask. Look around you and see if it is not so. A sensitive and compassionate soul is a rare commodity in today’s world. Men’s hearts have grown cold.

But I am working a lasting and enduring work in you! I will have a body that is free from PRIDE and ARROGANCE and cold love. I will bless those who walk in forgiveness and kindness. I will bless those who bless and do not curse. Vengeance belongs to ME alone! Retaliation is MY job. It is not for you to judge. I do not judge by the sight of My eyes or the hearing of My ears, but I know what is in the heart of a man. You have to rely on what you observe, see, or hear. But I alone know what is in the heart of a human being. So rely not on your own judgment. BUT LEAN ON ME. Ask ME the questions you have. See if I am not willing to answer you!

Suffering is a part of growth in life. Rely on Me to know whatever you need to know! Do not trust in your own judgments, but trust alone in ME. I will give you the wisdom you need to understand others, if you will but ask. I will show you how to love each other if you only ASK. I’ve said, whoever asks will receive, so keep on asking and you will get answers that you need! Rely on ME for all the wisdom and understanding you need. For I am pouring it out in this hour in abundance! Take My yoke upon you, and learn of Me. For I am GENTLE and lowly of heart. Do not think of yourself as better than others. The Son of man came to serve. So wash each other’s feet! Serve one another. PRAY FOR ONE ANOTHER that you might be healed of all you need healing for. Lean on ME for I love you as no other loves you!

I AM your RESCUER. I AM your HIGH TOWER. I AM EL GIBOR – the MIGHTY ONE OF ISRAEL. Nothing is too difficult for Me. Rely on ME for all you need! Come to me when you grow weary and fell down and overwhelmed with this world you live in. I have an understanding heart. I am always here for you! Nothing is too difficult for me. Call upon me and you will be saved from your enemies!”

Prov 28:1 NKJV The wicked flee when no one pursues, But the righteous are bold as a lion.

Isa 5:26-30 NKJV He will lift up a banner to the nations from afar, and will whistle to them from the end of the earth; Surely they shall come with speed, swiftly. 27 No one will be weary or stumble among them, No one will slumber or sleep; Nor will the belt on their loins be loosed, Nor the strap of their sandals be broken; 28 Whose arrows are sharp, and all their bows bent; Their horses' hooves will seem like flint, and their wheels like a whirlwind. 29 Their roaring will be like a lion, They will roar like young lions; Yes, they will roar and lay hold of the prey; They will carry it away safely, and no one will deliver. 30 In that day they will roar against them like the roaring of the sea. And if one looks to the land, behold, darkness and sorrow; and the light is darkened by the clouds.

Zech 9:15-16 NKJV The LORD of hosts will defend them; They shall devour and subdue with slingstones. They shall drink and roar as if with wine; They shall be filled with blood like basins, Like the corners of the altar. 16 The LORD their God will save them in that day, As the flock of His people. For they shall be like the jewels of a crown, Lifted like a banner over His land —

Man-Eating Lions Come to the Rescue of a 12-Year-Old Kidnapped Ethiopian Girl Aimee Herd / Jessica Miller reporting (Jun 21, 2005)

An amazing story out of Ethiopia tells of a 12-year-old girl who was kidnapped and beaten by men trying to force her into marriage, when three lions came to her aid, chasing off her attackers and guarding the young girl until police arrived.

According to the report by the AP, the girl's abductors held her for seven days, beating her repeatedly until, suddenly, three Ethiopian lions chased them away. The lions, normally known for attacking people, stood guard over the traumatized girl; then, when her family and the police found her, "they just left her like a gift and went back into the forest."

"If the lions had not come to her rescue, then it could have been much worse," explained Sgt. Wondimu Wedajo. "Often these young girls are raped and severely beaten to force them to accept the marriage. Everyone...thinks this is some kind of miracle, because normally the lions would attack people."

Wildlife expert Stuart Williams said, "A young girl whimpering could be mistaken for the mewing sound from a lion cub, which in turn could explain why they (the lions) didn't eat her. Otherwise they probably would have done [so]."

The traumatized girl was treated for cuts from her beatings. She is the youngest of four brothers and sisters. Police had apprehended four of the girl's attackers, but were still looking for three others. Kidnapping and beating have been a part of the marriage custom in Ethiopia for some time, as the United Nations says nearly 70 percent of marriages are by abduction there.

Ethiopian lions are famous for their large black manes and are the symbol of the African nation, appearing on their local currency and depicted in statues. The breed's numbers haven fallen of late as hunters kill them for their skins, which can bring around one thousand dollars per hide.

More...
http://www.cnn.com/2005/WORLD/africa/06/21/ethiopia.lions.ap/ind ex.html

The Release Of The Spirit Of An Overcomer

Ryan Wyatt

We have entered into a very serious time in the Body of Christ. The Lord of Hosts, the Lord Mighty in Battle, is ready to fill the earth with His glory, through His people. The Bride of Christ has been in the wilderness for many years and now God is blowing the trumpet and saying it is time to arise, cross the Jordan, take the land, and lay hold of our inheritance. I sense a holy anxiousness in the Lord's heart to apprehend us, give Himself to us, come into a holy union with us, and manifest His glory and power through His friends and lovers. It is time to start living in Authentic Apostolic Christianity. Time for talk is over! It's time to take action, catch the initiatives of heaven, bring heaven to earth, and destroy the works of the devil daily.

Visitation of Jesus

I have had a series of visitations and encounters over the last few months where the Lord has unveiled this revelation that you are about to read. In January 2005, I had a visitation of the Lord Jesus Himself. I was preparing for a meeting in my hotel when, suddenly, within seconds, the room became very warm. I walked over to turn off the heat and realized it was barely on. I then realized something was up and I was about to have a visitation. As I sat back down in my chair, the Lord Jesus walked into my room and stood beside me. The glory of the atmosphere of heaven filled the room and emanated from Jesus. I could do nothing but weep under this weighty glory in the room. As Jesus stood next to me, I was covered in something like dew. My whole body was covered with some form of moisture. I was not prepared to see the Lord the way I saw Him this day. I am forever changed.

The Lord was covered and dripping with oil. He had a look in His eyes that shocked me. He looked like He was filled with a holy anxiety. He looked like a warhorse or a racehorse anxious to be released from the stall and run the track. He had a look of determination, a look of war, and a look of desperation in His eyes. Jesus told me He was dripping with the oil of an Overcomer and is ready to pour it out on His overcomers that have been preparing themselves for such a time as this. He went on to describe this oil, or this anointing. He said this oil represented two things. This oil is the Priestly and the Kingly anointing.

The Oil of an Overcomer: The Priestly and Kingly Anointing

I have also been taken into visions of God many times recently and shown the same thing over and over again. I have seen the Lord standing behind a veil that is already torn. In one hand He is holding a hot, fresh, steamy loaf of bread and in the other hand He is holding a scepter. These two objects represent the two anointings that make up the oil of the Overcomer.

The Bread represents the Priestly anointing and the scepter the Kingly anointing. We must eat the bread before the scepter will be extended to us. We must become faithful and consecrated priests before we can become overcoming kings.

Restoration of Authentic Apostolic Christianity

God's heart is to see Authentic Apostolic Christianity restored to the earth. But what is Authentic Christianity? I believe it is two things:

Firstly, Authentic Christianity is a people who are totally yielded to the Lord in intimacy and love. They live a life in the secret place of His presence. They are holy and set apart unto Him because they have allowed the Lord to fully capture their hearts. They are undone and forever changed by God's glory, and they live for one thing. They live to feed upon the Lord and manifest His glory on the earth. This is the Priestly anointing.

Secondly, Authentic Christianity is a people (living a life in the secret place) who bring the Kingdom of heaven to earth and enforce the dominion and authority of heaven upon everything evil. They let the King of Glory come into their lives and destroy the works of the devil daily. They establish the righteousness and justice of heaven on the earth. This is the Kingly anointing.

In the book of Revelation, in the end times, Jesus speaks to the seven churches and, at the end of each address, he makes a promise to him who overcomes. Here is that word "overcome" again. It is God's will that He have an overcoming bride in these end times that fills the earth with His glory. These times we are living in are all about the emerging of the overcomers.

The Priestly Anointing

The first part of Authentic Apostolic Christianity, or the priestly anointing, is in Revelation 2:1-7. Jesus compliments this church for doing many things right, but they forgot the most important thing:

Revelation 2:4
"Nevertheless I have this against you, that you have left your first love."

Then He issues the promise for those who overcome the world and enthrone Jesus as their first love:

Revelation 2:7
"To him who overcomes I will give to eat from the Tree of Life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God."

This is the first and most essential ingredient of true Apostolic Christianity: living the lifestyle of a priest.

The Inheritance of the Priests

I mentioned earlier that Jesus was holding a loaf of bread in one hand and a scepter in the other. The priestly and kingly anointing is all about inheritance. Jesus shed His blood, died, and rose from the dead to reunite Himself with us so that we might have our inheritance and that the Lord might have His. Our inheritance is the Bread and the Scepter that He held in His hands. The Bread is the Lord Himself. We have been settling for crumbs from the loaf when the Lord is inviting us to partake of the whole loaf.

In Ezekiel 44:28 the Lord told the priests that He and He alone was to be their inheritance and possession.

"It shall be, in regard to their inheritance, that I am their inheritance. You shall give them no possession in Israel, for I am their possession."

Our inheritance is the Lord Himself. The Lord is desperately hungry for us to possess Him. Did you know the Lord wants you to possess Him? That you would be so filled with the divine nature, come into such a holy union with Him, that it's as if Jesus has clothed Himself with your flesh?

The Lord wants to fill us with a holy desperation and a holy violence to lay hold of Him. It's a hunger that will drive us into holy romance with the Lord. The first attribute of this oil is the Priestly anointing. The priestly oil is the grace to live for Him and Him alone. To enthrone Him in every area of our lives. It's a fresh hunger to come into such intimacy with Jesus that we die to ourselves and come into holy union with Him in every way.

The lifestyle of the priest is to labor to eat of the Bread of Heaven. The priest is to labor to eat of the Tree of Life, Jesus Christ. We labor for so many things, striving to be productive and to make something of ourselves, but we are to labor for only one thing in this life and that is to feed upon the Lord.

John 6:27
"Do not labor for the food which perishes, but for the food which endures to everlasting life, which the Son of Man will give you, because God the Father has set His seal on Him."

John 6:33,35
"For the bread of God is He who comes down from heaven and gives life to the world . . . 'I am the bread of life. He who comes to Me shall never hunger, and he who believes in Me shall never thirst.'"

The Kingly Anointing

The Kingly anointing represents the scepter. When we learn to live a lifestyle of feeding upon intimacy with Jesus, then we will always have the scepter of kingly authority and dominion extended to us.

We find this second ingredient of Authentic Apostolic Christianity in Revelation 3:14-22. Jesus confronts the church of the day about how prideful they are in believing that they have need of nothing. He tells them that they are lukewarm and desperately need the Lord. Then He goes on to tell them that if they will answer His knocking and let Him in He will dine with us. Then He again mentions the overcomers and the release of the scepter of the kingly anointing:

Revelation 3:21
"To him who overcomes I will grant to sit with Me on My throne, as I also overcame and sat down with My Father on His throne."

The King is the one who wields the weapons of the Kingdom. The Kingly anointing is also:

Acts 10:38
"God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Spirit and with power, who went about doing good and healing all who were oppressed by the devil, for God was with Him."

The Kingly anointing is bringing the realm of heaven to earth with mighty demonstrations of God's power and might. It is making prophetic decrees that actually shift things in the spirit and the natural. It's enforcing heaven's rule in the earthly realm.

Moses: A Model Overcomer

I want to give you a model of an overcomer. Moses was a man that God used to affect a whole generation. Moses carried the Spirit of an overcomer. He is a great model of someone who lived a lifestyle of a Priest and a King. I want to share with you from Exodus 24:9-16. God calls Moses to come up the mountain and bring his buddies with him because they are going to have a meal with God. God appears to them on the mountain and, as He walks towards them, the stone at His feet changes to sapphire stone like the very heavens in its clarity. That sounds to me like Revelation 4 where we read about a sea of glass like crystal at the foot of God's throne. At God's feet we see with perfect clarity.

Then God says this to Moses:

Exodus 24:12
"Come up to Me on the mountain and be there; and I will give you tablets of stone, and the law and commandments which I have written, that you may teach them."

The first directive from the Lord pretty much describes Moses' lifestyle before God. God said, "Come up to me and be there." The calling of a priest is to learn how to "be" with God in His most intimate presence. In verse 16 it says that God didn't speak to Moses until the seventh day. Moses had to wait six days without food or water and then, on the seventh day, the Lord spoke to him. This is the strongest attribute of an overcomer. They are so hungry for God that they realize that even if they die they must live for the Lord and hear from heaven. The number six is the number for man or flesh. The number seven means perfection, rest, refreshing, the promised land. The overcomer is one who dies to self (six) and presses into the rest and the glory of God (seven).

The Blueprints of Heaven

What was Moses' reward for tarrying in God's presence? The very blueprints of heaven. These were not just any tablets of stone or everyday instructions he received from the Lord. God gave Moses the detailed plan of heaven for how God intended to make a habitation of His presence in the midst of Israel. God told him every little detail of how to build the tabernacle even down to the specific supplies to use.

God is desperately hungry for us to possess the promised land and lay hold of our inheritance. Our inheritance is to live in the very Glory of God. However, we must daily overcome the spirit of the world and press behind the veil that is already torn that we might eat of the Bread of Heaven and look upon the blueprints of heaven. Tapping into the revelatory blueprint of heaven will release the Key of David into your life. With the Key of David from Isaiah 22:22 you can effectively close demonic gates in people's lives and open heavenly gates, or portals, for heaven to break in.

"Release of an Understanding of the Language and Mysteries of Heaven"

I recently had an angelic visitation. This angel appeared to me with an open book in its hand. He was speaking to me in a language I did not understand. Suddenly the angel blew on the book and I inhaled some particles that came from the book. My understanding was instantly quickened and the angel told me that there was "coming an unprecedented release of an understanding of the language and mysteries of heaven."

Moses lived a lifestyle of "being there" with God and, therefore, he was God's friend and the Lord shared the intimate secrets of His heart with Moses and spoke to him as a friend speaks to a friend. This is also our high and lofty calling! The oil of an overcomer that God is about to release is a fresh hunger to live as a priest and king and lay hold of our inheritance.

The Body of Christ is Living in Psalm 23 and Psalm 24

I believe the Body of Christ is currently living in Psalm 23 and Psalm 24. Psalm 23 is all about the Priestly anointing/lifestyle and Psalm 24 is all about the Kingly anointing and taking the land by letting the King of Glory come in.

I believe one of the interpretations of the Man-child spoken of in Revelation 12 represents a body of overcomers arising from the midst of the Institutional Church and moving in the Priestly and Kingly anointing with awesome demonstrations of power. This Man-child, or God's people, have been tucked away in the wilderness for many years (Psalm 23). I believe the purpose for us being in the wilderness has been that we, as God's people, would learn how to eat of the Lord even in the midst of pain, trial, death, and dryness.

One characteristic of being an overcomer is learning to find the underground flow of God's presence and power even in the midst of the desert. This is the life of the priest. The priest must die to self and learn to feast at God's table in the presence of their enemies. So many believers live from one revival to another or one conference to another and just drink from those outpourings. However, God is looking for those who have learned to feed upon Him even in the wilderness and have now become a drink for others to drink from. This is Psalm 23. Even in the valley of the shadow of death we are feasting at God's table and we are in the place where oil is being continuously poured out upon our heads.

These overcomers that are about to emerge on the scene are ones who have been lying down in green pastures and are lead by the still waters. They have been feeding and feasting at the Lord's Table and they are overflowing with the oil of heaven. This is the place of intimacy and maturing in our relationship with God.

It is now time that we enter into Psalm 24. I believe Psalm 24 will be a key passage for the church in this next season. It's time to lift up our heads to the Lord and let the King of Glory come in and wage war through us.

Crossing Over

Deuteronomy 6:23 says this:

"Then He brought us out from there, that He might bring us in, to give us the land of which He swore to our fathers."

I believe God's people today have been delivered from Egypt, which represents slavery, bondage, the flesh, the body, etc. We have gone through the wilderness, which represents the soul, grumbling, complaining, etc. And I believe we are now positioned to cross the Jordan and take the promised land. I believe the church has been sipping from the Jordan River from the wilderness side while longing to enter into the promised land.
The promised land represents the fullness of God, the fullness of all His promises to us. It represents coming back to the place of the Garden of Eden where there was rest and refreshing and a 24-hour-a-day consciousness of God. The promised land represents living in the manifest glory of God.

The second oil of this overcoming anointing is a holy violence and hunger to work the works of God on the earth. We are in a time of war!

A Changing of the Guard; A Changing Season

There is a changing of the guard and a changing of the season that is upon the church. We are going from Esau to Jacob, Saul to David, Eli to Samuel, Saul to Paul, and Moses to Joshua. The Lord said to Joshua, "Moses is dead, now arise, go over the Jordan and possess the land." He told Joshua to be strong and very courageous. In Joshua 3:4-7 the Lord said you have not passed this way before, therefore sanctify yourselves this day so I may do wonders among you tomorrow. Then the Lord told Joshua that He was about to exalt him in the eyes of all Israel and they would know that as He was with Moses so He would also be with Joshua.

God wants to do the same with His people. He wants to extend that scepter to us and exalt the true church in the eyes of the world. But what was it that made God choose Joshua? Whenever Moses would leave the tent of meeting after talking with the Lord, Joshua would remain behind and linger in the presence of God. Joshua lived for the presence of God and, therefore, Joshua carried the spirit of an overcomer and was chosen to lead all Israel into their destiny.

In Numbers 13 Moses sent 12 spies into the promised land to spy it out. Ten of them came back with a negative report. They said the land looked great but the people were huge and undefeatable. They said they were like grasshoppers in their own eyes, therefore they were seen as grasshoppers in the eyes of the people. But Caleb and Joshua stood up with the spirit of an overcomer and proclaimed that they were well able to overcome the enemies of the land and they must possess it. This is the mindset that comes when the oil of the Overcomer is poured out upon us. This is how we think when we are living as true priests and kings.

Warrior Mindset Replacing the Grasshopper Mentality

Joshua said in Numbers 14:8 that if the Lord delighted in them, then He would give them the land and the enemies of the land would be their bread and they would eat them for lunch. Joshua and Caleb were the only ones spared from that generation because God said they had a different spirit in them. They had a revelation that God delighted in them and, therefore, they knew they could overcome any enemy.

I recently had an unusual dream. There were many people in this dream and all of them were covered in urine. It was very odd. I awoke from the dream and the Lord immediately dropped a Scripture into my heart.

Psalm 34:5,8
"They looked to Him and were radiant, and their faces were not ashamed. Oh, taste and see that the Lord is good."

The Lord spoke to me through this dream about the current condition of many believers. Many believers today are consumed with a feeling of hopelessness. They feel that their life is a waste and doesn't count for anything. Hope deferred has made their hearts sick. They have no sense of destiny; therefore, in the dream everyone was covered with urine, which is a form of waste. But those who have been looking upon Him and feeding upon Him are becoming radiant, and the shame of their lives is being washed away because they are tasting that the Lord is good. They are shedding that grasshopper mentality and God has been pouring the oil of an overcomer over their lives.

I'm prophesying to you now that God is about to pour out this Oil of an Overcomer, and those who have been hidden in the wilderness and feasting on the Lord are about to emerge on the scene and they will be gripped with holy hunger and a holy violence to lay hold of their inheritance and they will not be denied.

Are You Ready for the Oil?

The Spirit of an Overcomer is described in two places in Scripture, Ephesians 3:16 and Psalm 92:10-15. Jesus' inheritance is that the manifold wisdom of God would be displayed by the church to the principalities and powers in heavenly places (Ephesians 3:10). In order for this to be fulfilled we must overcome the world and bring heaven to earth daily. Paul prays in Ephesians 3:16 that through the Holy Spirit we would be strengthened with might in our inner-man. The anointing to overcome comes by the spirit of counsel and might.

Psalm 92:10-15 is the other place this overcoming anointing is mentioned. God is going to anoint our strength like a wild ox. He is going to anoint us with fresh oil. The ones that have been hidden in the wilderness for years have learned how to be a palm tree in the midst of the desert. They have become planted in the House of God and have learned to flourish and feast at God's banqueting table. God is going to release the Spirit of an Overcomer on these ones that they might declare and release the righteousness and justice of God on the earth.

It's time to take action and take the Land. It's time to arise out of the wilderness and begin to operate in the fullness of God's anointing with awesome displays of glory and power. Daniel 11:32b says this:

"The people who know their God shall be strong, and carry out great exploits."

Position yourselves today for the outpouring of this end-time overcoming anointing. Let God infuse you with the strength of heaven and fill you with the anointing to overcome! Let the Sons and Daughters of Fresh Oil arise and come forth! Let the people of the world declare:

Song of Solomon 8:5
"Who is this coming up from the wilderness, leaning upon her beloved?"

A holy militancy is about to be poured out upon God's people. It's a Breakthrough and a Breakout anointing! Are you positioned to receive it?

Lord, we ask you now to begin to pour out the Spirit of the Overcomer. Let there be a supernatural release of the shout of war upon Your people. We lift up our heads to You and ask that the King of Glory would come in and breakthrough so that we can breakout. Lord, stir your people out of the wilderness and grip us with a holy violence and jealousy to lay hold of our inheritance. May we be strong and do great exploits in Your Name!

by Ryan Wyatt Abiding Glory Ministries
www.abidingglory.com

The Revealing Of The Sons Of God
Stephen Hanson

July 15, 2005

I consider that our present sufferings are not worth comparing with the glory that will be revealed in us. The creation waits in eager expectation for the sons of God to be revealed. For the creation was subject to frustration not by its own choice, but by the will of the one who subjected it, in hope that the creation itself will be liberated from the bondage to decay and brought into the glorious freedom of the children of God. We know the whole creation has been groaning as in the pains of childbirth right up to the present time. Not only so, but we ourselves, who have the first fruits of the Spirit, groan inwardly as we wait eagerly for our adoption as sons the redemption of our bodies. Rom. 8:19-23

“Shut the doors, oh my people, and enter into the secret chambers of my Spirit. For I tell you that the days are hastening forward to the times of trouble. For the world will be held in trouble when these days come. That which has blossomed will grow into a withered vine. For that which has blossomed has been of the world and not of Me. For I tell you that everything will be shaken. The earth will be shaken. The nations will be shaken, and the people will be shaken. Everything that can be shaken will be shaken.”

[The Lord showed me a vision of the earth and it was opening-up. There was a huge crack or fissure in it, like what would happen when an earthquake comes. As I looked at this scene, it would continue opening up again and again. The process went on and on with the earth’s crust opening-up to reveal a gap in its surface.]

“This is an example of what happens with an earthquake, but I tell you that it is opening-up the bowels of the earth. For the earth senses my coming. All creation groans for the revealing of the Son of Man. But I tell that most of mankind is not aware of this. The earth knows that it is going through travail. For I tell you that these birth pangs will continue. For then the day will come for the birth to come, but what will the birth bring forth? Will it be a good birth?”

[The Lord now showed me a hole in the ground that looked very much like a birth canal. Out of this hole, a form of some sort would arise and then fall back again. It was white and luminous in color and had a gelatin-like appearance. It seemed very strange to me to see something like this coming forth out of a canal in the earth.]

“I tell you that when the birth comes forth it will be glorious. For the sons of God will be established in these last days. They will do great things in my Spirit.”

Hope Does Not Disappoint Us
Stephen Hanson

July 13, 2005
I felt it necessary to write about a topic of great importance for all people. I believe that without the hope in our hearts that has been established by the Holy Spirit, that we as a people have very little to look forward to or to even live for.

“For I know the plans I have for you,” declares the Lord, “plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future.” Jer. 29:11

This is especially true in light of the prophetic timeline in which we live. Perhaps you have noticed that many of the current prophecies and articles that are coming forth, speak of impending judgment and danger that is soon to come upon the people of America and other nations. Some of this is said in light of the recent Al-Qaida attacks that have come, and some that are yet to come upon America in the form of either nuclear or chemical weapons. The entire world can view the results of these attacks from the privacy of their own living room. Everyday we see more and more of this on our television sets, and read about this is our local newspapers. The Lord’s hand is slowly being lowered and the hedge of protection is being removed. Intercession and prayer has diverted some of these things for a time and a season, but the time comes when no amount of prayer will keep God’s judgments from coming. Without a sense of hope that has been imparted to us, we are doomed to a life of desolation. But with this hope coupled with faith, we can be strengthened and rise above these things.

“Now faith is being sure of what we hope for and certain of what we do not see.” Heb. 11: 1

Now it also needs to be said that with all of the judgments which are soon to come, that God will provide a way out and He will be a refuge for his people. When the devastation comes, and it will, there will be those who have been guided to build houses and cities of refuge for people to be comforted in. How ever it will be done, God will protect his own. Perhaps this seems far-off and something that might happen in the distant future, but I believe that these events are upon the horizon soon to be seen. However, with all of these judgments coming, God does not want his children to fear or to be without hope. He wants to prepare us so that we will not be taken by surprise. He has warned us through his prophetic word again and again. Will we bury our heads in the sand and pretend that all is well, or will we prepare for these things and take them to heart? Will we be like the five foolish or the five wise virgins? Will our oil have dried up, or will we still have some to “see” these things and prepare? Will we be without hope and be devastated by the ideas of these events, or will we stand strong in our faith even though the mountains crash into the sea?

“God is our refuge and strength, an ever-present help in trouble. Therefore we will not fear, though the earth give way and the mountains fall into the heart of the sea, though its waters roar and foam and the mountains quake with their surging.” Psalm 46: 2-3

Stephen Hanson
tseyigai@yahoo.com
http://www.angelfire.com/in/HisTruth
HCR 79 3081
Cuba, NM 87013
http://www.angelfire.com/in/HisTruth/PayPalform.html (for donations)

The Reversal Process

Chuck Pierce:

"Good News! 'The Reversal Process' Of What The Enemy Had Done 'Has Begun'!"

Here is some of what I have heard from the Lord this past week or so:

And I say to you, "I am a God that does not sleep, and I am fully awake on your behalf today. Even this week I will be watching you very carefully over your response to Me. Respond with faith that will cause Me to release virtue. Rise up and stand. Rise up, and be awake with Me.

"When I awaken you in the night season, respond to Me, for this is a week of standing and protection. This is a week of watching, for I will show you a door that has seemed shut, and I will show you the path to get through the door. Watch carefully this week, for I am awake on your behalf; so you wake up.

"By October, I will raise a tent, and you will rejoice that the wilderness has let go of you. Have I not said this is a season of victory? Though testing is great, I am developing a sound of victory in My people. Get ready. Begin to say and shout victory, for in your spirit there are depths of victory you do not even know. I will give you favor. There are many changes.

"I have positioned people, like Esthers, for the future, and as Mordecais to find the enemy at the gate. I have positioned Daniels to give influence in the government. Though the testing is great, your sound and victory will be greater. I am Captain of the Hosts. Though you don't know how to war, I will begin to give you war strategies. You have said, 'I don't know how to move forward.' But I am taking My stand. See Me as Captain of the Hosts. Cut ties with sides you have wrongly aligned with in the past.

"This Is a Time of Reversal and Crying Forth with Praise"

"I am resting passion on My people and calling them back to their First Love. Passion is rising up over this land. My passion and zeal for the land are being released from Heaven. I am activating the passion of My people in a new way. Many are being compelled to seek, watch, and cry out for My deliverance fire.

"This is a time of reversal and crying forth with praise. I am setting a four-fold strategy of restoration. The reversal process has begun. Be willing to surround your inheritance and set a wall of fire. That which has been set in place to hold back passion will prevail no longer. This is a time I am calling forth passion. I am ready to reverse. Don't worry about your enemies. The enemy will be exposed in the midst of you. Let the passion of My Spirit come forth in you.

"This is a time of dethroning the throne of the enemy that has centered himself in your midst. I will give revelation to those who have the right to dethrone. I will secure you as a nation. Rise up! This is the beginning of overturning and surrounding, and now I will begin to establish My tent pegs and a standard in your midst and make a new covering over you."

Chuck D. Pierce
Glory of Zion International
www.glory-of-zion.org

Understanding And Breaking The Cycle Of Infirmity

Chuck Pierce

With:
Dr's Dee Legako and Pat Legako

Understanding and Breaking the Cycle of Infirmity

[C. Peter Wagner and I (Chuck)] would like to address the deadly cycles that seem to control our lives and remove our freedom. A cycle is an interval during which a recurring sequence of events happens. A cycle can also be a periodically repeated sequence of events, or something that happens over and over at a certain time. Sometimes this is impregnated with supernatural phenomena.

God does not produce signs and wonders from Heaven as ends in themselves. They are released to bring faith to His people and those around them -- whether believers or unbelievers. This is also the year of the SAMEKH of God, or things coming full circle. This is the year to break old cycles.

A cycle can be linked with time or events and orchestrated supernaturally so a repeating wound or injustice occurs from generation to generation. Satan loves to keep us going around the same mountain or held in a cyclical structure.

Ecclesiastes 4:12 says, "And a three fold cord is not quickly broken." The three demonic strongholds we have to deal with most of the time in our lives are poverty, infirmity, and religion. We looked at poverty and religion previously (click links to read on The Elijah List). The other strategy that gets us going in a wrong direction and hinders us in completing God's call is infirmity.

The Spirit of Religion

Peter Wagner wrote about the power of religious spirits. I love Peter. He is always willing to overturn the applecart of the present church structure. You must read his new book, Freedom from the Religious Spirit.

Life should be filled with joy. Nehemiah 8:10 says, "The joy of the Lord is your strength." One of the great joys of my life has been to work alongside Peter. First of all, he is a man filled with joy. He enjoys life, his family, ministry, people, eating, and his own jokes.
One of the things that keeps him filled with joy is that he never lets life get stale. The characteristic he possesses, which I feel is a key to his life, is that he loves to embrace change. If God decides it is time to bring change into the earth realm through new thought processes, Peter seems to be the first to raise his hand in the earth and say, "Use me!" Embracing change seems to be the key to keeping the religious spirit confused!

The Spirit of Poverty

Another strategy of the enemy that holds us in captivity is poverty. My last article was on this. Let me remind you of what was said:
"This spirit has violated God's perfect order and produced instability in many. I feel the Lord is saying to take a violent, passionate stand on behalf of the Body of Christ concerning this spirit. When God is talking about us being violent, this means that we will press through difficulty and storms, and force an atmospheric change. I declare that any atmosphere of poverty encircling around you or your sphere of authority will be invaded with the atmosphere of blessing and glory from Heaven.
"This is a season to gain victory through giving. This will break the curse of God robbing. Debt and past financial defeats in our lives need to reverse. The Body of Christ needs to see restoration in its provision.
"Restoration is always linked with multiplication. Any poverty spirit that has held your generational bloodline in captivity and kept you from the fullness of the prosperity that God has for you must break!
"Poverty is refusing to become what God created and destined you to be. Poverty is not believing that the Lord can graft you into the fullness of His plan. Poverty is not just experiencing lack, but having a fear that you will lack.
"Poverty is where you conform to your circumstance or the blueprint that the world and the god of this world has surrounded you with. Poverty occurs when the 'god of this world' surrounds you with and influences you with only a world perspective, causing you to forget God's ability in the midst of your circumstance. Poverty has a voice that says, 'God is not able!'"

The Spirit of Infirmity

When I was a child, I was plagued with infirmity. This has continued in my adult life and, in 2001, I grew very ill. The manifestation of this sickness brought me to a place of desperation in seeking God. The Lord, in His infinite grace, began to show me that I had a generational spirit of infirmity linked with trauma. The trauma of my past was continuing to hold this infirm spirit in place.

This was not the first time I had ever been ill -- illness and infirmity was a pattern in my life. As a child I had been plagued with stomach ulcers, bronchial asthma, and migraine headaches, just to name a few. From the time I became filled with the Spirit, I had learned how to resist the power of sickness. Yet, I had never really overcome the power of infirmity in my life. In the early 1990s, I received some very bad reports concerning my esophagus. In 2001, my esophagus and colon were damaged and creating very dangerous situations in my life.

Cindy Jacobs, a friend of mine, shared with me that she believed my sickness was related to the trauma I had experienced growing up, as well as my father's premature death. My first impression was, "How could this be?"
Before I entered into the hospital the next week, I came home very ill and was unable to digest any food. My brother, Keith, gave me a call. He said, "While I was teaching my Sunday School class, the Lord told me that the sickness that you are experiencing is still related to the loss of our dad." I thought to myself, "Why isn't my brother ever sick? My dad was his dad also." So I asked him this.
He said, "You had a different emotional tie with Daddy than I. Therefore, this loss wounded and affected you in a way that it did not affect me."

The Cycle of Infirmity

This was an eye-opening statement for me. I fell before the Lord and began to ask Him how to break this generational iniquity of infirmity that was linked with the trauma of loss. The Lord has led me on a journey of understanding how trauma affects our DNA and weakens our spirit man. One verse that has become a "life" verse for me is Proverbs 18:14: "The spirit of man will sustain him in sickness, but who can bear a broken spirit?" A broken spirit occurs when life's difficulties crush your ability to resist.

Infirmity is a term that encompasses more than just sickness and disease. This word also is related to suffering and sorrow. Infirmity can be a result of moral or spiritual weaknesses and defects that cause our will to stray from God. Infirmity, though physical, can be related to the influence of an evil spirit (Luke 13:11).

The term is linked with an overall weakness in one's body or anything that has created the weakness, such as grief.

The Effects of Generational Iniquity On Our DNA

Infirmity can be linked with a generational weakness or iniquitous pattern in the bloodline. Many times people are confused over how generational iniquity works. Rebecca Wagner Sytsema and I explain a great deal about this in Possessing Your Inheritance.
To fully understand generational iniquity we must understand how DNA makes the blueprint of our body. DNA causes traits from one generation to be passed on to the next generation. When the sperm and egg unite and a new individual begins to be formed, already programmed in the makeup of that person is God's redemptive plan as well as the iniquitous inherited traits that will resist that plan from coming into fullness.
Simply, this seems to say that our blood begins to war with itself from the time of our conception.

Our cell groups come together to form tissues. Tissues form organs. Blood cells are pumped through the body, giving oxygen to each organ to survive. The cells in your stomach digest food. Brain cells work together as you study and pursue knowledge.
Cells are dynamic. Therefore, an iniquitous pattern can affect your entire physical and mental makeup. A DNA molecule which is releasing this code is made up of a double helix that looks like a twisted rope ladder or spiral staircase. There are base pairs making up the stairs. These send messages how to code the cell and accomplish what the cell is there for. These give us hereditary instructions. So, if something is passed on that has been "twisted" or linked with iniquity, you get messages that multiply wrongly. The Spirit of God can come into our life so we can become "a son of God." As we submit or yield our life to the Spirit's work, He flows through our blood and cleanses our conscience from the thought processes linked with the iniquitous patterns in our blood line.

In my case, there was a generational weakness and that weakness aligned itself with loss and trauma. But God! That morning in 2001, He showed me a generational iniquity that had occurred in my bloodline and was linked with my Dad. I confessed this as sin and renounced the power of its effect. This set me on a new road to health. I had four doctors that helped me greatly in developing a new order in my life. One was a chiropractor, one a doctor specializing in homeopathic medicine, one a gastroenterologist, and another was my general MD. Each played their role in diagnosing my condition. However, it was the Spirit of God that began to change me greatly from the inside.

Jesus' Treatment of Disease was Part of His Redemptive Plan of Freedom

Jesus healed sick people. This was one of His major ministries. He dealt with many organic causes of illness: individuals affected by madness, birth defects, and infections. The blind, the deaf, the lame, and other sufferers approached Him for help.

In the Hebraic culture of the day, most believed that illness was the direct consequence of sin resulting in punishment (John 9:1-3). However, Jesus shifted this concept of understanding in the people of that day by healing a blind man who had been sick since birth. He declared this sickness was not related to the blind man or his father, but was for His Glory. This shifted the paradigm of punishment related to sin.
Many of our wrong choices produce consequences that affect our body. However, Jesus came to extend grace to bring us out from the bondage of the punishment of sin and into healing and wholeness. He had the power both to forgive sin and to heal (Matthew 9:1-8; compare Mark 2:1-12; Luke 5:17-26).

If Jesus Heals, Then Why Doctors?

There is much written today on how to prevent and combat illness. In biblical times, we find the use of ointments and salves that were used for healing. James 5:14 instructed the combined use of oil, confession of faults, and spiritual authority to produce healing. Diet is also one of the most important facets of health. That is why we need to at least gain knowledge of the Lord's dietary laws. Wine was even used to help stop problems and alleviate pain and discomfort (I Timothy 5:23).

Why Doctors?

Then and now, of course, prevention is the most important dynamic of combating disease. In a world of chemical stimulation and overwhelming stress, it is a wonder any of us remains healthy. Stress has such impact on our bodies, physically and spiritually, that without the Lord as our strength, it would be impossible to live in this world. However, Jesus said, "Be in the world, but not of it."
Why doctors? I think they are trained to understand dynamics of the world that can give us wisdom on how to be in the world. Why doctors? Well, most doctors understand cycles. If a medical doctor begins to take a biblical approach toward an individual -- that of seeing the individual as a whole -- they will be able to find the root cause of the problem and help to not only heal, but prevent disease in the future. With doctoral skill in prevention and advances in medicine, individuals can better reverse deficiencies that have created paths of decay. Why doctors? They can validate what God is doing in a skeptical world.

One of my favorite books is Dr. Gallagher's Guide to 21st Century Medicine: How To Get Off The Illness Treadmill and Onto Optimum Health. Dr. Gallagher says, "The body is a miraculous system equipped with an innate ability to achieve balance and health. We have, within each of us, the ability to work with, and nourish, this God given gift."[1] He suggests a healthier diet, nutritional and herbal supplements, identifying and eliminating hidden food allergies and chemical sensitivities, a simple detox program to get rid of harmful toxins in the body, chiropractic manipulation, and just practically following sensible health laws. He suggests finding the root causes of our illness and breaking the cycle. He then goes on to list practical suggestions on how to deal with many diseases.

Dr. Dee Legako's and Pat Legako's Comments

I have two friends from Oklahoma City who are incredible ministers as well as professionals in the field of medicine. Dr. Dee Legako writes the following:

The practice of medicine very often involves cycles. It is frequently necessary to interrupt these cycles to effect change. This may be a short cycle such as an acute bacterial illness treated by an antibiotic. It may be a longer cycle treated by a procedure. It may involve long cycles treated by changes in lifestyles. Whatever the problem (bad cycle), a tool is used to break that cycle and create a healthy (good) cycle.

Colorectal cancer is the second leading cause of death due to malignancy in the United States. The vast majority of these cancers arise from adenomatous polyps. Once detected, these precancerous polyps can be removed. The cycle is broken and the cancer prevented. Depending on the initial findings, repeat studies may be performed at intervals from a few months to several years to insure the malignancy (bad cycle) does not recur.

Diabetes mellitus is recognized as an emerging epidemic in the United States. This illness has many long term cycles. Individuals recognizing their propensity to diabetes may break this cycle by losing weight, eating properly, and increasing their physical activity.

Dee's wife, Pat, a trained nurse, ministers to individuals in the field of deliverance. She writes the following:

(In) treating emotional and mental disorders we see a number of cycles. These cycles manifest generationally and personally. The cycles can be broken by finding the root cause and dealing with it through deliverance, counseling, medication, or a combination of modalities.

Let's consider the diagnosis of depression. When we take a family history, depression is often seen cycling down family lines. Sometimes it is not recognized as depression. The person may be considered an alcoholic, as he "drowns his sorrows" in alcohol trying to counter the depression. The person in the next generation may not use alcohol but is presented with depression as a diagnosis. The person in the third generation may abuse drugs (either prescription or street) trying to escape his depression. The problem in all three generations is depression and must be recognized and addressed properly in order for the cycle to be broken.

Child and spousal abuse have certainly been proven generational. Statistically, it is shown that if a person was abused as a child, he has a much greater likelihood of becoming an abuser as an adult. When a child is abused he receives a spirit of rejection and often a familiar spirit of the victim/predator enters him. When he becomes an adult those spirits influence his behavior and he will abuse others. The way to break this cycle that goes from generation to generation is deliverance and counseling.

Counseling alone is usually not effective, because his personality has developed with these spirits present. He knows no other way of thinking or behaving and will be unable to learn new behavior until he is released from the demonic influence.

The Lord has been showing us how to research and write prayers for genetically-based diseases. Schizophrenia is usually associated with changes to Chromosome 22q11. As the human gnome project continues its research, we will be able to trace these cycles down generational lines and pray more effectively for illnesses such as schizophrenia. We are also researching how genetically-based diseases are linked to generational iniquities.

In any of these disorders, it is important to seek the help of the Holy Spirit for wisdom in ministry. There are times when a person is in such a state of depression or agitation that he is unable to receive ministry until medication is administered. I have dealt with people who refused medication because they believed it meant they didn't have faith. I have talked with ministers who refused to minister deliverance to someone who was on medication because it was mind altering. If it is altering the mind to be able to think coherently and focus then they should be able to receive ministry. The good news is that there is help for people with emotional and mental problems. Look for the cycles and be prepared to break them.

If you have an infirmity, whatever way you choose for healing as you follow God is very important. More importantly, you should find the root cause and press through into the healing process. During my "infirm" time, I made a choice to follow the Lord to Nigeria. Dr. Wagner was leading a gathering there with key apostolic leaders from the nation. I always serve Peter when He requests me to be somewhere. However, the thought of traveling all the way to Nigeria, and me already not doing well, was difficult to reconcile. Peter encouraged me to go. He even said, "Because of how the power of God is moving there, perhaps you will get healed." He was right. I overcame my fear, went, and during a prayer meeting (of 10,000), the Spirit of God came. When communion was served, they invited anyone who was sick to come forward. I was the first in line. I felt a curse of infirmity leave my body when I participated.

I cannot say that I have never been sick again, but what has happened is that a power to resist sickness is now resident. When the power of infirmity comes against me, I submit to God, resist the devil and watch him flee. Declare that you are willing to change! Watch your atmosphere become filled with God's presence. This is the year to break old cycles. Ask the Lord to empower you to break every old cycle of infirmity in your life. Ask Him to tear apart the three braided cord of religion, poverty and infirmity. Ask the Lord to come again and break you out of old cycles. And ask Him to allow you to experience His glory!

by Chuck D. Pierce
Glory of Zion International
www.glory-of-zion.org

(Endnotes)
[1] Gallagher, Martin P., Dr. Gallagher's Guide to 21st Century Medicine (Atlas Publishing Company, Greensburg, PA: 1997), p. 7.

The Real Reason For The Season

Danny Korakas

Dec 26, 2004

"I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your seed and her seed; He shall bruise you on the head, and you shall bruise him on the heel." (Genesis 3:15)

"I will greatly bless you, and I will greatly multiply your seed as the stars of the heavens, and as the sand which is on the seashore; and your seed shall posses the gate of their enemies, and in your seed shall the nations of the earth be blessed." (Genesis 22:17-18)

"Your house and your kingdom shall endure before Me forever; your throne shall be established forever." (2 Samuel 7:16)

"For a child will be born to us, a son will be given to us; and the government will rest upon his shoulders; and his will be called Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Eternal Father, Prince of Peace." (Isaiah 9:6)

I find it interesting that the Lord states in Genesis 3:15 that Satan would have "seed." I never saw or pondered this until recently. Certainly, this was foreseen by the Lord in knowing the multiplying or reproducing of evil that would soon occur through the lusts and selfishness of mankind as a result of the deceptions of the enemy. From the beginning of Biblical history, Satan has attempted to hinder or destroy the Lord's best for His people. Ever since he was cast out of heaven as the most favored of angels, (See Ezekiel 28) Satan has schemed and deceived to oppose God's best for humanity. Even though the battle rages to this day and we see the "seed" of darkness multiplying, God will always preserve His people and rise up a standard for our victory. This is the true meaning and purpose of Hanukkah — the celebration of God's love and power in preserving His people along with the rededicating of the Temple, which represents the body of Christ today.

As we read through the Old Testament, we can see a clear picture of Satan's many attempts to oppose God's best for mankind. The gift of prophecy and prophetic intercession is priceless in that it has been the means of how God communicates the strategies, and plans of Satan to the church. On the other hand, we must be willing to stand and enter into the battle "because" of the prophetic word. (This statement will become more clear as we move through the message.) Satan is not omniscient and can only respond to what God reveals. Think about that for a moment. When the power of the prophetic word or revelation goes forth, we should expect a soon-coming RESISTANCE and the opportunity for battle and VICTORY. Life's greatest victories are won through great battles. The Bible is laced with HISTORIC BATTLES. It is so that we might understand that "history" is made through "history makers."

You are "more than conquerors through Christ Jesus who loves you and has called you according to His purposes." Satan is not privy to the divine council and revelation of God; he only knows what God has revealed through his people who seek and proclaim His Word. Ephesians 1:9-10 makes it clear that God's plan concerning the future is a "mystery." A mystery is the will and purposes of God that are concealed until He chooses to reveal it. The Bible states that God reveals nothing to mankind without first revealing it to His prophets. It is not because the prophet is special or more "spiritual." They will speak a word from the Lord that is untainted without the fear of man. Likewise, a true prophet of God will also prepare the hearers of a prophetic word.

I hope that you can see and understand the awesome responsibility that not only comes through proclaiming a prophetic word, but preparing the hearers and readers of that word for the certainty of resistance and the opportunity for warfare and VICTORY. (There is entirely too much preaching behind pulpits explaining how we can escape the battle and live a life of ease and comfort on the sidelines of history. As I stated earlier, you have been called to be MORE than conquerors.)

If God has called you to be a conqueror, it means that there is something to be conquered. If there is something to be conquered, it means that a BATTLE will be required. Many of the "money changers" that we see on TV are the same one's who will tell you that the spoils of war are cheap and easy, rather than difficult and require a battle. "Just sow into MY ministry and God will bless you financially." They won't tell you that if a person is both naturally and SPIRITUALLY lazy, he or she will suffer poverty and want. They only want to tell you what will insure your approval or play upon your fears for their support. Those who are spiritually lazy in seeking God's face and Word will be bankrupt in peace. They will also be bankrupt in contentment, purpose and destiny. Everything that has lasting and eternal value will cost you ... and it is not bought with mammon.

It is fascinating to know that Satan did not know or foresee the virgin birth, birthplace and identity of the Messiah until it was revealed through the Word of God and writings of the prophets. As the Lord's plan of redemption was unfolding, Satan attempted to abolish the birth of Christ through the agency of deceived men. God has always done What is even more fascinating is to read and follow the awesome ways of God in foiling Satan's plots and turning Satan's own diabolical strategies against Satan himself.

It doesn't take long upon opening the pages of the Bible, to see Satan's first attempt to disrupt or negate God's purpose in the Garden of Eden. Satan's strategy in luring Adam and Eve to disobey God is the same one he uses today.

It all started when Adam let the beast of the FIELD into the GARDEN – the place that God had given him authority and dominion. Adam's sin is not what he did as much as what he didn't do — the sin of omission. Adam allowed the serpent (Satan) into his domain. When the serpent approached Eve with the grand lie — Did Eve know what a lie was? Had Eve ever heard a lie before? Of course not! On one hand, God had told her not to eat of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil lest she die. And on the other hand, Satan said, "Go ahead, you will not die. As a matter of fact, you will see just as God sees...You will be just like God." (Paraphrased) What we can logically assume is that Eve had two "perceived" truths. You see, Eve did not fall when she ate the forbidden fruit. That was the consummation of the fall. Eve fell when she RATIONALIZED God's truth in making her choice. An example would be if I stepped off the roof of my house. I fall as soon as I leave the roof. I don't fall when I hit ground. The pain of hitting the ground is the consummation or result of the fall. Eve fell when she rationalized God's Word for her own selfish desires. Partaking of what was forbidden just consummated the fall.

Disobedience to God' Word usually produces a running away from God in our shame. This is Satan's primary strategy. Once he can get us away from the presence of God, he has us playing his game of life, on his home court, and he has been playing there a lot longer than we have. The action or weapon that we possess that truly intimidates Satan is our intimacy with God and the knowing of His Word. Mankind's "brilliance" over the centuries has not moved Satan. It is and will be our intimacy with God and His Word that will shake the kingdom of darkness.

God knew beforehand that man in his FREEDOM and ability to CHOOSE would eventually fall. We know this because the Bible states that our Redeemer and Savior was slain from or before the foundations of the earth. God, in His infinite wisdom and knowledge, foiled Satan's plan when He declared that the "seed of the woman" would be his ultimate defeat. Ever since the episode in the Garden of Eden, Satan has known that He is a defeated adversary. Although Satan would "bruise the heel" of the fulfillment of this prophecy (Jesus Christ), Jesus, who was born into humanity, would crush his head! (Genesis 3:15)

What an incredible plan and fulfillment of complete redemption! Not only would God redeem us from our sin and curse, He would go on to choose us (the human race) to deliver and reveal the "seed of the woman" to crush the purposes and strategies of Satan. This is incredible! Satan, up to this time, was clueless that God Himself would become that perfect seed and man. I believe that all Satan knew was that through the human race would arise a "person" who would spell his defeat. It would seem logical from this point that Satan's next move and strategy would be to completely destroy the human race while it was few in number to save himself. It would also seem logical that while there were just a handful of people he could find a way to kill them, or better yet, find a way to have them kill one another.

As we move through scripture, we see that it didn't take long for Satan's plan to take hold. I mean it didn't take long at all. Just consider Cain's murder of his brother Abel. We have written several articles concerning Cain's murder of Abel and the root of JEALOUSY and envy (which leads to gossip) as being the primary instrument that Satan uses in humanity's destroying of one another. I believe that Satan was attempting to indoctrinate man to use murder as a device in dealing with the deep seated issues of jealousy and envy. Thank God that Satan's plan for Cain to be a serial killer was foiled by the hand of God. (God had to exile Cain for good reasons. We must remember that only 2 people were left – along with a murderer and the prophecy was not fulfilled) However, we still see and experience the residue today. Jealousy and gossip are "killers" in that they murder the trust, hope, and love that relationship with God and others are built and founded upon. It seems that gossip travels the fastest over grapevines that are slightly sour.

Genesis 6 reveals Satan's next attempt at annihilating mankind. This time, Satan's strategy was through the genetic corruption of man created in God's image. The Bible says that the "sons of God", which seem to be fallen angels, left the spirit realm and had intimate relations with the women of the earth. Many look at the flood in the next chapter as purely God's wrath against man's wickedness and rebellion. However, the flood was God's mercy and love in PRESERVING humanity created in His image. Mankind was heading down a road that would have corrupted and mutated the entire human race in short order. The Flood, although brought forth by God's righteous judgment, would once again crush the strategy of Satan in completely destroying man through genetic perversion. (Again, we see the same demonic strategies and residue today.) Our carnal man tends to view Flood event of God destroying man rather than God destroying Satan's strategies. The truth is that there was only one family who truly worshiped God and walked according to His ways. It would be through this family that God in His loving-kindness would preserve humanity and the prophetic word given in the Garden of Eden.

Now, Satan would eventually learn that the crusher of his head would come through the seed of Abraham who would be the father of the Jewish people and our faith in Yahweh.

"By Myself I have sworn, says the Lord, because you have done this thing, and have not withheld your son, (God would have to do this as well) your only son – blessing I will bless you, and multiply your descendants as the stars of the heaven and as the sand which is on the seashore; and your descendants shall possess the gate of their ENEMIES." (Genesis 22:16-17)

To the discerning believer in Jesus Christ, Satan's strategies become crystal clear and have never changed. Anti-Semitism began as a strategy of Satan to annihilate the seed of Abraham and his descendants – the Jewish people. Centuries before the Holocaust, the Bible shows us many attempts of Satanic induced extermination of the Jewish people and the assassination attempt of God's promise to Abraham. We see this during the Jewish captivity in Egypt and the decree of Pharaoh to kill every Hebrew first born male. We also read of this strategy in the book of Esther. Haman would be a type of Anti-Christ in his foiled attempt to persuade the king of Persia to kill EVERY Jewish person. The celebration of Hanukkah was birthed out of one such "extermination" strategy. Antiochus was bent on destroying the entire Jewish culture, religion, and peoples. And of course we all know the exploits of Herod. Although Satan knows that he is defeated, the rancid stench of Anti-Semitism has continued to this day to fill the nostrils and intoxicate the wicked to hatred and the murder of God's chosen people.

In bringing Holocaust strategies by Satan closer to home and our generation, many have wondered why Germany or Europe for that matter would be pulled into Anti-Semitism. Anti-Semitism has its origins in Palestine, but between the Greek and Roman conquests of the Middle East, the Amorite peoples were exiled to the turn of century Germanic lands. The Anti-Christ is not a particular person in the literal sense. We notice in the book of Revelation that there is no mention of an individual named "Anti-Christ." The Beast and the Dragon (Satan) will take on the "spirit" of Anti-Christ in their strategy of destruction against mankind. It was not so much the nation of Germany as it was the "Anti-Christ" spirit that had gone into those lands with the Amorite peoples. (They were enemies of Israel.).

More Jews have come to receive Yahshua as their Messiah in this generation than all generations combined from the time of the first century church. Once again, Satan's strategies will be turned against him by the hand of God. Anti-Semitism and the destruction of the Jewish people continues today through Islam as a strategy of Satan. My position is NOT to be "politically" correct, but "prophetically" correct. Although the Messiah has already come to Redeem man, Satan knows that the future kingdom and glory of God through Christ's return is hinged upon the PRESERVATION of the Jewish people as a distinct and favored people.

As the Word of God and history continued, Satan learned that the "seed of the woman" would come through Jacob's sons. (They would become the tribes of Israel.) The Bible says that "Shiloh would come through the tribe of Judah and that he would become a king."(Paraphrased) As the prophets released the purposes and the Word of God, Satan had more specific information concerning the :seed of the woman." It would not be long before Satan would launch murderous attacks upon the kings of Judah. (I hope that it is becoming increasingly clear of the importance of preparing people after a prophetic declaration has been spoken forth or written.)

The first king from the tribe of Judah would be David. In 2 Samuel 7, God promised that David's kingdom would never be overthrown. I can imagine Satan thinking that God had somehow miscalculated in rising up a young shepherd to rule from an eternal throne. The stage was set and Satan placed his seemingly undefeatable and well armed giant against a young man with a single sling-shot and a few smooth stones. Once again, Satan was defeated and God's people were PRESERVED.

In 2 Chronicles 21, Jehoram of Judah married Athaliah, the daughter of Ahab and Jezebel. When Jehoram was struck and died because of his wickedness, his son Ahaziah became king in Judah. Likewise, Ahaziah was killed prematurely because of his evil ways. Upon learning of her son's death, Athaliah murdered ALL of the royal heirs – some of these must have been her own children. (See 2 Chronicles 22:10-12) However, Satan's plan was foiled again. Jehoshabeath, the daughter of the king, took Joash the son of Ahaziah and "stole him away from the king's sons who were being murdered." The Bible says that Joash did what was right in the sight of the Lord. It would be through his leadership that the Temple would be repaired and the wicked and satanically motivated Athaliah would be put to death. I hope you can see the "multiple" Hanukkah parallels or patterns: The rising up of an Anti-Christ spirit. The defilement of the Temple and the hand of God preserving His promises. It is fascinating that we read and will ultimately see on "the day of the Lord" the Anti-Christ spirit of the Beast and the Dragon set up their throne and defile the Temple. However, this time, the defilement will never return and the rededicating of the "temple" will be permanent and will be "living stones." God's promise of a Redeemer through the tribe of Judah and the lineage of David would be PRESERVED.

Through the Word of God (the writings of the prophets), Satan learned a great deal concerning the soon coming Redeemer who would crush his head. Obviously, Satan learned in Isaiah 7 that He would be born of virgin birth. He learned in Micah 5 that He would be born in Bethlehem. And he had a good idea of when He would come through the time-line laid out by the prophet Daniel.

Soon to come was the glory and magnificence of One who was to be called Mighty God, Everlasting Father, and Prince of Peace! The utter shock that shook Satan and the foundations of his kingdom – That the One who would come from the seed of the woman and crush his head would be GOD HIMSELF! I can see Satan moving throughout history in his arrogance and confidence that no mere "man" could possibly defeat him. But yet, the mystery of the ages unfolded for the world to witness — The birth of the Christ. Fully man and yet fully God. The mystery that the angels still look upon in awe would be complete and fulfilled through His glorious birth and death. Jesus was born to die. The perfect sacrifice was born and would 33 years later die for your sins.

As Jesus hung on the cross dying, did Satan sense that he had somehow finally won? It had to be beyond his warped and wildest imagination that the very Son of God, whom he had put to death, would be the means that God the Father would use to strip his power, authority and crush his head. Satan failed to kill Jesus during Herod's assault on the babies in Bethlehem. He failed when he tried to have Jesus thrown over a cliff. He failed to drown Him in a storm or have him stoned by the Pharisees. Time and time again, Satan failed because "the time had not yet come." As a matter of fact, Jesus described the "religious elite" of that day to be "of their father, the devil." (John 8:44) Why? Because man's tradition and religion kills. It is intimate relationship with Christ that is the sole giver of life.

The sense of victory that Satan may have relished would only last for 3 days. His past defeats would pale in comparison to the utter shock of realizing that Jesus Christ was alive! Hebrews 2:14 says, "In as much then as the children have partaken of flesh and blood, He Himself likewise shared in the same, that through death, He might DESTROY him who had the power of death, that is, the devil." The glorious birth of Christ led to the CROSS. It would be the cross of Christ that would inflict the fatal blow and crush the "head" of all death and darkness.

So my question is this, are you ready to begin a New Year and chapter in your life by partaking in the cross and victory of Christ? Satan will surely respond to the unfolding revelation of His Word to the church. But as the church, this is our greatest hour to arise and seize the moment. Jesus Christ has empowered the church (you and I) to "possess the gate of our enemies" and to snatch the lost and dying from the grip of Satan's strategies and devices. He has called you and I to be His light and to shine in a world of darkness that is in need of a Savior. This is the REAL REASON for the season.

Look, Jesus did not come for a birthday party. Jesus came for one reason and one season alone – for the sole purpose of redeeming mankind to Himself through His shed blood. Many times in history, the "seed" and prophecy of Genesis 3:15 was down to one person or family. Needless to say, the conception of Christ was RARE and is not to be taken casually or common as most of the world and church has. The present prophetic movement has strayed from its calling and purpose to warn the wicked and call the lost to repentance in the love of Christ. Much of what I see is prophetic people prophesying to other prophetic people about how wonderful everything is and is going to be, while millions pass through the gates of hell every year.

The Lord spoke clearly concerning His prophetic watchmen in Ezekiel 33. (I encourage you to read it now.) You have received the blood of Christ for the forgiveness of your sins. You held out your hands and received the precious blood of the Lamb. My question to you is this ... "Is the blood still upon your hands? Or have you TOUCHED another and shared His real purpose for His coming?" This is the FRUIT of the "seed of the woman."

www.watermarkministry.org
www.watermarkministry.injesus.com www.watermarkministry.spreadtheword.com Permission is granted to reprint articles from WaterMark Ministry Websites in their entirety.

The Leprosy Of Greed
Danny Korakas

(ABlessedBunch@aol.com)
www.watermarkministry.org

"Gehazi, the servant of Elisha the man of God, said to himself, 'My master was too easy on Naaman, this Aramean, by not accepting from him what he brought. As surely as the Lord lives, I will run after him and get something from him. 'Naaman's leprosy will cling to you and to your descendants forever. Then Gehazi went from Elisha's presence and he was leprous, as white as snow. (2Kings 5:20, 27)

We wrote an article entitled "A Cinderella Story" earlier in the year that received a lot of heart-warming feedback. We tend to be drawn toward stories and events that have happy and joyful endings. (I know that I do. Behind closed doors, I am a "easy crier" for movies with adversity that end happily ever after.) The brief glimpse we have of Gehazi's life is not so much talked about or publicized in that it had such a tragic and sad ending. The story of Gehazi is about a man that began with so much potential and promise. He had the honor of walking beside a wonderful and godly spiritual father, along with experiencing the ministry example and integrity of Elisha.. However, Gehazi was a man who left a natural and spiritual leprosy as a legacy to his family and friends. The leprosy that had once plagued Naaman would now scar and ruin the life and ministry of Gehazi that once seemed so promising.

Gehazi began his ministry as a servant or assistant to the prophet Elisha. The Bible seems to indicate that things started out well. It even seemed as we begin reading in 2 Kings 4 that Gehazi was a model servant and minister. Elisha included Gehazi in much of his ministry and it looked as if the mantle might one day pass to this seemingly obedient partner in ministry. But by the time we get to chapter 5, something goes terribly wrong and Gehazi is "externally" marked with something that had lain "internally" hidden in his heart. What had manifested externally was the "LEPROSY OF GREED" and the love of money by an individual who was called to serve in prophetic ministry.

As one who ministered prophetically, Elisha refused to take a reward of money for the ministering of God's Word and healing power. Gehazi, on the other hand, could not resist the easy opportunity and temptation of playing on Naaman's emotions and wealth. In verse 20 we read that Gehazi said to himself, "As the Lord lives, I will run after Naaman and take something from him." Like Gehazi, we are seeing "ministers" wrongly chasing after people through the medium of television and radio for money in the "Name of the Lord." Likewise, they are void of so much as a guilty conscience as they plan their sermons (marketing schemes) to prey on the emotions and wallets of the saints who are in need themselves of finances and the touch and healing power of God.

I can imagine that Gehazi had witnessed the entire event unfold before him, and knew that Naaman had come prepared to pay a handsome price for his healing. Gehazi could not stomach the fact that Naaman was heading back to his native Syria (a pagan land) loaded with silver and gold. So what, if the ministry of Gehazi preached a little "twist" to the truth and exaggerated the real needs and purpose of the ministry to "twist" Naaman's arm.

What it boiled down to was Gehazi's lust for a little more of the world's riches and what it had to offer. I can imagine that Gehazi convinced himself that it was "God's MONEY" and God needed the money to support "His" work and ministry through the "man of God." Many justify and rationalize this argument today. Jesus clearly teaches us in Matthew 25:31- 46 that our "PERSONAL" giving to those who are hungry, thirsty, unclothed, sick and in chains is the barometer of our faith and love for Him. Not only are the believers giving their hard earned money to the "money changers" in the temple, many are likewise in their spiritual laziness giving their money for someone else to be an extension of Christ's love and compassion. Maybe this is the underlying reason why the church has desired to "pay" someone else full-time -- to feed the hungry, give a drink to the thirsty, clothe the naked, visit the sick and those in prison, so they don't have to.

I do not know all of the reasons why many ministerial leaders have had to continually manipulate and beg for more and more money from the saints. However, I do know that its abuse is being exposed by the Lord and it will reap the same awesome severity if the church continues to turn a blind eye and hide this leprous blemish as we approach our wedding date. On Sky Angel, I witness ministries and station owners promoting 3 and 4 "give-a-thons" a year with the same motivational speakers to make you feel guilty for not giving. Many even go so far as to blame your financial situation on your lack of "seed sowing" -- as if we could "buy" God's favor and blessing in the first place. This is a blatant misrepresentation of God's Word of a PROMISED provision for those who serve Him and call upon His name. For crying out loud, even Jerry Lewis only does one telethon per year! It seems that these ministries preach a message that they fail to believe themselves. If the tithe, offering, and sowing of money is the key to bring you financial wealth and prosperity, then why do THEY have to come back week after week, month after month, and ask YOU for more? The church needs to honestly consider and answer this question.

Beloved, the popular and often preached "robbing God of tithes and offerings" verse in the book of Malachi is not about money as much as it is our heart for the kingdom and presence of God. (Example -- The rich young ruler) The Hebraic word for "offerings" should be rendered "heave offering" which is an offering of grain and an expression of obedience and worship to God. The word "tithe" in Hebrew is "maasrah" meaning, "a tenth." Malachi 3:8-10 continues: "Bring the whole tithe into the storehouse, so that there may be food (The Hebrew word for "food" should be translated "prey.") in My house. "Ministers" have completely taken this verse out of context and have twisted it for the purposes of making money. Some may say, Danny, that's your interpretation of these verses. My response is, "keep reading the passage." It has everything to do with supplying the food needs of others and nothing to do with money. In other words, "show me the money!" I am all for supporting ministries and most importantly the needs of others that the Lord has brought across the path of my life. It is the twisting of scripture for the purposes of manipulating people to give that has caused us to err. Quite frankly, it is witchcraft.

"Look at the birds of the air, that they do not sow, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not worth much more than they? And which one of you by being anxious can add a single cubit to his life's span? And why are you anxious about clothing? Observe how the lilies of the field grow; they do not toil nor do they spin, yet I say to you that even Solomon in all his glory did not clothe himself like one of these. But if God so arrays the grass of the field, which is alive today and tomorrow is thrown into the furnace, will He not much more do so for you, O men of little faith? For all these things the Gentiles eagerly seek; for your heavenly Father knows that you need all these things. But seek first the kingdom and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added to you." (Matthew 6:26-34 condensed)

So why would God give leprosy to a man and his descendants for this action? Why did God consider this sin to be so grievous and serious that He imposed a life of leprosy upon Gehazi?

God took Gehazi's action very seriously because the testimony and Word of the Lord was manipulated and directly affected other people. Gehazi's manipulation for money DEFILED the Lord's precious and free gift of grace. The "works of man" will always defile the "work of the Lord." Not only that, but Gehazi defiled the trust of Elisha, the Lord's servant. Gehazi did what many are doing behind pulpits and upon platforms today -- The distorting and twisting of God's Word for monetary gain and the building of personal ministries and kingdoms. We need to understand what had transpired here. Gehazi's action not only disgraced the testimony of the Lord in Israel, it would also discredit the testimony of God's grace in a foreign land that desperately needed the truth of God's unconditional love, healing and provision. (Naaman was from Syria and held a tremendous amount of influence there.) As "Christians," our actions and words paint a picture of Christ for the world to behold. I am embarrassed by most of what I see the gift of "Christian" media portraying to the world. Gehazi's SIN of manipulation and misrepresentation of God's Word was very serious and it bore tremendous consequences in his life.

First, Gehazi defiled the Lord's work in lying about his ministry and his TRUE needs. He told Naaman that two other prophets had come to Elisha unexpectedly from the back country and were poor -- in need of money, food and clothing. Nothing could have been further from the truth. It was all made up, but yet sounded believable because it had to do with the "REAL" Lord's work. It seems that the church is an easy bunch to fall for a good heart-breaking story. It is a sin for today's ministers to live in million dollar homes and own private jets at the expense of the saints and then continue to plead for your money. If ministries can justify buying 20-30 million dollar corporate jets for the purpose of frequent travel and ministry, it would seem to me that a failure to equip the saints for the work of ministry and the presenting of believers mature in Christ is seriously lacking in leadership today. It would seem that building the ministries and the kingdom of God in others has been neglected in place of personal kingdom building. If you have $20.00 in the bank today, you have more than 75% of the people in the world. What an insult and slap in the face the American church must be to the rest of the world. What have we evolved into from the first century disciples that walked with our Lord Jesus Christ?

I am involved in the international marketplace and I am bi-vocational. (I support my own ministry to serve Christ.) I can honestly say from first hand experience that the world laughs at the deplorable nakedness of greed and the lack of faith that constitutes much of today's western church. They mock our pleading and begging for money and have greater discernment in recognizing man-made kingdom building than many in the church itself. I am appalled that on internetministry sites, people are constantly sending out newsletters "begging" for money or trying to sell me something as I attempt to navigate to the actual message. Even more appalling is that the majority of it is within "prophetic ministry groups." This is not our calling and is an embarrassment to our prophetic heritage.

I understand the reality that it takes money to get things done in the real world. I am not oblivious to that. However, as a PROPHETIC movement, we are slowly heading down the road of "INSTITUTIONALISM" that has corrupted the church and our Hebraic heritage. The prophet and prophetess of God should be self-supporting and reliant upon the Lord and not those to whom they have been called to bring His Word. (If you're honest, there is a certain line that many will not cross when the congregation or listeners are paying their light bill. How could you possibly be a true and complete prophetic voice in this bondage?) Any other area in life would consider this to be a blatant conflict of interest.

Paul, as a model of godly prophetic ministry, could say with a clear conscience that he ministered the Word of God without burden to anybody. (See 2 Corinthians 11 & 12) It needs to be this way, but can we say this is the case in today's church structure and prophetic ministry? Well, of course not. The church, along with much of the prophetic movement, has become an institution rather than a living and reproducing organism. Institutions need buildings and mammon to survive. Living organisms need intimate relationships and a HOST to survive.

For the sake of balance and practicality, we need to understand that Paul DID have needs and the Bible states that the brethren came from Macedonia to meet his needs in Corinth. As believers, we need to cheerfully give to those who are ministering the gospel to the unsaved. As I stated earlier, we need to give financially to support harmony within the local fellowships in which we participate. This is Biblical and meeting the real needs of each another. However, the money given by the deacon board or the visits by the pastor to others are not going to answer for YOU as you stand before Christ and give account of your life. I believe people are begging for our money because they know we are too spiritually lazy to do anything with it anyway. It's much too convenient to go to the temple courtyard and buy a sacrificial lamb, than to raise one ourselves.

In 1 Timothy 6, we read that "people who want to get rich fall into temptation and a trap and into many foolish and harmful desires that plunge them into ruin and destruction. For the love of money is the root of all kinds of evil. Some people, eager for money, have wandered from the faith and pierced themselves with many griefs." The love of money, especially in prophetic ministry, defiles the Lord's work and leads to spiritual leprosy. If we are honest with ourselves, the two greatest downfalls within Christian ministry reflect or mirror the spirit of the world -- the love of money and sexual sins. These two sins have tarnished our heritage as the church and the model of respect that the lost are searching for.

Gehazi also dishonored the Lord's true servant. He lied about Elisha. In lying to Naaman about the "prophets in need," Gehazi literally put words into the prophet's mouth. Likewise, those who are twisting God's Word and the gift of ministry are putting words in God's mouth. Putting words into the mouth of Elisha certainly made the story more credible and believable, but the story defiled and slandered the true servant of the Lord. This is a serious sin in the eyes of God. The reason of which is because the world and unsaved have a tendency to lump the hypocrisy andabuse of a minority into the sum total of all.

Gehazi's sin is also serious because it defiles the Gospel of the "good news." God's good news is that salvation and healing are a FREE gift to all who believe in Jesus Christ's atoning work on the cross. By taking money through deception, Gehazi distorted the good news that God's forgiveness and healing are free.

I am certain that upon Naaman's arrival in Syria, the good news of Naaman's healing became very apparent. The underlying tragedy is that the people would soon find out that the life-saving healing and ministry of the PROPHET came with a cost of only 300 pounds of silver. What a deal!

Permission granted to reprint WaterMark Ministry articles in their entirety.

www.watermarkministry.org

The Ruby Studded Gold Cross

Mary Clark

barnabessie@earthlink.net

December 19, 2005

In a vision, I saw a cross. It was gold, studded with red rubies. Someone took the cross and inserted it into the slot of some kind of machine. As it was inserted, I heard something ‘click, € and then I was shown a close view of the cross. It was lovely, and I knew that it had unlocked something important. What is this all about, Lord?

I want My dear children to know something important. I want you to know that I have clearly given you the keys to unlock all of those things for which your heart longs. I have given you My love, displaying it through My death on the cross. I have given you the keys to the kingdom and you are to use them wisely. You are to use them at My instruction, and you are to use them in the coming hour liberally. For the time has come, beloved the time has come for the world to see the exploits of the living God displayed through My vessels of honor. You are My vessels of honor. You are My called-out ones, and you will display My kindness and generosity liberally in the events that are soon to take place.

I want you to know that much is unlocked that will be beneficial to My chosen in the coming days. Much will be opened for your viewing. You will see and hear things mysterious things which you will not understand with your mind. Don’t try. Don’t try to ‘understand € everything that is soon to take place. Don’t try to put the pieces together, beloved, trying to figure out the whys and wherefores of what is taking place.

Yes, I am telling you, beloved: Don’t even try to understand all that is taking place. The sequence of events that leads up to My dynamic display will not be easy to accept with one’s mind. So don’t even try. Just put your trust in Me and move forward, knowing that the outcome will represent My heart for you, beloved, for My dear church, for the whole world.

I am a God who has given you all that you need to live a happy life in Me. I have given you the keys to unlock the vast treasuries that belong to Me that are in My kingdom. I have given to you the keys that will help you understand with your heart that your God is a God of love, and that He does all things well. The world will try to tell you that the living God has long since forgotten you, the church. But I tell you, beloved, that you have been and will always be at the forefront of My mind, and that is a good place to be that is the place where you want to be at the forefront of the mind of the living God. So don’t doubt Me. Stay fixed on the purposes of your God, and know true contentment of heart as I ease you into this hour of wonder.

You are about to enter into an hour of high revelry. You are about to know the heart of your God in a way you never dreamed of knowing it. So get ready, for things are about to be unlocked that will surprise those even of the most liberal thinking where the living God is concerned. Yes, those of you who have said ‘I am right there with You, Lord, are about to see and hear things that will shock and delight, but know, dear chosen one, that the times of wonder are here for a reason, and that reason is to set all to right. That reason is to open the portals of heaven and pour out to you, My chosen, more than your heart can contain.

I take delight in you, and I want you to take delight in Me and in My work. Look forward to all that is coming up on the horizon, and know that the hand of your God provided it. All is being brought to you at great expense My cross. Follow hard after Me, beloved, and know that one who follows after Me will not in any way be disappointed. Know also, that the time of decision is NOW! So don’t hang back when I start to show Myself in true form. No, beloved, don’t hang back. Move up to the front of the line.

Stay focused on Me and know deep within the value of My death the value of that cross that sustains your life.

Yes, dear child, I want you to know that I paid dearly for you to walk in this hour, so don't hang back. Get in the flow and move forward move forward into the delight of your Lord your God the Almighty One Who poured forth His favor by giving His life that you might walk in this hour unhindered, unhindered by the world and unhindered by anything else that could get your focus. For you see, beloved, what I am doing is so wonderful so extraordinary that those of the world will even draw close to get a better look. That is where I want you close, close in that holy place of My delight, because I want to show you off, beloved. I want the world to see what I purchased on that fateful day. I want the world to see My bride, My chosen, My very own possession, and I want you to show the world something of great importance, dear one. I want you to show Me to the world. Yes! I want you to be a bright, shining reflection of Me, your God your very own King of glory

Fricassee
Mary Clark

[fricassee - a dish consisting of meat cut into pieces, stewed or fried, and served in a sauce of its own gravy.]

barnabessie@earthlink.net
December 20, 2005

I am preparing something delicious for you, beloved most delicious. Let Me tell you about this delicious dish that is being prepared for your enjoyment:

It is chockfull of tasty morsels chewy morsels morsels that will bring a depth to your walk far beyond anything you ever imagined. The gravy that comes with these chewy, delicious morsels is far different from any gravy you have ever tasted. It is full, absolutely full, of flavor. The aroma will waft to your nostrils and you will know that you are being fed by the King's hand.

I tell you, dear one, that I am preparing something delicious for you most delicious. It is far more delicious than anything you have enjoyed from My hand thus far. So get ready to receive from My hand this tasty treat, and know, beloved, that with this tasty treat is coming a strength in your life that you have yet to realize.

I am preparing something delicious for My beloved. Get ready to receive. Get ready to enjoy, and get ready to know some wonders that will thrill your heart and offer you the strength to travel onward into all that I have for you.

I am a God Who gives His best always His best to His beloved. Know that this delicious dish that is coming by My hand will enable you to walk in a new strength and power. It will enable you to see things from My vantage point and it will enable you to know the power of the holy One deep within as you flex your spiritual muscles, declaring that I rule and reign in your life, and I am proving it by and through the actions that you display on My behalf.

I am about to use you, beloved, in a phenomenal way. Get ready to soar with Me. Get ready to explore My heart, and know beloved, that the time of sheer enjoyment has arrived, and it being displayed to the world by My most able will, shining forth in you and through you, declaring My goodness and My ability to see My beloved rise up into the fame that I have promised My church My most able church My church of splendor and truth My church of love and abounding grace!!!

Hooray
Mary Clark

December 20, 2005

barnabessie@earthlink.net

The Lord showed me two light-green, straw hats being tossed in the air by our two youngest granddaughters. It was as though they were saying, “Hooray!” Why did You show this to me, Lord?

I want to make something clear to you, beloved. I am doing a fine work, an extraordinary work, and a very valuable work for mankind. I want you to accept My ways, My way of thinking, and know as you come into line with My thinking process that you will grow in a phenomenal way. You will gain a most pronounced strength in your walk with your God.

I am doing a wonderful work on earth. I am making some drastic changes in the near future that will either make or break the will of mankind. I want mankind to follow after My heart. I want mankind to see My ways and adjust their way of thinking to My ways. I don’t want mankind in the dark about the living God. I want man to rise up in the knowledge of Who I am and worship Me with everything that is in him. I am eager for that hour to come, for you see, beloved, this hour will benefit you in an extraordinary way. It will open your heart in ways it has never been opened to your Holy Master.

Look on My work and applaud it – applaud it with all that is in you, for it is good – extremely good – extremely wonderful.

All the little children will worship Me, knowing Who I am long before the learned man. The little children will recognize Me, and know My beauty from above has come to enhance their lives. That is why I say to you, beloved, “Come to Me as a little child.” Forget all your intellectual knowledge and step in line with the wonderful truth of the living God. Then, you too, will be right alongside those little ones – those little ones who will be tossing their hats high and shouting “Hooray. Hooray to the One Who is from above and delights in His children. Hooray for this wonderful hour that He is bringing our way.” Yes, beloved, you, too, and all who come to know Me – all Who accept Me as a little child, will give a big shout of “Hooray,” tossing their hats in the air, and welcoming the new tomorrow that I plan to bring.

I am a good God, an extraordinary God, a God Who delights in His beloved children. I want you aware of that fact, and I want you well aware of My ways. So come to Me as a little child. Learn of Me. Feast your eyes on the wonder that I am providing, and then give Me a BIG shout of “Hooray!” for the finest display of wonder is on the way. Yes, the finest display of wonder brought to you by your God is certainly on the way!!

Troubled Times

Jackie Skevington

What God has laid upon my heart to pray and warned me is this-- the oil fields of America will topple........it will cause great economic stress upon our nation.

He said to PRAY.........

Troubled times lay ahead for America if HIS PEOPLE don’t intercede before it is too late.

Troubled times, like we have never had or even imagined.

Who is to blame when the robber comes into the home, and takes all one has....?

Is it the robber ?

Or is the home owner who carelessly left the door unlocked, presuming it wouldn’t happen to them ?

That is what America had done, saith the Lord of Hosts.

They have neglected praying, and seeking My face.

They have neglected loving and caring one for another.

They have been so busy, running and doing this and doing that, they have forsaken my face, and my voice for their own thing,

They have forgotten their loved ones, their families, their little ones....and their neighbors.

But with tragedy, their love will be renowned again, by necessity.

This is not my doing , saith the Lord,

But I will cause their hearts once again to seek my face, and in so doing, they will minister in love, one to another--out of the necessity of tragedy, their love for me, and one another, will be awakened.

Cry, Cry, aloud for me while it is yet day.

For when night cometh, it will be the time of tragedy already.

Call upon me , and I will hear thy cries and pleas and I will hear from heaven and heal thy land.

I will hold back the storms and the wind, and I will cause my Angels to bring balm to those who have been injured and need their wounds bound up and healed.

I will hold back the destroyer for thy sakes,

Call upon me, and see what I surely will do in thy midst this day, for I loveth my own, and those that are called by my name, and surely I am in thy midst, and I will hear from heaven and heal thy land, if thou will humble thyself and call upon me.

Do not be as the horse that needed blinders to go here or go there, but submit thyself to my will and listen to that still small voice and humble thyself and seek my face, and I will do great and mighty things for thee and thy nation, if thou will call upon me this day, this hour, and turn from thy wickedness, with thy whole heart.

Thus saith the Lord.

in Jesus name,
Jackie Skevington

The Ring – The Lord Of The Rings

Dave Hood

This word has come to me on a number of occasions over a period of 4/5 weeks; I believe it maybe appropriate for our time and hopefully encouraging.

But I would say to you that generally speaking it is wonderful to have God doing great things, a healing, a testimony, deliverance, seeing him move in his miraculous ways. And how we wish these moments would be more often and more continuous – it's great when times and things go well and go right – glory to him then. But equally, there are times when things do not go well, glory to him then also. In fact they often go in reverse, go wrong, things which could have gone in this direction go that way, things which should have succeeded do not, effort on our behalf that should bring reward and success doesn't, it seems to fail, to fall and its energies dissipate like mist and fall like dust. Apparent Blessings no longer happen and life seems to have you by the neck and the question we ask is – is God still in this thing, is God still with me, is God still for me, sometimes we may feel as if we believe, other times it is clear we do not. So on the one hand it may be unwise to think that bad things should or will not happen to you – this is untrue – in this world you will have trouble – but fear not for I am with you and I have overcome the world. It may also be equally untrue to say that because bad things happen, God is not in it or with it. Some of you may be facing trouble and problems now, some of you perhaps not, but sometimes we need to be prepared.

Take for instance the FISHERMAN UPON THE SEAS- who goes out to fish in his boat to catch a catch, - does he go without first checking the weather, or without having the right vessel and right clothes, his oilskins. – He, if he's wise, needs advance preparation or knowledge. – EVEN then -we can sometimes be caught unaware – but Gods word says – I do not want you to be unaware – and even good weather forecast throw up the sudden unexpected storm that when caught up in it may go on for days and sometimes for weeks. With this in mind this is what I believe Father wants to bring to you

I was at church about a while ago and found myself reflecting on the book the Trilogy, Lord of the Rings. I remembered how there were several rings, but that there was "one ring that would rule them, the one ring to find them, the one ring to bring them all, the one ring binding them " There was the one ring. The book and film was very much a story of the search for this one ring by the enemy's of the realm and for the ring bearer himself.

In the bible the number 7 is thought of as the number of perfection. As I continued to think, verses in the book of Revelation came to mind. Revelation 1:9–20. READ - Here it speaks of the 7 churches and the 7 golden lamp stands and of the Lord Himself; his face was like the sun, shining in all its brilliance. In verse 20 it says, spoken of by the Lord Jesus "the mystery of the 7 stars that you saw in my right hand and of the 7 golden lamp stands is this. The seven stars are the angels of the 7 churches and the seven lamp stands are the seven churches.

This is how I related it to the story of the Lord of the Rings. To me the seven churches represented the perfect church, perfected in Jesus. This in their total was his one church, the sum of the perfect whole. These seven churches mirrored the seven rings that existed in the book and film and that Jesus had an aspect of the church, where? Jesus had this there, IN HIS HAND. - for in his hand he had 7 stars, which the word says, were 7 angels. I feel the angels, represent things that are SPIRITUAL - and these are held, and held in PERFECT SPIRITUAL BALANCE in Jesus' hand. In other words things pertaining to the church, to you, to me, to us all, were and still are, held securely in HIS hand.

In another sense as stated in the book and film, there was ONE ring that would bind and unite them all. You are his one ring. " Corinthians and Ephesians talks about the Holy Spirit as being given as an earnest, a guarantee, a deposit of what is fully and finally to come and it is often spoken of the Spirit been given, as a sign and symbol of an engagement that has already taken place through our new birth in Christ. We have been engaged to Christ as his fully intended bride. And his Spirit if you like is His engagement ring to the church for the wedding that is about to come,

What does this tell us, - many things perhaps, - but to me it tells me this. Not only are you IN his hand, but you are ALSO on HIS finger. He wears YOU his church, AS THE ONE RING, - AS would A Husband wear the ring upon his wedding finger. You see LOVE is the one ring that binds them all, the ONE RING of love combining them all. The nation Israel considered an engagement AS ALREADY WED.

Looking at Revelation 1:20, where are you? - Where does he have you?
He has you IN His hand - And He has you ON His finger.

He does not hold you as a juggler might, balancing and throwing balls up in the air with one hand, in order to cause the audience to see how daring he is and how he can have you gasping at his dexterity, with the thought that perchance he might drop you. No, he has you held within the BALANCE of BOTH his hands, exercising control for you and does not play with you as one would a toy. And because this picture is also of the bride that is yet fully to be, you can be sure that in order to fully and finally bring you to your wedding place, that you are not just in His hand or on his finger, but constantly ON HIS MIND - and the reason for that, is that you are constantly IN HIS SIGHT – as sure as that ring is constantly on HIS finger, so are you constantly in his sight. Why, for he constantly sees his Spirit, his deposit in and on you, guaranteeing you, marking you - as his bride and he wears you and it with pride – in the same way that THE wedding ring he sees upon HIS finger, marks you as his bride. This mirrors in a similar way to the one who is engaged, making PREPARATION for the Day itself, the Great Wedding Feast of the Lamb.

Why are you constantly on his mind and constantly in his sight?
Because…. you are constantly in his hands and constantly on his finger
And because you are constantly in his hands and constantly on his finger
You are also therefore, as are ALL THINGS, - constantly IN HIS CONTROL, despite what is going on with you or around you, whether within the church or out of it. Control and balance may be beyond our scope, it is not beyond His.

This vision and prophecy we have just read about were given to the apostle John in the book of Revelation- and were given him on the island of Patmos, in what were bleak and hard times, in times of trial, difficulty and unrest. – He personally was experiencing forced hardship in the islands mines -. Despite this and IN THIS the Lord Jesus Himself appeared to John and gave him some of the most wonderful, awesome and encouraging revelations. Just as he did to his namesake John, the Baptist, who when locked up in prison, at the day of execution – DOUBTED – because things had gone wrong and perhaps not according to what he had expected - and asked via messenger if HE JESUS was REALLY the one or had JOHN made a mistake and should he expect another. John was in prison because he had done the right thing in exposing the adultery in the ruling governments family – we to doubt like him, if things go wrong especially when we do the right thing" In Luke 7:22-23…these were Christ's words to him -."Replying to his, doubt, to Johns concern -, Go back and report to John, what you have seen and heard. The blind receive sight, the lame walk, those who have leprosy are cured, the deaf hear, the dead are raised and the good news is preached to the poor. Blessed is the man who does not fall away on account of me. – No he had not made a mistake – AND – the Kingdom continues, despite what's happening.

In the light of what is going on with you, in the light of all that is going on around you - or all that is amiss or awry with your life or the world or the church. – look at Madrid, Iraq or Israel, even in its present stripping of its communities or the two Tsunamisand more up to date, the London bombings and the great storm Katrina in the Gulf of Mexico – God is in control of both it and you - and is concerned enough about you to take time and come to you with a message, - a word that affirms you, strengthens you, warn and encourages you to see that the kingdom STILL WILL and is continuing ON despite evidence seemingly to the contrary and that you are personally not forgotten. There has not been a mistake, there has not been a fumble, YOU, the ball have not been dropped, nor you, the ring lost. Nor amidst the turmoil, the glare or the stares forgotten, nor is he dazzled nor blinded, for HIS is the face shining like the sun in all its brilliance, the blinding brilliance of his all great love - in the unrest, in the fire and in the trial is one seen…. like the Son of man – shining on you and with you, even through, beyond and above the fiery flames of the furnace. - and how great is the Shining one when he appears. His feet like yours are positioned with you, standing in the same fire, the same trials that you are standing in.

Want more convincing. Ok. For you he says, "One more then". Gollum, you know was a creature that had walked many different paths, not all of them bad and his pursuits, particularly after the ring, had led him to the depths of torture and of dismay. Perhaps we may feel we have been where he is. Gollum perhaps is a picture of man in his utter despair - and such was his fixation and obsession, actually called the ring "his precious". - This is precisely what he our God and Father calls you " Isa.43: 4…precious, Precious and honoured are you in my sight and I love you, you and all the Gollum's are precious to him… hear these words, they are written especially from him to you…as he looks towards you his ONE RING, secured and secure on His own finger -. You, - you are my precious, precious ones, - you are the ones I most seek after. You are in my hands, you are on my finger, you are constantly on my mind, you are constantly in my sight, and you are constantly in my control. Precious and honoured are you in my sight and I love you.

To round it off – after receiving this and pondering over it, asking God, to confirm his word and wondering like many do, did I really hear right – this incident I'm about to describe to you happened a day or two after, being given the go ahead to share it with you. I work in a Youth Centre and in the morning around 8; I arrive and meet with J our head cleaner before work. She says to me - have you seen my new ring – would you like a look – ok let's see it then – so she takes this gold ring off her finger and hands it to me. On the outside, it had little footprints, imprints of bare feet, indented into the gold - like the ones in the footsteps poem, walking right around the outside of the ring encircling it from start to finish, - wonderful I said, - look on the inside she said – and there inside the ring were words engraved, - not the whole footsteps poem but some of the key words. Wonderful to look at – but the words clearly had a start and a finish so that you could recognise the start of the message inside. The first words that started the engraving were. MY PRECIOUS CHILD – well how wonderful – what a way to confirm his word, prepared for me BEFORE I had asked for it – If it was prepared for me - it was prepared for you

With it I heard him say these words concerning the footsteps around the circumference of the ring – he said - MY WALK WITH YOU IS CONTINUOUS AND COMPLETE, THERE IS NO PART OF YOUR WALK OR CIRCUMFERENCE OF YOU LIFE THAT IS NOT REACHED, and COVERED OR INCLUDED. It was then that he reminded me that he had said sometime whilst I was preparing this for you - YOU ARE ENGRAVED upon the PALMS OF MY HANDS – I HEAR HIM SAY AGAIN, YOU ARE ENGRAVED UPON THE PALMS OF MY HANDS – if you think of the cross BOTH hands were nailed securing for us freedom and control with God - with these words he gave me a sense of his continuing presence with me –and he gave me a picture – of J our cleaner and Jesus Himself. A man and a woman – I saw J extend her LEFT hand to him – the wedding hand - and Christ carefully took her hand into his RIGHT hand – like a bride presenting a hand to her groom, just like a wife to her husband, allowing him to take her by the hand – with these images came the words – YOU NEED ONLY LET ME TAKE HOLD OF YOUR HAND TO ALLOW ME TO REMIND YOU OF MY CONSTANT COMPANIONSHIP, MY CONSTANT LOVE AND MY CONSTANT CARE – So every time I see J, I am reminded of his love and constant companionship to me, like wise - can you see - he extends his hand to thee

Over the days God brought to me his prepared words and THESE words today that God has brought to you were prepared for you – because he clearly loves you, he dearly cares for you and he wants you to know it, he wants you to hear it and he want you to believe it - and to stretch out your hand to him for he has and now is stretching his hand out to you.

My precious; my precious child, you are my precious ones; you are the ones I most seek after. I have you in my hands, you, I have on my finger, it is you that I constantly think about, - it is you who are constantly in my sight, you, are constantly in my control. Precious and honoured are you in my sight and I love you.

This was given me early 2004...how much more has changed and happened in the world, your church and with yourself since then…but praise be to God His word is eternal and will never pass away but is set like the sun and the moon in the heavens for you and is accessed by the one who loves you beyond price, who now stands within the veil for you, interceding and making prayer for you.

Dave Hood
England UK

The Returning Light To Gods Church
Dave Hood

England
UK

Ps 81:1-5. The Returning Light to Gods Church

Is a Psalm spoken out by priests and Levites on the morning offerings of the Feast of New Moons, the Feast of Trumpets. Psalm 29 is sung in the evening. Celebrated at the start of the month involving the burnt offering – the WHOLE consecration and offering.

Important: ALL the festivals are held according to Mosaic Law and to be celebrated on the same day of each month. Necessary therefore to fix the feast at commencement of the month. Timed and established not by the solar calendar but according to the LUNAR calendar

The feast is determined by the APPROACH of the NEW moon
Determined not by calculation or working out when but by PERSONAL OBSERVATION
Not worked out by them, man, but by the course set by God.

Personal observation – was determined by the watchmen, who were placed upon the heights that surrounded Jerusalem. Placed there to watch the skies. The High priest sent each watchman there and each had to watch from his own vantage point.

As soon as one detected the FIRST sight of the moon approaching – he would light a fire atop his place of watch and go to the high priest. Then each in turn – as they personally saw, the moon begin to appear from their own position and vantage point, would also light their own individual fires atop their hill, watch place and go and present themselves before the high priest. This was their testimony and witness to their OWN PERSONAL observation.

As all the other watchmen came forth one by one each bearing his own testimony – theirs would then be a COLLECTIVE observation. The High priest would then say --- and CONSECRATED that day – made HOLY this natural dimension of time.

This was a CELEBRATION of the RETURNING LIGHT OF THE MOON (Gods goodness!!!).

The moon gets its light from the sun and reflects the suns rays to earth. Only 7% of the light is reflected, as the surface of the moon is dark.
Genesis 1:16 God made two great lights, the greater light to govern the day, the lesser light to govern the night. The greater light is the sun. The lesser light is the moon. The greater light is the Son, the lesser light the church.

Psalm 81 is a celebration of the RETURNING light of the moon
The moon in ages past has been eclipsed but is NOW RETURNING and COMING to its FULNESS
In the sky of Gods plan set in place and motion before a single foot was formed or a single footprint recorded

The light of the church has been darkened but now appearing and moving to fullness
Christ the light in his church and the world.
V3 a ram's horn is sounded at the start of the new moon and when the moon is FULL at the feast

The result of the consecrating period is a HOLY time, God ordained.
The signal beacons atop the hill COMMENCE at Mount Olives

It is wonderful to see the City below IN THE VALLEY ringed with fire and every hilltop is a signal the HIGH places are held by God - A God initiated sign to the inhabitants

The fires that are seen are not just upon the hills but seen of EVERY believer in the valley and it will spread. As this is a night time scene, as the fire spreads in the witness in the hearts of the believers IN the valley this fire, this light CONSUMES the darkness. It's at night for it is a NIGHT time watch. Darkness decreases, fire increases, more room made for God, more substance to burn, greater recovery of territory for God. The moon is always seen in the biblical light of PRESTAGING events of great importance.

New moon is reckoned by Individual observation, being ready and watching, this forms a COLLECTIVE witness before the High priest, it is a CONCECRATED HOLY place and TIME, the signal SURROUNDS showing a COMPLETE witness, it spreads, its increases, it consumes, more place for God, more places to watch for him created…and so on…..Please hear…it is a time SET APART for GOD, a TIME SET APART BY GOD

An example of the collective collective witness in the NT came AFTER a time of mocking ACTS 2:14
(a) Peter stood up WITH the 11
(B) Acts 3:11 while he beggar HELD onto John
(C) The lost coin – the WHOLE house was swept clean AS she searched for that precious coin, which would MAKE her bracelet COMPLETE – holiness

The signal from God came with the rams horn – signifying and pronouncing – a SIGN of Gods movement in HEAVEN, movement of the next phase of the His Plan

Kings horn used to ANNOINT Kings and for the PURPOSE of calling TOGETHER

V3 decree – ordinance
V4 - statute

A sign of SETTING up something

V4 a DECREE is a law or edict an ENACTMENT of a KING
Carried to distant lands and places – a herald
A pronouncement of war or peace

Given at assemblies, meeting places and gates, before people, leaders and before ALL gods.
ORDENANCES have with them the idea of imparting grace

V5 Statute is a testimony – a rule of grace and its practice shows and depicts and points the WAY to Him a testimony of Him
EXAMPLE used is Joseph Dt 33:13/14
V13 blessing of the land – part of expectation

- Heaven above, deep waters
- Shows height and depth shows – EXTENT

V14 – Best / finest
V15- choicest – fruitfulness
V16 – best – fullness/favour and dwelling
Shows forth HIS excellence
Last v14 finest moon can yield – you are Gods moon
Vegetables, the produce of the ground
Required a full lunar month to bring forth to perfection
As the moon PRODUCES dew that is favourable to vegetation to yield produce
The presence of God within the Returning light of His church will produce the right conditions for earth yield, His harvest

Growth, perfecting
Bringing forth from the land – EVERY MONTH – every month

Response to Psalm 80: verses 3; 7; 19
A CONTINUOS response a continuous INCREASE, INCREASING
V3 O God
V7 O God Almighty
V19 O Lord God Almighty

All this I obtained this 8 years ago ready to fall into place and align with the other witnesses. I feel its time is near.

Let a thing be established out of the mouths of TWO witnesses

The Runaway Bride

Ron Wood

The Lord can create vivid images to get our attention.

One such picture painted on our imagination was the recent news story of the runaway bride. Originally thought to be the victim of foul play, this pitiful woman from Gainesville, Georgia later turned herself in and admitted fleeing from her own wedding, deceiving her own family, and lying about her situation. What caused her to behave so irrationally?

While the motivations behind her actions may be partly due to foolishness, they may also be traced to an unbalanced mental state or to a childhood where she was shuttled from house to house every other week in a blended family. We all hope she gets help.

This was a huge story in America in the month of June. June is the month for weddings and anniversaries. We are all bride-conscious during June even apart from this arresting and puzzling news event. My wife and I were married in June, 36 years ago.

At the start of the year, my wife, Lana, heard the Lord say of 2005, it would be The Year of the Bride. At the start of this year, I had a spiritual dream that I was checking into a motel to meet my wife. In the dream, I walked down a motel corridor and as I approached the fifth door, I saw that each doorway had a young woman stretched across the opening, lying in the hallway, asleep. The door I was entering was the fifth door and I had to step over a sleeping woman to enter my room. In February, my wife and I were on a holiday.

When I carried my luggage down the corridor, I paused with my key and suddenly realized we were checking into the fifth doorway in a setting like I had dreamed except the hallway had no sleeping brides.

Later as the year unfolded, I heard the Lord say "Listen to your body talk." By the Spirit, I was hearing the Lord say to leaders of congregations and churches, "Listen to the frustrations being felt by the body." I discerned that Five-Fold Ministries were oblivious to the feelings of their people. Absence of dissent, where people are taught to respect authority, is not the presence of unity or agreement. But Jesus, The Head of the Body, the Leader of leaders, was listening and He was paying close attention.

This cry of frustration wasn't rebellion by lawless people; this was a cry from Godly people wanting to walk in their inheritance. Jesus' inheritance is in the saints. He wants every member of the body to come into their ministry, not just an elite cadre who become a newly-titled privileged few. Jesus is in the midst of His people, not just on the stage! Jesus is in the marketplace with His saints, not just in the church on Sunday!

How can pastors be deaf to the congregation's true feelings? Just like a person can be in pain or hungry or overly exhausted but be so distracted that they are not paying attention to their own body's feelings, leaders of churches can be so intent on their own agenda, their own circumstances, or fulfilling their own ministry, that they fail to feel what those around them are trying to tell them.

Earlier I had been given a flash of insight from the Lord. I saw Jesus as though He were shaking His head in frustration, saying "My leaders are robbing My people of their ministry." I felt the heart of the Lord as He was so very disappointed that Five-Fold ministries had kept the grace of ministry to themselves, failing to teach, train, and equip the member of the body for their work of the ministry, failing to trust the Holy Spirit to guide the members or failing to trust the Word of God to do its work.

Often the leaders' insecurities confounded their error by adding to their paradigm of paternalism or control rather than equipping members for ministry.

The unanswered cry of frustration from the body is tempting many to become a Runaway Bride, to pick up their skirts, put on their tennis shoes and run, just to get away from the pressure to perform, the illegal legalism, the hardheaded headship, the boring pew-sitting domestication of never being allowed into their destiny to do the works of Jesus.

The frustration felt in the body is now being answered by a louder and stronger frustration from the higher Head of the Church, the Lord Jesus. He is not indifferent to what is happening in His body. He wants to see His Bride matured and adorned and valued, not restricted or rejected. If need be, He will go around former pillars who have become roadblocks, unless we repent and obey His voice.

Such changes are not easy. In Acts 10, the Lord dramatically guided Peter to go to the Gentiles with the gospel for the first time. Resistant, fighting religious and cultural barriers, fearful of being judged by his peers, Peter obeyed. The result was an outpouring of the Holy Spirit on Cornelius' household.

As I read this account in the Bible recently the Lord asked me, "Do you see how hard this was for Peter?" "Yes," I answered. He said, "It is just as hard for Five-Fold Ministries today to equip the saints." "No way!" I said. "Then you don't get it," the Lord said to me.

Postscript:

Nothing changes if our way of thinking doesn't change. Here are three books that can help awaken us in this season of insecurity or rejection. Waking the Dead by John Eldridge, The Atonement by Derek Prince, and The Emotionally Healthy Church by Peter Scazzero. We have to honestly face this issue and diagnose the true condition of our hearts. Face the light of truth full on. If our hearts are healed, we can hear new words with new direction from God.

For anyone wanting a brief and incisive look at a key component of this issue, write to me and I will send you a booklet I have written entitled The Spirit of Rejection. It can be shipped for an offering of $5.00 to Touched by Grace, P.O. Box 12749, Wilmington, NC, 28405. Or, a donation to Touched by Grace can be made via PayPal on our website along with an email sent to us with mailing instructions for this booklet.

Bless you! Ron Wood, President of Touched by Grace Inc. Â© The Runaway Bride, by Ron Wood, July 1, 2005.
(rewood@bellsouth.net)

The Samuel Generation
Catherine Brown

The Samuel Generation -- A Word For Children"
by Catherine Brown

Underground Network Of Praying Children

The Lord has been gathering an underground network of praying children and young people. They may not currently meet in huge numbers, but that is because if "we" (the church) "got our hands on it" too early, "we" would inadvertently mess it up!

Child Champions Of Prayer And Faith Will Arise

"The child prayer movement has not been strong enough to release fully into the public domain until now, but in the next 12-24 months I am going to cause child champions of prayer and faith to rise up in their generation, and their words will be powerful and prophetically anointed.

"They will require to be mentored in like manner as Eli mentored Samuel, in order that they can be trained to discern my voice for themselves and respond to me in obedience, for it is my desire that none of their words will fall to the ground. There is a need for this generation to be nurtured and discipled. They are a hungry generation.

"I am teaching children how to develop a personal relationship with me, and giving them an understanding of the need for quality time alone with me as well as time together with other children. I have placed an "all or nothing" desire in the hearts of these children. They cannot and will not settle for any kind of compromised Gospel message. They are hungry for spiritual truth."

"The Samuel Generation Will Posture Themselves In Intercessory Prayer For The Nations"

"As for me, far be it from me that I should sin against the Lord by failing to pray for you and I will teach you the way that is good and right." 1 Samuel 12:23

The Samuel generation will posture themselves before the Lord in intercessory prayer for the nations.

"I have convened micro level meetings across many nations, where handfuls of children have gathered to seek my face. I am releasing a fresh mantle upon the children of the nations to gather and for the Dunamis power of my Holy Spirit to move powerfully upon them and through them. I will shake gatherings as I did in the first days of my church (Acts 2:3) as the prayers of thousands of children are lifted to my throne. As the children call out for my mighty hand to move, I will hear and I will answer.

"The children will pray in simple words, but they will not lack radical or extreme love. The prayers of my children are relevant and cutting edge. I am rising up an army of 24-7 children who will have their hearts rights before me. These children are sold out in intimacy for me and are prepared to die for love of God. They are martyrs of my mercy. Many children from persecuted nations will give their lives for my namesake, and will remain faithful to the end (Acts 7:59,60)."

A Nazirite And Missionary Generation

"I will raise up for myself a faithful priest." 1 Samuel 2:35

"For I will raise up a faithful generation for myself from amongst the children of the nations. They are a missionary generation with a vision for revival, to love their Lord, to the love the lost, and to love the church. I am restoring the priesthood to be a worshipping, interceding, prophetic evangelistic people.

The Samuel generation represent such a people and includes many children.

"The Samuel generation will be the church that acts! The Samuel generation are the paradigm. Radical holiness, purity, devotion, and availability are required from this generation. They are called out, set apart, and sanctified for me and by me. I am rising up a Nazirite generation of little children whose posture before me will be to place their relationship with me as priority. They will confront corruption in the purity of chastity. I will not treat their offerings to me with contempt because they are offered from pure hearts."

A Voice To The Nations, The Church, And The Lost

"Return to the Lord with all your heart."* 1 Samuel 7

"The Samuel generation will be a voice to the nations and a voice to the church, calling the lost into the Kingdom and calling believers to devotion to Christ. They will speak forth revelation to the church about the Kingship of Christ. This end time generation of children will be prophetically accurate and what they prophesy will come to pass (1 Samuel 9:6; 1 Samuel 3:19)."

"The Samuel Generation Heralds A New Season"

"And the boy Samuel continued to grow in stature and favor with the Lord and with men."* 1 Samuel 2:26

"This generation of boys and girls will know the fear of the Lord. They will know my favor and will be held in esteem by both God and men. The children will help to usher in my Kingly anointing. The Samuel generation heralds a new season, whereby spiritual barrenness is broken and new birth will come forth in my church. For those who have labored in prayer as Hannah, and have loved in like manner to Hannah and Elkanah," the Lord says, "the sorrow of your travail will now bear much abundant and beautiful fruit."

The birthing of the Samuel generation represents an increase in apostolic/prophetic authority in the church and speaks of a people willing to lovingly submit to Christ's governmental authority. This Samuel generation will have impeccable character and be honest and virtuous and will be a testimony to God's righteousness (1 Samuel 12).
The Samuel generation will know an increase in anointing and will pour themselves out for love of others. Anointing will pour forth from the children just as it did from the horn of oil with which Samuel anointed King Saul and King David (1 Samuel 10; 1 Samuel 16).

Amen.

by Catherine Brown
Catherine@gatekeepers.org.uk
www.gatekeepers.org.uk
www.millionhoursofpraise.com

The Sweeping Of The Arm Of The Lord

Heather Butler

Wales UK.

There is coming a sweeping of the arm of the Lord across Europe against anything that will raise its head against the Apple of His eye.

The Lord is roused in His Holy place and speaks out words over the nations that are life to those that hear them but death to those that dismiss them. He will rend the heavens and His glory will not be shut out or consumed by the darkness of this age, it will be a light so bright that it will penetrate and burn into the hardest of hearts releasing, setting free, infiltrating the very soul of man and touching it with his words, words of life, words of wisdom, the words that he planned long before time that would be spoken out over the nations to bring a reverence of the lord as He stands and he watches.

Who can escape His eye, who will hide the deeds of darkness from his light, who would dare to stand against him who is roused in his Holy habitation. With one sweep of his arm nations will crumble and fall, its peoples flung into the depths of there wickedness confronted by a mighty God who will not give up his own, who by His own breath shall breath life into Israel once again raising up the Lazarus removing the grave clothes and standing her defiant against a world that has sought to destroy and tear down.

Stand, stand with me, rise up my bride my beloved, see how I see, love as I love, let your heart be one with mine, take my voice, run with the fire of God to the Land of destiny where fulfillment of my word will be released at the end of time. Do not delay run ,run with the torch ablaze, as it was for Joshua so it is for you, release the flame wherever you go, do not compromise my word do not hold back do not be afraid, I give you everything you need to stand to stand with me at this time.

You men and women you voices that have a platform that the world recognizes and knows well, rise and speak forth, speak with one voice, give my words and not your own. I say to you who are faceless rise up and take your place what you have is given by me.

Who will stand against what I have given you and not be terrified. My love burns fierce for my bride, my passion knows no bounds, I will protect you.

As judgment is released across the nations do not be afraid, do not change your word. Pax Romana – Peace, peace but there is no real peace, peace under duress. Do not listen to what those who compromise my word, who tell you that everything is fine, when the opposite is truth. This is a time for seeking, so that you will know the truth and the truth shall set you free. My word does not change to suit mankind, my word stands forever. Look again, see what I say concerning Israel.

A cry goes out over the land of Israel, it is Rebecca weeping for her children, who will comfort her.

The days of sorrows has already begun.
Jesus warned of this first sign of the End when he said: "Take heed lest any man deceive you: For many shall come in my name, saying, I am [{Christ} this word does not appear in the Greek text]; and shall deceive many. (Mark 13:5-6) For false christs [pseudochristos - falsely anointed ones] and false prophets shall rise, and shall shew signs and wonders, to seduce, if it were possible, even the elect. But take ye heed: behold, I have foretold you all things. (Mark 13:22-23).

Look again at my word, what do I say, what is my heart, what am I asking you to do. I bring release to those who earnestly seek repentance because of teachings that were not of me, who looked to man rather than to the truth of my word. I offer you my arm, turn back, seek me and I will be found. Put away false prophesies, put away false hopes, what is happening cannot change, it is predestined. What have you been taught that does not come into line with my word, look again, do not be led astray I call you back into alignment with my word.

That still small voice.

The Sauls And The Davids

David Compton

Recently, the Lord has moved upon me to read Samuel I and concentrate upon the historical implications discussed in the story of Samuel coupled with his function in the anointing of both Saul and David to become kings of Israel.

Saul was to be the man to lead the tribes of Israel after the people demanded a king thus rejecting the system of judges that had been in effect for many years. Of course, it was neither the system nor Samuel himself that was being rejected; rather, it was the Lord God himself (I Samuel 8). Nonetheless, the Lord moved upon Samuel to anoint Saul as the leader of his people. However, Saul's disobedience and obstinacy eventually necessitated a change in leadership (as dramatized in I Samuel 13, 15 and 16).

Thus far, these "Sauls" and their self serving attitude, characterized by the spirit of compromise, have been pervasive in the leadership of the church. As a consequence, leadership has been based solely upon personality and/or self aggrandizement rather than in the furtherance of the Kingdom of the Lord Jesus Christ (which is the prerequisite for all of those who claim to be called by the name of the Lord Jesus Christ). Unfortunately, this lack of substantive leadership has been indicative of the church system for a rather long period of time. In other words, the real "Davids" (in the figurative sense) have been usurped in leadership by the spirit of "Saul". Of course, the result has been a church that professes Christ as its leader; but, in actuality, accentuates a particular personality or the fleshy aspects of man (the spirit being relegated to a subordinate position).

Be assured! This situation is now going to change. These "Davids" that will now begin to rise during this transition period will be strong "mighty men of valor" who will refuse to compromise and will, in essence, call the church to "order". These individuals will move with the unction of the Holy Spirit and will be the instruments used by the Lord himself to bring both blessings and judgment. Woe to those that hinder or mock these "Davids" for the old adage will be brought to full fruition which states, "touch not my anointed, do my prophets no harm". In many cases, the spirit of Elijah will be an integral part of the message and ministry of these "mighty men of valor" who have been hidden for many years and bear the scars of their time in the wilderness. Moreover, many of these individuals are just now beginning to realize who and what they are as they emerge from the wilderness.

I shudder within my spirit as I contemplate these "Davids" who will be in many diverse areas of the world and from many varied backgrounds and races. Yet, they will possess essentially the same supernatural strength and power as they are endued with the Holy Spirit after great tests and trials. Just as David, after his anointing by the prophet Samuel, endured the trials as Saul sought to kill him, so have these “Davids” been protected and tested long before they will be permitted by the Lord to be elevated to leadership positions in the end time army of the Lord Jesus Christ (I Samuel 16-31).

I cannot be more adamant in declaring the authority of these “mighty men of valor” who will now come forth as the Lord opens the doors to these individuals. Their message will be trumpeted by the exemplification of great courage and strength (as was Stephen as he spoke under the unction of the Holy Ghost in Acts 7). Most definitely, it will not be their own words that are being spoken; rather, it will be the Lord himself speaking forth his voice utilizing the faculties of these men of God. Instruments shall they be, yielded totally and completely for the use of the Master himself. Quite honestly, as I contemplate these individuals, I pity those who will insist upon resisting and hindering their message. Woe to them! As I write this article, the Spirit bears witness to the truth of these words. I am adamant in that which I am attempting to convey—that is, the seriousness of this hour as these vessels now come forth. Indeed, the Holy Spirit is so heavy upon me at this particular time, that I am totally overwhelmed. I implore the people of God to listen to these men of valor as they are now to be released to do the “works and greater works”. Just as the people of Israel or early Christianity feared Samuel, Elijah, Elisha, John the Baptist, the Apostles, et al , so will the people of this day possess a reverential fear of these “Davids” (anointed Sons of God). These “Davids” have been anointed by the LORD HIMSELF! Indeed, the implications are overwhelming for both the church as well as society as a whole. Saints, prepare you for battle!!!!! “The Cup of His Indignation” begins go overflow! Pray earnestly! AMEN!

In Him, David Compton

The Songbird And The Flower

Chip Brogden

http://www.watchman.net/articles/songbird.html

In a land not too far away lived a songbird. According to outward appearances this songbird was no different than the rest. She had blue feathers, a white breast, and a yellow bill. But she also had a very special gift!

Her gift was discovered one day quite by accident. She enjoyed singing to the Lord and worshipped Him at every opportunity. It was her custom to wake up early to see the sunrise and spend time worshipping the Lord. She had done this every morning since she was a little bird.

Her song carried unusually far one morning. Her neighbor, the squirrel, was sitting in his little recliner with a cup of tea, reading the morning newspaper, when suddenly this magnificent song came wafting through the open window! "I have to find out where that's coming from!" he exclaimed. Jumping up out of his chair, he ran through the door and into the field, looking for the source of the beautiful music.

Also, at that exact moment, a deer was walking through the woods and heard the same sweet melody. "What singing!" she cried. "I wonder who it could be?" And she, too, went off to find out where the music was coming from.

The songbird, of course, was oblivious to the excitement she had generated. She was lost in her worship when suddenly the squirrel arrived on the scene, followed by the deer - and about a dozen other animals!

"Where did you learn to sing like that?" they all asked with great admiration.

The songbird shrugged her shoulders. "I always sing like this whenever I want to give praise to the Lord. I hope I didn't disturb you."

"Disturb us?" answered the deer. "We think it is wonderful! How uplifting to hear such beautiful singing early in the morning. You really have a gift!"

"I do?" asked the songbird.

"Absolutely!" said the squirrel. "God blessed you to bless others, and you shouldn't let that gift go to waste. You have a special calling!" And all the other animals agreed.

"I don't want to waste my gift," answered the bird. "What should I do?"

"Come with us to the church service this morning," said the deer. "I'll speak to the pastor about you and he'll let you sing for the congregation!"

The songbird wasn't sure what to do about all this attention, but she didn't want to waste her gift, and she certainly wanted to bless others with what she had been blessed with. So she agreed to go.

* * *

Of course, the congregation of animals were blessed by the singing songbird, and she was such a blessing that they invited her to sing every Sunday morning. The little group began to grow as a result of the songbird's beautiful voice. In no time the songbird became the worship leader. Not only was she responsible for selecting the music and leading the worship service, but she was supposed to conduct the choir practice twice a week and teach voice to the pastor's daughter (the crow) so she could one day sing as well as the songbird.

One Sunday morning a group of eagles arrived, listened to the songbird, and watched her very carefully. After the service, the eagles gathered around the songbird and began to prophesy! "The Lord says that you have a special anointing, and He will give you an international ministry!"

Of course, the songbird was very thrilled about this, because she wanted to use her gift and she wanted to be a blessing. Another member of the church, the fox, offered to record her music and put it on CD. "That way," he explained, "You can reach more animals and be a blessing to God's creatures all over the world. This is what the Lord meant when He said He was giving you an international ministry!"

Before long the CD's were produced, and the fox had promoted them all over the world. The orders began to come in, and everyone said they were blessed by the songbird's music. Then came the invitations! "Is the songbird available to come to our church?" Everyone wanted their own live performance, and the fox took care of everything.

"Congratulations!" he told the songbird. "You're booked up for ministry every week for the next two years, and your CD's are in record stores all over the world. Now you can be in the full-time ministry! The Lord has really blessed you!"

So the songbird took her itinerary from the fox and began flying all over the world to meet the demands of her full-time ministry schedule. The fox even made her a special backpack so she could take all her CD's and ministry resources with her and raise money for her ministry.

The songbird sang in church services, and in retreats, and in conventions, and in concerts. She truly enjoyed meeting all the other animals, and she still enjoyed singing. She was getting a little tired of flapping her wings all the time to get from one ministry event to the other, and her voice seemed to be losing some of its former strength and purity from being used all the time, but she accepted that as part of fulfilling the call on her life. Besides, no one seemed to notice. Everyone loved her, and wanted to hear her.

* * *

Time went by, and the songbird was becoming more and more popular. She had a ministry headquarters, a ministry staff, and ministry partners all over the world. Her next CD was coming out soon, and everyone was looking forward to it with great anticipation. She was a busy little songbird, flying all over the place to keep up with her hectic ministry schedule, but having to carry around all those CD's and ministry resources on her back was a constant strain, and she tired easily.

One day she was traveling to her next singing engagement and found herself flying over a canyon out in the middle of nowhere. Exhausted from her flight, she decided this would be a good place to stop and rest her wings for awhile. Far below her she saw a gorgeous flower of indescribable beauty! So she circled around the flower and landed right next to it.

What a lovely little flower it was! It had round petals of many colors - yellow, blue, pink, and white - and golden leaves. She had never seen anything like it in all her travels around the world. And the fragrance! It was unlike anything she had ever smelled, and far better than any perfume she had ever tried. Yet here it was, growing out of a crack in the bottom of a rocky canyon floor, out in the middle of nowhere!

"Hello little flower!" the songbird said. "I was just flying overhead and admiring your beauty, so I thought I would visit with you for a moment. You are certainly the most beautiful flower I have ever seen, and I don't think there is another flower in the world quite like you."

"The Lord has been very gracious to me," answered the flower pleasantly. "Who are you, and where are you going?"

"I am Rev. Songbird and I'm on my way to minister at a retreat on the other side of this canyon. Maybe you've listened to one of my CD's, or seen me on television?"

"No, I don't believe I have," the flower said. "I'm quite alone out here in the canyon, and I don't have a lot of contact with the rest of the world. As you can see, I don't have wings to carry me anywhere."

"That's a shame," said the songbird. "Because you are such a beautiful flower, and you give off such a lovely aroma. The Lord has blessed you to be a blessing, yet your gifts are not being used as they should! Why don't you come along with me to church, so the other animals can see your beauty and enjoy your fragrance?"

"Oh no, that would never do," the flower said, "Because that would only distract me from my own ministry."

"So you are in the ministry? What denomination are you with?" asked the songbird.

The flower laughed. "I'm not with a denomination."

"Where do you go to church?"

"Oh, I'm not involved with a church, either."

"Do you have some books or tapes out?"

"Heaven's no!" the flower laughed.

"So what kind of ministry do you have, then? Are you in the ministry full-time, like me?" the songbird asked.

"Oh yes, it is a full-time ministry," answered the flower.

"But you are out here in the wilderness, all alone. There are no churches, no one to fellowship with. How can you be in the full-time ministry? It seems like such a waste."

"Oh, but that is where you are wrong," explained the flower. "You see your ministry as being to the other animals, but my ministry is to the Lord Himself! He has planted me out here in the wilderness, hidden from the rest of the world. You believe that is a waste, since no one can see me or smell me. But He can see me! And He can smell me! And the measure of my fruitfulness is not what I am to other people, but what I am to Him."

The songbird was silent for a long time. Finally, she said, "Creatures all over the world are being blessed and encouraged by my music. Perhaps you are called to minister to the Lord, but I am called to minister to the other animals!"

"Who told you that you are called to minister to the other animals?" asked the flower.

"The Lord!"

"Really?" asked the flower.

The songbird thought about what the squirrel had said, and what the deer had said, and what the eagles had said, and what the fox had said, and what all the other animals said. "Well... just about everyone who has heard me sing has told me that the Lord has given me a special gift, a special calling, and a special ministry."

"Yes," agreed the flower. "But all of God's creatures have a special gift, a special calling, and a special ministry. Who told you that your gift, calling, and ministry is to the other animals?"

"I guess the other animals said so."

"Naturally," continued the flower. "But wait! What is that huge pack on your back?"

"Oh, that is my bag of music CD's and ministry resources. I carry these with me wherever I go, because this is how my full-time ministry is supported."

"It looks mighty heavy," observed the flower.

"It is, believe me!" said the songbird. But it's part of being in the ministry."

"For your ministry, perhaps," said the flower. "It's not part of my ministry! Ministering to the Lord is not a burden at all."

(Secretly, the songbird envied the flower, but she couldn't bring herself to admit it.)

"It does sound good," said the songbird. "But I'm not sure I even know how to minister to the Lord."

"Do you remember when you used to sing praises to the Lord in secret every morning, and just worshipped Him for Who He is, with no agenda or vision or plan or crowd of onlookers to minister to? Do you remember when you just sang the songs He gave you, and they were just between you and Him?" the flower asked.

"Yes."

"You were ministering to the Lord! And what was your reward, when no one could hear you sing, and you were just singing to Him?"

The songbird thought. "I didn't get any rewards, or recognition, or applause. So I guess the only reward I had was... Him?"

"That's right," the flower smiled. "When we minister to the Lord then the Lord becomes our reward. So then the question becomes: is Jesus enough for you? Or is the work of the Lord more important to you than the Lord of the work?"

And the songbird had to admit that she never had time to just sing to the Lord the way she used to. With all her traveling and performing she seldom took time to just minister to the Lord, the way she did before anyone knew how gifted she was. Now the ministry had become so big that the Lord Himself had been neglected.

"I see it now," the songbird finally admitted. "I went into the ministry, but I missed my calling."

"That's what usually happens," said the flower.

The songbird and the flower sat together in silence for a long time.

"So what do I do now?" the songbird whispered.

"Just go back to the beginning," the flower said. "The Lord is waiting to meet with you there."

The songbird and the flower embraced, and the songbird flew back to her nest, leaving the burden of her ministry behind on the canyon floor. So from that day forward the songbird devoted herself to ministering to the Lord, just like she used to do. And the Lord gave her some beautiful new songs to sing - just for Him.

....

NOW WHAT?

Ministry to people is important, but it isn't the most important thing. We know all about ministering to one another - preaching, teaching, singing, conducting evangelistic crusades and sending missionaries. All these things are needed, but learning how to minister to the Lord is the most important ministry of all because this is the basis for every other kind of ministry. Sadly, few people know how to do this. Therefore, ministry to the Lord is on the verge of becoming extinct.

The Lord is looking for people to whom He can reveal Himself, share His secrets, and make known the mystery of His ways. But there is no revelation without a relationship. "Ministering To The Lord" will encourage you to go beyond the veil and spend more time sitting at His feet in the Secret Place of the Most High God, where you learn how to be a friend He can confide in.

Check out "Ministering To The Lord"
--- http://www.watchman.net/audio/ts108.html

I am your brother,

Chip Brogden
http://www.watchman.net

(c)2004 Watchman.Net. Permission is granted for non-commercial (free) distribution provided this notice appears.

The Blessing And The Breaking
Chip Brogden

"And it came to pass, as He sat at meat with them, He took bread, and blessed it, and brake and gave it to them. And their eyes were opened, and they knew Him" (Luke 24:30-31).

There is a simple truth demonstrated in this post-resurrection encounter with Christ. Can you see it?

I cannot think of a single Christian that does not desire the blessing of the Lord. We earnestly seek and desire God's blessings on our life. We want the Lord to bless our spiritual life, our home life, our children, our finances, our churches and our ministries. Is there anything wrong with that? Of course not. But the fact remains that we do not always get what we ask for.

What does it mean to be blessed? The common assumption, I believe, is that when God has blessed a person then they will enjoy physical health, financial prosperity, and a general sense of happiness and well-being.

I want us to see that when Jesus blesses something He breaks it. The blessing results in breaking. The prayer for "more" results in "less". The request for "increase" results in "decrease". The prayer for blessing results in brokenness.

Do you want to be a blessing to other people, or a burden? Most Christians would say they want to be blessing to others. So God blesses them and then breaks them.

What is going on here? Simply put, the blessing of the Lord is in being reduced to Christ. Who is blessed? Not the one who is rich in spirit, but the one who is poor in spirit. The poor in spirit possess the Kingdom. Those who are broken are blessed, and those who are blessed are broken.

The heart-cry of a disciple of "more of Jesus". How do we get "more" of Jesus? By getting less of us. With less of me there is more of Him. As I am decreased, He is increased. This is what it means to be blessed.

A brother in the Lord related the following experience to me. As he was watching television he says he came across a woman who was yelling, "Increase! Increase! God wants to increase you and all you have!" This brother says he staggered out of his chair laughing, and said, "Decrease! Decrease! Keep decreasing me Lord, till all there is left is YOU!" Friends, when we understand the blessing and the breaking then we will find ourselves responding the same way. What I love about this is the brother LAUGHED as he rejected the "increase" and embraced the decrease. This is what it means to take up the Cross.

We cry out for "increase" but God has already (past tense) blessed us with "every spiritual blessing in heavenly places in Christ" (Ephesians 1:3). We have the blessing already. What we are lacking is the breaking. We want the blessing without the breaking. But it is not that we need more of the Lord, because we already have all of Him; we just need less of everything else.

After Jesus blessed the bread, and broke it, and gave it to them, their eyes were opened and they knew Him. Until you have the blessing and the breaking your eyes will remain closed. Blessings alone do not open our eyes. Indeed, blessings by themselves tend to close our eyes. We do not come to know Him in the blessing, but in the breaking. Then what we already have in Him will be revealed. Our eyes will be opened and we will see that He has been standing there the whole time.

Do you want to know Him? Do you want to see Him for Who He is? Do you want to go deeper? Do you want to have your eyes opened? Embrace the blessing AND the breaking; receive them both. If you are a bruised reed or a broken cistern, take heart, because you are making progress.

The Stairs and The River
Susan Cummings

Tonight, my husband and I were discussing the Presence of the Lord and the various ways that he speaks to us and teaches us about Himself. As we lay in bed, the Presence of the Lord began to come upon me and I began to jerk as the jolt of God’s power began to flow within me. My husband chuckles and he gets a little jolt, and then after a moment or two, he turns over to go to sleep. The Lord began to stir me within as I lie there, and I began to have this vision and the following experience:

I am lying upon the bed and at my husband’s and my feet, are three men. The Lord and two others. I assume they are angels who accompany Him although they looked like men. He looks at me, and reaches out His Hand to me, and says, “It is time. It is time to climb the stairs. Come with Me.”

I speak to the Lord, and begin to test Him, and ask Him who He is, and who came in the flesh, and He smiled and answers me, and says, “I have come, and died for all men, that they would come to Me and My Father, and have shed My Blood on the Cross that they might have life. I came in the flesh and gave it for all men. I rose from the dead that all might have the Life that I have and live with Me.” I then felt afraid that I questioned the Lord and would have displeased Him by my testing. He smiled, and said to Me, “It pleases me that you test Me, and I am not offended at all.”

I see myself lying on the bed. My body is lying there, but my spirit sits up and then reaches out to the Lord’s hand. I take His Hand, and am lifted up and we begin to turn and go somewhere. Immediately before us is a door that opens up and there is a brilliantly lit corridor before us. It is full of light. There are stairs that ascend upwards through the corridor and they also are full of light. I can distinguish walls, to our sides, even though it is all bright.

I am holding the Lord’s Hand as we climb up the stairs. It is wide enough for both of us and we begin to climb the stairs. As I walk, I begin to realize that I no longer see the Lord next to Me, but I sense His Presence there, and I am not afraid. I keep climbing.

It is not steep, but it is an upward ascent. It is as though you are passing time as you climb. You can feel movement and the quickening of time or reality as you rise up higher. It seems to be strengthening to climb into the Light. It fills everything, and it brings great purpose to the climber. I feel determined to climb to the top.

As I am climbing, I hear water running. It sounds quiet at first, but as I step upwards, it does seem to grow louder and more forceful. As I near the top, I can feel the change in the atmosphere of the area as I come out from the corridor and am coming into a great room or area.

In front of me, not far from my place where I am standing is a huge river. It is flowing very rapidly, and is very deep and powerful. It is churning and very fast, and I am nervous to draw nearer to it, as I might fall into it, and get caught away. I am surprised that a river would be here at the top of the stairs. It seemed that there would be people and rooms and furniture and such, as at the other times that I was brought into the Great Hall, this time, there was none of that. Just this river.

Now, I am standing before this great river. I begin to walk nearer, but not close. I walk along the edge a little and watch as it rushes by. It is not clear, as when I have seen it in other experiences, and it is not blue or fiery red as at other times I have seen it. But this time, it is churning and stirred up with a mixture of hues and was not clear. It looked kind of like a spa does when the jets are turned on and the water is stirred by the air bubbles.

As I was watching the river, the Lord again was standing by My side. He stood watching me as I watched the river. He smiled and watched for awhile. Then, He said to me, “Where can you go from here?” I looked at Him, and knew this was not a real question, as He already knew, but He wanted me to ponder and to learn. I thought, and looked around me.

The river was directly running across my path, so I could not cross it to continue in the direction that I had come from the stairs, to where I was standing. So, I looked and there was nothing else that was near, and there was no other way across it. So, I said, “it cannot be crossed.”

He smiled, and said, “You are correct, but it can be navigated.” I looked, and thought to myself, “I would not want to navigate any rapids like these.” He smiled, and said, “You cannot navigate what you do not understand.”

“This river is My River that comes out from under the Temple, and is now at the level of over your head. It is not controlled by any man, or channeled, or steered. It is only navigated by abandoning yourself to it’s flow, and allowing it to bring you to My destination for you.”

“People think from reading My Word, that the river is a downward descent, like stepping into the ocean or a lake and stepping into it ankle deep, then knee deep, then waist deep, and then they plunge into it and swim in it’s depths. Ezekiel 40-47 describes this river, but they fail to realize that each depth is actually an ascent, and not a descent.”

“For every step that you take in obedience to Me, it costs you, and there is a death that accompanies each choice and advancement. There is also a higher level that is achieved and met, and walked out. Men think they can run and jump, and play in My River without any change and responsibility on their part, and without any cost. This is Holy Ground. This River issues from My Father, and from His Throne, and from His Grace to them. It is His Life and it is Holy. No man will come into this River unless I draw Him there. All men enter through Me, and they do so purified and made ready, and they stand before My Father as His.”

“This River is being released in the earth, as you are seeing it flow now. It is just as the same as the Fiery River that you saw before, that had caught up all of the Father’s Jewels in it. It is the same River, but the Father has chosen you to see it now, in this form. It is time for you to abandon yourself to the will of the Father, and let Him take you where He wants you to go.”

I looked at the River, and swallowed. I do not like rapids or fast water. It is beautiful, but I don’t like the feeling of being swept away. I struggled with my fears and with my not wanting to displease the Lord either. I then, stepped closer, and looked down and determined within myself that there was no other option for me that to do His Will.

I jumped in.

The River was indeed a wildly rushing River, and at first, I was afraid as I plunged into it’s depths, but I was also surprised. It was not cold. I thought it would be cold and it was not. It was actually pleasing. I also sank deep into it, and did not float to the top. The current caught you into it, and kept you hidden beneath it’s surface. It was actually surprisingly a delight to be swept away in.

I noticed that from the depth, as I looked upwards, I could see clearly. It was as though, I could see everything through this water from underneath, but from the surface, you could not see through it downwards. This was a mystery to me. It also was lively. I could feel strength as it carried me, and I was not afraid. I felt protected and calm. I felt light and not heavy from being under the water. I also could breathe under the water.

I did not see anyone else under the water with me, but I felt secure, like I was surrounded by others, even though I was alone. There was light in this water, as Gods Light is in all things. It was not dark or shadowy, but Light. I wondered why I had not fully abandoned myself to the Lord a lot sooner.

No sooner had I thought this, than I was now standing by the Lord again.

I was no longer in the River, but was again watching it with Him. He nodded at my surprise, and smiled. He said, “Many do not love me enough to abandon themselves and cast themselves fully into My Will for them. They fear change, and they fear being vulnerable, and they fear the Truth. So they never fully enter into what I have for them, for they never trust Me enough, to step forwards and leave the decisions to Me.”

“The River was not clearly visible to you from the surface, because you can only see clearly when you have utterly abandoned yourself to Me and have completely given all of your understanding to Me and allow Me to carry you and bring you to whatever I choose for you. Unless My Truth shines through you, you cannot see. Waters to swim in, are just that, deep waters that you no longer have any control of and must navigate them through absolute obedience and trust. When My People only stand from afar and look at their destiny, and never give themselves fully to it, they never come to the place of full maturity and clear vision. They remain seeing through a glass darkly. They never come to a working and applied knowledge of the Truth, that fully sets them free.”

“By casting yourself into the River, it broke the fear that had influenced you and hindered your path. When you loved me more than your uncomfortableness and your understanding, and cast yourself into the unknown, it released faith, and caused you to be caught up into My Rest, and be swept along with me. My Yoke is easy and My Burden is light, and few come to where they can flow with Me and be refreshed in the swiftness of My Movings. “

“The deeper that you go, in your quest for Truth, is actually Higher and is costlier. This you know. But few, want Me enough to cast themselves into Me. Even though you were afraid, you did not love yourself more than Me, and you did trust Me enough, to give yourself to Me. If only My People would turn to me, and step towards Me, and give Me their hand. I would lead them and be with them, and they would not fear, for My Grace is given.”

“This River is also that which has been held back for this hour, and has been now more fully released by My Father, for the work is great. My People will walk in great power, but it will be from a place of flowing from Me and not of functioning apart from Me. All is given into My Hands, and all comes forth from Me. Each of Mine will receive all they need to fulfill their purpose and reap the harvest. None will lack, nor will they wane, for the Father flows through them to the degree that they abandon themselves to Him. Each will have their portion. According to their Faith, it is given."

"Man has not seen in the earth, that which My Father has held in reserve, and has kept for this day. He is Jealous for His Name and for His People, and He will redeem both from the hands of men. His Name is Holy and His People are Holy, and He will avenge His Name and His People. He will be seen through them. It is time."

"You must return. You must not let fear detour you or cause you to delay, but you must rise up quickly and begin to break forth and run, for the time is short, and you must abandon yourself to My Father's Will, and allow Him to set your course, and not be concerned for it's outcome. He has your place all set and determined. It is time for you to move child. It is time to speak His Word with abandonment and assurance. Do not hold back, but run with His Word. Just as He caught you up in the River here, He will do so as you run in the earth. His Fire will burn before you wherever you go, for His Word is as a Fire through His Servants."

"Go, and be released, and do My Father's Will."

With those words, I am myself and in my home.

I sit at this computer, contemplating this experience, and anticipating the many changes that will now come forth, and yet, I am now, not afraid.

Susan Cummings
2-22-05 3:50 am

http://groups.msn.com/CummingsFamilyAdventures
http://topica.com/lists/JustHisWords

The Seen And The Unseen

Randy Williams

openeyes@verizon.net May 22, 2005

2Co 4:18 …while we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal.

1Co 7:31 …and those that use the world, as not using it to the full: for the fashion of this world passeth away.

Hello brothers and sisters, I want to talk to you today about perception and insight. As we look in the Bible and look around us, we see that one of the most prevalent qualities of these end times is mass deception. The Bible plainly tells us that the vast majority of people will be fooled by the Antichrist. The Bible says that the Antichrist will come with “all power and signs and lying wonders.” We are even told that God Himself will send strong delusion to those who do not love the truth. I want to try to break these ideas down and look into them so that we aren’t found to be ignorant of the devil’s devices. I am afraid that many Christians today are already fooled and already under a strong delusion.

Our lives should be spent building the Kingdom of God. The foundation has already been laid and our brother Paul has told us that each man should be careful how he builds onto that foundation. Each man’s work will be tested by fire. Some of us aren’t building anything. Some of us do seem to be working at a fever pitch, but are we building anything that will last? I want to plainly state that most of what is considered a part of Christianity today will NOT pass the test of fire. It will burn up and those who have built it will suffer loss. How can we know what will last and what will burn up? What is “of man” or “of this world” will pass away. What is of God and what belongs to the Kingdom of God will pass the test.

It is my firm belief that most of the “churches” that we see today are not churches of God at all. Rather, they are part of the “world system” and they are under the sway of the devil. Instead of opposing the Antichrist, they will be absorbed into his system. Well actually they are ALREADY part of that system but we have to have spiritual eyes to see it. The farther ahead we can see spiritually, the better equipped we will be to build things that will pass the test. So that brings us to the main question; are we looking with spiritual eyes or only with physical eyes?

Spiritual eyes see spiritual things and physical eyes only see Earthly, physical things. When the disciples looked at the temple they saw impressive stones and magnificent architecture. They saw the focal point of the whole Jewish lifestyle. They saw the dignified Rabbi’s in their flowing robes. Surely such an impressive and prominent building must have been an important part of God’s kingdom! They thought so much of it that they decided to point it out to Jesus just in case He hadn’t noticed. But Jesus saw it differently than they did. He saw the truth in the spiritual realm. He told them that all of those beautiful stones would be thrown down. In other words the temple was doomed to destruction.

I want to tell you that the same thing is true today! Nothing has changed. The buildings and structures and organizations and satellite networks and publishing houses and record labels that we think are so crucial to God’s kingdom are nothing but stumbling blocks. The things that are seen are temporary! Not one stone will be left that is not thrown down! The people that we put on pedestals and call “great men of God” will be utterly cast down. If this is the case, why do so many Christians build and support these false things? Why do they so violently defend what God has already judged? Why can’t they learn to look with spiritual eyes? As I said, the delusion is already here.

Maybe I am not making it clear enough. The devil has complete sway on the Earth at this point in time. He is busily working through the U.N. and other organizations to bring the governments and businesses of the world together as one. He is working through the ecumenical and interfaith movements to bring the religions of the world together as one. He has long ago captured the political processes of the world governments, definitely including that of the United States. Some of you can see that much but can you see that he has also captured the religious systems? Can you not see that he is bringing the political, business and religious systems together as one so that his Antichrist can step in to rule them all?

So what can we say about the men who “excel” and are “well-respected” and are “authorities” in these systems? These men are helping to validate and build the kingdom of the Antichrist. If that is true, then why do most Christians look up to these men? Why do Christians send these men money? What does the Bible say about false leaders and false shepherds and false prophets? It says that those who follow them will be destroyed. What does the Bible say about Babylon? It says that Babylon will be destroyed and that we should come out of Babylon so that we aren’t judged with her! The Bible doesn’t say to respect Babylon or to write a tax-deductible check to Babylon every week.

So maybe I am still not being clear enough. Some of us are already seeing the picture. Some of us have already seen these things spiritually. For the benefit of all I will try to be more specific. If there is something big and impressive that you can point to, it is NOT part of the Kingdom of God. God does not dwell in temples made by hands. True servants of God don’t need a temple at all…they ARE the temple! When we see a building or organization being presented and looked upon as an important part of the Kingdom of God, we are seeing a counterfeit. We are seeing the gold statue of Nebuchadnezzar. Mature Christians with discernment see these false man-made idols for what they are. Young or immature Christians tend to be impressed rather easily by the things of this world, just like the temple impressed the disciples.

So where does that leave the Vatican? What about St Peter’s basilica? What about the Crystal Cathedral? What about Heritage U.S.A.? What about the First Denominational Church on the Main Street corner of Anywhere, U.S.A.? What about the “City of Faith Medical and Research Center” that Oral Roberts built? This was a complex in Oklahoma with three skyscrapers. The tallest reached an impressive 648 feet. Basically it was going to be the tallest hospital in the world. Oral said that he had a vision of a 900 foot tall Jesus that told him to build it. The center opened in 1981 and closed in 1989. Later, the center opened again renamed as CityPlex Towers and now houses office space for businesses. Is that what the Kingdom of God is all about? Do we want to be part of these things when they are thrown down?

The same goes for the “religious leaders” of our day: the men who build these ivory towers and gold statues. Do we want to be involved with these men when their judgment falls? Do we want to be standing next to Korah when the Earth opens? Do we really want to help Nebuchadnezzar build his statue? Do we want to be in bed with Jezebel while she is slaying the prophets of God? If God hates the works of the Nicolaitans, do we want really want to participate in those works? Do we want to be listed with those who help build the Antichrist’s ecumenical and interfaith religious system? Of course we don’t. But how can we tell who is who? What are the signs to look for? There are many telltale signs but we will just look at a few for now.

The signs for false leaders are the same as for false organizations and the main one is; the world accepts them and respects them. Usually they are pleasing to the eye and they seem “successful”. The organizations are government approved and licensed and well respected by those in political power. The leaders dress nicely and live in nice homes and drive nice cars and maybe even own their own airplanes. These are the “seen” things that are temporary. None of these things relate to building the Kingdom of God. When you see a man who is popular with those in political power, you are NOT seeing a true man of God. A true man of God standing next to a prominent politician is like plaid next to stripes. Jesus and Pilate did not hang out together at the coliseum.

So why are so many Christians fooled by false leaders and false organizations? Well we all know that the devil can appear as an angel of light. This is the main point of what I am saying today. I want us all to realize that things are NOT what they are presented to be. Things are not as they appear. This is why I said that the main characteristic of these last days is mass deception. The devil, who has full sway over the world system, presents things as the OPPOSITE of what they really are. This is not some abstract idea either. This is reality. I am saying that the men we see presented as the greatest Christian leaders are really the greatest workers for the devil. Let that sink in.

Let’s make it personal. If you see a man through the years who is the friend of Presidents and who wines and dines with Popes and world leaders, what does that say for him? Do you think the devil would allow a true Christian to have that sort of prominence? Do you really think that Ahab would ask Elijah to “open today’s session with prayer?” Do you think that Elijah would have accepted a place at Jezebel’s table? When you see a man who is called “a great man of God” by those in political power, you are more likely seeing a top level Satanist. In any case you are not seeing a true Christian. There is no harmony between light and darkness. When you see a rich man on a big popular TV network with millions of viewers and he is hailed to be a “faith healer”, he is more likely to be a witch. When you see a man being rewarded and given titles by the world, he is not a prophet, he is more a new age clairvoyant. Many top level Satanists are into “Gnostic dualism.” Basically they believe that one’s good deeds and bad deeds must balance out. So if you see them doing all these great deeds in public, realize that they are only trying to balance out the evil deeds they do in their private lives.

Are you getting the picture here? When you see a President who claims to be a Christian, it is more likely that he is a member of a satanic cult. A true Christian could not POSSIBLY rise to the top of the devils system in these end times. Things are way too far advanced now. Even Daniel and Joseph, being EXTREMELY rare men, only rose so far and only lasted so long in those positions. Also they lived in far different times than we live in. We are at the culmination of all things. We are at the crossroad and nearing the violent clash of two plans and two kingdoms. I do not think Daniel or Joseph would make the compromises necessary to rise to the top of the devil’s far advanced system today.

Let’s make it even more personal. If you are in a “church” and your “pastor” looks up to these false leaders and covets what they have, what kind of church is that? Where is that church going? If your pastor follows these men as role models, how can he be a true pastor? If he is building his church to be just like these false churches, should you still be a part of it? You might say “but my pastor doesn’t drive a fancy car or live in a fancy house.” This may be true but yet and still if he looks at these men as role models and he even aspires to what they have, then he is immature and deceived and has no business in a place of leadership. You need to distance yourselves from such men.

Time is so short. I hope and pray that these rambling words will be anointed by God to bring light to our understanding of these things. As a group, we need to come on up to higher levels of understanding. We need to learn to understand in broad terms about the Kingdom of God and the kingdom of the Antichrist. We should be able to tell the difference. Think about that the next time you turn on your TV. Think about that the next time you see “important” men making religious declarations. Think about it as you pull into the parking lot of that religious institution. Think about that when you hear of someone called a “spiritual general” or when a man allows himself to be worshipped by throngs of people. Learn to spot the difference. Learn to love the truth.

The Sacred Cows of Bible Study

Bill Somers

> Lu 11:52 Woe unto you, lawyers! for ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.

Our Goal In This Essay.
In this essay we are going to look at several so-called principles of Bible study which are commonly taught and widely accepted. We find that there is usually no scripture given whatsoever to support the adoption of these principles. In researching the sources of these teachings on the internet, we only found one case where the writer used scripture to help make his point, and in that case the scripture reference was incorrect.

Let me repeat that for you because it's very important. We are going to identify several widely taught and commonly accepted principles of Bible study for which there is simply no scriptural support offered. They are man made principles, the product of man's wisdom.

Secondly, to make things worse, The Bible consistently teaches the opposite of what these principles teach. For this reason we have used the phrase 'sacred cow' to describe these ideas. To clarify this term, here is a definition.

> Sacred Cow: Anything which has been protected regardless of circumstance. The term 'sacred cow' has come to mean any stubborn loyalty to a long standing institution which impedes natural progress. The term originates in India where the cow is said to be literally worshipped while thousands of humans suffer from undernourishment. Adapted from "Cultural Literacy" by E. D. Hirsch, Jr.

What are these principles? First and foremost [or worst and foremost] is Literalism. The Law of Literal Interpretation. Next is the Law of Context. Following that and to a lesser degree of severity are The Historical Approach, and the attempt to achieve Interpretive Unity or Systematic Theology. The root error behind all of these is the attempt to find and use a method to interpret God's word rather than rely on the Holy Spirit.

These all qualify as sacred cows. They are quite stubbornly adhered to. [Just read some of the literature and you will see what I mean.] They lead to wrong conclusions and prevent the student from reaching correct ones. We quoted Luke 11:52 above which mentions that the lawyers [alleged experts in the law] have taken away the 'key of knowledge'. In Jesus' day, these were the experts in the Law of Moses, the Torah, and the other scriptures. Today they are well known bible teachers, scholars, seminary professors and best selling writers.
They do not arrive at or demonstrate any real knowledge themselves and they prevent others from doing so. The consequences of this can be dreadful. In Hosea 4 it says:

> Ho 4:6 My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge: because thou hast rejected knowledge, I will also reject thee, ….

The quote from Luke above mentions the Key of Knowledge. Later we'll take a look at a couple examples of keys of knowledge and see exactly how they are taken away by following these principles. Now we will look at these four principles. As they are closely related and used to support each other, please understand that we may need to repeat ourselves at some point in our critique.

Literalism
In looking at literalism we are going to be presenting some quotes by various writers found on the internet which support this view.
First of all, what is literalism and what is literal interpretation? Our dictionary tells us this:.

> lit·er·al (lĭt'er-el) adjective
> 1. Being in accordance with, conforming to, or upholding the exact or primary meaning of a word or words.
> 2. Word for word; verbatim: a literal translation.
> 3. Avoiding exaggeration, metaphor, or embellishment; factual; prosaic: a literal description; a literal mind.

My summary of this is "sticking to the exact meaning and avoiding exaggeration, metaphor or embellishment".

So the law of literal interpretation then says "Always interpret scripture sticking to the exact meaning and avoiding exaggeration, metaphor or embellishment wherever possible, and only if this fails are you to seek another way of interpretation." Note: this is not denying that there are other ways of interpreting scripture, nor does it deny that the bible uses exaggeration, metaphor and embellishment. All it does is tell us to avoid these things.

Here is another version of the Law of Literal Interpretation.

> "If the literal sense makes sense, seek no other sense." Cooper P. Abrams

This is the actual definition that literalists use. It entails avoiding exaggeration, etc. Literalists do in practice allow for metaphors and figures of speech. Where they often fail in practice is right at the root of their very own method, which is upholding the exact or primary meaning of a word. See Who’s Taken and Who’s Left Behind by Joe Ortiz.

However literalists consider this principle to be of major importance. Is there any scripture offered to support this? No. But literalists offer many reasons. We’ll look at a few of them here, for example.

The Bible Is Meant To Be Taken Literally.
Is there any scripture offered to support this? No. Now what does the Bible say?

In Hosea 12, God outlines his methods of speaking to man.

> I have also spoken by the prophets, and I have multiplied visions, and used similitudes, by the ministry of the prophets. Hosea 12:10

Let me point out here that the ministry of the prophets includes those who like Moses, Isaiah, Luke, John, etc. were the actual writers of the bible. So their writings are not just historical records i.e. literal, but God's way of speaking by similitude i.e. non-literal. To put it another way, God is telling us that the bible is primarily non-literal.

Now even the historical parts are primarily non-literal. Look what it says here.

> Now all these things happened unto them for ensamples: and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come. 1 Corinthians 10:11

To rephrase this, God is saying that the things that happened in the bible are recorded as examples for our learning. So the primary use of them is not to record what happened [literal] but to impart a lesson [spiritual].

Here he is discussing another 'historical' event, showing the non-literal interpretation.

> But he who was of the bondwoman was born after the flesh; but he of the freewoman was by promise.
> Which things are an allegory: for these are the two covenants; the one from the mount Sinai, which gendereth to bondage, which is Agar. Galatians 4:23-24

He is letting us know that the histories recorded in the bible are meant as allegories [lessons and illustrations].

There are many cases where God presents a parable and then shows us how to interpret it.

Look at Jesus explaining the parable of the sower.

> And he taught them many things by parables, and said unto them in his doctrine, Mark 4:2
>
> And he said unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how then will ye know all parables?
> The sower soweth the word.
> And these are they by the way side, where the word is sown; but when they have heard, Satan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts.
> And these are they likewise which are sown on stony ground; who, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with gladness;
> And have no root in themselves, and so endure but for a time: afterward, when affliction or persecution ariseth for the word's sake, immediately they are offended.
> And these are they which are sown among thorns; such as hear the word, …. Mark 4:13-18

Here Jesus explains each element of the parable and shows their relationships. But he is also giving them a lesson in bible interpretation. Note that he says And he said unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how then will ye know all parables? This is to say, the way that you interpret this parable is the way to interpret parables in general. This applies to the whole bible.

The bible is full of religious laws and rituals, all strictly literal, right? Well looking in Colossians and Hebrews we see there that these things are shadows, that is outlines or patterns. They are images and pictures pointing to something greater.

> Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of an holyday, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath days:
> Which are a shadow of things to come; but the body is of Christ. Col 2:16-17
>
> For the law having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never with those sacrifices which they offered year by year continually make the comers thereunto perfect. Heb 10:1

Another case of religious law with deeper meaning is covered in my article The Case of the Kosher Cheeseburger.

One problem with this law of literal interpretation is that it leads people to think that all they need to understand the bible is a good set of dictionaries. In other words, you can understand most all of the bible without the help of the Holy Spirit.

The bible comes right out and tells us that this will not work!

> But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned. 1Co 2:14

Let's rephrase this verse.

> But the natural man [who interprets literally] receiveth not [cannot understand] the things of the Spirit of God: [the things written by the Spirit of God in the scriptures] for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned. [because they are only understood spiritually.] 1 Co 2:14

The Bible Is Written In Plain Simple Language That Is Easy To Understand.
Here is another point literalists make. Here are a couple quotes that develop this idea.

> Clearly God did not give us His written word that it should be a source of confusion as to what He wanted to communicate to us. God gave us His word in written form whereby it would be available to all so that everyone could know His truth. Further He wrote it in such a way as to be > clear and not be complicated and misleading. Cooper P Abrams III

Is there any scripture offered to support this? No.

> If God is the originator of language and if the chief purpose of originating it was to convey His message to humanity, then it must follow that He, being all wise and all loving, originated sufficient language to convey all that was in His heart to tell mankind . If language is the creation of God for the purpose of conveying His message, then a theist must view that language as sufficient in scope and normative in use to accomplish that purpose for which God originated it" (Ryrie, Dispensationalism), 81.

Is there any scripture offered to support this? No. What does the Bible say? We could easily find many examples of very difficult passages in the Bible, but here is second Peter it comes right out and says that it contains things that are hard to understand.

> 2Pe 3:16 As also in all his epistles, speaking in them of these things; in which are some things hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other scriptures, unto their own destruction.

These literalists insist that the Bible is written in plain simple language that is easy to understand. What does the Bible say?

Few acknowledge this, however the Bible itself indicates that it is a Sealed Book. There are three references to sealed book(s) in the Old Testament. The most well known is that in Daniel. Here is part of it:

> Daniel 12:4 But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words and seal the book, even to the time of the end. Many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased."

We find two references in Isaiah on the same topic.

> Isaiah 8:16 Bind up the testimony, seal the law among my disciples.
>
> Isaiah 29: 10 For the LORD hath poured out upon you the spirit of deep sleep, and hath closed your eyes; the prophets and your rulers, the seers hath He covered.
> 11 And the vision of all has become unto you as the words of a book that is sealed, which men deliver to one that is learned, saying, "Read this, I pray thee"; and he saith, "I cannot, for it is sealed."
> 12 And the book is delivered to him that is not learned, saying, "Read this, I pray thee"; and he saith, "I am not learned."

Later in the same chapter of Isaiah, the Lord speaks of a future day when things will be different.

> Isaiah 29:18 And in that day shall the deaf hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscurity and out of darkness.

Some writers claim that the book sealed is just the book of Daniel and do not see the connection between that reference and the others mentioned here. But the reference in Isaiah uses the words 'testimony' and 'law'. These words commonly refer to the Word of God. [See Psalm 119 for example.] The quote from Isaiah 29 says the people have no vision. And it's not just a case of not being able to read, the unlearned one can't read. It's a case of not being able to understand what is being read. The learned one cannot read it because it is sealed. That is he can tell you exactly what it says, but he has no idea what it really means!

This speaks of the condition of the Church where we all have a good idea of what the bible says, but cannot come to any agreement about what it means!

> seal the law among my disciples

The book that is sealed is the Bible! The entire Bible, not just Daniel.

There is one sense in which the Word is a Sealed book to the unbeliever. In that the natural man cannot understand the Word since things of the Spirit must be understood by the Spirit. That is with the Spirit of God to enable you to understand His Word.

Yet these references are talking about God's people not being able to understand the Word. Here is an example form 2nd Corinthians:

> 2 Corinthians 3:
> 14 But their minds were blinded; and up until this day the same veil remaineth untaken away in the reading of the old testament, which veil is done away with in Christ.
> 15 But even unto this day, when Moses is read, the veil is upon their hearts.
> 16 Nevertheless when they shall turn to the Lord, the veil shall be taken away.

Notice this passage speaks of a veil blinding their minds. Yet there is a promise that the veil will be removed when they turn to the Lord. Let's not presume to think that this applies only to the old testament Hebrew people. It speaks just as surely to the church of today.

Most Of The Law Refers Only To Israel
This is the idea that the Mosaic Covenant represents God's dealing with the nation of Israel. As such it is not directly applicable to us.
Is there any scripture offered to support this? No. What does the Bible say?

> For it is written in the law of Moses, Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn. Doth God take care for oxen?
> Or saith he it altogether for our sakes? For our sakes, no doubt, this is written: ….. 1 Corinthians 9:9-10

Here God is making a direct application of elements of the Mosaic law. So when they say it only refers to Israel and we can ignore what does not apply to us, it's clearly unscriptural. This type of thinking leads many to believe that they can safely ignore many portions of God's word. But the Bible says all scripture is important.

> 2Ti 3:16 All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness:

Allegory Avoids The Literal Meaning Of Scripture.

> Resorting to allegory to interpret the bible is a way of avoiding its literal meaning.
> [paraphrased] Robert Bradshaw

Is there any scripture offered to support this? No. What does the Bible say?

> But he who was of the bondwoman was born after the flesh; but he of the freewoman was by promise.
> Which things are an allegory: for these are the two covenants; the one from the mount Sinai, which gendereth to bondage, which is Agar. Galatians 4:23-24

Here the bible tells us that certain historical events are to be understood as allegories. But there is no attempt to deny the reality of the original events. Secondly one does not 'resort' to allegory. God reveals the allegory to the reader who seeks after Him, as He sees fit.

Another Objection to Allegory

> The allegorizers believe that the Holy Spirit reveals to the serious student the things of the > Spirit, so that he may understand the mysterious secrets that are hidden beneath the surface of the words. If that be so, why does He reveal one thing to one man and something altogether contradictory to another? William A. Simpson

Here the writer is denying the role of the Spirit in understanding the Bible. But is any proof offered? No. Is there any scripture offered to support this? No. And what does the Bible say?

> 1Co 2:13 Which things also we speak, not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth; comparing spiritual things with spiritual.
> 14 But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.

Literalism brings out the author's original intent.

> One writer, for example, interpreted the food laws of Deuteronomy 14:7 in the following way. The clean animal symbolizes a true Christian who is able to both chew the cud (=meditate on the Word) of God, the Bible) and be cloven-footed (=walk in the world while not being corrupted by it and in the Spirit at the same time). Such interpretations are no doubt ingenious, but have nothing to do with the author's original intent, which should always be our guide when interpreting the Bible. Robert Bradshaw

Here the literalist critic presumes to know the author's original intent.

> The great need today then in determining what the Bible really teaches is a correct and biblical method of interpretation. If the Bible is the Word of God and God's revelation to man, then surely God would not give us His revelation without a way to accurately discern what He meant. For God not to give us a way to interpret the Bible is to leave the interpretation of Scripture to human wisdom that is at best faulty. To have the interpretation of Scripture rest on man's wisdom is to have "flesh" interpreting that which is spiritual. Cooper P. Abrams

Is there any scripture offered to support this? No. What does the Bible say?

> Ge 40:8 And they said unto him, We have dreamed a dream, and there is no interpreter of it. And Joseph said unto them, Do not interpretations belong to God? tell me them, I pray you.
>
> 1Co 2:14 But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.

God did give us a way to understand the bible. Only it's not found in methods or systems, nor any human wisdom.

Literalism states that the text of the bible can have only one meaning.

> When the words of Scripture were penned they had only one meaning. We should search for that one meaning. To accept multiple interpretations for one scripture passage causes confusion. Scripture itself does not allow for multiple interpretations of a verse. Cooper P. Abrams.

Is there any scripture offered to support this? No. What does the Bible say? Once again, look at 1 Corinthians 9.

> > For it is written in the law of Moses, Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn. Doth God take care for oxen?
> > Or saith he it altogether for our sakes? For our sakes, no doubt, this is written: ….. 1 Corinthians 9:9-10

Could this be a case where the author's original intent was to allow for a double meaning?

Literalism brings out the good news of the gospel.

> The word gospel means good news. Under a literal method of interpretation, the news is always sublime for the believer, with no trace of dread. Under every other method, the hearer is always left with a web of fear stretched across the pit of the stomach. William A. Simpson

Is there any scripture offered to support this? No. What does the Bible say?

> Php 2:12 ¶ Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling.
>
> Pr 1:7 ¶ The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge: but fools despise wisdom and instruction.

Literalism brings out the Hope of the Christian.

> Invariably, under every other system of theology besides a literal interpretation there is a diminishing of the hope of the Christian. William A. Simpson

Is there any scripture offered to support this? No. Neither is any other proof suggested.

Literalism avoids subjective interpretation.

> Instead of superimposing a meaning on the biblical text, the objective interpreter seeks to discover the author's intended meaning (the only true meaning). One must recognize that what a passage means is fixed by the author and is not subject to alteration by readers. "Meaning" is determined by the author; it is discovered by readers. Our goal must be exegesis (drawing the meaning out of the text) and not eisogesis (superimposing a meaning onto the text).

Is there any scripture offered to support this? No. We are expected to accept this reasoning without any proof.

Literalism And Figurative Language.

Literalism does recognize the extensive use of figurative language. It is quite comfortable when it comes to symbolism and figures of speech.

> So you see, a literal interpretation of Scripture recognizes symbols and figures of speech when presented by the author. But we understand them to have literal meanings based on their context, that is, the author's intention. Gary Nystrom

Where literalism falls critically short is when it comes to dealing with typology.

Typology

> "A type may be defined as an Old Testament person, event, or thing having historical reality and designed by God to prefigure (foreshadow) in a preparatory way a real person, event, or thing so designated in the New Testament and that corresponds to and fulfills (heightens) the type A type has a predictive or foreshadowing element to it. It looks ahead and anticipates and points to the antitype - the antitype is greater than and superior to the type" (Zuck, Basic Bible Interpretation) 176, 173).
>
> "In summary, a type must have at least these five elements: a notable resemblance or correspondence between the type and the antitype, historical reality in both the type and the antitype, a prefiguring or predictive foreshadowing of the antitype by the type, a heightening in which the antitype is greater than the type, and divine design" (Ibid), 175.
>
> Examples:
>
> Type: Floodwaters in Noah's day
> Antitype: Water Baptism (1 Peter 3:21)
> Type: Sabbath
> Antitype: The Christian's spiritual rest (Col. 2:17; Heb. 4:3,9, 11)
> Type: Sin Offerings

Antitype: Christ's death as an atonement for the sin (Lev. 5:14-6:7; Heb. 10:12) Todd Swift

Is there any scripture offered to support this? No. These ‘rules of typology’ are strictly man’s invention. What does the Bible say? Well the bible speaks of similitudes, types, shadows, figures and allegories. But nowhere does it define these things or restrict their use.

The Key Failure of Literalism

Figures of speech are easy to recognize, symbols are harder. Types and allegories are not obvious in the least. So if we are following the rule of literalism, we are never going to find out types or allegories. This is simply because when types and allegories are used, the literal sense makes sense. And we are told in this case to seek no farther! Figures of speech can be spotted easily. Types and allegories must be revealed to us by the Holy Spirit. Once this is done, they can be analyzed and lessons drawn from them. But if you never seek them, you just won’t get it. And thereby you will miss out on much of what the bible has to say, because, as we read in Hosea 12 above, He speaks to us in similitudes or typology. So we may consider typology to be a key of knowledge since it leads to greater understanding of what God is saying. By eliminating or de-emphasizing typology, literalism takes away one of the Keys of Knowledge.

Now that’s enough examples of reasons offered for literalism. The main problem is literalism itself. Let’s look back at the basic rule of literalism and see how well it holds up.

Literalism Is The Problem

A great number of bible scholars and teachers continually tell us that the proper way to understand the bible is through consistent literal interpretation. To restate it, this Law of Literal Interpretation says:

Always interpret scripture literally wherever possible.
"If the literal sense makes sense, seek no other sense."

Once again we find that there is never any scriptural justification offered for adopting this principle. We have found many reasons offered which sound logical and proper, but nothing in the Bible that tells us this is the way to proceed. This is a case of what can happen when we rely on man’s wisdom.

It’s not so much what they are telling us to do, but what this law is telling us not to do? It’s telling us not to seek; seek no other sense. That is not to seek any further than the literal meaning of scripture. But what does the bible say? It says just the opposite. It tells us to seek, long, hard and diligently. We must seek after wisdom with a passion. And what’s more it tells us this in many places all through scripture.

Scriptures on Seeking

Pr 2:1 My son, if thou wilt receive my words, and hide my commandments with thee;
2 So that thou incline thine ear unto wisdom, and apply thine heart to understanding;
3 Yea, if thou criest after knowledge, and liftest up thy voice for understanding;
4 If thou seekest her as silver, and searchest for her as for hid treasures;
5 Then shalt thou understand the fear of the LORD, and find the knowledge of God.
6 For the LORD giveth wisdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding.

Mt 7:7 Ask*, and it shall be given you;* seek*, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you:*

Lu 11:9 And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek*, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.*

Ps 27:4 One thing have I desired of the LORD, that will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the LORD, and to enquire in his temple.

Isa 45:11 Thus saith the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, and his Maker, Ask me of things to come concerning my sons, and concerning the work of my hands command ye me.

> Jer 33:3 Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and shew thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not.
>
> Pr 3:5 Trust in the LORD with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding.

Proverbs 3:5 is especially telling. Here God is warning us about depending on man's wisdom, which he depicts as thine own understanding.

The Key of Knowledge
It's a simple matter to under stand what all these scriptures are getting at. The Key of Knowledge is to seek for it. But we are being told by supposed experts not to seek after wisdom and knowledge, especially in typology. This is exactly how the Law of literal interpretation takes away the Key of Knowledge, by teaching us not to seek for it. As we read in Luke earlier:

> Lu 11:52 Woe unto you, lawyers! for ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.

So the 'lawyers' who teach literalism today are just like the ones in Jesus' day. They don't acquire any knowledge themselves, and they hinder those who would.
Now consider this quote from Colossians.

> *That their hearts might be comforted, being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to the acknowledgement of the mystery of God, and of the Father, and of Christ;
> In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.* Colossians 2:2-3

It's telling us that hidden in Christ [who is the Word of God] are all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge. This means deep revelation, rich understanding and mature insight await those who seek into the Word after it.
The Bible says to seek after it.
Literalism says 'don't bother looking'.
The literal meaning is all there is. This failure of literalism is starting to become very obvious.

Now look here at what it says in 1 Corinthians 8:

> 1Co 8:2 And if any man think that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.

We could easily rephrase this, without loosing any meaning, as follows.

If any man thinks he knows anything about the bible, by understanding the literal meaning, he knows nothing yet as he should. And nothing compared to what he could still learn from the Holy Spirit.

So it's up to us to keep on seeking.

The Law Of Context
Another sacred cow is the law of context. People are quick to jump on you when you quote something out of context, usually if they disagree with the point you are making. Sure scripture can be misinterpreted by taking it out of context. But we see this taken to extremes with the implication that any verse taken out of context is an attempt to twist the scripture.

> The rule of CONTEXT: The meaning must be gathered from the context. Every word you read must be understood in the light of the words that come before and after it. … Seeking the biblical author's intended meaning necessitates interpreting Bible verses in context. Every word in the Bible is part of a verse, and every verse is part of a paragraph, and every paragraph is part of a book, and every book is part of the whole of Scripture. No verse of > Scripture can be divorced from the verses around it. Interpreting a verse apart from its context is like trying to analyze a Rembrandt painting by looking at only a single square inch of the painting. The context is absolutely critical to properly interpreting Bible verses. Ron Rhodes

This writer tells us "No verse of Scripture can be divorced from the verses around it." Is there any scripture offered to support this? No. How does the Bible deal with verses out of context?

Taking verses of scripture out of context is exactly what the New Testament writers do when quoting the Old Testament scriptures. We have seen it mentioned that the New testament quotes the Old testament over a thousand times. How many of those quotes consider the context? Few if any do. Furthermore in the cases where they do indicate the context it is only to indicate which writer they are quoting.

In the gospels, when Jesus was confronted by scripture quoting opponents, including the Devil, did he ever rebuke them for taking verses out of context? No that was never an issue. [In John 8:5 there was a problem with Pharisees misquoting scripture however. See my article Mighty In Battle.]

So we see context was not an important issue for Jesus or for the New Testament writers. Why is this? Do we have cases where Mathew or Paul is quoting Moses or Isaiah out of context? Or do we have cases where God is quoting himself, and the context does not matter because it's still the word of God? We even have cases where God quotes himself out of context and does so in a way that deliberately changes the meaning, thereby breaking the law of context! Compare these verses.

> Ho 11:1 When Israel was a child, then I loved him, and called my son out of Egypt.
>
> Mt 2:15 And [Jesus] was there until the death of Herod: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, Out of Egypt have I called my son.

Context is important in studying scripture, but not always necessary. Taking things out of context is not automatically wrong.

Historical School Of Interpretation

This approach majors on the social, linguistic, religious and political setting of the various books, treating them as history and or literature.

Is there any scripture offered to support this? No. What does the Bible say?

> Now all these things happened unto them for ensamples: and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come. 1 Corinthians 10:11

To rephrase this, God is saying that the things that happened in the bible are recorded as examples for our learning. They are not intended primarily as history or sociology or literature. They are to teach us spiritual lessons.

To repeat what we said earlier, even the historical parts are primarily non-literal.

Another exponent of the historical school has this to say:

> Only by objective methodology can we bridge the gap between our minds and the minds of the biblical writers. Indeed, our method of interpreting Scripture is valid or invalid to the extent that it really unfolds the meaning a statement had for the author and the first hearers or readers. Ron Rhodes

Is there any scripture offered to support this? No. The Bible says:

> Mt 11:25 At that time Jesus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes.

This historical approach involves a basic failure to understand the nature of inspiration. On one hand these writers acknowledge that scripture is God inspired, then on the other hand, they try and figure out what the writer meant as if the scripture were the work of the writer.

We have here a failure to understand what God inspired means. They seem to think that God inspires a writer by giving him an idea and then letting him express it in his own words. Actually God gives all the words himself. All the writer does is write what God tells him. His character, opinions, and personality have no bearing. He's just the messenger. God gives the message, and God is the message!

Here is an example from Jeremiah, where God shows us exactly how it works. The text is concerning where Jeremiah has been dictating to Baruch the words of the Lord. Jeremiah is a type of the Holy Spirit who inspires the writer, Baruch, to record his words. The issue is how did the words come to be written.

> Jer 36:17 And they asked Baruch, saying, Tell us now, How didst thou write all these words at his mouth?
> 18 Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these words unto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the book.

And this is how it works. Baruch is just a writer. He does nothing more than record the words. So his attitude, intention and opinion have nothing to do with what he writes. His social background, historical setting or linguistic patterns are only of minor interest.

It's the same with any writer of the biblical books. They are just recording what God tells them to write. Seeking Jeremiah's original intention makes no more sense that asking your computer the meaning of some document you downloaded. Or if you print a file off the internet, and are puzzled about some part of it, do you ask your inkjet printer what he had in mind? And if you really like what the file says, do you give the inkjet printer a pat on the back for doing a good job?

We don't refer to the Bible as the word of Moses, Joshua, Samuel, David, Isaiah, Ezra, Ezekiel, Jeremiah, Daniel, Hosea, Joel, Amos, Jonah, Matthew, Mark, Luke, John, Paul, Peter, and others. We call it the Word of God. Let's not forget that.

Systematic Theology

The quest for Systematic Theology follows right along after the Historical Approach. It is where scholars make their goal an attempt to explain the entire bible, a piece at a time and bring all of the elements into interpretative unity.

Consider this quote.

> As students our task is to ascertain the meaning of Scripture by seeing each statement within its original social, linguistic, religious and political setting. We must then consider all other statements on the same subject, thus bringing all Scripture into an interpretive unity. And it will not matter whether we study the end times from Mathew 24, Ezekiel, Daniel or Revelation. If we understand any one of them correctly, all the others will tell the same story, although perhaps from a slightly different perspective. Ted Noel

Is there any scripture offered to support this? No. The Bible says:

> Romans 11:33 … how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out!

Here he is looking to ascertain the meaning of Scripture by academic methods, and bring it into interpretive unity. His final sentence here mentions correct understanding. The problem is the assumption that one can fully ascertain the meaning of scripture, and that once we understand a part correctly the others will fall into place. So eventually it's possible to have a unified interpretation of the whole bible. All we have to do is figure out what each piece means and fit them together. There are at least two problems with this. One it assumes that the meaning of scripture can be found on the basis of study, without taking into account the guidance of the Spirit. See my articles The Dispute and Why You Can Never Agree for more on this topic.

Next it assumes that the scripture is two dimensional. Like the jigsaw puzzle analogy, just find where each belongs and soon you will have it all figured out. Truth is that there are multiple levels of meaning in God's word. It's not two dimensional at all. There are multiple meanings, multiple correct interpretations, and multiple fulfillments in lots of cases. Also look back at where he quotes Isaiah.

> Isa 28:9 Whom shall he teach knowledge? and whom shall he make to understand doctrine? them that are weaned from the milk, and drawn from the breasts.
> 10 For precept must be upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; here a little, and there a little: KJV

Verse 9 tells us that He teaches doctrine and gives understanding. It does not come from our own efforts. And that he does this to those that are mature in the word, not babes. Verse 10 uses upon or on depending on the translation to show a method of learning. It suggest the idea of building or stacking things here and there. This goes against the image of the jigsaw puzzle, picturing things in three dimensions. When there are multiple meanings, then each revelation one receives can become the foundation for a new revelation. Each one building on the previous, yielding higher levels of understanding that could not be had directly. With the literal and historic approaches, there can be only one level of meaning. These approaches will never get you into the deeper things of the word.

Scripture Must Be Revealed To Us By God.
Let's take a look at this example.

> Mt 16:15 He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am?
> 16 And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.
> 17 And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Simon Barjona: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven.

Ask yourself here about the method old Simon Peter uses in this passage. Did Jesus commend him for coming up with the right answer by saying Blessed art thou, Simon Barjona, for thou hast used the time tested literal hermeneutic? Or is it rather that Simon did not use any method at all. Simon Peter simply received a revelation.

Now here's another interesting example.

> 2Ti 3:15 And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus.
> 16 All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness:

Here it says scripture is given by inspiration. But it does not say who is given to. I believe we commonly assume it is given to the writer who records God's word under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit. Verse 16 is however vague on this point, and deliberately so for this reason. It allows the possibility of a second meaning, an intentional double meaning. That is this: scripture is given by inspiration to the reader or listener. Verse 15 mentions that it is able to make one wise through faith. We know that faith comes by hearing the word of God. This is where the reader receives the word by inspiration. The word will only profit us when mixed with faith. Knowing the scriptures is one thing but hearing them with the spiritual ears of faith is revelation.

Here are some examples of cases were people clearly heard the word of God, and understood the literal meaning but at the same time were absolutely clueless as to what it all meant.

> Mark 9:32 But they understood not that saying, and were afraid to ask Him.

> Luke 2:50 And they understood not the saying which He spoke unto them.
>
> Luke 9:45 But they understood not this saying, and it was hid from them, that they perceived it not; and they were afraid to ask Him about that saying.*
>
> Luke 18:34 And they understood none of these things; and this saying was hidden from them*, neither* knew they the things which were spoken*.*
>
> John 10:6 This parable Jesus spoke unto them, but they understood not the things of which He spoke unto them.
>
> John 16:
> 16 "A little while, and ye shall not see Me; and again a little while, and ye shall see Me, because I go to the Father."
> 17 Then said some of His disciples among themselves, "What is this that He saith unto us, `A little while, and ye shall not see Me; and again a little while, and ye shall see Me,' and, `because I go to the Father'?"
> 18 They said therefore, "What is this that He saith, `A little while'? We cannot tell what He saith."*

They too knew their scriptures, and heard Jesus' words for themselves, yet could not come to any agreement on the meaning. Yet for them, there came a day when Jesus opened their understanding and explained the scriptures.

> Lu 24:44 And he said unto them, These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled, which were written in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms, concerning me.
> 45 Then opened he their understanding*, that they might understand the scriptures,*

That day is coming for us, and soon.

God Reveals His Word
God Reveals His Word To Those Who Fear Him And Are Willing To Do His Will.

> Ps 25:12 What man is he that feareth the LORD? him shall he teach in the way that he shall choose.
>
> Joh 7:15 And the Jews marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned?
> 16 Jesus answered them, and said, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.
> 17 If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself.

Summary

The Law Of Literalism says you can discover the meaning of scripture by sticking to the root literal meaning, but the scripture says the letter kills. It is the doling out of death.

> Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life.
> But if the ministration of death, written and engraven in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not stedfastly behold the face of Moses for the glory of his countenance; which glory was to be done away: (2 Corinthians 3:6-7)

Depending strictly on the letter of the law then becomes a covenant with death. The Spirit gives the Word and it’s the Spirit that must give it life.

The Law of Context says the meaning must be gathered from the context but the scripture says Spiritual things are Spiritually discerned.

> 1Co 2:13 Which things also we speak, not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth; comparing spiritual things with spiritual.
> 14 But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.

The Law Of Historical Research says you can discover the meaning of scripture by analyzing the historical, linguistic, social and cultural context and by considering the life and background of the individual writers but the scripture says:

> Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will show you things to come. (John 16:13)

The Law of Systematic Theology says you can discover the meaning of scripture a bit at a time, and eventually fit all the pieces of the puzzle together into a unified interpretation, but the scripture says:

> Job 37:23 Touching the Almighty, we cannot find him out: he is excellent in power, and in judgment, and in plenty of justice: he will not afflict.
>
> Ro 11:33 O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out!

A sacred cow is stubborn loyalty to an institution [or idea] that impedes progress. For every reason put forth to support these sacred cows, scripture teaches the opposite. It makes you wonder whether [one must conclude that] their purpose is to promote falsehood and prevent you from reaching correct conclusions. [Which is exactly correct.]

The root flaw in these and other sacred cows of bible study is in their fundamental approach which is to say "You can discover the meaning of God's Word, if you use this or these methods." The quest for an objective methodology is just another attempt to rely on self. Perhaps it’s job security for professional scholars. It still reminds me though of someplace where it says, “your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil.”

You cannot discover the meaning of God's word.
I cannot discover the meaning of God's word.
Scripture says the Lord teaches it, and that only to the mature among us. Scripture must be revealed. God reveals himself to man, and that by degrees, here a little, there a little and so on.

Will you be content with man’s wisdom or will you Seek After Him?

The Seventeenth Day Of The Second Month

Lois Deragon

Feb 18, 2005

Genesis 7:11,12,
In the year 600 of Noah's life, in the seventeenth day of the second month, that same day all the fountains of the great deep were broken up and burst forth, and the windows and floodgates of the heavens were opened. And it rained upon the earth for forty days and forty nights.

I was pondering on the greater works, wondering when the body of Christ would walk in such. The Lord answered in my spirit saying, You already have. My mind circled His words as it tried to find a place to land. 1 Corinthians 15:46 is a tool I use often to understand heaven touching earth. Immediately I knew what the Lord had said.

1 Corinthians 15:46
But it is not the spiritual life which came first, but the physical and then the spiritual.

HE had done the natural works that we can walk in the greater works spiritually. We are to open blind spiritual eyes, make the lame (limping, crippled, halted) to walk, plunge the unclean beneath the cleansing flood of His blood, open deaf spiritual ears, raise the spiritually dead, and preach the Good News to the poor. Heaven touched earth, that earth could touch heaven!

My brothers and sisters, these are the greater works that we do because He has gone to the Father! These are greater works because they have eternal value.

John 14:12
I assure you, most solemnly I tell you, if anyone steadfastly believes in Me, he will himself be able to do the things that I do; and he will do even greater things than these, because I go to the Father.

As I read Genesis 7:11, there came a quickening about the hour we are in. Today is the seventeenth day of the second month and today all the fountains of the great deep are breaking up and bursting forth, and the windows and floodgates of heaven are opening up!

This is the spiritual flood that Noah's natural flood foreshadowed.

Church, for the next forty days and forty nights the fountains of the great deep (revelation) are breaking up and bursting forth as the windows and floodgates of heaven open up! Beginning today at 6:00 p.m., according to the biblical day of evening and morning, March 30th is the completion of forty days and forty nights.

3/30 is a significant date for the completion of forty days and forty nights. Three is divine completion or perfection. Noah's ark is a type of Jesus Christ. I won't go into that, except to say that after Jesus Christ was baptized by John He was led into the wilderness for forty days and forty nights.

One of the ways that the mantle was passed from one high priest to the next was water immersion.

Matthew 3:13-15
Then Jesus came from Galilee to the Jordan (meaning point of change, death) to John to be baptized by him. But John protested strenuously, having in mind to prevent Him, saying, It is I who have need to be baptized by You, and do You come to me? But Jesus replied to him, Permit it just now; for this is the fitting way for [both of] us to fulfill all righteousness [that is, to perform completely whatever is right]. Then he permitted Him. And when Jesus was baptized, He went up at once out of the water; and behold, the heavens were opened, and he [John] saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and alighting on Him. And behold, a voice from heaven said, This is My Son, My Beloved, in Whom I delight!

Caiaphas was an appointed high priest. John the Baptist had both the lineage and authority to be the true high priest at the time. This is why Jesus said it was necessary that John baptize him to fulfill all righteousness. This is the point (of change) when the Aaronic priesthood became the priesthood after the order of Mechizedek. The account of this is in Hebrews 7.

The number 30 is the number of priesthood. It is the age Jesus was at His baptism and the beginning of His earthly ministry.

I believe we have entered into the hour that the sons of Zadok (those who minister to the Lord) are coming up out of Jordan under the power and the anointing of the Holy Spirit.

The revelation that is breaking up and bursting forth in the sons over these next forty days and forty nights will result in both the natural works and the greater works being released like we have never experienced. Get ready, folks, the windows and the floodgates of heaven have opened!

Could this be the spiritual answer to the natural tsunami we witnessed 53 days ago? As Isaiah 53 begins, Who has believed our message? And to whom has the arm of the Lord been disclosed? Who among us has the testimony of Jesus [which is] the Spirit of Prophecy?

The testimony of Isaiah 53 will soon be heard all over the earth and the Lord shall see His spiritual offspring and He will prolong His days (through the manifestation of the sons of God), and the will and pleasure of the Lord shall prosper in His hand.

The Secret Ingredient

Danny Korakas

Jan 9, 2005
Dear Friends,
This message is to be prayerfully considered and is not in any way a criticism directed toward any individual or family. I don't judge people or their circumstances ... especially single mothers. However, I sincerely hope that you will consider these words and bring them before the Lord. dk

I have read and listened to a lot of prophetic declarations as we approached what most in the world view as the New Year. I have found them to be up-lifting, encouraging, depressing and conflicting at the same time. We must appreciate the words that are coming forth as a genuine facet of the Father's heart if they align with His Word. However, most of what is genuine and from the Lord is not "New" or exclusively for the year 2005. The true prophetic word from the Lord is divine and has ETERNAL significance. As a matter of fact, I doubt that God really goes by the Gregorian calendar and what we recognize as the "New Year." If God went by any calendar at all, it would be the Hebrew calendar which He instituted through His Word centuries ago. With that said, I do have a word that I believe is for today or what we recognize as 2005. But as I stated earlier, it spans time, both distant past and future.

There is one prophetic word that has come forth for the upcoming year with intensity and regularity – a mandate for the bride to PREPARE herself for her bridegroom. As the church, we are in a season of reflection and repentance. Some have embraced this, while others have not. Reflection and repentance are necessary and must come to fruition within the church before our Lord's return. Likewise, it is the Lord's will and purpose that we enter into the season of ingathering and harvest. The fields that are white and ready for the harvest are looking for the fruit of our repentance. They are looking for a reflection of Christ in our lives. Tabernacles, or what many perceive as being a "third day" movement, is unrealistic and presumptuous without first embracing the ingathering of the lost to complete our spiritual house of living stones.

The Lord has given the world and the unsaved a portrait of His love for them. It is His love for the church (His bride) and the bride's love for Him that paints a visible picture for the world to see. This is experienced and represented for all to see in a godly husband-wife relationship patterned after God's Word.

"Husbands love your wives, just as Christ also loved the church and gave Himself for her, that He might sanctify and cleanse her with the washing of water by the Word, that He might present her to Himself a glorious church, not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing, but that she would be holy and without blemish. So husbands ought to love their own wives as their own bodies; he who loves his wife loves himself. For no one ever hated his own flesh, but nourishes and cherishes it, just as the LORD DOES THE CHURCH. For we are members of His body, of His flesh and of His bones. 'For this reason a man shall leave his father and mother and be joined to his wife, and the two become one flesh.' This is a great mystery, but I speak concerning Christ and the church." (Ephesians 5:25-32)

One of the greatest and most fruitful means of evangelism is the life of a godly, Christ-centered and loving relationship between a husband and his wife. The Holy Spirit reveals to us in Ephesians 5 that the Lord's love for the CHURCH and her passionate love for Him should be pictured and mirrored in the marriage relationship between a husband and wife. We know how much the Lord loves us as the church. (He laid down His life for her.) However, our (corporate) "Laodocian love" and passion for Him is a reflection of our (corporate) marital condition within the church. If there is anything that the Lord desires to get in order in "2005," it is a revisiting of our covenant vows that we made before Him and others. Our "Sunday best" is not as important to the Lord as many of us would think. He is much more interested in the other 6 days. It's easy to be loving and giving when everything is lovely and others are giving. But are we loving and giving when others are unlovely and selfish? It's easy to sell and put on our best for a few hours within the walls of the church. But, who and what do we portray within the walls of our homes toward one another? This is who we truly are.

I know of many churches and have heard many men quote, "for wives to be submitted to their husbands." (Ephesians 5:22) And of course there are many wives out there thinking, "Why should I? He does and says a lot of ungodly things." If we stop to think, this is what really goes through our minds much of the time and is manifested in our actions. We tend to feed and justify these thoughts and feelings as well by our desire to have "MY" needs and expectations met. Most enter into a relationship for the purposes of what they can get out of it rather than what they can give to it. Why else would divorce be as rampant in the church as in the world? The answer is simple: We approach the covenant of marriage as the world does and continually want our spouse to meet OUR needs as a CONDITION to meet their needs. (In other words, "You meet me half way.") Already, we have taken Satan's bait and have poisoned the greatest witness of evangelism we possess as the church. Why? Because, most marriages simply do not, "FEAR THE LORD." We have failed to read and understand the preceding verse, "submitting to one another in the FEAR OF THE LORD." (Ephesians 5:21)

Our society and even the church has approached marriage as solely an institution between a man and a woman. This is true, but only half of the truth. For the most part, we have left God out of the covenant that He instituted through marriage. Many of our disagreements as husband and wife stem from our own selfish motives rather than fearing God. The fear of the Lord is the foundation of the marriage relationship and our primary witness (evangelism) to the world.

When we think of the phrase, "The fear of the Lord", we tend to think of Old Testament connotations and as being outdated in our "New Testament" mentality. Actually, the "fear of the Lord" carries more divine weight today than ever before. The reason is that the CHARACTER of the Spirit-filled believer should radiate the fear of the Lord. Fearing God is not an act of self inflicted severity or an enslaved mind-set. It is the RESPONSE of a child of God who encounters the Lord's holiness, majesty, and radiance. In other words, it is the bi-product of an authentic and intimate relationship of a creature with their Creator. If we were to look back upon the landscape of our marriage relationship, I am sure that many, like myself, can see that we have fallen short of the standard set forth by the "New Testament." I believe that our greatest failure in the church's ability to witness effectively, has been our failure to fear the Lord in our marriage relationships.

I have recognized many within the church who have gladly adopted the "love of God", but have failed to embrace the "fear of God" in their lives. The fact that God, in His infinite love for us, sacrificed His own Son, should inspire us to live a life that fears, honors and glorifies Him through the marriage covenant. This is an ACT that speaks louder than our cheap words that are often spoken. We need to understand that God has only instituted two covenants that we live by today – The New Covenant through the shed blood of Jesus Christ and the Covenant of marriage. Both of these covenants come with a tremendous COST and a dying to oneself for another. Jesus Christ did not meet us "half-way." He paid the price in full for His bride. Likewise, a marriage is not a "half-way" or a 50-50 relationship. It is each person giving 100% and laying their life down for the other. It is this bond of commitment that brings into focus the kingdom of God and His love for us. The environment of a Christ-like marriage will manifest as "His kingdom, on EARTH as it is in heaven." It also becomes a model for our children and heritage ... the church's future.

The lie of meeting "half-way" is the ROOT of all marriage fatalities and divorce. Essentially, this viewpoint creates an environment of CONDITIONAL LOVE. The flesh has an innate desire to have its needs met rather than meeting the needs of another. One of the greatest issues that will continue to surface is the DESIRE of many women to be at home and raise their children. Sadly, I hear and read of case after case where the husband lays the "financial guilt trip" upon his wife. The response of a mother to raise her child is the heart of the Father in how the church (bride) needs to be caring, raising and presenting mature believers in Christ. Like the church, in so many ways we put money and the lust for the things of this world over the lives of our children.

O, man of your own understanding, why do you continue to pursue the opinions of others over the fruit of your own loins? Why must you desire the glories of this present age over the glory of a mother and her child? Surely, I have promised to meet all of your needs. Why must you doubt me at the expense of your children and the desires of your wife? Is it not I who have placed the desire and the need within her?

I realize that I have taken a little side road here, but sensed the urgency to speak what I believe to be the heart of God and a timely prophetic word to many husbands. Please stop and think about what I have written and prophesied. More importantly, sincerely pray about this. How can we continue to apply pressure on our wives to work in the marketplace full-time to support our habit of keeping up with the world? Is it really worth it? Is this REALLY how God designed the fruit of marriage, our children, to be raised? I am convinced that the greatest selfishness that mankind has produced in the 20th century has been the neglect of responsibility after having children. Once again, our marriage relationships and family life reflect and manifest in the church institution and culture we see today. Teen suicide, drug abuse, violence, depression, and sex outside of marriage have continued to spiral out of control because of the reworking of God's plan for the family structure in taking mothers away from raising their children. Blame who you will and make all of the excuses you want. However, we need to face the truth for what it is. There is no such thing as a "dysfunctional family." A "dysfunctional family" is simply a "sinful and disobedient family" to God's Word and purpose.

If we truly desire to see genuine change in the church, then we must earnestly desire a change in how we have approached and stewarded our marriages and children. I cannot express enough the parallel between what truly transpires within the home as being the true condition of the church. A reputable study has indicated that Fathers spend just 5 minutes of intimate and attentive time with their children each day. This is reflected in the church's inability to produce true spiritual fathers. We would prefer a house in the suburbs and a couple of new cars over keeping our children at home. Likewise, the church loves to spend their money and build buildings rather than investing in living stones. Our families are not held together by the stuff we buy. The family unit (The reflection of the kingdom of God for the world to see and experience) is held together by our relationship with God and our relationships within the husband - wife relationship patterned after God's Word.

So, what does the "fear of the Lord" have to do with all this? Well, EVERYTHING! Without the "fear of the Lord", a Christian marriage between a husband and a wife will never be what the Lord intends it to be. We may seem to have it all together, do all the right things, and say all the right words. But without the fear of the Lord, we are enslaved to our own selfish desires and presumptions. It is the fear of the Lord that brings us to true repentance and to our knees before God and to one another as a husband and wife. One of the manifestations of not fearing the Lord within the marriage covenant is the "Silent Treatment." Essentially, the "silent treatment" is another word for "WITCHCRAFT." Witchcraft is the MANIPULATION of a person's well-being and response through the actions of another. When we engage in the silent treatment, we are manipulating the response of another through an ungodly motive rather than communion. This is witchcraft. Without a genuine fear of the Lord in both the husband and wife, a Christian marriage and the picture that God desires to portray in His love for humanity will never become what He intended it to be.

At the Last Supper, John was so close to Jesus that he could touch Him and whisper in His ear. However, we read later in Revelation 1:17 that when the same John encountered Jesus in His glory and majesty, he said, "I fell at His feet as dead." We read in scripture of Paul's ever increasing revelation and relationship with the Lord. Yet, he never lost focus that one day he would stand before the Lord like everyone else and give account of his life.

"We must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, that each one may receive the things done in the body, according to what he has done, whether good or bad. Knowing, therefore, the terror (fear) of the Lord, we persuade men." (2 Corinthians 5:10-11)

It was Paul's complete awareness of the awesome splendor and majesty of Jesus Christ that made his message "persuasive" and inspired. When a man builds his relationship with his wife on the foundation of the "fear of the Lord" and when his wife moves in the same spirit, their marriage will perfectly fulfill God's purpose according to His Word. They will leave a Spirit-filled heritage to their children (the church's future) and win multitudes to Christ through their example and picture of God's love. It is time that husbands respond in obedience to God's Word and make it his priority to love his wife as Christ loves the church (His bride). It is then that the wife will respond to her husband as the church SHOULD respond to Christ (her bridegroom). Certainly the failures we have on both sides have created a "dysfunctional" – I mean, "sinful" – church. The good news and the prophetic word for us today is that these sins can be covered by both sides simply repenting and asking forgiveness from one another. It is in the fear of the Lord that both husband and wife can find the refreshment and escape from selfish pride and self-seeking motives. I believe that within the "fear of the Lord," both a man and his wife become "one flesh" in their purpose and destiny in building the kingdom of God. When we begin to see this, we can finally fulfill and answer Jesus' prayer that we become "one" as the church – just as He and Father are one.

www.watermarkministry.org
www.watermarkministry.injesus.com www.watermarkministry.spreadtheword.com

Permission is granted to reprint all articles from WaterMark Ministry Websites in their entirety.

The Seed Is Knocking!

Christine Beadsworth

Let's look at the parable of the sower and the seed in Luke chapter 8. Jesus explains that the seed represents the Word of God. Jesus is the Word made flesh; therefore Jesus is the seed. This Seed is being sown onto various types of ground. He is endeavoring to gain entrance to the soil so that a harvest can be brought forth. In the same way, Jesus is endeavoring to gain entrance in Revelation 3:17. He stands at the door and knocks. The Seed of God, the Living Word is wanting to enter your heart and bring forth a harvest. When we look at these two passages together, we get further insight into God's ways.

There are four types of soil which the seed falls on; wayside, stony, weed-filled and good soil. There are four things the Lord requires us to do in response to His knock at the door of our heart; hear, open up or receive, love and obey. Each of these is an antidote to the maladies that afflict the Laodicean Church. Let us examine these things alongside each other to gain understanding.

Luk 8:5 A sower went out to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way side; and it was trodden down, and the fowls of the air devoured it.

The sower is the Holy Spirit, whose task it is to reveal Jesus. He brings to remembrance everything Jesus said. The first place the Word falls is the wayside. Here the revelation of Jesus is rejected. The word, 'trodden' means 'to treat with disdain'. Here is a reference to Jesus' comment

Mat 7:6 Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you.

This is the work of a religious spirit. Jesus is the pearl of great price. Sometimes the Holy Spirit wants to bring a revelation of Jesus but religious and unclean spirits rob us and prevent us even hearing that knock at the door. It is possible to have ears but not hear what God is saying. That is why God admonishes us repeatedly:

Rev 3:6 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

The wayside where the seed fell was the place where many were going to and fro about their daily business. This is exactly what contributes to spiritual deafness, busy-ness! A religious spirit will keep us so busy with the work of the Lord that we do not even hear the gentle knock deep within. The enemy does not want us to exchange his yoke of slavery for one that is easy and light.

The Word stands at the door and knocks. This Word is a two-edged sword. Both grace and truth came through Jesus Christ. When we hear Grace knocking, we are quick to answer and welcome Him in. However when Truth that divides between soul and spirit knocks, we sometimes say we are rich and have need of nothing. It is almost as if we view the Holy Spirit as a heavenly peddler, trying to sell us something we don't need. We hear the knock and either ignore it and pretend we are not there or we give a long list of reasons through the peephole as to why He must be looking for our next-door neighbor. If we do not allow the entrance of His Word to bring light, then we will remain in darkness and deception as to our true spiritual condition.

Rev 3:19 As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent.

We cannot afford to wince and draw back as we feel the prick of the tip of that sword of Truth. It is because of His great love for us that He wants to divide the soul from the spirit within us. If we will trust His loving hand and open the door, we will discover that He wounds in order to heal and breaks down in order to build up.

Jesus said that unless we eat His flesh and drink His blood, we have no life in us and are not a part of Him. So there is a meal of intimate communion that has to take place. He does not pass us food through a hatch in the door. He IS the bread of Life and the words He speaks are spirit and life! (John 6:60). So in order to benefit from what He is, we have to open our hearts no matter which side of the Sword is knocking.

The Father wants us to hear, receive, love and obey His Son. The ones on the stony soil are those who hear and receive; in other words they hear the knock at the door and open the door and let Him in. They are pleased to receive the Light but this is not enough to bring forth fruit. The stony soil did not allow the Seed to take root. One has to gaze upon the Bread of Life that was broken for us in order to be changed from glory to glory. If we do not love and embrace the Word of Truth when it comes to us in soul-searching clarity, we will be unable to stand in the trials that inevitably come. God wants to lay such strong foundations in our lives that we come forth as gold from the refining fire of the trial. Ingest the Living Word which the Holy Spirit reveals and allow Truth to be built into your foundations.

After hearing and receiving, the next step is to love Him. Lets look at Rev 3:20 to see how this is portrayed:

Rev 3:20 Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me.

Here we see that the next step is for Him to sup or eat with us and then after that, we must eat with Him. This sounds like a repetition of the same process but in actual fact they are different. When Jesus sups with us, He breaks bread with us. In other words, He opens up the revelation of the Word to us and we get understanding. Lets see how this happened with the two disciples on the road to Emmaus. Jesus was walking with them as they discussed the Word and how it applied to what they had witnessed. They didn’t understand its true application. Their eyes were blinded even though they had the manifestation of that Word walking next to them!

Luk 24:29 But they constrained him, saying, Abide with us: for it is toward evening, and the day is far spent. And he went in to tarry with them. And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them, he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them. And their eyes were opened, and they knew him

Jesus went in and spent time with them because they invited Him in. Then He sat at the table and just like in Rev 3:20, He supped with them. When He broke the bread and blessed it and gave it to them, suddenly they received a revelation of Him. When the Living Bread sits with us and breaks open the revelation of Himself, the Word, by the Sprit of Wisdom and Revelation, then we receive understanding. We see with the eyes of our hearts why this Seed came knocking. Often, when we see His face at the door, we think we know exactly what the visit is all about but if we will just allow Him to break open the revelation more deeply we will see clearly what He is saying and we will know which areas we are naked in. This is the process of eating His flesh described in John 6:53-60. We take this revelation, chew on it and allow it to be digested and let conviction come. Then we ‘drink His blood’ or repent and allow the Blood entrance to the darkest corners of our hearts, accepting the sacrifice of the cross. Then we are clothed with white garments of righteousness.

The next category is the soil where the seed took root but there were weeds that sprang up with it and choked the life out of it. Jesus explained that the weeds were worries, wealth and the pleasures of life. This again connects with the Laodicean Church because they were rich and increased in goods. Material wealth was high on their priority list. How tragic that the precious Word is revealed to a heart but not given precedence because there are other gods being worshipped. We cannot serve God and mammon. If we love the world and the things of the world then the love of the Father is not in us. Often we honor God with our lips but our hearts are far from Him.

Joh 14:21 He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him.

The way God knows if we truly love him is if we do what He says. It is easy to be a hearer of the Word but the true test is the out-walking of that Word. Once we have received revelation of Truth, if we do not obey it, there will be no fruit brought forth from that Seed. It will be choked and that Word will not become flesh in us. The only way to prevent this happening is to pull out the weed-seed as soon as it germinates, a process we can only accomplish if we willingly respond to the knocking of the Sword of Truth every time. Sometimes the scroll that the prophets ate was sweet in their mouth but bitter in their stomach. As we continue to digest the Spirit-quickened Word, it begins to shine its light into corners we have been ignoring for years. This is not a comfortable experience but His Word is medicine.

The good soil hears, receives, loves and obeys and therefore brings forth fruit. This is the key to fruitfulness – instant obedience to the revealed will of God. How does this fit in with Revelation 3:20? Well, the last thing that is described in this intimate encounter is that we sup with Him. Well, what is Jesus eating? We find the answer in the encounter with the woman at the well:

Joh 4:32 But he said unto them, I have meat to eat that ye know not of. Therefore said the disciples one to another, Hath any man brought him ought to eat? Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work.

Jesus' food is to do the will of His Father. That is what feeds Him. When we do the will of the Father, we eat with Jesus! When we hear His knock, open up, partake of the revelation laid before us and walk in it, then it is a natural process for fruit to come forth. The Word becomes flesh in us when we obey it. This is not an instant occurance. Jesus said that a crop is produced 'through endurance' from good soil. This is why Paul encourages us

Gal6:9And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.

Paul said he presses on to take hold of that for which Christ took hold of him. This word 'take hold of' is the Greek word 'katalambano' which means 'to seize, to take eagerly, to possess, to perceive'. This is the same as hearing, receiving, loving and obeying the Word. It is making it your own, making it a part of you. What are we pressing on to take hold of? It is the mystery of the ages which is now being revealed – Christ in us, the hope of glory. We are pressing on to seize and possess a revelation of Jesus Christ so that it may be manifested in and through us. This is the bearing of much fruit in which the Father is glorified. The Seed of the Living Word, Jesus is taking root and growing in us and will bring forth a harvest of seed after His kind, sons made in His likeness.

Jam 1:21 Therefore, rid yourselves of everything impure and every expression of wickedness, and with a gentle spirit welcome the word planted in you that can save your souls. Keep on being doers of the word, and not merely hearers who deceive themselves.
For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like a man who looks at himself in a mirror. For he studies himself carefully and then goes off and immediately forgets what he looks like. But the one who looks at the perfect law of freedom and remains committed to it-thus proving that he is not a forgetful hearer but a doer of what it requires-will be blessed in what he does.

Jesus said in Luke 8 that it has been given to us to know the mysteries of the Kingdom. This is our portion and to obtain it we have to answer the door when the Seed knocks.

Luk 8:17 For there is nothing hidden that will not be revealed, and there is nothing secret that will not become known and come to light. So pay attention to how you listen. For to the one who has something, more will be given. However, from the one who doesn't have, even what he thinks he has will be taken away from him."

If you hear His voice do not harden your hearts!

www.freshoilreleases.com

The State of Christianity in 2005

Friday Fax 2005 Issue 11, 18 March

In this week's Friday Fax: The State of Christianity in 2005

In response to many requests, here is the State of Christianity in 2005. It is based on secular and Christian sources, and probably the world's broadest survey of such information, and is published every January by David B. Barrett (Professor of Missiometrics at the World Evangelization Research Center in Richmond, and publisher of the World Christian Encyclopedia) and Todd M. Johnson from the Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary, South Hamilton. Next week's Friday Fax will contain Todd Johnson's analysis of current Christian trends.

Source: David B. Barrett & Todd M. Johnson, www.globalchristianity.org

Year	1970	2000	Annual growth rate (%)	Mid 2005	Prognosis 2025
Global population	3,692,495,000	6,070,581,000	1.23	6,453,628,000	7,851,455,000
Urban population	1,362,294,000	2,878,859,000	1.87	3,158,016,000	4,572,884,000
Population under 15 years old	1,379,442,000	1,828,710,000	1.74	1,829,328,000	1,900,868,000
Illiterates	836,256,000	990,317,000	1.72	1,078,271,000	934,703,000
Cities over 100,000	2,400	4,050	2.13	4,500	6,500
Cities over 1,000,000	161	402	1.82	440	650
Urban slum dwellers	260 million	700 million	3.47	830 million	1,600 million
Christians of all kinds	1,234,339,000	2,000,836,000	1.31	2,135,783,000	2,640,665,000
Muslims	549,125,000	1,194,396,000	1.93	1,313,984,000	1,825,283,000
Agnostics	532,338,000	762,028,000	0.17	768,598,000	806,884,000
Hindus	462,379,000	808,104,000	1.49	870,047,000	1,065,868,000
Buddhists	232,667,000	362,374,000	0.89	378,809,000	457,048,000
Atheists	165,391,000	147,212,000	0.58	151,548,000	151,742,000
New Religionists	78,324,000	103,846,000	0.81	108,132,000	122,188,000
Ethnic Religions	163,477,000	239,108,000	1.40	256,341,000	270,210,000
Sikhs	10,618,000	23,509,000	1.54	25,374,000	31,985,000
Jews	15,097,000	14,401,000	1.01	15,146,000	16,895,000
Non-Christians	2,458,156,000	4,069,745,000	1.19	4,317,845,000	5,210,790,000
Unaffiliated Christians	105,626,000	105,372,000	0.81	109,711,000	112,779,000
Great Commission Christians	277,153,000	650,094,000	1.14	688,034,000	853,179,000
Church attenders	885,777,000	1,359,420,000	1.04	1,431,573,000	1,760,568,000
Evangelicals	93,358,000	224,790,000	2.21	250,776,000	348,648,000

Pentecostals & Charismatics	72,223,000	526,916,000	2.24		588,502,000	798,320,000
Martyrs per Year	377,000	160,000	1.10		169,000	210,000
Members by Ecclesiastical Megabloc
Anglicans	47,409,000	75,164,000	1.18		79,719,000	108,257,000
Independents	96,926,000	379,085,000	2.39		426,672,000	612,670,000
Orthodox	139,646,000	214,436,000	0.47		219,501,000	235,834,000
Protestants	211,052,000	347,762,000	1.56		375,814,000	491,084,000
Roman Catholics	665,475,000	1,055,651,000	1.17		1,118,992,000	1,336,338,000
Christian workers (nationals)	2,350,000	5,104,000	0.97		5,357,000	6,500,000
Missionaries	240,000	420,.000	1.07		443,000	550,000
Church members' income (US$)	4,100 billion	15,680 billion	2.04		17,350 billion	26,000 billion
Computers used by Christians	1,000	328 million	6.05		440 million	1,2 billion
Christian magazines	23,000	35,000	4.2		43,000	100,000
Monthly listeners/viewers of Christian Radio/TV	750,000,000	2,150,000,000	2.30		2,409,000,000	3,800,000,000
Global missions plans since A.D.30	510	1,500	2.77		1,720	3,000

Articles in the Friday Fax may be republished freely on condition that the Friday Fax is attributed as "Source: <original source> via The Friday Fax (www.bufton.net/fridayfax)" or similar.
Producing the Friday Fax costs time, effort and some money. If you would like to support this, please consider making a donation. Details are available at www.bufton.net/fridayfax/donation.html.

Subscriptions and forwarding

The Friday Fax is a newsletter sent only to subscribers.
To subscribe or unsubscribe, please visit www.bufton.net/fridayfax

© 2005 S Bufton

The Supremacy Of Christ In An Age Of Terror
John Piper

The Supremacy of God in All Things—No Exceptions

One of the truths of the Bible that we embrace with trembling joy is the truth of God's supremacy in all things. The mission of our church is that we exist to spread a passion of the supremacy of God in all things for the joy of all peoples through Jesus Christ. When we say that, we do not mean: "except in calamities," "except in war," "except when Al Qaeda blows up a building or a train," "except when cancer takes a mom or a child is born with profound disabilities." There are no "except" clauses in our mission statement.

We did not formulate our mission in a rosy world—and then get surprised and embarrassed by the reality of suffering. We did not have our head in the sand. We formulated our mission in the real world of pain and suffering and evil and death. We have seen even among our own people, some very peaceful, but also some very terrible deaths. We exist to spread a passion for the supremacy of God in all things—all things—for the joy of all peoples through Jesus Christ—all the time. A passion for God's supremacy—Christ's supremacy (for he is God incarnate)—in all things, all the time.

Sorrowful, Yet Always Rejoicing

None of us who has lived a few decades—for me that means almost six—has embraced this mission without trembling. And none of us has lived this mission for long without tears. We have said it dozens of times here at Bethlehem, and we will say it till we die, that the joy we pursue and the joy we embrace in Jesus Christ is always—always in this world—interwoven with sorrow. There is no unadulterated joy in this world for people who care about others. The Bible describes Christ's servants like this: "[We are] sorrowful, yet always rejoicing." (2 Corinthians 6:10).

"Sorrowful yet always rejoicing." How can that be? It can be because Christ is supreme over all things forever, but suffering and death remain for a while. Life is not simple. There is pleasure, and there is pain. There is sweetness, and there is bitter suffering. There is joy, and there is misery. There is life and health, and there is disease and death. And therefore emotions are not simple. For those who love others, and not just their own comforts, this complexity means that we will rejoice with those who rejoice and weep with those who weep (Romans 12:15). And there is always someone we know who is weeping, and someone we know who is rejoicing. And therefore we will learn the secret of "sorrowful yet always rejoicing"—and joyful yet always sorrowing. Those amazing words that describe the Christian soul—"sorrowful yet always rejoicing"—mean that suffering remains for a while in this world, but Christ is supreme now and forever.

9/11, Hurricane Katrina, and the Constant Suffering in This World

The first plane that hit the World Trade Towers, Flight 11, immediately killed 92 people on board that flight. Flight 175 that hit the second tower a few minutes later killed 65 people on board. In the Towers themselves it appears now that 2,595 people perished when the Towers fell, including those who worked there or visited there, and those who were entering to save them.

Flight 77 carried 64 people when it hit the Pentagon within an hour after the first attack. Inside the Pentagon 125 people died in addition to these 64. Flight 93 with 45 people aboard turned around over Pennsylvania and was headed . . . where? The White House? The Congress? Todd Beamer and others wrestled control from the hijackers, it seems, and the plane crashed with no survivors near Shanksville, Pennsylvania. All 45 people died. The total fatalities in these terrorist events was about 2,986.

We thought that would be the calamity for this message to focus on. But God had other plans. Who can pose the question of God's sovereignty and Christ's supremacy today and leave Hurricane Katrina out of account. What happened in the last week in New Orleans and surrounding areas is different than almost anything this country has ever seen. The September 8, 1900 Galveston Hurricane may have killed more—up to 12,000, we don't know—but it did not displace hundreds of thousands and leave a major city virtually empty and paralyzed with several surrounding smaller towns even more devastated. Who can speak of the supremacy of Christ in an age of terror without considering the terror of 140-mile-an-hour winds and broken levees and floodwaters covering 80% of a great city and who knows how many people dead in their attics?

And lest we think naively in response to these calamities, as though the cost of lives was something unusual, let's remind ourselves of the obvious and the almost overwhelming fact that over 50,000,000 people die every year in this world. Over 6,000 ever hour. Over 100 every minute. And most of them do not die in ripe old age by sleeping peacefully away into eternity. Most die young. Most die after long struggles with pain. And millions die because of the evil of man against man.

Sudden calamities shock us only to make more plain what is happening every hour of every day of your entire life. Thousands perish in pain and misery every day. Probably seven or eight thousand people will have died during this worship service. Some of them are screaming out in pain just now as I am speaking and as you sit there in relative comfort. If there is to be any Christian joy in this world, along with love, it will be sorrowful joy, broken-hearted joy. What person in this room, who has lived long enough, does not know that the sweetest joys, the deepest joys, are marked with tears, not laughter?

Evil and Pain as a Pointer to the Need and Evidence for God

So even in our own experience—in our own souls—believers or unbelievers, there is a kind of witness that the world of evil and pain and misery and death is not a meaningless place. It is not a place without a good and purposeful God. Some people—not all—have found in the greatest evil—the time of greatest sorrow—the greatest need for God and the greatest evidence of God.

It happens like this. A great evil happens—say the holocaust with 6,000,000 murders. Or the Stalinist Soviet gulag with many more than that sent to their deaths. In the midst of these horrors, the human soul, that had been blithely pursuing its worldly pleasures with scarcely a thought about God and with no serious belief in any absolutes like evil and good, or right and wrong—happily living in the dream-world of relativism—suddenly is confronted with an evil so horrible and so great as to make the soul scream out with ultimate moral indignation: No! This is wrong! This is evil!

And for the first time in their life they hear themselves speaking with absolute conviction. They have a conviction of absolute reality. They know now beyond the shadow of a doubt that such a thing as evil exists. They admit that all their life up till then was a game. And now they are confronted with the stark question: If there is such a thing as absolute evil—if there is a moral reality that is above and different from the mere physical processes of evolutionary energy plus time plus matter—then where does it come from, and what is it based on?

And many people discover in this moment of greatest evil that there is only one satisfactory answer: There is a God above the universe who sets the standards of good and evil and writes them on the human heart. They are not purposeless chemical reactions in our brains. They have reality outside of us, above us, in God. Paradoxically, therefore, the times of greatest human evil have often proved for many to be times when God is most needed and most self-evidently real. Without him evil and good are simply different electro-chemical impulses in the brain of mammal primates called homo sapiens. We know—you know—that is not true.

Why Does Such a World Exist?

So we ask: Why, Lord? Why is the world you made like this? If you are God—if you are the Christ the Son of the living God—why is this world so full of terror and trouble?

Here is what I believe the Bible teaches in answer to this question. I will give two answers that are not the reason such a world exists, and then four answers that are the reasons such world exists. I deal with each very briefly and point you to the Scriptures where you can search God's word for yourself.

1. The reason this terrorized and troubled world exists is not because God is not in total control.

The Bible is overwhelmingly clear that God governs everything in the universe from the smallest bird to the largest storm. "Are not two sparrows sold for a penny?And not one of them will fall to the ground apart from your Father" (Matthew 10:29). "Even winds and sea obey him" (Matthew 8:27). "The lot is cast into the lap, but its every decision is from the Lord" (Proverbs 16:33). "The king's heart is a stream of water in the hand of the Lord; he turns it wherever he will" (Proverbs 21:1). "Who has spoken and it came to pass, unless the Lord has commanded it?" (Lamentations 3:37). "Does disaster come to a city, unless the Lord has done it?" (Amos 3:6). "He commands even the unclean spirits, and they obey him" (Mark 1:27). "I am God, and there is none like me . . . saying, 'My counsel shall stand, and I will accomplish all my purpose'" (Isaiah 46:9-10).

There is no person or being in the universe that can thwart the sovereign will of God. Satan is his most powerful enemy and does much evil in the world, but he must first get God's permission, and none of his actions is outside God's governance. He never breaks free from his leash (Luke 22:31; Job 2:6-7; 42:11).

2. The reason this terrorized and troubled world exists is not because God is evil or unjust.

"This is the message we have heard from him and proclaim to you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all" (1 John 1:5). "Good and upright is the Lord" (Psalm 25:8) The angels cry before God day and night, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts; the whole earth is full of his glory!" (Isaiah 6:3). And when he does things that seem evil to us, the Bible teaches us to speak to man like this: "As for you, you meant evil against me, but God meant it for good" (Genesis 50:20). God is not evil, even when he wills that evil come to pass. There are good and holy and just purposes in all he does. For those who love him he "works all things together for good" (Romans 8:28). Now and forever.

Now the four positive reasons why this world exists.

1.The reason this terrorized and troubled world exists is because God planned the history of redemption and then permitted sin to enter the world through our first parents, Adam and Eve.

In 2 Timothy 1:9 the apostle Paul said, "[God] saved us and called us toa holy calling, not because of our works but because of his own purpose and grace, which he gave us in Christ Jesus before the ages began." In other words, before there was any world or any sin in the world, God planned saving grace through the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. That means that God knew Adam would sin. He was already planning how he would save us.

Therefore Adam's sin was part of God's plan so that God could reveal his mercy and grace and justice and wrath and patience and wisdom in ways that could have never been revealed, if there were no sin and no Savior and no history of salvation. God's aim for this fallen world is that he be known more fully, because knowing God most fully is what it means for us to be most fully loved. If you turn to Christ, you will discover in God more wonders in this fallen world than could be imagined in any other world.

2.The reason this terrorized and troubled world exists is because God subjected the natural world to futility. That is, God put the natural world under a curse so that the physical horrors we see around us in diseases and calamities would become a vivid picture of how horrible sin is. In other words, natural evil is a signpost pointing to the horrors of moral evil.

Before I say another word, hear this word of clarification: some of the sweetest, most humble, godly, Christ-exalting, heaven-bound people carry some of those signs. Listen to Romans 8:18-21:

The sufferings of this present time are not worth comparing with the glory that is to be revealed to us. 19 For the creation waits with eager longing for the revealing of the sons of God. 20 For the creation was subjected to futility, not willingly, but because of him who subjected it, in hope 21 that the creation itself will be set free from its bondage to decay and obtain the freedom of the glory of the children of God.

In other words, God subjected the creation to futility and bondage to decay and misery and death. He disordered the natural world because of the disorder of the moral and spiritual world—that is because of sin. In our present condition blinded by sin and dishonoring God every day, we cannot see how repugnant sin is. Hardly anyone in the world feels the horror that our sin is. Physical pain we feel! And so it becomes God's trumpet blast to tell us that something is dreadfully wrong in the world. Diseases and deformities are God's portraits of what sin is like in the spiritual realm. That is true even though some of the most godly people bear those deformities. Calamities are God's previews of what sin deserves and will one day receive in judgment a thousand times worse. They are warnings. And that is true even when they sweep away Christ-followers and Christ-rejectors.

Oh, that we could all see and feel how repugnant, how offensive, how abominable it is to blackball our Maker, to ignore him and distrust him and demean him and give him less attention in our hearts than we do the carpet on our living room floor. We must see this, or we will not turn to Christ for salvation from sin. Therefore, God mercifully shouts to us in our sicknesses and pain and calamities: Wake up! Sin is like this! Sin leads to things like this. (See Revelation 9:20; 16:9, 11.) The natural world is shot through with horrors to wake us from the dreamworld of thinking sin is no big deal. It is a horrifically big deal.

3. The reason this terrorized and troubled world exists is so that followers of Christ can experience and display that no pleasure and no treasure compares to knowing Christ. That is, the loss of every good thing in this world is meant to reveal that Christ himself more than compensates for all losses.

We see it in the New Testament and the Old Testament. The apostle Paul says, "I count everything as loss because of the surpassing worth of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. For his sake I have suffered the loss of all things and count them as rubbish, in order that I may gain Christ" (Philippians 3:8). The superior worth of Christ is magnified because in all Paul's losses, he experiences Christ as all-satisfying.

The prophet Habakkuk said it with amazing and painful beauty:

Though the fig tree should not blossom, nor fruit be on the vines, the produce of the olive fail and the fields yield no food, the flock be cut off from the fold and there be no herd in the stalls, 18 yet I will rejoice in the Lord; I will take joy in the God of my salvation. (Habakkuk 3:17-18)

Famines, pestilence, persecution—these happen so that the world might see in the followers of Jesus and discover for themselves that God made us for himself and that he is our "exceeding joy" (Psalm 43:4) and at his right hand are pleasures for every more (Psalm 16:11). The losses of life are meant to wean us off the poisonous pleasures of the world and lure us to Christ our everlasting joy.

4. Finally, the reason this terrorized and troubled world exists is to make a place for Jesus Christ the Son of God to suffer and die for our sins. The reason there is terror is so that Christ would be terrorized. The reason there is trouble is so that Christ could be troubled. The reason there is pain is so that Christ could feel pain. This is the world God prepared for the suffering and death of his Son. This is the world where God made the best display of his love in the suffering of his Son.

Romans 5:8, "God shows his love for us in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us." All his suffering was the plan of God to reveal redeeming love to us. The sovereignty of God, the evil of the world, and the love of God meet at the cross of Christ. Listen to this amazing statement from Acts 4:27-28 about God's plan for the suffering of his Son—for you! "Truly in this city [Jerusalem] there were gathered together against your holy servant Jesus, whom you anointed, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, along with the Gentiles and the peoples of Israel, to do whatever your hand and your plan had predestined to take place." All the scheming, all the flogging, all the spitting, all the beating with rods, all the mockery, all the abandonment by his friends, all the thorns in his head, all the nails in his hands and feet, the sword in his side, weight of the sins of the world—all of it according to God's plan. For you to see God's love more graphically.

God's deepest answer to terrorism and calamity is the suffering and death of his Son. He entered into our fallen world of sin and misery and death. He bore in himself the cause of it all—sin. And he bought by his death the cure for it all—forgiveness and everlasting joy in the age to come.

On his behalf I invite—I urge—to receive him as your Savior and Lord and the supreme Treasure of your life.

How to Welcome A Weak Brother
John Piper

Romans 14:1-6

As for the one who is weak in faith, welcome him, but not to quarrel over opinions. One person believes he may eat anything, while the weak person eats only vegetables. Let not the one who eats despise the one who abstains, and let not the one who abstains pass judgment on the one who eats, for God has welcomed him. Who are you to pass judgment on the servant of another? It is before his own master that he stands or falls. And he will be upheld, for the Lord is able to make him stand.

Today we enter the third chapter of application after the great doctrinal chapters of Romans 1-11. We begin Romans 14 and clearly the theme remains the same as in chapters 12 and 13: love your neighbor as you love yourself. But the specific issue in this chapter is how a church can hold together when some members are so different from each other. The way Paul sums up that difference is by saying that some have weak faith and some have strong faith.

You see the reference to this difference in verse 1: "As for the one who is weak in faith, welcome him, but not to quarrel over opinions." And then you see it again in Romans 15:1: "We who are strong have an obligation to bear with the failings of the weak." And then you see another parallel between the beginning of chapter 14 and the beginning of chapter 15. You see the command to "welcome" each other in Romans 14:1 ("As for the one who is weak in faith, welcome him"); and you see it again in Romans 15:7 ("Therefore welcome one another as Christ has welcomed you, for the glory of God"). So the entire chapter plus part of chapter 15 (up through verse 13) is dealing with the danger of divisions in the church that can happen because of the differences between the weak and the strong.

So it's tremendously important that we understand what it means to be weak and strong. It's probably not exactly what you think it is. At least I am surprised by some of what I see there. So let's start by asking what it means to be weak in faith and strong in faith. Then let's see how Paul says we should treat each other when we have these differences. Then we will look at the amazing foundations Paul gives for this kind of loving treatment.

1. What Does It Mean to Be Weak in Faith?

The Weak Brothers Avoid Meat and Wine

Notice first that those who are weak in faith don't eat meat and don't drink wine. Verse 2: "One person believes he may eat anything, while the weak person eats only vegetables." The issue here is meat, as you can see in verse 21 where wine is added to the list: "It is good not to eat meat or drink wine or do anything that causes your brother to stumble." So Paul is saying to the strong in faith: there are times when you deny yourself meat and wine for the sake of the weak who don't eat meat or drink wine. So that's the first thing we see about the weak and the strong. The weak avoid meat and wine, and the strong are free to eat and drink anything.

The Weak Brothers' Practice Is Not Sin, But God-Exalting Behavior

Second, the avoidance of meat and wine—the practice of the weak—is not sin, but is God-exalting behavior. The first evidence for this is that verse 1 says they are acting in "weak faith" not no-faith. The practices of the weak are faith-driven practices. Paul says in verse 23b, "Whatever does not proceed from faith is sin." But he does not accuse the weak of sinning. They are acting from faith. Weak faith. And faith is a God-centered, God-exalting frame of heart.

The other evidence that the abstinence of the weak is God-exalting behavior is found in verse 6: "The one who observes the day, observes it in honor of the Lord. The one who eats, eats in honor of the Lord, since he gives thanks to God, while the one who abstains, abstains in honor of the Lord and gives thanks to God." Notice how much credit Paul gives to the weak brother who will not eat meat or drink wine. "The one who abstains, abstains in honor of the Lord and gives thanks to God (kai ho mē ethiōn kuriō ouk esthiei kai eucharistei tō theō). His behavior is God-directed (to the end) and he feels deeply thankful, not resentful, as he abstains. So this weak brother is acting on faith and he is God-centered and he is overflowing with thanks to God. Is this what you think of when you think of weak?

The Weak Brothers Are Not Legalists

The third thing to say about the weak brother's abstinence from meat and wine is that it is not because he believes this behavior is the way he gets justified or the way he secures his acceptance with God. This weak brother is not like the Judaizers in Galatia who thought that circumcision was essential to securing acceptance with God (Galatians 5:1-3). We know this because Paul was furious with this false gospel in Galatians (Galatians 1:6-9), but he gives no criticism of these weak brothers like that. They are not legalists. They do not think their abstinence earns God's acceptance or contributes to their justification.

The Weak Brothers Regard Meat and Win as "Unclean" or "Common"

One more thing we see in this abstinence of the weak from meat and wine, namely, that they regard meat and wine in some sense as "unclean" or "common." Verse 14: "I know and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus that nothing is unclean (koinon) in itself, but it is unclean (koinon) for anyone who thinks it unclean (koinon)." Paul wouldn't have said this if it were irrelevant to the situation. This was the view of the weak: meat and wine are in some sense "unclean."

2. Why Does Paul Call Them Weak?

So the question now is: What's weak about this abstinence from meat and wine? Why does Paul call it weak? It's based on faith. It's God-exalting. It's expressing gratitude to God, not self-sufficiency. It's not legalistic. So how is it weak? And I hope you are asking: am I in the weak category or the strong category? Or maybe I don't qualify for either. And I hope you are feeling that Paul is pretty impressed with the weak. He's thankful for them. He is practicing what he is preaching. Welcome the weak (v. 1). Don't despise the weak (v. 3).

So what is their weakness? I think the answer is the same as the answer to the question why they view meat and wine as "unclean." If we could understand that, I think we would see why Paul calls them weak. My answer to this question is this: The weak regard meat and wine as unclean because they believe eating meat and drinking wine will not glorify God as much as abstaining will. There is something about meat and wine that makes eating it and drinking it less honoring to God than abstaining.

I base this on the end of verse 6 where it says that "the one who abstains, abstains in honor of the Lord and gives thanks to God." In other words, the weak man is making his choices rightly on the basis of what he believes will most honor the Lord and express thanks to the Lord. They are good, well-motivated choices given his convictions about meat and wine. He must believe that those who eat meat and drink wine don't honor the Lord as much as they would if they abstained. Why they believed this about the meat and wine, Paul doesn't say explicitly.

What's crucial to know is that Paul surely thought they were wrong in this conviction. The conviction that there is something about meat and wine that makes abstinence more honoring to God than eating and drinking was a mistake. They lacked the knowledge that would undergird and liberate their faith. They could not trust God for the holy joy of eating meat or drinking wine because they lacked some crucial knowledge. They knew God, they loved God, they trusted God. But they did not understand something that would have strengthened their faith in these particular ways.

What knowledge did they lack? Paul makes the explicit connection between lack of knowledge and weakness in 1 Corinthians 8:6-7. He's dealing with a situation similar, though not the same, to the one in Rome. He says, "For us there is one God, the Father, from whom are all things and for whom we exist, and one Lord, Jesus Christ, through whom are all things and through whom we exist. However, not all possess this knowledge. But some, through former association with idols, eat food as really offered to an idol, and their conscience, being weak, is defiled." So there is the explicit connection between lack of knowledge and weakness. "Not all possess this knowledge"—namely, the knowledge that all creation is from God and through Christ and for God. And lacking this knowledge, eating and drinking certain things are viewed in themselves as less honoring to God.

Paul puts it this way in 1 Corinthians 10:25, "Eat whatever is sold in the meat market without raising any question on the ground of conscience. For 'the earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof.'" In other words, the fullness of faith to eat what you will to the glory of God is based on the fullness of knowledge that "the earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof." The weak believer lacks this knowledge—and perhaps other knowledge as well—and therefore their faith is limited in its exercise. They are weak in faith.

The strong, on the other hand, have a more full understanding of God and his relation to the world, and are freed by this truth to embrace more of God's creation in a God-glorifying way.

Don't make a mistake here. Make sure you see how amazing Paul's distinctions are. Just as the weak in faith are not self-exalting in their abstinence, so the strong in faith are not self-indulgent in their liberty. Verse 6b is so crucial: "The one who eats, eats in honor of the Lord, since he gives thanks to God, while the one who abstains, abstains in honor of the Lord and gives thanks to God." In Paul's way of thinking, the weak and the strong are radically God-centered people. They are deeply thankful people. Their differences are in their convictions about what behaviors are "unclean"—what behaviors give more glory to God.

And even on this point the differences only relate to non-essential things. You can see this as we turn to the second question: How does Paul say we should treat each other when we have these differences?

3. How Should We Treat Each Other When We Have These Differences?

He says it positively in verse 1 and negatively in verse 3. Verse 1: "As for the one who is weak in faith, welcome him, but not to quarrel over opinions." In other words, be accepting of the weaker brother, and be sure that as you fold him into your life, you keep "divisive questionings" (diakriseis dialogismōn) to a minimum. I take that to mean: questionings about meat and wine and days, etc. So the first, positive, instruction Paul gives about how the strong and weak should treat each other is: welcome each other, accept each other. And don't let "divisive questionings" over non-essentials create barriers.

The negative way of saying it is in verse 3: "Let not the one who eats despise the one who abstains, and let not the one who abstains pass judgment on the one who eats." Typically the strong will be tempted to "despise" the weak—look down on them with a patronizing air. Paul has not done that in this chapter and we should not do it either. And typically the weak will be tempted to judge the strong because, to the weak who are careful to abstain from things, the strong seem to be spiritually careless. So the weak are tempted to point out careless behavior that may well be leading to a fall—to spiritual destruction. In other words, they are not legalists who say: you can't be saved if you do that; but they do say, If you are spiritually careless like that you may drift away and be lost.

So Paul says, negatively, don't despise each other and don't judge each other, and don't build your relationships on "divisive questionings" or "quarrels over opinions." Rather accept each other and build your lives—your relationships—on something far greater than convictions about meat and wine and days. On what? That is what Paul takes up in verses 3b and 4.

He mentions three great truths that give a firm and glorious foundation for accepting each other with our differences.

3.1. God Has Accepted Us in Jesus Christ

Verse 3b: "God has welcomed him." The strong and weak should welcome each other because God has welcomed us. Paul says in again in Romans 15:7, "Welcome one another as Christ has welcomed you, for the glory of God." The great foundation for our forbearance of one another is that God has accepted us in Jesus Christ. The weak and the strong believe in Christ who died for them. They are accepted by God in Christ. We should accept them with all their differences.

3.2. God Will Be Our Judge

Verse 4a: "Who are you to pass judgment on the servant of another? It is before his own master that he stands or falls." The second great foundation for our tolerance of each other is that we will all give an account to our one Master in heaven. Each of us has one Master, Jesus Christ. Husbands, your wives will give an account to him. Wives, our husbands will give an account to him. Pastors will give a most serious account to him. You need not lift yourself up as judge. Leave it to God. So the first foundation of our accepting one another is that God has accepted us, and the second is that God will be our judge, so that is not our job.

3.3. God Will Make Us Stand in the Last Day

Verse 4b: "And he will be upheld, for the Lord is able to make him stand." Here Paul goes beyond the statement that believers have a judge in heaven. He now says, Every believer will be upheld in the judgment. Every believer will stand erect and accepted in the last day. The weakest believer you know will stand glorious and vindicated and loved and forgiven and righteous and accepted in the last day.

Conclusion

Therefore, Bethlehem, welcome one another—receive and accept one another—into sweet unity and harmony and fellowship, not on the basis "divisive questionings" about non-essentials but on the basis of the glorious truths that God has accepted the believers from whom we differ most; God alone, not you or I, is the final judge; and God himself, with sovereign preserving grace (Jeremiah 32:40-31) will see to it that every believer perseveres in faith and stands upright and full of joy before the Judge on the last day. Dwell on these great truths, and accept one another with our differences in non-essentials.

Two Streams Of Fire

Judy Curmi

6-12-2005

Isa. 43:1-2 But now thus says the Lord, who created you, O Jacob, and he who formed you, O Israel: Fear not; for I have saved you, I have called you by your name because you are mine. When you pass through the sea, I will be with you; and through the rivers, they shall not overwhelm you; when you walk through the fire, you shall not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon you.

Judgments are at the door and my glory is at the door. They will pour forth together, two streams, one a stream of glory and another a shaking of the earth to bring people to their knees and to their senses.

When I open the door my glory will come forth as a mighty flood, like a flood of water pouring through the door. No man will be able to stop or close this door. No one will be able to shut me down. No one will be able to shut my people down either, for when I move no one will be able to dispute it. I will make myself abundantly clear. People may reject me, but they will not be able to say "Nothing is happening" or "Nothing is going on." For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord as the waters cover the sea. [Hab. 2:14]

Two streams: glory fire and natural fire* –the joy and the fearful and grievous. Both are knocking on the door together. Neither will be held back. In my perfect time all will play out and all the missing pieces of the puzzle will come together.

It is for this hour that you were created my church, my bride. You are to walk tall with your God, not putting on airs, but in humble devotion to the Truth. This is the Truth that endures forever. This is the Truth that sets men free. This freedom is not freedom to sin, but to be all that one was created to be by the Loving hand of their Creator.

I AM your Kinsman-Redeemer. I AM the same yesterday, today and forever. I will not change throughout all ages. I have a bounty of Love to give away. Who will receive it? Who will not be burned by the fire, but will be changed into my image? [Rom. 8:28-29, 2 Cor. 3:16-18]

From glory to glory, from heights to greater heights, this is where I am leading. Who will follow me in joyful abandonment? On the other hand, who will go their own way to the bitter end?

Two streams are coming forth. Two rivers are flowing. One leads to glory. The other leads to desolation, ruin and will wash those not protected away in the overflowing flood. [Nahum1:7-8] The thunder will sound. The trumpets will sound. [Rev. 8:1-10:7] The seas will roar, both the natural seas and the seas of humanity.

And there will be signs in the sun, in the moon, and in the stars; and on the earth distress of nations, with perplexity, the sea and the waves roaring; men’s hearts failing them from fear and the expectation of those things which are coming on the earth, for the powers of the heavens will be shaken.

Then they will see the Son of Man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. Now when these things begin to happen, look up and lift up your heads, because your redemption draws near. [Luke 21:25-25]

Which will it be? You must choose quickly, for time is short. Again I say, soon time will be no more. [Rev. 10:6]

Your Jesus

Jer. 4:4 Circumcise yourselves to the Lord, and take away the foreskins of your heart, you men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem; lest my wrath come forth like fire, and burn so that no one can quench it, because of the evil of your doings.*

Lam. 2:3-4 He has cut off in his fierce anger all the strength of Israel; he has drawn back his right hand from before the enemy and has kindled a fire in the land of Jacob, and the flaming fire has consumed mightily round about.

He has bent his bow like an oppressor; he has raised his hand like an enemy, and has slain all that were pleasant to the eye in the tabernacle of the daughter of Zion; he has poured out his fury like fire.

Eze. 21:31-32 And I will pour out my indignation upon you; I will blow against you with the fire of my wrath, and I will deliver you into the hand of men brutish and skillful to destroy. You shall be fuel for the fire; your blood shall be in the midst of the land; you shall be no more remembered; for I the Lord have spoken it.

Joel 2:30-31 And I will show wonders in the heaven and on the earth, blood and fire and pillars of smoke. The sun shall be turned into darkness and the moon into blood, before the great and terrible day of the Lord comes.

2 Peter 3:6-7 And those men, because of whose deeds the world of that time was overflowed with water, perished; but the present heavens and earth are sustained by his word and are reserved for fire on the day of judgment, which is the day of destruction of ungodly men.

Rev. 8:7 The first angel sounded, and there followed hail and fire mingled with water, and they were poured out upon the earth; and a third part of the earth was burnt up and a third part of the trees was burnt up and all the green grass was burnt up.

Rev. 9:16-18 And the number of the army of the horsemen was two hundred thousand thousand; I heard the number of them. And thus I saw the horses in the visions and those who sat on them, and they had breastplates of fire and of jacinth and of brimstone; and the heads of the horses were like the heads of lions. And out of their mouths issued fire and smoke and brimstone.

And by these three plagues was the third part of men slain, by the fire and by the smoke and by the brimstone, which issues out of their mouths.

Rev. 16:7-9 And I heard another out of the altar say, Yes, O Lord God Almighty, true and righteous are thy judgments. And the fourth angel poured out his bowl upon the sun; and power was given to them to scorch men with fire. And men were scorched by intense heat, and they blasphemed the name of God who had power over these plagues, and they did not repent to give him glory.

See also Jer. 21:12, Amos 7:7, Nahum 1:6, Zech. 13:9

Ps. 77:18 The voice of your thunder was in the whirlwind; The lightenings lit up the world; The earth trembled and shook.* [NKJ]

Rev. 11:19 Then the temple of God was opened in heaven, and the ark of his covenant was seen in his temple. And there were lightenings, noises, thunderings, an earthquake, and great hail. [NKJ]

See also Ex. 9:23-26, Job 26:14, Ps. 18:

The Sound Of Heaven

Danny Korakas

Jan 22, 2005

When we understand the Bible through the heart of God, it speaks of His love, desire, and yes, pursuit for an intimate relationship with man. This was the purpose of our creation in Genesis and the culmination of all things in Revelation. The Bible is also a time-line in history of God's dealing and striving with man to bring him to a point of understanding and trusting in His love. It is truly amazing to think of how mankind has continually rejected this offer.

When Adam and Eve sinned and fell in the Garden of Eden, the Lord came walking in the cool of the day and called to them saying, "Where are you?" (Genesis 3:8-9) Even in the midst of sin and rebellion, God was "calling" out to man in His concern and love. Although Adam and Eve (mankind) would reap the just consequence for their action, God was still speaking relationally to man. It is interesting to note that upon creating man that the Lord did not initially ask man for anything. On the contrary, God gave and SPOKE a blessing over Adam and Eve before the first recorded words to man were ever put to scripture (Genesis 1:28). It was the "breath" of God that brought forth life out of the dust of the earth. It is the same today.

In his wilderness experience, Moses found a God who would literally SPEAK to him in sharp contrast to the dead and dumb idols that he had experienced in Egypt. We read in Exodus 33 that "The Lord would speak to Moses face to face, as a man speaks with his friend." However, this never would have happened if Moses had not made a choice to turn aside and LOOK or acknowledge the presence of the Lord.

"And the Angel of the Lord appeared to him (Moses) in a flame of fire from the midst of a bush. So he looked, and behold, the bush was burning with fire, but the bush was not consumed. Then Moses said, 'I will now turn aside and see this great sight, why the bush does not burn.' So when the Lord saw that he turned aside to LOOK, God CALLED to him from the midst of the bush and said, "Moses, Moses!" And he said, "Here I am." (Exodus 3:2-4)

It seems that nothing was spoken by the Lord until He "saw that Moses turned aside to look" for Him. Moses came to a point in his life where he could have chosen to keep walking on the path that he had worn smooth upon the cliffs of Midian. Moses, I am sure, was tending faithfully to the livestock and the chores of life to support his family. However, there came a point in which Moses turned to recognize the Lord's call for his attention and desire to communicate. Once Moses decided to turn to the presence of the Lord, his life and destiny would change forever. He would not only HEAR the voice of God, he would come to see Him face to face as a friend and Father.

In 1 Samuel 30, The Amalekites had invaded the "South and Ziklag and burned it with fire." During this invasion, the wives and families of David and his men had been taken captive. As the men and people wept, David humbled himself and inquired of the Lord. The Bible states that not only did God answer him; He gave David the means of victory over his adversaries and the full recovery of what had been stolen.

This is one of the greatest benefits of seeking and hearing the Gods voice. It enables us to enter into the Lord's BEST for our lives. It is God's pleasure to give us an abundant life and a future that exudes with hope. (Faith is the substance of things hoped for). Imagine the shear pain, heartbreak and loss if David had not sought the Lord's voice.

The greatest expression of God's voice would come in the person of Jesus Christ – The very Word of God. God sent His only begotten Son to die on a cross for our sins. But just as awe-inspiring is the fact that God Himself came that we could see, touch, and HEAR the reality of heaven and His unfailing love for us. What should overwhelmingly excite us is the fact that we can still HEAR, touch, taste and see that the Lord is good and that He desires an intimate relationship with us.

"However, when He, the Spirit of truth, has come, He will guide you into all truth; for He will not speak on His own authority, but whatever He HEARS He will SPEAK; and He will TELL you things to come." (John 16:13).

When Jesus was resurrected in glory, it did not signify an end to divine communication through hearing God's voice. Jesus said that "I am with you ALWAYS, to the very end of the age. We read all through the scriptures of the Lord's desire to speak to His creation. (Everything was spoken into existence) As a matter of fact, we are without excuse, for all of creation speaks of His glory and testifies to His reality. All of creation responds to the voice and breath of God in such awe, yet mankind has become so deaf. This has been a paralyzing tragedy to our destiny as the church both individually and corporately.

The Lord gives us a clear picture of Himself speaking to many different types of people. They were racially, culturally, and economically diverse. There was not a select group of "super religious" or spiritually elite individuals that the Lord chose to speak and reveal His voice to. God has always desired to speak to whoever would truly listen. This is the foundation of meaningful and lasting RELATIONSHIPS. And "listening" is the foundation of meaningful communication.

I am convinced that the highest form of worship is simple obedience to the Lord's voice. We can sing, dance, and preach till the proverbial cows come home. Without obedience to the Lord's voice, we are certainly moving in areas of self-sufficiency and ultimately rebellion. There is a prophetic declaration and a sound ringing from heaven for us to rediscover and respond to the voice of the Lord. The reason that many will be deceived in these last days is because they have failed to hear and know the truth of God's Word and voice. "My sheep HEAR My voice, and I know them, and they follow Me." (John 10:27)

It is just about impossible to imagine how relationships would function without personal communication. The listening and speaking between individuals is what gives value and growth to relationships. Yet, many institutionalized churches are teaching behind pulpits that God does not audibly speak to His children today. What a blatant lie, contradiction of scripture and a robbing of one of our greatest virtues as God's children. Again, we read in Romans 1:19-21 that God even speaks through creation and that we are without excuse. Psalm 19 declares that "the heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament shows His handiwork. Day unto day utters SPEECH, and night unto night reveals knowledge. There is no speech nor language where their VOICE is not heard." Incredibly, what this is really saying is that the literal creation is "prophesying" the glory of the Lord.

It is misguided to believe that God would speak and declare to and through creation, but not to and through mankind who was created in His very image. Why would God our Father draw us into an intimate and loving relationship at the cost of Himself dying on a cross to suddenly never speak to us? Tragically, most of the church has taught and received this mindset. It is true that the Word of God is the foundation, blueprint and means of hearing God speak to us. However, this is our "foundation" and a starting point of continual growth. The Bible is the means of drawing us even more intimately into the Truth of God's love and grace for the purpose of relational intimacy. It is not the experience of doctrine that changes and transforms a person into the image of Christ — It is the experience of an encounter with God Himself.

Herod heard through some wise men from the East that another king of the Jews was birthed in his territory and dominion. Upon this troubling news, he summoned the chief priests and scribes (the "stewards" of God's Word and the religious elite). Remarkably they told Herod that the Messiah would be born in Bethlehem of Judah as written by the prophet as it was unfolding before their very eyes. Yet they failed to hear God's voice, and likewise, failed to see the spiritually obvious before them.

The Lord SPOKE to Abraham and told him that he would give birth to a mighty nation and that through him all nations of the world would be blessed. Imagine if Abraham refused or was spiritually deaf to hear God's voice. Imagine how history would have been altered. Could it be that the church has failed to be the blessing to the nations that it has been called to be because it has failed or refused to HEAR God's voice? Imagine how history could be if the church would listen to hear God's voice. The church, more than ever, needs to HEAR the Lord's voice.

The days ahead that will be marked by persecution and tribulation will require us to hear God's voice if we are to follow Him to our place of sanctuary and strength. It is ridiculous to think that the Lord would conceal His voice in such days that lie ahead. The last day remnant church will hear His voice and find shelter under the shadow of His wings. The Bible states that those who follow the leading of His voice and direction will be more than conquerors. The religious and the institutionalized will continue to strive in their own strength – void of God's voice. These people will stand before the Lord and the just verdict will be rendered: "Depart from Me, for I never KNEW you." Beloved, if you know a lot ABOUT God, but do not have an intimate and personal relationship WITH God, let this be your moment to call out to Him ... He will gladly answer and speak to you as a long awaiting and loving Father. The "father" ran to the prodigal son for the purpose of speaking and embracing his child. All that the father needed to see was the crown of his child's head upon the horizon for him to run, embrace and to meet his deepest needs.

God desires to speak to you on a daily basis as a means to guide you through the trials and issues of life as we pilgrimage toward our permanent home. We have got to avoid these "strange" doctrines of man and realize that God has not saved us for the purpose of pampering, but process. Christians WILL have issues and trials in their lives. Look, Jesus promised that we would if we were truly "following Him."

The Lord's heart is to increase your spiritual hearing as a daily exercise and function of life so that it becomes as involuntary as breathing. You are not reading this by accident. If you are reading this, you have been summoned into the holies of holies by the God and Creator of all the heavens and the universe. I am truly humbled in knowing that my King and Lord is demanding my presence. Are you ready to begin with me and walk through the familiar outer courts and into the Holy Place of our Father's majestic presence? I sincerely hope and pray you are.

Sadly, far too few sermons and words are coming forth of Father's desire for us to HEAR His voice and the sound of heaven. This has left generation upon generation of believers striving in vain for something missing in their spiritual walk that only the Father's voice can comfort and fulfill. Multitudes in the church have been conditioned and processed to believe that God only speaks through His Word. These people move through life and if they are honest with themselves, must come to the conclusion that something is terribly missing and that the miraculous elements of the supernatural seem distant and a shade of gray.

Many have relegated the personal experiences mentioned in the Bible as belonging to a time of yesteryear. Although God is the same "yesteryear," today and forever, much of the body of Christ has bought into the lie that God's ways of communicating are unrepeatable or relegated to people who lived under an inferior covenant. The Word of God is not purely a set of rules, regulations, and doctrines. It is God's love letter to mankind and the fulfillment of better promises. Just look at the themes of what the Lord chose to reveal through the New Testament — prophecies, dreams, visions, revelations, angels, and the AUDIBLE VOICE of God. The writer of Hebrews tells us that entertaining angels is very much possible as a common event among believers. The simple question that we must answer is: Did God suddenly stop speaking to His people just because the written Word was sealed? This seems contrary to a loving Father's nature and His "word."

Beloved, your walk Christian will never reach its fulfillment and potential without a desire to hear God's voice. If we are going to experience the better promises that the 1st century church experienced, we must begin to expect God to speak audibly as well as through His Word, dreams, visions, and prophecy.

"He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches."

All articles by WaterMark Ministry may be reprinted in their entirety.

www.watermarkministry.injesus.com www.watermarkministry.org

The Season of Next Time

Deborah Joyner Johnson

We are in a wonderful season of new opportunities. Where we have previously failed, we are now being given a second chance to succeed. I was listening to an old song recently and the words rang in my ears after I heard it: “Next time…I’ll know better what to do.” When I heard those words, I realized the Lord was saying that, even though we may have failed at something in the past, He is going to give us another chance to do it right “next time.”

If we can learn from those difficult experiences of failure in the past, then victory will surely come. Michael Jordan once made this statement:

I have missed more than 9,000 shots in my career. I have lost almost 300 games. On 26 occasions I have been entrusted to take the game winning shot… and I missed. I have failed over and over and over again in my life. And that's precisely why I succeed.

Why did Michael Jordan succeed? He did not stay down when he made mistakes — he learned from them! He practiced more and perfected his shots until he became one of the best basketball players ever. When we fail at something, it is not the end, but can actually be the best beginning of all. Those who have accomplished great things in life have known many failures. It is the failures that have actually propelled them to rise up and try harder. If we have learned from our mistakes, then we are in a place to have greater successes in the same areas. The sweetest victories come from rising up and out of failure.

The key to rising up is to have the perseverance to try again. Webster’s Dictionary describes perseverance like this: “to continue in some effort, course of action, etc. in spite of difficulty, opposition, etc.; be steadfast in purpose; persist.” This is precisely what Michael Jordan and multitudes of others have done in the face of defeat, which in turn caused them to become so successful. The lessons from failures will cause us to achieve the greatest victories in our lives if we will persist in learning all that we can from them.

For too long many have stayed down, believing because of their pasts there was no hope for the future. Do not believe it! The past is just that—the past. History repeats itself, both good and bad, so when we are given this “next time” we must take it for the opportunity that it is, and determine to make the outcome positive.

Thomas Edison once responded to a reporter with the following quote after he had failed two thousand times before he successfully invented the light bulb. “I never failed once. It just happened to be a 2000-step process.” He saw his experiments with the light bulb as lessons, not failures. He chose to see them as an opportunity for success, rather than the failure that they so seemingly portrayed. He became one of the greatest inventors ever with 1,093 inventions, averaging a patent every two weeks of his working career. As his life portrayed, he knew how to stay focused and persevere.

Season of Hope

The following Scriptures are for us to remember as we face our “next times.”

For behold, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone. The flowers have already appeared in the land… (Song of Solomon 2:11-12).

“For behold, the winter is past.” During winter most activities tend to be inside, simply because it is warmer. But the Lord is saying now “the winter is past!” It is time to leave the cold (past failures) and embrace the new. Letting go of the past will allow us to step out of the cold and into the warmth of a new season. Failures can come in many ways—our purpose in life, in relationships, sins, and so on. It is time to rise up and receive forgiveness from the past. Likewise, we must also forgive those who have wronged us, just as the Lord has in His grace forgiven us. As we become free of the past, we will then be in the place to embrace the new things that the Lord will begin to bring forth in our lives.

Perhaps in the past you have never been able to walk forward into your calling. Do not give up! This season holds new hope—a chance for a “next time!” C.S. Lewis once said: “You are never too old to set another goal or to dream a new dream.” God is giving you a second chance to fulfill all that you have been called to do. Now is the time to seize the opportunity!

“The rain is over and gone.” Rain is necessary for growth and nourishment, for without it a plant would surely die. Rain softens the hard earth and prepares the soil to receive nourishing water. Then, when the plant receives the necessary warmth from the sun, it will grow to new heights. The same is true for us. We will go through seasons of rain for nourishment, but before that time the Lord has to break up the fallow ground around our hearts to prepare us for the new seeds and growth. We will receive the most from the Lord as we embrace these hard times, looking with hope toward a time of growth. Then the rain will come, nourishing all the Lord has taught us. When the rain stops, and the “Son” begins to shine upon us, we will begin to grow in many areas of our lives. And in this growing, we will be changed into a new person. From this place of new growth, we will know better what to do when the opportunity arises for a “next time.”

“Flowers have already appeared in the land.” Summer is the season for flowers to shine in their beauty. They have been lying dormant all winter, but soon they will begin blooming into their purpose. As the flowers grow, beauty will be displayed for all to see. Likewise, the same is happening with us. When the “next time” comes, beauty in this season will be seen—not the death of winter, but the warmth and new life of summer. It is time to make right that which has been wrong in the past. This “next time” will be a blessed opportunity to bring forth fruit in what may have seemingly died before.

This season of second chances is a gift from the Lord. We must arise and shine as Isaiah 60:1 states: “Arise, shine; for your light has come, and the glory of the LORD has risen upon you.” Leave the past behind and embrace the new. Seize this opportunity and fulfill your destiny. His grace is sufficient for this and so much more.

Deborah Joyner-Johnson
E-Mail:DJoynerJohnson@aol.com

The Sound of Sacrifice

Sandra Anderson

While teaching the book of John, Ch. 8, which speaks about 'hearing the Lord's voice' I began thinking about the many ways that He spoke in scripture…I thought of His voice in the garden; His voice as the sound of mighty waters; His voice like thunder; and then I thought of how He spoke at Mt. Sinai: (Exodus 19:16-19)

And it came to pass on the third day, in the morning, that there were thunders and lightnings and a thick cloud upon the mount and the voice of the trumpet exceedingly loud; so that all the people that was in the camp trembled. And Moses brought forth the people out of the camp to meet with God; and they stood at the nether part of the mount. And mount Sinai was altogether on a smoke, because the Lord descended upon it in fire: And the smoke thereof ascended as the smoke of a furnace, and the whole mount quaked greatly. And when the voice of the trumpet sounded long, and waxed louder and louder, Moses spake, and God answered him by a voice.

The Lord, Himself sounded the trumpet at Sinai! (In Hebrew the word, trumpet is shawfar; the horn of a ram). I wondered: "Why a ram's horn, Lord?" And the Lord answered, "Because, it's the 'Sound of Sacrifice'! "Why? I asked." And He replied, "Remember what Isaac asked His father…? (Genesis 22:4-14)

Then on the third day Abraham lifted up eyes, and saw the place afar off. And Abraham said unto his young men, abide ye here with the ass; and I and the lad will go yonder and worship, and come again to you. And Abraham took the wood of the burnt offering, and laid it upon Isaac his son; and he took the fire in his hand, and a knife; and they went both of them together. And Isaac spake unto Abraham his father, and said, "Behold the fire and the wood: but where is the lamb for a burnt offering?" And Abraham said, My son, God will provide himself a lamb for a burnt offering : So they went both of them together. And they came to the place which God had told him of; and Abraham built an altar there, and laid the wood in order, and bound Isaac his son, and laid him on the altar upon the wood. And Abraham stretched forth his hand, and took the knife to slay his son. And the angel of the Lord called unto Him out of heaven, and said, 'Abraham, Abraham: and he said, 'Here am I'. And he said, "Lay not thine hand upon the lad, neither do thou any thing unto him: for now I know that thou fearest God, seeing thou hast not withheld thy son, thine only son from me."

And Abraham lifted up his eyes, and looked, and behold behind him a ram caught in a thicket by his horns and Abraham went and took the ram, and offered him up for a burnt offering in the stead of his son.

And Abrham called the name of that place Jehovah-jireh: as it is said to this day. In the mount of the Lord it shall be seen.

Indeed, the Lord DID provide the sacrifice! Not only for Abraham and Isaac, but for all of us! JESUS CHRIST is the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world! (Rev. 13:8) and (I Cor.2:11)

Other foundation can no man lay than that which is laid which is Christ Jesus.

This SURE foundation has been tried and proven to be steadfast, immovable, enduring from everlasting to everlasting. It is that upon which the whole new creation is being built! (Isaiah 28:16 & I Cor. 3:12-13)

Now if any man build upon this foundation gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble: Every man's work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is.

Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation stone, a tried stone, a precious cornerstone, a SURE FOUNDATION: he that believeth shall not make haste.

Also: (Acts 4:11, 12 & Psalm 118:22-23)

This is the stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner. This is the Lord's doing; it is marvelous in our eyes!

And: Neither is there salvation in ANY OTHER for there is NONE OTHER NAME under Heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved! Amen & Hallelujah!

Indeed, the sacrifice of Jesus Christ has been accomplished 'from the foundation of the world! Even at Sinai, as Moses was receiving the Law from the great "I AM"; the Lord Himself was proclaiming Christ and His sacrifice:

with 'the voice of the trumpet, exceedingly loud'

Jesus Christ*, the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world! He who Is Our Sacrifice. (Rev. 1:8)…*

HE WHO WAS AND IS AND IS TO COME! THE ALMIGHTY!

The Sounds Of Silence

Susan Cummings

The Sounds Of Silence
Given on the wings of the wind
Bear down upon the hearts and minds of men
Gravenly taken in and yet, denied

No comfort can be given within the silent breath
For it only holds the awaited time of death
Sacred and precious is the hour of release
For those who stand in the Fathers Embrace

Silence has a voice given from within Strengthening friend and foe
For the battle that will soon begin
Drawing both sides to their lines of defense

Deep calleth unto deep
And the listening do hear and prepare
For the silence will complete it's full work
As the hour passes in its set circuit

Sounds form from within Sounds form from without Both make their mark
Without even so much a shout

Silence comes with it's Grace intact
Establishing the perimeters for the next impact
Voices, thunders, lightnings, will then decree
The final entrance of the last three

The Sounds of Silence have spoken
Given their due as a token
Such is the course set for men
Written now by their own pens

Rev. 8

-Susan Cummings
9-10-05
7:00 pm

http://groups.msn.com/CummingsFamilyAdventures
http://topica.com/lists/JustHisWords

The Secret Of Spiritual Power

Chip Brogden

www.watchman.net

"God resists the proud, but gives grace to the humble. Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you" (James 4:6b,7).

There is a principle at work in our life and walk with the Lord, and it is the principle of strength out of weakness. "The meek are blessed, for they will inherit the earth" (Matthew 5:5). If we want the blessing of the Lord then we must learn what it is to be meek, for the proud will not inherit anything from Him.

The way of the world says that in order to be stronger, we must build ourselves up and seek strength and dominance over others. Christians everywhere are keenly interested in how to be increased, how to be stronger, how to take authority, how to rise up, how to get more. They look for methods, formulas, and techniques for becoming bigger and better. The results have been disappointing. Many mistakes have been made and many people have been hurt and disillusioned.

The Lord has a different approach for us to take. He invites us to accept weakness in order to be strengthened. We do not become strong by embracing strength, but by embracing weakness! This is the secret of all spiritual power. When Paul learned this secret he was able to say, "When I am weak, then I am strong" (II Corinthians 12:10b). This makes no sense to the natural man. I do not remember ever hearing anyone begin a teaching on spiritual warfare with this verse. It is no wonder, then, that these teachings never seem to produce any lasting fruit.

This passage of Scripture from James gives us further insight into why the strong are weak, and why the weak are strong. Our study of this verse may be divided into four distinct sections. Let us look at each one individually.

GOD RESISTS THE PROUD

Christians are full of many plans, many pursuits, many thoughts, many words, many things. It is impossible to say just how much of the flesh is involved in the things we undertake in the Name of Jesus. We know they cannot be purely spiritual works because often there is little fruit to be found. We labor and toil and work but it seems as if we make little or no progress. It seems as if something is always blocking our way and preventing us.

The automatic assumption is that anything which resists us or hinders us is of satanic origin. That is, if we encounter difficulty in our spiritual walk, our first reaction is to rebuke the devil, or ask the saints to pray for us to have a clear way. Certainly the devil will attempt to hinder us from anything we undertake that glorifies God and threatens the darkness. Yet we learn from James 4:6 that there is Someone else who can resist us. There is Another Who carefully watches what we do, and frequently hinders us from making progress.

It comes as a shock and surprise to some Christians to see one day that God, not the devil, is resisting them. The Lord Himself resists us, closes doors, causes things to be unfruitful, and spoils all our plans. How so? Because "God resists the proud." This resistance from God is insurmountable. It is a fearful thing to fight the Lord. We spend most of our lives wrestling with God instead of cooperating with God, and in the end we have nothing to show for it. So much time and effort is wasted because we proceed in our own, stubborn way. We attribute all difficulties to the devil, or to other people, or our circumstances, or our environment, and fail to recognize that the Lord Himself is resisting us.

God resists the proud. This is an active resistance that will block our path like a huge rock or a great chasm. All who walk in pride are in league with the devil himself, and will receive the same judgment (cf. I Timothy 3:6). Brothers and sisters, this is a serious matter. If we harbor the least bit of pride then we will find ourselves on the wrong side of the Lord, but if we are humble before God and man then we cannot be defeated because...

GOD GIVES GRACE TO THE HUMBLE

The single requirement for grace is humility. But what is grace? Grace is more than just a theological term used to describe how we are saved. Grace is the power of God at work in my life to do what cannot be done in my own strength. Grace is energizing and proactive. When I have reached the end of myself then Grace Himself takes over and does what I am unable to do. In the first place, what I cannot do is save myself, and so I trust in the Grace of God, Jesus Christ, to save me. But Grace will not only bring me through the Gate; He will bring me down the Path. Grace does not just get me started in the right direction, but goes along with me every step of the way. For Grace is a Man!

It should be obvious that God will not give us grace while we are still proud. Why? Because He will allow no flesh to glory in His presence. He desires us to be thoroughly emptied of ourselves. When we cease doing what we cannot do then He begins to do what we cannot. The problem is that we still think we can do so many things. We must learn sooner, rather than later, that "apart from Me you can do nothing" (John 15:5b). Nothing! But it is human nature to try and do it ourselves. This human nature is the flesh. It prevents us from entering into Grace. God cannot save someone who is still trying to save themselves. Similarly, God cannot do what we are still trying to do. He will wait - weeks, months, or years - until we have exhausted our strength. When our strength is completely gone and we finally go to Him in weakness, He becomes our strength and we find Grace is there to do the impossible. Then we know it was not us, but the Lord. All praise goes to Him, and we retain nothing for ourselves.

See how many times the disciples tried to correct the Lord. See how many times they argued with the Lord. See how many time their thoughts contradicted the Master. See how many times they urged Him to take action. And the Lord, ever patient, would correct them. In every case we see that He is the Lord, and they are the disciples. The roles must never be confused. He is the Master, and we are His servants. We do not command Him, but He commands us. We do not direct Him, but He directs us. We do not lead Him, but He leads us. He was not created for us, but we were created for Him. He does not serve us according to our pleasure, but we serve Him according to His pleasure. So we must be adjusted to Him, and not the other way around. The Lord will never apologize to us and say, "I'm sorry, I was wrong. We'll do it your way." How laughable! How absurd! But we often live as if we expect Him to do that very thing. We have not humbled ourselves.

All those who want power with God must see that His power is released through our weakness (cf. II Corinthians 12:9). Do realize that you are weak whether you admit it or not, but the power of humility is in recognizing and agreeing before God that we really can do nothing of our own selves. God's power is not for those with natural charisma, talent, leadership skills, education, training, or "connections". God is not looking for volunteers to serve at their own convenience as their schedule permits, but calls for disciples who will lay down their lives. The flesh counts for nothing in spiritual matters. God's power is not revealed to us when we are proud, but when we are humble. Any demonstration of "power" manifesting itself through a proud man or a proud woman is, quite simply, not from God and cannot be trusted. Spiritual gifts may be counterfeited, but spiritual fruit cannot be faked. We will know the false from the true by their fruit, not their gifts (Matthew 7:20). Meekness is an essential quality of spiritual fruit (Galatians 5:23). Gifts may accompany fruit, but gifts may never substitute for fruit.

The secret, then, is to...

SUBMIT YOURSELVES THEREFORE TO GOD

Do we need the power of God today? Do we seek the Life of the Lord today? Do we desire Him to have the preeminence in our lives today? Do we long for Him today? Then now is the time for us to be unconditionally and wholeheartedly surrendered to Him. We need not drag the process out for several days and weeks, months and years. "If any man will come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow Me" (Luke 9:23). Do it today, do it now. If we must daily take up the cross anyway, let us bow our head and give up the ghost instead of struggling to stay alive, which only prolongs our agony. The secret to overcoming is dying daily.

If God gives Grace to the humble, then we should live a surrendered life so we can tap into grace. Die to Self, die to effort, die to trying, die to scheming. Stop wrestling, stop fighting, stop squirming, stop arguing, stop reasoning, stop bargaining, stop all that and just surrender, yield, give up, and lay down before Him! Humility is not some outward show, but a heart attitude that says in effect, "I will not resist the dealings of God. I will not argue with the Lord. I will not insist upon my own way. I recognize and admit that apart from Him I can do nothing. I am finished. Lord, I look to You to do in me and through me what I cannot do." Friends, if we truly mean that when we say it then we will naturally spend more time praying, more time in the Word, more time ministering to God, because we will realize we do not know anything and we can not do anything without hearing from Him. If Christ is to have the preeminence in all things right HERE is where it begins. Humility is offering no resistance to the dealings of the Lord with us.

When we are submitted to the Lord, we find Grace. We find peace. We find rest. All things are in His hands, and He does all things well. We need not fear what any devil or any man can do to us. To be submitted to the Lord is to be under His care, under His guidance, under His power, under His protection. Whom shall I fear? What can man do to me? What can the devil do to me? If I have humbled myself beneath the mighty hand of God then He will exalt me in due season; He will justify me; He will defend me; He will fight for me. If our submission to God is complete, if our surrender to the Lord is total, then victory is assured. We will...

RESIST THE DEVIL, AND HE WILL FLEE

So many times we try to resist, but we are defeated. Why? Simply because we attempt to resist the devil before we have first submitted ourselves to God. There is a proper order that must be observed without fail. First, we must understand the principle of God resisting the proud but giving grace to the humble. This is the foundation of everything we do. Second, the word "therefore" signifies that those who learn this principle will act upon it accordingly. If they understand the truth just stated, they will submit "therefore" to God. Third, as a result of their submitting to God, they will find the devil flees whenever and wherever they offer him resistance. The word "flee" means "to run away in terror". How wonderful! How delicious to see the devil running from us in terror, instead of the other way around! That should be the normal experience of all Christians. That is the normal Christian life, a life that overcomes.

The whole object of satan is to bring us down from the heavenly places in Christ (Ephesians 2:6) and entangle us into some kind of earthly, fleshly thing that saps us of our strength and diminishes spiritual authority. Knowing this, the Lord has us to pray daily, "Deliver us from evil" (Matthew 6:13ff). That is to say, "Deliver us from the earthly, the fleshly, the worldly, the carnal, the selfish, the natural, the human, where satan has influence to work evil against us. Deliver us from all that hinders and distracts us, and bring us into the Kingdom of Your dear Son, that we may walk in Spirit and Truth, in the heavenly places, demonstrating your preeminence over all things Below." Brothers and sisters, praying in this way is what it means to resist the devil. He cannot stand before us when we take the high ground and maintain the Lord's Testimony.

If we grow impatient and fall into the flesh then we become weaker. To react in the flesh diminishes spiritual authority, and this must be avoided at all costs. Allowing the flesh to have its way for only a moment guarantees defeat against a spiritual adversary. "We worship God in the Spirit, and rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh" (Philippians 3:3). To lose all confidence in the flesh is to take the higher ground of the Spirit. To meet flesh with flesh means the victory will go to the strongest, and there is always someone stronger than you according to the flesh. Instead, if people come against you in the flesh, let them come against you. If they wish to rail and argue with you according to the flesh, do not respond in kind. If they attack you without cause, let them attack, because the fleshly, the carnal, the natural cannot defeat the spiritual. The one who is submitted to the Lord has authority over those who remain unsubmitted to Him. Flesh is overruled by Spirit. Hate is overruled by Love. Darkness is overruled by Light. Death is overruled by Life. Earth is overruled by Heaven. "He that comes from above is above all" (John 3:31ff).

We offer no resistance, no defense, no argument, no justification to people who mean us harm. We do not wrestle against flesh and blood (Ephesians 6:12a). We resist satan, not the person. We stand against the devil, taking no action against the instruments the devil uses. We submit to God, we offer no resistance to man, but we stand firm against the spiritual adversary. Outwardly, before others, we appear weak. But inwardly, before God, we are strong. "Though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh: for the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strongholds" (II Corinthians 10:3,4). If we war after the flesh then we are emptied of spiritual strength. If we war after the Spirit then we are emptied of fleshly strength. Which will you have, spiritual authority, or fleshly power? You can have either one you want, but you cannot have both.

We face perilous, dangerous times. The secret of spiritual power to see us through these times is humility. The arm of the flesh will fail us. Brothers and sisters, since we cannot avoid weakness, we may as well make the best possible use of it. Let us accept the dealings of the Holy Spirit with us and offer no resistance to Him. "Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and He shall lift you up" (James 4:10). Amen

Two Sides Of The Heart
Danny Korakas

Apr 2, 2005

As we continue in our pursuit of allowing the Lord to draw and surface our hidden issues for the purpose of transformation. The following list that I will start this article with is a comparison of the heart condition within the "spiritual orphan" and the "spiritual son and daughter." It reveals many characteristics exhibited by those who have not been healed of "rejection."

The (spiritual) "orphan" sees the image of God as a master. The (spiritual) "son or daughter" sees God as a loving Father.

The orphan is independent and self-reliant. The son or daughter is interdependent and acknowledges need.

The orphan lives by the love of the law. The son or daughter lives by the law of love.

The orphan is insecure and lacks peace. The son or daughter is at rest and has peace.

The orphan strives for the praise, approval, and acceptance of man. The son or daughter is totally accepted in God's love and justified by grace.

The orphan has a need for personal achievement as they seek to impress God and others, or no motivation to serve at all. The son or daughter serves and is motivated by a deep gratitude for being unconditionally loved and accepted by God.

The orphan's motive behind Christian disciplines is bound to duty and earning God's favor or no motivation at all. To the son or daughter, it is a pleasure and delight.

The motive for purity to the orphan is that they "must" be holy to have God's favor, thus increasing a sense of shame and guilt. The son or daughter "desires to" be holy. They do not want anything to hinder intimate relationship with God.

The self image of an orphan suffers self-rejection from comparing themselves to others. The son and daughter's self-image is positive and affirmed because they know they have value to God.

The orphan seeks comfort in counterfeit affections: addictions, compulsions, escapism, busyness and hyper-religious activity. The son or daughter seeks times of quietness and solitude to rest in the Father's presence and love.

The relationship with peers of an orphan is competitive and has rivalry and jealousy toward others' success and position. The son or daughter has relationships that are humble and seek unity as they value others and are able to rejoice in their blessing and success.

The orphan handles others faults by accusation and exposure in order to make themselves look good by making others look bad. The son or daughter covers others faults by love and seeking to restore others in gentleness.

The orphan spirit sees authority as a source of pain; distrustful toward them and lack a heart attitude of submission. (A failure to submit to one another in the fear of the Lord) The son or daughter is respectful, honoring; as they view authority from God and of value to their life.

The orphan has difficulty receiving admonition. They "must" be right, so they easily have their feelings hurt and close their spirit to correction. The son or daughter receives admonition (correction) as a blessing and need in their life so their faults and weaknesses are exposed and put to death.

The orphan is guarded and conditional in their expression of love. Their love is based upon another's performance as they seek to get their needs met. The son or daughter is open, patient, and affectionate as they lay their life and agendas down in order to meet the needs of others.

The orphan views God's presence as conditional and distant. The son or daughter views and experiences God's presence as close and intimate.

The orphan's spiritual condition is bondage. The son or daughter lives in a heart condition of liberty.

The orphan views their position in God's kingdom as a slave or servant. The son or daughter views their position as a "son" or a "daughter."

The vision of the orphan is spiritual ambition and the desire for spiritual achievement and distinction along with the willingness to strive for it. They have a desire to be accounted among the mature. The son or daughter has a vision to daily experience the Father's unconditional love and acceptance and then be sent as a representative of His love to family and others.

The previous list and revelation was given by the Lord to Jack and Trisha Frost who are the founders of Shiloh Place Ministries. I highly recommend visiting their web site.

I hope that this comparison has shed some light upon the many divisive and judgmental issues that we have and are experiencing in the church, as well as in our own individual lives. I personally can relate too many of these comparisons in my own life and can only thank and praise God that He has delivered me and is still healing me from some of these issues that I have carried since childhood. Just five years ago, I never would conceived of sharing what I am about to share with you…I would have much rather desired that you saw my spiritual maturity and strength, rather than my weakness and need. When I look at the lives of the prophets of old, I see men and women who walked in the anointing and power of God. However, the Lord is clear in His Word to show us their humanity and weaknesses as well as He continued to refine and work in their lives…What a wonderful assurance of God's grace, patience and love for us.

We have been designed by God with purpose and meaning. He created us in His image and that image is the image of LOVE. The Bible says that "God is love." With that said, we were created for relationship – to love and to be loved how God designed us to be loved. We may have had wonderfully kind parents, but if they did not love or express love in how God designed us to be loved; we have already moved into the roots of rejection. This will soon manifest in adverse behaviors such as lying as a young child, eruptive behaviors for attention, and an unexplained knowledge of sexual activity and thoughts. As a very young child of 3-4 years old, I somehow, without reading or experiencing sexual actions, understood them and had a desire or curiosity for them. Many would wonder why? The answer is in the fact that "rejection" is the greatest PAIN that humanity suffers. The wounds of rejection are the deepest and most painful left unhealed. And pain will almost always seek PLEASURE to relieve or band-aid itself. Something in the soul of fallen man (even a child) moves into a spiritual avenue of darkness when not accepted in the love of God or loved how the Father has designed us to be loved.

As we grow older, the rejected soul gravitates toward music. Music holds within it tremendous power and influence for both spiritually good and bad. Lucifer was the arch angel of music and of course understands it's influence upon the soul. The gravitation toward music at such young ages is not so much about the understanding of notes, singing style, sound, or even as a means of expression, as much as it is a vehicle of ESCAPE. Rejected or spiritually orphaned children (even adults) if left unhealed will escape into music at such a degree, that they actually create a false reality of themselves singing and playing the instruments they are listening to. I found myself escaping in this for 20 years. Why? Because I wanted to praised, affirmed, and admired in my rejected and unhealed condition.

It is not long before this pain (most have repressed the pain of rejection so deep, that they are essentially unaware that they are truly hurting and in bondage) moves and escapes into pornography or pre-marital sex as a means to cover our pain and garner affirmation and what we perceive as real and genuine love. Young men will escape into a magazine and a false reality of having sex with a person who in reality is not there. Young women will escape into a warped sense of love through sex to meet their need of approval and affection. (This is a characteristic of young women who have been neglected of having a father express tender and affectionate love to them as well complimenting then on their "inner beauty") The rejected soul by this time is starved and famished for the unconditional love of God. But few understand the source of God's love and continue to escape and turn to man to quench their pain through means of the flesh or what is natural.

Without the healing and affirming love of God we grow older into to our teen years and young adult life escaping into a "works oriented" lifestyle to meet our needs for love and affirmation. This of course will carry over and manifest itself in the church. Upon doing a task well, the rejected individual will visualize in a false reality someone whom they desire to love and be loved – watching them perform the task they are doing well. In reality, this person is not really there. Yet, the rejected soul escapes into a realm that creates that person being there as to somehow harness that person's approval and admiration. We go through our lives knowing we do this, but we tend to bury these "realities" and refuse to face the truth of our bankruptcy of knowing or resting in the unconditional love of God and our need to be affirmed.

It is soon that the escapism we have been living for most of our lives begins to influence the life that we live and the relationships we have made. The insecurities begin to surface in jealousy, criticism or judgments, and even outbursts of anger. It doesn't take long before the rejected adult finds comfort in seeing others fail so they might feel better about themselves – Especially if it is a similar function of a co-worker. The rejected person doesn't go out of their way to see others fail; they simply "feel good" about themselves when others do fail. The success of others becomes a stumbling block rather than an occasion for celebration. We have now moved into a life of bondage and drudgery, continually comparing ourselves to others and living in the past

God's plan is that we would live an abundant life and one full of joy, rest, and peace. God loves us with an everlasting love that can never be earned, purchased, or attained through religious striving and works. His love is unconditional and always available. It is when we truly understand ourselves; that we can present ourselves to our loving Father who we truly are and come "just as I am." This was a pinnacle moment in my life. It was then that the anointing and fragrance of Christ was allowed to flow through my life without the contamination of my buried hurts and issues. However, I am still very much a work in process and progress.

A prophetic person will continually prophesy to himself in a rejected and wounded state. The word of the Lord becomes mixed and slanted having little to no impact in the lives of others. You see, "Out of the abundance of one's own heart, the mouth speaks." The Lord is not only rising up a dynamic prophetic voice for this season in history – He is rising up a voice that is clean, pure and precise because they have been willing to be exposed, cleansed and healed.

All articles by WaterMark Ministry may be reprinted in their entirety.

www.watermarkministry.org

www.watermarkministry.injesus.com

The Spirit Of The Age

Peter Lillington

January 2004

This prophecy is not going to be easy to hear.
Neither is it any easier to speak.
However, the spirit of the age will be addressed.
You have all heard the Lamb. Now hear the Lion of Judah!

This is the message that the Lord is bringing to the Church:

I am the Lord your God. I see all hearts and discern all purposes. Nothing is hidden from Me. I know your ways and all your plans. I Love you. You bear My Name. You are the people of My pasture. And behold, I am doing a new thing.

I see this land, this culture. It is rich, fat and bloated. You lack nothing! Everything is provided for, and yes, in abundance! I see the gods of money, of avarice, of greed and lust stretching their tentacles throughout this land. New temples to other gods are raised, and people worship in them. I know the evil that dwells here. You think you are rich! But your eyes are blind! Foolish people – look again and see what I see.

Yes - you are part of this! You live both in it, and of it. And I call you out! You must not live this way. You are temples of the Holy Spirit, so why then do you worship in the temples of Babylon? Do you not see it? Well then, I the Lord will declare it for you. The land is corrupt and evil, there is no knowledge or love of God. Each person goes their own way, and they do what pleases them. They will reap what they have sown! I the Lord have spoken!

But yet I am not willing that any should perish. So, wake up. Listen, for I have called you into a new way. I have called you out, and my word will not return to me empty. You are a Holy and a Royal people. Do you not know it? You bear my Name, on your heads and in your hearts, and I am not willing that any one of you should perish.

Listen! For a new wave will flood across this land. I the Lord your God have spoken! A new harvest awaits, as My Spirit washes anew throughout this land. But look, the ground is rough, rocky and unprepared. Where can I plant My harvest? Where is the soil ready for it? Precious few places are ready. So then, make haste, lest the Day of the Lord come and take you unaware.

You must have love, one for another, the true image of My love. Why do I see shallow life amongst you? Do you doubt? Do you not truly believe? Do you think the Lords arm is too short? Can He not provide all your needs, yes, and more? What do you say? Will you contend with Me?

I command you, grow in love and fellowship with Me and one another. Build a true community of believers. One that will withstand the coming storm, one that will pass the test of the Rock of Ages. Come! Will you not trust in Me?

I tell you the truth, nothing will change until you are transformed into my image. Nothing will change until you are removed from the company of the harlot. But if you are willing, I will work such a change amongst you, that you will be left awed in My power. Do you think I cannot do it? Test me, and see, for the Lord is good.

You have insurance, you have wealth. Many indeed are your barns. But they will not save you in the Day of the Lord. Trust in the One who can save.

Can you have any gods before Me? Can anything stand in My presence? Foolish people! Do you think you can claim God and mammon both? Have you not read, do you not understand? You cannot serve both Gods. I the Lord your God am a jealous God and I will stand no other. I will tolerate no idols in my presence. Does light have fellowship with darkness? No!

You ask, so what are our gods? You know, and I know. There is no change, unless it be that you are ‘richer’ still. How many coats must you have? Two are no longer enough, you must have yet more. Rid yourself of these! Put out all greed, lust, avarice and the wicked love of money. See, I call you to a new thing!

Repent! For I know your sins, the unregenerate places in your hearts. I know what lies cold and dead. I am the Lord who can still make dry bones live! So arise! Put these things out of your hearts, and repent. Am I not the Lord who saved you, who died for you? I can and will rescue you from the miry pit. I will set your feet on solid rock, and I will give you a hope and future.

What must you do? Trust and obey me. Leave behind your old life, and turn to the new that I will give you.

So then my people, I call you out. I set before you two paths. The broad, gentle, easy path that leads to destruction. Or the narrow path, the hard path, the rocky mountainous path that leads to the city of God. Do not be deceived! It is not easy. It was never intended to be easy. It is not a path you can follow in your own strength. But you will have all that you need for the journey. My Spirit Himself will nurture you.

Now is the day of the Lord! Now are my purposes and plans come to fruition. I will move upon this land again and my elect will hear My call.

I the Lord your God have spoken and I call you out!

Do You Not Know Who You Are?
Peter Lillington

August 2004

Do you not know who you are?

With one prayer, you can change the world.
My beloved, before all creation
Bought with a price
Glittering and Holy Called by name

Do you think I do not know you?
Heart and soul I do
Eternal and forever
Exquisite crystal
Perfect in purity

Do you not know who you are?

My love for you passes beyond bearing
Beyond meaning
Never encompassed
Never changing
Earnestly I sought you
Found you

And I bear you home

Do not gaze down on lowly trinkets
Things of no worth
See, behold your Treasure.
See, I call you home, my beloved

Do you not know who you are?

Before you came to be, I knew you and loved you Sent my Son to die in your place
To pick up your pieces
To make the broken new

Do not be troubled, or downcast
All these things I knew from the beginning
Who is there to debate with Me?

Look, with the eyes of your heart
And see what I see
I do not judge with mans eyes
I see further
I see deeper
The eyes of My heart see to the heart
Deep calls to deep
In the sigh of my Spirit

Do not be deceived.
I know who you are.

A new creation
Redeemed and Holy Spotless and pure
A perfect bride

My beloved, would you dare to believe?
That I would love you for your own sake?

You are a people without blemish
Called by My name
Loved and beloved
Without end

The Sound Of The Hornet
Rimona Frank

Nov. 4, 2005

Living, as we do, in the vicinity of Arab villages, we experienced during the past month, in the course of which the Moslems celebrated the feast of Ramadan, more than our share of sounds issuing out of mosques at all hours of the day and night. The Moslem call to prayer is sounded through a loudspeaker system which is attached to a tower that forms part of the edifice. But whereas during most of the year it is only the call to prayer, five times a day, which is sounded out, and does not last but several minutes, during Ramadan the prayers, and sometimes the sermons that follow the call to prayer are also transmitted. The other night these sounds woke us up about 1 in the morning. This particular night, which ended the Ramadan fast, was especially noticeable. The sound was different from all other nights. I could not help but think of the sound made by a swarm of bees, wasps or hornets. The Word has a very specific task for the later. "Could Islam be YHVH's hornets?" we asked ourselves.

The hornets are mentioned 3 times in Scripture. In Exodus 23:28 we read: . "And I will send hornets before you, which shall drive out the Hivite, the Canaanite, and the Hittite from before you." In Deuteronomy 7:20 it is written: "Moreover YHVH your Elohim will send the hornet among them until those who are left, who hide themselves from you, are destroyed". And in Joshua 24:11-12 we read once more: "Then you went over the Jordan and came to Jericho. And the men of Jericho fought against you -- also the Amorites, the Perizzites, the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Girgashites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites. But I delivered them into your hand. I sent the hornet before you which drove them out from before you…"

The hornet, literal or proverbial, apparently had a very important role in the conquest of the Land of Canaan that is, the Promised Land; the Land of Israel. The hornets were to be the vanguard going ahead of YHVH's army, His people, in order to drive away the enemies, and were part of the process of the take-over of the land. Driving away the enemy was of paramount importance for the purpose of remaining a set apart people, who would not mix with the other nations or participate in their practices. Thus the hornets were (or would have been) very instrumental in aiding the people settle into their YHVH-given role, and in continuing to drive out the enemies and the evil influences that were abhorrent in the sight of YHVH.

The Internet dictionary says about the English word "hornet": "Probably comes from hornete, which was used in both Middle Low German and Middle Dutch. The word also corresponds with the Old English word hyrnet. Hornet is probably derived from horn." How does the Hebrew word for hornet, tsir'ah, 'sound the horn', in connection with the role and symbolism of this insect?

Tsir'ah is made up of four consonants (though the last is silent): tsadi, resh, ayin, hey, with the root is made up of the letters tsadi, resh and ayin (ts,r,a) and means "to erupt". This is also the root for "tsa'ra'at" - leprosy. The leper was not only afflicted physically, but was also identified as being "ta'meh", that is ceremonially unclean and was perceived as someone whose physical condition resulted from spiritual uncleanness.

The first two consonants of ts.r.a. form the word "tsar", which is a narrow place, oppression, distress and also the word for enemy. "Trouble ["tsar"] and anguish have overtaken me," cries out David in Psalm 119:143. And Proverbs 23:27 intones: "A seductress is a narrow [tsa'ra] well" (Proverbs 23:27). But, in spite of all this participation in sin and iniquity, YHVH so empathized with His creation that He gave the ultimate of sacrifices Who "…became their Savior. In all their affliction [tsa'r"] He was afflicted ["tsar"] (v. 8, 9), so that they could declare: "Let the redeemed of YHVH say so, whom

He has redeemed from the hand of the enemy ["tsar"] (Ps. 107:2). In our opening passage, in Exodus 23:22, we read the promise: "I will be an enemy to your enemies and an adversary [ve'tsarti] to your adversaries [tsorerim]."

Isaiah tells us: "This day is a day of trouble ["tsa'ra"] and rebuke and blasphemy; for the children have come to birth, but there is no strength to bring them forth" (27:3). Yet, "though I walk in the midst of trouble ["tsa'ra"], You will revive me" (Ps. 138:7).

Interestingly, when we remove the first consonant from the root ts.r.a., leaving out only r.a., which reads "ra", the word for "wickedness" or "evil" emerges. Thus Genesis 6:5 tells us that, "YHVH saw that the wickedness [ra'at] of man was great in the earth, and that every intent of the thoughts of his heart was only evil [ra] continually."

Even when the ts.r.a. letters are placed in a different order, such as a.ts.r, or r.ts.a, or r.a.ts, or a.r.ts, the words formed keep on conveying negative connotations.

Let's look at a.ts.r, which means "restrain, or "limit forcibly". In Isaiah 53:8 we read about Messiah: "He was taken from prison [otser] and from judgment". R.ts.a means "to pierce" or "bore a hole", thus the servant who would not leave his master, after a full seven years' service, would have his ear pierced with an awl becoming a slave for life. Next we examine r.a.tz., which is "to harass" or "shatter". The passage in Judges 10:6-8 tells us: "Then the children of Israel again did evil in the sight of YHVH, and served the Baals and the Ashtoreths, the gods of Syria, the gods of Sidon, the gods of Moab, the gods of the people of Ammon, and the gods of the Philistines; and they forsook YHVH and did not serve Him. So the anger of YHVH was hot against Israel; and He sold them into the hands of the Philistines and into the hands of the people of Ammon. From that year they harassed [va'yira'tsu] and oppressed the children of Israel for eighteen years…"

Finally, the root a.r.tz. forms a verb which means "to strike fear". "I have seen the wicked [arits] in great power, and spreading himself like a native green tree" (Ps. 37:35) sums up the result of cooperating with the enemies, rather than driving them out and separating from them and from their ways by following YHVH's instructions for taking the land, both literally and figuratively. Thus, instead of the hornets becoming a tool in Abba's hand to clear the land and make room for His Spirit, these wasps remain in our land as residents while we continue to "do evil in the sight of YHVH". In this way we are defeated again and again by the ones we want to coexist with, instead of separating from them; while the hornets, rather than helping us defeat our enemies and harassing them, defeat and harass us.

Is it possible that YHVH would use the wasp to drive us out of the country, because we refuse to repent and return to Him with our whole heart and acknowledge His Messiah?

Shabbat Shalom
Rimona

Two Sides Of The Sword

Catharina Schouten and Tina Ames

The Word is in the truth, yesterday, today and forever. The Word is for everyone as it is the plain truth.

The Word of God is the ultimate truth. Its fullness is without measure. All things written can not be added to nor omitted from His Words. On the other side, how many of us have experienced reading in the Word from the Lord and then some one else can tell you, I can find within three minutes a word that contradicts this. Or we receive a prophetic word, and in a short time we receive a Word from someone else that seems to contradict the previous word? Is our God lying? Of course not! He is not a man that He should lie. He does not contradict Himself to us. What is happening here?

First, many people are following “a map” and not the “Guide”, The Holy Spirit. You can read the Bible over and over, but if the Holy Spirit does not reveal what is for you at that particular moment, you are getting lost off your path of His direction. We need the Holy Spirit to tell us what Word is for us at this particular moment in our lives and to reveal the deep secret behind the meaning of the Word to us. There is the “Logos” Word, meaning the Word written through the Bible. And there is the “Rhema” Word, meaning the Lord speaks directly to you through the Word and it becomes one with your spirit and Next, even if we are on the straight and narrow path together, even at the same exact spot, it does not mean we should be learning and hearing from the Lord in the exact same manner. We each are learning differently (different things at the same moment) from the Holy Spirit. It does not mean the Spirit is telling us today the same message to each other. We need to be like eagles riding on the wind of the Holy Spirit. There is a Word, a truth, for every one of us, the Bride of the Church worldwide, and He is speaking to you, individually.

Example: Tina and I. It is possible that the Lord is speaking to her, Tina, I’m going to teach you how to save money and at the same moment, He is speaking to me, Catharina, I’m going to teach you how to give all of your money away. One of the biggest mistakes we ever made in the Body of Yeshua, is taking a personal Word from the Lord and applying it to each other or to His Body to make it fit them.

Example: A family with a terminally ill child is told by the Lord to worship Him extravagantly and the Lord heals the child. Praise the Lord! The worst thing they can do is reveal to others in the Body that this experience is the plain truth and the only way the Lord heals. It is the Holy Spirit alone who can give you a Rhema Word. Another family in the same situation may be told to sit still and wait quietly on Him.

The battle, all battles belong to Him. They are not ours. We must learn how to fight be it, through worship, intercession, but most important by sitting quietly at HIS feet.

What is the most important lesson? A personal Word from the Lord must not be revealed as a plain truth. And a prophetic word, can be for you, or not (for this moment) There are prophetic words that are for the BODY OF YESHUA and there are prophetic words that will speak to some people, but not others. The Spirit must guide you, if it is for you......or.....not!!!!

Summary of this lesson: All of us have the Bible as our Spirit breathed guide, The Word that is the plain truth. Every Word from God, our Lord is the truth no matter what, when, where, or whatever our situations may be, it is the truth. If we are in a situation where we need a personal truth, we must wait for our personal Word from the Lord. If we follow the Holy Spirit breathed Word into our spirit we will follow Him and not depend on the map to lead us. We will soar on eagle’s wings and not try to fight a battle ourselves.

Part 2 written by: Tina Ames

The Lord will give a Word to you on a particular subject, and with the same subject give me a totally different direction. The Word is the “Sword of the Spirit” and will rightly divide the truth given by the Holy Spirit.

Will a Word convict you or condemn you, of course it is convict! The Lord will correct His children with love. The enemy is the one who would like to make you feel condemned and tries his best to pull you away from the relationship you have with the Lord.

The gift of prophecy is to speak lovingly to the Bride. How do I speak to His Bride? Is it given in His love? If it is encouraging then rest assured if it is misconstrued or seems miss communicated, the enemy is the one trying to alter the reception.

Rest, Stand, Shout, Love, Watch, Arise, Jesus does only what the Father tells Him too. We desire only to do what Jesus is doing. Is the verb/ action word given one that He would do? If the answer is yes, it is from Him, if not ignore it and ask for a confirming word to come forth.

There are two sides to every story, there are two sides to One Sword, but there is only One Sword, One Savoir, and One Witness.

One of my favorite sayings is, “The Lord will offend your mind to reveal your heart.” There are times I truly don’t like what I see in my heart, but it is because of His love for me is why He showed it to me. Offence is not a good attitude, but the Lord can with our repentance turn it around for good and clean our hearts out for us.

COPYRIGHT POLICY: Articles and prophetic words may be copied for free distribution or personal use provided they are reproduced in their entirety and with no changes. If printed in a publication, 'or copied to a website' we have one request: Please include the following information with the article Will you mention there names and website address: www.tesjoeva.nl So people can ask questions and have the opportunity to contact Tina and Catharina.

Just serving Him, by serving you! Catharina Schouten

MY glorius Victory, prince Divine, Clasp these surrendered hands in Thine, At length my will is all Thine own, Glad vassal of a Saviour`s throne!

www.tesjoeva.nl

The Set Time

Todd Bentley - Charlie Robinson

In this teaching titled The Set Time*, I will share an important prophetic message about a shaking that will be coming primarily to the Northwest. We will discuss why it's God's desire to execute judgment against His adversaries at this set time. Before closing this teaching with a powerful prophetic act, we will examine how our prayers ascend into heaven and how they activate God's judgments in the earth.*

The "set time" is now here for the fulfillment of God's promises as well as the fulfillment of our destinies. We need to prepare ourselves to pay the price that will be required of us when the fulfillments unfold. So we need to be extremely focused in this hour and pay attention to what God is saying to us; most of the time His voice is not heard audibly in our ear.

WHO CAN UNDERSTAND THE POWER OF GOD'S ANGER?

God is telling us that He will have vengeance on His enemies (Isaiah 61:2), and His Word always reflects His personality and character. Most of us don't like to think about God's anger and what could happen if He releases His fury against His enemies.
"Who can comprehend the power of your anger? Your wrath is as awesome as the fear you deserve." Psalm 90:11 NLT
But having said that, let's not forget that there is a place to receive mercy and find refuge when the day of trouble comes (Psalm 91:1-4).

God will cover us with His feathers and under His wings we shall find refuge! During our meetings, sometimes feathers manifest in mid air and gently fall upon the crowd. When this happens, it's a sign and a wonder to cherish because the feathers are a sign of God's kingdom among us, but there's more. I believe this wonder is also meant to comfort and remind us that when the storms come, when God's judgments come, He will spread His feathery soft wings over us when we run for cover under His wings.
"He shall cover you with His feathers, and under His wings you shall take refuge; His truth shall be your shield and buckler." Psalm 91:4 NKJV

SHAKING IN THE NORTHWEST

I believe it's on God's heart right now to warn us that we need to prepare ourselves for the upheavals that are ahead. We're asking: "What's next? Is there a shifting in the spirit, not just in the Northwest, but also globally?" Yes, we see this shaking happening globally and it's about to happen here. The Lord spoke to me recently, saying: "Yes, in the Northwest there will be a shaking. A shaking unlike any other shaking we have seen in the Northwest."

Before we discuss what this shaking means, I want to share one encounter I recently had. I was praying at home in my living room and suddenly there was a flash of light. Instantly I received a divine sense, a divine revelation, and I knew that I was having a visitation with the angel called "Promise." Only a few times in seven years have I ever seen this angel. When this angel comes, its assignment is to announce the fulfillment of a word that we have received from the Lord. Often the word has come with confirmations repeatedly over the years.

There actually are angels in heaven that oversee answered prayer. They oversee what God has promised so that it is released in our lives, cities, and nations. I believe that this angel's visitation is connected to the set time that we are in now concerning two significant themes: God's desire to execute vengeance on His adversaries and God's desire to fulfill His promises in our lives.

JUDGMENT RELEASES BLESSINGS

GOD IS JUDGING HIS ENEMIES

There are two elements involved when God executes vengeance on His adversaries -- judgment and blessing. So let's turn to Isaiah 64:1-3:
"Oh, that You would rend the heavens! That You would come down! That the mountains might shake at Your presence -- as fire burns brushwood, as fire causes water to boil -- to make Your name known to Your adversaries, that the nations may tremble at Your presence! When You did awesome things for which we did not look, You came down, the mountains shook at Your presence." NKJV
When God makes His name known to His adversaries, whole nations are going to tremble and shake in His presence! Why? Because God is rending heaven and He is coming down in a holy visitation, bringing judgment against His adversaries. It's not judgment on people or judgment on the church. God is releasing judgment right now and it's showing up with whole nations shaking and trembling -- earthquakes. It's God judging Islam. It's God stepping into the war on terror and He is opposing that Islamic spirit.
However, that's only one part of it. Christians are crying out against homosexuality, same-sex marriages, and the drug culture. They are crying out for the Joel's Army to come forth, the emerging generation of young people who don't have a sense of their identity. They are crying out for what's next. They are crying out for a move of God, and God is about to answer -- not just here, but the whole Pacific Rim is tied into this!

Now listen. When the judgment of God comes, He is responding to the prayers of the saints who are crying out for righteousness and justice. When we pray for righteousness to prevail in the earth, there comes a set time when God judges unrighteousness, and it's for a purpose:
"For when Your judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness." Isaiah 26:9b NKJV
When God releases judgment there will be those in the earth who will turn to Him. So judgment is blessing, but sometimes it shows up with natural disasters. And the Lord will be looking for a way to release mercy to people in the midst of judgment, because His judgments are against demonic principalities so that revival can come.

REVIVAL IS COMING!

GOD REVEALS HIS SECRET COUNSEL TO HIS SERVANTS THE PROPHETS

The Holy Spirit uses certain prophets in a specific way. How I am used is that when I prophesy certain things, something usually happens immediately or almost right away. I can look back and see that when I have said at different times that earthquakes will happen (in a certain area), within a few days an earthquake did hit that area.

Not long ago I was in Birmingham, Alabama, and the first night of the conference I was caught up into the spirit and saw three major highways coming into Birmingham. I saw revival coming into the city from the north. I gave a specific prophetic word over the region. The Lord told me to tell the people that they will know my words are true when tornados and floods hit Birmingham. When we left, floods and tornados came into Birmingham.

In July 2004, I was in a meeting in Vacaville, California, when I had an open vision. I saw a massive arch angel (the rank of an arch angel assigned over a continent) with one foot on Indonesia and one foot on Malaysia. Next I saw a tsunami wave rise up out of the sea and, in the crest of the tsunami wave, I read the word REVIVAL. Then I saw the tsunami wave hit Indonesia, Malaysia, and S.E. Asia. So I prophesied what I saw as a word of knowledge as well as asking if there was anyone from Malaysia and Indonesia in my meeting. Four pastors from Malaysia stood up and one man stood up from Indonesia.

These five people took the prophecy back to Indonesia and Malaysia and they printed it out. All the churches and the pastors were reading the word. So, when Charlie Robinson (FFM's seer-prophet) went over to Indonesia and Malaysia in December, they were sharing with Charlie how they believed every part of the prophecy I gave about revival coming to Indonesia, Malaysia, and S.E. Asia.
They said, "It's all true, Charlie, except for one part. Natural disasters don't happen here." They told Charlie that they didn't believe the tsunami part of the prophecy for Indonesia.
So, Charlie said, "God will judge the seas," because he received a revelation from God about the seven thunders and how God will judge the seven seas (Revelation 10). (More in-depth teaching follows below under The Seven Thunders.)

Charlie had already shared with one of the leaders in Jakarta, Indonesia, that God was about to strike the waters of S.E. Asia off the coast of Indonesia because He was about to judge a principality. Charlie prophesied by faith, telling him that when God comes down and when it hits, it's going to be a mess.
Then in one of Charlie's meetings in Indonesia he felt led to have everyone roar. The church roared for a half hour! (I'll share about the prophetic significance of roaring below, see The Seven Thunders.) The Lord told him there would be an earthquake after he left. When he left Indonesia six days later, on December 26, the earthquake/tsunami happened. God was judging the seas! They called Charlie and said, "It's true. Every word of the prophecy is true!"

When the tsunami happened, the entire world said, "Destruction! Oh, God, why? Why would God allow this to happen? This is judgment. 300,000 lost their lives." But listen! The crest of the wave said REVIVAL! Who would have thought revival would come with a tsunami and an earthquake? Now, one church has grown to 5,000 people, and in the same congregations where we met before the tsunami, different manifestations are happening -- gold dust, diamonds, and feathers are appearing.

When Charlie went back in February, he said, "It (another earthquake) is going to happen again." When he left the region, he was only in the air for one hour and the second earthquake hit (an intense aftershock).
Also, not long ago, I was in Long Island, New York, and prophesied publicly, "The third earthquake will hit the Pacific." Two mornings later the island of Sumatra was hit with a 6.2 earthquake (aftershock).
Recently, in Toronto, Ontario, I was with two dozen people when I prophesied, "Mark my words. Japan will be hit with an earthquake. It's the fourth one coming to the Pacific." The earthquake hit Japan a few days later. It was a 5.6.

WHAT DOES ALL THIS MEAN?

What does all this mean? We need to understand that God's judgments are released as answers to prayer to ultimately bring blessing and to fulfill His promises. And now we are bringing another prophetic word and this time it's for the Northwest. There will be a shaking. There will be a trembling. But I am going to tell you, the shaking will not only release God's promises and God's destiny, it's going to release revival.

Let's remember in the shaking, let's remember in the earthquake in Japan and in the disaster in Indonesia, let's remember that God is saying: "REVIVAL!"
And so, as we prepare in the Northwest for a great shaking, let's remember when it takes place it's a sign that something is about to be released. I don't know how quickly we will see a shaking and a shifting in the Northwest and I don't even know exactly what the shaking is going to look like. It may be an earthquake, it probably will be. But there is even more of a shaking than that coming in the Northwest. I sense that it will be unlike anything ever recorded that's been recorded in over 1,000 years. They don't even have documents that far back. So guess what? We don't have records!

However, God wants us to have an idea about what He's doing. God is making His name known against His adversaries. That's why this year, in 2005, you're going to hear of incredible shakings and tremblings around the world unlike those recorded in any other year. We will see earthquakes of magnitudes that have never been recorded before. And it's not just Indonesia, Malaysia, and Japan. Those are just the first. It's going to be happening all year long. The earthquakes are signs of this next revival! And God isn't leaving us in the dark. He's telling the watchmen and the prophets so that the warning is sounded. And so we must pay attention to what the Lord is telling us to do and then do it. Some of what He will command us to do may be uncomfortable to us, but we must obey Him. Our lives and the lives of others may well depend on our obedience.

Now I want to include Charlie's prophetic word about the seven thunders of God, and about the martyrs, to help you better understand the revelation I've received:

"THE SEVEN THUNDERS OF GOD" - by Charlie Robinson

ROARING RELEASES GOD'S PURPOSES IN THE EARTH

When I was in Indonesia I led the people in my meeting to roar, and the roar lasted for a half hour! Roaring not only releases what's been tied up, it tears down principalities. When we roar like a lion, when the Lion roars, something happens in the spirit -- the seven thunders of God will come. We're going to see the seven thunders spoken of in Revelation 10. God is going to judge His enemies. There is a roar of the Lion that is coming in the body of Christ. So now I want to share some my "roaring experience," because it led me straight into a profound revelation about the seven thunders of God from Revelation 10.

Just over 10 years ago when I heard about the manifestation of the roar of the Lion happening in the Toronto Blessing meetings, I told the Lord that I would roar like a lion if He wanted me to. When I was in a meeting in Toronto, I knew I was supposed to roar, but I didn't want to let it out in front of everyone. Eventually I let it go, but it was a pathetic roar! Awful! Then I let it go again and, when I did, I saw the map of Canada come in front of me and the groanings of the Spirit for Canada to see the nation set free. As I roared over Canada, I could see the veil of religion over every province in Canada coming down. So the next day God said, "Charlie, how would you like to know what the seven thunders are in the book of Revelation?" And I said, "Yes! I'd like to know that, Lord!"

God said, "The seven thunders are seven judgments on the seven seas and the seven continents. They are not judgments on people. They are judgments on principalities. When they begin to happen, tremendous catastrophes will begin to hit the earth and people will die and get hurt. But I am not judging people in the sense of directly judging people. (Why?) Because of the prayers of the saints that have gone on in those areas of the world. They will literally call down My glory and My power and things will get judged and there will be catastrophes."
Scripture (Revelation 8:3-5) reveals that there are angels in heaven that oversee the prayers of the saints. As the bowls are being filled in heaven, it's those angels that are assigned to throw the answered prayers of the saints back to the earth. That's answered prayer. But how does prayer come back to the earth? In noises, thunderings, lightnings, and in earthquakes (v. 5)! That's why revival will come, because the heavens will open because the prayers of the saints will be cast down; and when they get cast down and hit the ground, there will be tremendous catastrophes.

Look at Revelation 10:2-3*:*
"He had a little book open in his hand. And he set his right foot on the sea and his left foot on the land, and cried with a loud voice, as when a lion roars. When he cried out, seven thunders uttered their voices." NKJV
The roar of the lion brings forth the thunders of God. When the thunder happens, then the lightning comes -- and lightning is judgment (Revelation 8:5). There are judgments that are hitting the earth.

Unless we know what's going on, we're going to think that the devil is in control and everything is haywire. No. God is in control!

GOD WILL NOT WORK ALONE

The Lord also revealed to me (Charlie) that He is waiting for us to co-labor with Him in executing vengeance against His adversaries (Psalm 149:6,7) -- and so are the martyrs! I kept hearing a cry getting louder and louder in my spirit: "How long, O Lord, holy and true, until You judge and avenge our blood on those who dwell on the earth?" (Revelation 6:10 NKJV).
Then God said, "They're not waiting for me, they're waiting for you. They're waiting for the full number of the martyrs to come to pass."
We don't like that word in North America. We don't like the word martyr. We don't like the word about giving our lives as martyrs. We like the word that they overcame by the blood of the Lamb and the word of their testimony . . . But, what else? They loved not their life unto the death (Revelation 12:11). They are waiting for you and me to stand up and do what we are supposed to do.

God wants us to move out of the way so that He can judge our enemies. That's what repentance does. When you repent you literally move out of the way. The Bible says that if we would judge ourselves, we would not be judged with the world (I Corinthians 11:31-32). God wants to judge our enemies and His enemies in our cities, but we have to get out of the way. That's why there is mercy and grace when we repent.

The roar releases the thunder and the lightning. Lightning in the natural clears the air. Father, let your lightning come today. Let your fire come! Let your power come! Let your judgment come! Let the roar of the lion return to the church. Let it come forth so that the thunders can come.

PREPARE YOURSELF

Now, let me (Todd) continue from where Charlie left off. It's time for us to prepare to roar. Recently, during one of our conferences, when we asked God to roar against His enemies, we joined Him in a prophetic act of roaring to support of His plan to execute His judgments in the earth. We roared a second time so that those who are bound in darkness would be set free.
The sound of the roaring is meant to continue! So I want to invite you to prepare yourself to roar in a few minutes. But first, let's remember that there is blessing in judgment. The shaking is about all nations coming to know the Desire of All Nations, Jesus Christ (Haggai 2:7). God will fill this temple with glory (v. 7). It's about the glory coming.

Through Haggai 2:6-9 God spoke this word to me recently: "I will shake heaven and earth. I will shake the sea and the dry land, because I am bringing the glory into the church in the midst of all the shaking, as nations are shaking. I am making My name known to My enemies. I am bringing in the silver and the gold, and releasing the glory."

We are so close to it! This year, 2005, will be a year of shaking. Four earthquakes already in the Pacific Rim: Japan and three in Indonesia. The Lord told me that there is one more coming. That will be five. We are going to get ours as well; it could be a volcano or an earthquake. It could be both. That will bring us up to six shakings. Then we're going to see seven, eight, nine, ten shakings in other countries around the world because there is something being released in God's glory and there is something being released in God making His name known. God is judging His enemies. This is how we are going to take cities, regions, and nations.

HERE WE GO!

As the Spirit begins to move there is going to come a war cry from the Lion of the tribe of Judah to roar against our enemies in our cities and regions. Let's be bold and ask God to roar. God, roar against Your enemies! Roar over the seven continents! Roar over the seven seas! Roar over the land! Holy Ghost, come. Let there be a release of the roar of the Lion of Judah as we lift up our voice and we roar in the spirit with God. Come on, let it go! Let it go! Let it go! Come on God, judge our enemies! Make Your name known!

Listen to this:
"The Lord also will roar from Zion, and utter His voice from Jerusalem; the heavens and earth will shake, but the Lord will be a shelter for His people, and the strength of the children of Israel." Joel 3:16 NKJV
The Lord will roar from Zion and He will utter His voice. God's voice is in the roar prophesying to His enemies. The Lord will roar from Zion and His voice will go forth from Jerusalem. The heavens and the earth will shake because of His roar. The Lord will be a shelter to His people and the strength of the children of Israel when they roar.

The Bible also says when the roar of the Lion goes up in the heavens (Hosea 11:10) it causes those who are in captivity and bondage to be released from their prison chains: sons, daughters, men, and women.

Let's roar again! I want you to see the prophetic voice of God being released in the roar right now! I want you imagine chains breaking, captives coming out of bondage. We roar for the release of the captives! Let it go! Roar!

by Todd Bentley & Charlie Robinson Fresh Fire Ministries www.freshfire.ca

The Stumbling Block

Bill Somers

> Isaiah 57:13-15
> 13 … but he that putteth his trust in me shall possess the land, and shall inherit my holy mountain;
> 14 And shall say, Cast ye up, cast ye up, prepare the way, take up the stumblingblock out of the way of my people.
> 15 For thus saith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy; I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones.

We have said in other articles that Israel is a type of the Church. That this means there are places where Israel is mentioned that you can also apply to the Church.

Consider this next example. Here is a long passage from second Corinthians that compares the old and new covenants, and how spiritual blindness keeps you from understanding.

> 2 Corinthians 3:6 Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life.
> 7 But if the ministration of death, written and engraven in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not stedfastly behold the face of Moses for the glory of his countenance; which glory was to be done away:
> 8 How shall not the ministration of the spirit be rather glorious?
> 9 For if the ministration of condemnation be glory, much more doth the ministration of righteousness exceed in glory.
> 10 For even that which was made glorious had no glory in this respect, by reason of the glory that excelleth.
> 11 For if that which is done away was glorious, much more that which remaineth is glorious.
> 12 Seeing then that we have such hope, we use great plainness of speech:
> 13 And not as Moses, which put a vail over his face, that the children of Israel could not stedfastly look to the end of that which is abolished:
> 14 But their minds were blinded: for until this day remaineth the same vail untaken away in the reading of the old testament; which vail is done away in Christ.
> 15 But even unto this day, when Moses is read, the vail is upon their heart.
> 16 Nevertheless when it shall turn to the Lord, the vail shall be taken away.
> 17 Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.
> 18 But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord.

Here we see the features of the old covenant listed and described. It is the letter of the law ;it kills. You see it described as The ministration of death and the ministration of condemnation. This means it offers, serves up, or brings condemnation and death. It is the two tablets written in stone.

The new covenant’s traits include the ministration of righteousness. This is saying the same as what we read elsewhere, that no man is justified by the works of the law. Under the old covenant no one could be saved. Only the new covenant brings righteousness or salvation.

> Hebrews 10:
> 4 For it is not possible that the blood of bulls and of goats should take away sins.

Then starting with verse 13 and on through 16, there is a discussion of a veil that produces a form of blindness.

> 2 Corinthians 3:13 And not as Moses, which put a vail over his face, that the children of Israel could not stedfastly look to the end of that which is abolished:

So what is this verse saying here? ‘That which is abolished’ is the old covenant, the law. And what is ‘the end’ of the law?

> Romans 10:4 For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth.

This blindness, kept them from seeing Christ, who is the end of the Law. Verse 14 mentions the reading of the old testament; and verse 15 says when Moses is read. This can mean that there is a certain blindness that prevents them from seeing the messiah revealed in the verses of scripture. More precisely, it kept them from seeing their messiah when he came.

> John 1:11
> 11 He came unto his own, and his own received him not.

This is the same spiritual blindness mentioned in Romans 11.

> Romans 11:7-10
> 7 What then? Israel hath not obtained that which he seeketh for; but the election hath obtained it, and the rest were blinded
> 8 (According as it is written, God hath given them the spirit of slumber, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear;) unto this day.
> 9 And David saith, Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, and a stumblingblock, and a recompence unto them:
> 10 Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see, and bow down their back alway.
>
> Romans 11:25
> 25 For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery, lest ye should be wise in your own conceits; that blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in.

This is how the idea that Messiah had to suffer and die becomes a stumbling block.

> 1 Corinthians 1:23
> But we preach Christ crucified, unto the Jews a stumblingblock, and unto the Greeks foolishness;
>
> Romans 9:31-33
> 31 But Israel, which followed after the law of righteousness, hath not attained to the law of righteousness.
> 32 Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the works of the law. For they stumbled at that stumblingstone;
> 33 As it is written, Behold, I lay in Sion a stumblingstone and rock of offence: and whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed.

Having said all this, what if we now look back at our comparison of Israel and the Church? What could we conclude might affect the church if she follows the pattern that Israel followed? One answer is that there is a similar blindness in the church that prevents them also from understanding the scriptures. One aspect of this is that the books are sealed.

There are three references to sealed book(s) in the Old Testament. The most well known is that in Daniel. Here is part of it:

> Daniel 12:4 But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words and seal the book, even to the time of the end. Many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased."

We find two references in Isaiah on the same topic.

> Isaiah 8:16 Bind up the testimony, seal the law among my disciples.
>
> Isaiah 29:
> 10 For the LORD hath poured out upon you the spirit of deep sleep, and hath closed your eyes; the prophets and your rulers, the seers hath He covered.
> 11 And the vision of all has become unto you as the words of a book that is sealed, which men deliver to one that is learned, saying, "Read this, I pray thee"; and he saith, "I cannot, for it is sealed."
> 12 And the book is delivered to him that is not learned, saying, "Read this, I pray thee"; and he saith, "I am not learned."

These verses which are spoken regarding Israel, have just much meaning when applied to the Church. As you compare the two, today's church is just as backslidden and far from hearing the spirit as ancient Israel was.

To see this we must look carefully at the Stumbling Block. What exactly is this Stumbling Block? You will find it mentioned in quite a few places in the bible. Sometimes it's called by slightly different names but they all link together. Isaiah 8 uses the phrase stone of stumbling and also a rock of offense. We find it in the same context we quoted from above having to do with sealing the law.

> Isaiah 8:13-16
> 13 Sanctify the LORD of hosts himself; and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread.
> 14 And he shall be for a sanctuary; but for a stone of stumbling and for a rock of offence to both the houses of Israel, for a gin and for a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.
> 15 And many among them shall stumble, and fall, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken.
> 16 Bind up the testimony, seal the law among my disciples.

The idea here is that because they stumbled or were offended, the testimony or law is sealed and kept from their understanding. This is exactly what we just reading about from Second Corinthians 3.

> 2 Corinthians 3:14-15
> 14 But their minds were blinded: for until this day remaineth the same vail untaken away in the reading of the old testament; which vail is done away in Christ.
> 15 But even unto this day, when Moses is read, the vail is upon their heart.

So, what is the stumbling block? If you look back at Isaiah 8: 13-14 just above you will see that it is the Lord himself.

Their problem was they worshiped the Torah [Law] rather than God. So they could not recognize their God when He stood before them.

> John 5:37-40
> 37 And the Father himself, which hath sent me, hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his shape.
> 38 And ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye believe not.
> 39 Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me.
> 40 And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life.

They could search the scriptures, even memorize them, and still not see that they point to Jesus.

What was it about their messiah that offended them, and that they were unwilling to accept? The idea that Messiah had to suffer and die is the problem. Here we see that attitude expressed by Peter in

Matthew 16.

> Matthew 16:21-25
> 21 From that time forth began Jesus to shew unto his disciples, how that he must go unto Jerusalem, and suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and be raised again the third day.
> 22 Then Peter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, Be it far from thee, Lord: this shall not be unto thee.
> 23 But he turned, and said unto Peter, Get thee behind me, Satan: thou art an offence unto me: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men.
> 24 Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.
> 25 For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it.

Notice that right after rebuking Peter, Jesus turn the topic to his followers doing likewise. He points out that we must be willing to lose our lives also. This is the parallel stumbling block for the church, being willing to die with him.

In John 2 there is a very interesting hint.

> John 2:19-22
> 19 Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.
> 20 Then said the Jews, Forty and six years was this temple in building, and wilt thou rear it up in three days?
> 21 But he spake of the temple of his body*.*
> 22 When therefore he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them; and they believed the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

Here He is speaking of the destruction and restoration of the temple. And it tells us this stands for the death and resurrection of the temple of his body. Could this mean the Body of Christ, the church?

The stumbling block for the Jews is Christ Crucified. That it the idea that the Messiah had to die. As Israel is a type of the church, the stumbling block for the church is that the body of Christ must die.

To be more exact the stumbling block for the Jews is Christ and him Crucified. Two ideas here. The Messiah, and the idea that Messiah has to suffer and die. For the church, the stumbling block is the Lordship of Jesus, and the idea that the church must die.

But the church is unwilling to face this because of fear. The stumbling block reflects the fear of death. Hebrews tells us this is how Satan holds us in bondage.

> Hebrews 2:14-15
> 14 Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death*, that is,* the devil*;*
> 15 And deliver them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage.

The stumbling stone is also called the corner stone, that is laid in Zion. It speaks of his death and of his lordship. For after the death, he gained all authority and power. And upon this rock, he will build the church.

> Isaiah 28:16
> 16 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation: he that believeth shall not make haste.

> 1 Peter 2:6-8
> 6 Wherefore also it is contained in the scripture, Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded.
> 7 Unto you therefore which believe he is precious: but unto them which be disobedient, the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,
> 8 And a stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence, even to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient: whereunto also they were appointed.

Note that verse 8 above mentions being disobedient as a cause of stumbling. They stumble at the word through being unwilling to obey it. This is saying in effect, being unwilling to obey it will keep you from understanding it. In John 7, Jesus speaks of revelation coming to the willing, also linking understanding with willingness.

> John 7:16-17
> 16 Jesus answered them, and said, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.
> 17 If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself.

The unwilling cannot know his will or understand his Word. Thus unwillingness produces spiritual blindness.

> Zechariah 4:6-9
> 6 Then he answered and spake unto me, saying, This is the word of the LORD unto Zerubbabel, saying, Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the LORD of hosts.
> 7 Who art thou, O great mountain? before Zerubbabel thou shalt become a plain: and he shall bring forth the headstone thereof with shoutings, crying, Grace, grace unto it.
> 8 Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,
> 9 The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house; his hands shall also finish it; and thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you.

The quote from Zechariah is talking about the same cornerstone, the foundation of the church, but it uses the term headstone. This speaks of Jesus as the head stone or chief corner stone. This is what is meant in Peter where it says the head of the corner.

Now back to Matthew 16:

> Matthew 16:16-18
> 16 And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.
> 17 And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Simon Barjona: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven.
> 18 And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

Here Peter has a Revelation Of Jesus Christ. And he sees that Jesus is Messiah and Lord. Although at that point, as we have seen, he does not yet see that Jesus must die. Then Jesus speaks of the rock, himself. He is saying He will build the church, [when it becomes willing], upon the sure foundation stone, himself.

There are a lot of theories about the fate of the church or the saints in the end times. You have Pre Trib, Mid Trib, Pre Wrath, Post Trib, etc. etc. All these put forth a catching away of the believers at some point. This totally skirts around the key issue of martyrdom. The only reason we have any of these escape theories is because of this stumbling block. We are not willing to face up to what the bible tells us.

And what does the bible say? We could list lots of references and ask you to look them up, but it’s just as easy, using computer technology to give them in full, even if it takes up a little space.

> Daniel 7:19-22
> 19 Then I would know the truth of the fourth beast, which was diverse from all the others, exceeding dreadful, whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brass; which devoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with his feet;
> 20 And of the ten horns that were in his head, and of the other which came up, and before whom three fell; even of that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake very great things, whose look was more stout than his fellows.
> *21 I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them;
> 22 Until the Ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the saints of the most High; and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom.
>
> Daniel 8:23-24
> 23 And in the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressors are come to the full, a king of fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up.
> 24 And his power shall be mighty, but not by his own power: and he shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper, and practise, and shall destroy the mighty and the holy people.
>
> Matthew 5:10-12
> 10 Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
> 11 Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake.
> 12 Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.
>
> Matthew 10:39
> 39 He that findeth his life shall lose it: and he that loseth his life for my sake shall find it.
>
> Matthew 24:9
> 9 Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake.
>
> Mark 8:35
> 35 For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, the same shall save it.
>
> Mark 10:29-30
> 29 And Jesus answered and said, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my sake, and the gospel's,
> 30 But he shall receive an hundredfold now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions; and in the world to come eternal life.
>
> Mark 10:38-39
> 38 But Jesus said unto them, Ye know not what ye ask: can ye drink of the cup that I drink of? and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?
> 39 And they said unto him, We can. And Jesus said unto them, Ye shall indeed drink of the cup that I drink of; and with the baptism that I am baptized withal shall ye be baptized:
>
> Mark 13:9-13
> 9 But take heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to councils; and in the synagogues ye shall be beaten: and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them.

10 And the gospel must first be published among all nations.
11 But when they shall lead you, and deliver you up, take no thought beforehand what ye shall speak, neither do ye premeditate: but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: for it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost.
12 Now the brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the son; and children shall rise up against their parents, and shall cause them to be put to death.
13 And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

Luke 9:24
24 For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: but whosoever will lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it.

Luke 17:33
33 Whosoever shall seek to save his life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his life shall preserve it.

Luke 21:16
16 And ye shall be betrayed both by parents, and brethren, and kinsfolks, and friends; and some of you shall they cause to be put to death*.*

John 12:25
25 He that loveth his life shall lose it; and he that hateth his life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal.

John 13:38
38 Jesus answered him, Wilt thou lay down thy life for my sake? ….

John 15:20
20 Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you*; if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also.*

Acts 9:16
16 For I will shew him how great things he must suffer for my name's sake.

Romans 8:17-18
17 And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together.
18 For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us.

Romans 8:35-39
35 Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution*, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or* sword*?*
36 As it is written, For thy sake we are killed all the day long; we are accounted as sheep for the slaughter*.*
37 Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us.
38 For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come,
39 Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Romans 12:1

1 I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice*, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.*

Romans 12:19
19 Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath: for it is written, Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord.

Romans 15:16
16 That I should be the minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles, ministering the gospel of God, that the offering up of the Gentiles might be acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost.

2 Corinthians 1:3-7
3 Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort;
4 Who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God.
5 For as the sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also aboundeth by Christ.
6 And whether we be afflicted, it is for your consolation and salvation, which is effectual in the enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and salvation.
7 And our hope of you is stedfast, knowing, that as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so shall ye be also of the consolation.

2 Corinthians 4:8-11
8 We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but not in despair;
9 Persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed;
10 Always bearing about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our body.
11 For we which live are alway delivered unto death for Jesus' sake*, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh.*

2 Timothy 3:12
12 Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution*.*

2 Timothy 2:10-12
10 Therefore I endure all things for the elect's sakes, that they may also obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory.
11 It is a faithful saying: For if we be dead with him, we shall also live with him:
12 If we suffer*, we shall also reign with him: if we deny him, he also will deny us:*

Philippians 1:29
29 For unto you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake*;*

Philippians 3:8-11
8 Yea doubtless, and I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Christ,
9 And be found in him, not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith:
10 That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings*, being made conformable unto his death;*
11 If by any means I might attain unto the resurrection of the dead.

1 Thessalonians 3:3-4
3 That no man should be moved by these afflictions: for yourselves know that we are appointed thereunto.
4 For verily, when we were with you, we told you before that we should suffer tribulation*; even as it came to pass, and ye know.*

2 Thessalonians 1:4-8
4 So that we ourselves glory in you in the churches of God for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye endure:
5 Which is a manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer:
6 Seeing it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you;
7 And to you who are troubled rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels,
8 In flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ:

How does Hebrews describe the Heroes of Faith?

Hebrews 11:35-38
35 Women received their dead raised to life again: and others were tortured, not accepting deliverance; that they might obtain a better resurrection:
36 And others had trial of cruel mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover of bonds and imprisonment:
37 They were stoned, they were sawn asunder, were tempted, were slain with the sword: they wandered about in sheepskins and goatskins; being destitute, afflicted, tormented;
38 (Of whom the world was not worthy:) they wandered in deserts, and in mountains, and in dens and caves of the earth.

1 Peter 2:20-21
20 For what glory is it, if, when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this is acceptable with God.
21 For even hereunto were ye called: because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps:

1 Peter 3:14
14 But and if ye suffer for righteousness' sake, happy are ye: and be not afraid of their terror, neither be troubled;

1 Peter 4:1
1 Forasmuch then as Christ hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves likewise with the same mind*: for he that hath suffered in the flesh hath ceased from sin;*

1 Peter 4:12-19
12 Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you:
13 But rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings*; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy.*
14 If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you: on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified.
15 But let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evildoer, or as a busybody in other men's matters.
16 Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God on this behalf.
17 For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God: and if it first begin at > us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God?

> 18 And if the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear?
> 19 Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God commit the keeping of their souls to him in well doing, as unto a faithful Creator.

> 1 John 3:16
> 16 Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.

> Revelation 2:10-11
> 10 Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death*, and I will give thee a crown of life.*
> 11 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; He that overcometh shall not be hurt of the second death.

> Revelation 6:9-11
> 9 And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of God*, and for the testimony which they held:*
> 10 And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?
> 11 And white robes were given unto every one of them; and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellowservants also and their brethren, that should be killed as they were*, should be fulfilled.*

Now here is a very crucial section for understanding this whole business.

> Revelation 12:10-11
> 10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night.
> 11 And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony; and they loved not their lives unto the death*.*

They overcome the accuser, Satan, by being willing to die. And not just being willing to die, but by dying willingly. We said earlier that Satan has the power of death, and holds men in bondage by the fear of death. God is not looking for survivors or those who want to escape. He is looking for overcomers. The overcomers here have no fear of death, because they are willing to die. And of course, this should be obvious, how do you prove or demonstrate that you have no fear of death? You do it by dying without fear!

> Revelation 13:4-7
> 4 And they worshipped the dragon which gave power unto the beast: and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? who is able to make war with him?
> 5 And there was given unto him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and power was given unto him to continue forty and two months.
> 6 And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven.
> 7 And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations.

> Revelation 17:6
> 6 And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saints*, and with the blood of* the martyrs of Jesus*: and when I saw her, I wondered with great admiration.*

> Revelation 20:4

> 4 And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgment was given unto them: and I saw the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus*, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands; and they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years.*

We have cited about 40 passages to answer this question, what does the bible say? Over and over and over and over we read about suffering, persecution and martyrdom. This is not a trivial issue here, it’s a major bible theme.

Compared to this, the escape theories have very few scriptures they draw upon. All of them will cite this next passage from Thessalonians.

> 1 Thessalonians 4:16-17
> 16 For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first:
> 17 Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord.

Now notice the words in bold here. Those who are alive and remain are caught up. What that really means is that there is a remnant that is caught up. A remnant is a tiny percentage that remain alive after all the persecution during the tribulation of those days. We’re not talking about multitudes here folks, we are talking about a few stragglers.

Let’s spell this out here. The major thrust of all these prophetic scriptures points to persecution, suffering, and martyrdom. Once we are willing to fact the facts, bite the bullet or whatever. We will see that all these escape theories are nothing more than obvious fraud.
The blessed hope of the church is the resurrection of the dead at the return of Christ.

So how do we get past this stumbling block? What does it take to transform the believer into an obedient servant? There are a couple of ways to express it.
One is Grace! Another is the perfect love of God, imparted to us bye the Holy Spirit poured out in the last days. For perfect love casts out all fear. Another way to say it is found in the title of the last book The Revelation of Jesus Christ.

Can you see how Paul is a type of the last days church? Here you have a guy who was extremely religious, and naturally he was doing the typical religious thing. That is he was persecuting those he didn’t agree with. And so you find him on the road to Damascus, [a type of the world], following the way of the world. Then something special happened.

Paul had a Revelation Of Jesus Christ on the road to Damascus.

> Acts 9:3-6
> 3 And as he journeyed, he came near Damascus: and suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven:
> 4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?
> 5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest: it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.
> 6 And he trembling and astonished said, Lord, what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do.

After that he was totally transformed into an obedient servant of the Lord. The evidence is right there in his words, “Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?
He learns directly from the Spirit of God, and goes through all the world preaching. Finally, the persecution catches up with him and he is ready and willing to face martyrdom. He obeys Romans 12:1 and offers himself a living sacrifice. This is exactly the pattern that the end time church will go through.

> 2 Timothy 4:6-8
> 6 For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand.
> 7 I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith:
> 8 Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing.

This long passage from Peter deals with faith, and the salvation to be revealed, and ties it in with Grace and the revelation of Jesus Christ.

> 1 Peter 1:3-13
> 3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead,
> 4 To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you,
> 5 Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time*.*
> 6 Wherein ye greatly rejoice, though now for a season, if need be, ye are in heaviness through manifold temptations:
> 7 That the trial of your faith*, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise and honour and glory at the appearing of Jesus Christ:*
> 8 Whom having not seen, ye love; in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory:
> 9 Receiving the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls.
> 10 Of which salvation the prophets have enquired and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you:
> 11 Searching what, or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did signify, when it testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ, and the glory that should follow.
> 12 Unto whom it was revealed, that not unto themselves, but unto us they did minister the things, which are now reported unto you by them that have preached the gospel unto you with the Holy Ghost sent down from heaven; which things the angels desire to look into.
> 13 Wherefore gird up the loins of your mind, be sober, and hope to the end for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ;

Finally on the topic of willingness, Psalm 110 mentions this happening in the day of His Power.

> Psalms 110:3
> 3 Thy people shall be willing in the day of thy power, in the beauties of holiness from the womb of the morning: thou hast the dew of thy youth.

And the Day of His power is what we see here in Revelation 12.

> Revelation 12:10-11
> 10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation*, and strength, and* the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night.
> 11 And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony; and they loved not their lives unto the death*.*

Tsunami
Walter Flecther

"Thus says the LORD, Who gives the sun for a light by day, The ordinances of the moon and the stars for a light by night, Who disturbs the sea, and its waves roar (The LORD of hosts is His name): "Behold, the days are coming, says the LORD, that the city shall be built for the LORD- from the Tower of Hananel to the Corner Gate. The surveyor's line shall again extend straight forward over the hill Gareb; then it shall turn toward Goath.
And the whole valley of the dead bodies and of the ashes, and all the fields as far as the Brook Kidron, to the corner of the Horse Gate toward the east, shall be holy to the LORD. It shall not be plucked up or thrown down anymore forever."
(Jeremiah 31:35, 38-40)

A spiritual Tsunami is approaching your shoreline! Are you moving to higher ground in God for safety? Are you prepared to be a part of the Rescue and Recovery team? Are you being equipped and ready to use your gifts to help rebuild a city for God?

The recent, tragic scenes of the aftermath of the destructive force of the waves of the Tsunami in South Asia have brought global attention and compassionate relief from around the world. Many have asked the question, "Did God send the Tsunami?" This question does not go deep enough to understand this global awakening event. The question better posed should be, "What does God have to say to me in the midst of this tidal wave event?" The answer is that God is on the move.

Whenever we come to a new time or season in God in the earth, it is often announced with great "sudden" events. These events sometimes are displayed in nature. For example, a sudden event took place on the Day of Pentecost (Acts 2). The Holy Spirit was poured out from heaven upon a hundred and twenty people in an upper room. It was accompanied by "a mighty rushing wind", "tongues of fire" resting upon each in the room, and what they spoke was being heard in different languages from around the world. This provoked the onlookers to ask, "What does this mean?" Simon Peter stands up with the other apostles and announces, "This is what was spoken by the prophet Joel:

"And it shall come to pass in the last days, says God, That I will pour out of My Spirit on all flesh; Your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, Your young men shall see visions, Your old men shall dream dreams.
And on My menservants and on My maidservants I will pour out My Spirit in those days; And they shall prophesy. I will show wonders in heaven above And signs in the earth beneath: Blood and fire and vapor of smoke. The sun shall be turned into darkness, And the moon into blood, Before the coming of the great and awesome day of the Lord.
And it shall come to pass That whoever calls on the name of the Lord Shall be saved." (Acts 2:16-20)

Notice that Peter declares what the prophet Joel said would happen in the last days. God would use signs in the heavens ("Sun" and "Moon") and in the earth ("Blood"... "fire and smoke") in order to warn of a day coming of ultimate judgment But also this warning would be to awaken a people to the possibility of their day of redemption, "Whoever calls on the name of the LORD shall be saved." The ultimate goal of God is never destruction but our salvation. "God takes no pleasure in the death of the wicked". And again, "The Lord is longsuffering; not wishing that any should perish. But that they should repent and be saved".

Yes, the recent events of the Tsunami are announcing that God is on the move! And all who will hear and heed this warning will prepare to learn the lessons it offers. The first lesson was that of the price of unpreparedness. Hours after the horrible destruction, the question that was repeatedly asked around the world was, "Why was there no prior warning that a Tsunami was approaching?"
There was no one who was alert to the danger that within seconds would remove whole towns and villages. There were no mechanisms in place to sound an alarm for the people to move to higher elevations away from the deadly fury of the waves that were about to crash upon their shores. People, families, houses and businesses...Gone in sixty seconds (Or less!). The great irony of this tragedy is that there was equipment and monitoring devices developed which could have given warning. But they were not in place.

Likewise, from a spiritual standpoint, I believe this is a warning to God's leaders and His people. There is much unpreparedness in the Body of Christ. The unmanned watchtowers, as it were, for prayer and intercession are a portent of our condition. Where are the prophets who will lift their voices as it were like trumpets to alert of danger and the need to prepare? God is about to move in another "Suddenly"! There is a new wave coming upon the earth. It will be the greatest move of God known in history. It is rapidly approaching. But, Alas! Many of God's people are asleep. They are not ready to hear His warning nor respond when His wave hits the shoreline of their life.

Nations are being weighed in the balance. The shift of the plates in the earth causing these massive tidal waves and earthquakes are the birth pains of nations. The End-time harvest of souls is upon us. Awake!

Another lesson that we glean is the fact that there is a call to unity. Nations from around the world came together in unprecedented ways to help in Search and Rescue efforts. In addition they are sending food, water, medicine and other supplies to the people who are most affected.

In the same way, God's people must come together for action. We must lay aside all competition and divisiveness in our ranks and unite behind the Cross of Jesus Christ to rescue the lost and care for the spiritually dying around us.

Again, a lesson observed was the way in which strategic planning was implemented. Skilled surveyors went ahead to see and assess the damage and give instructions to those coming as to what it would take for clean up and restoration efforts to be effective in order to save the most lives.

The Surveyor ministries of apostles and prophets are needed as never before today. They are the eyes and ears of the Body of Christ. They must see and hear and rightly understand the times that are upon us. Then they must faithfully declare to God's people what they've seen and heard so that appropriate action can be taken. We cannot afford to exclude nor marginalize these voices in the Body any longer. They have been given to the Body (As well as Evangelist, Pastors and Teachers) to help train, equip and establish the people of God for the days that are upon us. Through apostolic and prophetic teams spiritual wisdom, insight and scriptural knowledge must be given in order that plans for rescue, restoration and the advance of God's kingdom in the earth.

The Tsunami has caused the process of new infrastructures. Many of these hardest hit nations (Which were often resistant to the Gospel of Jesus Christ) are now opening their doors. They not only are welcoming natural compassion relief efforts but also the message of spiritual hope which many Christian organizations and ministries bring. All who are able to hear this "Macedonian" call are to prepare themselves for new orders from heaven. They must go where doors are opening; to where the spiritual ground is being plowed to receive the seed of life. We can no longer sweep our porch only and feel unaffected or unmoved by the needs of our neighbor. The needs around the world are suddenly now on our doorstep.

We are citizens of the kingdom of God. The ultimate rescue, restoration and rebuilding of lives is our willingness, as a kingdom mandate, to serve as the hands and feet of Jesus.

God loves to redeem that which is lost. God wants to rebuild His city in the very place where the ashes of destruction remain. In this new season of strong and destructive waves, we are not to fear. We are to sound the alarm, lifting our voice and proclaim,

"The acceptable year of the LORD, And the day of vengeance of our God; To comfort all who mourn, To console those who mourn in Zion, To give them beauty for ashes, The oil of joy for mourning, The garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; That they may be called trees of righteousness, The planting of the LORD, that He may be glorified." (Isaiah 61:2-3).

© 2005 Walter Fletcher
(wfletcherdri@hotmail.com)
Desert Rivers International

Tsunami
David Davenport

(Revised/Updated October 1, 2004)
[Dear Bill:

I trust this note finds you abounding in peace, joy, and affirmation of the "work of your hands." This despite present global turmoil.

A few years ago you posted one of my essays entitled, Tsunami. This essay was originally posted by The Apostolic-Prophetic Resource as well as Christian Surfer's International about the same time frame.

Nearly two months ago I felt strongly compelled to add-to, update and revise the original essay, and to re-circulate it, which I did--to fellow surfers around the globe.

As you might imagine, as I then watched the events unfold regarding the massive Tsunami's in Asia, I became emotionally numb--for several hours. I began to receive emails from those who had read my most recent reissue of Tsunami. Following these responses, I felt it would severe the Body abroad to begin to submit this word to venues such as yours.

I have attached the copy of Tsunami that I re-circulated in early October (10/01/04). I do believe it will speak timely relevance to many, in light of what transpired a few days ago.

On a related note; it is very interesting to consider that exactly one year prior (12/26/2003) a massive earthquake killed 26,000 in Bam, Iran. These two events were just 58 minutes from being precisely one year apart (00:58AM versus 01:56AM)--both on the 26th of December.

Sincerely,
David Davenport]

Tsunami
David Davenport

> “Those who go down to the sea in ships,
> Who do business on great waters,
> They see the works of the Lord,
> And His wonders in the deep.
> For He commands and raises the stormy wind,
> Which lifts up the waves of the sea.
> They mount up to the heavens,
> They go down again to the depths;”
> Psalm 107:23-26(a)

Recently I spent a full day surfing the Folly Beach "Washout" (outskirts of Charleston, South Carolina—my hometown). I usually limit my water-time to two hours or so, every few days. Yet on this day the waves were perfect—glassy, head-high, and peeling left and right, forming the makings of the oft-allusive tube.

I receive much spiritual renewal and revelation while sitting on my board between sets, especially at sunrise as the yellow-orange tip of the sun begins to peek over the horizon. The Lord visits me during these times in unique ways.

This brand of meeting between He and I began back in my Navy days, twenty five years ago, wherein I often manned the helm (steering wheel, on the bridge of the ship) 'round the clock, while underway. It was a grueling schedule. Often times the only ingredient that kept me awake in the midst of my watch at the helm, was that of the terror generated by storm swells that surpassed 65 feet at times. On several occasions during such storms in the North Atlantic, our ship pitched into 45 degree rolls, at which point my hands were no longer on the helm, rather they were tightly clasping an overhead “monkey bar” while my feet dangled a few inches above the deck.

Deep in the night, when all I could hear was the low drone of the engines below, as well as the glassy wake peeling from the hull of the ship, the Lord would visit me and beckon me to Him.

Over the years since then, and largely through roughly twenty-five years of surfing activity, He continues to flood my senses with prophetic analogies while in and on the water.

Recently I received the most vivid wave-dream of my life. I have actually been receiving such dreams and visions for many years. But this dream was so vivid and gripping that I was still responding to the dream as I awakened.

A prelude to the sharing of this dream; I wish to allude to a timely excerpt of scripture. Interestingly enough it is found in the Book of Job. It reads as follows:

“God may speak in one way, or in another, yet man does not perceive it. In a dream, in a vision of the night, when deep sleep falls upon men, while slumbering on their beds, then He opens the ears of men, and seals their instruction” (Job 33:14-16).

Clearly there is not much commentary necessary for this excerpt of scripture, to in turn convince the reader that God does in fact, and quite often, choose to speak to us—through dreams, for there is no subsequent point in scripture that indicates that He has ceased to speak to us in this way.

I once engaged in an exhaustive exegetical study of the frequency of dreams throughout scripture. I was overwhelmed not only by the frequency in which dreams are found in scripture, but also by the seriousness with which the dream recipients approached the interpretation of such.

In the dream in question, I had been surfing six to eight foot waves. Just as I had paddled back to the beach for a break, I looked back to see a most beautiful and majestic set of enormous waves heading rapidly toward shore. What shocked me about these waves was not only their perfect symmetry and beauty, but that they were going to break onshore and wipe out roughly one hundred surfers who stood still in amazement, transfixed upon the approaching waves.

The word I believe I heard whispered to me by the Holy Spirit just as I awakened from this dream, was: "It's coming."

Nearly as ancient as the language itself, the Japanese word “tsunami” is that of two words combined: “tsu” (harbor) and “nami” (wave). The word therefore means literally, “harbor wave.”

Tsunamis are generated by substantial seismic activity often beneath the ocean’s surface, an occurrence known as a seaquake. Sub-surface volcanic activity as well as *earth*quakes can also produce tsunamis. Tsunamis can conceivably travel upwards to 550 miles per hour beneath the surface of the water, losing speed as they approach land, yet mounting in wave height to 100 feet or greater upon impact.

History reveals numerous accounts of towering tsunamis that have destroyed entire coastal communities. One of the oldest accounts of record (hand written, on parchment) dates back to 365 AD, recorded by the historian Ammianus Marcellinus, as that which occurred on an early morning in Alexandria Egypt.

On this day a massive earthquake shook the entire city. The earthquake toppled hundreds of buildings. Shortly following the earthquake, the ocean shore alarmingly retreated as far as the eye could see. In a state of shock following the earthquake, hundreds of people staggered toward the beach to witness a surreal display as thousands of enormous sea creatures lay flailing about on the miry ocean floor, abandoned by the watery home they knew only a short time previous. Hundreds of onlookers made their way out and into the mire, to touch with their bare hands the shocking display of stranded sea life. Shortly following, and within a timeframe that was not specified, a tsunami appeared on the horizon and raged toward shore. The wave completely enveloped not only the hundreds of ocean-bottom explorers, yet nearly destroyed the entire city of Alexandria, leaving a death toll of an estimated 50,000 people in its path. It is estimated that by the time the tsunami reached the Alexandrian shore it towered at 150 feet—or larger. Many large seagoing vessels were later found a number of miles inland, with some resting atop buildings. Archeological research within the 20th century has time and again confirmed the nearly unbelievable proportions of Marcellinus' report, as fact.

In my brief lifetime I have observed an unyielding pattern between natural events and subsequent spiritual activity. I now harbor no question as to the theory that most natural phenomenon, to certainly include natural disasters of catastrophic proportions, are indeed that designed to gain the attention of mankind, and do in fact contain spiritual repercussions that reverberate in the form of figurative wave upon wave of Kingdom activity—on earth (i.e., "…on earth, as it is in heaven…").

At this point the reader may find it sobering to know that at the time the devastating tsunami hit Alexandria Egypt in 365 AD, the city had become a celebrated host of the region's largest concentration of cosmological teachers of philosophy, astrology, sorcery and atheism.

On Good Friday, March 27, 1965 at 5:36PM, an earthquake which to date is the largest recorded in North America, measuring 9.2 on the Richter scale, hit just west of Valdez along the Alaskan coast. Not long following, a series of waves measuring 90 feet in height pummeled the coastline destroying countless boats, homes and shanty businesses. What many mariners and oceanographic researchers do not know to date, is that shortly following, countless numbers of small rural churches throughout the region were consumed in a fiery visitation of the Holy Spirit; a visitation which quickly rolled like lava through Oregon and into California, ultimately making its way into southern California to rest upon a small Episcopal church in Van Nuys. As it did so, it lit a fire under an Episcopal rector named Dennis Bennett. The annals of contemporary church history now yield that Bennett gave birth to what is referred to as the Charismatic Movement or Charismatic Renewal—which quickly swept the nation. This movement, within the context of a study of church history in the United States within the 20th century, is largely considered the "Second Wave" of significant Holy Spirit visitation (sandwiched between the Azusa St. Revival of the early 1900s, and the outpouring of signs and wonders in and through the Vineyard movement, which began to impact nationally and beyond, in the early 1980s).

In the late 70's, a period that also paralleled my late teenage years (I was born in 1960), a number of storms generating large waves pummeled the California coastline. The storms damaged many beautiful fishing piers that had colorful and wonderful histories to them. Having been raised in Southern California, I personally surfed below, next to, and even through a number of these piers.

During one such storm, I believe it was 1977, my beloved Huntington Beach pier was hammered, and a sizeable end-section of the pier was destroyed. To have seen the Huntington Beach pier prior to the storm, one could not imagine the pier sustaining such damage, as it is of the most formidable structures among piers.

On one evening during this storm, perhaps a matter of 24 hours prior to the pier sustaining critical damage, and while lacking common sense, judgment, wisdom and relative sanity, I paddled-out in "black ball" conditions, and into the line-up in what I thought were 12 foot faces (it had been in the 12 foot-face range most of the day and early evening). I recall vividly, walking along the north side of the pier as I approached the water on this evening, and with wetsuit dawned and board under arm I watched the huge faces aglow under the large dome lights on the pier. The waves radiated an eerie translucent green as they reached toward the sky, and came very close to the lights themselves. On this evening the late Peter Crawford was ripping right next to the pier, and actually shooting the pier. If there are measurable degrees of insanity, his was tipping the scales on this night. However some would simply call it “drive.” I choose to call it so.

As I paddled out it was about 01:00 a.m., under a full moon, and at high tide. The light cast by the full moon illuminated the waves in such a way that the small group of us surfing had surprising visibility. I was among not more then maybe ten other’s out at the time. I believe we wound up surfing 'till about 04:00 a.m., at which point the waves began to violently closeout and dump hard as the result of a sharp shift in wind direction.

On this night, I recall sitting on my board, looking out into the deep, and seeing massive dark walls approaching. The primary means by which we negotiated the height of the waves was that provided by the phosphorus glow of the crests, illuminated by the moonlight as they feathered and pitched in response to multidirectional winds. It was an awesome, majestic, terrifying and yet exhilarating sight. And with my heart in my throat and the rapid approach of a wave that appeared to tower near 20 feet in height, I would repeatedly charge down the face in a near vertical descent with such speed that I could hardly see. I was riding a very sleek, 7’ 2” Bruce Jones board shaped for speed and stability in big waves. Once reaching the bottom of the face, I would have so much momentum and force that I would rocket completely horizontal (bottom-turn), pump the face a few times, and shoot back up the face nearly the same speed that I descended, and do what I then called a "kamikaze flyaway," wherein me and my board would launch off the top of the wave—flying through the air and over it's backside—to avoid getting pounded by the ultimate close-out of the wave. At times it felt as if I flew 8 feet above the top of the wave during my fly-aways.

It was not until I paddled-in at roughly 04:00 a.m. that I discovered a Coast Guard report indicating that the waves had actually risen to a consistent height of*15 feet*, which equated to 18 foot or larger faces.

In addition to an increase in storm-swell size on this evening, the gravitational pull of a full moon had created increased wave height.

During this session in particular, I began to sense something in the prophetic, which was actually long before I began to gain relative understanding of prophetic elements within scripture.

Luke 21:8-11 reads, “The time has drawn near…when you hear of wars and commotions, do not be terrified…nation will rise against nation and kingdom against kingdom…there will be great earthquakes in various places, and famines and pestilences; and there will be fearful sights and great signs from heaven.”

This excerpt of scripture is among countless verses in scripture that refer to the signs before us as the End Times march rapidly toward climax. Equally so, the panoramic plethora of world events and natural phenomena that have steadily mounted over the past few years, and within this year alone, surpass the best of the action-movies being generated by Hollywood presently. Within such natural phenomena is that of the steady yet subtle mounting of wave height around the globe. I suspect that many present surfing crusaders would argue that the waves have always been this big, and that rather we’re only now discovering them. Yet in truth, the vast majority of the mega-wave venues have never before produced such size. Historical oceanographic data proves this. Equally so, the regional weather patterns that ultimately produce these waves have never before been so erratic and unpredictable. This as well validated by historical meteorological data.

At the time of this writing, within the surf culture we find that many men and several women are charging down the faces of waves in excess of 60 feet in height, and often approaching or surpassing 80 feet in height.

On January 28, 1998, at the age of 46, Ken Bradshaw (a native Texan), rode the largest wave ever ridden on record, at a break known as “Outer Log Cabins,” off the North Shore of Hawaii. The wave face measured an astonishing 85 feet. Bradshaw’s ride was filmed via helicopter and is featured in the I-Max production, “Extreme.”

In February 1998 Taylor Knox rode a 52-foot wave at a break named "Todos Santos," very near the shore of Baja California, directly west of Ensenada. Until this date big wave riders had been unaware that Todos would hold such size. Todos has since generated waves pushing 60 foot-plus.

On January 12, 2001, World Champion female surfer Lane Beachley and fellow female big wave surfer Malia Kamisugi (an orthodontist, sharing a successful practice with her father in Hawaii) descended wave faces in the 50 to 60 foot range at Outer Log Cabins. Their collective performance on this day served notice to the boys that the "No Fear" slogan is now equally adopted by both sexes. The wave riding on this date by Beachley and Kamisugi proved that pound-for-pound, female surfers are equally willing and able to challenge "the unridden zone."

In the Spring of 2001 Californian big wave surfer Mike Parsons was awarded $60,000 for riding the largest wave of the 2000/2001 Winter season; a wave-face that measured an estimated 66 feet in height. This break, known as "Cortez Bank," is that of a submerged mountain range in the middle of the ocean, located approximately 100 miles west of San Diego California. At one point in this area, it is said that a mountaintop is but three feet below the surface of the water. Mariners for many decades have avoided this area, while reporting what appear to be waves "…the size of skyscrapers." Surfers often scoffed at their stories—until recently, for fresh film footage reveals that as massive ocean swells approach these submerged peaks, they jack-up and into the 70 foot-plus faces, which are now being surfed.

Not long after Parson's award wining ride, Peter Mel and Daryl "Flea" Virostko rode 58 to 64 footers at a break named "Maverick's," located roughly 20 minutes south of San Francisco, and an area known by mariners as Half Moon Bay. An interesting bit of trivia yields that the surf-spot met with its name back in the 1950's, as one of the very few who secretly surfed the spot owned a German Shepherd named "Maverick." The dog, owned by a surfer named "Alex," it is said, would swim out to the line-up with surfers and lodge itself partially on one of their boards to gain rest for a few minutes between wave sets, would frolic in the water a moment, and then swim back to shore, repeating the process throughout the day.

Not long following the 58 to 64-footers ridden by Mel and Virostko, Ross Clarke-Jones descended the face of a wave on the North Shore of Hawaii (Outer Log Cabins) which measured an estimated 65 feet on the face. During this same period, Laird Hamilton (esteemed by many in the sport to be the greatest waterman alive) was filmed descending several 70 foot-plus waves at "Jaws" (north coast of Maui). Several of Hamilton's rides on film over the past year or so appear to be that closer to or exceeding the 80-foot range.

On November 21st of 2001, several Mavericks' "hellions" charged into 65 to 80-foot faces for a period of roughly 2 to 4 hours. On this day, Brazilian big wave veteran Carlos Burle tucked into a barrel that witnesses said began with a wave face of at least 80 feet. Many believe this to be the biggest barrel ever successfully negotiated. It was also reported on the same day, that as late afternoon sets rolled-in following the surfers' mass exit from the water due to "unridable" conditions, they witnessed what was reported to be several 80 to 90-foot sets, followed by the now infamous 100-foot set—an occurrence which has eternally labeled this day as "The Real Big Wednesday." The waves in fact pounded the ocean bottom with such force that seismographs were sent into erratic readings in nearby San Francisco, which in turn sent scientists scurrying to this surf spot to witness the phenomenon.

On this afternoon Shawn Alladio, a 40-year-old female water rescue specialist, who has personally trained Marine and Coast Guard groups in water rescue techniques, entered the water on a Yamaha 1200cc Wave Runner, accompanied by 19 year old Jonathan Cahill (one of her understudies) on a second Wave Runner. Alladio had paced herself earlier in the day, so as to conserve strength for the expected peak in wave action in the late afternoon, which was forecasted with precision by veteran big wave rider and local surf shop owner Jeff Clark. Her restraint proved to be wisdom that saved her life.

Somewhere between 3:00PM and 4:00PM a number sets marched through like freight trains. To this point Alladio and Cahill had managed to race over smaller sections of the waves a good distance from the wave peaks. Following one of these monster-sets, and as Alladio and Cahill locked eyes in astonishment over the mounting size of the waves, Alladio looked toward the horizon to see a dark ridge that appeared initially to be a wall of fog. She looked left and right panning the horizon as far as she could see. She studied this dark wall for a few seconds and then noticed the top of the dark wall beginning to "feather." Instinctively, she turned to her partner Cahill, and with her Wave Runner pointed directly at the dark wall yelled, "Go! Go! Go!" At which point she throttled her Wave Runner to maximum and charged directly toward the face of what she realized was the largest wave she had ever seen. An expert in hydrology, Cahill later recounted that in a fraction of a second, she had guessed that the approaching wave had to be traveling at 60 to 65MPH. The maximum speed of her Wave Runner was that of 65MPH. She therefore concluded that she would likely not outrun this behemoth of a wave. Rather, she chose to face it head on, and to ride over it before it broke in the impact-zone, where Alladio and Cahill had sat moments prior.

To the observers on land, among them Ross Clarke-Jones (a world renowned big wave rider), said the two ascended the wave faces almost completely vertical, and then free-fell an estimated 50 feet behind them, to regroup and charge all five of the approaching waves within the monster-set.

Alladio and Cahill later recounted their emotions during these critical moments. Alladio was quoted as saying that mysteriously, her thought processes and emotions were turned to the "off" position, and her instincts (honed through 1000s of hours of training) completely took over and led her to do what needed to be done to survive.

Alladio and Cahill, following their successful clearing of the 5 monster-waves, cut the engines on their Wave Runners and sat bobbing in the water in silence for several minutes in an effort to regain their mental and emotional faculties. They stared at each other in shock and disbelief over what had just happened. For in their estimation the waves they ascended had to be near or at the 100-foot mark. It can therefore be stated for the record, albeit unofficially, that the "largest wave ever ridden" was that by Shawn Alladio and Jonathan Cahill, on Wave Runners, and going in the opposite direction of the wave.

Among the dozens of witnesses to the events of this day, were Joe Sienkiewicz of the National Weather Service and Greg and Cary Smith, deputies of the Harbor Patrol at Half Moon Bay harbor. Sienkiewicz and the two Smith's had until this date witnessed many life threatening days in the surf. However the events on this date surpassed anything they had witnessed throughout their collective careers.

At the time of this writing numerous surfing spots around the globe are producing mammoth wave heights, which continue to subtly and steadily mount. This dynamic is generally unknown to the world at large, with the exception of the surfing sub-culture. And what is more mind boggling than the increasing size of these waves, is the rarity of serious injury and/or fatalities among these big wave riders.

This may present a theological stretch for some; but recently while in prayer, I asked the Lord very pointedly: "Lord, how is it that so many of these professing non-Christian surfers can charge into the very jaws of death, in surfing conditions that are potentially fatal in more ways than one, day in and day out, year 'round, and I rarely hear of fatalities?"

The Lord then replied to me in this way: "Because they're My wave riders."

When I heard this, emotion overwhelmed me, as at this moment He enabled me to be overcome by a small dose of His love, mercy and compassion toward these lost souls as He spoke this to me. The impression I received was that He is actually so amused, entertained and delighted by watching these surfers so appreciate and enjoy His creation, that He showers His grace over them, granting them systematic revelation of His nature, solely through their experiences in these mountains of water.

Equally mind-boggling is the rate at which these "wave riders" are meeting the Lord—this often through no evangelistic efforts in the classical sense. Rather, through the raw presence of God manifested in the majesty of these waves.

Consider this excerpt of scripture:

"The wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who suppress the truth in unrighteousness, because that which is known about God is evident within them; for God made it evident to them. For since the creation of the world His invisible attributes, His eternal power and divine nature, have been clearly seen, being understood through what has been made, so that they are without excuse" (Romans 1:18-20).

"His power and...nature have been clearly seen...through what has been made."

A few years ago ESPN aired the Action Sports Awards, during which Laird Hamilton was awarded “Feat of The Year.” For earlier in the year Laird had surfed one of the most dangerous (single) waves in surfing history. What made this wave so dangerous (in Teahupo’o Tahiti) was that in addition to an estimated 30 foot-plus face, the wave (lip) itself pitched the same distance outward, and equally sported 30 feet in thickness. The wave tubed several feet below sea level, sucking Laird into an extremely dangerous position, creating very strong odds for a potentially fatal wipeout, as not more than 4 feet below the surface lay deadly lava formations. A wave of this symmetry produces literally 100s of tons of bone-crushing energy and strength.

When handed the award, Laird stated in effect, the following: "I believe that the sole reason that I have been granted this microphone, is so that I could say to millions of extreme sports fans, that Jesus Christ is my Lord and Savior*, and He enabled me to pull-off that ride, so that I could stand before you and attest to His saving grace and goodness."*

With that, and with silence that seemed to make time stand still, Laird stepped down from the podium. Seconds later, the crowd stood to their feet and roared with applause.

As of the writing of this article Billabong surf apparel has sponsored and formed the Billabong Odyssey—a task force of big wave riders who are searching the globe for a chance to ride a 100-foot wave.

As I reflect upon the truly awesome wave activity around the globe presently, as well as that of recent oceanographic predictions of tsunami's along the East and West coasts, I receive a strong impression that God's Holy visitation, in terms of the Final Harvest, is fast approaching.

Admittedly, to know the surf culture, and especially the younger crowd, is to know some of the most aggressive, arrogant and obnoxious beings on the planet. Much of this meanness is fueled by learned behavior within the surf culture and compounded by overcrowded surf spots laden with selfish and hostile territorialism. And to see such aggressiveness showered with such grace and love in these times is to attest to God's goodness in His "willing that none should perish."

Scripture says that we "see in part," and that we "look as through a glass, darkly." And so my perspective in matters tsunami is but a small part of what I believe to be transpiring globally, relative to the heightened frequency of natural disasters and the prophetic implications therein.

In the natural, there presently lies the very real potential for record-breaking tsunamis on many coastlines around the globe. Recent oceanographic predictions include alarming reports of ocean shelf activity—activity with subsequent implications that far surpass any events on record. Equally so, in the spiritual realm, I believe there are waves coming that will sweep the unsaved off their feet, and for the ride of their lives.

Every Believer I've talked to this year has shared of an "inner cleansing" taking place—a call to purity, holiness and right standing before the Lord. We're being consumed in a wave of cleansing—a baptism like none other. And it's for the sole purpose of moving into places of darkness in order to rescue the lost. Judgment begins in the Lord’s house, and this call to purity that has so been voiced appears to be the very preparation of the Bride for the final harvest.

In the past year alone I have been overwhelmed by the accessibility to the surf culture. By this I mean that fellow surfers, yet total strangers, with increased frequency are approaching me for the sake of casual conversation on the beach. As I then interact, I see the growing flame of hunger deep within them. This flame of hunger is that of the Holy Spirit Himself, stirring the souls of these “wave riders,” and calling them to Him.

Lighthouses illuminate the dark, gloomy, formidable and cold storms. And so we must be like lighthouses, full of light and standing as beacons, pointing the way to the One.

David Davenport is a graduate of MorningStar School of Ministry, Charlotte, NC, and ordained by MorningStar Fellowship of Ministries. David and his wife Gigi are former pastors of Shiloh Chapel, James Island, SC. You may contact David at the following email address: MustPressOn@aol.com

The Time And The Season

Terry Suggs

This is the word that I received from the Lord this morning in prayer about the time we are experiencing now.

The signs are telling you the time and the season of My return. I AM coming back soon to take you home with Me.

I Thessalonians 5:1-2, 4, 17-20

But as to the suitable times and the precise seasons and dates, brethren, you have no necessity for anything being written to you.

For you yourselves know perfectly well that the day of the return of the Lord will come as unrepentantly and suddenly as a thief in the night.

But you are not in (given up to the power of) darkness, brethren, for that day to overtake you by surprise like a thief.

Be unceasing in prayer (praying perseveringly);

Thank God in everything no matter what the circumstances may be, be thankful and give thanks, for this is the will of God for you (who are in Christ Jesus (the Revealer and Mediator of that will).

Do not quench (suppress or subdue) the Holy Spirit.

Do not spurn the gifts and utterances of the prophets (do not depreciate prophetic revelations nor despise inspired instruction or exhortation or warning.

We know the season by the earthquakes, the floods and the waves roaring, as well as the evil deeds of men at this time.

Only our Father God knows the day and the hour.

They Are Waiting For You

Terry Suggs

Jesus said “now take up your cross and follow Me.”

The cross of Jesus that we are to take is a selfless life style, controlled by and unconditional love for the people around us. It is a self sacrificing life style; Putting others first.

The life we have in us now is in the perfect sinless, immortal blood of Christ.

The life is in the blood.

When God hears us pray or talk or speak to sickness or a situation, He hears it through the blood of Jesus. When we sing spiritual songs and hymns, He hears it through the perfect, sinless and immortal blood of Jesus.

It is heard as if Jesus is talking to Him, because His righteousness is imputed to us through the finished work of the cross or through His blood.

God has adopted us into the family.

All there is in God for us is signs, wonders, miracles, creativity and unconditional love.

Jesus is our eternal life. Eternal life for us is not just a length of days or time, It is life in Jesus.

Acts 17:27-29

And He made from one (common origin, one source, one blood) all nations of men to settle on the face of the earth, having definitely determined their allotted periods of time and the fixed boundaries of their habitation (their settlements, lands, and abodes),

So that they should seek God, in the hope that they might feel after Him and find Him, although He is not far from each one of us.

For in Him we live move and have our being; as even some of your (own) poets have said , For we are also His offspring.

Since then we are God's offspring, we ought not to suppose that Deity (the Godhead) is like gold or silver or stone, (of the nature of) a representation by human art and imagination, or anything constructed or invented.

II Corinthians 5:16-17

Consequently, from now on we estimate and regard no one from a purely human point of view (in terms of natural standards of value). (No) even though we once did estimate Christ from a human viewpoint and as a man, yet now (we have such knowledge of Him that) we know Him no longer (in terms of the flesh).

Therefore if any person is ingrafted in Christ (the Messiah) he is a new creature altogether; the old previous moral and spiritual condition has passed away. The old person died with the old limited carnal nature. Behold, the fresh and new has come!

I Corinthians 3:3-4

For your are still (unspiritual, having the nature) of the flesh (under the control of ordinary impulses). Living in the limited sensory realm of the flesh.

For as long as there are envying and jealousy and wrangling and factions among you, are you not unspiritual and of the flesh or limited sensory unrenewed mind set, behaving yourselves after a limited human standard and like mere unchanged men? When you are really a brand new creature in Christ you are not in the limited fleshly and sensory realm any longer.

For when one says, I belong to Paul, and another, I belong to Apollos, are you not (proving yourselves) ordinary (unchanged, limited, unrenewed creatures in Christ) men?

I Corinthians 1:9, 30

God IS Faithful (reliable, trustworthy, and therefore ever true to His promise, and He can be depended on); by Him you were called into companionship and participation with His Son, Jesus Christ our Lord.

But it is from Him that you have your life in Christ Jesus, Whom God made our Wisdom from God, and revealed to us a knowledge of the divine plan of salvation previously hidden, manifesting itself as our Righteousness (thus making us up right and putting us in right standing with God), and our Consecration (making us pure and holy) (freeing us from a performance based religion), and our Redemption (providing our ransom from eternal penalty for sin).

I Corinthians 2:8

NONE OF THE RULERS OF THIS AGE OR WORLD PERCEIVED AND RECOGNIZED AND UNDERSTOOD THIS, FOR IF THEY HAD, THEY WOULD NEVER HAVE CRUCIFIED THE LORD

OF GLORY.

The satanic spirits and satan did not know that Jesus would multiply Himself through us.

I Corinthians 6:17

But the person who is united to the Lord becomes one spirit with Him.

II Corinthians 5:17

For we walk by faith, not by sight or appearance.

Romans 8:30, 38-39

And those whom He thus foreordained, He also called; and those whom He called He also justified (acquitted, made righteous, putting them into right standing with Himself). And those whom He justified, He also glorified (raising them to a heavenly dignity and condition or state of being).

For I am persuaded beyond doubt (am sure) that neither death nor life, nor angels nor principalities, nor things impending and threatening nor things to come, nor powers, nor height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation will be able to separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Romans 8:17

We are heirs of God and Joint heirs with Jesus sharing His inheritance.

Romans 8:19

All creation is waiting to see the manifestation of the sons of God so that it too can be released from the decay and corruption brought in by the fall of man (Adam).

Philippians 3:3

For we (Christians) are the true circumcision, who worship God in spirit and by the Spirit of God and exult and glory and pride ourselves in Jesus Christ, and put no confidence or dependence (on what we are) in the flesh and on outward privileges and physical advantages and external appearances.

Galatians 2:20

I have been crucified with Christ (in Him I have shared His crucifixion);

It is no longer I who live, but Christ (the Messiah) lives in me; and the life I now live in the body I live by the faith adherence to and reliance on and complete trust in) the Son of God, Who loved me and gave Himself up for me.

Galatians 3:26

For in Christ Jesus you are all sons of God through faith.

Galatians 4:6

You really are His sons! You have His eternal life living in you now through the Holy Spirit.

I John 3:1-2

See what and incredible quality of love the Father has given shown (be permitted to) be named and called and counted the children of God! And so we are! The reason that the world does not know (recognize, acknowledge) us is that it does not know (recognize, acknowledge) Him.

Beloved, we are even here and now God’s children; His Sons; it is not yet disclosed (made clear) what we shall be hereafter, but we know beyond all doubt that when He comes and is manifested, we shall (as God’s children) resemble and be like Him, for we shall beyond all doubt see Him just as He really is.

Ephesians 2:6, 8

And He raised us up together with Him and made us sit down together with Him and made us sit down together giving joint seating with Him in the heavenly sphere (by virtue of our being) in Christ Jesus (the Messiah, the Anointed One).

Colossians 1:13

The Father has delivered and drawn us to Himself out of the control and the dominion of darkness, the sensory limited mindset, the natural human lifestyle, and has transferred us into the kingdom of the Son of His love. The unlimited realm of living by faith in the unlimited power and ability of God our Father Who has given us the life of Christ.

The world's economic systems are going to fail, but the kingdom of God will stand no matter what comes.

Colossians 2:9-10

For in Him the whole fullness of Deity (the Godhead) continues to dwell in bodily form (giving complete expression of the divine nature).

And you are in Him, made full and having come to fullness of life,(in Christ you too are filled with the GodHead-Father, Son, and Holy Spirit) and reach full maturity, spiritual stature. And He is the Head of all rule and authority (of every angelic principality and power).

The world is waiting for you.

Fullness, Wholeness, Completeness
Terry Suggs

Obtained through Righteousness

The promises of God to us are obtained through the righteousness of Christ. We are made righteousness or put into right standing with God through Christ.

Ephesians 4:12-13

His intension was the perfecting and the full equipping of the saints (His consecrated people), that they should do the work of ministering toward building up Christ’s Body (the Church),

That it might develop until we all attain oneness in the faith and in the comprehension of the full and accurate knowledge of the Son of God, that we might arrive at the really mature manhood (the completeness of personality which is nothing less than the standard height of Christ’s own perfection), the measure of the stature of the fullness of the Christ and the completeness found in Him.

This is the time for the body of Christ to operate in the fullness of Christ.

Roman’s 5:17-19

For if, because of one man’s (lapse, offense) death reigned through that one, much more surely will those who receive (God’s) overflowing grace (unmerited favor) and the free gift of righteousness (putting them into right standing with Himself) reign as kings in life through the one Man Jesus Christ (the Messiah, the Anointed One).

Well then, as one man’s trespass (one man’s false step and falling away led) to condemnation for all men, so one Man’s act of righteousness (leads) to acquittal and right standing with God and life for all men.

For just as by one Man’s disobedience (failing to hear), heedlessness, and carelessness) the many were constituted sinners, so by one Man’s obedience the many will be constituted righteousness (made acceptable to God, brought into right standing with Him).

We are brought into the family of God through the finished work of Christ. And it does not come to us by our own performance or wisdom or works.

When Jesus gave His life for our sins, He also did this that we might receive His life or His kind of life.

Our salvation is a gift from God.

It is void of our own efforts.

Luke 9:52-55

And He sent messengers before Him; and they reached and entered a Samaritan village to make (things) ready for Him; but the people would not welcome or receive or accept Him, because His face was set as if He was going to Jerusalem. And when His disciples James and John observed this, they said, Lord, do you wish us to command fire to come down from heaven and consume them, even as Elijah did?

But He turned and rebuked and severely censured them, He said, you do not know of what sort of spirit you are,

For the Son of Man did not come to destroy men’s lives, but to save them from the penalty of eternal death, And they journeyed on to another village.

Luke 10:8-9

Whenever you go into a town and they receive and accept and welcome you eat what is set before you.

And heal the sick in it and say to them, the kingdom of God has come close to you.

Luke 10:22-24

All things have been given over into My power by My Father; and no one knows Who the Son is except the Father, or Who the Father is except the Son and anyone to whom the Son may choose to reveal and make Him known,

Then turning to His disciples, He said privately, blessed (happy, to be envied) are those whose eyes see what you see!

Romans 8:14-17

For all who are led by the Spirit of God are sons of God.

For the Spirit which you have now received, is not a Spirit of slavery to put you once more in bondage to fear, but you have received the Spirit of adoption (WE ARE FAMILY) (the Spirit producing son-ship) in the bliss of which we cry, Abba (Father)! Father!

The Spirit Himself (thus) testifies together with our own spirit (assuring us) that we are children of God.

And if we are His children, then we are (His) heirs also: heirs of God and fellow heirs with Christ (sharing His inheritance with Him); only we must share His suffering if we are to share His glory.

I Corinthians 2:4-5, 7-10, 12, 16

And my language and my message were not set forth in persuasive enticing and plausible words of wisdom, but they were in demonstration of the Holy Spirit and power of God (a proof by the Spirit and power of God, operating on me and stirring in the minds of my hearers the most holy emotions and thus persuading them,

So, that your faith might not rest in the wisdom of men (human philosophy) but in the power of God.

But rather we are setting forth is a wisdom of God once hidden (from the human understanding) and now revealed to us by God (that wisdom) which God devised and decreed before the ages for our glorification to lift us into the glory of His presence.)

None of the rulers of this age or world perceived and recognized and understood this, for if they had, they would never have crucified the Lord of glory.

If the rulers or demonic spiritual rulers or spiritual principalities of darkness had known the plan of God for mankind to be given the same authority that Jesus had on earth, they would not have put Jesus to death.

But, on the contrary, as the Scripture says, What eye has not seen and ear has not heard and has not entered into the heart of man, (all that) God has prepared (made and keeps ready) for those who love Him and gratefully, recognizing the benefits He has bestowed.

Yet to us God has unveiled and revealed them by and through His Spirit, for the Holy Spirit searches diligently, exploring and examining everything, even sounding the profound and bottomless things of God (the divine counsels and things hidden and beyond man’s scrutiny.

Now we have not received the spirit that belongs to the world, but the Holy Spirit Who is from God, given to us that we might realize and comprehend and appreciate the gifts of divine favor and blessings so freely and lavishly bestowed on us by God.

For who has known or understood the mind (the counsels and purposes) of the Lord so as to guide and instruct Him and give Him knowledge? But we have the mind of Christ (the Messiah) and do hold the thoughts (feelings and purposes) of His heart.

We have an unction or anointing or a deposit from the Lord in our spirit after we are born again and that deposit is the Holy Spirit who teaches us all things.

I Corinthians 3:21, 23

All things are yours.

And you are Christ’s and Christ is God’s.

Galatians 2:20

I have been crucified with Christ (in Him I have shared His crucifixion); it is no longer I who live, but Christ (the Messiah) lives in me; and the life I live now live by faith in (by adherence to and reliance on and complete trust in) the Son of God, Who loved me and gave Himself up for me.

II Corinthians 12:9

My grace (unmerited, unearned, undeserved favor, unlimited kindness and blessings in Christ, the fullness of Christ's Spirit and power) is enough for you (sufficient for any danger and enables you to bear the trouble manfully) for My strength and My power is made perfect (fulfilled and completed) and show themselves most effective in your weakness. When we abandon all of our own human level tactics to advance the kingdom of correct the problems, then God overshadows, oversees and overthrows and overrules in our behalf, through our faith in His faithfulness.

We can say that we are using God's faith.

Now we are favored because we are in the family of God. His blood was shed for the remission (debt of sin paid in full, dismissal of debt of sin) of our sins.

Every family member or covenant member is included in the benefits of the family in Christ.

He will bless the works of our hands.

Zechariah 4:6

Not by might, nor by power, but by My Spirit says the Lord.

All spiritual power and things are obtained through the righteousness of Christ.

The power of God is obtained from God through righteousness imputed to us. The holiness of God, the fire of God, the wisdom of God, the mercy of God, the prosperity of God, the healing of our bodies, the peace of God and our salvation is obtained through the righteousness of Christ.

Daniel 11:32

The people that know their God shall prove themselves strong and shall stand firm and do exploits (for God).

Every generation has been given the responsibility to advance the kingdom of God. The responsibility has been given to us now. We are holding the torch so to speak. It is our turn to give this generation a witness of the grace and salvation of God in Christ.

He has made us the ones to go into every nation and preach the gospel to every creature.

We will pass it on to the next generation if the Lord tarries.

It is our duty to minister to the lost and dying and suffering in this world. We must do it now or the enemy will destroy their lives and we will be accountable.

II Chronicles 16:9

For the eyes of the Lord run to and fro through out the whole earth to show Himself strong in behalf of those whose hearts are blameless toward Him.

Acts 2:39

For the promise of the Holy Spirit is to and for you and your children, and to and for all that are far away, even to and for as many as the Lord or God invites and bids to come to Himself.

Acts 3:16, 25

And in His name (authority given, power of attorney) through and by faith in His name, has made this man whom you see and recognize well and strong. (Yes), the faith, which is, through and by Him (Jesus), has given the man this perfect soundness (wholeness) of body before all of you.

You are the descendants (sons) of the prophets and the heirs of the covenant, which God made and gave to your forefathers, saying to Abraham, And in your Seed (Christ) (Heir) shall all the families of the earth be blessed and benefited.

No one else can take your place. You have a place and a work that no one else can do.

You are empowered and favored.

Hebrews 11:33-35

Through faith Christians of old were able to subdue kingdoms, administer justice, obtain promised blessings and closed the mouths of lions, extinguished the power of raging fire, escaped the devourings of the sword, out of frailty and weakness won in strength and became stalwart, even mighty and resistless in battle, routing alien hosts.

Some received their dead by a resurrection.

Ephesians 6:10

In conclusion, be strong in the Lord (be empowered through your union with Him); draw your strength from Him (that strength which His boundless might provides).

Galatians 3:26-29

For in Christ Jesus you are all sons of God through faith.

For as many of you as were baptized into Christ (into spiritual union and communion with Christ, the Anointed One, The Messiah) have put on (clothed yourselves with) Christ.

There is (now no distinction) neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave nor free, there is not male and female; for you all are one in Christ Jesus.

And if you belong to Christ (are in Him Who is Abraham’s Seed), then you are Abraham’s offspring and (spiritual) heirs according to promise.

Galatians 4:6-7

And because you really are His sons, God has sent the Holy Spirit of His Son into our hearts, crying Abba! (Father!) Father!

Therefore, you are no longer a slave (bond servant) but a son; and if a son, then it follows that you are an heir by the aid of God, through Christ.

Colossians 2:9-10, 20

For in Him (Jesus) the whole fullness of Deity (the God-Head) continues to dwell in bodily form (giving complete expression of the divine nature).

And you are in Him, made full and having come to fullness of life (in Christ you too are filled with the God-Head-Father, Son, and Holy Spirit and reach full spiritual stature). And He is the Head of all rule and authority (of every angelic principality and power).

Galatians 2:20

If then you have died with Christ to material ways of looking at things and have escaped from the world’s crude and elemental notions and teachings of externalism, why do you live as if you still belong to the world? Why do you submit to rules and regulations?

Galatians 3:23

Whatever may be your task, work at it heartily from the soul, as something done for the Lord and not for men.

I John 4:17

In this union and communion with Him love is brought to completion and attains perfection with us, that we may have confidence for the day of judgment with assurance and boldness to face Him, because as He is, so are we in this world.

We are born of the incorruptible seed (the Word of God). In a seed is the same substance of the type or kind of thing or animal of person that the seed came from.

Jesus is the Word of God made flesh. We are born of the seed of God. We are going now like Jesus in God's eyes. We are favored by God like God favored Jesus. We are made righteous and made Holy in Christ Jesus.

Philippians 3:20

But we are citizens of the state (commonwealth, homeland) which is in heaven, from it also we earnestly and patiently await the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ (the Messiah) as Savior…

Isaiah 43:21

The people I formed for Myself, that they may set forth My praise and they shall do it.

John 14:11-14Believe Me that I Am in the Father, and that the Father is in me? What I Am telling you I do not say on My own authority and of My own accord; but the father Who lives continually in Me does the (His) works (His Own miracles, deeds of power).

Believe Me that I Am in the Father and the Father in Me; or else believe Me for the sake of the very works themselves. (If you cannot trust Me, at least let these works that I do in My Father's name convince you).

I assure you most solemnly I tell you, if anyone steadfastly believes in Me, he will himself be able to do the things that I do; and he will do even greater things than these, because I go to the Father.

And I will do (I Myself will grant) whatever you ask in My Name (as presenting all that I Am), so that the Father may be glorified and extolled in (through) the Son.

Yes I will grant (I Myself will do for you) whatever you shall ask in My Name (as presenting all that I AM).

Isaiah 41:10-13

Fear not (there is nothing to fear) for I Am with you; do not look around you in terror and be dismayed, for I Am your God, I will strengthen and harden you to difficulties, yes, I will help you; yes, I will hold you up and retain you with My (victorious) right hand of rightness and justice.

Behold, all they who are enraged and inflamed against you shall be put to shame and confounded; they who strive against you shall be as nothing, nothing at all.

For I the Lord your God hold your right hand; I Am the Lord, Who says to you, Fear not! I will help you!

II Corinthians 5:7

For we walk by faith (we regulate our lives and conduct ourselves by our conviction or belief respecting man's relationship to God and divine things, with trust and holy fervor; thus we walk) not by sight or appearance.

We walk by the faithfulness of God to us.

God is 100 per cent trust worthy, 100 per cent honest, 100 percent faithful to His Word and promises. God is 100 per cent pure in His motives.

God is not a man that He should lie or the son of man that He has to change His mind.

When God speaks, his Word goes into eternity and is forever settled in heaven.

II Corinthians 6:17-21

Therefore if any person is (engrafted) in Christ (The Messiah) he is a new creation (a New creature altogether); the old (previous moral and spiritual condition) has passed away. Behold, the fresh and new has come!

But all things are from God, Who through Jesus Christ reconciled us into favor, brought us into harmony with Himself) and gave to us the ministry of reconciliation (that by word and deed we might aim to bring others into harmony with Him).

It was God (personally present) in Christ, reconciling and restoring the world to favor with Himself, not counting up and holding against (men) their trespasses (but canceling them), and committing to us the message of reconciliation (of restoration to favor). We are favored. We are justified and forgiven.

So we are Christ’s ambassadors, God making His appeal as it were through us. We (as Christ’s personal representatives) beg you for His sake to lay hold of the divine favor (now being offered you) and be reconciled to God.

For our sake he made Christ (virtually) to be sin Who knew no sin (committed no sin), so that in and through Him we might become (endued with, viewed as being in, and examples of) the righteousness of God (what we ought to be, approved and acceptable and in right relationship with Him, by His goodness).

II Corinthians 6:3

We put no obstruction in anybody’s way (we give no offense in anything), so that no fault may be found and our ministry blamed and discredited.

II Corinthians 6:16,18

What agreement can there be between a temple of God and idols? For we are the temple of the living God; even as God said, I will dwell in and with and among them and will walk in with and among them, and I will be their God, and they shall be My people.

And I will be a Father to you, and you shall be My sons and daughters, says the Lord Almighty.

Hebrews 10:17-23

He then goes on to say, and their sins and their law-breaking, I will remember no more.

Therefore, brethren, since we have full freedom (He whom the Son sets free is free indeed) (We are free to use His power, His authority and receive every promise in Christ) and confidence to enter into the Holy of Holies (Faith IS Confidence) by the power and virtue in the blood of Jesus, by this fresh (new) and living way which He initiated and dedicated and opened for us through the separating curtain (veil of the Holy of Holies), that is, through His flesh.

And since we have such a great and wonderful and noble High Priest (Who rules) over the house of God,

Let us all come forward and draw near with true (honest and sincere) hearts in unqualified assurance and absolute conviction engendered by faith (by that leaning of the entire human personality on God in absolute trust and confidence in His power, wisdom, and goodness), having our hearts sprinkled and purified from a guilty (evil) conscience and our bodies cleansed with pure water.

So let us seize and hold fast and retain without wavering the hope we cherish and confess and our acknowledgement of it, for He Who promised is reliable (sure) and faithful to His word.

Religious doctrines and philosophy has made Jesus really big and us really small, but God has translated us into the kingdom of His dear Son (Jesus) and made us sit together with Him in Heavenly places. We are now joint heirs with Him. We are God's children.

We are members of the household of God.

God is as faithful to us as He is to Jesus.

We always say to those that are stepping out of the boat, "Be careful"

Jesus said "Be careful for nothing" Go for it. Don't worry. Don't be afraid. Be of good cheer. I AM with you always. I will never leave you nor forsake you.

We are the light of the world. God has some of us in places where there is darkness, but our light will change the darkness into light.

We are to bring God into every adverse situation.

Remember give no place to the devil.

God also has a planned ending for our lives.

Jeremiah 29:11

For I know the thoughts and plans that I have for you, says the Lord, thoughts and plans for welfare and peace and not for evil, to give you hope in your final outcome.

We are now living in the unlimited spiritual realm of the Lord Jesus.

We have freedom in Christ Jesus to use unlimited power to heal, to deliver, to do miracles, to advance the kingdom of God on this earth

The new covenant in Christ Jesus will never be broken.

Colossians 1:13-22

The Father has delivered and drawn us to Himself out of the control and the dominion of darkness and has transferred us into the kingdom of the Son of His Love.

In Whom we have our redemption through His blood, (which means) the forgiveness of our sins.

Now He is the exact likeness of the unseen God (the visible representation of the invisible); He is the Firstborn of all creation.

For it was in Him that all things were created, in heaven and on earth, things seen and things unseen, whether thrones, dominions, rulers, or authorities; all things were created and exist through Him (by His service, intervention) and in and for Him.

And He Himself existed before all things, and in Him all things consist (cohere, are held together).

He is also the Head of (His) body, the church; seeing He is the Beginning, the Firstborn from among the dead, so that He alone in everything and in every respect might occupy the chief place (stand first and be preeminent)

For it has pleased (the Father) that all the divine fullness (the sum total of the divine perfection, powers, and attributes) should dwell in Him permanently.

And God purposed that through (by the service, the intervention of Him (the Son) all things should be completely reconciled back to Himself, whether on earth or in heaven, as through Him, (the Father) made peace by means of the blood of His cross.

And although you at one time were estranged and alienated from Him and were of hostile attitude of mind in your wicked activities,

Yet now has Christ, the Messiah reconciled you to God in the body of His flesh through death, in order to present you holy and faultless and irreproachable in His (the Father's) presence.

Romans 8:1

Therefore, (there is) now, no condemnation (no adjudging guilty of wrong) for those who are in Christ Jesus, who live and walk not after the dictates of the flesh, but after the dictates of the flesh, but after the dictates of the Spirit.

He that is joined to the Lord is one Spirit.

There is an analogy about the way we are one with Christ.

If I took an empty glass and dipped it into the ocean, the water in the glass is the same water that is in the ocean. It has same makeup of the water in the ocean. When we are born of God we have God's Spirit living in us. I will write My laws in their heart and in their minds will I write them. I will live in them says the Lord. I will dwell in them.

It is no longer I that live but Christ that lives in me, Paul wrote. The Spirit of God makes us alive unto God. If any man be in Christ, He is a new creature. Old things have passed away and all things have become new. The old spirit in us has been quickened or made alive with the Spirit of God living in our spirit.

The new spiritual man is led by the Spirit of God, and we are to allow the Spirit of God to have freedom to operate in us. We live by faith and by the faith of God.

Jesus gave us the ability to become sons of God by exercising our faith in His finished work on the Cross. By faith we can bring salvation to every nation and every person on earth.

All things are now possible to those that believe.

2005 is going to be a glorious year for God's people. Don't be fearful, because the enemy will fight you and challenge you to try to weaken and stop you. But God has given you the victory over satan. He can't stop God or even slow Him down.

No weapon formed against you shall prosper.

Natural disasters are going to shake up a lot places and upset a great number of people.

But stay in prayer and focus on God.

Nothing by any means shall hurt you.

A thousand shall fall at your side and ten thousand a your right hand, but it shall not come near you.

All things work together for good to those that are called according to His purpose and those that love God.

God has you covered.

Your life is hid with Christ in God.

Satan is a liar and a deceiver. He will only try to distract you and lie to you.

Don't be distracted. Stay on course with the gospel message.

Give No Place To The Devil!

Terry Suggs

When Adam and Eve was in the Garden of Eden, the devil came to Eve and deceived her saying that they were depraved from being like God. God had spoken saying let us make man in our image and in our likeness or someone like us. Adam lost the garden because he was deceived. He was the guardian of the garden of Eden.

We have been given authority in Christ to guard and protect our home, our country, our government, our families, our churches, our health, our bodies, our music, our minds, our children, the media, our environment, the internet and the air waves.

Give no place to the devil in your private life, in the weather, or in the earth. You have been enabled and empowered through Christ Jesus.

Ephesians 5:1

Therefore be imitators of God (copy Him and follow His example), as well-beloved children (imitate their father).

John 14:12-14

I assure you, most solemnly I tell you, if anyone steadfastly believes in Me, he will himself be able to do the things that I do; and he will do even greater things than these, because I go to the Father.

And I will do (I Myself will grant) whatever you ask in My name (as presenting all that I Am), so that the father may be glorified and extolled in (through) the Son.

Yes, I will grant (I Myself) will do for you whatever you shall ask in My name (as presenting all that I Am).

Deuteronomy 30:19-20

I set before the choice of life or death. He is your life and length of days.

Luke 10:19

Behold! I have given you authority and power to trample upon serpents and scorpions, and (physical and mental strength and ability) over all the power that the enemy (possesses); and nothing shall in any way harm you.

John 15:1-9

I Am the True Vine, and My Father is the vinedresser.

Any branch in Me that does not bear fruit (that stops bearing) He cuts away (trims off, takes away); and He cleanses and repeatedly prunes every branch that continues to bear fruit, to make it bear more and richer and more excellent fruit.

You are cleansed and pruned already, because of the Word which I have given you (the teachings I have discussed with you)

Dwell in Me, and I will dwell in you. (Live in Me, and I will live in you), Just as no branch can bear fruit of itself without abiding in (being vitally united to) the vine, neither can you bear fruit unless you abide in Me.

I AM the Vine; you are the branches. Whoever lives in Me and I in him bears much (abundant) fruit. However, apart from Me (cut off from vital union with Me) you can do nothing.

If a person does not dwell in Me, he is thrown out like a (broken off) branch, and withers; such branches are gathered up and thrown into the fire, and they are burned.

If you live in Me (abide vitally united to Me) and My words remain in you and continue to live in your hearts, ask whatever you will, and it shall be done for you.

When you bear (produce) much fruit, My Father is honored and glorified, and you show and prove yourselves to be true followers of Mine,

I have loved you, (just) as the Father has loved Me; abide in My love (continue in His love with Me).

There is nothing greater than love. God is Love.

Let your name be synonymous with healing, with power, with love, with goodness, with glory, with Faith, with creative miracles, and with the anointing.

God’s love is active and dynamic; constantly working and doing and being expressed towards everyone.

John 1:16

For out of His fullness (abundance) we have al received (all had a share and we were all supplied with) one grace after another and spiritual blessing upon spiritual blessing and even favor upon favor and gift upon gift.

Colossians 3:1-3

If then you have been raised with Christ to a new life, thus sharing His resurrection from the dead, aim at and seek the rich, eternal treasures that are above, where Chris is seated at the right hand of God.

And set your minds and keep them set on what is above the higher things, not on the things that are on earth.

For as far as this world is concerned you have died, and your new real life is hidden with Christ in God.

Our minds have be trained to think like new creatures in Christ. We have the new nature and the power and the Redemption of our lives through Christ, but our minds are still just the same as if we were without the new nature and power and the life of Christ.

Romans 8:18-19

(But what of that?) For I consider that the sufferings of this present time (this present life) are not worth being compared with the glory that is about to be revealed to us and in us and for us and conferred upon us!

For even the whole creation (all nature) waits expectantly and longs earnestly for God’s sons to be made known (waits for the revealing, the disclosing of their son-ship.

Colossians 1:13-23

The Father has delivered us to Himself out of the control and the dominion of darkness and has transferred us into the kingdom of the Son of His love.

In Whom we have our redemption through His blood, (which means) the forgiveness of our sins.

(Now) He is the exact likeness of the unseen God (the invisible representation of the invisible); He is the Firstborn of all creation.

For it was in Him that all things were created, in Heaven and on earth, things seen and things unseen, whether thrones, dominions, rulers, or authorities; all things were created and exist through Him (by His service, intervention) and in and for Him.

And He Himself existed before all things, and in Him all things consist (cohere, are held together).

He also is the Head of (His) body, the church; seeing He is the beginning, the Firstborn from among the dead, so that He alone in everything and in every respect might occupy the chief place (stand first and be preeminent).

For it has pleased the Father that all the divine fullness (the sum total of the divine perfection, powers, and attributes should dwell in Him permanently.

And God purposed that through by the service, the intervention of Him (the Son) all things should be completely reconciled back to Himself, whether in earth or in heaven, as through Him, (the Father) made peace by means of the blood of His cross.

And although you at one time were estranged and alienated from Him and were of hostile attitude of mind in your wicked activities,

Yet now has (Christ, the Messiah) reconciled (you to God) in the body of His flesh through death, in order to present you holy and faultless and irreproachable in His (the Father’s) presence.

And this He will do provided that you continue to stay with and in the faith (in Christ), well grounded and settled and steadfast not shifting or moving away from the hope (which rests on and is inspired by) the glad tidings (the Gospel), which you heard and which has been preached (as being designed for and offered without restrictions) to every person under heaven, and of which (Gospel) I, Paul, became a minister.

Colossians 1:27

Christ in you the hope of glory.

Colossians 2:8-10

See to it that no one carries you off as spoil or makes you yourselves captive by his so called philosophy and intellectualism and vain deceit (idle fancies and plain nonsense), following human tradition (men’s ideas of the material rather than the spiritual wolrd), just crude notions following the rudimentary and elemental teachings of the universe and disregarding (the teachings of) Christ (the Messiah).

For in Him the whole fullness of the deity (the Godhead) continues to dwell in bodily form (giving complete expression of the divine nature.

And you are in Him, made full and having come to fullness of life (in Christ you too are filled with the Godhead-Father-Son and Holy Spirit-and reach full spiritual stature). And He is the Headof all rule and authority (of every angelic principality and power).

Every devil and demon in the earth and in hell is subject to Jesus and us in Jesus name or authority.

The devil could not kill Jesus and he can’t kill us, because we are in Christ.

We have been running from the devil until now. Now let the devil run from you.

God’s power in us and in the kingdom of God, is unlimited. His grace is unlimited, His wisdom and love are unlimited.

There is nothing greater than the love of God. His love is active and dynamic. His love is unconditional and everlasting.

Luke 10:19

Occupy until He comes.

I John 4:15

Anyone who confesses (acknowledges, owns) that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides (lives, makes His home) in him and he (abides, lives, makes his home) in God.

Ephesians 1:18-23

By having the eyes of your heart flooded with light, so that you can know and understand the hope to which He has called you, and how rich is His glorious inheritance in the saints (His set apart ones).

And so that you can know and understand what is the immeasurable an unlimited and surpassing greatness of His power in and for us who believe, as demonstrated in the working of His mighty strength,

Which He exerted in Christ when He raised Him from the dead and seated Him at His own right hand in heavenly places,

Far above all rule and authority an power and dominion and every title that can be conferred, not only in this age and in this world, but also in the age and the world which are to come.

And He has put all things under His feet and appointed Him the universal and supreme Head of the church (a headship exercised throughout the church).

Which is His body, the fullness of Him Who fills all in all (for in that body lives the full measure of Him Who makes everything complete, and who fills everything everywhere with Himself.

I Corinthians 6:17

He that is joined to the Lord is one Spirit.

Amos 3:8

The Lion has roared; who will not fear?

The Lord God has spoken; who can but prophesy?

What He (Jesus) Inherited, We Inherited
Terry Suggs

I Corinthians 3:22-23

All things are yours.

And you are Christ’s and Christ is God’s.

His (Jesus) inheritance is our inheritance. Whatever is true of Jesus is true of us. What did Jesus inherit?

John 14:2-3,12,16

In My Father’s House there are many dwelling places (homes). If it were not so, I would have told you; for I Am going away to prepare a place for you, And when (if) I go and make ready a place for you, I will come back again and will take you to Myself, that where I Am you may be also.

I assure you most solemnly I tell you, if anyone steadfastly believes in Me, he will himself be able to do the things that I do; and he will do even greater things than these, because I go to the Father.

And I will ask the Father, and He will give you another Comforter (Counselor, Helper, Intercessor, Advocate, Strengthener, and standby), that He may remain with you forever.

Ephesians 2:4-6

But God- so rich is He in His mercy, Because of and in order to satisfy the great and wonderful and intense love with which He loved us.

Even when we were dead (slain) by our own shortcomings and trespasses, he made us alive together in fellowship and in union with Christ; (He gave us the very life of Christ Himself, the same new life with which He quickened Him, for it is by grace (His favor and mercy which you did not deserve) that you are saved (delivered from judgment and made partakers of Christ’s Salvation).

And He raised us up together with Him and made us sit down together (giving us joint seating with Him) in the heavenly sphere (by virtue or our being) in Christ Jesus (the Messiah, the Anointed One).

Galatians 3:26-27,29

For in Christ Jesus you are all sons of God through faith.

For as many of you as were baptized into Christ (into a spiritual union and communion with Christ, the Anointed One, the Messiah) have put on (clothed yourselves with) Christ.

And if you belong to Christ (are in Him Who is Abraham’s Seed), then you are Abraham’s offspring and (spiritual) heirs according to promise.

Galatians 4:1,4-7

Now what I mean is that as long as the inheritor (heir) is a child and under age, he does not differ from a slave, although he is the master of all the estate;

But when the proper time had fully come , God sent His Son, born of a woman, subject to (the regulations of) the Law, to purchase freedom of (to redeem, to ransom, to atone for) those who were subject to the Law, that we might be adopted and have sonship conferred upon us and be recognized as God’s sons).

And because you really are His sons, God has sent the (Holy Spirit of His Son into our hearts, crying, Abba (Father)! Father!

Therefore you are no longer a slave (bond servant) but a son; and if a son, then it follows that you are an heir by the aid of God, through Christ.

Mathew 5:3,5,10,14

Blessed (happy, to be envied, and spiritually prosperous – with life-joy and satisfaction in God’s favor and salvation, regardless of their outward conditions) are the poor in spirit (the humble, who rate themselves insignificant), for theirs is the kingdom of heaven!

Blessed and happy and enviably fortunate and spiritually prosperous (in the state in which the born again child of God enjoys and finds satisfaction in God’s favor and salvation, regardless of his outward conditions) are those who are persecuted for righteousness sake (for being and doing right) for theirs is the kingdom of heaven!

You are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hidden.

Mathew 25:33-34

And He will cause the sheep to stand at His right hand, but the goats at His left.

Then the King will say to those at His right hand, come, you blessed of My Father (you favored of God and appointed to eternal salvation), inherit (receive as your own) the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

Ephesians 1:11-14

In Him we also were made (God’s) heritage (portion) and we obtained an inheritance; for we had been foreordained (chosen and appointed beforehand) in accordance with His purpose, Who works out everything in agreement with the counsel and design of His own will.

So that we who first hoped in Christ (Who first put our confidence in Him have been destined and appointed to) live for the praise of His glory!

In Him you also who have heard the Word of Truth, the glad tidings (Gospel) of your salvation, and have believed in adhered to and relied on Him, were stamped with the seal of the long promised Holy Spirit.

That Spirit is the guarantee of our inheritance (the firstfruits, the pledge an foretaste, the down payment on our heritage), in anticipation of its full redemption and our acquiring (complete) possession of it-to the praise of His glory.

Epheisans 2:18-19

For it is through Him that we both (whether far off or near) now have an introduction (access) by one Holy Spirit to the Father so that we are able to approach Him.

Therefore you are no longer outsiders (exiles, migrants, and aliens, excluded from the rights of citizens), but you now share citizenship with the saints (God’s own people, consecrated and set apart for Himself); and you belong to God’s own household.

In Him and in fellowship with one another you yourselves also are being built up into this structure with the rest, to form a fixed abode (dwelling place) of God in (by, through) the Spirit.

Ephesians 3:3-6

And that the mystery (secret) was made known to me and I was allowed to comprehend it by direct revelation, as I already briefly wrote you.

When you read this you can understand my insight into the mystery of Christ.

This mystery (secret) was never disclosed to human beings in past generations as it has now been revealed to His holy apostles (consecrated messengers) and prophets by the (Holy Ghost).

It is this: that the Gentiles are now to be fellow heirs with the Jews, members of the same body and joint partakers (sharing) in the same divine promise in Christ through (their acceptance of) the glad tidings (the gospel).

In Whom, because of our faith in Him, we dare to have the boldness (courage and confidence) of free access (and unreserved approach to God with freedom and without fear).

May He grant you out of the rich treasury of His glory to be strengthened and reinforced with mighty power in the inner man by the Holy Spirit Himself indwelling your innermost being and personality that you may really come to know (practically, through experience for yourselves the love of Christ, which far surpasses mere knowledge without experience; that you may be filled through all your being unto all the fullness of God and may have the richest measure of the divine Presence, and become a body wholly filled and flooded with God Himself!

John 10:27-30

The sheep that are My own hear and are listening to my voice; and I know them, and they follow Me.

And I give them eternal life, and they shall never lose it or perish throughout the ages. To all eternity they shall never by any means be destroyed. And no one is able to snatch them out of My hand.

My Father, Who has given them to Me, is greater and mightier than all else; and no one is able to snatch them out of the Father’s hand.

I and the Father are One.

John 14:27

Peace I leave with you; My own peace I now give and bequeath to you. Not as the world gives do I give to you. Do not let your hearts be troubled, neither let them be afraid. (Stop allowing yourselves to be agitated and disturbed; and do not permit yourselves to be fearful and intimidated and cowardly and unsettled).

No matter what happens around us we have the Lord’s Peace on the inside of us. Receive it.

Colossians 1:11-14

We pray that you may be invigorated and strengthened with all power according to the might of His glory, to exercise every kind of endurance and patience perseverance and forbearance with joy, Giving thanks to the Father, Who has qualified and made us fit to share the portion which is the inheritance of the saints God’s Holy People in the Light.

The Father has delivered and drawn us to Himself out of the control and the dominion of darkness and has transferred us into the kingdom of the Son of His love, In Whom we have our redemption through His blood, which means, the forgiveness of our sins.

John 14:12-14

I assure you, most solemnly I tell you, if anyone steadfastly believes in Me, he will himself be able to do the things that I do; and he will do even greater things than these, because I go to the Father.

And I will do (I Myself will grant) whatever you ask in My Name (as presenting all that I Am), so that the Father may be glorified and extolled in through the Son.

Yes I will grant (I, Myself will do for you whatever you shall ask in My Name (as presenting all that I Am).

Luke 10:19

Behold! I have given you authority and power to trample upon serpents and scorpions, and (physical and mental strength and ability) over all the power that the enemy (possesses); and nothing shall in any way harm you.

Luke 10:16

He who hears and heeds you hears and heeds Me; and he who slights and rejects you slights and rejects Me; and he who slights and rejects Me slights and rejects Him Who sent Me.

Acts 1:8

But you shall receive power (ability, efficiency, and might) when the Holy Spirit has come upon you, and you shall be My witnesses in Jerusalem and all Judea and Samaria and to the ends (the very bounds) of the earth.

I Corinthians 4:20

For the kingdom of God consists of and is based on, not talk but power (moral power and excellence of soul).

Psalm 16:5,11

The Lord is my chosen and assigned portion, my cup; you hold and maintain my lot.

You will show me the path of life; in Your presence is fullness of joy and power, at Your right hand there are pleasures forevermore.

Ezekiel 44:28

This (their ministry to Me) shall be to them as an inheritance, for I Am their inheritance.

I Corinthians 15:27-28

For He (The Father) has put all things in subjection under His (Christ’s) feet. But when it says, All things are put in subjection (under Him), it is evident that He (Himself) is excepted Who does the subjecting of all things to Him. However, when everything is subjected to Him, then the Son Himself will also subject to (the Father) Who put all things under Him, so that God may be all in all (be everything to everyone, supreme, the indwelling and controlling factor of life).

II Corinthians 6:16

What agreement (can there be between) a temple of God and idols? For we are the temple of the living God; even as God said, I will dwell in and with and among them, and I will be their God, and they shall be My people.

Hebrews 9:15

(Christ, the Messiah) is therefore the Negotiator and Mediator of an entirely new agreement (testament, covenant), so that those who are called and offered it may receive the fulfillment of the promised everlasting inheritance-since a death has taken place which rescues and delivers and redeems them from the transgressions committed under the old first agreement.

Hebrews 10:10-17,23

And in accordance with this will (of God) we have been made holy (consecrated and sanctified) through the offering made once for all of the body of Jesus Christ (the Anointed One).

Furthermore, every (human) priest stands (at his altar of service) ministering daily, offering the same sacrifices over and over again, which never are able to strip (from every side of us) the sins (that envelop us) and take them away-

Whereas this One (Christ), after He had offered a single sacrifice for our sins that shall avail for all time, sat down at the right hand of God.

For by a single offering he has forever completely cleansed and perfected those who are consecrated and made holy.

And also the Holy Spirit adds His testimony to us (in confirmation of this). For having said,

This is the agreement (testament, covenant) that I will set up and conclude with them after those days, says the Lord: I will imprint My laws upon their hearts, and I will inscribe them on their minds (on their inmost thoughts and understanding),

He then goes on to say, and their sins and their lawbreaking I will remember no more.

So let us seize and hold fast and retain without wavering the hope we cherish and confess and our acknowledgement of it, for He Who promised is reliable (sure) and faithful to His Word.

Psalm 37:28-29

For the Lord delights in justice and forsakes not His saints; they are preserved forever, but the offspring of the wicked (in time) shall be cut off.

Then the consistently righteous shall inherit the land and dwell upon it forever.

Psalm 82:6

I said, you are gods (since you judge on My behalf, as My representatives; indeed all of you are children of the Most High.

Adam did not have a natural father. God was his father.

Romans 8:9-11,14-17,32

But you are not living the life of the flesh, you are living the life of the Spirit, if the Holy Spirit of God (really dwells within you (directs and controls you). But if anyone does not possess the Holy Spirit of Christ, he is none of His (he does not belong to Christ, is not truly a child a child of god.

But if Christ lives in you , then although you natural body is dead by reason of sin and guilt, the spirit is alive because of the righteousness (that He imputes to you).

And if the Spirit of Him Who raised up Jesus from the dead dwells in you, then He Who raised up Christ Jesus from the dead will also restore to life you mortal (short-lived, perishable) bodies through His Spirit Who dwells in you.

For all who are led by the Spirit of God are sons of God.

For the Spirit which you have now received is not a spirit of slavery to put you once more in bondage to fear, but you have received the Spirit of adoption (the Spirit producing sonship) in (the bliss of) which we cry, Abba Father! Father!

The Spirit Himself (thus testifies together with our own spirit assuring us that we are children of God.

And if we are his children, then we are (His) heirs also; heirs of God and fellow heirs with Christ (sharing His inheritance with Him); only we must share His suffering if we are to share His glory.

He Who did not withhold or spare (even) His Own Son but gave Him up for us all, will He not freely and graciously give us all other things?

I Corinthians 15:51-53

Take notice! I tell you a mystery (a secret truth, an event decreed by the hidden purpose or counsel of God). We shall not all fall asleep (in death), but we shall all be changed (transformed).

In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the sound of the last trumpet call. For a trumpet will sound, and the dead (in Christ) will be raised imperishable (free and immune from decay) must put on immortality (freedom from death).

Hebrews 3:14

For we have become fellow heirs with Christ (the Messiah) and share in all He has for us, if only we hold our first newborn confidence and original assured expectation (in virtue of which we are believers) firm and unshaken to the end.

I Peter 1:4

By means of these He has bestowed on us His precious and exceedingly great promises, so that through them you may escape (by flight) from the moral decay (rottenness and corruption) that is in the world because of covetousness (lust and greed), and become sharers (partakers) of the divine nature.

Philippians 1:11

May you abound in and be filled with the fruits of righteousness (of right standing with God and right doing) which come through Jesus Christ (the Anointed One), to the honor and praise of God (that His glory may be both manifested and recognized).

Proverbs 3:24-26

When you lie down, you shall not be afraid; yes, you shall lie down, and your sleep shall be sweet.

Be not afraid of sudden terror and panic, nor of the stormy blast or the storm

And ruin of the wicked when it comes for you will be guiltless,

For the Lord shall be your confidence, firm and strong, and shall keep your foot from being caught (in a trap or some hidden danger.

Proverbs 23:7

As a man thinks in his heart, so is he.

Mark 16:17-19

And these attesting signs will accompany those who believe: in My name they will drive out demons; they will speak in new languages;

They will pick up serpents; and even if they drink anything deadly, it will not hurt them; they will lay hands on the sick, and they will get well.

So then the Lord Jesus, after He had spoken to them, was taken up into heaven and He sat down at the right hand of God.

I Corinthians 2:13

And we are setting these truths forth in words not taught by human wisdom but taught by the Holy Spirit , combining and interpreting spiritual truths with spiritual language to those who possess the Holy Spirit.

I Corinthians 2:9-10

But on the contrary, as the Scripture says, What eye has not seen and ear has not heard and has not entered into the heart of man, all that god has prepared (made and keeps ready) for those who love Him (who hold Him in affectionate reverence, promptly obeying Him an gratefully recognizing the benefits He has bestowed.

Yet to us God has unveiled and revealed them by and through His Spirit, for the Holy Spirit searches diligently, exploring and examining everything even sounding the profound and bottomless things of God (the divine counsels and things hidden and beyond man’s scrutiny).

Ephesians 5:5

For be sure of this: that no person practicing sexual vice or impurity in thought or in life, or one who is covetous (who has lustful desire for the property of others and is greedy for gain for he in effect is an idolater has any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God.

Luke 12:15

And He said to them, Guard yourselves and keep free from all covetousness (the immoderate desire for wealth, the greedy longing to have more); for a man’s life does not consist in and is not derived from possessing over-flowing abundance or that which is over and above his needs.

Acts 20:32-35

And now brethren, I commit you to God (I deposit you in His charge, entrusting you to His protection and care). And I commend you to the Word of His grace (to the commands and counsels and promises of His unmerited favor). It is able to build you up and to give you (your rightful) inheritance among all God’s set-apart ones (those consecrated, purified, and transformed of soul).

I coveted no man’s silver or gold or costly garments.

You yourselves know personally that these hands ministered to my own needs and those of the persons who were with me.

I Corinthians 6:9-11

Do you not know that the unrighteous and the wrongdoers will not inherit or have any share in the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived (misled): neither the impure and immoral, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor those who participate in homosexuality, nor cheats (swindlers and thieves), nor greedy graspers, nor drunkards, nor foulmouthed revilers and slanderers, nor extortioners and robbers will inherit or have any share in the kingdom of God.

Acts 26:16-18

But arise and stand upon your feet; for I have appeared to you for this purpose, that I might appoint you to serve as (My) minister and to bear witness both to what you have seen of Me and to that in which I will appear to you.

Choosing you out for Myself and delivering you from among the Gentiles to Whom I am sending you,

All of this world's economic systems are going to be destroyed eventually. The only system that will work will be the system of the Kingdom of God.

To open their eyes that they may turn from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to God, so that they may thus receive forgiveness and release from their sins and a place and portion among those who are consecrated and purified by faith in Me.

Terry Suggs

LiveinJesus.spreadtheword.com

To the Breaking and the Broken

Mark Kaphaem

Recently as I was sitting in a church service, I heard in the Spirit that many in the service were going through the breaking process. In the spirit I could hear their cries to the Lord. Many felt there was something wrong with them that they had things so difficult. Like in some way God was punishing them or had abandoned them. Many felt like they were only step children in the kingdom while those around them that seemed to have things so easy were the real children of God. I began to cry out with them and for them. This is the response I heard from the Lord.

"This breaking is not weakening your relationship with Me. This breaking is not moving you farther away from Me. This breaking is freeing you from the things that keep you from Me. This breaking process is drawing You to Me. Drawing you close to Me, which is where I always long for you to be.

Beloved,

Beloved, beloved, beloved, beloved, beloved.

Let go. Let go and trust Me.

Step out. Step out in your nakedness. Step out in your vulnerabilities. Step out in your weakness. I want to show you off.

Step out in your nakedness. I will clothe you. I will clothe you in My robes of Heaven. In My Glory.

Step out in your poverty. It's those who know that they are poor in spirit that I can make rich. That I can fill with the riches of Heaven.

Step out in your weakness. Your weakness is most precious to Me. When you trust Me in your weakness it is then that you will shake the world.

Don't listen to those who know it all. Listen to those who know Me.

Don't listen to those with the grandiose plan. Listen to the simple. I like to keep it simple. Like, Love your neighbor as yourself. That is something simple. When you give yourselves to that I will be with you. When you give yourselves to preferring your brothers and sisters above yourself. That is something simple and I will be with you. Don't let anyone make you less than what you are by putting you into the chains of religious behavior.

Do not look at the breaking as a burden, but look at it as a process of stepping into freedom. Go into it with rejoicing. You are coming closer to Me and closer to fulfillment in Me. I am with you".

The Travail Breaks Forth
Susan Cummings

My fire comes burning upon the plains
Consuming the plans and worldly games
Never again will the wicked arise
For they will surely fall in their demise

For the purification has begun
As My horses over the earth run
Sounding My alarm and the trumpet blasts
All who hear and take heed will not be outcast

Summon the wailers and the criers
Release the runners to break forth with speed
For the travail now breaks forth greatly
With all of the hosts at My decree

Thunder and lightning and the purging fan
Races across the bountiful lands
Bringing the great purging and justice for sin
For the cries of the slain have come to the end

Vessels poured out and made ready for the battle
Assembled by My Hand for the last hour
Holy Fire now ignites and borne from above
Igniting the Warriors of the Lord Most High

Horses, chariots, swords, and Living Flames
All stand as One in My Holy embrace
Attention given to My throne and voice
Trumpets signaling the final great race

Glory, Fire, and Blood covers their heads
As Mine are assembled, and bow before the Son
Now arising and going forth into the darkened earth
Beholding and bringing in the final birth

Great travail now breaks open as the head comes forth
Men not seeing nor hearing the Truth
The scales measured and meted to all
But he who understands will not fall

-Susan Cummings
10-16-05
12:00 noon

http://groups.msn.com/CummingsFamilyAdventures
http://topica.com/lists/JustHisWords

The True Church!

David Burns

Dear loved ones, we are in the midst of a great Spiritual revival, an awakening from God Almighty. If we are to experience a thorough revival, then every congregation must be willing to truly be Christ's Church.

For too long local congregations have puttered along being tantalized by trends and fascinated with fads, hoping the next big conference will set them on a course of appearing successful. Indeed, most churches measure their success by numbers, how many are in attendance, how many members and how much the offerings are. It's time for the local church to get out of the "book of numbers" and into the book of Acts, where we are given the model for the New Testament Church.

When we read through the book of Acts, we read about a Church that was filled with the power and presence of God. No religious gimmicks were needed. The New Testament Church became like a wild-fire, burning through the land, spreading revival and renewal everywhere by ordinary men and women filled with the supernatural presence of God's Holy Spirit.

For the Early Church, trends and traditions were deserted for the way of Christ. Fads were forsaken for the matchless Truth of Jesus Christ.

Today, religious leaders virtually attack a new church growth promise, like a piranha, furiously hoping to find the answer. The answer isn't found this way. The answer is found in practicing what the Early Church practiced.

Dear friend, please listen with an open mind and a heart for what Christ really wants. Christ isn't impressed with our numbers, our buildings and our budgets. He isn't impressed with our programs and our frenzied efforts to frantically serve Him like Martha, while failing to worship Him like Mary (Luke 10:38ff).

Please understand that I am NOT a disgruntled Christian who is down on the local church. I am serving as a pastor right now. I've pastored the same church for the last 10 years. I've been in the ministry for over 20 years. I love the Church and that is why I am preaching/teaching what I am. The Church needs a revival, a strong wake-up call, to stop being obsessed with all of these attempts at being successfully from a worldly point of view and start succeeding in what the LORD wants for HIS Church.

To be the Church that impresses Christ, we must make some serious sacrifices! It means that we can no longer depend upon man but must depend upon Christ. It means that we must no longer water down the Truth of God's Word, even when it brings deep conviction. It means that we must become more than people who just go to church, and be the people who make up the Church, the true Body of Christ.

Christ never intended for the local church to be a one-man show. But so often, the pastor is paid to do it all. This is not Scriptural, and it is hindering true Spirit-filled revival. Every Christian is called to be a minister, a servant of Christ(Ephesians 4).

Much of the way the local church operates is not modeled after the Bible, but modeled after the business world. The minister is paid to be the CEO, and the board of directors (church board) decides whether the CEO is doing his job. This is anti-biblical! It forces the pastor into a state of desperation to make the church reflect worldly success. I make no apology for my boldness. It's time someone stood up and proclaimed this simple truth. Pastors/Shepherds are certainly found in the Bible, and called to be leaders in their local fellowships. But, nowhere does the Bible support a local pastor being paid to replace the giftedness of the Body of Christ.

The Early Church succeeded Spiritual because the leaders and followers knew it was Christ's Church. They knew that all matters would have to be covered with much prayer. They knew they must be led by the Spirit, not by feelings, fads and the newest religious style. For those of you opened to this truth, hear me well: What was in style for the early church has never been out of style!

The Bible still looks good. Preaching with boldness never looked better. Listen pastor, just because the world around your congregation is changing is no reason to change your congregation. Get back to the Truth, modeled by the Early Church in the book of Acts, and the Church will begin to change society!

Pastors are pressured by church boards to run the church like a small business. But let me tell you that small business fail! But when we stop running the church and let Christ lead His Church there will be a revival that will sweep our world. Many pastors and church leaders will reject this message because they know deep in their hearts revival will place their people at the crossroads of decision: to either decide to run to Jesus or run away. The truth is, many top leaders in churches want the numbers and the money. Revival usually has a way of first getting down to a remnant, striping away the money and numbers.

Gideon's man-made army consisted of 32,000 warriors. It's a mega church-sized army! We'd all agree that you can do a lot with 32,000 Think of the soldiers. Think of the size of the offering if 32,000 men tithed prestige of proudly announcing, "I pastor a church of 32,000." See how alluring this is?

Gideon's man-made army consisted of 32,000. Then, God went to work on HIS army. God's army consisted of 300. Nope, I did not leave out any zeroes. 300! Why? God said, "You have too many men for me to deliver Midian into their hands. In order that Israel may not boast against me…"(Judges 7:2).

Unfortunately, some churches and denominations are at the place of not turning back. They have created such a monster, that they cannot stop now. But, some and many can and will. I'm not anti-big church. But, I am pro-healthy church! Churches of all sizes can be plagued with witchcraft and demonic spirits which keep the local church in bondage. Churches claiming to follow the Bible are promoting new age teachings. It's witchcraft and it must be rebuked for revival to come.

Church services have turned into religious concerts, an hour of entertainment, a religious production of which God is not impressed. I've got revival in my blood. I can't help it, because I've seen this transformation take place where I pastor. And because I have witnessed the power of God transforming a local church, I cannot help but be excited and preach it!

TODAY'S CHALLENGE: Pray for revival, in your own life and in the life of your congregation. Pray for every local congregation to truly become Christ's Church, as prescribed in the New Testament. Pray that the Church will be led by Christ, not by man. Pray that the Bible will be the blueprint for the Church to follow. Pray for the Holy Spirit to revive the Church.

Dear Heavenly Father, cleanse Your Church! Revival Your Church. In Jesus' Mighty Name, AMEN!

Re-arranging my life for Christ, David www.freshwind.org

To The Church In Kenya

Cheryl McGrath

Dec 5, 2005
Dear Friends,

Greetings in the Name of The King of Kings!

The following prophetic word was delivered to the Lord's church in Kenya on November 19 this year. A brief report and photos from our recent ministry trip to Western Kenya can be found at the GSLM website for those who are interested - www.greatsouthland.org/kenyamission05.html

Cheryl McGrath
www.greatsouthland.org

WORD TO THE CHURCH IN KENYA

Cheryl McGrath

Delivered November 19, 2005, at Bikeke, Kenya

Relevant Scriptures: Exodus 14:21,22; 1 Cor. 10:1-2; Acts 27:12-15; Psalm 138:1-3 & 7-8

The Lord spoke to me of an east wind coming to His church in Kenya. We see in the scriptures that an east wind was always a harsh, rough wind. When it blew across Israel it stripped the crops. It was also known for setting ships off course. The east wind was not a welcome wind in Israel. Therefore the Lord says this is not a word that you will want to hear, nevertheless it must be heard. He is allowing this wind to come in order to cleanse and purify His Kenya church.

In Exodus 14: 21-22 we see that God sent an east wind to divide the waters of the Red Sea when Israel was coming out of Egypt. In scripture, Egypt is representative of the world and all its compromises. 1 Corinthians 10:1-2 tells us that when the Israelites crossed over between the walls of water, they were baptised into Moses. In other words, this crossing over was a shadow of water baptism. The sea became a place of baptism, and that place was provided for them by the strong east wind which parted the waters. The Lord is saying there is a coming "baptism of fire" for the church in Kenya which will come with this spiritual east wind He is sending. Through tribulation a Bride will come forth in Kenya fit for the Lord.

Furthermore in Acts 27:13,14 we read "and when the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their desire, putting out to sea, they sailed close by Crete. But not long after, a tempestuous head wind arose, called Euroclydon. So when the ship was caught and could not head into the wind, we let her drive." By a word of knowledge, Paul had warned those in charge of the ship that they were headed for disaster (v.10), but his advice was not heeded. Deceived by a peaceful south wind, those on board believed they were safe. But suddenly a tempestuous head wind arose and set the ship off course. The name of this wind, Euroclydon, means "north east wind".

I believe the Lord is saying it shall seem for a time to many in the church that they are headed for peace and safety, and this may be so for a season. However, this is not a time for the church to slumber. It is a time to prepare for what is coming, for the east wind will surely come to Kenya. The church leaders are to take these days of relative calm to prepare and strengthen the church so she may stand in Christ when the future time of testing comes.

The Lord also gave Psalm 138:1-3 and 7-8, and said there is revival coming to the Kenyan church and it will be a revival of the pure Word of God. Fear of the Lord will settle on the true Kenyan bride-church. Kenyans will go forth to other African nations and to the world bearing a pure and uncompromised Word of the Lord spoken in all truth and authority. But this revival is coming forth through tribulation. The Lord will have for Himself a Bride-church in Kenya who reflects His holiness and His glory.

The Lord's message to the Kenyan church is "prepare a place for Me". It is to be the first place, the pre-eminent place, the same place Mary of Bethany gave Him as she sat at His feet and learned of Him. Leaders should take stock of their lives and their ministries, and should prepare their people. He is coming to find a place for Himself, not just to visit, but to dwell. You shall see the Lord high and lifted up over Kenya, but in the midst of trouble. The Lord says "when you see the east wind begin to blow across your nation, know it is I, and prepare for Me."

The Lord did not give me any specific time frames for the coming of this "east wind" and I do not set forth dates or seasons for this. This word, as all prophetic words, should be brought before the Lord in prayerful intercession, and tested by the Spirit and the Word by the Kenyan church.

Submitted with respect to the church in Kenya,
Cheryl McGrath
Great South Land Ministries, Australia
Website: www.greatsouthland.org
Great South Land Ministries,
PO Box 6430
Coffs Harbour, NSW 2450
Australia

"I have but one passion - it is He, it is He alone.
Count Zinzindorf

To The Fathers

Julie Baxter

A Word To The Fathers Who Were Never Fathered Themselves –

Find a Father who has My own heart, says the Lord.

You cannot fulfill your destiny unless you do, because your spiritual DNA is corrupted by your experiences. I say this to all who would have a place in the End Time ministry of restoration of fathers to sons, and sons to fathers. I speak not only to those who are by gender – fathers, it is time for My church to be cleansed, to be holy and pure and live as I ordained.

Find a Father whose relationships with his own family are spectacular. Do not make the mistake of emulating those who are calling themselves “fathers” but in fact are interlopers and frauds.

You have made the mistake of working, working, working and neglecting the ones to whom you are in covenant with Me. You have ignored the vows you made to Me, in order to build your own kingdom. You think I do not see you? You think they do not see your hypocrisy?

It is fashionable to be a “Father” in this end times, but I will reserve a particular judgment for those who misrepresent My heart thusly. Malachi 2:13-15 "This is another thing you do: you cover the altar of the LORD with tears, with weeping and with groaning, because He no longer regards the offering or accepts it with favor from your hand. "Yet you say, 'For what reason?' Because the LORD has been a witness between you and the wife of your youth, against whom you have dealt treacherously, though she is your companion and your wife by covenant “

You have ignored and not discerned your own wife. You have not lived with her according to knowledge, but rather chosen your own escapes. You have flirted with other lovers, entertained adulteresses in pornography and the adulation of those who reverence you. You are vile in My eyes. Cleanse yourself of this filthy unrighteousness, make yourself accountable to those you trust and choose to be transparent before your wife. Do not think she does not feel the violation of your vows –do not think she is not wounded, hurting and troubled by your sin. I have spoken clearly how you are to treat her – you must do so – for there is no father without a wife. You are one in My eyes; she must be healed so that you are not hindered by your own sin.

Another fault I find with you is that you have become a thief and a robber. John 10:7-10 - So Jesus said to them again, "Truly, truly, I say to you, I am the door of the sheep. All who came before Me are thieves and robbers, but the sheep did not hear them. I am the door; if anyone enters through Me, he will be saved, and will go in and out and find pasture. The thief comes only to steal and kill and destroy; I came that they may have life, and have it abundantly.

You have neglected to love Me and worship Me, you have consigned My worship to public places and worship services – you do not worship ME. It is your own personal worship that I am able to transform your heart to my heart – not in ministry, not in business of mentoring, - in your own personal worship times. You cannot rely on others for this aspect of your life in me. Do not ask your intercessors to enter you into the door, you must enter in yourself.

See the following scriptures for more understanding.

Proverbs 5:18-19 Let your fountain be blessed, and rejoice in the wife of your youth. As a loving hind and a graceful doe, let her breasts satisfy you at all times; be exhilarated always with her love.

Ecclesiastes 9:9 Enjoy life with the woman whom you love all the days of your fleeting life which He has given to you under the sun; for this is your reward in life and in your toil in which you have labored under the sun.

Isaiah 54:6-8 "For the LORD has called you, like a wife forsaken and grieved in spirit, even like a wife of one's youth when she is rejected," says your God. For a brief moment I forsook you, but with great compassion I will gather you. In an outburst of anger I hid My face from you for a moment, but with everlasting loving kindness I will have compassion on you," says the LORD your Redeemer.

Bless You!
Julie Baxter
Praying for you from Texas

Habakkuk 2:1
I will stand on my guard post and station myself on the rampart;
and I will keep watch to see what He will speak to me, and how I may reply when I am reproved.
We now have a fax machine - if you fax us anything, please call first. The fax number is the same as our home phone.

The Time For Play Is Over

Kathleen Paul

I would say to you—the hour is here, the hour of putting the toys in the toy box, putting the dolls on the shelf. This is a very serious hour and the time for play is over.

There is a deep darkness arising on the horizon. A deep thick darkness that will invade and consume all those who are caught unawares, who have let their guard down, and those who never even had a guard for they do not know Me.

Prepare for battle. Get the manual (bible) down from the shelf, dust it off, open it up and look, read, and hear what I am saying to you and obey it; no more excuses, no more playing when you should be fighting the war – the battle for the souls of this world. So many casualties so many taken for My people have played instead of walking where I wanted to take them—onto the battlefield. The armor has been taken out of the 'Tickle Trunk' and donned and used for play, for dressing up, pretending, beholding yourselves in the mirror and admiring how nice that armor looked on you. But where are the dents, where are the blood stains, where is the sweat, the dust, the mire?! For I called you to the battlefield not the playroom where you and your friends and family play. People are dying, people are being taken captive and brought into the enemy's camp and others dragged to hell.

Blow the trumpet! Sound the alarm! Call them to battle! Call them to arms! Meet Me on the battlefield, follow My banner and where you see My banner lifted high go and fight the fight of your life, and I will be there, I will take that land and people by force. I will be with you and the enemy will not stand but will have to give over the land and the captives. Decimate the ranks of the enemy. Behold I have given you the strength and power—now execute them! Be militant! Set your face like flint against the forces of darkness and know you will win for I will be with you and truly it is My battle, and nothing can stand against Me and survive.

When you are tired and weary come off the battlefield and come away with Me. To a place of safety, a place of peace and we will sit together, talk together, plan, strategize, eat, drink, rest and (you'll) be strengthened. We'll reminisce, laugh and sing. We will share our love with one another, and you will rest in Me, in My arms, and you will sleep peacefully and awaken refreshed, ready for the battlefield again as the sun rises and day dawns.

It is like the ebb and flow of the tide. In and out, in and out; a time to fight, a time to rest, a time to fight, a time to rest. This is a new hour and a serious hour.

1Corinthians 13:11—When I was a child I spoke as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

Kathy, it is time to put away childish things for behold you are not a child anymore, but My bride and where I am you are to follow and to be and I am in the battlefield where those I love are perishing. Where are you?

Kathleen Paul
Powell River, British Columbia Canada

The Terrain Has Changed

Cheryl McGrath

A Word from the Lord received 31st January, 2005

This prophetic message was received from the Lord on 31st January, 2005. However, due to the weightiness of this message, there has been a necessary time of carrying it and waiting on the Lord before releasing it widely. In Ezekiel chapter 3 we read that Ezekiel was given a prophetic decree to Israel in the form of a written scroll, and instructed to "feed your belly and fill your stomach" with the message. The apostle John, on the isle of Patmos, similarly was instructed to eat "the little book" which in his mouth was sweet as honey, but in his belly became bitter (Rev. 10:10). The Lord's Word should always taste sweet and desirable to His people, because it is Spirit and Life, but there are times when we must allow for the full "digesting" of His prophetic Word within before we can share it appropriately and accurately. At the time of writing, this message has therefore been twenty one days in the digesting. . May we be granted ears to hear.

BACKGROUND: The prophet Jeremiah had been in a situation where the men of his home town, Anathoth, had threatened to kill him because of the Spirit's anointing resting on him, by which he prophesied (Jer. 11:21). Anathoth was city of the Levites, one of several cities granted to the descendants of Aaron by Joshua (see Numbers 35:2-3, Joshua 21). The Levites were the priestly tribe responsible for sacrifices and strict administering of the law, and among the Levites, Aaron's descendants were considered the most holy, representing an elite priestly class. It is believed that some of Jeremiah's own relatives were among those who threatened his life if he did not cease prophesying. For the purposes of this article Anathoth and its inhabitants are symbolic of a religious system based on legalism and works. In Jeremiah chapter 12:1-4 we therefore find Jeremiah, indignant at this recent experience, questioning the Lord over why He allows wickedness and injustice to continue unpunished.

However, before addressing those issues, the Lord imposes His own questions to His servant Jeremiah. "If you have run with the footmen and they have wearied you, then how can you contend with horses? And if in the land of peace, in which you trusted, they wearied you, then how will you do in the floodplain of the Jordan? For even your brothers, the house of your father, even they have dealt treacherously with you; yes, they have called a multitude after you. Do not believe them, even though they speak smooth words to you." (Jeremiah 12:5-6) The same two questions that the Lord posed to Jeremiah form the basis of this prophetic message to His church in this current day and hour.
==

A WORD TO THE FORERUNNERS

"If you have run with the footmen and they have wearied you, then how can you contend with horses?" Jeremiah 12:5

The first section of this message is addressed to the Lord's "footmen", or forerunners. In Old Testament times the footmen were selected soldiers who ran ahead of the main army in order to scout out the land and prepare for its arrival.

The church worldwide is currently experiencing a severe season of transition and change that will ultimately reveal the true Bride of Christ and expose an antichrist religious system built on the false foundations of man's pride and intellect. The word "antichrist" does not mean "anti-Jesus"; it means "anti-anointing". It is a mindset that despises and persecutes anything or anyone born of the Spirit of the Living God, who is the Anointing. The Name Jesus Christ means Jesus the Messiah, (or Yeshua Ha Meshiach), the ANOINTED ONE (Psalm 2:2; John 1:41; 4:25,26; Luke 4:18, Hebrews 1:9; 2 Corinthians 1:21). Let us not be deceived - the antichrist mindset acknowledges Jesus, but denies His Anointing, thereby exalting flesh over the Spirit. In the present season, the Lord is busy establishing His own church as He said He would, even while a false religious system blindly continues to expand and represent itself as "the church of Jesus Christ." Let us understand this time of transitioning is NOT simply about whether to hold meetings in church buildings or in houses. To argue in such terms is to diminish the immensity of the Spirit's present work in the church as the Bride is being called out and prepared for the final stages of this current age. It is about the Spirit and the flesh, who are at war (Gal. 5:17). Only those who live and are ruled by the Spirit of God will discern the nature and timing of the Spirit's work in the church (1 Cor. 2:14-16)

Many of the Lord's servants, in the wisdom and timing of the Lord, were called as forerunners in this transitioning process and have been "running ahead of the army" for some time now, even years. These are those who the Lord called out of denominationalism in order to form an arrowhead for the Spirit's thrust of major reformation of the "ecclesia", or those who are called to be Christ's (Romans 1:6.) In a spiritual sense, these forerunners have been scouting the newly emerging landscape, adjusting their vision and their footsteps to the unfamiliar terrain and gathering necessary understanding of previously unexplored expressions of "being the church", as opposed to "going to church." For a great many of these forerunners the experience of being part of that "arrowhead" has been a costly one in terms of extreme loneliness, isolation and unjust accusations of rebellion from those they once walked with in the Body. However, the lessons they have learned and the brokenness gained from having endured and overcome in this place will prove to be of immeasurable benefit to the Bride in the days to come. These forerunners are the "nameless, faceless" ones spoken of by several prophetic voices during the nineteen nineties. For the most part they have been hidden and crafted by the Lord until His perfect timing and they will not look like or sound like the former leadership models the church has come to rely on. Some of these footmen-forerunners have been scouting ahead for (what seems to them) a very long time, and their weariness is being compounded by discouragement and frustration as they wait for the movement of the main army. For those of you reading this who recognise yourselves as part of this company, the Lord has a specific word:

He says "the terrain is now changing. This new terrain is no place for footmen and requires the power of horsemen. How will you transition to the next stage of what I am doing if your strength has already run out? Let each one answer for himself and herself. Let each one seek Me for the answer, for you cannot do such a thing."

As I contemplated this question in prayer, I considered the weariness and discouragement I had been personally battling throughout the first weeks of the New Year, and I knew that I did not have an acceptable answer. I was then given to see that indeed the only way for the forerunners to keep pace was in the fullness of Christ and the total emptiness of themselves. This truth was etched further into me in recent days as I was led into a deeper understanding of what it means to "love our lives not unto death." This is not something that we can do by determining to do it. The strength of "self" as central to all things is so solidly entrenched in the human heart only the love of Christ Himself can bring each of us to a place where we love His Life more than we love our own. It is only then that we truly begin to understand the often repeated statement: "it's not about me, it's about Him." No matter how many times we say it, or assent to it's truth, we cannot walk in it until the power of His Life in us has broken the power of "self-consciousness", "self-exaltation" and "self-preservation". Then it is that we can truly witness with Paul "It's no longer I that live, but Christ......."

As I allowed the Holy Spirit to search my own heart for the answer the Lord was seeking, I was reminded again of the account of Elijah in 1 Kings 18:44-46.

Then it came to pass the seventh time, that he said "There is a cloud as small as a man's hand, rising out of the sea!". So he said, "Go up, say to Ahab, "Prepare your chariot and go down before the rain stops you." Now it happened in the meantime that the sky became black with clouds and wind, and there was a heavy rain. So Ahab rode away and went to Jezreel. Then the hand of the Lord came upon Elijah; and he girded up his loins and ran ahead of Ahab to the entrance of Jezreel.

Even as the storm clouds dramatically and suddenly rolled in upon Elijah, so too is the spiritual atmosphere in and over the church experiencing dramatic and irreversible change. Even those who have been waiting and praying for such change will be challenged by the magnitude of the shaking and rearranging the Lord is determined to bring to His household. Yet, here we see that not only did Elijah contend with the horses of Ahab, he ran by foot ahead of them. How? By the Spirit of the Lord alone, for there was nothing in Elijah's own strength or stature that could enable him. Horses represent power. There is a way for the footmen to contend with the challenges of this new terrain and run with the horses and horsemen, and it is in the power of the Spirit and by no other means. The Lord is asking if His forerunners are ready to adapt to this new terrain, which will require a shift in focus.

The Lord continued to speak: "Many of the footmen have run individually, aware only of their own footsteps, their own path, and their own goals. But now the terrain changes and they must see what I see - a company of horsemen riding. And they must see themselves no more, but see the company, and themselves as part of that company. They must take in and adjust to the wider view."

If you are a forerunner or part of a forerunner ministry, the message is to look up, look around, stop what you are doing long enough to survey the new surroundings. For things are changing and the isolation many have known in this place is going to pass away. The Lord wants His forerunners to be ready and alert to the new season. There is grace and strength for the discouraged and weary, but the new terrain requires submission to the Spirit and dying to the fear of man as never before. Stay close! There is no other Rest but the Lord. He will enable you!

A WORD TO THOSE WHO TRUST IN PEACE

And if in the land of peace, in which you trusted, they wearied you, then how will you do in the floodplain of the Jordan? For even your brothers, the house of your father, even they have dealt treacherously with you; yes, they have called a multitude after you. Do not believe them, even though they speak smooth words to you." (Jeremiah 12:6)

The second section of this prophetic message is addressed specifically to another group who I have chosen to call "those who trust in peace". I will expound on this after I have addressed the understanding of the "floodplain". As the Lord continued to unfold this prophetic message for His people, I asked what was meant by the phrase "floodplain of Jordan". He revealed the following:

"The floodplain of Jordan is where the enemy comes in like a flood. I am raising up a standard. That standard is My Spirit and My Bride together, saying "thus far, no further." My people must consider whether they are ready for the floodplain and how they shall survive there."

The Hebrew word for floodplain can also be translated "thicket". The floodplain of the Jordan River in Israel in Jeremiah's time was known to be covered with dense jungle-like vegetation inhabited by lions. It was considered a dangerous and unpredictable part of the country, and not a safe place through which to travel.

There are those among the Lord's people who, due to their love for His church, have up until now chosen to remain in fellowship situations where they are aware that known areas of sin are being tolerated in various forms. That sin might either be within the leadership, or being "winked at" (knowingly tolerated) by the leadership. These ones I am speaking of do not condone the sin, in fact are distressed by it, but have chosen to stay on in watchmen and intercessory roles for the love of the Lord's people. Some, for the same reasons, have chosen to remain in fellowship situations where they are continually grieved by a controlling "rulership" mentality in leadership, spiritually abusive behaviour and/or an atmosphere of carnality and denominational competitiveness or elitism. In all of these situations the Sprit of God is grieved and quenched, and His authority in the church hindered. Please take note, this is NOT a word to those who have a personal gripe towards leaders who have corrected them or not esteemed them in the way they feel they deserve. This is a word to those many unknown and genuine intercessory watchmen, shepherds, prophets, apostles, and all other lovers of Christ and His Body who weep and travail over the church in the secret place with no desire for recognition or glory for yourselves. I believe you will know who you are. This place has been difficult and often painful for these seekers of peace to endure, but they have remained to intercede and influence in the hope of change. Thus they have sought and waited for peace in the Lord's household.

Many, like Jeremiah, are asking, "how long, Lord, before you deal with wickedness in Your house?" I hear the Lord replying "and how long will you mourn for Saul?" (1 Samuel 15.35 and 16:1)

The Lord's word to this group of believers is this:

"You have cried "peace" and trusted in that "peace" even as the floodplain has risen around you. You have desired peace with those who did not see things the way you do and at times your desire for this peace has led you into unsanctified mercy. Even when your brothers, who have chosen the house of their (earthly) father have dealt treacherously with you, you have continued to trust in the peace process. I have allowed this for a season, but there is a time when the seeking of peace becomes appeasement, and the longing for peace leads to compromise. But now the terrain has changed and the flood plain of Jordan is upon you. The Jordan represents the Cross, where all compromise ceases. Indeed the Jordan represents even a cross-road where ways separate. Yes, even compromised relationships die at the Cross, where a man's enemies shall be those of his own household."

This is a strong word, and I believe the Lord was speaking of the "household of faith" (Gal. 6:10) when He spoke of dying to compromised relationships. I am not implying in any way, nor do I believe that He was speaking of the covenant relationship of marriage. The "father" He is speaking of are those "spiritual fathers", who seek to draw unto themselves the devotion of His own Blood-bought people that rightly belongs only to Him. These false rulers use the people of God as building blocks to erect their own kingdom. The Lord said "do not call anyone on earth your father; for One is your Father, He who is in Heaven." He was not speaking about family or mentoring relationships, He was saying let no-one take the pre-eminent place of your Heavenly Father. Yet, in His household are many "brothers" whose first allegiance is clearly to other "fathers" such as their pastor or another ministry leader, their denomination, or their particular stream or movement. This is fear of man and idolatry, producing false submission and false grace. The Lord is coming with a sword to His house, and it is a sword of separation. No, His Bride-church will not be divided, but she will be separated from the compromised institutional system that clings to a form of religion devoid of the power of the Cross, from whom she is to turn away (2 Timothy 3:5).

A word of caution here to those who might be tempted to quote that well-worn but unscriptural phrase "Well, there's no perfect church" - DON'T. The Lord is extremely serious about this message and indeed this subject, and will not be mocked. The privilege of fellowshipping with other believers is not first and foremost a social activity, like club membership. It is a corporate expression of a holy priesthood expressing Spirit and truth worship to a holy God. It's time we humbled ourselves and asked Him to show us how He sees His church, instead of expecting Him to see it the way we do. There is only one church, and it is the Lord's desire that His church should indeed be perfect (John 17:23; Eph. 4:13; Col. 1:28; Heb. 12:23). The one church comes together in diverse assemblies that are made up of people in various stages of being perfected into a holy and effective Bridal company. However, not one of us should be defending or excusing an assembly where individual and corporate holiness is not highly valued and actively pursued along with grace.

As the Lord continued to unfold the message, I was given to see an open doorway. In His wisdom and timing, He has allowed that doorway to remain open between the spiritually dead religious institution the world calls the Christian church, and the spiritual house of living stones the Lord Himself is building. The two have been freely mingling amongst each other in every gathering of believers, regardless of whether that gathering was in a denominational or independent setting.. But I also saw that because of this opening a multitude of demonic religious spirits had gathered and now stood ready with the intention to pursue, overtake and destroy the living church, the Bridal company. I saw and understood by the Spirit that the Lord's Hand of constraint had held back this demonic horde from His called and chosen ones as they were becoming prepared and assembled before Him. This church of living stones was born at Calvary when blood and water flowed forth from the dying body of Jesus, and is destined to demonstrate to the principalities and powers the mystery of the Father's manifold wisdom (Eph. 3:10,11). I believe it is now the wisdom and timing of the Lord to close that open door so that the true and false church will be separated from one another. When the Lord closes a door, no man can open it (Rev. 3:7). The Lord will have a living church that is not mixed or tainted by the world. Furthermore, in His grace, He will remove all bridges between the two to remove the possibility of compromise for His elect. He did not allow me to know any specific time frame for this process.

Therefore there is a call going forth to those who have trusted in peace. These are those who have been patiently waiting for things to get better, and have remained in places of fellowship in the hope of change, or out of loyalty to friends, family and leaders. The call is to follow the Lamb wherever He goes, even into unknown and unfamiliar territory outside the walls of establishment. I was strongly impressed by the Spirit that a day of choosing was upon His people, and that to avoid that choice is indeed to make it. I urge anyone who is currently fellowshipping in the kind of situation I have already described above, or where you know in your heart that men are building their own kingdoms at the expense of the Lord's, to search your heart motives for remaining. I encourage you to seek the Lord for confirmation of this prophetic message, or otherwise, and if He directs you out of that system do not hesitate, trusting Him for further direction as you humbly wait on Him. The Lord continued to reveal that as He brings about this impending separation between the true and false churches, the distance between them would become increasingly wider.. We need to understand that those who refuse to compromise and choose to follow the Lamb at any cost will be persecuted and hated by the false religious system. However, those who hear His direction to go forth to Him "outside the camp" and refuse to make that choice will find themselves at the mercy of the religious spirit which is the spirit of antichrist. Under such a system they will have no defence against unrighteous deception and lying signs and wonders, and be in danger of falling away (2 Thessalonians 2:3-11).

WHAT OF THOSE WHO DO NOT SEE THE DIFFERENCE?

The Lord has said that He is providing a way out for those who have been wounded and abused in the false system but who do not yet discern the false from the true in order to choose between them. Recently I was given a vision of a great walled city that was burning. The burning city represented the false church. The gates of this burning city were locked tight, but from a small, hidden side entrance in the walls of this great city a remnant of ragged, wounded, thirsty people of all ages were staggering out into what looked to them like an arid wilderness. However, waiting in that wilderness were others with unlimited supplies of Living Water from which this remnant were given drink. They were then shown revelation of Christ as their Sabbath rest and given manna to eat. Those waiting to minister to them in this way were the forerunners. There was more to this vision that I am not able to share at this time, but the Lord wants His people to know that He has furnished a table for them even in the wilderness.

As I contemplated the things that the Lord had shared with me to pass on to His people, a painful sense of my own inadequacy and weariness began to grow and again I knew that I myself could not answer His question. I could only acknowledge "I do not know how I will survive on the floodplain of Jordan, Lord. I do not know how to answer you." I should have known that was all He was waiting for, for He Himself is always our answer. I then saw in the Spirit one single set of footprints leading through deep, muddy, sandy soil and I understood that the only way to survive on the floodplain is to walk in His footprints for He has walked before us. His footprints led to the Cross where I understood that the Spirit and the Bride must meet with Him, but though this is a place of self-denial I saw that it is not a harsh place. Those who come this far will find it a place of joy as they commune with the Bridegroom in the fellowship of His sufferings. It was for the joy that was set before Him He endured the Cross. But the footprints did not stay at the Cross, though they paused there. They led on to a tomb where the stone had been rolled away, and then they led away from the tomb. He has triumphed over death and the grave, and the footsteps, now etched in Blood, led to the very Throne Room of the Father.

Still I said "But Lord, what of those who stumble, or who are distracted and look away momentarily from the footprints, and so fall on this floodplain?"

With a roar He answered "I AM IS FAITHFUL!". And then came the familiar Voice of the Shepherd, as gently and as sweetly as I have ever heard it: "Shall I not show faithfulness to those who have born faithfulness to Me? I will not leave them to the mercy of the enemy. I shall lift them and carry them on My shoulders, for I AM YOUR FAITHFUL SHEPHERD. I shall carry them until they are strong again, and then I shall set them down again amidst the faithful remnant, and we shall journey on."

CONCLUSION

There are those who will hear and receive this word, and those who will discard it. There are many who will be offended by it. I certainly did not find it any easy word to receive or deliver. However, having done so, I leave it in the hands of the Lord to bring this message to those who need it through the power of His Spirit.

I wish once again to stress that as the Body of Christ moves further into the transitional process, we must grow beyond merely defining this transformation in terms of whether to meet in traditional church buildings or houses. There are believers meeting in houses who are still captive to the "temple" mentality with its hierarchy and law-keeping. And there are believers meeting in denominational church buildings who are free enough to meet with the Body in any physical setting because they understand that the true church finds unity and fellowship only in the Spirit. This transition is about much more than the mechanics of where the church should come together or how the church should function corporately. It is about whether to continue compromising with a flesh-dominated religious system, or abandoning compromise for the spiritual house of living stones, at any cost. Eventually, every believer will have to choose one of those two places. May the Lord give us grace and humility to understand this is all about Him, and not about us.

"He who is not with Me is against Me, and he who does not gather with Me scatters abroad." (Matt. 12:30)

Ó Copyright 2005 Cheryl McGrath, Great South Land Ministries, Australia.
www.greatsouthland.org
This article may be copied or reproduced freely providing copyright notice and contact details remain intact. This article may not be displayed on a website without prior permission from the author.

Trampling The Grapes

David Weber

I spent some time crushing grapes yesterday; lovely, plump and juicy wine grapes that were harvested from a friend's backyard grape arbor.

Then this morning, while thinking about the recent devastation in New Orleans and what that catastrophic event means to the people of this nation and the world, a scripture verse was quickened to me;

"Swing the sickle because the harvest is ripe. Come and trample the grapes because the winepress is full; the wine vats overflow because the wickedness of the nations is great."

I'm sure that there are some folks reading this who might disagree with me, but I am quite confident (as it has been revealed to me in Spirit and Truth) that God our Father has begun to visit this nation in judgment, and this so that the people of this nation might turn from their lawlessness; self indulgence, moral anarchy, paganism, and deep depravity, and turn to the Lord their God.

Four years ago the Lord led me to NYC to pray for the people of that city, and this just prior to the 9/11 disaster. The Word of the Lord to me at that time was that NY was about to be visited in "Judgment." At that time (late July 2001) the Lord even showed me exactly what that "judgment" was going to be; I was made aware that through an act of "terrorism" many people would be killed. I was also shown that the terrorist act would be upon NY skyscrapers, and everywhere I turned I saw the word "FIRE." For two days I wept and I wept as I walked the streets of NY praying for the people of that city who were oblivious to the awesome day of devastation that was coming to them. After two days I was given the word to "Go home."

In the aftermath of the 9/11/2001 disaster the whole nation then began asking God for His blessing, but America knew not what she was asking for. God was going to answer the prayers of the American people; the simple prayer of “God Bless America” had been heard on High and God was going to respond with “blessing” alright ... but not the blessing that America was hoping for. The blessing that was coming was shown to me through a verse from Acts chapter 3:

"Unto you first God, having raised up his Son Jesus, sent him to bless you, in turning away every one of you from his iniquities.” (Acts 3:26)

In this verse we are shown God’s primary way of blessing a people ... which is TURNING THEM AWAY FROM THEIR INIQUITIES!

Beloved America, prosperity and protection from our enemies is ultimately the result of God’s primary blessing ... which is to bring us to a place of repentance. For four years now America has been praying a very simple but good prayer; “God Bless America” and through that prayer we have unwittingly asked God to turn us from our iniquities by bringing chastisement upon our nation.

What America needs to do now is to respond to the Lord’s chastening hand by turning to the Lord with deep heartfelt sorrow for our waywardness. What America needs now more than a "National Day of Prayer" is a NATIONAL DAY OF REPENTANCE! ... then America might just see the blessing of favor and prosperity that she so longs for. Until then, the blessing of this nation will be one of chastening.

The Time Is Nearing To Hide

David Kocurek

The Time is nearing to hide, oh people of God. To hide from the Wrath fast approaching. Most believe we are living in the last days. You are correct. The signs are every were---spoken by the Prophets and Jesus Also. But there is something amiss, Some are saying No Worries we'll not see these things the Lord will Catch us away first. but wait??? Ask your self? is the Bible true??? if this idea be so, then why do the prophets and even Jesus warn us of the impending disasters Spoken in the Bible just before Jesus returns? what would be the point. so since we have these warnings spoken in the bible, shouldn't we take these very seriously???

But what are you saying brother Dave? What do you mean hide? Why? This is not my word, this is the word spoken to the Prophet Isaiah to this Time. Which we most all agree with We are living the last days. Just before Jesus returns. even the non- believers are aware at some level, I heir it in their words and see it in their actions.

Why hide you ask? Since we are living in the last days and the Time is fast approaching to the beginning of the Tribulation, What did Jesus say about it? Wars, rumors of Wars, For Nation shale rise against nation, Kingdom against kingdom, Famine and Disease. The 4 horseman of Revelation 6 Open the start of the Tribulation with War and so much more after that.

Sure brother Dave -- But I'll wait till the Lord tells me to hide? listen, The Lord will help you yes? But if it is in your means to do it now? to prepare a place now-- why wait till the last moment when every one is scrambling to get the same thing off the store shelf's at the same time? this just don’t make sense to me? That is like saying when the hurricane comes I'll board up and escape then? I believe we are being taught lessons of what is about to come. To realize we cant really on Government or others or out side help to help us in great times of need. other than the Lord and God and the Angles and our self's Also we might be able to help a few others during this time and lead then to Jesus.

Look, I Love all the Family of God, we are all brothers and sisters in Gods great family Thanks to the Price paid us by our Lord and savior Jesus. But to ignore a time when the Lord said it would come. A time of Great Darkness, A time in Mans soon history of such Destruction as never before in Mans history and shale ever be after as this time, Jesus spoke of this, the prophets of old and new have spoke of this??? shall we ignore it? I say no, please don’t. I wish no harm to come to no one.

That’s ok brother David I'll be taken up don’t worry brother Dave. With God all things are possible yes, So why would the Isaiah Say this about the time fast approaching us today? Listen- Read it for your self's I'll give you 3 different versions of the same verses. you decide? what Gods prophet Isaiah said. remember "Hiding your self" is a key point heir. not don’t worry I'll come and get you?

Isaiah 26, 20-21 (NIV)
20--Go My People, Enter your rooms and shut the doors behind you; "Hide yourselves" a little while until his wrath has pasted by.
21--See, the Lord is coming out of his dwelling to punish the people of the earth for their sins. The earth will disclose the blood shed upon her, She will conceal her slain no longer.

Isaiah 26, 20-21 (KJV)
20--Come my people, Enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doors about thee: "Hide thy self" For a little moment, until the indignation be over past.
21--For, behold the Lord cometh out of his place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their inequity: the earth also shall disclose her blood. and shall no more cover her slain.

Isaiah 26, 20-21 (Tyndale Living Bible)
20--Go home, my people, and lock the doors! "Hide a little while" until the Lord's Wrath against your enemy's has passed.
21--Look! The Lord is coming from the heavens to punish the people of the earth for their sins. the earth will no longer hide the murderers. The guilty Will be found.

Please feel free to post or share this with those you know in Jesus.

thanks your Brother in Jesus David Kocurek in4jesusnow2008@msn.com

Taking The Land

Rick Joyner

Immediately after Joshua's encounter with the Captain of the hosts, he had to face the seemingly impossible, impregnable stronghold of Jericho. Of course, the Lord could have flicked Jericho with His little finger, and it would have ceased to exist. But He did not want it to be that easy. Though the defeat of Jericho was going to require His intervention, the Lord was requiring His people to be vitally engaged in the fight for their promises. This is because of an important basic principle: anything that comes too fast or too easily is usually insignificant.

There are many things that the Lord wants to do for us. There are gifts He wants to give simply because He loves us and wants us to have them. This is not to try to devalue these special gifts or things that the Lord does for us. Indeed, the greatest gift of all, our salvation, was a free gift that in no way can be earned. However, it is a symptom of a basic misunderstanding about our purposes here when Christians claim that because something has come so easily and fast that it was God. This may be true, but except for the special gifts and things that He likes to do for us as noted above, this is often either evidence of our immaturity or the insignificance of what we are involved in.

As we have addressed before, the Lord could have bound the devil and established His kingdom immediately after His resurrection, as He already purchased the world and all that is in it. This entire age, the Church age, is for the purpose of training for reigning for those who will reign with Him in the ages to come. He purposely did not bind the devil because He does not want it to be easy. Easy in this age usually equates to less maturity, less importance, or even less of a calling.

WE ARE ESTABLISHING OUR ETERNAL PLACE AND POSITION HERE ON EARTH

This will be an affront and perhaps a slap in the face to the immature or the insecure, but it is time that we grow up and begin to eat the meat. When the Lord said ". . . Woe to those who nurse babes in those days" (Matthew 24:19), I think this could be interpreted as, "Woe to those who keep their people in immaturity in these days."
Regardless of our own concepts or even what we have been taught, we will not all be the same in Heaven. Scripture is clear that there are levels and positions in Heaven, and we are establishing our eternal place and position right here. One of the most destructive deceptions in the church is that once you are saved, there is nothing else to work for.

I realize that those with the hunger and devotion to the things of the Lord, who will even give themselves to reading material such as this, at least already have a sense of this truth. We will later establish it further in the Scriptures, but for now, we must understand that difficulties do not come upon us as punishment, but as an opportunity.

The more difficult trials aren't because of something we have done wrong, but because of what we are doing right. It was because of Paul the apostle's high calling that he suffered so much. It was understanding this that caused the other apostles to rejoice after they had been beaten by the authorities because they had been considered worthy to suffer shame for His name's sake.

THE LORD OF HOSTS

Easy does not always equate with the favor of God. In fact, your trials are probably a far greater evidence of His favor, as we are told in Hebrews 12:5-13:
"My son, do not regard lightly the discipline of the Lord, nor faint when you are reproved by Him; for those whom the Lord loves He disciplines, and He scourges every son whom He receives. It is for discipline that you endure; God deals with you as with sons; for what son is there whom his father does not discipline? But if you are without discipline, of which all have become partakers, then you are illegitimate children and not sons. Furthermore, we had earthly fathers to discipline us, and we respected them; shall we not much rather be subject to the Father of spirits, and live? For they disciplined us for a short time as seemed best to them, but He disciplines us for our good, that we may share His holiness. All discipline for the moment seems not to be joyful, but sorrowful; yet to those who have been trained by it, afterwards it yields the peaceful fruit of righteousness.

Therefore, strengthen the hands that are weak and the knees that are feeble, and make straight paths for your feet, so that the limb which is lame may not be put out of joint, but rather be healed."

For the Israelites, the process of just getting to the place of entering their land was long and difficult. A whole generation had passed away because they did not have the faith that was required for taking and living in the promises. Now a great change was coming upon the routine of their existence. In the wilderness, everything had been provided for them. Now they were going to have to fight for their own inheritance, and the obstacles that stood in their way simply looked impossible.

Just crossing the Jordan and then enduring the circumcision had been very hard. The Lord did not let them wait until the floods subsided to let them cross, but He led them across at the most difficult time, even when the river was overflowing all of its banks. Then, they immediately had to endure the circumcision and were humiliated and made weak in the very presence of their enemies, while looking up at the seemingly impregnable walls of the fortress.

We are coming to the times when passive Christianity and passive Christians will cease to exist. There is a maturity, a discipline, and a divine militancy coming upon the people of God. Those who have succumbed to humanistic and idealistic theologies may have a hard time with this, but we must understand that God is a military God. The title that He uses ten times more than any other in Scripture is "the Lord of hosts," or "Lord of armies." There is a martial aspect to His character that we must understand and embrace for the times and the job to which we are now coming.

UNIFYING AND LEARNING TO FOLLOW ORDERS

The Captain of the hosts of the Lord who has come to take over is indeed a great Captain. The greatest commanders will always be found as having laid a strong foundation for their victories by giving their soldiers the best training and having them in the best shape. As it was said of the Shulamite maid, who was a metaphor for the bride of Christ, the Church, "Who is this that grows like the dawn, as beautiful as the full moon, as pure as the sun, as awesome as an army with banners?" (Song of Solomon 6:10). That is what the church is about to become.

The captain would always lead the people to victory, and he would begin his campaign by facing what seemed to be an impossible stronghold. They would learn the way of victory from the beginning. However, to do so, they would have to learn to follow orders--even orders that they did not understand. That is the faith and the trust in God that would be required for walking in the promises.

There is another great change in our mentality that will come. It is often said that the people will not come into unity without persecution. The unity that is coming will not be from persecution. Persecution is being attacked, but what is coming is a unifying to do the attacking--the church rising up to attack the great strongholds of our times that have exalted themselves against the knowledge of God. We will not continue to be on the defensive. This mentality is going to radically change in the very near future. There will be no more retreat before the enemies of the cross.

Let us also keep in mind that this is all spiritual and the weapons of our warfare are not carnal. The armies of Christ are not armed with guns and bombs, but our sword is the truth. Our resolve is to love. Our conquest of the land is in order to set the people free, not to destroy them or take anything from them. The kingdom is coming. The earth and all it contains is the Lord's, and He will take it back, but far more valuable than all of the treasure and land are the people. The people are His inheritance. The people are going to be His, and they are going to love Him for conquering them.

The strongholds that are exalting themselves against the knowledge of God have been set up throughout the territory of humanity. The great battles are for the minds and hearts of people. There are strongholds in science, such as evolution, which may now seem to have an impregnable grip on the minds of men, but they will come down. However, the Lord is not going to destroy science--He is going to conquer and possess it.

EVERYTHING IN CREATION SPEAKS OF HIM

All true science will lead to the Creator. As Jon Amos Comenius once said, as sort of a paraphrase of Paul's statement in the first chapter of the Book of Romans, "Nature is God's second book." Everything in creation speaks of Him. As Elisabeth Barrett Browning said, "Earth's crammed with Heaven, and every common bush afire with God. But only he who sees, takes off his shoes--the rest sit round it and pluck blackberries." Only those who see take off their shoes. But soon, all will have their eyes opened, and they will all take off their shoes in His presence.

The Lord is not coming to destroy the world, but to save it. The kingdom is coming to save the earth from all of the consequences of the Fall, and not only give the earth a future, but one more glorious than we can now comprehend. Every evil stronghold that exalts itself against the knowledge of God will come down.

There is a war to fight, but it is a spiritual war. The kingdom is coming to destroy war, child abuse, wife abuse, animal abuse, environmental abuse, disease, famine, and even death itself. The kingdom is coming to restore the earth and make it the paradise that God intended for it to be.

There is no greater hope for the future than the gospel of the kingdom. This is the gospel that must be preached before the end of this age can come. We cannot allow the New Age movements and other cults to continue to hold the high ground of hope for the future when that is our special domain. Our message is not only one of hope for the future, but of the greatest hope of all. No other religion, no philosophy of utopia, has a message of hope as great as the gospel of the kingdom.

IF WE STAY CLOSE TO THE LORD, WE DO NOT NEED TO FEAR THE TRIBULATION

But what about the great tribulation? What about the great time of trouble such as the world has never seen before? These will come. We need to understand them, and we need to be prepared for them. I once had a prophetic experience in which the Lord showed me very simply how to be prepared for them.

In this experience, I suddenly found myself standing in front of a radar screen on a warship, and the Lord Himself was standing right next to me. There was a blip on the screen that was straight ahead and coming closer at a fast speed. In this experience, I ordered the ship to turn 90 degrees to the right to avoid the impending collision, but after we turned, the blip on the screen remained dead ahead and kept coming straight at us.

I then ordered the ship to turn to the left to avoid the collision, but with the same result--it kept coming straight at us. I braced myself for the collision, but nothing happened. When I asked the Lord what that was, He simply said, "That was the great tribulation, the great time of trouble. You can't avoid it, but if you stay close to Me, you won't even feel it." Then the experience was over.

The great tribulation, or time of trouble, is but a tiny blip on the radar screen of all that is coming. It is coming, and it is unavoidable. But if we stay close to the Lord, we do not need to fear it. As we are told in Daniel 11, even when the "abomination of desolation" (Daniel 11:31) is being set up, "the people who know their God will display strength and take action" (Daniel 11:32). When this happens, the people who know their God will not be passive; they will not be hiding. They will take action!

CROSSING OVER INTO THE PROMISED LAND

There are many strongholds or deceptions that have exalted themselves against the knowledge of God that are firmly planted in the church. These will be removed, as the Lord promised in Matthew 13:40-43:
"Therefore just as the tares are gathered up and burned with fire, so shall it be at the end of the age. The Son of Man will send forth His angels, and they will gather out of His kingdom all stumbling blocks, and those who commit lawlessness, and will cast them into the furnace of fire; in that place there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Then the righteous will shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears, let him hear."

Just as many issues had to be dealt with in Israel before they could cross over and begin to posses their land, the Church has some issues that must be dealt with before we can go any further. Some of these issues will pass with the generation before God's people can cross over.

The emerging generation, the one that will cross over, is almost universally examining and challenging the doctrines that led to many of the problems suffered by the previous generations, doctrines which in many ways sowed unbelief and kept them from entering the Promised Land. This examination must be done, but it must be done without disrespecting those who may not have been able to enter the land. At least they left Egypt and got the emerging generation to the place where they could cross over.

You can examine teachings and beliefs in a way that does not dishonor the fathers and mothers for all that they accomplished by learning from the many mistakes they made instead of ridiculing them. As we will study, just as the generation that crossed over made plenty of their own mistakes, pray that those who cross over will not become arrogant. Pride always leads to a fall, and the Lord gives His grace to the humble.

By Rick Joyner
Morningstar Ministries
www.morningstarministries.org

The True Meaning Of Christmas

Bill Somers

Revised 12/23/01

A Christmas Prophecy

This article is a look at the first coming of Jesus as described and Matthew, Luke, and also Isaiah. We need to see how it is a type or prophecy of his Second Coming. That is to say things that happened at his first coming are foreshadows of what will happen at his second coming. Let me make it clear that most of these points refer to Jesus coming spiritually to his Church in the form of a great outpouring leading to a great harvest. This takes place during and after a time of judgment on the Church.

In other words the first coming of Jesus speaks of End Time Revival [the latter rain] coming to the Church.
You may want to go over the passages in Matthew and Luke and Isaiah since we did not include them, to keep this article short, [a book could be written].

We are presenting these points, rapid fire, as it were. We could add after each one the word selah, which means pause and consider. As you do, think of the coming of Jesus as the coming of Revival.
The Christmas Story is a Prophecy!

1. His first coming was foretold by the prophets. His Second Coming is also being foretold by the prophets.
2. Wise men knew when and where to look for him then, Wise men will know when and where to look today.
3. In the fulness of time God sent forth his son. This applies to both the first and second comings. He will come at the appointed time.
4. He was born in a manger. Consider that a manger can mean a crib, or it can mean a stall. A stall can be a booth, as the children of Israel dwelt in booths during the Feast of Tabernacles. A booth is a temporary dwelling like a tent which is another word for tabernacle. But the tabernacle also speaks of God's dwelling place, also his temple or his Church. When he comes again, he will be born into His Church.
5. His coming was with tidings of great comfort and joy. Luke 2:10. This speaks of the comfort and Joy in the Holy Ghost that the church will have in the last days outpouring of the Spirit of God. These will be times of great judgments but those who abide in the Shadow of the Almighty will have a peace that passes all understanding.
6. He was born of a virgin. Matthew 1:23 The Church will be purged and purified in order to show forth his love. The Bride has played the harlot, but she will have to get back her virginity. So that she can become pregnant before the wedding.
7. Shepherds in the field were drawn to him. His Glory blazed about as angels visited them. Luke 2:7-8. This speaks of God's true shepherds, not the hirelings, being drawn into his presence. And coming manifestations of the Shekinah Glory on the Church. Plus angelic visitations and other supernatural happenings.
8. As Joseph was troubled by his wife's pregnancy, the Church world will be troubled by the revival that's coming. Yet the word of the Lord in this case is just as it was with Joseph. Fear not, this is of the Holy Ghost! Just as Mary was pregnant before her wedding, the church will have to be pregnant with Jesus before her wedding.
9. Unto us a child is born. This reference from Isaiah 9:6 takes a new meaning once you see that "US" is the end time Church. Us. And we are symbolized by the woman in Revelation 12 who brings forth a manchild. This is Christ being formed in us and shown forth by us.
10. "She shall bring forth a son [unto us a son is given] who shall save his people from their sins." Matthew 1:21. The coming of the manchild is also the coming of the great end time harvest.
11. "Thou shalt call his name Emmanuel, that is God with us." When Jesus comes to dwell in His Church, he will truly be God with us.
12. Wise men came to Jerusalem from the east. Matthew 2:1. When revival and harvest come there will be many conversions in eastern countries, especially the middle east. Muslims will come to worship him. See Isaiah 60:6-7
13. "When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him." Matthew 2:3 Herod here is a type of Satan, and this speaks of Satan's kingdom being troubled by these events.

14. " and all Jerusalem with him." Matthew 2:3, This also speaks of the established religions being troubled as well.
15. The wise men worshipped with exceeding great joy, Matthew 2:10-11. This will also take place in this revival.
16. When they were come, they opened their treasures. Matthew 2:11. This coming influx of Muslims will greatly enrich the Church, both spiritually and literally..
17. "And being warned of God …." Matthew 2:12. This speaks again of the Muslims receiving a genuine fear of the Lord in their conversion. They do not return to serving satan [Herod] but instead begin to follow a new path and to minister the gospel in their own countries.
18. Matthew 2:13-18 tells of Herod's persecution and attempt to kill the new born messiah. This is a direct parallel to the persecution to come upon the end time Church. See Revelation 12:13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the man child.
19. Matthew 2:19-20 tell of how Jesus comes back to Israel after Herod is dead and the persecution is over. When Satan and his kingdom are under his feet, Jesus will return to earth with all the saints and holy angels with him.
20. Mary, the mother of Jesus, is a type of the Church. In Luke 1:35 we read " The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee; therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God." This is a description of what is coming upon the Church.
21. "For with God nothing shall be impossible." Luke 1:37 Compare this to Revelation 12:10 " And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, …." 2 Chronicles 6:41 "Now therefore arise, O LORD God, into thy resting place, thou, and the ark of thy strength: let thy priests, O LORD God, be clothed with salvation, and let thy saints rejoice in goodness." To be Clothed with Salvation and to operate in His strength, that is Revival. Then The church will be able to do all that the Lord asks, with God nothing shall be impossible.
22. Luke 1:25 says "Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the days wherein he looked upon me, to take away my reproach among men." This though spoken by Elizabeth and referring to her pregnancy, also applies to the Church. The reproach on the Church is the exposure of her sin and its judgment. The Lord will remove this reproach by redeeming his people and by bringing in a great harvest.
23. Luke 1:38 says "Behold the handmaid of the lord, be it unto me according to thy word …" Mary says this as a type of the Church! When the Church makes this her confession she will be submitting to the Lordship of Jesus. Some commentators have said that when Mary spoke these words is when she became pregnant. Christ was formed in her. When the Church "speaks" these words Christ will be formed in his people.
24. Luke 1:45 says "And blessed is she that believed: for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord." The words 'there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord' when applied to the Church speak of the fulfillment of the prophetic scriptures. This is the Lord keeping his promises and confirming his covenant. See also Luke 1:72.
25. Luke 1:46-55 is Mary's prophetic prayer, [my soul doth magnify the Lord]. It speaks of God's redemption of his people the Church in the end times and the great rejoicing that will go along with that.
26. Luke 1:65-66 speaks of a Fear that came upon all those that dwelt there and how the news spread. This speaks of a Fear of the Lord that comes with revival and spreads wherever revival goes..
27. In Luke 1:67-79 Zacharias gives a long prophecy, [he hath visited and redeemed his people]. What he says here also applies to us. It is a depiction of the End Time work of the Lord in His Church.

Doubtless there are many other points that could be made and comparisons taken. We could go on at great length but would rather not. So you have a lot of pearls in a small package.

I hope these points have provided some insights into the true meaning of Christmas and how it points to the end times.

Time To Move Up And Move Out
Bobby Conner

This year, 2005, will be a year of advancement and acceleration with shocking swiftness. The Spirit of God will set things in order, bringing about Divine order. There has come a "fullness of time" moment in the realm of the Spirit. Heaven is declaring, "no hesitation!" It is time for "advancement." Heaven's host stands ready to move, aiding all who seek to establish the King in His Kingdom. More about the throne of God and the God of the throne will be revealed this year than in pervious years.

The Spirit of the Lord is calling for the army of the Lord to arise, taking hold of the Kingdom with true spiritual power and force. Remember, the Lord stated that forceful saints would take the Kingdom of heaven.

"From the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffers violence, and violent men take it by force." Matthew 11:12

Knowing that it is not by our might nor by our human spirit but only by the Spirit of the LORD.

Then he said to me, "This is the word of the LORD saying, 'Not by might nor by power, but by My Spirit,' says the LORD of hosts." Zechariah 4:6

THE BODY OF CHRIST WILL BEGIN TO EXPERIENCE AWESOME BREAKTHROUGHS

Battles will increase; however, the victories will be overwhelming. The Body of Christ will begin to experience awesome breakthroughs in unity and restoration, resulting in displays of grace and power.

"Behold, how good and how pleasant it is
For brothers to dwell together in unity!
It is like the precious oil upon the head,
Coming down upon the beard,
Even Aaron's beard,
Coming down upon the edge of his robes.
It is like the dew of Hermon
Coming down upon the mountains of Zion;
For there the LORD commanded the blessing -- life forever."
Psalms 133:1-3

Bobby Conner
Eagle's View Ministries
www.bobbyconner.org

The Testimony Of Enoch

Jeff Jansen

(jeffjansen@globalfireministries.com)
www.globalfireministries.com

In the past few months I've been taken into several interactive encounters with the Holy Spirit all of which have served as marked indicators into the heart of God to experientially "catch us away" into heavenly places. We've entered a place in church history and time where interactive throne room experiences are becoming more and more a part of a normal Christian life. The Holy Spirit is teaching us that access into "Heavenly Places" is normal and available for all who would prepare themselves for these kinds of encounters that come by intimacy. Here is one of those experiences.

In a vision I was taken to a place that appeared to consist of pure light. There weren't any physical objects that I could tangibly focus on, but it was a place of incredible beauty and great light. Standing in front and on both sides of me were three beautiful angels. I could feel their presence and without saying a word I instinctively knew their thoughts and feelings. They were standing in beautiful light that appeared translucent in nature.

It became apparent to me that we were in a waiting or preparation room, and that it was necessary for me to be there in order to get to the next place. The angel standing in front of me picked up a paint brush and dipped it in a bucket of what looked like swirling liquid light. He took the brush and began to paint me with it from head to toe. I felt warmth begin to cover my body. Psalm 104:2 say's that even God covers Himself with pure light as with a garment. The experience then shifted and I saw myself as if I were on T.V.

As I looked at myself I no longer looked of human origin, but was transformed into the appearance of light. I looked just like they did. I knew the angels were preparing me for the Throne Room and that it was necessary for me to be covered with the same radiant protective light as they were, or in my fleshly human condition I wouldn't be able to stand before the all consuming greatness of His power.

Show me Your Glory

God knew this and told Moses that in order for him to be able to see His glory he would have to be hid in the cleft of the rock. Exodus 33:19-23 say's "I will make all My goodness pass before you, and I will proclaim My name, THE LORD, before you; You cannot see My face, for no man shall see My face and live. And the Lord said Behold, there is a place beside Me, and you shall stand upon the rock, and while My glory passes by, I will put you in a cleft of the rock and COVER YOU with My hand until I have passed by.

Like Moses we have to be covered and prepared by the hand God or we won't be able to stand before Him much less see Him. Moses was acquainted with God's ways but couldn't stop until he caught a glimpse of the one he came to know and love as friend.

Moses cried out "Show me Your glory" Exodus 33:18.

Access to My courts and to the angels

In Zechariah chapter 3, Joshua the high priest was given clean robes to wear and a clean turban was placed on his head by the guiding angel as he stood in the presence of the Lord. It was necessary for Joshua to be clean inwardly with his thoughts (the reason for the clean turban) and outwardly with his robes (being free from the stain of the world). The Angel of the Lord instructed Joshua "If you will walk in My ways and keep My charge then also you shall rule My house and have charge of My courts and I will give you access to My presence and places to walk among these who stand here with you. Hear now, O Joshua the high priest, you and your colleagues who sit before you- for they are men who are a sign of what is to come"! (Zech3:7-8)

Wow! Joshua and his friends were being extended the right of direct access to the presence of God and to the angels. They were to be a sign to all of what was to come. It was clear they had to present themselves clean in appearance and pure in thought in order to gain this access. Romans 12:1 & 2 says "I appeal to you brothers and beg of you in view of all the mercies of God, to make a decisive dedication of your BODIES presenting all your members and faculties as a living sacrifice, holy and consecrated and well pleasing to God., which is your reasonable service. Do not be conformed to this world or present age, but be transformed by the entire RENEWAL OF YOUR MIND or in the "spirit of your mind" (Ephesians 4:23). Joshua had to be prepared by the guiding angle that stood with him in order to gain this access into the presence of God.

Enoch walked with God

We see that in Genesis 5:24 the scriptures clearly indicates that "Enoch walked with God and he was not any longer for God took Him".

Hebrews 11 states "Because of faith Enoch was CAUGHT UP and TRANSFERRED to heaven, so that he did not have a glimpse of death; and he was not found, because God had TRANSLATED him. For even before he was taken to heaven, he received TESTIMONY still on record that he had pleased and been satisfactory to God" (Hebrews 11:5-6). The scripture says Enoch was "caught up" - "transferred" â€“ "translated" to heaven.

Webster defines these terms as follows:

Transferred: To carry, remove, or shift from one person, position, or place to another

Translated: To change from one form to another: To transport or to enrapture: To move from one place to another in space by means of reaction power.

God not only transferred Enoch from earth to heaven by way of visions, but God translated the very form of Enoch's body into a heavenly rapture. Paul had a similar experience in 2 Corinthians 12:1-4- Paraphrasing Paul writes: lets go on to visions and revelations: I was caught up into the 3rd heaven. Verse: whether in the body or away from the body I do not know, God knows I was caught up into paradise and heard things beyond the power of man.

There was so much love between God and Enoch stemming from intimacy that God saw it fit no longer to be without him and He simply "translated" him. There's a friendship being offered to the people of God that far exceeds any experience we could possibly have on earth. John 15:15 Jesus say's "I do not call you servants any longer, but I call you My friends, because I have made known to you everything I have heard from My Father.

Enoch was known on earth as a righteous man, but in heaven he was known as the friend of God. Enoch learned that by intimacy with the Holy Spirit and pure thinking he could achieve just about anything, even unlimited access to the very throne room of God! Enoch did away with unrighteous thinking. He didn't pollute himself with the demonic temptations of his day, but he kept every aspect of himself body, soul and spirit clean in order to maintain access into the garden of the Lord and to his greatest love. Enoch was a forerunner revealing to us the hidden truths of walking in the divine nature (I Peter 1:4).

The good news is because we have the "testimony of Enoch", according to the word of God we also have access to the same experiences that he did.

I love what Bill Johnson says about the power of a testimony. He reveals the spiritual principal that according to Revelation 19:10 the testimony of Jesus is the Spirit of prophesy. The testimony of the Lord is the spoken record of Gods works that reveal His nature and demonstrate His covenant with man. As we begin to give expression to a particular truth or testimony from any past experience or act of God, we literally can bring into an atmosphere of power the ability to reduplicate that testimony and birth it into a place where we can experience it over and over again!

Every time we testify of a miracle or healing of any kind, the power or reality of that testimony opens the atmosphere in that place and creates the ability for that particular truth or act of God to be reduplicated again. So because we have the testimony that Enoch walked with God, that testimony opens a place for us in the Spirit to be able to have access to the same revelations, transportations and translations in the Holy Spirit by prophetic proclamation as Enoch did!

The understanding of this kind of access is almost inconceivable to think of, but true.

Enoch understood many wonderful truths and mysteries of God by revelation that we shy away from because of our lack of experience and understanding. If we were to have a fraction of the understanding and experience Enoch had in his day, I'm sure we would see things quite differently. We would have cures for sickness and disease by revelation of God for just about everything. Inventions by the Spirit of Wisdom would be off the charts. The world would be turning from "Decrease" to "Increase". Our fellowship with God would be like a "Garden Experience".

There were no limitations on Adam in the garden and Adam never saw himself with any. All Adam knew was that he loved God and enjoyed communion with Him. Nothing was impossible for him. Adam lived, moved and acted with a "spiritual mind".

According to 1st Corinthians 2:9: Eye has not seen and ear has not heard and HAS NOT ENTERED INTO THE HEART(understanding) OF MAN all that God has prepared for those who love Him!). God is preparing us for greater encounters into His presence that require this kind of understanding. Even now He is changing us in the spirit of our minds so we can begin to see Him in a completely new light. God has summoned the angels to help prepare us with the right kind of thinking and to paint us with the liquid light of His presence so we are able to enter into this new place of experience and understanding by intimacy.

The Time Of Fulfillment Is At Hand

Lori Hankins

"I Am doing a new thing and even now it shall surely come to pass (Isaiah 43:19). I have tested you in the wilderness, I have refined you in the fire, and I have purged you in My furnace.

You have embraced My sufferings, and now you shall embrace My life. I am going to use you in places that you cannot comprehend (Isaiah 49:9).

You have emptied yourself of so much that you have thought there is surely nothing left, but the truth is that I AM what is left. You have need of nothing else.

If you abide in Me, and I in you, then you can ask anything of the Father and it will be given you John 15:7).

I have purposely emptied you of the things that were so dear to you.

I have need of empty vessels that can only be filled with Me.

I have need of you, without anything you think you might have to offer.

It is only the dead body that can be filled with resurrection power, a live body cannot share my glory (2 Cor. 4:8-10).

If you are dead to all the things of this world, then my resurrection life can come and fill you. You have not lost anything in comparison to what I Am about to give you.

I have chosen you, I have called you, and I will fill you. The time is short, there are things to be accomplished and My purposes are ripe for fulfillment.

Only now you must present yourself to Me continually.

I will speak, and you have been trained to listen.

I will show you whether to go to the right or to the left, and you will follow.

I will show you who I will heal, who I will raise up to new life, who I am pouring My Spirit out upon, and you will respond to what I show you.

Even as I only did what the Father was doing, this is the walk that I have called you to, that only do what I Am doing.

I ask you to walk by faith and not by sight. I ask you to trust ME fully, to rely on ME, to wait upon ME, and to walk in fullness of Peace.

I will never cause you anxiety, and you will know that I Am with you by the peace that accompanies you.

Whenever anxiety is present, then know that you have left My Presence, that you have entered into the flesh and you must return to ME.

I will not lead you astray, I will provide, I will bless, I will keep you in all your ways as you follow Me.

I will raise your children to follow Me as you give your life over to Me (Isaiah 54:13).

I will bless your house and your family.

I Am going to use you in ways that will seem endless and you will have need to fall into My lap each day for times of refreshing.

Find this place of comfort, find the way plainly and easily for you will need to know how to access My rest at all times.

Especially in times of adversity and confusion.

You must know the Rest that I have. When I walked on the earth I knew the pathway to my Father's bosom and entered there often to rest. It is not a rest that comes from the world, but a rest that is from above.

It is not dependent upon time, but it is a timeless rest, a fullness of the Presence of God that permeates your being like the breath that you breathe. It will fill you and comfort you.

It will bring wisdom and guidance, it will show you what is to come and how to overcome.

This place of rest is more necessary than the food that you eat, than the sleep that you need (Ps. 91:1).

You cannot go forth without this rest, you cannot accomplish MY mandates for this hour unless you understand the Rest of the Sabbath, the place of Peace, and the bosom of the Father.

Do not walk according to the sight of this world. Do not look for ME here.

I Am Spirit and those who worship must worship in Spirit and Truth.

Close your eyes and calm your mind, enter into the Kingdom of God which is within you, I Am there upon the throne of your heart where you have given Me residence. You can trust that I Am there.

It is not dependent on your own goodness or actions that I reside there, it is by My Spirit that I reside.

When you are clouded with this world and its cares you think that I have left.

I do not leave, I am hidden by the darkness that clouds your eyes when you are sighted upon the cares of the world. Come to Me by faith.

Repent and shake off the things of the world when your vision is clouded and come by faith knowing that I will never leave you or forsake you. My love is not conditional.

You must learn this and walk in it or else you will forever by struggling with your flesh. You cannot receive from Me when you are clouded, but when you eyes are clear, then all things are possible (Matt. 6:22-23).

Remember that I am for you, not against you. I am kind and merciful, My love endures forever.

I do not love as this world loves, I know your frailties, and yet I am still with you. Do not be afraid to come at all times.

The time of fulfillment is at hand. It is time for the promises spoken to come to pass.

I have tested and tried, now I will lead into the land of promises.

Do as the children of Israel did when entering their promised land: "Sanctify yourselves, for tomorrow the Lord will do wonders among you." Joshua 3:5

Lori Hankins
Moravian Falls, NC

The Thunders Of God
Joni Ames

How many of you have noticed the oddity of the "rolling thunder" that has been occurring on a regular basis lately? As I asked the Lord about this, I felt He said, "Listen, I'm speaking."

In John 12: 28 & 29, a wonderful, yet short, meaningful conversation is recorded between Father God and His Son. In verse 28, Jesus said, "Father, glorify Your name." Then a voice came from heaven (obviously the Father), saying, "I have both glorified it and will glorify it again." However, in verse 29, no one else paid enough attention to know what was said. It reads: "...The people who stood by and heard it said that it had thundered. Others said, "An angel has spoken to Him."

I had a traffic accident a couple months ago, and there was a Bible in the car with me. I hadn't used that one since then, but today when I opened it up, a piece of broken glass from the accident was in it, right next to those verses! The Lord used that to confirm to me that He wanted me to bring forth this message.

Every time I even think of those verses, my spirit cries out to the Lord, "Dear God! When you speak, let me hear what you are saying! Please don't let me just hear thunder!"

I believe that, just as the Father promised the Son through that conversation, and His voice of Thunder, He speaks to us in the rolling thunders of this day as well. Yes, He has glorified His name in times past, but behold! For He will glorify His Name again, in this earth, and through His People, in THIS day and time! For, even through we are in dark times, His light and glory will shine upon His people in this time (Is. 60:1 & 2), and we will become the glorified Bride we are meant to be!

I live near an Air Force Base, and whenever they are on maneuvers, you can hear and feel it for miles! The other morning as I went outside and heard and felt a strong rumbling, I said, "Lord, is that thunder or maneuvers?" He said, "BOTH. My angels are on maneuvers right above you!"

There is a territorial war over our nation in the heavens right now. "The kingdom of heaven suffers violence, and the violent take it by force." (Matthew 11:12) Yet we know, to fight, it is "'Not by might nor by power, but by My Spirit,' Says the Lord of hosts. (Zech. 4:6) and that, "...The weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty in God for pulling down strongholds," (2 Cor. 10:4)

Many others have commented recently about the thunders, and I believe that the Lord truly is speaking. Like Samuel, we need to say to the Lord, "Speak, Lord, your servant is listening," and then DO just THAT! - LISTEN!

"Hear attentively the thunder of His voice, And the rumbling that comes from His mouth:" (Job 37:2)

HIS ANSWERS
"You called in trouble, and I delivered you; I answered you in the secret place of thunder; I tested you at the waters..." (Psalms 81:7)

The Lord is saying to us, these thunders are not just rumbling sounds of "nothings." Know this - His angels are on maneuvers on YOUR behalf! And God IS answering you in the secret place of His Thunders! Do you know where the thunders come from? "...From the throne proceeded lightnings, thunderings, and voices. Seven lamps of fire were burning before the throne, which are the seven Spirits of God." (Rev. 4:5)

Sometimes the rumbling or thunders come in other forms...and God will speak in the midst of life's storms, through someone or something. Even a donkey, as He did in Numbers 22!

God's thunder will chase the floods far from us, "At Your rebuke they fled; At the voice of Your thunder they hastened away." (Psalm 104:7)

THE THUNDERS OF PSALM 18
Psalm 18 is one of my favorite chapters. I know that God is no respecter of persons, and I'm confident that He loves you and me every bit as much as He loved David! So I know that when David wrote this Psalm, it was for us as well, to remind us of what happens when we cry out to God in the midst of our trials:

"6 In my distress I called upon the Lord, And cried out to my God; He heard my voice from His temple, And my cry came before Him, even to His ears. 7 Then the earth shook and trembled; The foundations of the hills also quaked and were shaken, Because He was angry. 8 Smoke went up from His nostrils, And devouring fire from His mouth; Coals were kindled by it. 9 He bowed the heavens also, and came down With darkness under His feet. 10 And He rode upon a cherub, and flew; He flew upon the wings of the wind. 11 He made darkness His secret place; His canopy around Him was dark waters And thick clouds of the skies. 12 From the brightness before Him, His thick clouds passed with hailstones and coals of fire. 13 The Lord thundered from heaven, And the Most High uttered His voice, Hailstones and coals of fire. 14 He sent out His arrows and scattered the foe, Lightnings in abundance, and He vanquished them. 15 Then the channels of the sea were seen, The foundations of the world were uncovered At Your rebuke, O Lord, At the blast of the breath of Your nostrils. 16 He sent from above, He took me; He drew me out of many waters. 17 He delivered me from my strong enemy, >From those who hated me, For they were too strong for me. 18 They confronted me in the day of my calamity, But the Lord was my support. 19 He also brought me out into a broad place; He delivered me because He delighted in me." (Psalm 18:6-19)

But there is something we need to remember...there was a reason the Lord did this for David: "20 The Lord rewarded me according to my righteousness; According to the cleanness of my hands He has recompensed me. 21 For I have kept the ways of the Lord, And have not wickedly departed from my God. (Psalm 18:20-21)

The thunders of God come to speak (1) to give direction, (2) to save the just, (3) to warn regarding any wickedness, or (4) to pour out God's wrath upon the enemy. So we need to be mindful of what He is saying in those thunders. - AND of where we are at in our walk with Him.

Calling ourselves Christians does not give us a license to do wrong. Rather, a responsibility to live up to the name by which we call ourselves, a CHRISTian. - I once heard someone say, If you take the letters C-H-R-I-S-T out of C-H-R-I-S-T-I-A-N, that leaves you with "I-A-N" which equals "I Am Nothing." We are nothing without Him.

22 For all His judgments were before me, And I did not put away His statutes from me. 23 I was also blameless before Him, And I kept myself from my iniquity. 24 Therefore the Lord has recompensed me according to my righteousness, According to the cleanness of my hands in His sight." (Psalm 18:22-24)

Now let's bring balance here. I'm not suggesting a works mentality. Just a Jesus mentality. If we are in sin, we separate ourselves from God. So it's best to "keep short accounts" with Him, so that we don't stand in a place of needing correction or judgment.

One of the pathways to walking in Spiritual Authority is to walk in accountability in our responsibilities, and in proper relationship with others in the Body. God will judge us as we judge others, so it's a good idea to be merciful to others.

25 With the merciful You will show Yourself merciful; With a blameless man You will show Yourself blameless; 26 With the pure You will show Yourself pure; And with the devious You will show Yourself shrewd. 27 For You will save the humble people, But will bring down haughty looks. 28 For You will light my lamp; The Lord my God will enlighten my darkness. 29 For by You I can run against a troop, By my God I can leap over a wall. 30 As for God, His way is perfect; The word of the Lord is proven; He is a shield to all who trust in Him." (Psalm 18:25-29)

SONGS OF DELIVERANCE

I believe the Lord also "thunders" and brings deliverance and victory during worship through the use of drums. The Lord told me in 1999, "WORSHIP is your WAR-ship!" Remember, there was even a time when the Lord sent out His praisers ahead of the Army, and the rest of the battle didn't need to be fought!

Psalm 37:2 says, "You are my hiding place; You shall preserve me from trouble; You shall surround me with songs of deliverance."

I believe that, as we use drums when we shout our proclamations into the heavens, they are a great tool of warfare! I love to use my hand drum, and beat it as I shout scriptures into the air when I drive through towns on my way across country! Let me tell you, God shows up! Try it, even using these scriptures as you beat upon a drum:

"2 Hear attentively the thunder of His voice, And the rumbling that comes from His mouth. 3 He sends it forth under the whole heaven, His lightning to the ends of the earth. 4 After it a voice roars; He thunders with His majestic voice, And He does not restrain them when His voice is heard. 5 God thunders marvelously with His voice; He does great things which we cannot comprehend.: (Job 37:2-5)

Psalm 24:7 says, "Lift up your heads, O you gates! And be lifted up, you everlasting doors! And the King of glory shall come in."

Truly, God WILL glorify His name in the earth - in THIS nation - in these times! And He will do so in and through those who are called by His Name. But we are at war, and we cannot be spiritual wimps.

"I heard a voice from heaven, like the voice of many waters, and like the voice of loud thunder. And I heard the sound of harpists playing their harps." (Rev. 14:2)

God DOES want to speak and thunder, even through the worship. And He will use the drummers to set the cadence for His end time army, IF they let Him! - So, drummers, do NOT hold back! If you are in a "free" church where you have the authority to do so, then release yourself to follow the leading of the Lord! There are even times when the Lord will allow us to hear the beating of His heart and synchronize the cadence of ours to His as the drums proclaim it! And there are times when the drums will proclaim and set the cadence of war. So drummers, hear what the Spirit is saying, and follow His leading! It is time to listen to the thunder of His voice and to bring forth the thunder of His cadence!

SONS OF THUNDER

The Lord is calling forth "Sons of Thunder," for such a time as this. Now, ladies, this isn't a gender statement! If the men can be the Bride of Christ, we can be "Sons of Thunder," too!

In Mark 3:17, Jesus gave to James the son of Zebedee, and to his brother John, the name "Sons of Thunder" because of their passion and fervor. God is calling forth a passionate people who will not give up or back down. We must "Be only strong and very courageous" (Josh. 1:9) to make it through these times.

And again, I believe that for some, this also relates to those drums of thunder that the Lord is calling forth in this time as well! Those worshippers who will lead the Army of God into victory in this day!

May that "Sons of Thunder" spirit come forth in us, that we would be true "Bravehearts!"

In the movie Braveheart, a man named Stephen said, "The Almighty says this must be a fashionable fight. It's drawn the finest people." - And this battle we are in here in this nation certainly has done that! YOU were BORN for such a time as this! You were born to be in your family, your church, and in the Body of Christ - born to be here, born to be a part of this fight - born to WIN this fight, or you would not be here!

William Wallace said, "You've come to fight as free men, and free men you are. What will you do with that freedom? Will you fight?" - "...Men don't follow titles, they follow courage. ...People know you....And if you would just lead them to freedom, they'd follow you."

Now, a little balance here...I'm not saying to pick fights where God doesn't send you. If He sends you and gives you the strategies, you'll win. But I'd suggest reading John Paul Jackson's book, "Needless Casualties of War," so that you have a better understanding before "going where angels fear to tred!"

But I do believe that it's time to get angry at the tyranny of the enemy and FIGHT! Fight for the freedom our nation was formed for, fight for the safety of our children, and fight for the right to live and remain free to worship our God, and for the rights that so many others have already died for. The Kingdom of Heaven suffers violence and the violent take it by force! Come forth, Sons of Thunder, and at the command of the Lord and with His instructions, "Let's roll!"

THE HURRICANES
What about all the hurricanes this past year? I believe they are a sign to us that He is here, and has not forgotten us:

"The voice of the Lord is over the waters; The God of glory thunders; The Lord is over many waters." (Psalm 29:3)

"The voice of Your thunder was in the whirlwind; The lightnings lit up the world; The earth trembled and shook" (Psalms 77:18)

"His thunder declares it, The cattle also, concerning the rising storm. (Job 36:33)

The Lord is washing the feet of our nation, right now, with purity. I believe Hurricane Katrina, (Katrina means purity), is a sign of that. As that washing starts at the feet, and works its way up through the heart of our nation, He is cleansing it. This nation is God's. He loves it. It was formed to worship Him. And He WILL glorify Himself in and through it once again. Believe it! He WILL have His way in this nation!

"The Lord is slow to anger and great in power, And will not at all acquit the wicked. The Lord has His way In the whirlwind and in the storm, And the clouds are the dust of His feet." (Nahum 1:3)

OUR WORDS COUNT
As we are listening for the Lord to speak, I believe He is also speaking to us to beware of the words of OUR mouths. He wants His Bride to be a Virtuous Woman who, "opens her mouth with wisdom, and on her tongue is the Law of Kindness." (Prov. 31:26)

One morning as I awoke I heard, "I‘d like to give My People more power and authority with their words so that they can use them to do creative miracles. However, if I were to do that now, there would be drive by SHOUTINGS that would be just as deadly as drive by shootings.”

I said, "Lord, what do you mean?"

I then sensed the presence of the Lord as He relayed to me that, the way people so casually say things like, “Drop dead,” if He gave us more power with our words, we would actually kill others with them.” - Even the way some people pray borders more on word curses than prayer. We need to follow the Lord's model and pray something like, "Thy Kingdom come, THY will be done..." in the earthen vessels we pray for.

“Death and life are in the power of the tongue, And those who love it will eat its fruit.” (Prov. 18:21)

The Lord longs to give us Kingdom authority with the words we speak, but we must first learn to walk and talk in Kingdom accountability.

THE SEVEN SPIRITS OF GOD
While God is speaking in the Thunders, I believe He is also bringing forth the manifestation of the Seven Spirits of God to and through His people.

At the end of the age, it will be revealed what the totality of the Words were that He spoke to Apostle Paul in the Seven Thunders in Rev. 10:3 where it says: "He cried with a loud voice, as when a lion roars. When he cried out, seven thunders uttered their voices." But I personally believe that those Seven Thunders were the Seven Spirits of God crying out for justice for God and His people, and that we can walk in the manifested fruit of that sevenfold power of the Holy Spirit even now.

"...From the throne proceeded lightnings, thunderings, and voices. Seven lamps of fire were burning before the throne, which are the seven Spirits of God." (Rev. 4:5)

IT'S TIME TO GROW UP

There is a mighty move of God beginning. And it will continue, if we ourselves do not shut it down. His power will come anyhow, but we must not try to cause it to "go our way." That's dangerous. Let's not try to steady the Arc of His Presence. Let's simply abide and walk with it, and follow His leading.

LET'S NOT MISS THE TIME OF OUR VISITATION

In recent time, we had the ten commandments issue in Montgomery, AL. I asked God, "What is the deal about this, God?"

He said, "What if those ten commandments in the center of Alabama, in the heart of this nation, was a prophetic sign?"

I said, "Of what, Lord?"

"What were the original ten commandments carried in?" He asked.

"The ark," I replied.

"That's right," He said. "And what if those ten commandments, in the center of Alabama, in the heart of this nation, was a prophetic sign that the Arc of My Presence had come to rest here, and no one acknowledged it? Tell My People not to miss the time of their visitation."

Jesus grieved over Jerusalem because She missed the time of Her visitation (Luke 19:44). Let's not miss ours. Let's HEAR what the Spirit is saying to the Church, and follow the commands of the Lord.

PRAYER

Lord, we acknowledge Your presence, and the fact that You are speaking to us, even in the midst of the storms and thunders, in this time and season. Don't let us miss the time of our visitation! We love you, Lord! Speak to us, for we are listening! In Jesus name, Amen.

Joni Ames
Joni Ames
E-Mail: JoniAmes@aol.com
Newsletter Website: http://www.joniames.org
To sign up for Joni's newsletter, send blank email to: JoniAmes-subscribe@myinjesus.com

The Thundering Of Glory

Mark Sadler

1 Samuel 2:8-108
He raises the poor from the dust And lifts the beggar from the ash heap, To set them among princes And make them inherit the throne of glory. "For the pillars of the earth are the Lord's, And He has set the world upon them. 9) He will guard the feet of His saints, But the wicked shall be silent in darkness. "For by strength no man shall prevail. 10) The adversaries of the Lord shall be broken in pieces; From heaven He will thunder against them. The Lord will judge the ends of the earth. "He will give strength to His king, And exalt the horn of His anointed.

THE VISION GIVEN:

In the beginning of this year, I was shown a spiritual vision of what the Lord was going to place upon his people. I was standing before an ocean of seemingly calmness, but yet an underlying roar or thundering was coming from underneath the depths, in places of the deep that was not yet seen.

As I fixed my gaze strongly upon the body of waters, I could begin to see that the waves and waters before me were turning into a multitude of people, as dense as the waters, and in a vast array. These that I were seeing were clothed in garments, that I cannot explain with words, as there is nothing to relate it to.

These garments were alive with a substance, a nature, an essence of something not of this earth. Each of these people began to come upon the shore, as a multitude, but yet as a single entity, coming forth to the shore as one great host.

THE GLORY WAS SPEAKING

One of the most noteworthy things I observed, was that as this great host was beginning to invade the shores, I noticed that the garments they were wearing, were making great noises of thunder. They were "roaring" as a combination of thunder, and the sounds of flood waters at the same time. Their garments were literally trumpeting the glory of the Lord against the shores that they walked upon.

Some of these people I saw, I recognized. I had seen or known them in my lifetime. Some were very poor, seemingly rejected by men. Most that I had recognized, I knew to be outcasts, ones that were despised by the community, and even despised by most churches! But they came. Not ashamed, full of light, sound, and presence!

THE WAVES OVERTOOK ME

As this great multitude began to arrest the shore, I began to notice myself being pulled into the waves. I literally was engulfed by the very substance of glory they were wearing.

It was then I began to hear familiar sounds. I heard great worship, coming from the center mass of the peoples. It was chords, that were not made by instruments of men. It was tones that could not be made by just natural vocal abilities. It was the glory of God singing within their midst.

Did you hear what I said? It was the GLORY of God singing in their midst. These uttered sounds were being ushered into the earth from the very throne of God. The sounds or songs that were being released, was issuing out a great change to the peoples and regions of the earth.

These were not songs, or choruses, or hymns as we know them, but they were songs that would prepare the soils of nations, for the release of Gods Glory upon the earth. It was at this time I began to vocalize out of my spirit, this same worship unto God (with great humility).

THE CALM BEFORE THE STORM

In almost an eerie hush, I heard a great silencing among the peoples that were advancing upon the soils of the nations. As this holy awesome quiet came, I was aware that something was going to shake every false foundation that the earth had erected.

I was aware even in myself, that arenas of my life not subjected to Christ, was being shook in my inner being. In almost what seemed to be an eternity, I saw massive amounts of people on the hillsides, the cities, nations and beyond running towards the people of His glory! They rushed into them, in a raw sense they "tackled" them with great force.

This event brought kings, and paupers together to embrace the same thing I did. They came to apprehend the Glory of the Lord. Not a soul stood away, not a person distanced themselves away from this glorious happening, but laid hold of it with all expectancy.

In this vision I am reminded of these scriptures: 2 Corinthians 4: 6,76 For it is the God who commanded light to shine out of darkness, who has shone in our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ. But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellence of the power may be of God and not of us. Habakkuk 2: 1414 For the earth will be filled with the knowledge of the Glory of the Lord, As the waters cover the sea.

This vision is for you! This is a vision of you! Take heart, be encouraged, for Lord is going to reveal himself to you in these days ahead. This season of your life has brought you to this very place, to where you will begin to hunger again for the deep things of God.

This is a day when you WILL see the glory of the Holy One coming to arrest your family, your relationships, and destiny. Your very life is about to be changed this year. So be expecting. Be earnest about the things of the Spirit. Don't strive to try to change your surroundings by yourself. Let the Glory of the Lord speak your destiny this day!

Mark Sadler
Servants Heart Prophetic Community

The Tent of Meeting
Francis Frangipane

> "When Thou didst say, 'Seek My face,' my heart said to Thee, 'Thy face, O Lord, I shall seek.'" -- Psalm 27:8

A Time to Seek God

There are certain times when the Lord calls us out of the routine of our daily lives. These are special seasons where His only command is, "Seek My Face." He has something precious and vitally important to give us that the familiar pattern of our daily devotions cannot accommodate. During such times, people are often delivered of sins that have plagued them for years; others discover a depth in their walk with God that leads to greater effectiveness in ministry and prayer. Still, others experience breakthroughs in their families and are used by God to see loved ones brought into the kingdom.

Yet, here we are not seeking God for things or even for other people. We are seeking God for Himself. Maturity starts as we break the cycle of seeking God only during hardship; holiness begins the moment we seek God for Himself. A touch from God is wonderful, but we are in pursuit of more than just an experience -- more than "goose bumps and tears." We are seeking to abide with Christ, where we are continually aware of His fullness within us and where His presence dwells in us in glory.

How do we enter this sacred place? If we study the life of Moses, we will see how he sought God and lived in fellowship with Him.

"Now Moses used to take the tent and pitch it outside the camp, a good distance from the camp, and he called it the tent of meeting. And it came about, that everyone who sought the Lord would go out to the tent of meeting which was outside the camp."* -- Exodus 33:7

Notice that "everyone who sought the Lord would go out." If we are going to truly seek the Lord, we must "go out" as Moses and those who sought the Lord did. We must pitch our tent "a good distance from the camp." What camp is this? For Moses, as well as for us, it is the "camp of familiarity."

Is there anything inherently wrong or sinful with the things that are familiar? No, not in themselves, but you will remember that when Jesus told His disciples to follow Him, He called them to leave the familiar pattern of their lives for extended periods and be alone with Him (Matthew 19:27 & Luke 14:33). Why? Because He knew that men, by nature, are unconsciously governed by the familiar. If He would expand us to receive the eternal, He must rescue us from the limitations of the temporal.

This is not to say we neglect our families or that we become irresponsible as we seek God. No. God has given everyone enough time to seek Him. It is there. Having done what love would have us do for our families, we simply say, "No" to every other voice but God's. We must redeem the time: cancel hobbies, forsake television, and put away the newspaper and magazines. Those who would find God, find time.

Security in Familiarity

Sadly, many Christians have no higher goal, no greater aspiration, than to become "normal." Their desires are limited to measuring up to others. Without a true vision of God, we most certainly will perish spiritually!
Paul rebuked the church at Corinth because they walked, "like mere men" (1 Corinthians 3:3). God has more for us than merely becoming better people; He wants to flood our lives with the same power that raised Christ from the dead! We must understand: God does not merely want us "normal," He wants us Christlike!

For the Holy Spirit to facilitate God's purposes in our lives, He must redefine both our definition of reality and our priorities in life. Christlikeness must become our singular goal.

For most people, however, our sense of reality, and hence, our security, is often rooted in the familiar. How difficult it is to grow spiritually if our security is based upon the stability of outward things! Our security must come from God, not circumstances nor even relationships. Our sense of reality needs to be rooted in Christ. When it is, the other areas of our lives experience eternal security.

Yet, our fears run deep and are numerous. Indeed, most of us pass through life umbilically tied to the protection of the familiar. Experience tells us that many good people remain in lifeless churches simply because they desire the security of familiar faces more than the truth of Christ. Even people who have been delivered from adverse situations are often drawn back into hardship. Why? Because adversity is more familiar to them.

Consider that certain prisoners are repeat offenders simply because they are more accustomed to prison life than freedom. Is it not sadly true that often young girls who have been abused by their fathers unconsciously tend to seek out and marry men who eventually abuse them as their fathers did? Groping blindly through life, they sought for the familiar. It is significant that worldwide, most people live within fifty miles of their birthplaces.

Humans are cocooned, insulated against change by the familiar. When we work all day only to come home, watch television, then collapse in bed, our lifestyle becomes a chain of bondage. These things may not necessarily trap us in sin as much as they keep us from God.

Stepping Outside the Familiar

Moses would leave what was familiar and pitch his tent "outside the camp," where he would then seek the Lord.
"Therefore Jesus also, that He might sanctify the people through His own blood, suffered outside the gate. Hence, let us go out to Him outside the camp, bearing His reproach. For here we do not have a lasting city, but we are seeking the city which is to come." -- Hebrews 13:12-14
In the same way that Moses and those who sought the Lord went outside the camp, and as Jesus went outside the camp, so also must we, at times, leave the camp of what seems normal and predictable and begin to seek after God. Here we do not have a lasting city, but we are seeking the city which is to come.

This is one reason why Jesus said, "When you pray, go into your inner room, and when you have shut your door, pray" (Matthew 6:6). Christ desires us to leave the familiar, distracting world of our senses and abide in the world of our hearts, bearing in mind that the highest goal of prayer is to find God.

Every minute you seek God is a minute enriched with new life and new power from God. Give yourself a minimum amount of time -- an hour or two each day -- but do not set a limit, as the Lord may draw you to seek Him on into the night. And continue day by day and week by week, until you have drawn near enough to God that you can hear His voice, becoming confident that He is close enough to you to hear your whisper.

If we are going to become holy, we must sever the chains and restraints -- the bondage of desiring just an average life. We will choose to leave the camp of familiarity and place our tent in the presence of God.

Ministries of Francis Frangipane
www.frangipane.org

The True Oil Of The True Church

Elizabeth Roots

Two articles by Elizabeth Roots
Moravian Falls, NC
(rootedinhim@earthlink.net)

A WORTHY VESSEL

"And Jesus went out, and departed from the temple; and his disciples came to him for to show him the buildings of the temple. And Jesus said unto them, 'See ye not all these things? Verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.'" (Matthew 24:1-2)

Several years ago, while in the midst of some church troubles, the Lord started speaking to me about these verses. This is what I heard.

"The Jewish tradition is a worthy container. It has held the truths of God for thousands of years. It also has held a lot of junk. However, it is a worthy container and we should and do honor it. Yet, the time came when the walls of the Jewish tradition had to become rubble in order for the new to come forth.

"And then Jesus came. He established a new thing, the Church. For two millennium it has been held in the container of the Lord’s choosing, a worthy vessel. The local church has wonderfully held the teachings of our Lord for 2,000 years and it is not to be despised any more than the Jewish traditions should be despised, even though we have added a lot of junk."

In this day, the Lord is establishing something new, One Body, One Church, One Bride. While the walls of the local church are becoming increasingly frail, we are not to despise her. She held the truths that we have grown up on. She has been a mother to us, so to speak.

It is no longer about the local church, even though there is nothing wrong in belonging to a local assembly of believers. (There is something completely wonderful about worshiping with hundreds of believers and I participate regularly!) The Body of Christ coming together outside the walls of our segregated fellowships and becoming one in Christ together.

It is an amazing thing that I see happening in my present community. It is a very quiet thing, like the whispering of the Spirit. At first I thought I was justifying my lack of spiritual zeal, but don't think that is the case anymore. This Body is coming together outside the structure of the local Assembly. There is no concern over where one goes to church on Sunday, it is only that we are here for one another, today to support one another, fight for one another and to encourage one another to continue in the faith.

May we all see the increase.

FIVE FOOLISH, FIVE WISE

I was talking to some friends and the subject of Jesus turning over the tables in the temple came up. I believe that I received important revelation as we were speaking with one another. Of course, this isn't the only interpretation to this passage of scripture, but I do believe it is an issue of some importance.

This is what I saw....The people came into the Temple to worship and make sacrifice to the Lord. However, it required no effort on the part of the worshipper to collect and prepare for their sacrifice. The people who were working in the Temple thought that they were doing everyone a big favor so that the worshippers didn't need to extend themselves in preparation for worship and sacrifice. They didn't need to collect the sacrificial items on their own. These items were already prepared for them.

This could correspond the 10 sleeping virgins, five wise, five foolish. (Mt 25) All the virgins had some oil. The five wise virgins had prepared for a long night. When the cry came out, "The Bridegroom is coming!", all the virgins arose. But the five foolish virgins didn't have enough oil. And what did they say to the five wise virgins? "Give us your oil!"

You see, everything had always been prepared for them. They didn't know how to collect their own oil. Yes, they did come into the Temple to sacrifice and worship. Yes, they did have some oil. But, they had never learned how to prepare for sacrifice and worship. Someone had always had it prepared for them.

We need to learn how to find Jesus on our own. If we don't do this, we will find that when the Bridegroom calls, that we be left in the dark.

Jesus, I ask that you would convict all of us to seek you more diligently. We don't want to be left in the dark. We want to be with You. Help us to make preparation now. Help us to not rely upon others to fill us with your presence. Instruct us how to enter into the Most Holy Place and abide with YOU. Show us how to keep our flasks full of oil.

In the name of JESUS!

The Torchlight Procession

Catharina Schouten

12/13/05

VISION:

I beheld Jesus on a white horse and He held out His hand to me.
He pulled me on the back of the horse and then, in a bird's-eye view, I saw the following:

From all corners of the world people came walking along, with torches in their hands!
From all directions they came flocking in to make up a cross, starting form the point where I was allowed to watch the scene.

Then I saw angels, with pitchers in their hands.
These pitchers were poured out on the heads of the torch-bearers, resulting in a 'fat in the fire' effect.
The fire of the torches blazed up!

"It is finished!
I'm calling out MY people from all corners of the world!
When you hear the call of MY voice, you should not harden your heart.
Draw near at the sound of MY calling voice! Do not look ahead of you, nor to your sides or behind.
Come toward MY voice!
Keep your eyes focused on ME and follow ME!
I will fill you up with a fresh breeze of My Spirit, with the living water of My Word!
I Myself shall poke up the fire.
It is by trusting ME and no one else, that the Bride, My Bride, will become visible….
Walk on, walk on, follow Me, do not halt, do not look back. What will happen is up to Me.
I am going to empower you by My Spirit, I will bring about new things and only by focusing on Me will you be able to walk in it….
In Me, for Me, by Me, with Me, that's where your destiny lies…..
All you further need will follow you from that place of destiny……"

JAHWEH SABAOTH: Lord of Hosts
Revelation 6: 1-2
Isaiah 48: 6-7

Just serving Him, by serving you!
Johan & Catharina Schouten Teshuva Ministries
www.tesjoeva.nl

The Time Of The Eagle

Bill Burns

July 4, 2005:
I say to you, My people, it is time to rise on wings of eagles, for this is an appointed time, a time of destiny. Spread your wings, for I shall be the wind beneath your wings, and I shall carry you to the heights of heaven. You shall see as you have never seen before. I give you the eyes of the eagle. And, it is time again for the cry of the eagle to be heard across the land, the cry of My soon return, says the Lord. I tell you, it is time to arise, time to fly, time to speak with a voice of victory. I anoint you for such this day. Rejoice, for it is the time of the eagle. Rejoice, for it is the time of victory. Rejoice, for it is the time to receive your inheritance.

Marsha Burns
July 4, 2005: Do not listen to the voice of the enemy, for he will keep you grounded when you need to rise up in the Spirit. He will keep you grounded through condemnation and by causing you to look at yourself and see only failure. Look up! Look up, and behold My face and My truth, says the Lord. Then, I will cause you to arise and soar. Isaiah 40:31 "But those who wait on the LORD shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings like eagles, they shall run and not be weary, they shall walk and not faint."

July 1, 2005: Watch for valuable opportunities to deal with the past as a precursor to the next spiritual season. Things that are left undone or not dealt with will be those things that hinder your progress in the days ahead. Don't be afraid to look squarely and honestly at the aspects of your life that come up for review. Then, prepare for a clean slate and a fresh start, which will produce a great sense of liberty and victory. Galatians 5:1 "Stand fast therefore in the liberty by which Christ has made us free, and do not be entangled again with a yoke of bondage."

June 30, 2005: Seek My face, says the Lord; focus intently; discern scrupulously. I will bring truth to your heart and guidance to your soul. Refuse to allow a spirit of fear to rule in any situation, for it will certainly lead to stress, error, and ruin. Be calm and trust that I am able to perfect those things that concern you. Proverbs 3:5 "Trust in the LORD with all your heart, and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct your paths."

June 29, 2005: Be steady; stay strong. Keep moving forward regardless of how fast or slow you are able to go. This is no time to get discouraged and sit down or give up. You have gained a level of momentum that will sustain you. Allow Me to be the wind beneath your wings that will lift and carry you, says the Lord. I will send angels to be your unseen help. Psalm 91:11-12 "For He shall give His angels charge over you, To keep you in all your ways. In their hands they shall bear you up, Lest you dash your foot against a stone."

June 28, 2005: Do not give credence to your mood swings, for certainly your emotions have no credibility in the reality of spiritual condition. The enemy has come against you to bring discouragement and a general sense of failure, but he has no basis for his accusations whether silent or voiced. Rise up and be strong. The truth of My word is your standard, and that which does not agree is invalid, says the Lord. 2 Corinthians 10:4-6 "For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal but mighty in God for pulling down strongholds, casting down arguments and every high thing that exalts itself against the knowledge of God, bringing every thought into captivity to the obedience of Christ, and being ready to punish all disobedience when your obedience is fulfilled."

June 27, 2005: My beloved people, prepare to be revived! For, I am effecting a marvelous transformation in the hearts of those who love Me, says the Lord. I am heightening your discernment to know and understand the work that I am doing in you personally, and I am revealing My purposes and direction to the Church for the next season. You will be astounded and amazed at your increased awareness of spiritual things, for I, the Lord, will do this work in you. But, you must cooperate with Me in this effort through realigning your desires so that you are one with My heart. You will be delighted with the results.

June 24, 2005: You can now bring recent projects and assignments to a conclusion, but you will need to be very methodical and deliberate in order to avoid prolonging the process. Deal with one thing at a time and move progressively through every undertaking. I will empower you to run the race and complete the course. Press on diligently, says the Lord.

June 23, 2005: Zechariah 2:13 "Be silent, all flesh, before the LORD, for He is aroused from His holy habitation!" Again, I say, be silent. Let Me show you precisely what creates your confusion. Is it not long-standing insecurities and places of fear that you have not faced squarely and eradicated? Now is the time to be done with the fear that brings weakness. Remember that fear is an evil spirit, and to entertain this spirit is sin. Rise up in the authority that I have given you, and command that it go! Luke 10:19 "Behold, I give you the authority to trample on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy, and nothing shall by any means hurt you."

June 22, 2005: KISS -- "keep it simple, saints!" Make the effort to uncomplicate your lives so that you will have both the time and inclination to bask in My presence, says the Lord. Such busy people! Three things to consider and remember: simplify your business; mind your own business; be about the Father's business. If you do these things, you do well.

June 21, 2005: Watch for the temptation to overreact to the challenges that you face. The test will be to keep your emotions from ruling and causing you to obsess over details that have no long-term relevance. Take time to be quiet and gain spiritual perspective. Refuse to allow these things to steal you peace and rob you of joy. Be assured that I will cause all things to work together for good regardless of your immediate reactions.

June 20, 2005: I heard in my spirit "spontaneous worship." And the Lord said, remember when you first entered My presence and became aware of the reality of My kingdom? Your joy erupted in spontaneous worship. I am renewing the joy of your salvation and restoring your spontaneity in a fresh, new release of praise and adoration. You must, however, take a stand against the many distractions that will keep you from the simplicity that is required to enjoy My presence.

Travail - The Prayer that Brings Birth

James Goll

Encounters Network www.jamesgoll.com

EIGHT BARREN, DESPERATE WOMEN

In scripture, eight barren women were specifically named who were healed from barrenness! They had several things in common. They were desperate. They cried out to the Lord. And each brought forth either a prophet or a deliverer of the nation. Let me list these eight women for you:
1. Sarah, who brought forth Isaac (Genesis 11:30, 16:1, 18:1-15, 21:1-8)
2. Rebekah, who brought forth Esau and Jacob (Genesis 25:21-26)
3. Rachel, who brought forth Joseph and Benjamin (Genesis 29:31, 30:1,22-24, 35:16-18)
4. Manoah's wife, who brought forth Samson (Judges 13:2-24)
5. Ruth, who brought forth Obed (Ruth 4:13)
6. Hannah, who brought forth Samuel (1 Samuel 1:2-20)
7. Elizabeth, who brought forth John the Baptist (Luke 1:7-13,57)
I have listed only seven barren women thus far, while I told you I found eight examples. Who is the eighth? Isaiah 66:8 portrays her vividly:

"Who has heard such a thing? Who has seen such things? Can a land be born in one day? Can a nation be brought forth all at once? As soon as Zion travailed, she also brought forth her sons."

Zion is the eighth barren woman. She will bring forth her precious fruit in the earth as soon as -- when? As soon as Zion travails, she will bring forth sons. I have often heard it stated that if the Church would cry out like a barren woman longing for children, then we would have a breakthrough -- a revival. I believe this!

WHAT IS TRAVAIL? DEFINING OUR TERMS

"What is travail?" These prayer approaches have been a "Lost Art" in the body of Christ, but in the current move of God, old ways are being made new. Let me try to explain it.

As it is in the natural, so it is in the spiritual. Travail is a form of intense intercession given by the Holy Spirit whereby an individual or group is gripped by something that grips God's heart. The individual or group labors with Him for an opening to be created so that the new life can come forth.

The definition of travail from Webster's New World Dictionary is simple: "n. 1. very hard work. 2. the pains of childbirth. 3. intense pain; agony. v. 1. to toil. 2. to suffer the pains of childbirth." I have found this definition describing physical travail to be correct in the spiritual realm as well.

Travail takes place after you have carried something in your heart for a period of time, but it comes on you suddenly. Travail can be associated with the prayer of tears, but does not require it. It is preceded by nurturing the promise; later the strategic time comes to push that promise forth through the prayer canal. Finally you realize that the promise has been born, and you are greatly relieved when the delivery is over!

The prayer of travail is God desiring to create an "opening" to bring forth a measure of life or growth. If the "opening" was already in place, there would not be the need for travail. Just as the "opening" of the natural womb is enlarged to bring forth the baby, so travail creates an "opening" or "way," whereas before the opening or way was closed. With travail, there is always a way opened for life, newness, change, or growth.

ACCOUNTS OF AGONIZING AND WRESTLING IN PRAYER

Different portions of the Body of Christ use different terminology to describe similar or overlapping experiences. Associated with the prayer of travail throughout church history have often been accounts of "agonizing and wrestling" in prayer. Where are these holy wrestlers for our generation?

Perhaps one reason that few wrestle in prayer today is that few have the understanding needed and the perseverance required for its strenuous demands. By revelation, you recognize what is at stake: the eternal destiny of an unsaved loved one; the success of an urgent endeavor; the life of a sick one; the honor of the name of God; the welfare of the Kingdom of God.

Wrestling in prayer enlists all the capacities of your soul, marshals your deepest holy desire, and by the grace of God uses all the perseverance of your holy determination. You push through a host of difficulties. You push back the heavy, threatening clouds of darkness. You reach beyond the visible and natural to the very throne of God. With all your strength and tenacity, you lay hold of God's grace and power as it becomes a passion of your soul.
Remember Jacob wrestling with the angel until he received the blessing? Let's look at that passage again:

"Jacob was left alone, and a man wrestled with him until daybreak. And when he saw that he had not prevailed against him, he touched the socket of his thigh; so the socket of Jacob's thigh was dislocated while he wrestled with him. Then he said, 'Let me go, for the dawn is breaking.' But he said, 'I will not let you go unless you bless me.'"
Genesis 32:24-26
As Jacob found out, tenacious, persevering prayer eventually pays off.

ADDITIONAL SCRIPTURAL ACCOUNTS OF WRESTLING

We do not know for certain what Paul meant, but ponder the following passage from Colossians:

"Epaphras, who is one of your number, a bondslave of Jesus Christ, sends you his greetings, always laboring earnestly for you in his prayers, that you may stand perfect and fully assured in all the will of God. For I bear him witness that he has a deep concern for you and for those who are in Laodicea and Hierapolis."
Colossians 4:12-13 (NASB)

The NIV says Epaphras was "always wrestling in prayer." Wow! I wonder what his "deep concern," which was expressed through laboring prayer, looked like. One thing we are assured of: it was intense!

When Paul wrote that our struggle, or wrestling match, is against the forces of darkness, he had in mind the backdrop of the Olympic-style games in ancient Greece. Each wrestler sought to throw his opponent onto the ground and put his own foot on his opponent's neck. The Amplified Version renders the passage like this:

"Put on God's whole armor [the armor of a heavy-armed soldier, which God supplies], that you may be able successfully to stand up against [all] the strategies and the deceits of the devil. For we are not wrestling with flesh and blood [contending only with physical opponents], but against the despotisms, against [the master spirits who are] the world rulers of this present darkness, against the spirit forces of wickedness in the heavenly (supernatural) sphere."

Ephesians 6:11-12 (AMP)

Clearly, we are given pictures here of pinning or wrestling with the enemy, as well as with our heavenly Father in the divine interplay of prayer. One common thread is for certain in both accounts: Don't give up! Continue in your wrestling match. It's not over till it's over! Continue in persevering, prevailing intercession.

THE EPITOME OF TRAVAIL

The God of the universe is speaking, declaring that rain is coming to end the drought. Is anyone listening?

Before a development ever appears in the natural, it must exist first in the heart of God. As recorded from the life of Elijah in 1 Kings 18, before the rain came to end the drought, Elijah heard the rain with his spiritual ears. Even today God speaks first. This creates a spark of faith within a man or woman. Remember, faith comes by "hearing . . . the word of Christ" (Romans 10:17).
But Elijah did not just go out and declare all he had heard. He prayed the promise into being. He literally knelt on the promise. He crouched on Mount Carmel as he put his face between his knees. He birthed the end of one season and the beginning of another! The drought ended and the rain poured down!

There are many lessons to grasp here -- but let's keep it simple. God speaks. Man hears. Faith is created. Man responds to the spark of faith and prays the promise into being. Tenacity and endurance are required when the desired result seems to be delayed. Even when breakthrough starts to come, it takes eyes of discernment to recognize the day of visitation. We are not to "[despise] the day of small things" (Zechariah 4:10), as a cloud the size of a man's hand grows and consumes the sky in a downpour of mercy, and the drought comes to an end.

Yes, as we see in the encounter with Elijah, travail brings birth. Travail is the posture of desperation. It expresses the urgent prayer of the heart. Could this be one of the missing keys to an authentic apostolic worldwide awakening?

Join Michal Ann and I and many other tenacious intercessors. May we truly go forth kneeling on the promises -- birthing God's purposes through the power of prophetic intercession.

Encounters Network www.jamesgoll.com

The Third Rome and Jerusalem

Chuck Pierce

Report On The Third Rome

Chuck Pierce

A Time to Break Old Cycles: Understanding the Three 'Romes' - A Report on the Third Rome, Moscow"

Greetings!
Before I begin to share about the Eagles of God trip, Returning to the Source and Reversing the Lost Power of the Church, let me remind you of what this season that we are living in encompasses:

This has been a time to go to war with legalistic structures and declare a shift in the laws that Satan has illegally positioned to work against God's Kingdom plans. Even though this is a time that you could be presented with an opportunity to go around Mt. Sinai again -- DON'T*! Begin to shout that you are going up to Zion! Ask for the Spirit of revelation and wisdom and an open window of Heaven to pour out direction for you.

This is a time to decree that old religious structures should be addressed in our lives and the lid taken off of old evangelical structural methods and harvest ideas released. Leave old structures behind. You can easily fall into idolatry or enter into an agreement with something in your past that could lead to idolatry. Idolatry will create a setback in your inheritance. Numbers 14 is a key passage to understand. Decree that you will have victory over idolatry.

This is a time to overcome anger. Cut old past losses that are linked with bitterness and move on. Find your new place of worship. Be absorbed in praise. This is a time to really analyze your connections and covering. Be sure you are submitted properly. Be sure that you are connected with people filled with faith and willing to war for God's best for the future.

This is the also the time that a new level of supply begins to be unlocked. Watch for new provisional strategies in the earth realm. He is "preparing us for the suddenlies." Suddenlies usually occur and overwhelm us when we least expect something is about to happen. To prepare means to "build a form for something, like a frame for a house." If we develop a frame of reference for an enlarged storehouse, the Lord will bring the infilling.

In Hezekiah's day, the people prepared themselves for change and then the Lord moved suddenly. Expect suddenlies to start happening! He does nothing except He first communicates with the prophets.

Expectation is a function of the emotion. Ask God to rekindle your passion so you can embrace what He does in your life and around you.

Things are changing very rapidly. Do not let rejection keep you from moving forward into the plan that God has for you. We are entering into a time of changing leadership. Therefore, the Lord is creating a new measure of faith and demonstration in those who will be advancing His Kingdom purposes. He is cultivating a climate of faith for healing and miracles. We must develop a mindset that says, "With God all things are possible!" As we find our new place of service, by faith He will suddenly manifest many changes.

We are living in reformation times. II Chronicles 29-31 is a great example of how an apostolic type led the people into restoration through worship. Once things were in order, the people could rejoice because God had prepared them for the suddenlies. Ask Him to do the same for you and the vision that you are part of! Know that God is going to "suddenly" start judging the root of evil.

Do not be surprised when you see structures shaking. Write your vision and make it plain. Watch for the Lord to bring you new insights. Wait expectantly for the Lord. Confess your impatience and wait for Him to move in the vision that you are part of. Lift up your head -- redemption is drawing nigh! It is time for visitation!

Open your eyes and see the heavenly hosts that are praising God and enter into that type of praise. Invite Holy Spirit to come "suddenly" and interrupt your life. Prepare yourself for His coming. Listen carefully for your Macedonian call. God is shaking things all around us so that we can move forward. If you feel like you are stymied, ask God to send a shaking, and watch the earth begin to move. Watch all of the chains begin to break and blocked entrances begin to open.

The Lord's presence was very strong on this trip as we have completed the "Three Romes" portion. As you read the following report on Moscow, remember that old cycles will break and the path of lost power will be reversed. This religious path that we are following has so affected the foundation of the Church. As you read this report, break every old cycle that is holding you captive or influencing you in any way. This is a divine time of change. Therefore, our main focus in visiting strategic places was to pray concerning the three-fold cord of religion, government, and wealth that has stopped the power of the Church.

"Three Romes" Prayer Journey

In the Church worldwide there are three key locations where major shifts in the Church affected the history of the Church as well as the world. In this trip we were called to go "onsite" to each of these "Romes" -- Moscow, Istanbul (Constantinople), and Rome itself.

We arrived in Moscow on the afternoon of Monday, June 13. This was actually a national holiday, the "Day of Russia." (This day commemorates the day that all of the Soviet Bloc countries were released from the control of the Soviet Union.) Whereas in the other Soviet Bloc nations this is known as Independence Day, in Russia it is actually called "Day of Russia" since it was somewhat hard for Russia to express what they were independent from.

Since the USSR was dissolved and independent states were created, there has been a struggle economically. The general consensus of Russia toward the former USSR countries is "we will protect you if you give up your independence." We visited several places where we could reminiscence over the history of Russia and its victory battles -- from Napoleon through World War II.

Russia has an anointing for war strategy. Therefore, we asked the Lord to show us any revelation and cycles that we needed to uncover and pray about concerning war. Our guide shared that in the last 10 years nearly everything has changed in Moscow. In fact, she said, they feel like immigrants in their own nation since so much has changed. The city has moved from being dark and oppressive to semi-modern. This was God's perfect timing for the team to be in Moscow.

Moscow - The Third Rome

According to the belief of the Orthodox Church, Constantinople (Tsargrad) was the center of the only true form of Christianity since Rome had become the seat of the "Latin heretics." However, in 1453, the Ottoman Turks captured the "second Rome" and transformed the city into an Islamic capital. Twenty seven years later, the Russians finally stopped paying tribute to the Mongolians, who had dominated Russia for nearly 250 years. Muscovy thus became the only independent Orthodox state in the world.

Churchmen rushed to enhance the significance of Moscow, the "third Rome," and of its rulers, the tsars. In 1510, a monk from Pskov, Philotheus (Filofei), enunciated the classic statement of the doctrine: "All Christian realms will come to an end and will unite into the one single realm of our sovereign, that is, into the Russian realm, according to the prophetic books. Both Romes fell, the third endures, and a fourth will never be." This myth was elaborated to describe Russian Christendom as the culminating chapter in the sacred history of the world and to claim that God has chosen Moscow and its rulers to guide the destiny of Orthodoxy. The doctrine also elevated the Russian tsar to a position of both spiritual and secular preeminence.

In Moscow, the Russian Orthodox Church called itself the third Rome, taking up the mantle that had first been in Rome and later in Constantinople. The Russian church was built on the paganized foundation of the first Rome, but joined in the barbarian mindset of the Kievan Rus to form an unholy alliance that oppressed the people through fear and intimidation.

Before Peter the Great, the Czar could not make any decision without first gaining approval from the Patriarch of the church. Patriarchs had almost equal power with the czars. As a matter of fact, all decisions had to be approved by the patriarch. Peter the Great shifted this season so that the government had more authority than the church. As the church substituted political power for spiritual power, it forfeited its opportunity to bring the reality of God into the nation.

The Russian Orthodox Church is more than 1,000 years old. However, the growing might of the Russian state eventually overpowered the authority of the Russian church. The church became so joined to the government in its oppression that when the people rose up to throw off the oppressive Czarist state, they also threw off the authority of a life-giving church, resulting in atheistic communism.

Church of Christ the Savior

Now that communism has fallen, the Orthodox Church is once again seeking to establish "Holy Russia" as the Third Rome. The Moscow skyline features a huge cathedral, the Church of Christ the Savior. This Cathedral, destroyed by Stalin but hastily rebuilt in the 1990s, is a beautiful monument to Russian nationalism, with no evidence of true spiritual life or God's Presence. It was the ultimate end of a church system that turns from the presence of God to seeking worldly power.

Some of the things we prayed for Russia were: the power of the watchman to be restored to the Church, the prophetic anointing to realign the apostolic foundation of the Church, and the Holy Spirit to become vibrant in the region. We came to the conclusion that it takes a revolution to release a harvest. Craftsmanship and music are both redemptive gifts that you can see as outstanding traits of the Russian people. We asked the Lord to break the Spirit of Cain off of Russia (Ezekiel 38) and release a new sound.

The Statue of Peter the Great

Another incredible stop was at the statue of Peter the Great. This 47-meter statue of a sailing ship with Peter the Great standing on its deck was built to commemorate the 300th anniversary of the Russian fleet and navy. Peter the Great was the founder of the Russian navy. This statue conveyed the apostolic, warfare anointing of the nation. We looked at it and decreed that the leviathan spirit would no longer rule the church in Russia. We then declared, "Let the Church in Russia launch out into the deep!"

We also visited the Kremlin. In the Kremlin are many churches along with the administrative buildings. The double-headed eagle, the emblem of the 32nd and 33rd degrees of Scottish Rite Freemasonry, is an appropriate symbol for Moscow. The two heads of the eagle represent a reconciliation of secular and sacred. You will find that in the history of the government and church relationship in Moscow, the two "heads" have aligned as one to control the life of the nation.

Also located in the Kremlin are the largest BELL in the world and the largest cannon in the world. The ironic thing is that the bell was never rung and the cannon was never fired. They were both placed there as symbols of Russia's power.

Another interesting site was the Cathedral of the Assumption. You can see the altar, but cannot go beyond a "wall" (or veil) that intentionally prevents parishioners from approaching the altar. Only the priest has access to approach the altar, while the people have to stand afar. This was also the case in the other Russian Orthodox churches, but most notably in the Cathedral of Assumption.

Of course, the Russian Orthodox worship system is driven by icons, which have dual significance. Icons mark the border between the heavenlies and the terrestrial. They are analogous to the veil which concealed the "Holy of Holies." They symbolize the union of subject matter and incarnation.

We are asking the Lord to remove the veil so the people can be truly free. After gaining true freedom in worship in the early 1990s, the Russian Orthodox Church has determined to revive its mission. In recent years the Russian Orthodox Church has developed a close alliance with the Russian Armed Forces. The Patriarch and Holy Synod have established a Synodal Department for Cooperation with the Armed Forces and law enforcement agencies. This seems to be a cycle to repeat what has already been -- only in a seven-fold stronger dimension.

We went to the first chapel that was built after the people were liberated in the early 1990s. When we walked in there, the chapel was so filled with icons. What I saw was that when the Russian people were liberated from not being able to worship, they proceeded to go back to the system of worship they knew best. Even though a new wineskin could have formed, it seemed that they simply brought the old wineskin into a new age.

This was so different than when we previously visited Ukraine and Kazakhstan, where new wineskins have formed that are reaching the lost and where the Gospel is being spread. Most of the old churches in Moscow have been resurrected, but they are seldom used. Knowing there has been a strong tie between government and religion in Russia, we asked the Lord to raise up powerful, Spirit-filled influences that could penetrate and break the Herod-Pharisee tie that controls the nation. There has not been much growth in the evangelical Russian churches since the mid 1990s.

Meeting with the New Wineskin

One important focus for us has been to find how the new wineskin is developing in each nation we visit. Without a new wineskin and new wine the old cycle of religion remains in place and actually becomes harder, more brittle, and lifeless. This prevents change. Therefore, we met with Alexi and his wife, representatives of Pastor Dzuba, who is connected with Apostle Sunday Adelijah in the Ukraine (who has one of the largest churches in all of Europe).

The Spirit of God so fell in this meeting. We began by presenting gifts that we had brought. One of these gifts was a padlock and key. We actually brought four of these on our trip -- one for each city. We gave this to Alexi to pass on to his pastor for spiritually "unlocking" the harvest to come forth in Russia.

We then heard how the prayer life in their church has brought great changes over the last couple of years. They pray through the night on Fridays. The people also pray and fast one day each week. This church has approximately 500 members, which is the biggest new wineskin church of this region. We aligned to assist them in seeing the breaking of religious structures that have a hold over Russia, and then the team began to minister to them. The prophetic anointing was very strong.

We prayed for the business people in the church. I began to declare a timing sequence over them of change that would begin to happen in the next seven months. This was a wonderful meeting. After we prayed and they left, they returned with a gift for us, which was overwhelming. I feel like a covenant has formed that will begin to see an acceleration in the breaking of old cycles.

This trip to Russia was very significant. Many of you know my testimony. When God visited me in December 1983, He asked me "if I would follow Him to the Soviet Union (Moscow) to see revival." Even though I worked into the Soviet Bloc countries during the 1980s with a mission organization by setting up systems in other nations and leading a prayer effort concerning the release of persecuted Christians, I had never visited Moscow until now. Things have come full circle and I decree that many will come out of religious systems and find the new wineskin of reformation that God is raising up this hour.

This Eagles of God team consists of Charles D. Pierce, Brian Kooiman, Marty Cassady, Virginia Marks, Diane Buker, Sylvia Sizemore, John & Sheryl Price, and Robert & Linda Heidler. We will soon send the Istanbul and Rome Report.

Blessings,

The Jerusalem Report
Chuck Pierce

July 2, 2005

Dear Devoted Prayer Warriors:

We have come full circle back to Dallas. Thank you for praying for us. This has probably been one of the most historic trips we have ever taken. I believe future history will also be determined because of the intercession made by you on our behalf and the decrees that the Spirit of God decreed at each place. I hope you have enjoyed the reports.

This retraces a major portion of the history of the Church. Our goal was to break old cycles preventing power from coming forth in this and the next two generations. I believe we have had victory as we traveled to Moscow, Istanbul, Rome and Jerusalem. We have decreed reversal of lost power over each one of you, and asked the Lord to restore His power in fullness to the Church.

We have asked the Lord to also release an anointing so our expected end is greater than where we have ever been. I am decreeing that all hindering religious forces and false truths that have been built into your spiritual foundation "let go" and that you walk in a whole new clarity of the purpose of God in your life.

JERUSALEM

What a joy it is being in this wonderful city that belongs to God. You can sense His sovereignty. You can also begin to realign yourself to God's perfect time by embracing the history of His visitation and opening your eyes to see His word being fulfilled presently. You also feel an anticipation of the future.

We met Rick and Patti Ridings, Martin and Norma Sarvis (who do our Prayer Updates from Israel), Lindy Heidler and John and Una Gere. They are all part of the 24/7 Sukkat Hallel House of Prayer in Jerusalem. At the beginning of the Hebrew Year 5765, God opened up a place to develop a house of prayer on Mt. Zion in a location that was once a discotheque. This place overlooks the Ben Hinnom Valley as well as the Mt. of Olives. You can imagine 24 hour prayer with this visual focus. Therefore, part of our joy on this trip was for our team to attend several of the prayer watches. John Gere along with the others listed above served as our guide on our tour.

Key Reversals

One important recent discovery was an inscription on a stone at the corner of the Temple Mount area. The stone says "This is the place where the silver trumpets are blown." Once this was found, members of Sukkat Hallel began to go and blow silver trumpets at this place. (You will find the reasoning of blowing silver trumpets in Numbers 10 -- they called together leadership and announced war. They also decreed the movement of the camp.) After hearing the blowing of the trumpets, some Orthodox leaders also began to do the same. This signifies a coming full-circle and an announcing that war, movement, and a change in leadership is occurring.

An interesting article that was released the day we started this journey was "After 2,000 Years, a Seed From Ancient Judea Sprouts." This article by Steven Erlanger of The New York Times stated that Israeli doctors and scientists have succeeded in germinating a date-seed nearly 2,000 years old.

The seed, nicknamed Methuselah, was taken from an excavation at Masada, the cliff fortress where, in A.D. 73, 960 Jewish zealots died by their own hand, rather than surrender to a Roman assault. The point of germinating this seed is to find out what was so exceptional about the original date palm of Judea, much praised in the Bible and the Koran for its shade, food, beauty and medicinal qualities, but long ago destroyed by the crusaders. "The righteous shall flourish like the palm tree," says Psalm 92. "They shall still bring forth fruit in old age. They shall be fat and flourishing."

Plants grown from ancient seeds usually keel over and die soon, having used most of their nutrients in remaining alive. The plant is now 11.8 inches tall and has produced seven leaves, one of which was removed for DNA testing. Radiocarbon dating in Switzerland on a snip of the seed showed it to be 1,990 years old, plus or minus 50 years. So the date-seed dates from 35 B.C. to A.D. 65, just before the famed Roman siege.

In the time of Pliny, forests of date-palms covered the area from Lake Galilee to the Dead Sea and made Jericho famous; a date palm is featured on ancient coinage, as it is on the current Israeli 10-shekel coin. The date palm symbolized ancient Israel; the honey of "the land of milk and honey" came from the date. It is praised as a tonic to increase longevity, as a laxative, as a cure for infections and as an aphrodisiac. But the dates of Judea were destroyed before the Middle Ages, and what dates Israel grows now were imported in the 1950's and 60's from California and originated elsewhere in the Middle East. It takes 30 years for the date seed to mature and produce fruit. However, we believe this signified the beginning of coming full circle and starting a whole new cycle of life, freedom and fruit.

The Lord Released Key Prophetic Revelation

I would like to release the overall prophetic word of God that seemed to come forth during this journey before I explain the key revelation released at each site.

"For this is a time that Heaven is resounding and My voice is descending to bring forth victory in the earth. I will have a joyful house of prayer for every ethnos people. This is a day of extension, for I am extending Myself to places in the earth that have never received My joyful sound.

"Nations are in the valley of decision choosing their altar and object of worship. I will watch how they worship. I will come down and review their houses of worship, and I will reconcile all nations back to My land of Israel and the city of Jerusalem. Nations who have never known My Sprit will have an opportunity to experience Me in days ahead.

"As you stand upon this hill (the Temple Mount), you are standing on the focal point where the nations of the earth will choose their alliance. This is the place that My watchmen will come into conflict over. My Glory will cover the earth, but My glory will enter in through the Eastern Gate and I will establish Myself as King over the earth.

"Be still and know that I am God. This is a time of conflict. This conflict will decide who will stand with Me as the nations align. This is a time of contending for the portal of heaven to be opened over this city and this place that you stand. My watchmen will contend in the nations that are contending for Me. The conflict that is occurring in the heavenlies will begin to penetrate the earth.

"The next three years will reflect the level of conflict. Many will have opportunity to know Me and align with Me. Others will turn away and harden their hearts. One nation at a time will be reconciled with My covenant plan. I am raising up those who are watching with Me. These will gain the strategies over how to realign entire people groups with My plan for days ahead. I will create a sound of praise that will be contagious. My House will be filled with joy. Those who resist the joy of My House will also lose their strength as a nation.

"This will be a season of descending. You must first go to the low place to win the high place. My Son first descended before He ascended. You will learn to worship in your low places. You will learn not to fear the hell around you. You will worship in unusual places. But when you worship in the low places, I will rend the heavens and come down and I will raise you up, level your path, make your crooked places straight and produce a way out of the wilderness.

"I will teach you to worship in new ways. Therefore, adversity will not capture you. I am calling you to stand in new ways. If you will journey with Me and be willing to face the enemies that have attempted to defeat you in the past, I will place you in the cleft of My rock. I will surround you, weaken their ability, and send you forth to break their cycles. This is a time of recovery!

"This is a time of procession. I am beginning to come close to you to lead you in a new way. Submit, resist and follow me for I am drawing very near to you. I am drawing near to this city. As you say, 'I will come near,' you will begin to hear My voice in a new way. I am ready for you to hear My voice at the gates.

"There is a sound beginning to be released at the gates. Hear the sound at the gates. I am putting a prophetic anointing within your mouth to speak what I am speaking. Open your mouth and I will fill it. I will take you from gate to gate and place to place. You will record the sound and sing the songs of deliverance that will open up the gate. For each gate has a sound that heaven is releasing.

"This is a time that My armies are responding to your singing in the earth realm. I am ready to send help to establish you at the gates of your lives and cites. I am ready to establish Myself at the gates of Jerusalem. Hear the song, sing, and watch the Hosts of Heaven align themselves to assist you at the gates."

The Word Comes Alive As We Pray!

There were several scriptures that became very important. The first passage that God gave us when we were leaving Rome for Jerusalem was Zechariah 4. This is referring, of course, to the Menorah of God. The Menorah represents the light in the revelation of God being the central rallying standard that all civil as well as spiritual government must align with. This passage also shows the power of the Spirit of God to overcome what we have never overcome in our past.

We stood behind the huge man-made Menorah at the Knesset in Jerusalem and declared there would be a realignment of government with God's spiritual foundations for this hour. We decreed that the Spirit of revelation would enter every structure of society. We also decreed that you would have revelation to speak toward any mountain in your life that you were not able to overcome in the past. Please read this passage.

Numbers 13 and 14 become two of the most important passages of this year. I have been encouraging you to read these all year. While we were in Jerusalem, this was the actual Torah reading for this week. God is saying this! Do not let anything you "see" remove your faith to advance.
John 9 is linked with the blind man whom the Lord healed at the Pool of Siloam. You will read about this in the report. Amos 9 and Acts 15 concern the restoration of the Tabernacle of David. Ask God to give you revelation of these scriptures. Worship Warrior has much revelation on these chapters.
Isaiah 45 pertains to how God raises up leadership that can go through resistant gates and gain the wealth to accomplish His building plan for the future. Please read this chapter from Isaiah.

The Temple Mount

This is the place where the war of all worship wars will be fought. The war is over worship on this Mount. "Who will control worship in the latter days?" is the defining question in the earth. The Temple Mount is owned by the Israelis, but under Jordanian stewardship. However, we all know that the Mount belongs to the Lord. From the above prophecy you can see that God's heart can really be expressed on this Mount.

Though David was a worshipper, he was man of war and was not allowed to build the temple. However, he was permitted to gather the materials for it and to organize the project (I Chronicles 22). The actual work began "in the four hundred and eightieth year after the children of Israel had come out of the land of Egypt, in the fourth year of Solomon's reign over Israel" (I Kings 6:1). Solomon began to reign about 971 BC, so his fourth year would have been about 967 BC. The temple was completed about 960 BC, seven years later (I Kings 6:37-38).

In biblical times three temples were built on the same site: Solomon's, Zerubbabel's, and Herod's. Solomon built the temple on the east side of Jerusalem on Mount Moriah, "where the Lord had appeared to his father David, at the place that David had prepared on the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite" (I Chronicles 21:28; II Chronicles 3:1).

The highest part of Mount Moriah is now the site of the building called The Dome of the Rock in Jerusalem. During the reign of Rehoboam, Solomon's son, (I Kings 14:26) the Temple treasures were taken to Egypt. Asa used the Temple treasure to buy an ally (I Kings 15:18) and stop an invader (II Kings 16:8). Manasseh placed Canaanite altars and carved images of Asherah, a Canaanite goddess, in the Temple (II Kings 21:4,7). Ahaz introduced an altar patterned after one he saw in Damascus (II Kings 16:10-16).

By about 640 BC, Josiah had to repair the Temple (II Kings 22:3-7). Josiah was the king who overthrew Solomon's false altars and restored true worship back to Judah. Notice these cycles. After robbing the Temple of its treasures and gold during his first attack (II Kings 24:13), in 587 BC the Babylonian King Nebuchadnezzar looted, sacked and burned the Temple (II Kings 25:9,13-17). But people still came to the site to offer sacrifices (Jeremiah 41:5). Do you see the war?

Many temples have been built on the Mount, including a temple of Jupiter, which was destroyed at Constantine's direction. He despised the place and made it a dump. In the history of the Temple Mount, a caliph approached the Byzantine ruler of Jerusalem to ask for a place where the Moslems might build their mosque. The ruler gave them permission to build the mosque on a dump filled with rubbish and trash. This dump was the Temple Mount area. So the "Church" actually gave the Temple Mount away. We asked forgiveness for us, as Christians, turning the Temple Mount over to the idolatrous worship.

You can see the significance of us not recognizing God's Holy places in the earth. Now there is talk of building another mosque on the Mount. This would then be the 5th mosque there - one for each of the five pillars of Islam. The Temple Mount is truly a portal of heaven and a gate of hell with hidden occult powers working underground to hold the whole Mount captive. There is much contention over who will rule this place. In the past, rabbis have discouraged people from going to this site since they felt it was so holy (with the Temple having been there). Do you see the war, both physical and spiritual?

After the Temple was destroyed during the Babylonian captivity, the Ark of the Covenant was never recovered, and so the Second Temple (and Herod's Temple) had no ark. Neither were Solomon's ten lampstands recovered. These are all prophetic issues to watch for in days ahead. One seven-branched candelabra, the Table of Showbread, and the incense altar stood in the Holy Place of the second Temple (as they did in Herod's Temple), but these were taken by Antiochus IV Epiphanes (about 175 BC - 163 BC), who defiled the altar in 167 BC. Do you see the war?

On the corner of the Temple Mount is now the largest underground mosque in the Middle East, which can accommodate more than 30,000 people. This indicates how the war has shifted from being above ground to underground. The Islamic leadership is also hoping to bring water from Mecca to store in the underground cisterns on the Temple Mount. This would then provide the option for Muslim faithful to take their hajj to the Temple Mount, giving the Temple Mount status similar to Mecca. We prayed much about this. Do you see the war?

One of the highlights of the entire trip was while we were on the Temple Mount and went to stand as close as possible to the Eastern Gate to pray. This gate has always been closed off by Muslims on the inside of the Mount area. Ezekiel 43 and Isaiah 45 were such key chapters as we prayed on the Mount. However, when we got in front of the gated area in front of the Eastern Gate, we found that the gate that would allow us to descend to the front of the Eastern Gate was standing open.

The whole team went down and prayed with our hands upon the Eastern Gate. It was as if we were paving the way once again for the coming of the Lord. We declared that God was putting His forerunners in place once again to open up the way for His glory.

This was the first time that any of us, including the team from Israel, had been to the actual gate itself. We then went where we felt the center of the original Temple site was. The bedrock place we stood upon was in alignment with both the Eastern Gate and the Mount of Olives. We each stood and made declarations of realignment. We read Psalm 15: "Who may dwell on your holy hill?" This was truly a key time.

What an amazing emotion to experience as we stood there and remembered how the Lord Jesus showed respect for the Temple. He referred to it as "the House of God" (Matt 12:4) and "Father's house" (John 2:16). He taught that everything in it was holy because it belonged to God, and was angry when it was defiled. Therefore, Jesus purged the Temple of the moneychangers (Mark 11:15-17; John 2:16).

He wept and proclaimed prophetically its destruction (Mark 13:1; Luke 19:41-44). Jesus' actions in the Temple disclosed Him as Messiah. This was one of the reasons the Pharisees wanted His death. At the moment of Jesus' death, the veil of the Temple was torn from top to bottom (Matt 27:51; Mark 15:38; Luke 23:45).

At the crucifixion, Jesus opened a new way for the presence of God to be attained. A new order and a new covenant were released in the earth. No longer was the Temple in Jerusalem to be the only place where mankind worshiped God. God is Spirit and those who worship Him must worship Him "in spirit and truth" (John 4:21-24).

The first Christians, converted Jews, continued to worship at the Temple (Luke 24:52; Acts 2:46; 3:1; 5:12,20-21,42). However, persecution and powerful works caused new wineskins to be developed in other areas such as Antioch, Ephesus and other cities. We should each realize that we are a new Temple. However, we must also realize that nations are aligning and God's Living Body is in war with anti-Christ covenant forces that want to control our worship. By asking the Lord to return in His power to the Church, the war over the Temple Mount will begin to escalate.

The City of David

As we approached and walked through the City of David, many military troops seemed to have converged on that area of the city. It appeared that we were following the troops wherever they went. The Lord impressed us that He was mustering the troops of heaven and aligning the troops of the earth for the war ahead. New excavations are being found all the time. However, the key place that we stopped to pray was where David defeated the Jebusites of his day.

David constructed a new palace for himself in the area known as Ophel and bought the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite (2 Sam 24:18). There is a war at the gates of this city. By understanding the war at the gates of Jerusalem, we understand the war at the gates of our lives and our cities.

Here are the gates listed in the Bible:

Beautiful Gate (Acts 3:10)
Benjamin's Gate (Jer 38:7; Zech 14:10)
Corner Gate (2 Kings 14:13; 2 Chron 25:23; 26:9; Jer 31:38; Zech 14:10
East Gate (1 Chron 26:14; 2 Chron 31:14)
Ephraim, Gate of (2 Kings 14:13; 2 Chron 25:23; Neh 8:16; 12:39)
First Gate (Zech 14:10)
Fish Gate (2 Chron 33:14; Neh 3:3; 12:39; Zeph 1:10)
Foundation, Gate of the (2 Chron 23:5)
Fountain Gate (Neh 3:15; 12:37)
Horse Gate (2 Chron 23:15; Neh 3:28; Jer 31:40)
Joshua, Gate of (2 Kings 23:8)
King's Gate (1 Chron 9:18)
Middle Gate (Jer 39:3)
Miphkad Gate (Neh 3:31)
New Gate (Jer 36:10)
North Gate (1 Chron 26:14)
Old Gate (Neh 3:6; 12:39)
Potsherd Gate (Jer 19:2)
Prison, Gate of the (Neh 12:39)
Refuse Gate (Neh 2:13; 3:13-14; 12:31)
Shallecheth Gate (1 Chron 26:16)
Sheep Gate (Neh 3:1,32; 12:39; John 5:2)
South Gate (1 Chron 26:15)
Upper Gate (2 Kings 15:35; 2 Chron 23:20; 27:3)
Valley Gate (2 Chron 26:9; Neh 2:13,15; 3:13)
Water Gate (Neh 3:26; 8:1,3,16; 12:37)
West Gate (1 Chron 26:16)
Dung Gate (Neh 2:13; 3:13-14; 12:31; RSV, NIV, NEB, KJV; Refuse Gate, NKJV)
Dung Port (Neh 2:13, KJV; Refuse Gate, NKJV)
Former Gate (Zech 14:10, RSV, NEB; First Gate, NKJV)
Guard, Gate of the (Neh 12:39, RSV, NIV, NASB, Gate of the Prison, NKJV)
Guardhouse, Gate of the (Neh 12:39, NEB; Gate of the Prison, NKJV)

High Gate (2 Chron 23:20; 27:3; KJV; Upper Gate, NKJV)
Higher Gate (2 Kings 15:35, KJV; Upper Gate, NKJV)
Inspection Gate (Neh 3:31, NIV, NASB; Miphkad Gate, NKJV)
Jeshanah Gate (Neh 3:6; 12:39; NIV, NEB; Old Gate, NKJV)
Muster Gate (Neh 3:31, RSV; Miphkad Gate, NKJV)
Mustering Gate (Neh 3:31, NEB, Miphkad Gate, NKJV)
Shalleketh Gate (1 Chron 26:16, NIV; Shallecheth Gate, NKJV)
Sheep Market (John 5:2, KJV; Sheep Gate, NKJV)
Sheep-Pool (John 5:2, NEB; Sheep Gate, NKJV)
(from Nelson's Illustrated Bible Dictionary, Copyright (c)1986, Thomas Nelson Publishers)

There is war over God's glory entering our lives, families, cities, churches, and nations. When you go to Jerusalem, you had better understand the covenant war that we are in spiritually. David made Jerusalem the religious capital of the nation. He moved the ARK OF THE COVENANT, which had been kept at Kirjath-jearim (Josh 15:9) to Jerusalem. Then David proceeded to build a TABERNACLE, in which the ark was placed.

The city's greatest glory was reached under the reign of King Solomon, who built the Temple and a royal palace besides greatly enlarging and strengthening the walls of the city. The greatest humiliation was reached under the reign of Antiochus Ephiphanes (175 BC - 165 BC), who attempted to annihilate the covenant plan of God.

The war today for all apostolic leaders is to establish the presence of God in their sphere of authority. Satan and his hordes' strategy is to remove God's presence. We are asking the Lord to establish the Ark of His Presence once again in our cities and lives. Eventually this will come into fullness in the Church. You will see this fully recovered and brought back again into Jerusalem.

As I said earlier, we stopped and prayed at the place where David captured the city of Jerusalem from the Jebusites (II Samuel 5:7; I Chronicles 11:5). This was David's first assignment after becoming king. This also determined the leadership of David's army. The Jebusites had built a structure so they could get water without ever leaving the city. This strategy protected them for centuries. However, David found a way through the water shaft to overthrow the Jebusites and gain control of God's ordained place for His Ark to rest. You can read more about the Jebusites in Possessing Your Inheritance.

We declared that in this season we would come full-circle and capture places that have never been transferred by the Lord into His people's hands. We also prayed that you would find an entry way into your inheritance, no matter if you have never pressed through before. Do not say that something is too hard. God has a way for you to penetrate your enemy's camp.

Jerusalem was under Muslim control from 637 to 1917 except for the brief periods when the Crusaders held Jerusalem. But times have changed and are changing. God has a covenant plan and will not be satisfied until all of His purpose is completed. Pray that the Spirit of the Lord continues to gain control of the city of Jerusalem. Begin to thank Him that the enemy has weak points and is not invincible.

The Pool of Siloam

Another highlight of the trip was our visit to the newly excavated Pool of Siloam. This was only uncovered six months ago. The expression "Pool of Siloam" (which is translated, Sent) is found in three passages: John 9:7, Nehemiah 3:15, Isaiah 8:6. Stairs that went down from the city of David (the southern portion of the Temple Mount) and the king's garden were in close proximity.

The scripture in John 9:7 where the blind man is sent by Jesus to wash at the Pool of Siloam seems to indicate that it was near the Temple. However, after being there, you could see that it was quite a trek for a blind man to find his way from the Temple to the Pool, even if he was being led. It was from Siloam that water was brought in a golden vessel to the Temple during the Feast of Tabernacles. Oh my -- the significance of this is incredible!

You can see from the abundance of vegetation in the area that the pool was quite large. You can see the pure running water. However, the excavations have stopped next to land that is owned by the Greek Orthodox Church. This will be one of the future indicators of the movement of God in the earth this hour.

The Pool of Siloam being uncovered means that the season of being "Sent" is upon us, and has come full-circle again. This means that the apostolic reformation is maturing. This also means that the healing dimension of power linked to evangelism is being restored to the Church. Additionally, this means that we are in a religious war to continue uncovering what has been lost.

Decree that you will have clear vision. Even though you may seem to be stumbling in making your way forward in your spiritual journey, declare that you will make it to the pool that the Lord is sending you to so that your vision will become clear.

Lunch at the Cave

We had lunch on the Mount of Olives, which is mainly Arab. The owner of the restaurant we visited was an Arab man who formerly resisted anything about God. One of his ten children got leukemia and was sent home from the hospital to die. Christians who were visiting Jerusalem and were connected with Ruth Heflin met this man and asked if they could pray for him. When he told them about his son, they asked if they could visit him.

They entered this man's home and began to pray and worship. This affected his life greatly. They then told him if he would bring his son to a church for prayer that the Lord would heal him (very similar to the blind man needing to go to the Pool of Siloam). The son insisted that his father do this. During the prayer and worship time for healing at the church, the Spirit of God began to deal with this man's hard heart. He found himself upon the floor weeping uncontrollably. If you would meet this man you would see what a strong, hard man he was. When he arose from the floor he noticed that his son, who was unable to walk when they entered the church, was now worshiping and dancing. After blood tests, the son's healing was confirmed. Now the whole family loves the Lord. Our meal with this man and his sons was a joyous time.

The Upper Room

While I had a meeting to attend, the rest of the team went to the Upper Room. This is believed to be the location of where the 120 went to pray after Jesus' ascension. We felt it was important to go there since we had left on Pentecost and our role was to declare a reversal of lost power back to the Church. Here is Robert Heidler's report from that time:

Our team left the USA on the biblical feast of Pentecost, and retraced the history of the Church from Moscow to Constantinople (Istanbul) to Rome and finally back to the Church's origins in Jerusalem. We ended our trip in the very place the church began when the Holy Spirit fell in the Upper Room.

The Upper Room is one of the few biblical locations in Jerusalem that can be identified with a fair amount of certainty. The roof of the building has been rebuilt, but the lower part of the walls date back to the first century. Archaeology has shown that this was definitely a first century Hebrew-Christian synagogue, and many early writers identify it as the location of the Upper Room where the Spirit first fell.

As we entered the Upper Room, the first thing we noticed was that someone had recently installed a large bronze sculpture of an olive tree. As we looked at it, we were amazed that it showed an olive tree whose branches had been cut off . . . but that new shoots were springing forth and bearing fruit. What a picture of our prayer journey!

We have seen how the early Church was cut off from the olive root (Rom 9-11) back in the fourth century, and grafted onto a pagan root. But in our day God's olive tree is sending forth new shoots, and the life of God is returning to produce an end-time harvest. In Rome we saw a Church that had literally been built on the foundation of a pagan temple. Here we saw the true foundation God intended for the Church!

John Price saw a picture of an electrical plug that was so corroded that no power could be transmitted. We confessed the things that hindered the flow of God's power to the Church, and asked God to bring restoration. As we thought about the things we had witnessed on the journey, we repented for specific points of compromise that caused the Church to lose its true foundation and power. Then we asked God for a fresh release of the Holy Spirit upon his Church.

We did several prophetic acts. Linda Heidler had designed a piece of jewelry that pictures a dove, but also the burning bush, the tongues of fire, and the menorah . . . all symbols of the Holy Spirit coming upon His people. There was a small window high on the front wall of the Upper Room. We put one of these pendants on this window sill -- high up and out of sight where it would remain for a long time -- and asked the Spirit to come upon His Church again!

We also took the key that we had locked in Rome, and put the key into a small hole at the top of the olive tree sculpture, allowing it to fall down into the interior of the piece. What we had "locked up" in Rome could only be unlocked by coming back to the original root!

>From the Upper Room, we went out to a nearby first century ritual bath or "mikveh." This mikveh was a large pool of water with a stairway going down, and another coming up. It was originally designed for Jewish ritual washing, but is probably the location where the 3000 were baptized at the birth of the Church on Pentecost. At the mikveh we asked God to purify His Church from the defilement of paganism, and re-establish His Church on its true foundation!

Rick Ridings poured out water from the Gihon Spring, and quoted from Job 14:7-9: "For there is hope for a tree if it is cut down that it will sprout again and that its tender shoots will not cease. Though its root may grow old in the earth and its stump may die in the ground, yet at the scent of water it will bud and bring forth branches like a plant." We closed by praising God for all He had done on this trip!

Meeting with Eitan Shishkoff

There is always a new wineskin forming. My meeting with Eitan Shishkoff was such a joyous meeting. Eitan is the apostolic leader of five congregations throughout the Haifa area of Israel, one fellowship being in Nazareth. He is such a powerful yet humble man who has withstood great persecution to bring forth Messiah's plan.

Eitan is connected with Dan Juster and Asher Intrater. Our visit was most encouraging. This just reveals God's apostolic plan for this season in Israel. There are other major leaders in Israel that are also key in what the Lord is doing this hour. Eitan will be with us in Denton at our FirstFruits Gathering at Glory of Zion on August 12.

Before we left Jerusalem, we visited the midnight watch at Sukkat Hallel. This watch is led by Steve and Tonya Hansen and Lindy Heidler. This was just a wonderful, vibrant time of worship to seal all that God is doing. Our team (consisting of myself, Brian Kooiman, Marty Cassady, Ginny Marks, John and Sheryl Price, Robert and Linda Heidler, Diane Buker and Sylvia Sizemore) thanks you for praying with us.

I want to say this: THE LORD IS BRINGING ALL OF US FULL CIRCLE! Break your old cycles, receive new power and enter into the season of victory that God has for you. Pray for the Body in Jerusalem. Pray for those that are participating in the 24/7 prayer effort. Pray for the apostolic leaders as they share the good news of the Lord Jesus Christ. Pray for the peace of Jerusalem.

Blessings,

Chuck D. Pierce
Glory of Zion International Ministries
www.glory-of-zion.org

These Trying Days

Mary E Adams

The Spirit of the Lord impresses me that we must come to grips with some spiritual facts, especially during these trying days. That more than ever before, we must realize the attack of the enemy has its agenda, and the only enemy the devil has is Christ and His church. He is attacking from every front...but unless we understand the nature of that attack and guard ourselves from the possibility of our helping rather than hindering him, we can find ourselves assisting this attack and becoming actual allies with him.

It is not enough for each of us to assume we have immunity--pastors, evangelists, every ministry for Jesus Christ is going through the fire. We find it comes in various ways; hitting us in our finances, in our homes, in our friendships, our health, in every effort we make to do God's will. Every discouraging thought that comes to us is a missile from the devil's arsenal. All negativism, all slanderous lies, all gossip is but his battering ram to tear down the church and hinder the work of God.

We are all aware that the warfare of today comes in roadside bombings and surprise terrorism. Such it is in the spiritual realm as well...we are often caught off-guard, when we least expect it and coming from places where we do not think it will happen. That is why it is so critical that each of us have the upper-hand on these matters, and that, of course, means you and I must stay in the spiritual realm more than ever before--where we can hear the voice of the Lord and have His wisdom to reveal to us the land-mines being laid for our destruction and how we can defend against them.

Have you wondered why there are such hindrances in your pathway? Why the battle seems impossible at times? Why the more you strive to do right, the more attacks come to your front door? It is because of the Day in which we live. The devil knows he has but a short time---great upheavals are not always in tsunamis and hurricanes; they also come as giant storms upon our spiritual and physical man as well. And yet we must be aware that not every problem we face is a direct attack from the enemy...for he is a cunning serpent hiding behind a tree. Gossip, slander, and criticism of one another is the devil's prime tool to destroy. To use us to destroy ourselves is how he does it. He knows how to work through our minds and thoughts by luring us to compete, to selfishly covet, to destroy or hinder someone in their quest to serve God. EACH OF US MUST UNDERSTAND, THAT FOR EVERYTHING WE DO FOR CHRIST, THERE IS A FURIOUS BATTLE BEING WAGED TO HINDER IT IN ANY AND ALL WAYS. That is why we must pray for one another---and not only support, but to defend our brothers and sisters by refusing to accept gossip, slander, lies, and criticism that is directed at them. Indeed, we are commanded to rebuke it. We must "esteem one another better than ourselves" and become "workers together" in one accord. None of us is without faults...but if we have failed to use prayer for our brothers and sisters instead of criticism, we show that we truly do not have the right heart.

There is a very real penalty which we must become acutely aware of: To touch God's anointed incurs His wrath. He will judge it and punish it severely. Had it not been for Moses' prayer for his sister Miriam, she would have died a leper. The Bible acquaints such behavior as nothing less than that of murder....for it too has the same motive: the destruction of someone else.

Many people are seeking a prophetic Word for the coming year. Yet many times a prophetic word is not always a revelation of future events--admonitions are also prophetic, but are most often disregarded. But if there is a message for us this coming year, this is surely one of them: Let us repent of the sins of our lips and put a guard at our mouths. Seek to encourage one another and become ambassadors for the good and prosperity of every work of the Lord, through ministers, through lay workers, through evangelists and missionaries, even though they might not belong to our particular church or denomination. Let the precious Holy Spirit rain upon our thoughts with pureness, love, and genuine care for one another's welfare and good...especially for those in leadership positions whom God has placed over us as shepherds.

If we do so, strength of unity will rejuvenate us like a blood transfusion and this next year will show us overcoming victories as never before!

Love in Christ,

Mary E. Adams
www.maryeadams.com

The Thunder Speaks
Susan Cummings

The thunder speaks
And the lightning displays
Uttering their voices before all eyes
But the hearts of men are a glazed

The sounds have gone forth
The sights have been shown
The purposes have been repeatedly decreed
And the reapers have all sown to their destinies

The Glory has gone forth
The Fire has been lit
The Knowledge of Me given
Deposited into the waiting vessels

The Scroll has been passed
The contents are coming forth
The Vision is birthing and expanding
For those who have ears and eyes

The scales are fully weighed
The portions finely measured
The sands have passed through the glass unheeded
As the clock strikes true

The thunder now passes through the gates
Its sound heard as it reels and shakes
Those fleeing shall have nothing to take
As the destroyer gleans what has been made

What the thunder leaves behind
The lightning will expose and elevate
For the ways and works of men will be no longer hidden
All for the fodder of the devourer

Precious is the sight of Truth
Hidden under the beams of My Roof
Taken for granted by the masses
Given as a heritage to the holy outcasts

Rooted and grounded in My Name
Raised heads and hearts during the flames
Lifting their voices in worship as the Winds proclaim
The coming of My Whirlwind

-Susan Cummings
8-20-05
7:30 pm

http://groups.msn.com/CummingsFamilyAdventures
http://topica.com/lists/JustHisWords

I’m Restructuring From The Foundation Up

Susan Cummings

I'm restructuring from the foundation up.

For I am now building upon the foundation that I have laid, and great will be the building upon which I will now fully bring forth. For men have always built with their desires and their aspirations, but I am building with My Word, and My truth. What I build will stand and endure for eternity.

Men build upon the foundation of their dreams, but I build from Myself. I have built from the beginning, when I created all things, and I will continue to build from the moment when eternity swallows up time, and on.

For I AM the Creator and God of all.

What I build, and form, is Myself within My creation. You are My creation. You are My handiwork, and I want to be seen in you. I want to express Myself through your life and to show the world I created, that I AM real. For when I am seen through your life, then I AM seen, and many will know that I love them. I want to be seen through all of My creation. I want My creation to know that they are important and that I love them.

So, I am building again, in this generation. I am creating a new thing in the earth, and fashioning again. I am fashioning a people after Myself again. Not that I haven't always had a people, for I have. But this new work that I am building, is the fuller measure of the expression of who I AM through them. I am working a work in this generation, that if I would have told them, they would not have believed Me, so I have wrought the work Myself. Now I will bring it forth.

For I have reserved a portion of Myself, of My Truth, of My Word, to be revealed in this last generation, that is what I will now open up. For I will be known and all that I have held in reserve of Myself, My Truth, and of My Word, I will bring forth. For men will have no excuse before Me.

For I AM able to have a people, who will be fully expressive of Me and who will not deny Me, nor compromise their lives to walk with Me. I have birthed forth a generation who will walk with Me and know Me, in the midst of a perverse and dark generation. And no one stopped My Hand. For I AM God, and I will be seen. I will walk in a Holy People in this generation.

I have brought it forth, and in the midst of a trial by fire, I have birthed and formed, and labored over My Own. I am breaking forth in My creation, to reveal Myself. For I know the hearts of men, and I know the hour of the man of sin. Both will come. Both will have their hour, but I will also bring forth My Glory and My Power, and it will come through My Vessels who are in My Hand. This is the season of unveiling and breaking.

Both have begun, as I have told you.

The breaking and the unveiling.

All will be seen for what it is. All will be seen for whom they belong. Nothing will remain hidden or blocked but all will be given to it's master. Each will bear the fruit and the name of it's lord. For I will share Myself with none but those given fully to Me. It is now all given to the sword.

My hidden work and My strange but glorious work is breaking forth, and the darkness will rage and roar at it's disclosure, but it cannot abide by Me, and must flee. For I will come and bring My Flaming Sword. It has already begun as you have seen. Now it will finish it's work.

Great is the fall of all that is not Mine.

Great is the rising of My Hand across this land, and across the earth, as I show forth Myself within My building that is rising from the ashes of death. Out of death comes forth life and not just life, but My resurrection Life. For I Am the Way, the Truth, and the Life, and all who come to Me, will certainly live, and not of themselves. For I AM moving greatly, and My Breath will enter them.

Men have always aspired for greatness among their own, but Mine sit at My Feet and look upon My Throne. For they know that I AM. There is nothing between them and Me, for I am all or nothing. It is to these that I will come, and it is through these that I will move and it is upon these will My Authority be seated. For I am glorified through those who lay their lives down for Me.

Such is Mine, and soon shall things be, as I bring forth all things in the earth. For time and eternity will soon meet again, and My building will remain for all to see, and all to know, that what I build has truly come forth from Me. For it is My Name that will stand.

All that is Mine, comes from My Hand, and is called by My Name, and is given life from Me.

So, the building arises from the fires of death, and great will be the rising of Myself within. I am building all over the earth. Hell thought it could prevent the birthing in this generation, and men thought they could kill the new child, but both are Holy and will now break forth.

I have a generation of Holy Ones, fashioned by My Hand, redeemed by My Blood, and shaped by My Flaming Hand. Nothing will stay My Hand, as I now fashion My House all across the lands.

For My House is fully rising and the wicked men will surely flee, whose hands are stained with blood and who have resisted My moving. I am filling My House and My People will show forth My Glory from one end of the earth to the other. My Tents of Meeting are rising.

I am bringing My House into My Order and into My Righteousness and into My Glory.

For I AM the Master Builder, and what I build will be seen.

This Holy generation that I have been building will now rise full of Me.

Watch and see what I will now bring forth, as I build upon that tried and tested foundation.

Isaiah 60
Isaiah 59
Isaiah 55
Isaiah 52
Isaiah 28
Matthew 28: 9-16, 21, 22
Ephesians 2: 19-22
1 Peter 2:1-10

-Susan Cummings
8-08-05
12:08 am

Take The Spoils

Bill Burns

July 25, 2005: Lift up your heads, O you people, for I am coming upon you, says the Lord. Indeed these are the days that have been prophesied and been spoken of since the very beginning of the Church, the days of victory of the glorious Bride of Christ in which heaven and earth are joined together in the power of the Most High. I bring good news -- the enemy will be routed, and no weapon formed against you will prosper. Every voice that rises up against you in judgment shall be condemned, and the curse shall be broken. This is a time of rejoicing for those who run to the battle and take the spoils of war. Rejoice as you are led from victory to victory.

Marsha Burns

July 25, 2005: Arise, My people. Arise out of the ashes of despair, and open your hearts, for I am about to fill you with joy, which will be your very great strength. I will pour out an anointing of ease for the things that are ahead of you and cause you to have victory in each situation. I will bring you by a way you have not known and lead you in paths unfamiliar to you. Trust Me, says the Lord, for I will do this. Isaiah 42:16 "I will bring the blind by a way they did not know; I will lead them in paths they have not known. I will make darkness light before them, and crooked places straight. These things I will do for them, and not forsake them."

July 26, 2005: Gear up. You are about to step into a season of acceleration when time will seem to almost evaporate. There will be many demands on your time and energy, but don't panic. If you seek Me early and make your time with Me a priority, I will stretch the remainder of your time each day and cause you to be supernaturally efficient in all things. I will strengthen you to rise up to meet the demands of every situation. And, you will rejoice as you recognize that I have actually carried you through what could have been great difficulties. I am your bridge over troubled waters, says the Lord.

July 27, 2005: Beloved, do not be surprised when you experience extremes in circumstances, situations, or emotions. You are likely to observe and be aware of extreme opposites, such as hot/cold, up/down, in/out, faith/fear. Yet, a happy medium seems to be not only difficult to define, but elusive. Taking this phenomenon too seriously could result in confusion, indecision, and temporary emotional instability. Refuse to be seduced into taking this roller-coaster ride. Remind yourself that I am your place of stability and objectivity. I am the solid rock on which you stand, says the Lord.

July 28, 2005: Refuse to become discouraged when your plans seem to fail or disruptions take you off course temporarily. You are on the right path even though there are some rocks in the road. Stay calm and don't overreact when you hit a bump. Trust Me to continue to direct your steps, and remember that I know exactly what is happening in your life. I am for you and not against you, and all things are working together for your ultimate good, says the Lord. Romans 8:28 And we know that all things work together for good to those who love God, to those who are the called according to His purpose.

July 29, 2005: Stop and discern. Be aware that your latest trials and tests have had you backtrack and go over some old ground. This is for the purpose of ferreting out unproductive habits that will hinder you in the days ahead, as well as pulling down old strongholds of bitterness, anger, rejection, and depression. You cannot entertain these places of defeat and still gain the victory. Take time to identify those attitudes and reactions that undermine your success, and be ready to trample them under your feet once and for all. And, prepare to forgive yourself and others as your heart is unveiled.

The Times They Are A Changing

James N Johnson

Here we are almost halfway through April and so much has happened over the last four months. Without seeming to appear dramatic, let me say that we are living in the most important times since the birth of Jesus. Let's just back up a little and review some of the things that have recently transpired.

December 26th 2004

The great earthquake off Indonesia resulting in the Tsunami that pounded the shores of many Islamic nations causing great loss of life, this was the largest earthquake in forty years. As this last 40 year period came to an end, the prophetic implications of this are far reaching. The last earthquake that produced a Tsunami was off the coast of Alaska.

Forty years ago in 1964 the Church was being alerted to the coming of a new move of God in the earth, this move became known as the charismatic move. In March 27th 1965 an earthquake which to date is the largest recorded in North America, measuring 9.2 on the Richter scale, hit along the Alaskan coast. This quake generated a series if waves measuring 90 feet in height that crashed into the coastline destroying countless boats and homes.

A short time after this event, countless numbers of small rural churches throughout the region were consumed by an out-pouring of God's fire in their midst. This outpouring of the Holy Spirit quickly rolled through Oregon and into California, finally resting upon an Episcopal Church in Van Nuys, lighting a fire upon an Episcopal rector named Dennis Bennett. Contemporary church history now shows that Bennett gave birth to what became known as the charismatic renewal. This move of God swept the western world like a great fire giving birth to the Jesus movement and many other great waves of the Holy Spirit, and was generally known as the Charismatic Move.

What Now

After the charismatic move waned in the mid 80s the Western Church struggled through a wilderness experience with very little happening. However seeds of great worth were sown during this period of winter in the church. The seasons eventually change and winter gives way to spring and summer producing again many harvests. We are entering the spring of the next season in God. When the 40 year season for Israel changed, they finally made it across Jordan to the promised land of plenty. We today stand on the brink of Jordan and it is time to cross over to a new level in God and greater harvests.

April 2nd 2005 The Death of the Pope.

I am sure that you all were surprised by the amount of attention this event generated in the media, and the unprecedented number of people that crowded day after day in St Peters Square in Rome, nothing like this had ever happened before. The outpouring of grief and the attendance of so many world leaders at the funeral was again unprecedented. This event marks an end of an era and the beginning of a new day. We will see many fathers in the faith laying down their swords and being promoted to Glory, this will take place over the next few months. Those warriors of the 1948 move who are still alive will be taken home along with others who have finished their race. These deaths signify the end of the old and the beginning of a new day in God's purposes for the earth.

The Wedding of Charles and Camilla

Whatever your view of this marriage is, it does indicate a change in the spirit in the UK. I guess we all are wiser in hindsight, so with many things we have to wait and see. The UK has been in preparation for a long time for a mighty move of God. When finally the Queen steps down from the throne the time will be ready for an outpouring of the Holy Spirit in the UK. This is not to say that the Queen is hindering this, it is a matter of timing linked to changes in the monarchy and beginning of a new era in Britain.

A Word for New Zealand

The church in New Zealand has been like many others in Western Nations wandering in the wilderness, the Lord showed me a number of years ago a great dragon devastating the land, this dragon had three heads and each head had a name written on it, the names were Humanism, Secularism and Indigenous Spiritual Roots. I have pondered this through the years and observed the devastation this Spirit has caused in New Zealand. I have never felt released by the Lord to share this until now; I recently received an email that confirmed what I had seen in an open vision a number of years ago.

The promises given to New Zealand in the 1970s are about to unfold, New Zealand will see many of the Old Guard retiring or being taken home as a new generation with a new vision arises, only a few of the old will make it over to the new, those who like Joshua and Caleb who have a different spirit. New Zealand will again impact the Nations. It is now time to break the power of this spirit; this will begin with a change of Government in the Nation which will pave the way for change and revival, as the spirit of indigenous ancestral worship and spiritualism is broken, great Maori warriors will be raised up in the army of the Lord, this in turn will have great impact upon Pacific Nations as these new generation Maori freedom fighter will devastate the Powers of Darkness in the Pacific Nations, born to be warriors, they will fight the darkness and advance like a wind through the Pacific Islands and we will marvel at what the Lord will do. As the darkness recedes New Zealand will stand as light to the Nations and fulfill her destiny. What New Zealand experienced during the Charismatic move is but a drop in a bucket to what God has prepared for her; truly salvation shall be heard from the ends of the earth.

Nations are not changed through protest but through mighty outpourings of the Holy Spirit, we must not settle for anything less, as your hunger for something better than you have increases, that hunger will be matched by grace and personal outpourings of the Spirit upon you, these are preparations of the Spirit for what is coming. There is a divine dissatisfaction with many in this hour, you say there has to be something better than this, the lord would say you have hardly touched what I have purposed for you, seek, knock, ask, don't be denied don't give in, did I not say seek and you will find, am I a God that would lie? That hunger which has been placed in your heart is from me saith the Lord, that dissatisfaction with mediocrity is a quality of my kingdom that will not be denied, it is time for a new generation to arise with truth and holiness who will say, I will not give over my Nation to the Darkness, this is not a time for rest and recreation there will be those times, but this is not one of those times THIS DAY YOU MUST FIGHT and not rest until you see the Sun of Righteousness arise in your land. This is a time when you must prophesy to the darkness and will not my word be like a sword through your land. I am giving you another chance to rise into your destiny and fulfill your Royal Commission as a Nation; you must have the resolve of Esther who said if I die I die! but who knows if I you have come to the kingdom for such a time as this.

Earthquakes again are shaking Indonesia and Papua New Guinea as the battle for Islam continues, every radical Islamic atrocity only multiplies the harvest in those Nations, God is targeting Islamic Nations with the Gospel like never before, we will see incredible personal manifestations of the Lord in these Nations much of which will be sovereign interventions of God.

What to Watch For:
An outpouring of the Holy Spirit in the Vatican
A harvest of souls from among many in the Catholic Church
Increased Angelic activity
Youth revivals breaking out around the world
Changes in Governments that indicate spiritual changes in those Nations.

God Bless you
James N Johnson © 2005

The Time to Birth The Manifestation of My Kingdom

Toni Miles

I heard the Lord say, "You must prevail in travail in order to unveil My Kingdom in the earth. I have been faithful to reveal the mysteries of My Kingdom to My prophets and apostles, and they have been faithful to speak forth this revelation. But, NOW, I say, it's time to bring forth the manifestation! Now, you must go from just having the revelation to becoming the manifestation. "The Kingdom of God is within you" (Luke 17:21), therefore, that which has been revealed to you must now manifest through you . . . and I say, now, the fullness of your time has come . . . Now, is the time to give birth to the manifestation of My Kingdom in the earth! "As soon as Zion travailed, she also brought forth her sons," (Isaiah 66:8). "For we know the whole creation groans and travails in pain together until now . . . for the earnest expectation of the creation is waiting for the manifestation of the sons of God." (Romans 8: 19,22). All of My creation is desperately waiting for My sons to manifest My Kingdom, so that it can be reconciled back to Me, the Creator. "The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of His Christ." (Rev 11:15).

"I have given to you, My sons, the ministry of reconciliation, but there has to be a manifestation before there can be a reconciliation. The manifestation of My Kingdom is righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost. (Romans 14:17). My Son, Jesus, was the perfect example of this Kingdom manifestation, which ultimately resulted in a total reconciliation of all those He encountered in that generation. "Jesus (the manifestation) went throughout Galilee teaching (imparting by example) in their synagogues and proclaiming (revealing) the good news of the Kingdom, and curing every disease and every sickness (demonstration) among the people (reconciliation)." (Matthew 4:23). You have to first become a manifestation before you can release an impartation or proclaim a revelation with the power that results in a demonstration that will ultimately bring forth a reconciliation to this generation. I have already released an anointing that will empower you, that will give you the strength to bring to birth the fullness of this kingdom manifestation of righteousness, peace, and joy!"

And we say, "Let it be so, Lord. Let Your Kingdom come, let it be released through us, so that this generation can be reconciled back to You. Amen."

The Urn In The Wilderness

Susan Cummings

April 21, 2005

The Lord gave me this mini vision earlier today, and several times today, off and on, since then. It does not leave, and this is what he said to me about it…..

I saw this vast place of flat land and not much vegetation, but a lot of rocks and rough landscape, with a few scrub brushes and things. It was not the desert, but a wilderness area. In this area, were scattered pieces of broken pottery or vessels lying scattered and in a discarded manner.

A wind began to blow upon the pieces and they began to lift up off of the ground and to come together and to attach together and fit as if they belonged to each other, even though each piece was different in every aspect. They began to form into an urn of some type. It became a huge urn and it sat upon the ground and was all different colors as it was made up of all the different pieces that were lying around, and yet, they all fit supernaturally, as if they were all from one piece formerly.

The Lord then stood next to me and said,

"What you see before you is the Season of Refining that has now closed for My Remnant. I broke My Vessels and scattered them and brought them fully into My Fire and drove every bit of identity from them, so that nothing of their former selves would interfere with My new plans for them in this new season. All that was against me was stripped from them, and broken into ashes, and removed by My Breath, as it blew all traces of flesh out of them, and also it released the hearts that were bound within, and caused them to be released and to beat again."

"The wilderness was the Season that has now past. My Remnant are rising up into their places and coming into an understanding of who they are, and their purpose in Me. I have taught them and hand fed them as they walked with Me in the lonely and barren times. I have been their sole portion and their provision. They know both My Love and My Severity. They embraced My judgments and will now stand in the Hour of Justice that will burn across the globe."

"The Urn that you saw standing is My Remnant that will be poured out in the earth. They are the Vessels that I will live through, and be released through, as I perform My Will in the earth. I am filling My People with Myself. I have shown you this. You carry a portion, just as they will and are. I will come forth out of My People in many ways. I will come forth as I choose to, and do My Work, and it will not be as the world or the church would want or desire, or even expect, for I alone am God, and not a man. Man cannot know Me, unless He is one with Me. My Ways are not man's ways or the church's ways."

"My Word will bring division to those who are Mine and those who are not. The breaking has begun and the separation is beginning to increase greatly, and great will the chasm be between, for no one will cross over to the other side anymore. Either they are Mine or not. I showed you the splitting of the heart and it will come. For I will divide the hearts and spare those who will come to Me. I do have a People who love Me as their God, and who love no other besides Me."

"Great turmoil will increase as the division increases, for many will try to save themselves and play in the safe place, but the only place there will be is in My House. You know the Truth, and you must walk in it, and must show the ones looking for Me the way. You must run your race and not try to fix the pieces that fall, but call them forth into obedience to Me, and I will fix those who cry out to Me."

"This is not the same as the Season of Refinement. This is the Season of Resurrection and the coming together of the dry bones of My people in the earth. I am not only moving in America, as I am moving in all nations. The Hour has come, for Mine to come to Me fully, or be left to the opposite side. Just as when I called to My people to come to me through Moses upon the Mount, and those who heard Me, came to Me, and those who didn't perished in the great shaking, so it shall be again."

"I will no longer tolerate lukewarmness in My House. It will be hot with Me or cold without Me. I am a Consuming Fire, and My People will burn and be consumed with Me, or be empty sepulchers. I have shown you the Tents of Meetings. I have told you to ignite My Tents, as I have many who are now doing so, as you are. You must not stop. For the Urn you see, is the corporate rising up of My Tents. It has begun, and My people are rising up."

"Go and look in the Urn."

I walked up to the Urn and looked inside. It was full of water. It looked like water. I reached in and felt the water. It was cold and felt inviting. The Lord stood by Me and nodded. He said to me, "It is not water. It is the oil that comes through the pipes of My Light and fills the bowls that will burn with My Fire. I am filling them with My Living Oil, and am igniting Myself within them, through them, and upon them, so that no man can say that they have done this. For it is a heavenly fire that man does not have, and cannot. It is Holy. It is Me."

Then, the Lord said to look in again.

I looked in again, and it was full of Fire. The Lord smiled this time, and reached in Himself, and gave me some of it. He said to Me, "This is the greater portion that has been reserved for My People in the last Hour. It has been held back, for it is Holy, and I will not give what is Holy to a generation that did not treasure it above all else. My Holiness is the pearl of great price. My Word is to be sought after as that pearl and reverenced as such. I am the Living Word and the Holy Fire. I will not give Myself to those who do not love Me nor want Me."

The Lord said to look in again.

I did look in again, and this time, there was a great storm in the Urn. I was surprised. The Lord said then," I told you the Storm was coming. It is now upon the earth and will hit. The Storm will bring the full division of Mine from those who are not, and bring My Justice. The Remnant has made herself ready and is awaiting my breath to now bring about the full restoration. That is now begun also. I am moving them into their places. They will stand, under my Hand, as I pass over the earth."

"Do not be concerned with when it will happen, but be concerned with those who I have given to you, and raise them up, as I told you to. You know what to do, as do all who have My assignments, now it is time to do so. For the breaking forth now comes and so does the division. Do not shrink back because of the opposition, but run with My Mission, and see Me gather Mine to Myself. The time is drawing close for the Unveiling."

The Lord said to Me one last time, to look into the Urn.

I did so, but felt apprehensive this time. He nodded and so I looked in. There was black death in the Urn. He nodded gravely and said to me, "Yes. The black death will come, and it will claim many. I have warned and called and cried out, and few responded to Me, even now. What is to be, will now be. The death comes from the Urn, for My Vessels are instruments of My Mercy and My Wrath. They will speak forth whatever I tell them to, and they will do My Will. My Word will judge all men. Every man will choose their fate. My Word has indeed already gone forth, and it is now being brought forth, for many plagues have begun, but will increase, as the hearts now harden."

"You must go and trust Me. If you do not fulfill your destiny and if you choose to disobey, you too will perish. All who deny Me will perish. Either on this earth or in eternity, forever apart from Me. No man is exempt. Even you. You know Me, and have My Word living in you, and know My Presence, and have partaken of My Fire. You have no excuse and must follow Me. Do not waver, but go, and give my Word as I reveal it to you, and fear not, for I am with you, and with all who are Mine."

"The winds are blowing and the breaking will only increase till the separation is complete, as I said, so go, for the hour is late, and the people await Me. For I am the Shepherd and I will gather My Flock unto Me and shepherd it in the midst of the darkness and great will be it's Glory as I rise up within it, in the earth."

The Lord then walked away and I was there standing by the wilderness.

Kairos Transport Ministries

http://groups.msn.com/CummingsFamilyAdventures
http://topica.com/lists/JustHisWords
cummings@bevcomm.net

The Unshakeable Kingdom

Francis Frangipane

When The Earth Shakes

As the year 2005 comes to a close, it is hard to be unaffected by the two massive earthquakes that occurred this past year. Remember, it was just twelve months ago that the great South Asian Tsunami roared along the Indian ocean, suddenly rising and striking the coastlines of nine nations. Over 250,000 people died and millions more were left grieving and homeless. Scientists tell us that this great disaster not only changed the landscape of Asia, it actually caused the planet to wobble on its axis.

But the physical shaking was not over. Nine and a half months later another devastating quake struck, this time in Pakistan. On October 6, the Kashmir region of Pakistan was rocked by an 8.2 earthquake which killed nearly 90,000 people. Millions again were left without homes or shelter.

If these major quakes were not enough, this past year also saw unprecedented disturbances in weather patterns. The 2005 Atlantic hurricane season witnessed a record twenty-six named storms. Thirteen of these became deadly hurricanes, seven of which grew to catastrophic category three or stronger storms. Devastation to New Orleans and the coastal cities of Mississippi and Alabama was beyond comprehension.

There is something happening in the earth. Massive earthquakes. Huge death tolls. Unprecedented storms. It may all be a coincidence, but I cannot help but call to mind the Lord's word, "Yet once more I will shake not only the earth, but also the heaven" (Heb. 12:26). There is certainly a great shaking occurring in the nations.

Jesus warned that "great earthquakes" would be part of a variety of natural calamities, which He called "birth pangs," that would introduce the end times (Luke 21:11; Matt. 24:8; Mark 13:8). In other words, He told us to expect natural disasters to increase both in magnitude and frequency, as though the earth itself was recoiling against the weight of sin. As Isaiah said, ". . . the earth is shaken violently. . . it totters like a shack, for its transgression is heavy upon it" (see Isa. 24:19-20).

If we are, indeed, living in the last decades of this present age, we should not expect the planet to remain calm or tranquil. I believe God will use these calamities to draw multitudes to Himself, but we should be aware they will probably grow in severity.

Spiritual Shaking

As disasters increase, so fear will increase, but it should not be so with us. For it is also during this time that the Lord promised that the ruling powers of darkness will be shaken from their position of influence and rule. The Lord will "shake not only the earth, but also the heaven" (Heb. 12:26). This verse is not referring to the highest of heavens where God dwells. The heavens mentioned here refer to the spiritual realm, also known as the "heavenly places" elsewhere in the Bible (Eph. 3:10). These "heavenly places" represent the spiritual dimension from which "the powers, . . . the world forces of this darkness, . . . the spiritual forces of wickedness" exert their rule over nations (Eph. 6:12).

Thus, the Lord says in Isaiah "It will happen in that day, that the Lord will punish the host of heaven on high, and the kings of the earth on earth" (Isa. 24:21). The last great shaking will affect both the natural and spiritual realms. Likewise, Jesus warned that during the time of the end "the powers of the heavens will be shaken" (Matt 24:29).

In fact, there is, at this moment a "war in heaven" (Rev. 12:7). Remember, the shaking of these powers denotes the "removing" of their place of influence and rule (Heb. 12:27). In other words, every demonic stronghold that hinders the coming forth of the kingdom of God on earth is ultimately going to be confronted by the power and authority of heaven!

One may argue, "These verses refer to the end of the age." Yes, the finality of this twofold shaking - things on earth, but also heaven - won't occur until just before the Lord returns. However, I believe it has already begun on a certain level. Consider the former Soviet Union. Here was the largest geographic empire in the history of the world; its military was powerful beyond measure. The USSR was avowed atheistic in nature, and it spread atheism to all nations under its influence.

Yet, in an amazing and unfathomably sophisticated exercise of the divine will, the Almighty judged the spiritual powers ruling Soviet Communism. Without a violent revolution, without an insurrection or war, the Soviet Union suddenly and dramatically disintegrated. Not only did this great empire implode, it was on December 25, 1991, that Mikhail Gorbachev resigned as President of the Soviet Union, effectively ending the Soviet Communist Party. The next day the Soviet parliament acknowledged the dissolution of the empire. Reference.com/Encyclopedia/History of the Soviet Union (1985-1991)

What a great and enduring sign! On Christmas day, the very day we celebrate the birth of Jesus Christ, the demonic power ruling the USSR was shaken and toppled from its place! Will the Lord's final confrontation against the spiritual powers of wickedness be much more significant Since the fall of communism, missiologists tell us that more people have come to Christ worldwide than the sum of all conversions since the first century. An evil power fell from its place of rule and since then millions of people have come into God's kingdom! (Anyone feel like shouting here)

Even while the physical world will suffer birth pangs, I believe we are going to see other major "powers in the heavens" come down just as dramatically as the former Soviet Union. The power block ruling Islam is going to unravel. There will be unexpected, but significant breakthroughs, and millions of Muslims will open up to the gospel. This is the prayer frontier God set before us. The outcome will be that hundreds of millions of Muslims will come to find Christ as their Savior. This is the primary reason we must pray for the success of the nations fighting radical Islam.

We will also see major demonic powers fall in the USA. In fact, I believe there is already a serious breech in the stronghold ruling homosexuality. Regardless of their brazen public face, there are those in the gay community who are still spiritually sensitive. They are aware that, at the very time they scheduled their celebrations of decadence, two major hurricanes roared into their host cities (New Orleans and Key West). Inwardly they know God is not pleased with their lifestyle.

I also believe it will not be long before serious restrictions will be placed upon abortion in the USA. This demonic power that has blinded lawmakers and justices will be broken. Let us, therefore, continue to pray for Supreme Court Justices to be appointed who are both pro-life and God-fearing.

It seems to me that we are living when, at least on some level, the "powers of the heavens" are being shaken. Our prayers and personal involvement in the affairs of life play a major role in toppling these powers of darkness. If we do not quit praying, we will see significant changes unfold before our eyes.

Finally, let us remember that, even while things on earth and in heaven are wobbling, we have received "a kingdom which cannot be shaken." (Heb. 12:28-29). Beloved, God has an unshakable kingdom to which He calls us. It is the place where Jesus rules as King, from which place every knee in heaven and on earth shall bow.

The Ultimate Repair Kit

Bill Somers

The Ultimate Repair Kit was the title on a package I ran across recently in a local Wal-Mart. In the paint and hardware department they had quite a few of them on display. It consisted of one roll of duct tape and one can of WD-40 spray, packaged together in a box, wrapped in plastic..

I found this especially amusing because for many of my years as a repairman, I have made a similar joke. My claim was, only half jokingly, that 80% of all repairs, except for parts replacement, could be made with one or more of five essential items. Super glue, duct tape, WD-40, plastic tie wraps and plastic wire splices. This is my repairman's five essentials. Sometimes I would substitute electrical tape for duct tape, or silicone sealer for super glue, but the idea was basically the same.

Now what exactly do these things do? Duct tape is a thick strong tape that is used to hold things together that have come loose for some reason. The same goes for other kinds of tape; and for glue, sealer, tie wraps, baling wire, binder twine, splices, screws and nails.

WD-40 is a lubricant and rust remover that allows things that are stuck together to come lose and move freely once again. The same goes for penetrating oil, motor oil, cooking oil, solvents and cleansers.

The filing system your computer uses has a similar function. It keeps or holds together things that belong together, and separates, [loosens or frees up] things that should be kept apart.

It all has to do with binding and loosing. Many common tools do this. Staplers bind things together; crowbars break them apart. Wrenches, pliers, and screwdrivers do both. Keys open and shut. By now you may have guessed where I am going with this.

The Real Ultimate Repair Kit is the Keys to the Kingdom given by Jesus to his followers.

> And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. Matthew 16:19

So whatever you have that needs fixing, the tools are at hand. All that is needed is proper application.

There are other common tools that do not involve binding and loosing. They include squares, levels, chalk lines, plumb lines, meters and gauges. These are instruments of evaluation or judgment. In the bible there is mention of the plummet and the measuring rod. These instruments of judgment are only used by the master builder or at his specific direction. And that is another subject altogether.

The Vine and The Branches

Mike Forest

"Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can you, except you abide in me.

I am the vine, you are the branches; He that abides in me and I in Him, the same brings forth much fruit, for without me you can do nothing." (John 17:4,5)

In the garden of Eden, man made a terrible choice to eat of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil instead of the tree of life. Man through his sin became independent of God and began to live for himself instead of for the glory of God. As Christians, we are still faced with that same choice of whether to live unto ourselves in independence of God or to partake of the tree of life (Jesus Christ) and to live by Him. The first kind of life is the self life, in which it is impossible to bring forth good fruit. The second kind of life is the life of Christ, which is the life that God gives unto every one who believes in His Son and receives Him. Every believer has received the life of God, but the question remains: are we living by His life or is self still in control?

Two of the greatest realities of the Christian life is that as a believer in Jesus Christ, we are in Him, and He is in us. Jesus gave us a parable of the vine and the branches which describes this wonderful union that is taking place between Christ and every person that is a child of God.

Jesus said "I am the vine, and you are the branches." The vine is the life giving part of the plant. All life that the plant is to receive comes from the vine. The branch that is in union with the vine, receives the life that will produce the fruit. The purpose of the branch is to bear the fruit that the vine produces.

Jesus is the way, the truth, and the life. Our Lord has told us to "abide in Him". Many times we are trying to live the Christian life without abiding in Christ, and then we wonder why there is so little fruit being produced. A fruitful Christian is one who abides in Christ. It is the life of Christ that is being transmitted unto us that is the result of much fruit. If a natural branch is separated from the vine then it will begin to wither and die. A Christian that is not abiding in Christ is cutting himself off from the very life source that was meant to nourish and sustain him.

Jesus has said "that without me you can do nothing." But there are so many things that we do everyday without acknowledging Him. "For whatsoever you do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by Him." (Colossians 3:17). Many Christians have yet to come to the full realization that "in our flesh there is no good thing." God has to bring us to the place where we are no longer trusting in ourselves but in Him who is the resurrection and the life.

When we see that we need Jesus as much as we need the air that we breathe, then we will allow Him to live His life in us and through us. Christ is to be the life of a Christian. The Apostle Paul said "For me to live is Christ." (Philippians 1:21). Christ had become the life of Paul's life.

Just as the vine and the branch are one, Christ and the Christian are joined together. The same life that is in Christ is in the one who has received Jesus. The same love that is in Christ is in the believer that has put his faith in Christ. Everything that we need to live the Christian life is in the Lord Jesus Christ, and we are in Him. Jesus said for us to abide in Him.

"If you abide in me, and my words abide in you, you ask what you will and it shall be done unto you." (John 15:7). Are we abiding in Christ? Is He the first priority in our lives or do we just give Him a little part of our lives, and still do pretty much whatever pleases us? Jesus Christ desires to be the Lord of every area of our lives. To the degree that we give Him first place in our lives, will also be the degree that we are living a victorious, overcoming life.

The Vessels And The Furnace

Susan Cummings

For a few weeks now, the Lord has been bringing an ongoing prophetic experience to me and slowly unfolding His Message to me through it all. The same scene of the fiery furnace is always the base and the focus of the experiences. The lesson has to be walked out and understood and formed into you, before you can bring forth the revelation.

This is the experience, the lesson and the revelation which the Lord gave to me:

The Foundation:

In every encounter, I am standing before a great fiery furnace that is fully ablaze and roaring in it's intensity. It is very bright and hot and it burns the air around you as you look into it. You cannot help but think that you will catch on fire just standing next to it. The flames are powerful and very intense to stand near, and it causes me to be afraid. But suddenly, I am not, for the Lord has brought this to me, and I feel somewhat better, but it is so real that I am a little apprehensive anyways.

The Encounter:

I am standing before a burning furnace. The flames are shooting outwards and are very big. This time, as the former times, I am drawn to the door or the hatch of the furnace. I draw closer, and feel the heat of the flames brush my face and skin. My hair feels as if it will melt and my face as if it will peel away from the heat, but it does not. The heat is real and the flames are real, but the Lord has brought me, and I can feel Him with me, so I wait.

The door opens and I can see the flames within the furnace. They dance as if they are alive, and they roar with a noise of victory. There is a voice in the flames, and I can feel it's heat. Fire is alive. In this furnace the fire is alive. I can feel it burning right through me. I am only looking in, but feel as if I am within the furnace.

The Lord then speaks to me, and He has been standing next to me. I turn at the sound of His voice. He says, "What do you see?" I look at Him, and then turn back to the furnace. I look and think, and search for anything that might stand out to me about the furnace. It seems to me like an ordinary furnace and there is nothing very distinctive about its purpose other than to produce heat and for burning things.

I reply, "I cannot find anything of importance about this furnace. It seems to be for producing heat or for burning things and there is nothing but flames to see within it." The Lord nods and waits a moment. He looks at the furnace and says, "It is because you don't see with your heart. You are looking with your eyes and your mind. You cannot understand the spiritual things with your natural reasoning's."

I replied, "Lord, open my eyes that I might see, and my heart that I might understand." The Lord then pointed at the furnace, and I looked in as far as I could see. I could not see anything but fire. I said, "Lord, I cannot see anything but fire." The Lord then said, "Come with Me." Instantly, we were standing in the midst of the fiery furnace.

I was alarmed at first, but the Lord's hand was on my shoulder. He smiled at me, and waited and watched my reaction. I was so hot, as I felt the intense heat of the flames burning all around us. But I did not burn. The heat was real, but it had no power over us. I had a thought come to me then about authority.

The fire was burning as that was it's created purpose, but there was a higher authority that it could not cross and so it could not burn us, as the Lord was with me. The reality of the Resurrection Life of the Lord was greater than the flames, and the natural laws were suspended before the eternal. My mind could not grasp it all, but the basic thought was enough for me, and the Lord watched me as I was trying to learn what was being shown to me. He smiled and nodded.

He said, "That is enough for now, for you cannot fully grasp My Life and Glory given to Me from the Father, but you can walk in Me and experience who I AM in the midst of it all. My intent is that all of My people would know what it means to fully abide in Me, and to walk in Me, and to have their life in Me. The Life that I live is eternal and is not limited to natural laws, but is eternally alive and creative. You are an eternal being, created by My Father, and it is time that you and all of Mine, learn to walk in their full inheritance, as My Father has made it available to all who would receive Him."

The Revelation:

"Come with Me, and look further." He then stepped forwards and began to walk further into the flames. I hurried and followed so I would not get lost. I would not want to be burnt up for being disobedient or careless. So, I reached out and took His hand. He smiled and held on to my hand tighter too. He said, "How I wish all of Mine would tightly grasp My hand. Some come and take My hand, but let it go easily or when they see something that draws their attention, they stray from Me. Few stay with Me. Few walk with Me. Few trust Me."

I thought about the times that I have done this myself. How easily I take my own eyes off of the Lord and look around. How easily I am lured away by things that captivate my attention. How easily I can get secure in my own self and fail the Lord. I feel very intense conviction and I say, "Lord, I too have done this, and I am very sorry that I have left you behind or let you walk ahead of me. I am sorry for loving things more than you. Give me more love for you in my heart. Please forgive me, and help me to stay close to you. I ask for the grace to walk with you."

He looks at me, and says, "You are correct. You have not loved me more than other things and have gone after the things that you have loved, and have lost me many times along your path. But grace has been given, to come to you, and to help you to find your way back upon the path each time. All of My Sheep stray. They follow their hearts and their flesh and are lured by their own deceptions. None have been faithful. But I know the hearts of Mine, and My Grace is to reach and draw you to Myself and to show you My Truth."

"I am bringing all of Mine to Myself. I am showing them all My ways and My truth, and they too will walk in the furnace with Me. For each will die to all that is themselves and within them, and take on My Life or they will perish in the flames of My Justice. You have not perished because you have embraced My Judgments and have allowed them to burn out the false and the deceptions. You have allowed Me to cleanse your thoughts and your heart. You have allowed Me to bring forth all of the self life and crucify it. You asked ME for My Grace, and I have given it to you, for you will stand here, and see what all of Mine will see. Now, I bring you into the furnace to show you My Workmanship."

The Lord then pointed, and my gaze followed His hand. He was pointing to a side of the furnace. On the side was a shelf. Actually, there were many shelves. On the shelves were many various pots and vessels that had been made and were resting in the furnace. I had not seen them before. The flames had surrounded them and had blocked my view.

The Lord said," Yes, it always seems to be that way for My People. All they see is the fiery trials and the troubles but never look deeply enough into them to see what I am doing. They only look at the pain and the circumstance that brought them into the trial. Then they complain, try to get out of it, or blame others for the trial. But don't inquire as to why I allowed it or My purpose for their placement in it. Why don't My People realize that I Am in all things and use all things for their perfection?"

I could only agree with the Lord. I too, have concentrated more on the trial and less on God many times. The Lord then said, "But this is not My real purpose in the scene before you. Look at the vessels. What do you see?"

I looked at the ones on the first shelf, and noticed that they were all different. They all were earthen and had different shapes, sizes, and purposes according to their make. Then, I noticed that they were all silver. I looked at them again, so as not to be mistaken. They were. They were all silver. I laughed at my simple discovery, and the Lord laughed.

"He said, yes, they are all silver. They are the ones that are being refined and purified. There is much to be refined and brought forth so as the silver can be given it's rightful place. My Father has been carefully working His workmanship into each vessel and making sure that His Likeness is formed into each one. The fire will accomplish it's work and all of the dross will be brought forth to the surface and burnt up as He purifies His People. Every crack that is in them, will be shown and healed and made strong. Nothing will escape the Father's gaze as He passes through them with His Fire."

I then looked around and saw more shelves. Some were further away. I was amazed at how big the furnace was from inside. It did not look that big from the outside. I wondered at the difference. The Lord then said, "You always think your trial is bigger than it really is when you are in it. It is as big as you let it become. It is time that My People begin to see their trials through My eyes, and not their own. When they do this, they will not stumble nor fall to their delusions in the midst of it. The trial has a purpose, My Purpose."

"Look at the next shelves. What do you see?" I looked, and there were indeed some more vessels on these shelves that were further into the flames. These vessels were golden. They were as different from each other as the silver ones. They also had different purposes as by their shapes and sizes. They were shining in the flames and had taken on a beauty that was almost drawing me to touch them.

The Lord said, "Do not touch them. They are not finished, but they are quickly coming forth. The beauty that you see is their reflection of Me. I Am in all things and am seen in all things and reflected in My creation. They have allowed themselves to be purged and made ready. They have waited longer than any other vessel that you see here. Each vessel has a purpose and a timing for release. These are coming forth after the silver ones have prepared the way."

Then, I turned and looked back towards where the silver vessels were, and saw that they were gone. The shelves were gone. There was nothing there. I was surprised. The Lord said, "The silver vessels have been perfected and have embraced their refinement. They have become glorious and have given Me first place in their hearts and lives, and have now been released to show Me to the world. They will bring much refining to My House through their message. It is their time to bring forth My Holiness once again, and to see My House purified."

"These golden vessels before you are the next to be released. Some are now being released on the heels of the silver ones, and some are being released as we speak and some will be released as the days go on. The golden vessels bring forth much purity and clarity through the purging that comes with their message. There is a need for clear Truth and for absolute purity, for My House must be transparent. It must fully show Me and be seen as pure. It must be a clear glass that reflects Truth but shows forth the Mystery of who I AM also. My House will be Holy and True, and will reflect all that I AM and will be full of My Glory."

As I looked at the golden vessels, the Lord then reached out and took one off of the shelf. He held it in His Hand and then He took it and brought it to His breast. I cried out, thinking that it would burn the Lord, for the vessels were in the flames. But the Lord looked at me and shook His Head. He said, “Child, I AM the Eternal Flame. I am the source of the Furnace and it’s Life. You are standing IN ME. Look, and see that it is well.”

The vessels than came forth from His breast, and it shone even more. It was so brilliant now, that it was blinding. I could not look at it. The Lord then said, “All that are Mine, will come to Me, and know My Heart. They will allow My Heart to be fashioned into them and to burn with My Love and to be consumed with Me. They shine with the fullness of My Love and Life. I am the Life of all men.”

“These golden vessels have been fully forged and brought forth with the revelation of My Love and Passion burnt into them. They will follow the silver ones and bring healing, restoration, and clarity of vision to all of My House. For I AM bringing forth the complete work of My Father within My House, as I have told you it is now going to be seen.”

“The great work of My Father is coming forth as I have said it would. The shakings and the trials have served to bring you to Me, and to finish the final preparations for this hour. You need every one of them and all will experience My workmanship in their lives, if they will receive it. I have not limited Myself from any of My People. They can all obtain their destiny and become what My Father has created them to be. They just have to desire it more than themselves, and embrace Me.”

“What else do you see?”

I looked around and saw nothing else. The Lord waited, and so I began to look further and even stepped a few steps away to see if I could see anything else. But I saw only flames. I knew that the Lord has asked me for a reason, and that I should have been able to see something. But I didn’t and I began to feel grieved that I had missed it. I said, “Lord, I cannot see what you have for me to see, please help me to see through your eyes.”

“There is another vessel in the flames. The revelation has been hidden from the foundation of the earth. It has been kept in the heart of the Father for the last hour. The Mystery of the Father is complete and will be brought forth and many will be released from their places.”

I looked as He was speaking, and could see the flames dancing before me. The flames were alive and I could feel them all around. But they had no harm in them.

“Yes”, the Lord said, “There is no harm in Me. There is no harm in My House, but men have not obeyed Me and have taken the throne instead. When they fully surrender the Lordship back to Me, and give Me My rightful place, there will be no harm in My House, only my Truth and Love will rule.”

As I watched, I began to notice movement in the flames. The flames were always moving in the furnace, but this was different. Some of the flames began to come closer to me, and I drew closer to the Lord as they did. Soon, I began to see that they were alive. I mean, really alive, not just flames. They were people. My mind was thinking and then I understood, and said, “These are the living flames you spoke of in Hebrews.”

The Lord said, “Yes. MY People are to be living flames, just as I am the Living Flame and my Father is a Living Flame. My Father is a Consuming Fire, and you are seeing it in a visual form. The Father has hidden His workmanship in Him from the foundation of the world. He has reserved for Himself a Remnant. A Remnant of selfless ones who only live to be a reflection of Him and who have fully yielded their being to Him for a Habitation. These burn with Him, and show the Father to all who see them. These burning ones will come forth with great demonstration, for the Father burns through them."

"When you see Me, you see the Father, and when you see the Father, then the work is complete within. These will ignite the wheat around the world and carry the Father to the ends of the earth and bring in the final harvest, for it will burn around the world. The Living Flames before you are fashioned and prepared. They await the hour and stand rested in Me. They neither strive for placement or for an audience. They are Me. They will just be."

"I have been releasing the first of these as the silver vessels and the golden ones are going forth. The Living Flames will complete the process and ignite My tents and My Houses all over the earth. My people are to be Living Flames. They are to be Ministers of Fire, and will be. For I AM a Consuming Fire, and My House will be consumed with Me, and for Me, and then will be thrust forth."

"My Fire will no longer be hid. Neither will the Mystery. Both will be seen, as the Father unveils all things. This is only the first of many revelations, but it is all that you need to know for now. You have shown much of what I have given you to show My people through the words and things I have given to you, and that is right. But you must become those words even more. Just as these Living Flames have. You must further allow My Word to be formed into you and throughout you. The more you do, the more MY Fire will burn."

The Commission:

"You are a Living Flame and carry My Fire, but you must carry more. You carry a portion in relation to your current level of revelation and application of My Truths. Take more of Me into your heart and apply it. Learn more of Me and allow Me to be fully burned into you. You have given much to Me and I am pleased at your sacrifice. I am pleased at every sincere sacrifice that Mine give to Me and I receive them all. For I receive My Own. Take no thought for the amount that you have given to Me or the amount that you have not attained to, but look further into Me and strive for more of Me. For I AM eternal, and there is no end to your knowledge of Me or your growth in Me."

"Choose Me over the things of the world or of men's opinions. Your purpose is to know Me and to be one with Me. Help others to come to me and show them My Glory that you have a portion of, for as you reflect Me, they will see Me. As you die to your fears, you will stand fully in Me, and give a true reflection of Me that will not be distorted. Fear distorts faith, and that is what distorts Truth. If you walk In Me, then you will abide In Me, and be one with Me. Then you will be faithful."

"My Living Flames are being released more and more as I come. The Silver and Gold Vessels are gifts to the Body that must be embraced. If they are not embraced the Living Flames will not be able to do their work amongst My House. My People must perceive My Gifts amongst them and embrace them." "My People must bring the holy vessels back into the House and use them properly again. They will no longer be used for their own unholy purposes but for the service of Me. I am coming with My Vessels and am watching to see if they will be received or not. If they are received, then the House will be properly built."

"If they are not received, then the House will fall, and great will be the fall of it. For the houses of men will come to ruin in the Light of My Truth. My Fire will do it's work and each work will be seen for what it truly is. This I have repeatedly told you and many of My prophets. I am doing this. Everything will be burned in this season by My Workmanship. But My Handiwork will be seen through it all."

"This Furnace that you stand in is Me, and it is My Father, for we are One. But it is also what we are within you, and through you. For we are within you. The Fire will do it's work in the earth. It will do it's work in My House. It will do it’s work through you. Trust us in it all, and walk with us, just as you are now, with your hand in Mine. Never let it go, and trust Me. For we are becoming one. Allow the work to come forth, and never doubt it’s effectiveness. Do not judge our working by what you see or think. For you are flesh. We are working in realms that you cannot see, and dimensions that you have no knowledge of, but you will come to know as you walk with Me.”

“I AM the Living Word and all things are made by Me, and sustained by Me, and even more will be wrought through Me in the days ahead. I will teach you and all of Mine who walk with me. There is nothing that I withhold from those who seek Me. Trust Me within you, and move forth. I AM working My Work in the earth. You will see what you have labored for and will rejoice. Go, and be that flame that lives in Me. Allow it to increase as I have shown you, and allow Me to come forth from within, even more. Speak My Word and learn to more fully abide in Me daily. Look not to the trials any longer, but look to Me.

For I will work My Work.”

Malachi 3, 4 Isaiah 1:18-26 Zechariah 13 Daniel 12:1-10 Hebrews 1, 3 1 Co 15 Colossians 2: 2-10 Revelation 10

-Susan Cummings 8-24-05 12:23 am

http://groups.msn.com/CummingsFamilyAdventures http://topica.com/Lists/JustHisWords

The Voice of Authority
Priscilla Van Sutphin

March 29th, 2005
tearsofthefather@comcast.net

www.upstreamca.org
Ps 29:1-11 NKJV Praise to God in His Holiness and Majesty

A Psalm of David.

1 Give unto the LORD, O you mighty ones, Give unto the LORD glory and strength. 2 Give unto the LORD the glory due to His name; Worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness. 3 The voice of the LORD is over the waters;

The God of glory thunders; The LORD is over many waters. 4 The voice of the LORD is powerful cedars of Lebanon. 6 He makes them also skip like a calf, Lebanon and Sirion like a young wild ox. 7 The voice of the LORD divides the flames of fire. 8 The voice of the LORD shakes the wilderness; The LORD shakes the Wilderness of Kadesh. 9 The voice of the LORD makes the deer give birth, and strips the forests bare; and in His temple everyone says, "Glory!" 10 The LORD sat enthroned at the Flood, and the LORD sits as King forever. 11 The LORD will give strength to His people; The LORD will bless His people with peace.

"I am the God of GLORY and I am imparting to My chosen beloveds a greater measure of authority. I will not do this before I cleanse them of all the pride and pain. I will pour out a mighty measure of My love and joy, My peace and power as I break the chains of oppression. Then your words will BECOME LIFE in a more awesome way. If you were to receive this now without cleansing, then you would use that power in an evil way out of immaturity and selfishness. People can die when you curse them without being made whole.

When I do this mighty thing, there will be a separation that occurs. It will be like the separation that occurs in making butter. The fat floats to the top surface and can be skimmed off. It separates. The fat is actually lighter, but in your lives, the pride and pain make you heavier. They cause depression, sickness, and all kinds of oppression. But as I skim off the fat, and exorcize demons from your life, and fill you with My GLORY, all that is evil will be released and YOU will even feel lighter. Your JOY will be inexpressible in proportion to what I have done.

Know that I show no partiality. Do not judge your brother and sister. My plan is to renew everyone that will bow to Me. My plan is much bigger than you can conceive of. Anyone who has ever made a commitment to ME will be challenged and give a choice to receive or not. Your discernment and all that I've given to you will INCREASE. LOVE will be poured in where there has been fear and bondage. I will make a pure and holy bride! Come to My heart now, and lay down your life and ask of ME, and you will see great change. I am here for you always! There is nothing I won't do to help you change into My likeness, if that is your goal. I am a GOOD FATHER Who gives good gifts to My children. Just as you are proud of your children, I am proud of you. Just as you delight in seeing your sons and daughters, I delight in you, and I delight just being there in you. I don't get tired of you nor do I get impatient when you don't respond as I wish. I am hurt, as you would be hurt. But I am forgiving and ever loving to you. Nothing can drive you away from My heart save renouncing My Son.

Come before My throne of GRACE and ask for help, expecting to receive! If you don't expect, then you will not receive. Some of you have had such broken expectations that unbelief has filled your hearts and souls, and you no longer ask much. You pray less, worship less, trust less. But I REMAIN THE SAME.

I AM FAITHFUL. And I still love you and want for you the BEST. I Am your Resource of all you need. You have but to spend time with Me, in My presence, and I will make your heart new. I will share My heart with you in ways you never thought. So cast aside all the lies of the enemy and of men who have taught you wrongly about My love. MY LOVE NEVER FAILS. My Son's BLOOD PAID FOR THE PUNISHMENT YOU THINK YOU DESERVE. HE paid the COST so that you can fellowship with ME, and just be yourself in My presence without intimidation.

I tell you now that the voice of authority I will put in you will make men tremble for their lives. When you command healing it will HAPPEN right then.

Creative power and creative miracles will humble the most ardent haters of Me. This power comes through MY COMPASSION AND LOVE and walking in that love is a part of FAITH. You cannot have true faith without LOVE.

Love is not MATURE instantly. It matures through your walk with ME. But what I do now will alter how many have thought and taught. If any man be in CHRIST, he is a new creation I've said. THAT will be true in the days after I do this. Instantly people will be saved, healed, delivered! Even before they Get saved, they will get delivered and healed! This will MAKE THEM WANT to get SAVED. Everything you have been afraid to do, you will now be able to do because you will UNDERSTAND how much I love you. The person who is confident in MY LOVE is a major threat to the enemy. That is why the enemy tries to steal and pervert the gospel of GRACE.

My grace is not to be trampled and taken advantage of. But it is much greater than most of the church thinks. Too many are still STRIVING and not free and not walking in that GRACE that keeps you from the strategies of the enemy. If you don't walk in GRACE, then you are under a curse. The curse of the law, and open to all the devouring lion wants to do. Condemnation is a religious spirit issue. GRACE means forgiveness and open communication with ME; intimacy with ME always. CONDEMNATION means you are listening to the intimidation of the enemy. If you are walking in the Spirit…in FELLOWSHIP with the SPIRIT OF GRACE, then there is no condemnation.

I know your make up. I know your thoughts and intents of your hearts. I AM the ALMIGHTY ONE. I am not surprised by your weaknesses. I know the roots. I AM ever ready to forgive you if your heart is wanting to change. It is when you fail to want to change, fail to care about ME that you are treading on dangerous ground. Sometimes someone is so demonized, they cannot change without getting delivered. Sometimes the pain is so bad, and has been there for so long, that it has taken years to get free. THOSE days will soon be over. WHAT HAS BEEN STOLEN FROM MY CHURCH WILL NOW BE RESTORED. THE DAYS OF THE LOCUSTS ARE OVER! I WILL HEAL AND EMPOWER MY TRUE CHURCH, AND THERE WILL BE FREEDOM TO THE CAPTIVES. I am releasing a tide of TRUTH, and LOVE that will heal her and cleanse her from all unrighteousness. EXPECT CHANGE. EXPECT CHANGE of CHARACTER. EXPECT SUDDENLIES. EXPECT and you will RECEIVE. REJOICE DAUGHTER OF ZION FOR YOUR KING COMES TO YOU NOW and all things will become NEW… I AM DOING A NEW THING.

EXPECT THE SINNER TO BE CONVICTED. EXPECT THE LAME TO BE HEALED. EXPECT THE WINDOWS OF HEAVEN TO OPEN. TIME IS SHORT, AND THERE IS MUCH HARVESTING TO BE DONE! I LOVE YOU AND ADORE YOU, MY PRECIOUS JEWELS! MY HEART IS FASCINATED BY THE LOVE YOU SHOW TO ME. EVERY TIME YOUR HEART TURNS TOWARD ME I AM SO EXCITED TO HEAR FROM YOU! I LOOK FORWARD TO YOUR TALKING TO ME, JUST AS A LOVER WOULD. Do you remember the excitement of FIRST LOVE? This is what I am wanting to RESTORE in you.

ASK and you shall receive!"

Zech 6:14 NKJV Even those from afar shall come and build the temple of the LORD. Then you shall know that the LORD of hosts has sent Me to you. And this shall come to pass if you diligently obey the voice of the LORD your God."

Isa 30:31-32 NKJV For through the voice of the LORD Assyria will be beaten down, As He strikes with the rod. 32 And in every place where the staff of punishment passes, which the LORD lays on him, It will be with tambourines and harps; And in battles of brandishing He will fight with it.

Catcher in the Rye
Priscilla Van Sutphin

April 3rd, 2005

Below this word is a synopsis of the book by Salinger which used to be required reading in school. The Lord spoke these words to me, then said…

" Insanity is on the rise due to the godlessness of society, and the idolatrous practices, and witchcraft in the land. All around you are people who have been so much flotsam and jetsam on the sea of peoples. In this nation that brags about it's power and wealth, they are put out on the streets and uncared for and abandoned by society. They are largely ignored until like the book review says, they impinge on your living styles. This is largely also because people don't know what to do with them. Well I KNOW what to do with them. I know how to heal them and treat them.

The church has been filled with unbelief and doubt and skepticism in great measure, but I am about to make those spirits bow their knees to ME. There will be an outpouring of MY love and power that will transform such weak and tormented individuals into new creatures. ALL things will become new. You will SHOUT for JOY when you see this before your very eyes. THIS is what I am preparing you for! THIS is why you have suffered loss, and rejection and humiliation! THIS is why you will be hated for My sake if you aren't already. People will want the healing who are humble and desperate. But even those who don't will be changed in an instant. GLORY is coming and it will touch you and transform you, that you may then go out and share the wealth of MY KINGDOM with all those who need ME.

But I tell you the truth, THEY WILL COME TO YOU. My GLORY will be SEEN upon you! Kings will come to the brightness of your shining! Do not doubt! INSTEAD, RISE UP and PROCLAIM what I WILL DO through you!
I have said the latter rain will be greater. I have said, that I have saved the best wine for last. BELIEVE ME WHEN I SAY THESE THINGS and do not doubt in your heart for a moment. MY TIMING is impeccable. You think you know how I will do things, and you speculate. But NOTHING can prepare you
For what I am about to do…except that you humble yourselves before ME, and worship and study the WORD. Come to ME and let me hold you and impart to you ALL THAT I AM.

The times are short. You don't need a college degree or certificate to preach the gospel of the KINGDOM! You need to walk with ME, and talk with ME, and learn of ME, for I am gentle and lowly of heart. Believe ME, when I say that when I am done with your training, men will KNOW that you have been with ME. When I put My finishing touches on My BRIDE, she will dazzle all around her!

Then she will go out and bring in the FISH, and CATCH the ones who are on the highways and byways, and clean them up, and love on them, and disciple them in My ways. If I AM LIFTED UP, I WILL DRAW ALL MEN TO MYSELF! LET ME be the planner. Let ME be the One to lead. LET ME show you My grand design and how you fit into it! I am close at hand!

BE READY to bend to MY WILL. Forsake all the things of this world, for this world is fading away. A new heaven and a new earth is coming! All is at hand!

I love the forsaken! I love the weak and schizophrenic! I love the manic depressives! I love the tormented and broken ones! I do not disregard them! I will demonstrate MY POWER and you will see your hearts desire fulfilled! REST NOW, for soon all will be made evident! Rest in My arms while you can! With ME, ALL THINGS ARE POSSIBLE!”

Abba

Superficially the story of a young man's expulsion from yet another school, The Catcher in the Rye is in fact a perceptive study of one individual's understanding of his human condition. Holden Caulfield, a teenager growing up in 1950s New York, has been expelled school for poor achievement once again. In an attempt to deal with this he leaves school a few days prior to the end of term, and goes to New York to 'take a vacation' before returning to his parents' inevitable wrath. Told as a monologue, the book describes Holden's thoughts and activities over these few days, during which he describes a developing nervous breakdown, symptomised by his bouts of unexplained depression, impulsive spending and generally odd, erratic behavior, prior to his eventual nervous collapse.

However, during his psychological battle, life continues on around Holden as it always had, with the majority of people ignoring the 'madman stuff' that is happening to him - until it begins to encroach on their well defined social codes. Progressively through the novel we are challenged to think about society's attitude to the human condition - does society have an 'ostrich in the sand' mentality, a deliberate ignorance of the emptiness that can characterize human existence? And if so, when Caulfield begins to probe and investigate his own sense of emptiness and isolation, before finally declaring that the world is full of 'phonies' with each one out for their own phony gain, is Holden actually the one who is going insane, or is it society which has lost it's mind for failing to see the hopelessness of their own lives?

When we are honest we can see within ourselves suppressed elements of the forces operating within Holden Caulfield, and because of that I would recommend this thought provoking novel as a fascinating and enlightening description of our human condition. However, beware... for that very reason it is not comfortable reading.
http://www.tmtm.com/sides/catcher.html

The Vision Of The Bells

Vincent Xavier

12-19-05

The voice of the Spirit cries unto the children of men declaring the day of Jubilee. I see the Church Bells ringing throughout the earth. I see a people dressed in the righteousness of Jesus Christ ringing their bells of liberty! This is what the Sovereign Lord Say's to all; this is my Day and I will share it with my own! Those who have been faithful unto me shall reap the rewards of righteousness in this hour. For the time has come for the sounding of the bells within the realm of my Spirit. The sounds of the bells are the rejoicing of the saints, and this sound shall be to the world systems and the powers of darkness a sound of war and alarm. The joyful sound that rings from around the world shall be a sign to the nations (every tribe, tongue and culture) that HOPE has come!

Yes the joyful praise and worship that resounds like a vibration throughout the earth from Germany, to the Americas and into Europe and Asia and will reach to the Islands and the Mainland's of every continent, shall be a sign of freedom and a finished work within my people say's the Lord, but for the world systems it shall sound as a DEVASTATION AND DESTRUCTION. The powers of darkness shall be shaken by the sound of rejoicing and joy that is coming through an overcoming remnant in the earth. Yes the heavens shall shake and the earth shall quake as the jubilant, militant and triumphant church begins to sound. Is this not the Third Day? Is this not the Seventh Day? Have I not revealed this mystery to my own? I said IT IS FINISHED two thousand years ago and now the execution, manifestation and completion of that word has come.

This is the Seventh Day and I am resting once again say's the Lord and I will no longer strive with the nature of a fallen beast but will reveal my glory within a people who have picked up their crosses and followed me. I will allow their witness to be my testimony in the earth. I will reveal my true identity through a crucified people who have cast off the works of darkness and put Christ on. I will reveal my true nature within a people who have put off the old man who was corrupt and steeped in darkness and have put on the divine nature which has enabled them to escape the corruption that is in the world through lust. Yes I have reserved unto me a remnant that has not bowed the knee to the image of Satan and through this remnant I am sounding my jubilee trumpet as they gather together and offer up to me praise and worship from within their inner most beings. Truly I say to you that their voices shall become one as they continue to reverberate the joyful sound in the midst of anxiety, fear, disillusionment and darkness. Their sound shall turn into light and that Light shall pierce the darkness and cause those who are trapped in darkness to come out into the Liberty of my NEW DAY!

I will slay the beast with the breath of my mouth say's the Lord and I will consume his kingdom in a moment. My saints shall take away the dominions of fear and torment as their love shall permeate the atmosphere. I will cause the strong delusion that descended upon the mind of Adam to be removed in a moment that the truth may be seen and this truth shall cause the bowing of every knee and the confession of every tongue to proclaim that JESUS IS LORD! The earth will receive the glory of the Lord and the streets of the nations shall be filled with the knowledge of my glory. Yes the bells are ringing in the Spirit and they shall begin to ring once again in the earth. I saw empty church buildings from millenniums ago once again filled with the people of the most High God. I saw the bells at the top of towers ringing throughout the earth. I saw the ringing bells signaling to one another across the world and the whole earth was ringing because of the sound of the bells.

> And [beneath] upon the hem of it thou shalt make pomegranates [of] blue, and [of] purple, and [of] scarlet, round about the hem thereof; and bells of gold between them round about: A golden bell and a pomegranate, a golden bell and a pomegranate, upon the hem of the robe round about. (Exodus 28:3,4)
>
> And they made bells [of] pure gold, and put the bells between the pomegranates upon the hem of the robe, round about between the pomegranates; (Exodus 39:25)
>
> In that day shall there be upon the bells of the horses, HOLINESS UNTO THE LORD; and the pots in the LORD'S house shall be like the bowls before the altar. (Zechariah 14:20)

Golden Bells of Holiness ringing throughout the earth! Yes, through GOLDEN VESSELS shall the Holiness of the Lord be seen and heard! You are the Golden Bells in the earth and the Spirit of the Lord would say to you this day; “LET YOUR BELLS RING!” The sound of the bells is a joyful sound, a triumphant sound and a most glorious sound of PRAISE UNTO THE LORD! PRAISE HIM! PRAISE HIM! PRAISE HIM!

The Vision Will Not Prove False

Sue Love

sjlove@infoave.net

Prior to September of 2004 I had never had visions of future events. The gift of prophecy within me had been pretty much confined to just preaching the word of God as led by the Holy Spirit in a way that was practical and applicable to people's lives and in a way that would confront them with a Holy God who wanted them to live holy lives. I was God's messenger, but I did not predict the future.

I had not been studying End Times at this time and I was not aware of any other prophecies about End Times other than what I had read in God's word. I did not get on prophecy websites. I was just going through my daily walk with the Lord, asking him to show me his ways so that I could walk in his truth.

September of 2004 was a turning point for me. It was the beginning of prophetic visions and dreams of Last Days' events and God leading me to share those visions and dreams with others as a warning to them of what is coming and that it is coming soon - a mighty judgment of God coming upon this earth that will usher in the time of tribulation.

September 2004, God said: Listen to me, hear what I am saying, and then obey me. Tell the people what I tell you to tell them and leave the results in my hands. Walk with me and obey my commands. What you are going to do, do it NOW. You were appointed by me as a herald and a teacher of true faith. I have given you a clear sense of my purpose for you and a sense of urgency for getting it done. Fan into flame the gift(s) of the Holy Spirit that are within you. Give your ministry over to me – it is not yours, it is mine. I have something else for you to do that you have not even thought of. Write down what I show you and then wait on me to bring it about. Don't ask me "why?" Just trust me – stand firm and press on. Whatever you are going through is much bigger than you can possibly imagine. NOW is your time! For such a time as this you were placed upon the earth. Be a tree climber and get a closer look at the Supremacy of Jesus Christ. The Church is in crisis – the crisis of Supremacy. It is indistinguishable between the lives of evangelical Christians and the world. The Church needs to get back to the basics. The Church needs to put their focus on Jesus and the cross of Christ instead of on the teachings of man.

October 2004, God said: Write the vision and make it plain. Though it tarry, at the end it shall speak, and not lie. I am not misleading you and will not let you be misled about it. There is much in the vision I will make plain in my own way and my own time. I will enable you to write it down. Do not become discouraged and feel that I have forgotten my promise to you or that I have failed to fulfill the vision, for if the vision tarries, wait for it, for it will surely come. Preach good news to the poor, bind up the brokenhearted, preach freedom to the captives. Proclaim the year of the Lord's favor and the day of vengeance of our God. "Then the Lord said to me, 'Write my answer in large, clear letters on a tablet, so that a runner can read it and tell everyone else. But these things won't happen right away. Slowly, steadily, surely the time approaches when the vision will be fulfilled. It is seems slow, wait patiently, for it will surely take place. It will not be delayed'" (Habakkuk 2:2-3 NLT). (He said this to me four times.)

November 2004, God said: "Be careful to follow every command I am giving you today, so that you may live and increase and may enter and possess the land the LORD promised on oath to your forefathers… 'Go,' the LORD said to me, 'and lead the people on their way, so that they may enter and possess the land that I swore to their fathers to give them'… 'You must not worship the LORD your God in their way. But you are to seek the place the LORD your God will choose from among all your tribes to put his Name there for his dwelling. To that place you must go…'" (Deut. 8:1-12:5 NIV).

40 VISIONS IN 14 DAYS – November 15-29, 2004 (summary): God led us to prayer walk around a set of buildings in downtown Rock Hill, SC from November 15-21. On the seventh day we prayer walked around the buildings seven times. Then, we blew our imaginary trumpets and shouted and trusted God to bring down the walls. We thought this was about God supplying our little church with a building, but in the week that followed, God showed me that marching around our "Jericho" was much bigger than just our little church getting in a building. What he began to show me was that his coming is near and that the way we are to conquer our Canaan is by telling people that they need to repent and believe the Good News, because the Kingdom of God is near and Jesus is coming soon. He also said that we can conquer our Jericho by being Jesus to the world around us in feeding the poor, providing for the needy, ministering to the hurting, etc.

Then, the Lord gave me a vision of his judgment that is coming on the earth. It was in the form of earthquakes, flooding, tornadoes, tsunamis, and perhaps some nuclear attacks on our land. He showed me land near a water system. I saw an explosion, fire falling from heaven, the earth opening up and swallowing people and buildings, people being swept away by rushing waters to their deaths, people being buried alive, people crushed by rocks and being stabbed by sharp objects and having wood beams through their heads and I saw men hanging from trees and cars and animals, as well. The Lord gave me a sense that when this happens that it will open the way for us to go in and possess the land he has promised us as a city of refuge for the survivors (the remnant) of this great disaster that is coming upon our land. God gave me a time table the night of November 26th. He said "two years." He repeated this to me many times over the next few weeks and has confirmed it several times over the past several months. Two years would be 2006.

God gave me a picture of a massive revival and a bountiful harvest of souls. He said his church would grow tremendously during this time once he had removed the competition – churches that are teaching a social gospel and are teaching a watered-down version of the gospel to make it more palatable so that people will respond. Now the only gospel that will be taught is the gospel of repentance. God has called me to be a watchman to warn people of this coming disaster and to call them to repentance.

14 DREAMS IN 40 DAYS – December 20, 2004 – January 29, 2005 (summary): The first dream I had was about animals being killed and there was lots of blood. The second dream had to do with me being falsely accused about something. The third dream was about how we had once tried to plant a church, but we gave up, and the message was loud and clear – God's voice came to me and said, "Don't give up!!" The next dream had to do with a man who was going to write a check for our ministry and he just said, "how much, half a million?" I awoke with the feeling that God was saying that he was the man with the blank check and he just wanted me to ask him for what we need. I also awoke with the words to a song going through my head: "Behold he comes, riding on the clouds, shining like the sun at the trumpet call. So lift your voice, it's the year of Jubilee, and out of Zion's hill salvation comes" (Days of Elijah, Robin Mark).

The next two dreams had to do with the struggle against the evil one. The first one ended with the Days of Elijah song and the second one ended with the song, "I will not be shaken." Then, I had a dream about people sleeping in a school and being oppressed and me going to their leader and saying "let my people go." Another dream had two groups of foreign people sleeping on bunk beds and then the bunk beds (and groups of people) were separated and placed in different rooms. The dream that followed that one had to do with two documents, one that was easy to read and another that had stuff written over it so that it was not understood. Another dream was about my brother buying a car with black seats, he did not like the black, so he traded it in for white seats. I did not like the idea of too much white, so I asked for blue seats. There was a really long train attached to the car, like a trailer of some sort. The next dream had to do with God fulfilling all of his promises and that people saw that he was doing just what he said he would do.

The next dream had me warning people of God's coming judgments on Easter weekend. Then a day came when the clouds grew dark, lightning came out of the sky, the clouds looked like they had blood in them and they were rolling and expanding and I knew this was God's judgment. I looked up to the sky and I saw earthly crowns swirling around in the sky as if in a tornado, and I could read the name on one of them, which is the name of one of our local churches. Then, God spoke out of heaven and said: "These are the ones who did not honor me on the earth and that is why I am bringing down this judgment." There is more to the dream, but when I awoke I was singing: "I've got a crown up ina that kingdom, ain'ta that Good News. I'ma gonna lay down this world, gonna shoulder upa my cross. Gonna take it homea to my Jesus, ain'ta that Good News!"

THE LAST TWO DREAMS (In the 40 days):

Friday, January 28, 2005: I was dreaming and it was like God was talking to various people and was giving them their assignments, and then he turned to me and said, "Old woman," just as plain as could be. I thought of Samuel in the Bible when he kept hearing a voice call "Samuel." At first he thought it was Eli, but he soon realized it was God speaking. So, I said with Samuel, "Speak, LORD, for your servant is listening."

Saturday, January 29, 2005: I've been dreaming lots of dreams about End Times and last night was no exception. I always wake up with a song in my head. This morning these words were going through my head: "Thy kingdom come, thy will be done here on the earth as it is in heaven."

6-5-05: "The LORD Almighty has sworn, 'Surely, as I have planned, so it will be, and as I have purposed, so it will stand'" (Isaiah 14:24 NIV).

6-6-05: "This is what the Lord says to me: 'Within one year, as a servant bound by contract would count it, all the pomp of Kedar will come to an end. The survivors of the bowmen, the warriors of Kedar, will be few.' The LORD, the God of Israel, has spoken" (Isaiah 21:16-17 NIV).

The Way To Life

Don Walker

> "He who has found his life will lose it, and he who has lost his life for My sake will find it." (Matt. 10:39)

Selfishness is the epidemic disease of our day. Unbeknownst, to those suffering from this disease, it is destructive. We are systematically taught from our earliest days to "look out for number one," to "pamper ourselves," and to "encourage self-actualization, self-awareness, and self-esteem." We have made a supreme vice into a supreme virtue. As a result we have become self-absorbed, self-concerned, and self-consumed. We have also become supremely unhappy and unfulfilled. As psychologist Paul Kellerman has pointed out, this is precisely because "The only path to genuine happiness and fulfillment is through service to others. It is only as we give ourselves away that we can truly discover ourselves."

Whereas, in times past the motivating concept that shaped our society was "faith in God," it is now "faith in self." The modern cult of self beckons us to "find ourselves" by turning inward. It entices to "satisfy ourselves" by "being true to ourselves." Modern man wrongly assumes that all his personal ills are a result of his failure to "love himself," actually nothing could be further from the truth. He has been brainwashed to believe that the root of all bliss is "self –esteem." But one of the most basic principles of sociology is that satisfaction, purposefulness, contentment, and success are all directly connected to selfless service. In other words, authority ultimately resolves itself upon the servant not upon the tyrant. This basic concept of social development is understood all too well by the administrators of many of our contemporary social service institutions. They recognize that whatever agency serves the needs of the people will ultimately gain the allegiance of the people. So, they serve. And, as a result of the entitlements they bestow upon others, they gain more and more authority. As my dear friend Dennis Peacocke is fond of saying, "He who serves leads." Unfortunately, many believers have seemingly missed this truth.

Notice what Jesus taught His disciples, "And He said to them, 'The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them, and those who exercise authority over them are called benefactors. But not so among you, let him be as the younger, and he who governs as he who serves. For who is greater, he who sits at the table, or he who serves? Is it not he who sits at the table? Yet I am among you as the One who serves. But you are those who have continued with Me in My trials. And I bestow upon you a kingdom, just as My Father bestowed one upon Me, that you may eat and drink at My table in My kingdom, and sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel'" (Luke 22:25-30).

The cult of self is contradicted by the whole of history. The great lessons of history are invariably told through the lives and work of men and women who put the interests of others before their own, who put the safety of others before their own, and who put the happiness of others before their own. Compare the life stories of men like William Wallace, George Washington, Patrick Henry, Booker T. Washington, Teddy Roosevelt, and Winston Churchill with our modern day obsession with self. The contrast is immediate and enormous. The heroes of the past were always those who resisted the temptation of selfishness. They fought for justice, they cared for the needy, they worked for mercy, they fed the hungry, and they rescued the perishing. Their greatest accomplishments were always the result of their comprehension that servanthood was ultimately the key to significance and success.

There is an axiomatic principle of life that reveals if a person or thing does not abandon its independence and right to exist as a "free agent," it will never fulfill the purpose for which it was created. Marriage is an example of this truth. It was the intent and the design of the Creator that in marriage two individuals become a single unit. "These two shall become one flesh" (Gen. 2:24). This does not mean that the woman loses her identity, and becomes a mere "shadow" of the man. But it does mean that both are required to lose their independence in order to attain the fulfillment and joy that God purposed in marriage. Each individual must be willing to abandon "self" for the sake of the marriage.

Our society is seeing the purpose and joy drain out of marriage because individuals have become more and more preoccupied with self-fulfillment. As long as marriage partners put their self-fulfillment as the focus of their relationship, they remain separate individuals and the "life" of the marriage is lost.

This principle is evident in the biology as well. For instance, a living cell in an organism, such as the human body, is not designed to function in and for itself. Each cell was created to function in service to the other cells in the organism. On occasion a cell will step out of its proper place and begin to act independently. When this occurs the cell has become cancerous and must be destroyed in order that the life of the body might be spared.

The world of physics provides us with another example. The three subatomic particles – protons, neutrons, and electrons – are useless existing independently. They can, however, lose their independence and become bound with other particles to form the elements that make up our universe. Together with other atoms, they form an almost infinite number of compounds that bear no resemblance to the identity of the original elements.

Plato, over three hundred years before Christ, understood this principle and its relationship to the social order. In reference to a society that had demanded the independence of the individual to the detriment of the whole, he wrote, "They fret at the least hint of servitude, and won't have it; for at last, you know, they care nothing for the laws written or unwritten, that no one may be their master in anything. This then is the beginning from which tyranny grows." [Great Dialogues of Plato, New York: The New American Library, 1956. pg. 362.] When a people are consumed with independence and self-fulfillment they are on the road to the loss of liberty.

In the economy of God one will only find frustration and emptiness seeking to serve and satisfy one's self. On the other hand, true fulfillment and joy are ours if abandon the quest of self-fulfillment, and lose our life in God's Kingdom. Jesus stated it this way: "For whoever wishes to save his life shall lose it; but whoever loses his life for My sake shall find it" (Matt. 16:25). This principle of life could not be more simply stated.

drwalker@kcnet.com

The Walls Are Coming Down!

Brenda Dowdin

Oct 4, 2005
Beloved:

You have felt the walls and they have seemed like a fortress of impenetrable walls! Oh, but I would say to you this day. I am the God of breaking through! I am the God of action! I am the God who brings the flood and pulls every strong hold down.

In this last season you and I have dealt with your inward walls. We have whittled away those walls in your heart. Oh how you please me, you have been willing, and we have successfully dealt with these old waste places! But, now the walls that are standing outside, the walls that try and hem you in are being dealt with. Just as the children of Is-ra-el' marched around the walls of Jericho and shouted and blew their shofars and in a single "prophetic act", I brought the walls down for them.

As you continue in your obedience to me, as you continue in your consecration to me, I will do this for you as well. You will be given favor to go in and possess, it will given unto you what ever you ask in my name! Go in Beloved and possess that which I've promised you. It is truly a new season and the walls are coming down!

Don't under estimate the power of my instructions of a "prophetic act"! Yes, the enemy will always tell you, you are foolish and stupid! It takes faith to walk out prophetic acts, let your faith arise and your enemies will be scattered!

Speaking about Abraham:

Romans 4:13 "For the promise that he would be the heir of the world was not to Abraham or to his seed through the law, but through the righteousness of faith!" Abraham believed what God told him, his acts (walking out prophetic acts) of faith were to the Father, "righteousness!" As we walk out that which the Father asks each one of us "in faith", it is righteousness unto our God! Let us forge ahead, not looking behind, but pressing forward toward the mark, to the high calling of Christ Jesus our Lord and Savior!

Be blessed as you walk it out in faith this very day dear ones!

Much love!

Brenda Dowdin
firebrand007@hotmail.com

Change
Brenda Dowdin

Oct 7, 2005 Beloved:

Change, Change, Change! Acceleration, Acceleration, Acceleration! Get organized, get in line, get things in order. Get all paper work in order! I am about to move, as I do things will change fast. If you are not in devine order with me it will cause you undo anxiety! Line up. Get things in order. I am about to move...

Suddenly will happen over night. What seemed to be an eternal circumstance will instantly change! You serve a God of action and Suddenly! Suddenly I will show up in unprecedented ways! Expect it my Beloveds....

As I woke this morning I sensed a very strong drawing of the Holy Spirit. I saw a wind coming down through a portal in the city where I live. I saw this wind going over the valley. It was lighting (resting) where it was invited by the leaders of Churches and Para/Churches. I also seen the wind blowing over individual homes. He is looking to see where he is invited in. There's been a shift, we need to be expectant, He's about to show up in unprecedented ways!

Acts 2:2 "And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled the whole house where they were sitting....." Come on Lord, come on down!!!

Lovingly in Him, Brenda Dowdin firebrand007@hotmail.com

The Wedge And Many X’s

Mike Tucker

The Wedge

01-14-05 As I was praying to the Lord about the state of this nation a vision came to me: I saw a mass of people. A great wedge was thrust up in the middle of them and divided them in two groups. Very many separated to the left, many separated to the right. As the wedge grew higher, I noticed some people were still clinging to the apex (the middle high point of the wedge). As the wedge grew higher those that clung to the middle could no longer hold on. Almost all that clung to the middle fell to the left. Only a couple fell to the right. The very last one fell to the right. Then the vision ended. At the end of the vision the Lord said, “I am driving the wedge”.

The left and the right in this vision is not a political position. It is a separating of His people from the world domain. The longer people cling to the middle, the more likely they will find themselves on the wrong side of God’s wedge. Those that separate to the left will perish.

Many X’s

01-18-05 As I was praying and fasting before the Lord to receive more revelation concerning a dream where ‘X’ marked the spot of danger (see below) a vision came to me:

I saw a simple contour map of the USA. There were scores of X’s marked on the map. Most were placed on the East and West coastline. Some X’s were overlapping in populated areas. Virtually none were in the heartland. Since I live in Texas I took great care to examine what areas had X’s. I saw Amarillo, Dallas/Fort Worth, Austin, San Antonio and Houston areas were marked.

X marks the spot (reposted)

01-09-05 This dream is one scene from a larger dream concerning cataclysmic events in the US: I dreamed I took a bite of meat and then saw the word ‘DangerX’. Then it morphed into the word ‘PoisenX’ and then it morphed again into the word ‘RadiationX’. I heard the words ‘X marks the spot’ but no location of ‘X’ was shown at that moment.

These X’s mark a variety of dangers that will befall different cities. The timing is in the hand of the Lord. His mercy and love is what stays these events as He allows precious time for the Body to wake up. That is, there is a time coming soon when those that sleep will perish and those that wake up shall live.

Trials Will Come And A King Will Emerge
Stephen Hanson

Jan. 22, 2005

[6] In this you greatly rejoice, though now for a little while you may have had to suffer grief in all kinds of trials. [7] These have come so that your faith--of greater worth than gold, which perishes even though refined by fire--may be proved genuine and may result in praise, glory and honor when Jesus Christ is revealed. [8] Though you have not seen him, you love him; and even though you do not see him now, you believe in him and are filled with an inexpressible and glorious joy, [9] for you are receiving the goal of your faith, the salvation of your souls. I Peter 1:6

DA 11:36 "The king will do as he pleases. He will exalt and magnify himself above every god and will say unheard-of things against the God of gods. He will be successful until the time of wrath is completed, for what has been determined must take place. [37] He will show no regard for the gods of his fathers or for the one desired by women, nor will he regard any god, but will exalt himself above them all. [38] Instead of them, he will honor a god of fortresses; a god unknown to his fathers he will honor with gold and silver, with precious stones and costly gifts. [39] He will attack the mightiest fortresses with the help of a foreign god and will greatly honor those who acknowledge him. He will make them rulers over many people and will distribute the land at a price.

“These are the days that are hastening forward to my soon return. You will be tested in ways that you know not. Many of you have gone through testings and trials, but there are still testings to be done. “

“I tell you, the time is coming when the United States will be besieged. Your boundaries will be crossed over. Your military will not stop this. But to those who wonder, “Will you be safe?” I tell you, I will protect my own. These days will be ushered in. My prophetic time table is hastening forward. “

(The Lord showed me a scene of a table. It was dark all around but then this table was pushed aside and another one emerged. On top of this table was a cloth that seemed to hide some of the objects that were on this table. One of these objects was a sword. It had many jewels and designs on it. Next to this was a crown. However, this crown was not the one that the Lord would wear, but it was another one that was for another “supposed king.”)

“I tell you, a king will arise out of the east. He will have no regard for the faith of his fathers. Many think that they already know who he is. I tell you that he has not been revealed yet. Those who lift up the sword will die by the sword. But my kingdom will be an everlasting one. “

Stephen Hanson
HCR 79 Box 3081
Cuba, NM 87013
http://www.angelfire.com/in/HisTruth
tseyigai@yahoo.com

The Work God Blesses

Chip Brogden

http://www.watchman.net/articles/work.html

"God blessed Noah and his sons..." (Genesis 9:1a).

The work that God blesses is bigger than us. The ark was not Noah's private little retreat. It was not his personal little ministry, his private little vision. Of course, Noah and his family were beneficiaries of the work, but the purpose of the ark was to preserve all living things. Otherwise, Noah would have built a much smaller vessel.

The work that God blesses is not merely for our own personal benefit, but for the benefit of the Body of Christ, for the Kingdom of God. Our vision must carry us beyond ourselves; our vision must survive us. The only vision that is bigger than ourselves is Christ. If our vision is Christ then we are building upon an eternal foundation, and the Lord will bless that labor. Noah carried the Messiah in his loins - the ark was meant to preserve not just physical life, but a spiritual lineage. Thus, it was bigger than Noah, and the Lord blessed the work.

The Work God Blesses

Chip Brogden

www.watchman.net

"And God blessed Noah and his sons, and said to them, 'Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth'" (Genesis 9:1).

Every man and woman has a work assigned to them by God. This becomes their purpose, their reason for being on the earth, their calling, their destiny. Abraham had an assignment for his life, as did Joseph. Moses was called to perform a specific life-task. David had a destiny. So did Daniel, Jeremiah, and all the prophets. Esther was raised up "for such a time as this." John the Baptist fulfilled a definite role, as did Peter and John. Paul had a purpose, a reason for being.

Only a few of these people realized what their work was. Most of them were like you and me: we only come into an awareness of our purpose slowly. Everything seems ordinary and mundane; we feel like there is nothing special about us, no calling we could possibly fulfill. Moses is a striking example. The first forty years of his life were spent learning how to be a prince of Egypt. The next forty years of his life were spent in the desert, unlearning everything he had been taught. It seemed like a huge waste of a life. When God sent him back to Egypt at the age of eighty, Moses still did not understand or appreciate the full extent of what God was calling him to do. Neither did the Hebrews. But now we understand that God had a purpose for him all along.

Or look at Joseph. At an early age he senses God's call on his life for something special. But things do not go the way he expects them to go (things seldom do). His brothers first seek to kill him, but then settle for selling him to the slave-traders. His situation improves for awhile, but then he is framed for something he did not do and gets thrown into the dungeon. As the years slipped away Joseph must have believed he'd made a mistake when he thought he heard from God. But when we see the final result everything makes perfect sense. God used those experiences to shape and mold his character, and to prepare him for the work he was called to do.

And consider Noah. In Genesis 9:1 we see that God blessed Noah and his sons. The blessing of the Lord means divine favor and approval. How do you feel when someone ELSE gets blessed? Are you happy for them? Envious? Frustrated? All we see is the end result - but we do not see all the labor, the sweat, the tears, the pain, the struggle, the misunderstanding, the confusion, the dark nights, all the things that person has endured in order to have the blessing of the Lord. I am not saying the blessing is something we can earn through self-effort; but the blessing of the Lord is the benefit of fulfilling the work He has called us to do.

In this writing we will look at the life of Noah, learn the universal principles behind the work that God blesses, and apply those principles to our lives as well. They are not complicated principles, but very, very simple. I pray they will encourage and strengthen all of us to persevere in whatever situation the Lord has placed us.

A Heritage Of Walking With God

The story of Noah begins over four hundred years before he was born. The Scriptures tell us that Noah's great-great grandfather was Enoch. We know Enoch was a man who walked with God and suddenly disappeared, for God took him. Exactly what that means we can only speculate, but this much is clear: Enoch had a close relationship with the Lord.

Enoch was also a prophet. Jude 14, in the New Testament, records one of his prophecies of a future judgment. But a little closer to his own time, Enoch perceived that the Lord was about to execute judgment on the earth. So when Enoch had a son he named him "Methuselah." You remember Methuselah is the oldest person in the Bible, living to the ripe old age of 969. The name "Methuselah" has prophetic significance. Most Bible reference books give the meaning as "dart man" or "man of the spear". A less frequently found definition is of Chaldean origin and means something a little more intriguing: "at his death, the sending forth." The sending forth of what?

Perhaps that makes no sense to us - until we use the chronology provided to us in Genesis 5. All the generations of Noah are given to us with the exact time frames in which they lived and died. Enoch had a son named Methuselah, Methuselah had a son named Lamech, and Lamech had a son named Noah. When we do the calculations from Enoch to Noah, we find that Noah finished building the ark the same year his grandfather Methuselah died, just in time for the "sending forth" of a great flood - exactly 969 years after Enoch said that it would come.

So this judgment had been building for nearly a millennium. Enoch knew it was coming. Certainly Methuselah knew. Presumably Lamech knew. But none of them were called to build the ark. That work was reserved for Noah. And even then, he was five hundred years old before God revealed His purpose for Noah. Think about it: Noah walked with God for five hundred years before God gave him the plans for building the ark. If the man is not right then the plans are not right; but after five hundred years of relationship-building, the Lord finally said, "Now I can trust you to do the work I have called you to do. The survival of all life on earth depends on it." What an awesome responsibility!

The Lord Blesses Us To Be A Blessing

That brings us to the first principle: the work that God blesses is bigger than us. The ark was not Noah's private little retreat. It was not his personal little ministry, his private little vision. Of course, Noah and his family were beneficiaries of the work, but the purpose of the ark was to preserve all living things. Otherwise, Noah would have built a much smaller vessel.

When the Lord gives us a work to do it will be bigger than ourselves. The size of a person's heart may be judged by the size of their work. By size I do not mean numerical or financial strength. I mean this: is the work larger than the person working? Is it fulfilling a purpose far greater than the people involved? I say this because I am convinced that most churches exist only because the pastor needs a place to preach. Entire ministries are created to give some man or woman an audience. What a tragedy that is. Yesterday I drove past a little building that calls itself a church. The church was named after the presiding elder: "Smith Apostolic Church" (not the real name, but a true story). Such work fulfills nothing of eternal significance, it only meets the self-serving needs and aspirations of the person leading it.

The work that God blesses is not merely for our own personal benefit, but for the benefit of the Body of Christ, for the Kingdom of God. Our vision must carry us beyond ourselves; our vision must survive us. The only vision that is bigger than ourselves is Christ. If our vision is Christ then we are building upon an eternal foundation, and the Lord will bless that labor. Noah carried the Messiah in his loins - the ark was meant to preserve not just physical life, but a spiritual lineage. Thus, it was bigger than Noah, and the Lord blessed the work.

The Lord Blesses What We Cannot Do On Our Own

The second principle is closely related to the first, and it is this: the work that God blesses is beyond our ability to do on our own. In other words, if I can do it all by myself, then I do not need the blessing of the Lord. I can simply call upon my natural talent, experience, and skill to do what needs to be done. Now, work done in this manner may or may not be successful, but irregardless, it is MY work; it is not the Lord's work, and it does not enjoy the blessing of the Lord.

The Lord delights to place us in impossible situations. Noah was no shipbuilder. Yet God calls him to do the very thing he cannot do and gives him specific and detailed plans for doing it. The sheer size and scope of the work is astounding. First, Noah is to build a boat. Not just a little fishing boat, but a floating fortress with three levels in it. The Living Bible gives the dimensions as 450 feet long, 75 feet wide, and 45 feet high. Nothing this large had ever been constructed. The project would take one hundred years to complete. But the most amazing thing about this huge boat is that it was built on dry land. The Bible says Noah had faith (cf. Hebrews 11:7)!

But building the ark was only part of the work. After the ark was complete, there was the issue of bringing every sort of animal and bird into the boat. In the movies you see the animals streaming towards the ark of their own accord while Noah looks on in amazement. Perhaps that is the way it happened. Yet the Scripture says that the Lord told Noah to go get them and bring them into the ark (cf. Genesis 6:19). He had to go and gather them. How does one go about gathering one male and one female of every kind of animal in the world? And with some species God said to get seven pairs!

Then there is the matter of food. The Lord told Noah to gather samples of every kind of food that is eaten (cf. Genesis 6:21). The food was for feeding his family and all the animals, but it was also for future planting. Today we have fruits, vegetables, nuts, and grains because Noah somehow managed to find them all and store them in the ark. Now I ask: is it humanly possible to do all the things Noah did? Can someone with no experience build a boat that large? Can an ordinary person gather together every kind of beast, bird, and bug? Can anyone gather together every kind of food in the world, and store it? The Bible says, "Thus did Noah; according to all that God commanded him, so did he" (Genesis 6:22). When God asks us to do the impossible, we can ask for, and expect to receive, the blessing of the Lord on our work. He will show us what to do, and He will enable us to do it.

The Lord Blesses Obedience, Not Originality

The third and final principle is this: the work that God blesses is originated by God Himself. This is one of the most important lessons we can learn. I spent many years creating and executing my own plans, asking the Lord to bless them. One day I understood that instead of always trying to get the Lord to bless what I wanted to do, it was much simpler to find out what the Lord wanted to bless, and simply do THAT. Instead of trying to get God to come down to my level and do what I wanted, it was far better to come onto the Lord's ground and do what He wanted. Great synergy and blessing is released when we simply cooperate with what God has already purposed to do. Heaven backs us up with tremendous power and authority. Instead of trying to make something happen, I simply flow in a current that already exists. The Lord will deny no request that is in agreement with what He Himself has originated.

Noah could expect the blessing of the Lord on his work because he was simply carrying out what the Lord had already determined to do. It is so much easier this way. Often the greatest hindrance to the best is the good. The greatest hindrance to Isaac is Ishmael. There are many good things we can create, many good things we can do. But only one thing is needed (cf. Luke 10:42). We have to discover the "one thing," and we only discover it when we are seated at the feet of Jesus. When we are only motivated by what JESUS needs, not what MAN needs and not what we think WE need, then we are on the path of continual and perpetual blessing.

Noah walked with God, and Noah found grace in the eyes of the Lord (cf. Genesis 6:8,9). It took five hundred years of walking with God, but Noah found grace, and that made it all worthwhile. Let us learn to do nothing apart from this amazing grace. It is better to wait five hundred years for grace than to work for five minutes without it. What is grace? I teach people that Grace is a Man. Amazing Grace is simply Jesus living in me, doing what I cannot do. It does not matter if "what I cannot do" is save myself, overcome sin, love my neighbor, or build an ark. "For by Grace (Jesus) are you saved through faith (trusting Jesus to do what you cannot do); and that not of yourselves: it (He) is the Gift of God" (Ephesians 2:8). I am insufficient; but His Grace (Jesus) is sufficient. His Grace (Jesus) is more than enough. His Grace (Jesus) is Infinite Supply! But "without Me you can do nothing" (cf. John 15:5b).

Be encouraged. The Lord has a purpose for you, and a destiny for you to fulfill. But things will not always go the way you think they should. That is because the Lord calls you to something bigger than yourself, something beyond your ability, something you cannot originate or perpetuate without Him. It takes time. Noah walked with God for five hundred years and spent one hundred years building the ark. Abraham was one hundred years old before he finally saw God's promise come true. Moses spent forty years in Egypt, then forty years in the desert, before God sent him to Pharaoh. Jesus prepared thirty years for an earthly ministry of three and a half years. Dear brother, dear sister: walk with God. Find Grace. Discover the One Thing. Focus on being, not doing. And when it IS time for you to do something you can be confident that your labor of love will be the work that God blesses. Amen.

The Winds Have Changed
Priscilla Van Sutphin

Jan 17th, 2005
www.upstreamca.org

Last night in prayer I saw a vision of me being put through a human shredder…like a paper shredder, but when I came out at the other end, my form was different and my countenance joyous. It was as if I was shredded but then formed into another person. I had to laugh as that is what it has felt like this year.

Then this morning I received this word.

Ezek 37:9-10 NKJV Also He said to me, "Prophesy to the breath, prophesy, son of man, and say to the breath, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: "Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe on these slain, that they may live."'" 10 So I prophesied as He commanded me, and breath came into them, and they lived, and stood upon their feet, an exceedingly great army.

Mark 13:24-27 NKJV The Coming of the Son of Man
(Matt 24:29-31; Luke 21:25-28)
"But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give its light; 25 the stars of heaven will fall, and the powers in the heavens will be shaken. 26 Then they will see the Son of Man coming in the clouds with great power and glory. 27 And then He will send His angels, and gather together His elect from the four winds, from the farthest part of earth to the farthest part of heaven.

The Lord spoke:
“The winds have stirred and there is an assembling of my army that will come forth from those who have been slain by the enemy in this world.
I am mustering an army of great consequence in these times. You are being tried by fire and coming forth as gold. I am tearing and making you over because I need an army trained in the vicissitudes of warfare. I need this army to know the GRACE of GOD and the MERCY of GOD more than the self sufficiency of man which makes impossible change of any sort that is effective.
Change is dependent on your flexibility and ability to obey at a moment’s notice what I want for you. But so many still struggle giving their day, their lives to me. You go on as if nothing will ever change or without asking ME, what it is I have for you to do today for ME. So your lives are not truly surrendered to ME. But I am escalating changes so that YOU WILL THINK of Me, and YOU WILL DO what I want, rather than go your OWN ways!

I need obedient servants with hearts like Mine. I need you to be open to whom you can touch for ME today! I need you to be flexible and unquestioning in obeying My commands. Warfare is training for this.
I want you dependent on your HIGH COMMANDER, and not on your own sufficiency or desires.

You cannot do ANYTHING without ME!

John 15:1-6 NKJV The True Vine
"I am the true vine, and My Father is the vinedresser. 2 Every branch in Me that does not bear fruit He takes away; and every branch that bears fruit He prunes, that it may bear more fruit. 3 You are already clean because of the word which I have spoken to you. 4 Abide in Me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, unless it abides in the vine, neither can you, unless you abide in Me.
5 "I am the vine, you are the branches. He who abides in Me, and I in him, bears much fruit; for without Me you can do nothing.

Through many trials, I am getting you to see your need for relying on ME daily, hourly, minute to minute, and not just blithely going on without consulting Me for what direction to go. If you were in battle, which you are,
You would need to rely on the commands of your leader for what to do next.
Unfortunately, so many of you are used to doing things YOUR WAY, without considering My way of doing things. And I've assured you that My ways are higher than your ways.

Isa 55:8-9 NKJV "For My thoughts are not your thoughts, Nor are your ways My ways," says the LORD. 9 "For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways, and My thoughts than your thoughts.

I am asking you to come up HIGHER in doing things MY WAY. Going higher is actually going lower in the sense that you humble yourself by relying on ME and what I say to do things. Not relying on your feelings, but on ME for what and how to do things - Forsaking your own WILL that wants to do what it wants to do! I am looking for yieldedness to Me.

Isa 40:31 NKJV But those who wait on the LORD shall renew their strength; They shall mount up with wings like eagles, They shall run and not be weary, They shall walk and not faint.

But I am finding too many who profess yieldedness, but in fact they do things their own way, without even waiting or consulting Me on it. This is merely SELF-sufficient pride and lack of surrender.
If you want to yield to Me and truly surrender, you have to give up YOU.
You have to surrender the me, myself, and I in all that is in your mind.
RENEW your mind through the washing of the word and you will be able to fall into line with what I want you to do. The WORD is life to your spirit and health to your bones! Emmerse yourselves in it so you can be IN THE SPIRIT in all you do, and so that you have an answer for all who ask of you.
Emmerse yourselves in ME, in the worship of Me, and in prayer, constantly communicating your heart, and I will answer you quickly.

I am a good Father, Who gives good gifts to His children. I long to give you your hearts desire, just as any good earthly father longs to give to his child all those things he didn't have access to, so I long to give to you.
I love you, and My love never fails. I am patient and kind and forbearing with the sons of men. Do not hesitate any longer for time is running short.
Seek Me while I may be found."

Vicissitudes - Function: noun
Etymology: Middle French, from Latin vicissitudo, from vicissim in turn, from vicis change, alternation
1 a : the quality or state of being changeable : MUTABILITY
b : natural change or mutation visible in nature or in human affairs*
2 a : a favorable or unfavorable event or situation that occurs by chance : a fluctuation of state or condition <the vicissitudes of daily life>*
b : a difficulty or hardship attendant on a way of life, a career, or a course of action and usually beyond one's control c : alternating change : SUCCESSION

Job 37:9-13 NKJV
9 From the chamber of the south comes the whirlwind, And cold from the scattering winds of the north.
10 By the breath of God ice is given,
And the broad waters are frozen. 11 Also with moisture He saturates the thick clouds; He scatters His bright clouds. 12 And they swirl about, being turned by His guidance, That they may do whatever He commands them
On the face of the whole earth. 13 He causes it to come, whether for correction, or for His land, or for mercy.

Matt 7:25 NKJV and the rain descended, the floods came, and the winds blew and beat on that house; and it did not fall, for it was founded on the rock

Matt 8:26-27 NKJV But He said to them, "Why are you fearful, O you of little faith?" Then He arose and rebuked the winds and the sea, and there was a great calm. 27 So the men marveled, saying, "Who can this be, that even the winds and the sea obey Him?"

Hopelessly in Love With You
Priscilla Van Sutphin

Jan 22, 2005 2:20 am
www.upstreamca.org

from Ruach Elohim…
“Every minute of the day, I am interceding for you.
Every hour of the day My thoughts turn towards you.
Every time even a sparrow falls to the ground, I know it and feel it.
How much more than a sparrow are you worth to Me?
There is NOTHING that escapes My eyes My beloveds.
There is nothing you feel, that I don’t feel!
Yes, I said, I feel your pain. I feel your disappointments. I feel your loneliness. We are intimately connected through your spirit man.
My Spirit lives in YOU. So I feel what YOU FEEL!

That deposit gives you the ability to come in touch with MY POWER, when you feel left out, or left behind, or hurt, or abused and rejected.
I know every tear you cry and they are collected in a bottle.
Imagine for a moment that you are ME, and you fell all that!
Imagine how My heart aches knowing the daily things you must bear for My sake? Nothing escapes My view. I AM El Rohi – the God Who Sees.
I saw and heard Hagar’s cries in the desert when she ran away.
I felt her loneliness and rejection…and I went to her to comfort and give her instructions and HOPE. I want you to be My prisoners of hope. I AM YOUR HOPE. So when you stop in that pain, and focus on ME, then you can be comforted by Me.

In that moment of anguish and pain, I AM YOUR HOPE. I AM YOUR COMFORTER. I AM El Rachum – The Compassionate One. I send the Comforter to all who weep and all who are in distress, when they belong to ME, or when they cry out to Me.
When David was in distress, he learned to cry out to ME, and I gave him strength through his praises to overcome the bear, the lion, the giant in the land. I will do the same for you. I am not partial. I don’t only do it for some. I answer the desperate pleas of the faithful.
Daniel cried out, but it took time for the archangel to get through to him, with all the battle over his area. But then he was blessed beyond his imagination. I am about to bring much comfort to My prisoners of hope, who have held on and held on through the trials and testings for the hope they have had for promises I’ve given them.

I am not a man that I should lie, nor a son of man that I should change My mind. There are some, as I’ve said, who have been deceived by their own hearts which have not been fully healed. There have been some things they thought would happen which have NOT happened, partly because it was their desire, but not the best I have for them. I am a Father Who wants to give the BEST for His children. I look for that special gift like you do for someone’s birthday to bless them with. I give gifts just because I love you, not because of your performance or the things you do.

I do reward diligent seeking. I do reward prayerfulness and communion. I do reward obedience. Some rewards come now, some come later, some come in eternity. But I see ahead all that is before you. I always do what is best for your CHARACTER development. Because if I gave you the gifts BEFORE your character was ready for them, you would be ruined by the gift. Just like when you indulge children too much, and they become spoiled and ungrateful. So I develop character through the things you go through, so that when you do get what I have for you, you will be faithful, and grateful.

I AM Wisdom. I AM understanding. So when you need these, you can call on Me, and I will give to you what you need to know….what is good for you.
Some things need to be surprises. But soon, there will be such a communion, that so many things you thought you may never receive, will come to you in a moment. And your vision and perceptions of things will change. Your heart will be connected MORE fully to My heart as I come and destroy every stronghold that hinders you. I love you and cherish you as something sought after with great diligence and tenderness. YOU ARE MY OWN, MY LOVED ONES. I never will let you go or be unavailable. I am always here for you.
I always listen. I am ever seeking after you. So come, and learn more of ME, for I am in love with you My beloveds and I will increase that grace which helps you seek after ME, if you will ask for it! I am ready to give you good things. So anticipate good things. Anticipate greater intimacy with ME, as you come in worship to ME! The Bridegroom is knocking…unlatch the key of your hearts…"

Pregnant With Expectation
Priscilla Van Sutphin

Jan 19th, 2005
via
www.upstreamca.org

I heard the Lord say, "pregnant with expectation" and I thought back to the days when I was pregnant with my son, and how much I looked forward to the delivery. He was a sign. He was in utero 11 months. I knew I was pregnant in December and didn't deliver till October 10th, 1978. I was 32 when I had him, so I was very excited in looking forward to his birth and the hours when I could hold him in my arms. God brought this back to give a sense of how He has felt in looking forward to this hour, when He will give birth to Christ in us, the Hope of glory in greater measure than we have known. It is easy when a pregnancy goes over the date to begin to get weary of the weight and discomfort and to just want this baby to come to birth.
I think many of us feel that way, in that we have know for a long time this was going to happen and we are eager to receive the greater grace and glory He has for us.

Then He had me look up a few verses and spoke:

Isa 64:3-4 NIV For when you did awesome things that we did not expect, you came down, and the mountains trembled before you. 4 Since ancient times no one has heard, no ear has perceived, no eye has seen any God besides you, who acts on behalf of those who wait for him.

Isa 60:1-5 AMP ARISE [from the depression and prostration in which circumstances have kept you--rise to a new life]! Shine (be radiant with the glory of the Lord), for your light has come, and the glory of the Lord has risen upon you! [Zech 8:23.]
2 For behold, darkness shall cover the earth, and dense darkness [all] peoples, but the Lord shall arise upon you [O Jerusalem], and His glory shall be seen on you. [Isa 60:19-22; Mal 4:2; Rev 21:2,3.]
3 And nations shall come to your light, and kings to the brightness of your rising. [Isa 2:2,3; Jer 3:17]
4 Lift up your eyes round about you and see! They all gather themselves together, they come to you. Your sons shall come from afar, and your daughters shall be carried and nursed in the arms.
5 Then you shall see and be radiant, and your heart shall thrill and tremble with joy [at the glorious deliverance] and be enlarged; because the abundant wealth of the [Dead] Sea shall be turned to you, unto you shall the nations come with their treasures. [Ps 119:32.]

I am the Alpha and Omega, the Beginning and the End! I am the Faithful FATHER Who gives good gifts to His children and to whom belong escapes from death. I am the Master Craftsman and I know just how long it takes to rub down the wood, to cut it and shape it into the image I WANT. I am not a neglectful father. I know the testings and trials that will birth humility in a yielded vessel.

Koinonia came to mind…
NT:2842 koinonia (koy-nohn-ee'-ah); from NT:2844; partnership, i.e. (literally) participation, or (social) intercourse, or (pecuniary) benefaction:
KJV - (to) communicate (-ation), communion, (contri-) distribution, fellowship.

Right now I am wanting fellowship with you to make you into the strong horses in battle I want you to be! I am watching and waiting for you with open arms and a merciful heart. I am your FATHER Who loves you as no other loves you, and I promise you, that I am here for you. I will not disappoint you. I will not forsake you. I long to have this communion with you for I am imparting to you more of ME. Put aside all the distractions.
Lay aside all the weights and just come to Me in worship, and I will take care of all the other things you worry about. I said to SEEK FIRST the Kingdom of God and His righteousness and all these things will be added unto you.

Come away with ME My beloveds! Come away from all the noise and clutter of the world. Hide yourselves in ME.

OT:1980 [as in Songs 2:10 – come away]
halak (haw-lak'); akin to OT:3212; a primitive root; to walk (in a great variety of applications, literally and figuratively): KJV - (all) along, apace, behave (self), come, (on) continually, be conversant, depart, be eased, enter, exercise (self), follow, forth, forward, get, go (about, abroad, along, away, forward, on, out, up and down), greater, grow, be wont to haunt, lead, march, more and more, move (self), needs, on, pass (away), be at the point, quite, run (along), send, speedily, spread, still, surely, tale-bearer, travel (-ler), walk (abroad, on, to and fro, up and down, to places), wander, wax, [way-] faring man, be weak, whirl.

You are entering a time of great anticipation and excitement in heaven. The earth is reeling from the spiritual changes. I am coming with My fire and I will harness the winds, and I will stride in the earth. My glory will be perceived in new dimensions. You have not come this way before. Why do you look for something familiar. This place I am bringing you is very unfamiliar to you. You have never been this way. You have never felt Me in this way. This will be NEW. I am doing a new thing in the earth. Do not be surprised as the day of the Lord is coming, for there is much harvesting to be done. Awakening is at the door, but it will come at a great cost all over the earth, for men’s hearts have grown cold.

Do not take lightly the gift of LIFE I have given you. Many think they have so much more time than what is reality. I am going to send the reapers but I need you now in MY chambers, My beloved, for I am going to do something that has not been done before in quite the same way. And the glory of the Lord will be SEEN upon you. You are entering a new dimension in life IN ME.
All things will escalate! Things in the world, and things of My KINGDOM!
Come and hide yourself IN ME. Let me ravish your heart for I am going to release My LOVE like a torrent. Come to ME. Depend on ME for all you need, for I am a FAITHFUL FATHER! Raise your expectations My beloveds!

Righteous Indignation
Priscilla Van Sutphin

Jan 20th, 2005
www.upstreamca.org
tearsofthefather@comcast.net

The Lord spoke "righteous indignation".

indignation - Function: noun: anger aroused by something unjust, unworthy, or mean

Dan 8:19-20 NKJV And he said, "Look, I am making known to you what shall happen in the latter time of the indignation; for at the appointed time the end shall be.

Jer 10:10-13 NKJV But the LORD is the true God; He is the living God and the everlasting King. At His wrath the earth will tremble, and the nations will not be able to endure His indignation. 11 Thus you shall say to them: "The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth shall perish from the earth and from under these heavens." 12 He has made the earth by His power, He has established the world by His wisdom, and has stretched out the heavens at His discretion. 13 When He utters His voice, There is a multitude of waters in the heavens: "And He causes the vapors to ascend from the ends of the earth. He makes lightning for the rain, He brings the wind out of His treasuries."

Mal 3:2-3 NKJV "But who can endure the day of His coming? And who can stand when He appears? For He is like a refiner's fire and like launderers' soap. 3 He will sit as a refiner and a purifier of silver; He will purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer to the LORD an offering in righteousness.

Isa 13:5-6 NKJV They come from a far country, From the end of heaven —

The LORD and His weapons of indignation, To destroy the whole land.

6 Wail, for the day of the LORD is at hand! It will come as destruction from the Almighty.

OT:2195 za` am (zah'-am); from OT:2194; strictly froth at the mouth, i.e. (figuratively) fury (especially of God's displeasure with sin): KJV - angry, indignation, rage.

OT:2194 za` am (zaw-am'); a primitive root; properly, to foam at the mouth, i.e. to be enraged: KJV - abhor, abominable, (be) angry, defy, (have) indignation.

Deut 29:26-28 NKJV for they went and served other gods and worshiped them, gods that they did not know and that He had not given to them. 27 Then the anger of the LORD was aroused against this land, to bring on it every curse that is written in this book. 28 And the LORD uprooted them from their land in anger, in wrath, and in great indignation, and cast them into another land, as it is this day.'

The Lord said something in a personal word for me and I feel it is for many others as well. He said that Jurisdiction will change:

1 : the power, right, or authority to interpret and apply the law
2 a : the authority of a sovereign power to govern or legislate

b : the power or right to exercise authority : CONTROL
3 : the limits or territory within which authority may be exercised

But He said jurisprudence would NOT change.

Jurisprudence is…

1 a : a system or body of law b : the course of court decisions
2 : the science or philosophy of law
3 : a department of law <medical jurisprudence>

For me and for others, this means our authority in the Spirit will be increased, but the judgments meted out by the courts in heaven will NOT.

God is not a God of destruction but a God of LIFE and RESTORATION.

Some things that need to be restored must be torn down first in many cases in the natural. And likewise the same is in the spiritual realm. The hearts of men have grown cold. And the earth is groaning and changing as the Day of the Lord is at hand.

I asked the Lord what He wanted to say about this righteous indignation.

" I have filled many hearts with My own righteous indignation for I am not content to continue to see abuse and malice, greed and avarice continue unchecked. It is MY LOVE THAT LEADS TO REPENTANCE. But My judgments are MY LOVE greatly provoked. People don't want to hear that I'm a God who allows terrible things to happen. But in the earth there is a law of sowing and reaping that is bringing about great change right now.

The violence in the earth has increased. Perversion in the earth has increased. Idolatry is increasing. Rebellion/witchcraft is increasing.

And likewise My Spirit will also increase in those who carry My presence.

It will increase proportional to the evil increasing in the world. I told you great darkness would fill the earth, and it is consuming all it can. But I also said, that My glory would fill the earth as the waters cover the seas. I said My glory would be SEEN upon you. It is reality more than what you can see right now. CLING TO HOPE. Be prisoners of hope for I AM COMING and when I come I will NOT disappoint you. The only place of safety now is IN ME. I WILL RESTORE all the locusts have eaten. I will RESTORE all that has been robbed and stolen from My beloved ones.

Things will NEVER be the same again, I've told you. BELIEVE ME when I say to you, that you will see the SON of GOD arising with HEALING in His wings, and you will trample the wickedness in the earth! I will reestablish apostolic power in the earth, and I will establish MY WILL in the lives of all who love Me. Do not be sad although it is hard to see the changes. REJOICE, and again I say to you, REJOICE. For your LORD is at hand.

Let your gentleness be known to all men. Unity and generosity are in My heart. The cries of the fatherless and lonely come into My presence every day. The starving children and abused women and children and men are on My heart every day, every hour, every minute. I SEE it all. I AM Jehovah Rohi. I SEE all that is going on in the world, even though you are blind to much of it.

Do not lament the wicked being judged, but lament the innocent ones for it rains on the just and the unjust as well. But those who KNOW ME, will not be lost, but enter in to My presence.

2 Cor 5:6-8 KJV Therefore we are always confident, knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord: 7(For we walk by faith, not by sight:) 8 We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.

Rom 8:18 KJV For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us.

The times you have entered into require My perspective in order to fight as you need to. They also require ME to fight for you more. Wickedness is arising. But I AM WITH YOU. I will be with you whatever you go through.

Isa 43:2-3a NKJV When you pass through the waters, I will be with you;

And through the rivers, they shall not overflow you. When you walk through the fire, you shall not be burned, Nor shall the flame scorch you. 3 For I am the LORD your God, The Holy One of Israel, your Savior;

Take my yoke upon you and learn of ME. Come to Me and spend yourselves on ME. Fill your hearts with the Word and proclaim it to the enemy's forces, and proclaim it in song, and in the marketplace. Demonstrate My love and pray for the sick, cast out demons and do the works I have given each of you to do. I don't expect you to DO anything I don't ask you to do. My yoke is easy. Come to ME, rest at My feet, and then you will be able to DO only what I want you to. No more, no less is all that is required. Many of you are putting hard burdens on yourselves and listening to those who would put MORE burdens on you than what is necessary. I've said to take every thought captive. Test the spirits. Do not give in to STRIVING. I have not called you to strive, but to a unique and intimate relationship with ME, that will give REST to your souls. I have not called you to serve the kingdom of men, but to serve the KINGDOM of YOUR GOD and LORD. I have given you so much in this nation and you have thrown much of it to build your own kingdom, rather than Mine. Finances have been thrown down the toilet for entertainment and "programs" more than for the poor, the outcast, the fatherless and widows.

Resist the temptation to conformity for conformity's sake or coming under a control or dominating spirit. I've not called you to that. I've called you to freedom and not the law. I've called you to support the true work of the Lord with your tithes and offerings, but not to build mansions on earth, but in heaven! Your prosperity is never to serve yourself. It is to serve ME first. It is I Who give you ability to make wealth is it not? I AM the GOD of all comfort, yet I am the GOD also of JUSTICE and RIGHTEOUSNESS, and TRUTH. You must LOVE THE TRUTH more than your own wants and desires. The love of money is the root of all evil. Love not money. LOVE ME. You cannot serve God and mammon I've said!

I do not give you a stone when you ask for bread. So watch how you treat those who lose everything in the days ahead. For I have called you to mercy and generosity, not to selfishness and pride. I am warning you ahead of time, for My judgments are now increasing in the earth. They are predetermined. And they will be allowed according to My will. I will give you the discernment if you ask and if you stay in the WORD, so that you will know when to pray against it or to not pray. You cannot stop what is predetermined in My heart, for wickedness MUST be judged. But you will have authority to reverse what is NOT My perfect will. It has begun, and nothing can reverse it. The door has been opened and you now must make the choice to walk with ME, or to go your own way."

Ps 69: 24 NKJV Pour out Your indignation upon them, and let Your wrathful anger take hold of them.

Ps 78:49 NKJV He cast on them the fierceness of His anger, Wrath, indignation, and trouble, by sending angels of destruction among them.

Ps 119:53-56 NKJV Indignation has taken hold of me because of the wicked, who forsake Your law. 54 Your statutes have been my songs

In the house of my pilgrimage. 55 I remember Your name in the night, O LORD, and I keep Your law. 56 This has become mine, because I kept Your precepts.

Isa 10:5-6 NKJV Arrogant Assyria Also Judged "Woe to Assyria, the rod of My anger and the staff in whose hand is My indignation. 6 I will send him against an ungodly nation, And against the people of My wrath I will give him charge, to seize the spoil, to take the prey, and to tread them down like the mire of the streets.

Isa 26:20-21 NKJV Take Refuge from the Coming Judgment
Come, my people, enter your chambers, and shut your doors behind you; Hide yourself, as it were, for a little moment, until the indignation is past.
21 For behold, the LORD comes out of His place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity; The earth will also disclose her blood, and will no more cover her slain.

Isa 30:27-33 NKJV Judgment on Assyria

Behold, the name of the LORD comes from afar, Burning with His anger, And His burden is heavy; His lips are full of indignation, and His tongue like a devouring fire. 28 His breath is like an

Twins

Judy Bauman

Rivermistlighthouse1@comcast.net

The Lord has been showing me that this is the year of the Twins - both fraternal and identical. We just entered the New Jewish Year 5766. The first two numbers 5 and 7 when added equal 12. This represents the fraternal twins. The following numbers, 6 and 6 also equal 12 and represent identical twins.

The message of the 'twins' was confirmed this morning when I received a note from Pastor Johnny Enlow of Daystar International Christian Fellowship in Atlanta. He wrote:

> The TWINS thing has been a basic word I have had for the whole year. Then last night I shared that during worship the Lord had showed me that this had been the year of the pear tree. Then I heard Him say PAIR tree. Things have run in two. Sumatra received two large earthquakes. New Orleans received two cleansings. There are two new justices coming in. George Bush is the second George Bush and is the father of twins etc etc...

These are the things that have stood out to me concerning the times.

Twin Hurricanes
Katrina – Greek: Purity 8/28
Rita – Latin: Pearl 9/24

The first thing the Lord revealed was that Katrina and Rita were twins. Their size and strength were nearly identical. They made landfall very close to one another. They both flooded New Orleans and outlying areas, destroyed a great deal of property, and both caused fuel price woes across the country. Thankfully, both didn't have the same number of fatalities. After 'the water broke' with Katrina, residents readied themselves for Rita.

When Katrina was aimed at New Orleans, I was praying for the Lord to dissipate the storm. I heard the Holy Spirit say, "Do not steady the ark when I Am shaking it!" This brought a holy fear in me. I remembered the Scripture when Uzzah steadied the ark as it was being carried by the oxen and the Lord struck him dead. The Lord struck Uzzah dead because the ark was being carried in an unholy manner. Even though they had a new cart and they were dancing and praising God as they went along, the Lord was angry at their irreverence toward Him. The partying and dancing came to a STOP! King David took three months to seek the Lord and find out how to carry the Ark in the proper manner on the shoulders of the Levites. (See 2 Samuel 6 and Exodus 25:10-22) The second thing the Lord said the night Katrina was gunning for New Orleans was, "What does the name mean?" I had no idea so I googled the name 'Katrina' and saw that it is a Greek name and means, "Purity." The Lord said, "I am sending My purity to New Orleans." In the days to follow, I really had a hard time with this given the impurity that has come out of the whole ordeal, but that's the Lord's responsibility, so whether I understand it or not, I do know that God's desire is for there to be purity in the region. This reminds me of how gold and silver are purified. They are heated up until the dross (impurities) comes to the top and that dross is scrapped off. This process is repeated seven times.

Then when Rita was approaching the same area, I asked the Lord what was going on?!? I looked up the name Rita and it is a Latin for "Pearl." The Holy Spirit said, "It is the pearl of great price."

Putting them both together would say, "My purity is the pearl of great price. When you find this pearl you sell everything you have to get it." (See Matthew 13:46) In other words, the purity of the Lord will carry a cost, but it will be worth everything you invest to get it. It is my prayer that New Orleans be built back in the reverential fear of God and done in done in such a manner to bring the Lord glory and honor. It would be in their best interest and the best interest of this country if that is not taken lightly.

Twin Church Scandals

Bishop Eddie Long and Bishop Earl Paulk were both exposed in the Atlanta Journal Constitution. Two Atlanta mega-church pastors are in the paper for improprieties. What is most interesting about this set of twins is the dates that their stories hit the headlines are the same dates respectively that Katrina and Rita Hit the Gulf coastlines!

8/28/05 Bishop Eddie Long has been accused of being 'the charity's biggest beneficiary." The article sites huge monies used for personal use.
http://www.ajc.com/living/content/living/0805/28natlong.html

9/24/05 Bishop Earl Paulk is said to be 'embroiled in a legal battle over [a church employee's] claims that Paulk coerced her to have sex with him and others claiming it was God's will."
http://www.ajc.com/metro/content/metro/dekalb/0905/24metminister.html

I am not saying either of these men are guilty or innocent, that is up to the courts to decide. I am only sharing the 'Twins' I have been shown.

It is interesting that the Scripture I am reading this morning is 1 Corinthians 6. Let the church hear what the Spirit of God is saying! This Scripture also covers the next set of twins.

Twin cases of Homosexuality in the church

Headlines:
Vatican Won't Ban Gay Priests
10/7/05 A pending Vatican ruling stops short of an outright ban on homosexuals in the priesthood, by allowing gay men who have been celibate for at least three years to be admitted to a seminary, a senior Vatican official said yesterday. http://news.bostonherald.com/localRegional/view.bg?articleid=106081

US Church Backs Same Sex Marriage
7/5/05 United Church of Christ (UCC) is the first major US Christian denomination to come out in support of gay marriage. The Episcopal Church (the US branch of the Anglican Communion) and the Evangelical Lutheran Church permit same-sex unions, while the Presbyterian Church is seeking to resolve severe disagreements over the issue. http://news.bbc.co.uk/2/hi/americas/4651803.stm
Beware of what man calls holy when God has called it unholy. Let us not set our minds up against the mind of Christ. See 2 Corinthians 10:4, 5.

Twin Fires in CA:

Both break out on opposite sides of Los Angeles, CA on the same days:

Chatsworth/Topanga
"You saw (September 29th) Thursday night on CNN, homes that were within dozens of feet of the flames and the flames just came to a stop as though there was some supernatural force," Zaroslavsky said. "The reason for it is there was nothing left to burn between the clearance area and the house and the house was saved."

Burbank continued to spread Friday, burning some 700 acres as 350 firefighters fought the blaze. So far, no homes are in jeopardy as the fire moves up a mountain north of Los Angeles. "Contained to out of control in minutes."

Let's learn from this and not give the enemy any fuel to bring destruction on our lives.

Fraternal Twin Sox: Red and White Sox in the playoffs. 10/7/05 White Sox sweeps the series

When I saw this my impression was that the 'twin' Sox were in a battle, when I prayed this thought came to me, "Purity wins over those who are out for blood." (White/purity and red/ blood) This only symbolizes the colors, not the people, the teams or the states they represent. It is symbolic in the spiritual realm that those who will seek to "walk" holy and blameless before God will receive the kingdom of heaven. Those who seek their own and will hurt anyone in their way will die in it.

Mayors in Crisis

Twin mayors that couldn't be more fraternal would be the two mayors that went through two of the worst catastrophes of this decade. They would be Mayor Ray Nagin of New Orleans and Mayor Rudy Giuliani of New York. These two couldn't have handled their tragedies any differently.

When the World Trade Center buildings were hit, New York's Mayor Rudy Giuliani not only urged his city to stay calm and keep a clear head, but he also helped to calm the nation as we anxiously and helplessly looked on. We were all traumatized by what we witnessed on the news as it was unfolding and Mayor Rudy Giuliani brought a sense of purpose and focus to this nation in his address to New York. He wanted to keep people calm and he tried to minimize the 'body count'. New York City and everyone in this country was blessed because this man took charge and did his job, and did it with excellence. He built teamwork at every level.

His opposite, New Orleans Mayor Ray Nagin, brought more confusion and hopelessness to his city and to the nation with every address he made. I have to wonder how in the world this man was elected to lead a major city in America! I further question how he has remained in office since. He multiplied anxiety and fear, spread more rumors to the media than anyone else, and most of what he said has since been disproved. Mayor Nagin consoled his community in crisis by ordering 25,000 body bags! Thank God, that was a very high estimate. I will never forget hearing him say right after accusing the president of not doing anything because he was prejudice, "I just want everything to get back to normal and go hear some jazz." Ya, mayor - that is real important - as you have people inside of their own attics dying - you need to get to a bar and hear some jazz. Did he use the city buses to get those people out? No. Did he use the school buses? No. Did he do anything to help the people he knew had no transportation out of the city? No. If the finger-pointing cowardice wasn't enough, his ongoing rhetoric ought to be. Sept 28th he was telling 'all of the evacuees of New Orleans' to come back, "We want you back!" I heard him say this on CNN right after the reporter stated that no trash had been picked up since the hurricane and the smell of the city was putrid from the rotting garbage. I couldn't believe it! What were these people going to come back to? Did he know that most of the people he invited back have no homes to live in? Did he know the hospitals are crippled at best? Did he know that most jobs are lost? And on that subject, two days later, Nagin announces that he had to lay-off 3,000 city workers! I just can't fathom a leader being this far out of touch with reality.

This is NOT a republican verses democrat issue, nor is it about race or religion. It is about character – and there couldn't be more opposites. These were two of the worst catastrophes in our nation's history and two very different outcomes because of leadership.

Twin ? - Jesse Jackson and Louis Farrakhan (I don't even know what to call these twins)

I will allow Rev. Jesse Lee Peterson explain this one!

For better or worse, Hurricane Katrina has told us the answer to the second question. If you're black and a hurricane is about to destroy your city, you'll probably wait for the government to save you. This was not always the case. Prior to 40 years ago, such a pathetic performance by the black community in a time of crisis would have been inconceivable. The first response would have come from black men. They would take care of their families, bring them to safety, and then help the rest of the community. Then local government would come in. No longer. When 75 percent of New Orleans residents had left the city, it was primarily [omit], welfare-pampered blacks that stayed behind and waited for the government to bail them out. This, as we know, did not turn out good results. Enter Jesse Jackson and Louis Farrakhan. Jackson and Farrakhan laid blame on "racist" President Bush. Farrakhan actually proposed the idea that the government blew up a levee so as to kill blacks and save whites. The two demanded massive governmental spending to rebuild New Orleans, above and beyond the federal government's proposed $60 billion. Not only that, these two were positioning themselves as the gatekeepers to supervise the dispersion of funds. Perfect: Two of the most dishonest elite blacks in America, "overseeing" billions of dollars. I wonder where that money will end up. Of course, if these two were really serious about laying blame on government, they should blame the local one. Responsibility to perform – legally and practically – fell first on the mayor of New Orleans. We are now all familiar with Mayor Ray Nagin – the black Democrat who likes to yell at President Bush for failing to do Nagin's job. The facts, unfortunately, do not support Nagin's wailing. As the Washington Times puts it, "recent reports show [Nagin] failed to follow through on his own city's emergency-response plan, which acknowledged that thousands of the city's poorest residents would have no way to evacuate the city."

To see this article in its entirety go to http://worldnetdaily.com/news/article.asp?ARTICLE_ID=46440

The Rev. Jesse Lee Peterson is founder and president of BOND, the Brotherhood Organization of A New Destiny, and author of "Scam: How the Black Leadership Exploits Black America."

weird twins:

Twin Reptiles (Fraternal)

A 13-foot Burmese python recently burst after it apparently tried to swallow a live, six-foot alligator whole, authorities said. "There had been some hope that alligators can control Burmese pythons," Mazzotti said. "This indicates to me it's going to be an even draw. Sometimes alligators are going to win and sometimes the python will win."

This seems to suggest that the enemy is in such frenzy that he is going to consume his own species. This will play into his undoing. See 2 Chronicles 20:22

Twin Burial for Son and Embalmed Mother

This is just weird…talk about ‘mommy issues’!

OCTOBER 04, 2005

An English teacher and the embalmed body of his mother that he had kept at home in a glass casket for 21 years were laid to rest in twin burials in a southern Indian village over the weekend, a relative said Tuesday.

The Lord is showing us patterns and we should be wise to watch for them. I am concerned about the earthquake that hit Pakistan today (10/8/05) and a possible ‘twin’ to that story. It hit such a large area as it was a 7.6 magnitude. There was a thought – a prayer that this would ‘shake out’ Osama Bin Laden and other al Qaeda leaders. Not that I would wish this disaster on any country, heaven forbid! It is my prayer that all peoples be brought to the knowledge of Christ Jesus and have His peace that surpasses all understanding to guard their hearts and minds. The Lord warned us that there would be earthquakes and wars before His return. (See Matthew 24, Mark 13 and Luke 21) They no doubt will get worse before He does, but we have the hope – the hope knowing that Jesus is the way, the truth, the life and none come to the Father but by Him.

I know there are many more examples and not all of them are negative. Just this week I saw Twin miracles concerning two people who were very ill that were healed by God’s hand. I pray you will see these types of Twins! It is not by might nor by power but by God’s Spirit.

May the grace of the Lord be with you,
Judy

The Way Of Great Reward

Yolanda Ballard

May 5, 2005

(roarnworship@netzero.net)

Have I not said that the meek shall inherit the earth? I call you by My side once again and explain to you that once you have chosen the narrow path, there is no turning back to the ways you once walked. This is the day of the latter rain outpouring, and I AM preparing My bride to take up her cross and follow My example in how to deal with your enemy.

Do not fall into the snares he has set up for you to fall into. Don't respond the same way that the world does in defending yourself. Don't you know that My ways are so much higher than the ways of man? The way of My spirit is opposite to that of the flesh. So if you feel the urge to defend yourself and to rise up in a way to hurt back, then know that you are to crucify that desire and allow Me to live through you.

Yes, give the enemy the defeat that he needs and allow My kingdom to reign on earth by obeying My still small voice. Yes, every time you lash out at one that the enemy uses against you, you bring his kingdom up and bring defeat to yourself. And if you love yourself the way that I love you, then you will crucify the flesh and rise up in My resurrection power, and allow My love to defeat the enemy.

Yes, this is the day of the latter rain outpouring, and I AM looking for a people that I can rise up in power through and to show the world that My love reigns supreme on earth as it does in heaven. Let My kingdom come and My will be done by being obedient to My word. If you want to see My power flow with signs following, then step aside and allow Me to move through you. What is the price to pay to see your loved ones saved, to see the dead rise up and the blind to see? It is the death to the self life.

Why don't you see Me move in your congregations and in the marketplace? There is too much of the flesh reigning. I call you this day to search your heart and see what is standing in your way between having the victory or walking in defeat. Are you paying the price to see My fruit in your life? I AM ready to pour out a pearl of great price, but you need to be able to sell all to purchase it. If you are willing and able, I will give you the land, but only the meek will inherit it.

Wreck Of The Hesperus Lesson

Priscilla Van Sutphin

August 8th, 2005

www.upstreamca.org
tearsofthefather@comcast.net

The Lord said to me “Wreck of the Hesperus” so I looked up that poem by Longfellow and saw it was about the pride of man against the elements of the sea and wind. The captain thought he knew better and everyone perished including his beloved daughter. The captain was warned by an older seaman to turn in as he saw hurricane coming…but the captain did not listen. In fact he scorned the warning. I also found that Hesperus is the name of a Greek god meaning “evening star”. And there was an actual ship named that that sailed from England to Australia back in the day.

Isaiah 2:11-15 NKJV The lofty looks of man shall be humbled, The haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, and the LORD alone shall be exalted in that day. 12 For the day of the LORD of hosts shall come upon everything proud and lofty, upon everything lifted up — And it shall be brought low — 13 Upon all the cedars of Lebanon that are high and lifted up, and upon all the oaks of Bashan; 14 Upon all the high mountains, and upon all the hills that are lifted up; 15 Upon every high tower, and upon every fortified wall;

Mountains and hills often stand for authority. Towers the work of man’s hands. Trees are often also symbolic of men.

Isa 41:2 NASU " Who has aroused one from the east Whom He calls in righteousness to His feet? He delivers up nations before him and subdues kings. He makes them like dust with his sword, as the wind-driven chaff with his bow.

I asked the Lord what He wanted to say, and heard…

“I AM the Forerunner of all things. I AM the First and the Last. I know what is, what was, and what will be. I have determined the courses of the nations and kings. I knew ahead the choices men would make. I hear the cries of My people for mercy and the worship of those who love ME. I have not left you forgotten. I have made My plans for you. I have you in the palm of My hand. You are not without comfort, for I have sent you the Comforter. You are not without Wisdom, for I AM your wisdom, if you allow Me to be. I have everything you need for the times ahead. I will give you the nations as an inheritance, if you will but ask. Surely My hand is greater than all the hands of evil men. Surely My plans however are unalterable. My WILL will be done on earth as it is in heaven. I am not a man that I should lie, nor a son of man that I should change My mind.

My heart is grieved when I see the hostility of the nations against My beloveds. My anger is stirred to see the nations in rage against ME and those I love. The arrogance of man will be destroyed, though evil men arise and pursue, there will be great exploits in this hour, demonstrating MY sovereignty and power.
[Sovereignty: 2 a : supreme power especially over a body politic b : freedom from external control : AUTONOMY c : controlling influence]

Ask of ME, and I will show you great and mighty things you do not know. Humble yourself in this hour and I will lift you up on eagles wings and I will show you what is to come. But will you believe it ? Will you listen to Me ? Will you hold to FAITH, even when you see difficult times are coming and at hand, at the very door ? I don’t want MY SHIPS to go down. I don’t want MY CHILDREN to walk in arrogance and unbelief, and pride. Be as little children. Remain dependent on ME. Walk in MY WILL and not your own, and you will be safe in the arms of your Beloved. ABIDE IN ME, and I will ABIDE in you.

Do not walk independently in anything you do. Walk in the Spirit, and not according to the flesh. I know for many that your flesh is weakened by the many trials and testings. But just when you think it is hopeless, or you are hopelessly overwhelmed, there will be a suddenly !
I will arise in the hearts of My people and there will be an hour of great GRACE that comes upon the earth now. Perilous times ensue and men grow more evil every day. But I WILL ARISE UPON YOU and MY GLORY WILL BE SEEN UPON YOU. Look to ME. Come and worship, and praise ME, for this will be your finest hour My Beloveds. NOTHING will keep ME from you ! Do not fear ! Do not be afraid of their faces. ARISE and speak up. SHOUT ALOUD to the GOD OF ALL GLORY ! PROPHESY sons and daughters ! SPEAK LIFE to those in darkness. For many will be rescued in the floods of many waters !

Those not on the ROCK, will be on slippery ground.”

Matt 7:24-27 NKJV Build on the Rock (Luke 6:47-49)
"Therefore whoever hears these sayings of Mine, and does them, I will liken him to a wise man who built his house on the rock: 25 and the rain descended, the floods came, and the winds blew and beat on that house; and it did not fall, for it was founded on the rock.
26 "But everyone who hears these sayings of Mine, and does not do them, will be like a foolish man who built his house on the sand: 27 and the rain descended, the floods came, and the winds blew and beat on that house; and it fell. And great was its fall."

“Time as you know it is culminating and there is escalation, yet there is much yet to do. I am sending in more help, more troops, more of My grace and glory to sustain you in the days ahead. Get ready for the RIDE OF YOUR LIFE ! The things you thought impossible will be possible. The things you thought I’d forgotten are not forgotten. The requests and many prayers you have lifted up, are never forgotten.

Guard your hearts from the love of money. Guard your hearts from the plans of men. LISTEN TO MY VOICE and FOLLOW MY VOICE alone. I am connecting those I love with each other in ways so they will flow together in communicating, in ministry and in associations that will fulfill MY plans. Pray, PRAY, PRAY for those around you and your loved ones, for FIRE is about to break forth. The FIRE OF MY LOVE will break in and there will be many spontaneous fires started all across the earth.
And this Fire will be contagious; spreading far and wide till the earth is consumed and harvested. Hold on and stand still and see the salvation of the LORD ! ”

Isa 13 NKJV Proclamation Against Babylon
The burden against Babylon which Isaiah the son of Amoz saw. 2 "Lift up a banner on the high mountain, Raise your voice to them; Wave your hand, that they may enter the gates of the nobles. 3 I have commanded My sanctified ones; I have also called My mighty ones for My anger — Those who rejoice in My exaltation." 4 The noise of a multitude in the mountains, Like that of many people! A tumultuous noise of the kingdoms of nations gathered together!
The LORD of hosts musters the army for battle.
5 They come from a far country, from the end of heaven — The LORD and His weapons of indignation, to destroy the whole land. 6 Wail, for the day of the LORD is at hand! It will come as destruction from the Almighty. 7 Therefore all hands will be limp, Every man's heart will melt, 8 And they will be afraid. Pangs and sorrows will take hold of them; They will be in pain as a woman in childbirth; They will be amazed at one another; their faces will be like flames.

9 Behold, the day of the LORD comes, cruel, with both wrath and fierce anger, To lay the land desolate; And He will destroy its sinners from it. 10 For the stars of heaven and their constellations will not give their light; The sun will be darkened in its going forth, And the moon will not cause its light to shine. 11 "I will punish the world for its evil, and the wicked for their iniquity; I will halt the arrogance of the proud, and will lay low the haughtiness of the terrible. 12 I will make a mortal more rare than fine gold, a man more than the golden wedge of Ophir. 13 Therefore I will shake the heavens, and the earth will move out of her place, in the wrath of the LORD of hosts and in the day of His fierce anger. 14 It shall be as the hunted gazelle, and as a sheep that no man takes up; Every man will turn to his own people, and everyone will flee to his own land.

"Wreck Of The Hesperus"
It was the schooner Hesperus,
That sailed the wintery sea;
And the skipper had taken his little daughter,
To bear him company.

Blue were her eyes as the fairy flax,
Her cheeks like the dawn of day,
And her bosom white as the hawthorn buds,

That ope in the month of May.

The Skipper he stood beside the helm,
His pipe was in his mouth,
And he watched how the veering flaw did blow
The smoke now West, now South.

Then up and spake an old Sailor,
Had sailed the Spanish Main,
"I pray thee, put into yonder port,
for I fear a hurricane.

"Last night the moon had a golden ring,
And to-night no moon we see!"
The skipper, he blew whiff from his pipe,
And a scornful laugh laughed he.

Colder and louder blew the wind,
A gale from the Northeast,
The snow fell hissing in the brine,
And the billows frothed like yeast.

Down came the storm, and smote amain
The vessel in its strength;
She shuddered and paused, like a frighted steed,
Then leaped her cable's length.

"Come hither! come hither! my little daughter,
And do not tremble so;
For I can weather the roughest gale
That ever wind did blow."

He wrapped her warm in his seaman's coat
Against the stinging blast;
He cut a rope from a broken spar,
And bound her to the mast.

"O father! I hear the church bells ring,
Oh, say, what may it be?"
"Tis a fog-bell on a rock bound coast!" --
And he steered for the open sea.

"O father! I hear the sound of guns;
Oh, say, what may it be?"
Some ship in distress, that cannot live
In such an angry sea!"

"O father! I see a gleaming light.
Oh say, what may it be?"
But the father answered never a word,
A frozen corpse was he.

Lashed to the helm, all stiff and stark,
With his face turned to the skies,
The lantern gleamed through the gleaming snow
On his fixed and glassy eyes.

Then the maiden clasped her hands and prayed
That saved she might be;
And she thought of Christ, who stilled the wave,
On the Lake of Galilee.

And fast through the midnight dark and drear,
Through the whistling sleet and snow,
Like a sheeted ghost, the vessel swept Tow'rds the reef of Norman's Woe.

And ever the fitful gusts between
A sound came from the land;
It was the sound of the trampling surf,
On the rocks and hard sea-sand.

The breakers were right beneath her bows,
She drifted a dreary wreck,
And a whooping billow swept the crew
Like icicles from her deck.

She struck where the white and fleecy waves
Looked soft as carded wool,
But the cruel rocks, they gored her side
Like the horns of an angry bull.

Her rattling shrouds, all sheathed in ice,
With the masts went by the board;
Like a vessel of glass, she stove and sank,
Ho! ho! the breakers roared!

At daybreak, on the bleak sea-beach,
A fisherman stood aghast,
To see the form of a maiden fair,
Lashed close to a drifting mast.

The salt sea was frozen on her breast,
The salt tears in her eyes;
And he saw her hair, like the brown sea-weed,
On the billows fall and rise.

Such was the wreck of the Hesperus,
In the midnight and the snow!
Christ save us all from a death like this,
On the reef of Norman's Woe!

By Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.
Hesperus - the evening star - in greek mythology of the “gods”
Hesperus
Ship (3m). L/B/D: 262.2 × 39.7 × 23.5 dph (79.9m × 12.1m × 7.2m). Tons: 1,777 grt. Hull: iron. Built: Robert Steele & Co., Greenock, Scotland; 1873.
The iron clipper Hesperus was built for Anderson and Anderson's Orient Line immigrant service between England and Australia. Described as a Queen of the Iron Age (of ships), she was built for safety and comfort, and though she was neither designed nor driven to be a record breaker, she was fast. After sixteen years in the immigrant trade, Hesperus became one of the first ships acquired by Devitt & Moore to be used for training of merchant officers. With accommodations for twenty-five to forty cadets, in addition to her regular crew and passengers, she sailed to Sydney in ninety-nine days. As a result of a long layover in the port, her apprentices wound up pawning many of their clothes and other belongings, and, unable to retrieve them, satisfied themselves with the theft of the pawnbrokers' three brass balls, which they set from the jibboom on their departure.
Hesperus made her last voyage to Australia in 1898-99. On her return, she was purchased by the Odessa Navigation School and renamed Grand Duchess Nicolaevna (for the daughter of Czar Nicholas II). She worked as a sail-training ship in the Black Sea until after World War I, when she flew the flag of the Russian Republic. After a voyage between Montreal and Liverpool in 1920, recounted in Frederick William Wallace's Under Sail in the Last of the Clippers, Grand Duchess was transferred to French registry. In 1921, she was sold to the London Steamship & Trading Corporation, Ltd., under the name Silvana. After one voyage to Argentina and France, she was sold for scrapping at Genoa in 1924.

Lubbock, Colonial Clippers. Wallace, Under Sail in the Last of the Clippers.

Ferns And Urns
Priscilla Van Sutphin

Aug 13th, 2005

FERN : Function: noun - Etymology: Middle English, from Old English fearn; akin to Old High German farn fern, Sanskrit parna wing, leaf
: any of a large class (Filicopsida) of flowerless spore-producing vascular plants; especially : any of an order (Filicales) of homosporous plants possessing roots, stems, and leaflike fronds

URN : Function: noun - Etymology: Middle English urne, from Latin urna
1 : a vessel that is typically an ornamental vase on a pedestal and that is used for various purposes (as preserving the ashes of the dead after cremation)
2 : a closed vessel usually with a spigot for serving a hot beverage

“There are many plants in My garden and some give forth fragrance from flowers, and then there are others who do not blossom…those who do not give forth any pleasant aroma. They are beautiful but not noticed. They are plain to the world. There are others who never blossom for years and years, then bring forth the most beautiful blooms. There are others that give forth the most beautiful flowers time and time again. There is a use for all these plants in My Kingdom. But to the ones that bear NO FRUIT, they will be cut down and thrown into the fire. For they are like the parable of the talents and they do not reproduce even ! They hoard what they do have and do not even share their knowledge of the Holy One. There are others who appear beautiful to the outside but are rotten on the inside. They hoard for their own advantage all they can. They compete and do not wish to share what they’ve been given with others.

Shall I not prune My garden ? For it is only by PRUNING that the dead branches which sap life from the tree can be revived. I am the Master Gardener and I know exactly what each plant needs to live and thrive. I have granted much to many who do not even try to use their gifts to help others. I have given much to many who reach out to thousands, but live off the earnings of widows and single mothers, and old people, and widows and those who stive to raise their families, and they do not help those same ones when they get into trouble.
Shall I not PRUNE MY GARDEN ?

I will raise up a standard in the land. Come together My children to worship and pray, and to celebrate the times coming. For I will pour out My Spirit in unprecedented ways. Wherever one or two or more are worshipping ME, I will rain down My glory ! Did I not sustain David in the Caves of Adullam ? And did I not revive His spirit as he came out of captivity and danced before me naked and unashamedly ? I tell you there is no greater delight than to find My children delighting in ME. But apart from MY GRACE you can do no good thing ! You cannot even worship ME without My grace !

I am WITH YOU. I AM EMMANUEL, GOD WHO IS WITH YOU. Realize that even without feeling me, whenever you worship or pray I am pouring down glory. Whenever you gather, I am pouring down glory. To the sincere, I will sincerely pour out MY HEART and MY POWER. I will reduce to nothing the opposition that hinders you from coming close to ME. I am JEALOUS for MY BRIDE. Come and dance, for the days are coming when I will fill the earth with judgment and a man will be more rare than fine gold. In that day, urns will abound filled with the dust of man. Come and buy from ME NOW, gold refined in the fire. Buy for yourself linen garments and I will dance with you and perfume you with My fragranced oils !

I will use every vessel that will submit to My glory. I will raise up a mighty army. A militant BRIDE that will carry My glory to the ends of the earth, into the marketplace, into the streets, highways and byways…into remote villages of the earth, and into great cities filled with the lost. Do NOT be jealous of what you see in others. DO NOT BE JEALOUS or compete for anything but ME. I AM THE PRIZE. I am all you need. CAST OFF ALL

COMPETITION. Remove the stones and hindering blocks from the highway of HOLINESS. PLOW THE FALLOW GROUND. REPENT and REPENT for the priests and prophets who have grown to be like the world. Ask that they might be spared from the wrath that comes with My glory outpoured !!!

Jer 4:3-4 NKJV For thus says the LORD to the men of Judah and Jerusalem: "Break up your fallow ground, And do not sow among thorns.
4 Circumcise yourselves to the LORD, And take away the foreskins of your hearts, You men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem, Lest My fury come forth like fire, and burn so that no one can quench it,

Have nothing to do with the vessels who choose their OWN way instead of MY WAY. For men have grown proud and think nothing of usury and lying, even in My church it is so. PRETENSE has filled My church and the sheep are becoming wolfish. But I have a plan to cleanse My threshing floors. So WORSHIP that the glory might fall. Sow to the heavens and I will rain down on the earth. Worship is a mighty weapon against the witchcraft that is filling the earth. I will put the brakes on anyone who is not using the money given to Help the poor. I will remove the candlesticks of those who persist in doing their OWN will over MY WILL. Do not marvel at the judgment coming within My house. And do not say it is the devil For I will stir up those who will execute MY JUDGMENT in MY way. PRAY that many will be spared as you repent for them. Care for your brothers the way MOSES cared for the people of ISRAEL and fasted and prayed for them !

Do not say, I am without sin, or I wouldn’t do that. You don’t know what you would do if I removed My grace from you ! Mercy is better than sacrifice and OBEDIENCE is better than sacrifice ! CRY out for those who are ignorant of their own sins. I need workers . I need those who will HARVEST and CLEAN, and TRAIN those who will come into the KINGDOM. I will use the tiniest fern, who has no sweet fragrance to give. I will use those who have been thought the LEAST OF THESE MY CHILDREN to confound the wise in their own opinions. So do not make judgments without seeking MY face and MY HEART.

Martyrdom is coming to My church in greater measure in the days ahead. Will you be ready My BRIDE to stand ? Will you acknowledge MY will alone in your lives ? Will you give up your rights to your own life and live as My Son did, doing only the Father’s will ? Will you give up your rights to convenience and fame, and riches to receive what is most precious in the Kingdom ? Will you lay down YOUR AGENDA and ask ME for what I WANT ? Lay aside all your preconceived notions. Ask ME for WISDOM and I will give it ! BUT you must ask to receive. IT IS IN LAYING DOWN YOUR LIFE THAT YOU WILL FIND IT !”

Isa 13:11-13 NKJV "I will punish the world for its evil, and the wicked for their iniquity; I will halt the arrogance of the proud, and will lay low the haughtiness of the terrible. 12 I will make a mortal more rare than fine gold, a man more than the golden wedge of Ophir. 13 Therefore I will shake the heavens, and the earth will move out of her place, in the wrath of the LORD of hosts And in the day of His fierce anger.

1 Sam 15:22-23 NKJV So Samuel said: "Has the LORD as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices, As in obeying the voice of the LORD? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice, And to heed than the fat of rams. 23 For rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft, And stubbornness is as iniquity and idolatry.

Ps 32:10 NKJV Many sorrows shall be to the wicked; But he who trusts in the LORD, mercy shall surround him.

James 2:13 NKJV For judgment is without mercy to the one who has shown no mercy. Mercy triumphs over judgment.

James 3:17-18 NKJV But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, willing to yield, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality and without hypocrisy.

Heb 4:16 NKJV Let us therefore come boldly to the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy and find grace to help in time of need.

Phil 2:1-3 NKJV Unity Through Humility
Therefore if there is any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any affection and mercy, 2 fulfill my joy by being like-minded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind. 3 Let nothing be done through selfish ambition or conceit, but in lowliness of mind let each esteem others better than himself.

Rom 9:23-24 NKJV and that He might make known the riches of His glory on the vessels of mercy, which He had prepared beforehand for glory, 24 even us whom He called, not of the Jews only, but also of the Gentiles?

Rom 9:15-16 NKJV For He says to Moses, "I will have mercy on whomever I will have mercy, and I will have compassion on whomever I will have compassion." 16 So then it is not of him who wills, nor of him who runs, but of God who shows mercy.

Matt 12:7-8 NKJV But if you had known what this means, 'I desire mercy and not sacrifice,' you would not have condemned the guiltless. 8 For the Son of Man is Lord even of the Sabbath."

www.upstreamca.org
tearsofthefather@comcast.net

And it shall come to pass, as soon as the soles of the feet of the priests who bear the ark of the LORD, the Lord of all the earth, shall rest in the waters of the Jordan, that the waters of the Jordan shall be cut off, the waters that come down from upstream, and they shall stand as a heap." Josh 3:13 NKJV

Two Opinions

by Bill Somers

In the book of Romans we read:

> "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service." (Romans 12:1)

The word 'service' at the end of this verse is also translated 'worship' in some versions. What this is saying is worship = service or obedience. We are God's servants as we obey him.

Another way of saying this is found in the Gospel of Mathew:

> "Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve." (Matthew 4:10)

Here Satan was seeking worship for himself, but Jesus' rebuke shows the relation between worship and obedience. Back in Romans we find it stated another way:

> "Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?" (Romans 6:16)

This also shows that sin makes us servants of death or Satan.

The essence of all this can be briefly summarized.

To believe God is to agree with His Word, is to obey that word, is to serve Him, and is to worship Him.
Not to believe God is to agree with Satan, is to obey Satan, is to serve and worship Satan! ("He that is not with me is against me; …." (Matthew 12:30))

So to disobey God is actually to worship Satan!

All of us find ourselves sometime doing one and then the other. Although we love and follow the Lord Jesus Christ, yet there is sin in our lives.

> "For I delight in the law of God after the inward man.
> "But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members.
> "O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from the body of this death?" (Romans 7:22-24)

What revival will do is pictured in Elijah's triumph on Mt. Carmel

> "And Elijah came unto all the people, and said, How long halt ye between two opinions? if the LORD be God, follow him: but if Baal, then follow him. …." (1 Kings 18:21)

Elijah's words to Israel in first Kings are the Lords words to us today. 'Halt' means to be lame or to stop. It is to be unable to go. Unable to go and do as the Lord desires. Unable to walk in holiness that He requires.

Elijah's answer was to call down fire in the sacrifice, let that be our answer today. Calling down fire is to intercede for revival! "The God that answereth by fire, let him be God."

The altar Elijah built is rich in symbolism. The wood represents the cross, the flesh on the wood is our flesh on the cross, the water poured all over and around the altar is our tears of repentance at the judgments of the Lord, and the twelve stones for the twelve tribes speak of the divisions within the Church. All of this is consumed by the fire that falls from heaven. This is the all consuming fire. God himself. When He comes with such awesome presence, all the other stuff will be gone. Our tears will end; the judgments will end; and strife and division in the Church will end!

So as surely as the sacrifice on Mt. Carmel is a type of revival, it is also a promise of the Lord's deliverance from the two opinions. It shows that death to the flesh can bring us all into unity. Then we will get the sin our of the camp and give no place to the devil. Then we will fully enter into the kingdom of God, and walk in the promises. Then we can proclaim only one opinion. The Lord is God! Jesus is King of Kings! Or as it says in Isaiah: "How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth!" (Isaiah 52:7)

Then we will see the harvest. Amen!

Back to: HOMEPAGE or FILELIST of

Bill Somers Prophetic Vision

Two Realities
Francis Frangipane

At any given moment, standing before our world there are two core realities. The first is that which is the consequence of present and past events. In this realm, wars become more destructive, immorality becomes more rampant; disease multiplies out of control, and fear strengthens and becomes immobilizing. In part, this darkened, demonically manipulated reality is what we actually have today, yet clearly a more hellish, worse version of our present world is preparing to emerge. It is of this diabolical world that the scripture speaks of when it warns: "the days are evil" (Eph 5:16).

Yet, there is another reality that is also available to mankind. This second realm is the "prayed for" version of the first reality. It, too, stands prepared to show itself. This reality is full of miracles, divine reversals and divine intervention. It is the world of sin confronted, conquered and redeemed by the power of heaven. The scripture calls this reality "the day which the Lord has made" and commands us to "rejoice and be glad in it" (Ps 118:24).

Since time began, both of these realities have always existed. The Scriptures bear witness to numerous occasions when people have cried out to God and found the Almighty a willing ally in transforming their culture. When Israel humbled themselves, repented and prayed, and sought again the face of God, the Lord intervened and scattered their enemies. Consider also the ancient Ninevites. When they, too, humbled themselves with fasting and prayer, divine mercy fell upon their culture as well. Indeed, the transformation of their culture was so stunning that Jonah, the prophet sent by God to announce Nineveh's destruction, actually was displeased that Israel's enemies received mercy. Jonah lamented, "I knew that You are a gracious and compassionate God, slow to anger and abundant in lovingkindness, and one who relents concerning calamity" (Jonah 4:2).

Jonah knew the mercy of the Lord. He also knew that, once a people humbled themselves before the living God, no enemy that stood against them could prosper. The Lord, indeed, was standing ready to show Himself strong on behalf of those who feared Him.

As I have lived and known the Lord, He has relentlessly proven over and over again to be a God who answers prayer. He stood with our armies in WWII; He helped bring down the atheistic Soviet Empire. I believe He stands ready today to overthrow militant Islam as well.

However, I also know for God to answer prayers, we must pray them. Muslim extremists are poised in many countries of the world to launch terror attacks. Some of these might be terrible in size and devastation. The source of many of these terror attacks are the Mullahs who preach hatred and stir up radicals in their Friday night meetings. At the same time, Intercessors for America has set apart Fridays for prayer and fasting, specifically to counter the demonic powers that attach themselves to the words of these Mullahs. We aggressively support this initiative and want to encourage everyone who calls upon the name of Jesus to join this prayer siege until we see the demonic power behind radical Islam broken. For more info, click here.

We also ask that pastors and church leadership teams embrace a lifestyle of prayer, leading their congregations into intercession during all regularly scheduled services. It was prayer that brought an end to the Soviet Empire; it will be prayer that breaks the demonic power that is fueling Muslim extremists. No man can stop the march of time, but our intercession can bring the power of heaven to bear upon this world. With hearts aflame with the spirit of Christ, we can rejoice together in seeing the day which the Lord has made.

Repairers Of The Breach
Francis Frangipane

"And those from among you will rebuild the ancient ruins;
You will raise up the age-old foundations;
And you will be called the repairer of the breach,
The restorer of the paths in which to dwell" (Isaiah 58:12).

The Gathering Together Of The Saints

Most of true Christianity shares a doctrine commonly called the "rapture" of the church (I Thess 4:16). And while study and debate surround the timing of this event, Scripture assures us that it will occur before Jesus Himself returns.

However, before we are "caught up" to meet the Lord, there will be a time of unusual grace in which the living church of Jesus Christ, like a bride, makes "herself ready"(Rev 19:7). In this unparalleled season of preparation, while we will not become "perfect," we shall realize a new level of holiness of the quality in which Jesus Himself walked (I Thess 3:11-13; Eph 5:26-27; Phil 1:9-10).

The result of this new spiritual fullness will be a new level of unity. Fault-finding and gossip will disappear. In their place will be intercession and love. Wholeness will return to the church. This also means that the ambition and division we see today between congregations will be identified as sins, which will be repented of before Jesus returns.

The truth of this message must be made clear, for most Christians consider oneness within the body inconceivable before Jesus returns. They have not discerned nor warred against the enemy's lies, which have conditioned believers to accept strife and sectarianism in the church. It is my passionate conviction that the church which will ultimately be raptured will be free of strife and carnal divisions - it will be a bride "without spot or wrinkle" made ready for her bridegroom.

During the rapture our bodies will be changed. But our character, that is, the essence of who we have become, will remain intact. There will be no regrets or wondering how "those from that church" made it, for the living bride will be a church built together in love, meeting in separate buildings but serving the single Lord. These true disciples of the Lord Jesus will be known for their intense and holy love for one another - not merely in their individual local assemblies, but within the context of a citywide church.

It is highly significant that the scriptural term for the rapture is called the "gathering together" (II Thess 2:1; Matt 24:31). What ultimately will be consummated in our gathering together physically to the Lord will be precipitated by a spiritual gathering together of His body on earth. Concerning the era known as the "end of the age," Jesus taught that the "good fish" shall be "gathered . . . into containers" (Matt 13:48). And in the context of spiritual warfare, Jesus warned, "he who does not gather with Me, scatters" (Matt 12:30).

This scattering, dividing process among the Lord's sheep has gone on long enough. Jesus has set His heart to bring healing and unity to His body. In this regard, through the prophet Jeremiah, the Lord spoke a somber warning. He said, "Woe to the shepherds who are destroying and scattering the sheep of My pasture!" (Jer 23:1). The Son of God is not pleased with the carnal divisions in His body! Indeed, the Lord promises to chasten those pastors who continue to build their kingdoms without laboring together to build His. To them He says, "I am about to attend to you for the evil of your deeds" (vs 2).

In the tenth chapter of John, the Lord makes His goal clear: there shall be "one flock with one shepherd" (vs 16). He reveals it is the wolf nature which "snatches [the sheep] and scatters them"; and it is the hireling nature which allows the scattering to occur. But His promise to His sheep says this: "Then I Myself shall gather the remnant of My flock...and they will be fruitful and multiply. I shall also raise up shepherds over them and they will tend them; and they will not be afraid any longer . . . nor will any be missing" (Jer 23:3-4). The pastors of the last Christian church will be under-shepherds to the Lord Jesus; they will be anointed to gather together His remnant and under that anointing shall be "fruitful and multiply."

Indeed, right now, in the context of humbling ourselves and submitting our hearts to His will, we are participating in being "gathered together." This process will progressively increase until the barriers between brethren are melted by the overcoming nature of Christ's love. Before Jesus returns, we will truly be "one flock with one shepherd." We will be a holy and blameless sheepfold, meeting in different buildings, but baptized into one body.

Do Not Criticize The Breach, Repair It!

"Thus says the Lord God, woe to the foolish prophets who are following their own spirit and have seen nothing. Oh Israel, your prophets have been like foxes among ruins. You have not gone up into the breaches, nor did you build the wall around the house of Israel to stand in the battle on the day of the Lord" (Ezek 13:3-5).

God needs people who, when they see a gap in the citywide church wall, will go up into the breaches and rebuild the wall, so that the church will stand in the day of battle. In every city, town and village, each of us need the other churches if we are going to stand in the day of battle.

You may be thinking, "You don't understand, I have revelation of the end-time move of God. These churches barely believe in Jesus." The Word tells us that "without any dispute the lesser is blessed by the greater" (Heb 7:7). If you are truly "greater," without a hint of pride, you will seek ways to be a blessing to other churches. Your Christlike love will cast out fears. You will truly have a burden to see the entire body of Christ brought forth, not just your local assembly; you will respect the diversity of ways through which Christ reveals Himself in the church. In truth, Jesus said that the greatest among us would become the "servant of all" (Mk 9:35; Matt 23:11).

If a church in your city holds to and confesses Jesus as their Lord and Savior, then that church is needed to complete God's work in the city. As you join one another for daily or weekly prayer, you will be blessed and surprised by God's preparation of others. Do not come with an attitude to teach or lead, but to love and serve. In this, God is not looking for leaders, but followers of the Lord Jesus Christ.

If we do not adjust to His will, we will be unable to stand against the enemy. Indeed, the day in which we live is not a day of peace, it is a time of war. God is gathering us together not only to Him and each other, but also against the spiritual forces of wickedness in every region. Therefore, the breaches between us must be filled, the walls built, and we must learn to stand together in the day of the Lord.

You Be The People

You do not have to go to college to find fault with the church. In fact, if you remember, you could find fault with the church even before you were a Christian. You do not need skill to find fault. But if you want to be like Christ, you have to be willing to lay your life down for people's sins. You have to be an intercessor who "stands in the gap." The "gap" is the distance between the way things are and the way things should be. You stand in that space, cast down the accuser of the brethren, and intercede! Have you seen something that is wrong? It is only because Jesus wants you to stand in the gap and pray to see it changed.

Some of us have cried for years, "Where are those who will lead us into Christ's fullness?" We have assumed that God had others in mind. What the Lord is saying, however, is "You be the men and women that others are looking for." You be the peacemakers, the sons and daughters of God that bring healing and order to His church.

The responsibility is upon each of us. There is a tremendous job ahead, but the Lord Himself has promised, "Those from among you will rebuild the ancient ruins; you will raise up the age-old foundations; and you will be called the repairer of the breach, the restorer of the paths in which to dwell" (Isaiah 58:12).

Let us lay our lives down in committed faith, that in our lifetimes, on this earth and in our communities, the corporate church of Jesus Christ will be restored, united and made ready as a bride for her Beloved!

The Wisdom Of The Pharisees

Chip Brogden

http://www.watchman.net

"This man cannot be from God, because He does not keep the Sabbath day" (John 9:16ff).
"Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools" (Romans 1:22).

I have made the statement several times that most churches would not recognize the Lord Jesus even if He walked down the aisle on Sunday morning and sat on the altar. This statement is largely designed to shake people out of their complacency. It is highly unlikely that Jesus will actually go to church this Sunday. I do not believe Jesus attends many religious meetings, and this belief has a Scriptural basis: "He does not keep the Sabbath day." For that matter, He does not keep any day, for every day is His Day and He cannot be contained within a particular twenty-four hour period.

When you read the Gospels two things become quite clear. First, Jesus is undeniably, unquestionably GOD IN THE FLESH, Wholly Other. Second, the more religious you are, the less likely it is that you will see, recognize, and appreciate Him for Who He really is.

Sinners, on the other hand, had little trouble recognizing Him. The Samaritan woman may have been a despised outsider to the Jew's system of religion but it only took her a few minutes to realize that she had found the Messiah. The Roman centurion, an unworthy Gentile, nevertheless knew where to go when his servant was sick, and Jesus said this man's faith was greater than anyone in Israel. The Syrophoenician woman had enough faith to ask Jesus for only a few crumbs from the table, and even though she was not technically not a Jew, Jesus gave her everything she asked for. Yes, Jesus was indeed a friend of sinners, publicans, tax collectors, and women caught in adultery.

But look at His own people, the Jews. Listen to the religious leaders, the spiritual teachers of Israel, the professionals and the experts of prophecy and the Law. What is their verdict? How do they read Him?

*****

"This man cannot be from G_d." Cannot be? Are you sure? This man is opening the eyes of the blind, casting out devils, making the lame to walk, raising people from the dead, multiplying food, walking on water and teaching people to love one another - even love their enemies. This man cannot be from G_d? Why not? On what grounds are we going to reject him? We cannot deny that this man is performing powerful miracles and signs.

"This man cannot be from G_d, because he does not keep the Sabbath day." Well, I suppose that settles it. Y'shua cannot be from G_d, he cannot be a prophet, he cannot be the Messiah or the Son of G_d, or even a good Jew, because he does not keep the Sabbath day! Yes, it is all very clear now. How could we have missed that?

You know, I was almost swept away by this man. For a moment there I really was beginning to believe. He is very, very persuasive. But if he doesn't keep the Sabbath then he cannot be from G_d. And if he doesn't keep the Sabbath then he probably doesn't tithe, either. Does he pay the Temple tax? We should check on that, I bet he doesn't. You know, that reminds me, his disciples don't fast twice a week either. Even John's disciples fasted. Y'shua told his disciples there was no need to fast as long as He was with them! Oh, didn't you know? He eats and drinks with sinners - a little too much eating and drinking, if you know what I mean.

Something else I noticed, too... he doesn't wash before he eats. It's true! He said the outside of the cup doesn't matter, it's what's inside. Are you sure Y'shua is really a Rabbi? He hasn't been to any of our schools. I'm not sure where he comes up with his teachings. Get this. Y'shua was preaching in Capernaum and told them he came down from heaven! Not only that, but he said if they eat his flesh and drink his blood they will live forever! Strange, very strange. Many of his disciples got right up and walked out. I don't blame them. It's all very strange and very sick.

So where does Y'shua get his power? If He doesn't keep the Sabbath then whatever power he has can't come from G_d. If the power doesn't come from G_d then it must come from Beelzebub. How else can you explain it? That's why it's so easy for him to cast out demons!

Fellow Pharisees, this man Y'shua must be stopped. Not only that, he deserves to die. First, because he calls G_d his father. Y'shua also says he has the power to forgive sins. No one but G_d can forgive sins, so he is obviously guilty of blasphemy. Second, he does not keep the Sabbath. Now the Law of Moses says if anyone does not keep the Sabbath they must be put to death. Third...

* * * *

Friends, you are witnessing the wisdom of the Pharisees in action. Jesus called them fools, blind leaders of the blind, snakes, and hypocrites who will not escape the damnation of hell. Amen, we say. How easy it is to look back on this evidence today and condemn the Jews for failing to recognize their Messiah and our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

However, I suggest that the sect of the Pharisees is alive and well today, only it is no longer a sect within Judaism, it is a sect within Churchianity that continues to differentiate people based on external religious rules and customs. The names and customs have changed, but the same old "wisdom" prevails:

"You cannot be a Christian if you don't go to church."

"God will not bless you unless you pay your tithes."

"You cannot know the truth unless you get it from the 1611 King James Version."

"If you leave the church you lose your spiritual covering."

"If you don't submit to authority you have a Jezebel spirit."

"Submission means never asking questions."

"A true prophet always encourages and never judges."

"Women be quiet."

"Jesus' real name is Y'shua."

"God's real name is G_d."

"Saturday, not Sunday."

"Sunday, not Saturday."

When you take all these things and add them up, what do you get? What is the result? Pride, spiritual elitism, narrow-mindedness, dullness, and darkness. In a word, I describe these people as DISTRACTED FROM THE SIMPLICITY OF CHRIST!

Religion is the result of becoming consumed, absorbed, vexed, and stressed out over the "many things" while completely overlooking that only One Thing is needed (cf. Luke 10:41,42). It is the scrupulous, agonizing work of straining out gnats and swallowing camels (Matthew 23:24). Taken to its absurd conclusion, it actually feeds that Spirit of Antichrist that is always fighting against the Testimony of Jesus.

In Acts 18 we find Paul preaching Jesus in Corinth. As is always the case, whenever you decide to preach JESUS AS HE IN FACT IS, it will attract the ire of the local religious establishment:

"When Gallio became governor of Achaia, some Jews rose in concerted action against Paul and brought him before the governor for judgment. They accused Paul of "persuading people to worship God in ways that are contrary to the law" (Acts 18:12,13, NLT).

You see? There it is again - the Law of Moses, Torah, the traditions and customs of the elders. Paul was always ready to debate the Jews. Being a Jew and a Pharisee for many years, Paul enjoyed the arguments and usually won them. Yet something different happened that day...

"Just as Paul started to make his defense, Gallio turned to Paul's accusers and said, 'Listen, you Jews, if this were a case involving some wrongdoing or a serious crime, I would be obliged to listen to you. But since it is merely a question of words and names and your Jewish laws, you take care of it. I refuse to judge such matters.' And he drove them out of the courtroom" (Acts 18:14-16, NLT).

Hallelujah! Thank God for Gallio! If an unbelieving Roman judge has enough discernment to confound the wisdom of the Pharisees, what about us? I pray God will give us the gift of single-mindedness in our pursuit of Christ and Christ alone. May God give us the courage to say, "If it is a question of Christ and His Kingdom I would be obliged to look at the issue more closely. But since it is merely a question of words and names, Sabbath days and holidays, religious rules about outward things, Bible versions and denominations, you take care of it yourself. I refuse to argue over such matters."

His yoke is easy! His burden is light! Come to Him and learn of Him. Repudiate the wisdom of the Pharisees and embrace this Man Who does not keep the Sabbath, because this Man is the Son of the Most High God, and there is therefore now NO condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus!

Copyright ©1997-2004 Watchman.Net. Permission is granted for non-commercial (free) distribution provided this notice appears. Email: info@watchman.net

The Secret Of Spiritual Power

Chip Brogden

"God resists the proud, but gives grace to the humble. Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you" (James 4:6b,7).

There is a principle at work in our life and walk with the Lord, and it is the principle of strength out of weakness. "The meek are blessed, for they will inherit the earth" (Matthew 5:5). If we want the blessing of the Lord then we must learn what it is to be meek, for the proud will not inherit anything from Him.

The way of the world says that in order to be stronger, we must build ourselves up and seek strength and dominance over others. Christians everywhere are keenly interested in how to be increased, how to be stronger, how to take authority, how to rise up, how to get more. They look for methods, formulas, and techniques for becoming bigger and better. The results have been disappointing. Many mistakes have been made and many people have been hurt and disillusioned.

The Lord has a different approach for us to take. He invites us to accept weakness in order to be strengthened. We do not become strong by embracing strength, but by embracing weakness! This is the secret of all spiritual power. When Paul learned this secret he was able to say, "When I am weak, then I am strong" (II Corinthians 12:10b). This makes no sense to the natural man. I do not remember ever hearing anyone begin a teaching on spiritual warfare with this verse. It is no wonder, then, that these teachings never seem to produce any lasting fruit.

This passage of Scripture from James gives us further insight into why the strong are weak, and why the weak are strong. Our study of this verse may be divided into four distinct sections. Let us look at each one individually.

GOD RESISTS THE PROUD

Christians are full of many plans, many pursuits, many thoughts, many words, many things. It is impossible to say just how much of the flesh is involved in the things we undertake in the Name of Jesus. We know they cannot be purely spiritual works because often there is little fruit to be found. We labor and toil and work but it seems as if we make little or no progress. It seems as if something is always blocking our way and preventing us.

The automatic assumption is that anything which resists us or hinders us is of satanic origin. That is, if we encounter difficulty in our spiritual walk, our first reaction is to rebuke the devil, or ask the saints to pray for us to have a clear way. Certainly the devil will attempt to hinder us from anything we undertake that glorifies God and threatens the darkness. Yet we learn from James 4:6 that there is Someone else who can resist us. There is Another Who carefully watches what we do, and frequently hinders us from making progress.

It comes as a shock and surprise to some Christians to see one day that God, not the devil, is resisting them. The Lord Himself resists us, closes doors, causes things to be unfruitful, and spoils all our plans. How so? Because "God resists the proud." This resistance from God is insurmountable. It is a fearful thing to fight the Lord. We spend most of our lives wrestling with God instead of cooperating with God, and in the end we have nothing to show for it. So much time and effort is wasted because we proceed in our own, stubborn way. We attribute all difficulties to the devil, or to other people, or our circumstances, or our environment, and fail to recognize that the Lord Himself is resisting us.

God resists the proud. This is an active resistance that will block our path like a huge rock or a great chasm. All who walk in pride are in league with the devil himself, and will receive the same judgment (cf. I Timothy 3:6). Brothers and sisters, this is a serious matter. If we harbor the least bit of pride then we will find ourselves on the wrong side of the Lord, but if we are humble before God and man then we cannot be defeated because...

GOD GIVES GRACE TO THE HUMBLE

The single requirement for grace is humility. But what is grace? Grace is more than just a theological term used to describe how we are saved. Grace is the power of God at work in my life to do what cannot be done in my own strength. Grace is energizing and proactive. When I have reached the end of myself then Grace Himself takes over and does what I am unable to do. In the first place, what I cannot do is save myself, and so I trust in the Grace of God, Jesus Christ, to save me. But Grace will not only bring me through the Gate; He will bring me down the Path. Grace does not just get me started in the right direction, but goes along with me every step of the way. For Grace is a Man!

It should be obvious that God will not give us grace while we are still proud. Why? Because He will allow no flesh to glory in His presence. He desires us to be thoroughly emptied of ourselves. When we cease doing what we cannot do then He begins to do what we cannot. The problem is that we still think we can do so many things. We must learn sooner, rather than later, that "apart from Me you can do nothing" (John 15:5b). Nothing! But it is human nature to try and do it ourselves. This human nature is the flesh. It prevents us from entering into Grace. God cannot save someone who is still trying to save themselves. Similarly, God cannot do what we are still trying to do. He will wait - weeks, months, or years - until we have exhausted our strength. When our strength is completely gone and we finally go to Him in weakness, He becomes our strength and we find Grace is there to do the impossible. Then we know it was not us, but the Lord. All praise goes to Him, and we retain nothing for ourselves.

See how many times the disciples tried to correct the Lord. See how many times they argued with the Lord. See how many time their thoughts contradicted the Master. See how many times they urged Him to take action. And the Lord, ever patient, would correct them. In every case we see that He is the Lord, and they are the disciples. The roles must never be confused. He is the Master, and we are His servants. We do not command Him, but He commands us. We do not direct Him, but He directs us. We do not lead Him, but He leads us. He was not created for us, but we were created for Him. He does not serve us according to our pleasure, but we serve Him according to His pleasure. So we must be adjusted to Him, and not the other way around. The Lord will never apologize to us and say, "I'm sorry, I was wrong. We'll do it your way." How laughable! How absurd! But we often live as if we expect Him to do that very thing. We have not humbled ourselves.

All those who want power with God must see that His power is released through our weakness (cf. II Corinthians 12:9). Do realize that you are weak whether you admit it or not, but the power of humility is in recognizing and agreeing before God that we really can do nothing of our own selves. God's power is not for those with natural charisma, talent, leadership skills, education, training, or "connections".

God is not looking for volunteers to serve at their own convenience as their schedule permits, but calls for disciples who will lay down their lives. The flesh counts for nothing in spiritual matters. God's power is not revealed to us when we are proud, but when we are humble. Any demonstration of "power" manifesting itself through a proud man or a proud woman is, quite simply, not from God and cannot be trusted. Spiritual gifts may be counterfeited, but spiritual fruit cannot be faked. We will know the false from the true by their fruit, not their gifts (Matthew 7:20). Meekness is an essential quality of spiritual fruit (Galatians 5:23). Gifts may accompany fruit, but gifts may never substitute for fruit.

The secret, then, is to...

SUBMIT YOURSELVES THEREFORE TO GOD

Do we need the power of God today? Do we seek the Life of the Lord today? Do we desire Him to have the preeminence in our lives today? Do we long for Him today? Then now is the time for us to be unconditionally and wholeheartedly surrendered to Him. We need not drag the process out for several days and weeks, months and years. "If any man will come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow Me" (Luke 9:23). Do it today, do it now. If we must daily take up the cross anyway, let us bow our head and give up the ghost instead of struggling to stay alive, which only prolongs our agony. The secret to overcoming is dying daily.

If God gives Grace to the humble, then we should live a surrendered life so we can tap into grace. Die to Self, die to effort, die to trying, die to scheming. Stop wrestling, stop fighting, stop squirming, stop arguing, stop reasoning, stop bargaining, stop all that and just surrender, yield, give up, and lay down before Him! Humility is not some outward show, but a heart attitude that says in effect, "I will not resist the dealings of God. I will not argue with the Lord. I will not insist upon my own way. I recognize and admit that apart from Him I can do nothing. I am finished. Lord, I look to You to do in me and through me what I cannot do." Friends, if we truly mean that when we say it then we will naturally spend more time praying, more time in the Word, more time ministering to God, because we will realize we do not know anything and we can not do anything without hearing from Him. If Christ is to have the preeminence in all things right HERE is where it begins. Humility is offering no resistance to the dealings of the Lord with us.

When we are submitted to the Lord, we find Grace. We find peace. We find rest. All things are in His hands, and He does all things well. We need not fear what any devil or any man can do to us. To be submitted to the Lord is to be under His care, under His guidance, under His power, under His protection. Whom shall I fear? What can man do to me? What can the devil do to me? If I have humbled myself beneath the mighty hand of God then He will exalt me in due season; He will justify me; He will defend me; He will fight for me. If our submission to God is complete, if our surrender to the Lord is total, then victory is assured. We will...

RESIST THE DEVIL, AND HE WILL FLEE

So many times we try to resist, but we are defeated. Why? Simply because we attempt to resist the devil before we have first submitted ourselves to God. There is a proper order that must be observed without fail. First, we must understand the principle of God resisting the proud but giving grace to the humble. This is the foundation of everything we do. Second, the word "therefore" signifies that those who learn this principle will act upon it accordingly. If they understand the truth just stated, they will submit "therefore" to God. Third, as a result of their submitting to God, they will find the devil flees whenever and wherever they offer him resistance. The word "flee" means "to run away in terror". How wonderful! How delicious to see the devil running from us in terror, instead of the other way around! That should be the normal experience of all Christians. That is the normal Christian life, a life that overcomes.

The whole object of satan is to bring us down from the heavenly places in Christ (Ephesians 2:6) and entangle us into some kind of earthly, fleshly thing that saps us of our strength and diminishes spiritual authority. Knowing this, the Lord has us to pray daily, "Deliver us from evil" (Matthew 6:13ff). That is to say, "Deliver us from the earthly, the fleshly, the worldly, the carnal, the selfish, the natural, the human, where satan has influence to work evil against us. Deliver us from all that hinders and distracts us, and bring us into the Kingdom of Your dear Son, that we may walk in Spirit and Truth, in the heavenly places, demonstrating your preeminence over all things Below." Brothers and sisters, praying in this way is what it means to resist the devil. He cannot stand before us when we take the high ground and maintain the Lord's Testimony.

If we grow impatient and fall into the flesh then we become weaker. To react in the flesh diminishes spiritual authority, and this must be avoided at all costs. Allowing the flesh to have its way for only a moment guarantees defeat against a spiritual adversary. "We worship God in the Spirit, and rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh" (Philippians 3:3). To lose all confidence in the flesh is to take the higher ground of the Spirit. To meet flesh with flesh means the victory will go to the strongest, and there is always someone stronger than you according to the flesh. Instead, if people come against you in the flesh, let them come against you. If they wish to rail and argue with you according to the flesh, do not respond in kind. If they attack you without cause, let them attack, because the fleshly, the carnal, the natural cannot defeat the spiritual. The one who is submitted to the Lord has authority over those who remain unsubmitted to Him. Flesh is overruled by Spirit. Hate is overruled by Love. Darkness is overruled by Light. Death is overruled by Life. Earth is overruled by Heaven. "He that comes from above is above all" (John 3:31ff).

We offer no resistance, no defense, no argument, no justification to people who mean us harm. We do not wrestle against flesh and blood (Ephesians 6:12a). We resist satan, not the person. We stand against the devil, taking no action against the instruments the devil uses. We submit to God, we offer no resistance to man, but we stand firm against the spiritual adversary. Outwardly, before others, we appear weak. But inwardly, before God, we are strong. "Though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh: for the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strongholds" (II Corinthians 10:3,4). If we war after the flesh then we are emptied of spiritual strength. If we war after the Spirit then we are emptied of fleshly strength. Which will you have, spiritual authority, or fleshly power? You can have either one you want, but you cannot have both.

We face perilous, dangerous times. The secret of spiritual power to see us through these times is humility. The arm of the flesh will fail us. Brothers and sisters, since we cannot avoid weakness, we may as well make the best possible use of it. Let us accept the dealings of the Holy Spirit with us and offer no resistance to Him. "Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and He shall lift you up" (James 4:10). Amen.

The Wind Of The Spirit

Eva Marsee

10-04-05 Rosh HaShanah
I had a dream

> Ps.104:3
> He makes the clouds his chariot
> and rides on the wings of the wind.
> He makes winds his messengers, > flames of fire his servants.

I dreamed last night that I was trying to fly. I dream that I am trying to fly all the time. I used to dream that I could fly real high but then I started dreaming that I had to jump off of something, the higher the Cliff or ledge the higher I could fly.
Last night I dreamed that I was going to try and fly and the LORD spoke to me and said if you will call on the wind of the Spirit you will be able to go higher and higher. So I was just standing on the ground and I called on the wind of the Spirit and the Spirit took me real high into the sky. It was wonderful. I felt as though I was with the LORD in the Spirit. I know this dream is just a part of what the LORD is getting ready to do. Always in my dreams where I can fly I am telling people if they will fly with me holding my hands then they will be able to fly by themselves and in turn they can teach others. This dream is so exciting because the LORD was showing me how to help others as well. GOD bless you all. Sister Eva Faye Marsee

The Washtub Vision

Hollie Moody

February 25, 2005 Friday

1 Kings 17:1 ~ "And Elijah the Tishbite, who was of the inhabitants of Gil-e-ad, said unto Ahab, As the Lord God of Israel liveth, before whom I stand, there shall not be dew nor rain these years, but according to my word."

I Kings 18:1, 41-45 ~ "{1} And it came to pass after many days, that the word of the Lord came to Elijah in the third year, saying, Go, show thyself unto Ahab; and I will send rain upon the earth.

{41} And Elijah said unto Ahab, Get thee up, eat and drink; for there is a sound of abundance of rain. {42} So Ahab went up to eat and to drink. And Elijah went up to the top of Carmel; and he cast himself down upon the earth, and put his face between his knees, {43} And said to his servant, Go up now, look toward the sea. And he went up, and looked, and said, There is nothing. And he said, Go again seven times.

{44} And it came to pass at the seventh time, that he said, Behold, there ariseth a little cloud out of the sea, like a man's hand. And he said, Go up, say unto Ahab, Prepare thy chariot, and get thee down, that the rain stop thee not.

{45} And it came to pass in the meanwhile, that the heaven was black with clouds and wind, and there was a great rain..."

1 Kings 19:11-13 ~ "{11} And he <God> said, Go forth, and stand upon the mount before the Lord. And, behold, the Lord passed by, and a great and strong wind rent the mountains, and brake in pieces the rocks before the Lord; but the Lord was not in the wind: and after the wind an earthquake; but the Lord was not in the earthquake:

{12} And after the earthquake a fire; but the Lord was not in the fire: and after the fire a still small voice.

{13} And it was so, when Elijah heard it, that he wrapped his face in his mantle, and went out, and stood in the entering in of the cave. And, behold, there came a voice unto him, and said, What doest thou here, Elijah?"

****

Several months ago, I felt impressed of the Lord to read repeatedly the above quoted verses of Scripture. As I wondered and pondered why these verses of Scripture seemed so compelling to me, my attention was once again drawn to 1 Kings 18:1; in particular, where it reads: "And it came to pass after many days, that the word of the Lord came to Elijah..."

As I finished reading this verse of Scripture, the Lord began to speak to my heart.

"Did Elijah stop being a prophet when My word wasn't coming to him?" The Lord asked me.

This question from the Lord struck my heart and took my breath away. I myself had been enduring a time of great silence from the Lord. Yet even though the silence from the Lord was distressing in many ways, I continued to feel the Lord's presence with me.

Over the past several months, it was as if one tragedy after another was striking my family and loved ones. There were numerous stressful situations occurring at the same time. A spirit of intense weariness settled upon my heart. I usually felt as if I were bracing myself for the next blow to strike.

As I continued to seek the Lord for answers and direction, I had a very strange vision. This vision was so strange to me that I almost dismissed it as silly and unimportant. Yet, it haunted my thoughts. After some time, I felt clarity from the Lord in regard to this simple, "silly" vision.

I would like to share this vision, and what the Lord spoke to me in regard to this vision, with others; especially those prophets of the Most High God who also may be enduring tragedies and/or a time of silence from the Lord.

****

In the vision, I saw a long line of silent men and women. Each of the men and women had on a brown cape that touched the ground and they were staring ahead intently. I glanced in the direction the men and women were looking to see what they were staring at. To my surprise, I saw a large washtub such as was used in bygone days to wash clothes. Hovering over the washtub, I saw an immense hand.

I watched as each of the men and women approached the washtub. The large hand plucked up each man and woman one by one, and very deliberately placed that person (still wrapped within their brown cape) inside the washtub. Then began what I can only describe as a "wash cycle."

During this time of being "washed," each of the men and women were being swirled madly around within the washtub. Soap and water were in their eyes, ears and even in their mouths. The hand also "scrubbed" each of the men and women on a scrubber, then would place them back into the soapy, turbulent water.

As I continued to watch all of this, I became aware of the soft murmuring of a voice. I couldn't make out the words that were being spoken, but the sound of the voice was gentle and soothing.

At the end of the wash cycle, the men and women appeared absolutely exhausted.

Then began the "rinse cycle." The wash water was drained from the washtub, and clean water added. A bucket appeared grasped in the large hand. I watched as the large hand repeatedly poured bucketful after bucketful of water over each of the soapy men and women.

The voice continued to murmur gently and soothingly to the men and women, but with the soap and now the water in their ears, they didn't seem able to hear the sound of the voice.

At the end of the "rinse cycle," I watched as the large hand set the bucket aside, grasped each of the men and women one by one, and placed them into an old fashioned wringer. I gasped with dismay as I saw each of the men and women being completely flattened and having the water pressed from them as they were put through this wringer. Then, the men and women were placed gently into a basket.

By the time this entire process was completed, the men and women were totally limp and exhausted.

Then another hand appeared so that there was now a set of large hands. The hands reached into the basket and gently removed the men and women one by one. The set of hands carried each man and woman to a clothesline and began to "hang" the men and women on the clothesline.

As I stared at the men and women hanging on the clothesline, I saw that each of them had their eyes closed; almost as if they had fallen asleep after the ordeal they had just endured.

I then began to faintly hear the sound of a gentle breeze. This breeze seemed to envelope each of the men and women, and they were gently swaying back and forth on the clothesline. As the breeze gently blew on the men and women, the soft voice continued to murmur to them.

Gradually, the men and women seemed to become aware of the sound of the voice. They opened their eyes, began to slowly look around them, and became more alert.

The hands then took each of the men and women down from the clothesline. The men and women stood silently, as if waiting for something to happen. I realized that during this whole process, not one of the men or women had resisted, or even spoken.

As I stared at the men and women, I saw them become quietly animated. I noticed they were each staring off into the distance at something. I turned to see what it was they were gazing at, and saw a small cloud. The small cloud appeared as if from over the horizon.

Then, each of the men and women set off towards the small cloud, and the vision ended.

****

As I continuously thought upon this vision, the Lord began to speak to me about it.

"Do you know who the men and women are?" The Lord asked me.

"No, Lord," I replied.

"They are My prophets," the Lord replied. "To one degree or another, I have been taking My prophets through a time of being purified and cleansed. For some of them, this process is quite open and apparent. For others, it is hidden and is being accomplished in secret and in isolation. For all of them, though, it is painful; for all within them that is impure or unclean is being laid open and is being dealt with and cleansed."

"Why, Lord?" I asked.

"For the coming days ahead," the Lord replied. "As I have been dealing with My prophets, so will I also be dealing with each of My children. When this cleansing process comes upon each of My children, My prophets will be there to aide in this process."

"What is the purpose of this process, Lord?" I asked.

"I am moving in a different manner than I have before," the Lord answered. "I am speaking differently. Each of My prophets, and also each of My children, must be attuned to the changes in the way I am moving and speaking. If they are not attuned to these changes, they will overlook and miss My purpose and My will, and what it is I desire to see accomplished."

"And what is it that You desire to see accomplished, Lord?" I asked.

"I desire for My prophets to not only speak My word," the Lord replied. "I desire them to also have a solution to the word I give them to speak, and to know through My Spirit how to apply the interpretation of My word to them."

I felt confused by this answer.

"You do not understand, child?" The Lord asked me. I admitted that I did not.

"When I speak a word of warning or of coming calamity to one of My prophets," the Lord explained, "not only do I desire that prophet to speak forth the word of warning, I desire them to also have a solution to the coming calamity. Speaking forth My word is no longer totally acceptable to Me," the Lord said. "I would also have My prophets to become so mature in Me that they will also have clear direction for others in regard to the word I speak to them. Now do you understand?"

"Yes, Lord," I replied.

"The cleansing process for My prophets and also for My children," the Lord continued, "is for them to come to maturity. When they are mature, then will I arise with total strength and glory in the midst of My people.

"The danger, though, during this process is that of My prophets and My children becoming dejected and overwhelmed by the situations I will and have been bringing upon them, and for them to quit.

"Another danger is that of not restoring and strengthening those who I will expose during the cleansing process. Before there is a cleansing of the flesh, there is first a decaying of the flesh. Whenever the flesh is decaying, there is a stench. The stench of the flesh decaying for many of My prophets and My children will be offensive to many others, yet it is not My desire for their backs to be turned upon those who are going through the decaying process.

"This is a very delicate time spiritually for My prophets and eventually for My children," the Lord continued. "Souls hang in the balance, and it will be through the maturity of My prophets and then of My children, that the fate of these souls will be decided."

****

When the Lord ceased speaking to me, I was amazed and tremendously humbled by this simple, at first glance almost seemingly silly, vision of a washtub that the Lord had shared with me. I began to grasp the enormous magnitude of how the Lord is currently moving and speaking to us.

It is my sincere desire and hope that others of the prophets and God's children who are enduring a cleansing and also a decaying to the flesh process may be encouraged and strengthened through this vision.

In Him, ~~ Hollie L. Moody

Tumble Weed Vision

Terri Derocher

Sunday August 14, 2005

"I said, "How Do You Wrap Your Arms Around A Tumble Weed?"

Hi again body of Christ: Here is the promised second message of the two words given to me last night at the beginning of Tisha B'Av. As I shared with you before the first was a strategy given for Israel for today and this week and I wanted to get it out first as we need to walk through that one. Please refer to the first message sent out…a New Way To Pray On Tisha B' Av.

Last night as I was worshipping the Lord I had the feeling of just wanting to run away and hide with the Lord as sometimes I don't understand myself and then wonder if I don't understand myself OR my emotions then how can anyone else. It was in this place, lying on the floor, trying to be as small as possible, that I saw a tumble weed and then felt it was myself. When I first saw this I didn't perceive it as a good thing as I thought OH Lord that's me. I looked at that horrible plant and said, "How do you wrap your arms around a tumble weed ?" I was tired of rolling from place to place. We have rolled from coast to coast in my husband's occupation but we have had wonderful church families. There are so many best friends, prayer partners, wonderful pastors, and ministries that we have said goodbye to over these past 17 or so years, hundreds of them we have had to leave in many states. It has been difficult to maintain those relationships because of the sheer numbers. Many of you that I love so much and have had to leave are on this mailing list and sometimes this is the only communication we have with each other for months, even years. I've heard bloom where you are planted and I have cried "Lord let me stay long enough to see apples on the tree we've planted". (I've seen it now.. Thank you). Anyway there have been difficult, painful times in these moves but joy also. You are some of that joy. Back to this vision…

For those of you who weren't raised in the Western United States (I'm a Wyoming girl) we have a rolling weed, a specific plant that breaks off and rolls in the fall. If you look at the old western movies you may see these weeds rolling through the dust as the cowboy comes into the abandoned town. My boys (and maybe even my husband from R. I.) thought these things were mythical and I still remember the fun of my sons actually seeing them for the first time when we moved to the Northwest from New Hampshire a little over four years ago. They yelled and screamed and the youngest, especially wanted to run and catch them as they rolled along or flew by! They only stop rolling if the wind stops blowing or they get caught in a fence (usually in a huge bunch of twenty or more). So that's a tumble weed.

Well here is how the Lord turned what I thought was ugly into something beautiful. He showed me this plants life cycle. Some of these plants grow taller than a man. They form giant balls. They are covered with green seeds. When growing they are tough and unbreakable. You'd need clippers or a shovel to get them out of the soil as the root grows deep. But this plant has adapted itself to the wide open spaces of the west and has a unique way of reproducing. When HARVEST time comes (the autumn) they dry up and the plant breaks off at ground level. Then they begin to roll with the wind. By this time these big healthy ball-shaped plants are brown and dried out, light as a feather and covered with thousand of seeds which break off everywhere. As the plant rolls, the seed scatters. Then new baby plants grow the following spring from the scattered seed.

Here is what I heard the Holy Spirit speak about the tumble weeds. “You are one of many of my plants that I have nurtured and are full of seed. I have thousand upon thousands of you. I send you where I want you as I know you will drop seed everywhere. You are my disciples. You don’t even know where this seed is growing now. You just roll where my wind (the Holy Spirit) sends you. Many of you are caught in this fence of the enemy and I am telling you that I have brought the wire cutters. I am cutting open that fence NOW and you will again roll where I desire you to roll. Do not be concerned that you seem ugly and that no one will desire to wrap their arms around you. Leave that to me. Beauty is in the eyes of the beholder and it is I who am beholding your beauty now. I will make your beauty shine. The fence is opened…. just roll. Roll onto ships, roll onto planes, roll into canyons where none have rolled before….just roll. It’s harvest time. Go spread the word (seed).

For those Messianic Jews now in Israel, fighting the good fight and interceding for their brothers and sisters, I believe this word is even more significant for you. You have rolled for centuries through pogroms and persecutions and now by accepting that Jesus Christ, Yeshua ha Mashiach is the promised Messiah you have been rejected by many of your own families. Friends have rejected you because of your faith. You have felt like a misfit. BUT GOD….says I am making you beautiful, I am making you huggable. I have made you lovable. I have placed my anointing upon you and you will SHINE in the darkness. Seeds are beginning to grow, really…..just roll!

Love in Jesus Christ
Terri Derocher
www.LovelettersfromHeaven.com Paintings covered in scripture
www.daytopray.com
Pray For The Peace of Jerusalem

The Year of Mephibosheth
Michael Webb

This is the year of Mephibosheth. Mephibosheth was Jonathan's crippled son. He was five when his father, Jonathan, and grandfather, Saul, were killed, twelve when David was made king over Israel, and approximately seventeen to twenty when King David searched him out and restored him. Mephibosheth in Hebrew means destroying shame. Five is the number of grace, and twelve represents God's governmental authority in the Earth.

Mephibosheth represents the Body of Christ, which has been "lame" for a number of years. During the time of his exile, Mephibosheth lived in the house of Machir, which in Hebrew means salesman, in Lodebar, which means pastureless. He lived in fear that King David would search him out and kill him because he was of the lineage of the house of Saul. This was not the case, however. David commands his servant, Ziba, meaning strength in Hebrew, to find Mephibosheth and return him, saying "he shall eat at my table, as one of the king's sons." (2Sam11b)

For many years, a "lame" Church has lived and hidden in the "house of salesmen," in a land "without pasture" out of fear and deception. However, this is the year The King asks, "Is there any left of the house of Saul, that I may show him kindness for Jonathan's sake?" (2Sam. 9:1) In Hebrew, Saul means asked for. In many ways the Church has gotten what it "asked for." Now, however, The King is saying, "Come and sit at my table, as one of My sons."

This year, in both the natural and the spiritual realms, the Body will be invited to sit at the King's table. This will be a year of unprecedented invitation to sit at the table of earthly kings and be treated as a "son." This is also a season of invitation from our Heavenly King to come out of the "house of salesmen," out of a land where there is no "pasture," and sit at His table, where there is abundance and friendship. This is the year when the Lord will "destroy shame" off the Body of Christ. We must be careful, however, that the "Zibas," meaning strength in Hebrew, who covet Mephibosheth's rightful inheritance, do not steal from the Body that which is desired for us by The King.

Launch Out Into the Deep
Michael Webb

We are living in extraordinary days; perhaps the most extraordinary time since Jesus walked the Earth. There are many who believe that we may well be the "Canaan Generation" who will remain alive and see the long-awaited return of our Savior and Lord. May it be so, Lord Jesus. Extraordinary times call for extraordinary faith.

Many of us are at critical junctures in our personal or professional lives, and, most importantly, in our walk with the Lord. We are like the Apostle Peter who, upon seeing the Lord walking on the water asks, "Is that you Lord?" The Lord says, "Be of good cheer, it is I, do not fear." To which Peter responds, "If it is you, Lord, bid me come." The Lord replies, "Come." (Matt. 14:25-33) It is very important in this season that we understand the meaning of this scripture as it applies to us TODAY. We must all determine where we are in the context of this passage, and press forward like Peter. It is time to get out of the boat. It is far better to be “a wet water-walker rather than a dry boat rider.”

We must have a passionate faith, like the woman with the issue of blood. She wanted to touch the hem of our Lord’s garment so desperately, and thus be healed, that she risked being stoned to death. We must have the kind of servant’s heart like the man at midnight, who, upon waking to find unexpected guests knocking at his door, began going house to house in the dark of the night until he found someone to give him food for his friends. We must have a passion to reach out and touch the lost, even as Jesus did. A passion born out of an intimate relationship with our Heavenly Father which results in Jesus becoming not only the Shepherd of our souls, but the Bishop as well. (1Pet.2:25). We must have a desire to see the Kingdom of God breaking forth in all the Earth, coupled with a willingness to lay down our lives for those whom the Lord sends us to. Scripture teaches that we overcome the world because Jesus overcame the world, and because He lives in us through the power of the Holy Spirit. Jesus taught that “the kingdom of God suffers violence and the violent take it by force.” This means that we, by the power of the Holy Spirit, have the ability to defeat God’s enemy, the devil, “by the blood of the lamb, the word of our testimony, and by loving our lives not unto the death.” (Rev. 12:11)

In the Gospel of Luke we read of an account that is pertinent to what the Lord is saying to His Body today. Simon Peter, along with James, John, and Andrew, had been fishing all night and caught nothing. Simon encounters Jesus Who commands the future disciple and Apostle to “launch out into the deep.” Simon argues saying, “We have fished all night and caught nothing.” In effect, he was saying to Jesus, we fish for a living and we know that the prime time to catch fish is at night. You are the son of a carpenter. What do you know about fishing? Nevertheless, the men obey and Scripture tell us that Simon and the others with him were “astonished at the draught of fishes which they had taken.” (Lk. 5:4-10) The Holy Spirit is calling out to His Body and saying, “Launch out into the deep.” Many have gone before and caught nothing, but if you will go at My command, you will be astonished at what you catch. Our obedience to our Lord’s commands is much better than all of our sacrifices to Him. We must be about our Father’s business and endeavor to say only that which we hear Him saying, and do that which we see Him doing. More than ever before, we must allow Him to increase in us so that we might decrease. Our passionate desire must be to see the manifestation of His Glory, instead of our own. (Jn.14:21)

It is no small thing in these difficult times to accept Christ as our Lord and Savior. It is an even greater battle to remain steadfast and unwavering in our faith. Yet, we are commanded “not to grow weary in well-doing.” We are promised that if we persevere unto the end, we can anticipate hearing these precious words of our Lord: “Well done, good and faithful servant.” How sweet the sound of His voice will be on that day!

Take Your Place

Lanna Perry

29th April, 2005
Sydney, Australia

chosenwarriorprincess@yahoo.com.au

A great moving and shaking has begun. Many of you, my precious warriors are feeling as if a great moving and shaking has come to your lives. A battle that has been intense and you feel as though you have been shaken and stirred.

I have not left each of you. I have not moved, I have not turned my back and I have not walked away. I am standing with you. I am standing beside you and am with you. Nothing, absolutely nothing has taken My love for each of you away.

The enemy has been targeting key people in My Kingdom lately, those that I am doing great things through, targeting them, and doing all he can to bring them down. Doing all he can from keeping them from their rightful place, but I have given each of you the tools, the weapons to fight against him.

The shaking has begun in your lives. What has seemed like asteroids have been sent towards your lives, and you feel like you are being bombarded from every angle. Do not be afraid my precious warriors, for I have seen this, and I have allowed the trials and attacks to come. To strengthen your faith. To strengthen your footing in Me. You may feel you have tripped and fallen, but I have picked you up, dusted each of you off, and placed your feet in their rightful position again.

Fire is coming upon each of you. I am purifying each of you. The trials are here, will you serve Me in the fire?

Time is short. It is time for each of My children to take their rightful places. Many of you are wondering where your rightful places are, and to you I say wait on Me, for I am about to show you the next step. The enemy is now coming in, and offering the counterfeit blessing that I long to give you. Do not give in, but wait on Me and I shall rise you up and show you truth.

Do not look at circumstances of people around you, but look at Me, My precious jewels. The enemy is bringing deception and distraction to each of you, to get your eyes off what is to come. Governmental influences are about to change, deceit is about to take it’s hold in circumstances and situations around each of you, that the only way you can stand is to look straight to Me. Make sure that each of you are grounded in Me, and looking to My Word.

Many within My body are now beginning to feed off deception, and manipulation, and many within My church, My body are tearing down those that I have placed in primary positions. Be aware My church.

Keep your eyes on Me My children. Take your rightful places with Me. Whether that be waiting before Me, taking a stand for me, and or stepping out for Me, take your rightful place. Do not let the enemy steal what I have given you. Allow Me to strengthen each of you now.

The great shaking coming to this world has begun in the lives of you My children, and in My church, and is now about to come to this world in greater ways. There is no time to mess around My children. Come to Me. Take your place, and get serious about walking with Me.

Look at the price, and pay the price for Me. Many of you do not understand what I am doing in your lives or situations around you. Do not look to them, but look to Me, and know that I am moving NOW, and I am about to breakthrough into your lives and place you where you need to be, and the enemy is trying to stop this.

Stand firm My church. Stand firm in Me.

Take Your Stand (Part Two)
Lanna Perry

Ist May, 2005
Sydney Australia
Chosenwarriorprincess@yahoo.com.au

My precious children, I have called each of you to come and stand at your post. Are you standing at the post that I have spoken to you to stand at? Have you taken the steps that I have asked you to, to step forth at the post that I have asked you to stand at?

I am now bringing forth, you, My warriors, I am now bringing you forth. What do warriors fight for? What keeps the warriors fighting? It's their passion, and determination for the cause of which they are fighting for.

As you My warriors keep seeking Me, and knowing Me, you shall grow deeper in knowing your cause. Me! Many of you are not fighting for your cause, but for yourselves. Come to Me, and check your hearts in the light of My love. Come and see the true state of your hearts.

Are you standing at the post I have called you too and fighting for Me, or for you? Are you fighting to see the Glory of My name be brought forth, or are you fighting for yourselves? Are you fighting so others may see your stance in Me, and so many may see you?

Many of you are at crossroads. Trials and attacks have brought you to a crossroads and you now must choose which post you will stand at. The post I have called you to stand at, or your own. Choose today.

Many of you are fighting with what I see as pillows. Things that are not of Me. Things that protect you for a short while, but are eventually penetrated, and then you are wounded. At your post, you must fight with the tools and weapons I have given each of you. Not your own strength, not your own wisdom, for what is your strength and wisdom compared to Mine, My children? Stop using pillows to fight your battles, and start using My weapons.

Come out My children. Stand at your post and fight passionately and diligently, for the One and Only true cause. Me. Keep your cause in focus and fight in My strength. Leave everything else not of Me behind, and fight where and with what I have given you.

Stop serving your selfish desires, and the posts that you think you should stand at, and stand at My post. Lay down your posts, and stand at the post that the Lord Almighty has called you to stand at.

I am now sifting through My church. Those that are truly abandoned to Me, and are living completely for Me, will be seen standing at their posts and those that are not will be seen standing at theirs. It's time for the real warriors to come forth. Those that are willing to lay down their lives for Me. For My children you are either fully for Me, or fully against Me. You cannot have a foot at My post and a foot at yours.

Trust Me to give you all you need. Trust Me that I know the desires of your heart, and will give you better than you dream, lay down yourself, trust Me, and take your stand at the post of the Almighty.

Unity In My Army

Tim Cook

I need to write His words about Unity in the Army.

"I am circulating My church. When I find one who passionately prays for Unity in the Body .... I will gather them in. Then I will network them with a few close friends of like mind and cause them to watch each others backs and encourage each other. In the spirit they will be perfectly suited to each other - and their very past lives will PROPHECY to the other - deeper and higher than just words! They will click into place like DESTINY. Their whole daily lives and dreams and experiences will PREACH hope and restoration and joy to the other. It will be TRUE synchronicity. A perfect unity only Heaven can create. They will truly watch each others backs - often without knowing it. Laying down their lives for each other will simply become the norm - they will carry My cross within the very fibre of their being. They will walk straight into their destiny without looking sideways, or slowing down. They will heal and deliver and restore and destroy demonic strongholds - again - just by their simple obedience and by them carrying My Spirit of Might and Counsel within them.

When I illuminate one of their kind - they will be snatched into the Army - the family - into safety - into Unity. A sortie will be sent out to find and rescue them. They will stand strong, shoulder to shoulder – as watchmen. And they will look afar off and constantly scan the spiritual realm, and see a snake coming, or an archer, or a wolf, and will run to intercept it and ask for My DISCERNMENT. They will say to the intruder “Are you one of us – who are you – what is your mission?" And the demon will reply some lie, but what the soldier will hear and see will be the truth – and they will take it out or send it away as the Lord directs – thus protecting the Body of Christ. And the Army will march to new territory – because I have a new mission. They will speak and write prophecies and broadcast them – fire and forget heat seeking missiles – Holy Water arrows to explode. And then I myself will carry those arrows directly to the intended target – although often the speakers will have no clue where in My Army is the intended recipient – they’ll just be obedient to fire and forget and move on to chase intimacy. They will heal people and the land and the air as they march past – just by the atmosphere of Heaven they carry, and streams will spring up beneath their feet. Some will carry a Crown of Thorns anointing which will absorb mental sickness into Myself. Some will carry My very whip scars on their backs which will absorb sickness when they touch someone. Sometimes people will ask help of them by the side of the road – but the soldier will only do what he or she sees My Father doing in Heaven – and may say – sorry friend I’m on a mission – but pray for us because this mission will heal thousands of you – I can’t stop but Jesus will touch you in His time.

This will seem strange to other Christians, but we will march on – single-minded and focused on our King. They will weep My tears as they walk, and drip the very Oil of My nobility, and scatter Kingdom jewels into the crowd. They will break bread and drink wine in remembrance of Me every time they meet - not in dead religion – but just as a Love Feast even if it takes seconds – in passing as it were. And the Communion – the exchange – will mean Brother, Sister – Give me Jesus in your heart and life – give me some Bread – what’s He shown you today because what you have today is unique and essential for my own nourishment and strength – also have some of my Bread and New Wine – because you also need what Jesus has done with me today. Having eaten the body and drunk the blood of Jesus – Servant King – they will despise and scorn the stale maggoty bread and stale bitter wine that many Christians are living from – because they will always be like salmon who swim upstream against the current to the Source – seeking always the purest flow.True Unity is coming, I will build My Church and the gates of Hell will not prevail against it. Amen.”

Be Blessed and guided by the King

Stairs

Tim Cook

"Oh my dove, that art in the clefts of the rock, in the secret places of the stairs, let me see thy countenance, let me hear thy voice; for sweet is thy voice, and thy countenance is comely." Song of Solomon 2:14 (AV)

"Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit in me." Psalm 51:10

"Do not be yoked together with unbelievers. For what do righteousness and wickedness have in common? Or what fellowship can light have with darkness? … For we are the temple of the living God… Touch no unclean thing, and I will receive you, I will be a Father to you, and you will be my sons and daughters … Since we have these promises, dear friends, let us purify ourselves from everything that contaminates body and spirit, perfecting holiness out of reverence for God." 2 Corinthians 6:14-7:1

"Who may ascend the hill of the Lord? Who may stand in his holy place? He who has clean hands and a pure heart, who does not lift up his soul to an idol, or swear falsely." Psalm 24:3-4

"I will lead the blind by ways they have not known, along unfamiliar paths I will guide them; I will turn the darkness into light before them and make the rough places smooth. These are the things I will do; I will not forsake them… Forget the former things; do not dwell on the past. See, I am doing a new thing…" Isaiah 42:16; 43:18

"Enter his gates with thanksgiving and his courts with praise." Psalm 100:4

"Be perfect, therefore, as your heavenly Father is perfect." Matthew 5:48

I saw the stairs – and they were wide, but quite dark, and also the steps were perfectly formed. And they represented the pursuit of righteousness and holiness, and an ever deeper discovery of God in a person's life. A man stood on the stairs, at a junction between impenetrable darkness down below – and a lighter level. He held the arm of a woman, and was arguing, and debating and begging with her. They exchange papers and part company – he turns and runs upwards. I was with the Spirit and we would fly around these stairs to see the vision from different angles. I realised that the Lord was showing me my own recent history.

The vision was quite dark at this stage. I thought I was quite righteous – but in reality I was still in some measure of darkness. I could see other scenes from my life which were away from the stairs, and they made me feel scared, sad or discouraged. Plus the Lord wanted me not to really dwell on this bit of my past – just to be aware of where I had come from. And here the Lord taught me, and He also surrounded me with His thick darkness, like a protective and comforting cloak;

"You learned too late that the husband has to lay down his life for his wife. However – My grace to you was to use the opportunity to snatch you up into My arms. For many of My people – their struggle on their road of righteousness will not be an easy one – but I will extend My wisdom into their situation – and teach them Christ likeness through their relationship problems. The scenes from your life that shame you are eternally covered by My darkness and My forgetfulness. The truly repentant will not be humiliated by Me – just certain pages of their life in Heaven will be left blank. The fallen sons and daughters of Adam and Eve cannot handle what they truly are, they cannot bear it Tim. You cannot bear your own sin – to see yourselves as you truly are would ultimately drive you mad. Why do you think I sent My Son to bear it and bear the insanity for you? And so we have a small dilemma (smile) … because I have to make you perfect, and to do that you must know the Truth and be set free. So I reveal your inner darkness a little at a time, absorb it in the Cross, and heal you up, but I will also hold before your eyes a vision of what I'm making you into! Otherwise you'd perish. Don't be afraid little one – move on."

And so the man runs up the stairs, and circles a large bomb crater within the stairs. A couple of servants are repairing it, brick by brick. "I'm sorry … thank you for your work here … but I can't repent any deeper – I must move on! There is very deep pain here, and some wounds take a long time to repair, but don't be afraid – I make all things new. Move on."

The man cannot see the stairs. He is blind. So he weeps and he dances to his Christian music – because a fresh joy is calling to him from somewhere so deep and timeless. The stairs are gone – or invisible. And where his feet dance, and his tears of repentance and brokenness fall, stones of the stairs appear and light up white, because from underneath the Holy Spirit is placing His hands on the stairs and making a way. And so the man is slowly and steadily climbing without realising it. And he learns to advance on invisible stairs – by dancing.

Then suddenly his head breaks through into a much lighter realm! And his head is above the sea and he can see an island and a beach. From here he is also caught up into some very high places. "This is a good place – the threshold of the place of visions. Many seers dwell here quite happily, but I wanted you higher – Move on!" Again the stairs were quite invisible, and yet I could see them! laugh Don't ask me how. I guess they kind of sparkled around the edges. The stairs were about half the width of what they were below.

Now we are pretty much synchronous. Our time is concurrent. I am walking up slowly – quite sober and in awe at what I'm seeing. Yet another veil of water and lightness is passed. For several minutes it is so bright that I am blinded. Then I begin to see healing rooms, and horses in a paddock. "Ministries are formed and released here, and ministries are healed here." There is a steam sauna – fed by boiling clean water and healing leaves. We sit and breathe it in – and the steam clears and heals the head. "Stay here as long as you need." A man sits opposite, very depressed, very angry. An angel comforts him. Bless that ministry in recovery Jesus. From here I see a large white horse at a higher level, beginning to kneel, but it's not yet time for me to climb on. The stairs upwards are very clean, white, and very narrow. "Who may ascend the hill of the Lord? You cannot last long here yet – and will only ascend higher for short periods because you are not pure. But the longer you stay and the higher you go – the more the Lord will purify you."

Sometimes I'm here to quietly heal and commune with the healers or teachers. The first time, however, I was prancing about full of excitement to go higher. The servant laughs at my joy and youthful exuberance. I love this guy. Then I am suddenly before Jesus – still leaping about in a very holy place.

We stand in a dim hall. Above His hand is the planet Earth - spinning. "Isn't she beautiful, Tim" He breathes. "She is groaning and travailing and tearing herself apart – trying to heal herself from the pollution and wounds of the Fall – and calling for the Kingdom sons to heal her. But the wounds are deep. But look – My Word holds her together – and she shall be healed." And I saw an inner net of blue lines – which were pure and would not break.

Tim Cook

http://www.ourchurch.com/member/i/inspiredlight/

Academy
Tim Cook

"… but let him who boasts boast about his: that he understands and knows me, that I am the Lord. Who exercises kindness, justice and righteousness on earth, for in these I delight, declares the Lord." Jeremiah 9:24

"Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh (the cravings of sinful man), and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life (the boasting of what he has and does), is not of the Father, but is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever." I John 2:15-17 (AV – NIV in parenthesis)

"If any man builds on this foundation (Jesus Christ) using gold, silver, costly stones, wood, hay , or straw, his work will be shown for what it is, because the Day will bring it to light. It will be revealed with fire, and the fire will test the quality of each man's work. If what he has built survives, he will receive his reward. So then, no more boasting about men! All things are yours, whether Paul or Apollos or Cephas … all are yours." 1 Cor 3:12-14, 21

Jesus sits at a desk – a serious Statesman. "Oh no", says my heart, "I'm not ready for this – I'm still being purified." And I try to hover inconspicuously in the background. I'm getting scared because Jesus is so serious – yet I have been summoned. Earnest angels are appearing constantly at the King's desk – presenting prayers and petitions from the saints to the King – and dashing off. The Government seat of Heaven is a constant flurry of business and activity. Sometimes He keeps a messenger waiting –and they are dancing on tenterhooks of anticipation – as He slowly and carefully crafts a reply. I love these guys and their zeal for the every thought of the King. He hands it back to the angel – who is allowed to read it – and often exclaims in happiness and joy at the King's response – and dashes off down to the earth with the message or errand. Angels are dashing in from all corners of the compass constantly. But Jesus works at the speed of light and no time is being wasted. He seems to be dealing with many angels simultaneously. Occasionally he glances at me. I've never seen Him look at me without smiling before, except for when He was prophesying to me from the Cross.

He raises His hand and stops time. All the angels freeze into blurred stillness. I know that this is serious. This is a business meeting of a Father, to discuss the future career of a son in the House. Jesus is pacing around a bit, hands behind His back, sometimes going to look out of the window, or to rustle some papers on the desk. He is crafting His Words in His mind to perfectly convey what this agonised child needs to hear. Like no-one on earth He is taking my every word totally seriously. This has never happened to me before – and the tears start to spring – Oh Lord I'm so sorry – I didn't think you were listening – I'm so sorry. And all the angels I have seen have been accumulating a pile of my own cries and petitions. One angel is frozen in gold – with one of my letters. This is blowing my mind again – Oh this place is too Holy.

In our mind He is sifting through all of my deepest heart prayers (e.g. for revival) – and yearnings to be useful in the Kingdom and to please Him. He takes a diamond out of the hand of the golden angel. And He begins to sift and list with me all of my requests and to show me what are the desires that He has placed in my heart. I don't think that we reached any definite conclusions about what I would do – but some new visions were being birthed. At one point He said, "Tim, all of this is good – those are selfish, and some are excellent – and those prayers on My desk which are silver or gold or jewels are from My heart into yours as you were created and spun. Now you are champing at the bit to race into ministry full tilt, yet you know that there are times of preparation and also hidden ministries. Please will you allow Me to sift your prayers with your highest interests in My mind, and to burn the dross…. son – what's your greatest fear at this time?"

"To become one of those writers that Rick Joyner saw who brings more glory to himself than he does to You. Please – whatever happens please let Yourself be glorified and myself decrease. Don't let me be found a foolish virgin on the outskirts of Heaven – let me produce the gold and be only a blessing to Your people. But if I can't write the vision I don't know what I'd do!"

"Tim, many of My wise people fear this – and many who don't, should. Right, let Me teach you… in My House are different quality wines. Some ministries are indeed building themselves a financial empire and a monument, and therefore producing poor quality wine, even though that wine is still useful for nourishing My sheep. Some have a hidden ministry in My Kingdom and will never be known. Some have a pulpit ministry and are well known – as Rick Joyner said, this can be a heavy burden. I didn't tell Peter or Paul to stay hidden in case they took some of My glory did I? I sent them out – and they made sure that everyone gave glory to Me. I don't want to create lights and then hide them under a bushel – and I need people to shine My light to the unsaved. I don't wish you to bury your talent – and what you're doing is pleasing Me. Just keep the cloak of humility and keep in step with Me. You will also operate in the hidden places which few will see. Don't be afraid to bubble over with the Living Waters. Why do you burn with fire and oil as you write? Because My holiness is winnowing and anointing your every word and motivation – continue to be My pen to My Bride and you'll be safe. If you don't feel anointed – don't write – what's the point? When words of merely human wisdom are many, sin and confusion and boredom flourish, and My House is filled with rubbish. As to the others – let Me be the Judge."

"Your first Mount of Prophets vision was your personal introduction to My prophetic Academy. In the academic world, the students and teachers do honour to each other by quoting their sources and inspirations. You do well to quote your teachers – it does them honour. Keep doing so. It is the same as two knights passing on a road and saluting in respect to each other. It is honouring your fathers' wells. In fact – not to quote them would be a kind of theft. However – it is no dishonour to become like *your teachers – quite the contrary. All things in My House are yours. Chase the highest anointing, chase the gold, chase the purest Wine and the freshest Bread smile"* He showed me one of His Halls. "There are Halls of fame here, Halls of My heroes. Books of Destiny are being written and will be read for all time. It is no sin to seek to do exploits for Me. As I have revealed to Tod Bentley's team – I am seeking to download Kingdom secrets to My closest friends – keep chasing Me. Guard your heart. Keep your deepest dreams on the Altar of Sacrifice. Let Me lead you every day. Trust the new friendships I am forming."

And peace was coming over me on one level. On another I was burning. "Lord I always seem to be before You in some form of agony - painful laugh - it's getting embarrassing. He smiled and touched my heart. "The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning. I have told you – you carry My fire – My judgement – it winnows you constantly. You are in the process of overcoming the corruption in the world, plus snakes have spit their venom onto you – and you must worship free of this. You are overcoming lust of the eyes. You have avoided fasting up till now, but this would help you overcome some of the lust of the flesh and spirits of greed in the world.

"The most difficult is usually the pride of life – boasting about what you do and are. Your inner rejection is actually closely linked to human pride – and your heart is sending out little hooks without you knowing to get people to validate you. Their hooks of insecurity also get embedded in you. I know that you and your friends are struggling through this at this time – but boast and rejoice in Me and My Kingdom ways and I will keep you safe. I am teaching you the difference between flattery and affirmation*. My kids desperately need accurate affirmation – not flattery. Affirmation comes from Heaven - and to practice this one to the other constantly is a serious command from Me. Flattery is from the darkness. I can deal with these things, and will.* Jesus – please purify the hearts and motivations of the prophets in your Academy – your School of the Spirit. Indeed – but I don't want you guys to stop operating just because you've discovered some deep inner sin – just get pure and move on. My gifts do not depend on your own worthiness. Cover and teach and release each other in Love – ask Me for a word of Wisdom.

*"If I can get my operatives to collapse to their knees in total repentance with a flash of fire from My eyes, or a single thought from My mind – then we can work together. You don't realise when the thief was creeping up behind you, but I see him sigh trouble is I then have to somehow bypass the long detour into condemnation, shame and self-hate – that's all enemy territory – and he's prowling around the outskirts of My Kingdom with a whole variety of chains and prisons for the new prophets. My anointing and grace for this season is to get trained and healed on the job – on the march – things are speeding up. I'd rather work with broken people who know they're desperately sick and need a Doctor – than with the self-righteous. Many of My abused people don't believe that once we* have an employment contract – I never drop or betray them – we don't bury the wounded here – it's a life commitment. The man you saw in the healing rooms may have fallen into sin – but we still visit together – and I am committed to him for life. I do not abandon the broken.

*"You're learning that a fall from Grace is always a second or a thought away. I don't change in your vision quest – you do. The enemy entered Peters heart totally unawares and spoke to Me. Guard your heart – I keep breaking you and allowing you to stumble – to keep one step ahead of the enemy in your life. And there are reasons why I am calling out imperfect and wounded children to operate in My House – and giving them gifts. My Kingdom is invading the Internet – and I am setting up prophetic guards and healers and arsenals at strategic points on the email networks, chat rooms and websites. This is my new "surfer anointing" grin Surfers and prophets will increasingly meet and greet in the Spirit and in vision, as Bob Jones does – and I will show My soldiers around situations in the Spirit and they will pray into those situations – bringing Kingdom blessing into people's lives from halfway across the planet. Be open to this kind of ministry.*

"Tod Bentleys team taught you that an open portal in Heaven occurs when the prayers of a heart begin to mesh precisely with the Father's heart – and this is beginning with your life. Pursue it. Let deep call unto deep everyday. Don't stop groaning and crying out to me for your nation – and for the School of Prophets – because you are birthing a portal."

And as I fell off the cliff of vision because of the battle against corruption and doubt in my mind and soul, the Holy Spirit feathers and the hand of Father God gently caught me and floated me back to the Houses of Healing.

Tim Cook

http://www.ourchurch.com/member/i/inspiredlight/

Unity In My Spirit
Catharina Schouten - Meijer

Not a spirit of unity; but unity in MY Spirit!

23-9-2005 6:27:19
Genesis 11 3-4
they said: Let's build a city with a tower that reaches to the sky! We'll use hard bricks and tar instead of stone and mortar. We'll become famous, and we won't be scattered all over the world.

Out of the book of Revelation 17 and 18
I AM THE GREAT CITY OF BABYLON, THE MOTHER OF EVERY IMMORAL AND FILTHY THING ON EARTH.

“Pity that great and powerful city!
Pity Babylon!
In a single hour
her judgment has come.”

The Lord woke me up with this word, and I this is what I saw next:
I saw people who where busy with baking stones and building themselves a tower.
Each stone had a name:

- Me
- Pride
- Identical spirit of unity
- Quarrel
- False position
- Darkness
- Lack of love
- satan is the ruler – spirit of me, me and more

And the tower that I saw fall down.

Out of the book of Genesis 11
7 Come on! Let's go down and confuse them by making them speak different languages —then they won't be able to understand each other.

The Father made it clear to me that trying to make the unity among each other, without listening to His voice, will have this result in the end:
It will be like a city with a tower of pride, where there will be no light, there will be complete darkness, people will be identical, and will have the mark of the beast!
Pride, Manipulation Identical people (nobody will nor can be an unique person) there will be no love, and all of them shall w*ear* the mark of the beast.
Satan will rule!
And finally everything will be destroyed.

The unity the Lord will make however will be like this:

- He will have the first place as the Alpha and the Omega and we will serve each other.
- Humble

- Unity in diversity and the unity will come through His Spirit.
- Love
- His path will be straight
- Light
- Warmth
- God - The Spirit of Love with Humbleness - and we will love Him above everything else…

Word of the Lord:

"I Am calling out an army.
It will be an army that I will raise and I will make
They all will listen to My voice. And the mark they will have is MY LOVE
I Am calling MY army!
They will be one and on the other hand, everyone will be an unique person.
Because when I created the world I have created unique people
All of them I created with a free will, and I will not take that away…..
Only the sinful things I will remove like for instance pride ……
The unity that I Am creating will show the world MY love.

That is why I tell you, stop! Know that I Am the Lord your God, I will build and I will destroy….
I will brake and I will bind…..
The army that I create will serve Me, every stone will be resting on a cement of My love….
They will understand each other through My Spirit….
This army will be built : Not by might not by power but through My Spirit says the Lord….

My army will be caring the light , My city will be a city of glass….(crystal)
Because when Gold is in its purist shape it is like glass….
But if gold manifest s its self as glass it means that it has been through tremendous heat….
I take My children through purification …..I take them through the fire of My purification…..
And they will become (look like) glass…..
Anyone who refuses this process can not be a part of My army….
Through the fire I will remove every sin, that you could see by the building of the tower
It was a tower build on pride, and manpower
What shall remain is an army that will shine My light speak through My Spirit and will show My love.
It will reflect the city of the New Jerusalem"

Out of the book of Revelation and the city was made of pure gold, clear as crystal.

COPYRIGHT POLICY: Articles and prophetic words may be copied for free distribution or personal use provided they are reproduced in their entirety and with no changes. If printed in a publication, 'or copied to a website' we have one request: Please include the following information with the article Will you mention there names and website address: http://www.tesjoeva.nl
So people can ask questions and have the opportunity to contact Catharina.

Underground Church
Mario Liu

Over the past years some of our friends have been hearing independently from God about the 'underground church.'

Recently I was reminded of a prophecy given in early 1998 when Robert and I were praying together with a prophetess from South Australia.

That prophecy is included below, followed by two extracts of responses from members of the list to recent postings.

May the Lord bless you

Mario

Subject: GOD'S UNDERGROUND ARMY Date: Wed, 4 Feb 1998 06:07:11 +1100 From: Robert Holmes

I want to share an encounter we had with a prophet from South Australia last week. Mind blowing... she prophesied this:

The Lord says, "Now is the time to build and establish my underground church. It is underground for it is hidden from the authorities. It is a network operating outside the structures, hidden and obscure. Those in leadership of the underground church must not look to those who would give them recognition and status.

My church is like an army, for I have my generals, majors and captains. Some are hidden in bunkers, and their identities will be revealed strictly on a need to know basis. The church of today shall not see, for I have blinded their eyes. They have had their eyes shut and can not recognise MY underground church, nor give place to my generals."

~~~~~~

From: "jim waldron" <walrusjam@juno.com To: <prophetic@storm-harvest.asn.au Sent: Saturday, July 16, 2005 10:15 AM Subject: Five movements in the earth today

Busted at the beach

Upon returning from our family vacation at the New Jersey shore(USA), I read your post and would like to add what I was reminded of just days prior.

Early each morning a tractor pulls a sand rake across the beach sifting the sand leaving it raked for that days beach goers. In it's path was trash from a beach party the night before. I thought to myself to remove the trash so the operator wouldn't have to stop, get off the tractor and move it himself. I did and he didn't even acknowledge my good deed. He continued down the beach and turned around to make another pass as he approached closer to me since I was still waiting for him to give me at least a wave of thanks, the Lord busted me.

An inner voice questioned me why was I waiting for the recognition of man, the praise of man. Instantly the spoke, "I'm looking for stealth Christians". Like the stealth bomber going on a mission, armed, not easily detectable, efficient. He must increase, and I must decrease(Jn 3:30) and God resists the proud, but gives grace to the humble(James 4:6). I repented of my need to be seen. The condition of our hearts will determine how well the 5 movements are carried out.

~~~~~~

Received from Mary Scantlin. Sent: Saturday, July 16, 2005 4:23 AM Subject: Re: [StormHarvest] L Clark: I Saw the Line in the Sand

This week, 7-11-05 I also had a vision of the wheat- it was beginning to go through the process of separating the wheat from the chaff...the wheat had been torn and laid out on the threshing floor.

The Lord also gave me a vision of the 'Night Watchman" and the 10 virgins--this is the vision:

The Night Watchman   Mary Scantlin

I saw the "City of Resource." . I could see a little shimmer of light and walked towards it until I saw that a night watchman held the light.

A loud voice asked the question, "Watchman, what do you see?"

The watchman answered by quoting Isaiah 60:2 ... darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the peoples; but Jehovah will arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee.

A loud voice asked "Watchman, what do you see?"

This time, I saw the answer through the watchman's eyes. A harbor with enough moonlight to outline the skeleton of a wrecked ship came into view and I knew it was a picture of I Timothy 1:19.

This charge I commit to you, my son Timothy.. holding faith and a good conscience, which some have put away and made shipwreck as to faith. MKJV

Faith With a Seared Conscience

The message bible puts it like this: keeping a firm grip on your faith and on yourself. After all, this is a fight we're in. There are some, you know, who by relaxing their grip and thinking anything goes have made a thorough mess of their faith.

Many leaders and laymen alike in the body of Christ are searing their consciences and are headed for disaster. The process is simple. They have dabbled in sin , secretly or openly, and not been found out- and seemingly, faced no consequences so the delusion is "I still feel the anointing-It must be okay in God's sight. I can live a dual, secret life and enjoy the fruits of holiness at the same time.."

A loud voice asked Watchman, what do you see?"

The answer came back. "I see 10 virgins. 5 have oil, 5 have no oil."

They all were virgins, they all had lamps...they all did not have oil.

Oil represents the ongoing filling of the Holy Spirit. We are commanded to be filled.

The heart of the wise virgin pursues this even if His coming is delayed. This virgin will enter when the midnight call comes and the door is open to the wedding. Let us abide in Christ and in His love. Let us continue to be washed and sanctified by the word. Let us be alert and watching. The Bridegroom is coming!

---------------------------- WEBSITE Storm-Harvest Ministries http://www.storm-harvest.asn.au

MODERATORS Robert I Holmes and Mario Liu email prophetic@storm-harvest.asn.au

Underground Oath

Kerry Knorr

A generation of believers who have been 'underground' is beginning to rise up. These are those who have been abused by the churches; rejected, condemned, belittled and dismissed as outcasts. These are believers who refused to settle for religious trappings in the place of relationship with God. This is a quiet force in the heart of men, who earnestly hope in the Lord. Their oath: "I will not settle for what is not real." This is a generation of believers who remember that our Lord Jesus socialized with prostitutes, tax collectors, thieves and robbers to share good news with them, and to 'be' good news to them. It's a generation who are learning to ignore the opinions of men, and look to God for their approval.

A great correction is taking place in the house of God. The immature church postures like a bunch of 4 year old children on the playground; 'knowing more'. Unholy alliances among church leaders and secular authorities which have united to attack portions of the house of God; are being struck down. Alliances are being realigned. The house of God is being rightfully united in conflict with the world's powers, principalities and authorities. All things serve God, and in this way, correction to the church will ride the wings of secular authority. Conflict with forces from the outside will solidify unity inside the house of God, and end division inside the house. Correction will also come from within the house; by hearts of underlings who rise recklessly in the midst of God's people and insist on alignment of worship to one true God. A 'house cleaning' is taking place, where divided commitment is being cast out by those who have been rendered fruitless by customs, formats, programs and human chain of command. Once again, God alone will reside as ruler in his house.

A generation of believers has been raised up in this hour to extend salvation to the world. It is not a theoretical or academic salvation. It is an authentic change in lives which yield inclusion rather than exclusion. It is a generation of believers who have 'heard' the rest of the gospel: "For God did not send his son into the world to condemn the world, but to save the world through him. Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe stands condemned already because he has not believed in the name of God's one and only son." (Jn.3:17-18) This is a generation which embraces the light. This light exposes every thing and reveals the truth, so that everything that has been done, may be plainly seen to have been done through God. (Jn.3:19-20)

There is a great hungering and thirsting after the righteousness of God in the earth today. It is a huge empty place in the hearts of men that longs to be satisfied. This generation has not been satisfied by a church steeped in academics and tradition. They have examined all that witchcraft, 'new age' and alternative religions have to offer. Sex and drugs and family have not filled this void in the hearts of men who crave to satisfy their deep longing after oneness with God.

The church is changing. It is beginning to embrace the correction of the Lord. It is beginning to embrace the truth of God in exchange for the lies of tradition. Who among this wounded, reviled generation that has suffered at the hands of the church; will rise up to heal the church? Who will forget their anger, and demonstrate the healing heart of our Father, and extend healing and salvation to our forefathers who did not heed the word of the Lord? (Zech.1:4) Who will offer to the house of God, repentance and rest? Who will offer grace and redemption? This is a challenge to those who have been unfaithfully wounded inside the house of the Lord; "who will love my people?" Who will love and forgive that jerk of a pastor who has wounded you and now comes into repentance? Having fought hard for the freedom and power that we have in God, who will turn and love our oppressors? Who will remove condemnation from those whose tradition has heaped condemnation upon the house of God? Who in this generation will be a redeemer to the former generations? Who will withstand abuse, suffer trials and in turn step up to offer authentic salvation back to the abusive church who have behaved as hypocrites and accusers? The church is changing. Who will model the heart of God for his people? Who will model authentic, vertical relationship with God, rather than a preacher screaming and shouting chastisement against God's people under the guise of exhortation? Who will change the emphasis inside the church; from relating to one another; to relating together to God? Who will model relationship with God? Whose life will offer kindness, gentleness and the salvation extended from God? We talk to one another all the time. Who will take the time to talk to God? Who will model rapport with God? Who will invite God's presence into his house?

For those of us who have had to 'escape from' the church due to injury; we have this challenge in front of us. In order to participate with God in his work; we will find ourselves ministering grace to our enemies. We will find ourselves ministering to many wounds which have been inflicted by "brothers". Will our own hurt and anger impede our service unto the Lord? Will the authentic faith that we have had to fight against the church to attain, now be plucked from us as we refuse to 'turn' as our Father 'turns to heal'? Will you, like Jonah, refuse to preach salvation to a wicked and putrid place? Will you, having received forgiveness, refuse to forgive?

When the church repents, will this generation of God's people spurn them as they have been spurned; or will we turn and heal them?

"Return to me", is the declaration of the Lord in this day, as well as his promise: "and I will return to you." (Zech.1:3) He is Father, the creator of all things, yet he finds his house in disarray, his children following after the ways of earth.

"I live in a high and holy place, but also with him who is contrite and lowly in spirit, to revive the spirit of the lowly and to revive the heart of the contrite. I will not accuse forever, nor will I always be angry, for then the spirit of man would grow faint before me; the breath of man that I have created. I was enraged by his sinful greed; I punished him and hid my face in anger, yet he kept on in his willful ways. I have seen his ways, but I will heal him; I will guide him and restore comfort to him, creating praise on the lips of mourners in Israel. Peace, peace to those far and near", says the Lord. "And I will heal them." But the wicked are like the tossing sea which cannot rest, whose waves cast up mire and mud. "There is no peace," says my God, "for the wicked." (Isa.57:15b-21)

Join this generation of over-comers who dare to be authentic, who dare to embrace the lepers of God's household.

Copyright 2004 Kerry W. Knorr 07/04

Unoffendable

Francis Frangipane

www.Frangipane.org

"I will give you a new heart and put a new spirit within you; and I will remove the heart of stone from your flesh and give you a heart of flesh" (Ezek 36:26)

God has a new heart for us that cannot be offended, an "unoffendable" heart. Beloved, possessing an unoffendable heart is not an option or a luxury; it's not a little thing. Consider: Jesus warns that, as we near the end of the age, a majority of people will be offended to such a degree that they fall away from the faith. Listen carefully to His warning:

"Then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another . . . and because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold" (Matthew 24:10-12 KJV)

"Many" will be offended; the love of "many" will grow cold. My prayer is that we will hear His words with holy fear.

When we allow an offense to remain in our hearts, it causes serious spiritual consequences. In the above verse Jesus named three dangerous results: betrayal, hatred and cold love. When we are offended with someone, even someone we care for, we must go to them. Otherwise, we begin to betray that relationship, talking maliciously behind their back to others, exposing their weaknesses and sins. We may mask our betrayal by saying we are just looking for advice or counsel, but when we look back, we see we have spoken negatively to far too many people. Our real goal was not to get spiritual help for ourselves but to seek revenge toward the one who offended us. How is such action not a manifestation of hatred? For an offended soul, cold love, betrayal and hatred go hand-in-hand.

People don't usually stumble over boulders; they stumble over stones, relatively small things. It may be that the personality of someone in authority bothers us and soon we are offended. Or, a friend or family member fails to meet our expectations, and we take an offense into our soul. Beloved, if we will "endure to the end," we will have to confront the things that bother us.

When Jesus warns that we need endurance, He is saying that it is easier to begin the race than finish it. Between now and the day you die, there will be major times of offense that you will need to overcome. You might be in such a time right now. Do not minimize the danger of harboring an offense.

No one plans on falling away; no one ever says, "Today, I think I'll try to develop a hardened, cold heart." Such things enter our souls through stealth and it is only naiveté that assumes it couldn't happen to us. I know many people who consistently become offended about one thing or another. Instead of dealing with the offenses, these people carry them until the weight disables their walk with God. You may be doing fine today, but I guarantee you, tomorrow something will happen that will inevitably disappoint or wound you; some injustice will strike you, demanding you retaliate in the flesh.

The Root Of Offense

An offense can strike at our virtues or sins, our values or our pride. It can penetrate and wound any dimension of the soul, both good and evil. I once brought a series of messages about gossip. Most people saw their sin and repented, but a core group of gossips were greatly offended and ultimately left the church. When the Holy Spirit exposes sin in someone's soul, if we refuse the opportunity to repent, we often become offended at the person who brought the teaching. Instead of humbling our hearts, we are outraged at the pastor or teachers in the church. Truthfully, most of the time, I have no idea who specifically needs to hear what I'm teaching, but God knows.

Paul told Timothy to "reprove, rebuke, exhort" (see 2 Tim 4:2). He didn't say, "exhort, exhort, exhort," but exhortation is what we receive in most churches. Certainly, we need to be encouraged, but there are also times, beloved, when we need to be reproved and rebuked. Today, there are preachers who are afraid to preach truth for fear people will react and leave the church. The end result is a church of easily offended people who cannot grow beyond their inability to accept correction.

People don't change by exhortation alone. There are areas in all of us that need to be confronted and disciplined. The pastor who refuses to discipline and correct those in sin is in disobedience to God. He is unable to lead people into any truly transforming changes in their lives; they will not "endure to the end" if they cannot be corrected (see Matt 24).

We need to become a people who say, "Lord, show me what needs to change in me." I'm talking about growing up. A wise man will receive a rebuke and he will prosper. But a fool rejects his father's discipline (see Prov 15:5).

Personal Offense

An offense can wound our pride when we are not recognized for our good works or ministry. This happened to my wife and I long ago while in California. We were young pastors at a conference when the main leader decided to personally greet each minister and wife. He greeted the couple on our right and then turned to his staff to ask a question. A moment later he returned, but passed us by and went to the couple on our left.

Everyone around us saw we were bypassed. We were embarrassed and offended. But my wife wisely observed that we could allow this thing to hurt us or we could see it as an investment in sensitivity toward other people's feelings. The offense taught us how others feel when they are ignored. Do you see this? You must make that offense become an opportunity to become more Christlike.

The occasions for taking offense are practically endless. Indeed, we are daily given the opportunity to either be offended by something or to possess an unoffendable heart. The Lord's promise is that He's given us a new heart: a soft, entreatable heart that can be filled with His Spirit and abound with His love.

Lord, forgive me for being so easily offended and for carrying offenses. Father, my heart is foolish and weak. Grant me the unoffendable heart of Jesus Christ. Amen.

Unseen Realities

Ephraim Frank

Shalom Fellow Israelite, October 28, 2005

Many of you by now have heard of the terrorist bombing in one of Israel's cities. It is no surprise to most everyone, that they will continue to work in this manner to cause the world to pressure the Government of Israel to withdraw from all "so-called" occupied territory of the West Bank. Even though this is the world's matrix and reality, what is ours as believers? Are we looking into the unreality of this world's political and religious systems or do we have YHVH's perspective?

Being born in this matri, "womb" of a world of sin and death, we are like those who have fallen asleep and our dream world has become our reality. Periodically we are stirred from this state of slumber, but are so drowsy that we fall back into unreality. Howbeit, the prophets of old, because of their giftings, were able to get glimpses into the unseen realms. Elisha, for example, was praying to YHVH to open the eyes of his servant who was in that moment stressed out by an Aramean army surrounding his village. Apparently the young servant had gone out early in the morning and lo and behold, much to his dismay, here was this enemy poised to greet him. "Alas, my Master!" he exclaimed: "What shall we do?" "Do? What shall we do?" The first recommendation that this old seer gave him was: "you want to do something? Then DO NOT FEAR!" Elisha's answer was not based on an imaginary faith but on an unquestionable actuality, "those who are with us are more than with them." I can just hear the thoughts of the helper: 'Yea, sure! I count two of us and a multitude of them. Where in the world did you go to school Elisha? Look, get your laptop out and come up with some practical ideas on how we deal with this predicament, like trading in some land for peace maybe?' The prophet's reality was hidden from the young man. So Elisha prayed to the One who could open blind eyes, and said, "'YHVH, I pray, open his eyes that he may see.' Then YHVH opened the eyes of the young man, and he saw. And behold, the mountain was full of horses and chariots of fire all around Elisha" (2 Kings 6:15-17).

Although the two of them were standing in the same place, each was experiencing a different reality. Many years later, Paul an apostle, in writing to the believers exhorted them to "set their mind on things above, not on the things that are on the earth.and not to look at the things that are seen, but at the things which are not seen; for the things which are seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are eternal" (Col.3:22; 2 Cor. 4:18). To be in this world but not of it, presents to us a unique but strange challenge. How do we do that, when our eyes, ears, nose, tongue and skin are all dictating to our soul what is real? We all have had many experiences in this earthly journey, which have been a part of creating our "matrix". However, along this journey we have come into the reality of another world, the world of faith. Faith as defined by the Word is "the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. By faith we understand that the ages were prepared by the word of Elohim, so that the things which are seen were not made of things which are visible" (Heb. 11:1-3).

The Word of YHVH was not seen, yet it was revealed to those who believed. "For since the creation of the world His invisible nature is clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even His eternal power and headship, so that they are without excuse" (Rom. 1:20). Faith in His Word transfers the believer into another "matrix". Even though standing in the same place as a non-believer, our reality will be different. For example, some may read Ezekiel 37 and the prophecies pertaining to Israel and Judah's restoration, but be totally blind to their reality. God is fulfilling His Word right before our very eyes, but if His Grace has not opened the "eyes of our understanding", we will not see His invisible Word as it comes to pass in and through a people. The scriptures ask us to examine ourselves to see if we are in the faith; for do we not know this about ourselves, that Yeshua the Messiah is in us? (ref. 2 Cor. 13:5).

This lack of awareness may also pertain to other areas of our life. For instance, having been nurtured in this world under the power of the evil one who is a liar and the father of lies, we most likely have taken in these lies as truth (with very few exceptions). We, therefore, may have been interpreting our life and circumstances through this grid of lies. To use a borrowed example: Anyone who is regularly degraded and told how stupid and incompetent he is, will gradually embrace this thought, believing it to be true. Once that is done, this person's interpretation of life will reinforce this belief with is own affirmations. Others' reactions and behavior toward that person will seem to be connected to this self-perceived stupidity. Over a period of time such a person will have build defenses that only Elohim is be able to penetrate and tear down.

Perhaps this is why the scriptures exhort us to "speak the truth in love." That is if we know the truth! Let us pray the prayers of Elisha and Paul, that the Lord will open our blind eyes that we may see what is truly real and eternal, right here in the reality of our God-given experiences. We may hear of wars and rumors of wars, earthquakes, pestilence, and computer breakdowns that could cause a domino affect on the world economy, but what is YHVH's answer to all of these seeming realities or potential scenarios? "Fear not, for I am with you; be not dismayed, for I am your God. I will strengthen you, Yes, I will help you, I will uphold you with My righteous right hand". (Isaiah 41:10). "Peace I leave with you, My peace I give to you" (John 14:27). "Be strong and of good courage, do not fear nor be afraid of them; for YHVH your God, He is the One who goes with you. He will not leave you nor forsake you" (Deuteronomy 31:6). We may also enquire, as did king David: "Where can I go from Your Spirit? Or where can I flee from Your presence? If I ascend into heaven, You are there; if I make my bed in hell, behold, You are there. If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea, even there Your hand shall lead me, and Your right hand shall hold me." Yes, the realities of His hidden presence within us, the revelation of His invisible prophetic word coming to pass in our lives personally and corporately as a united house of Israel, can only be seen through the eyes of "the faith".

Shabbat Shalom Ephraim

The Unthinkable

by Bill Somers

The following is a synopsis of a "word" the Lord has shown me progressively throughout 1992 and into 93. This is a word that has been sweet to the taste; because it provides answers I have long sought. Yet this word has been bitter in my belly, in a very real physical sense because it consists of an UNTHINKABLE ALTERNATIVE to traditional teachings.

> From that time forth began Jesus to shew unto his disciples, how that he must go unto Jerusalem, and suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and be raised again the third day. Then Peter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, Be it far from thee, Lord: this shall not be unto thee. Matthew 16 21-22.

Here Peter is speaking for the disciples in shock and disbelief. What Jesus was telling them, that he must be killed, was unthinkable! Even after his death they could not accept it. Notice how he rebukes them on the road to Emmaus.

> Then he said unto them, O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken: Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory? Luke 24 25- 26

Today we need to ask: Ought not the Church suffer these things and to enter into her glory? Even though, we his disciples of today, know that 'these things are written for our instruction' we are slow to believe what is written in scripture. We will continue in our unbelief till we overcome this stumbling block. Just as the idea of Christ dying is a stumbling block to the Jews, the idea of the Church dying is a stumbling block to us. It's our unthinkable alternative.

> The church is not going to be caught away in a pre-tribulation rapture as so many teach.
> She is going to be here during 'the tribulation'. And at the end, she will undergo martyrdom.

The Books Are Sealed

Why do I believe the traditional teachings to be wrong? Firstly, for two simple scriptural reasons. One, the books are sealed till the time of the end, (see Dan. 12:4) and 'the people shall be willing in the day of his power' (see Ps. 110:3). This means we have not been able to understand the prophetic scriptures, except through man's wisdom, till now. The books have been closed. Their meaning has been concealed because it was not the 'time of the end'. It was not time for the age to come to a close and so, as the great theories of eschatology were formed in years past, they were formed without the illumination of the Holy Spirit. And therefore these teachings could only be guesses at best.
Now what about the second scripture? There is a principle in understanding the will of God, that He only reveals his will insofar as we are willing to obey Him. "The Day of His Power" is a reference to 'the time of the end'. This verse is saying that there is something that we His people will be willing to do in that day. That there is some word of his that we will willingly obey. It also means that until that day, we will not be willing to obey it.

Why The Books Are Sealed

So what's the connection? Here it is. This tells us why the books are sealed! Because they contain an expression of God's will for the Church that she is presently unwilling to obey. And He does not reveal his will to the unwilling! So what is this thing we are presently unwilling to obey? And why will we be willing to obey it then? We shall get to that shortly.
The second reason I believe that the traditional end time teachings are wrong is simply that the Lord has shown me otherwise. The church is not going to be caught away in a pre-tribulation rapture as so many teach. She is going to be here during the tribulation. So what's so unthinkable about that? Well to many, that's bad enough, but there's more. The typical post trib teaching runs something like this. The Church will go through the last x number of years of tribulation as God's chosen instrument to bring in the final harvest of the nations. She will be raptured out at the end when the harvest is in and before the final pouring out of the bowls of Wrath. And of course we will suffer a certain moderate amount of martyrdom, but for the most part we will go through it under a seal of divine protection from the things coming on the earth. Now here's the Unthinkable Alternative: At the end of this tribulation period, when the harvest is in and before the pouring out of the final bowls of Wrath, the Church will suffer almost total martyrdom by the enemy forces. We will lay down our lives, and do so willingly, knowing and trusting in the Resurrection to shortly follow.

What saith the scriptures?

Well the justification for this word can be seen in Revelation, and in Daniel. There the prophetic scriptures speak directly of the End Times. Consider the following verses.

> But the saints of the most High shall take the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever. Daniel 7 18
> I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them;
> Until the Ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the saints of the most High; and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom.
> And he shall speak [great] words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High, and think to change times and laws: and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and the dividing of time. Daniel 7:21-22
>
> And in the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressors are come to the full, a king of fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up.
> And his power shall be mighty, but not by his own power: and he shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper, and practise, and shall destroy the mighty and the holy people. Daniel 8 23-24
>
> And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held:
> And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?
> And white robes were given unto every one of them; and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellowservants also and their brethren, that should be killed as they [were], should be fulfilled. Revelation 6 9.-11
> And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations.
> And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.
> And he had power to give life unto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed. Revelation 13 7-8.
> Believe The Bible

It is our reluctance to Believe The Bible. Our unwillingness to take the bible to mean what it says in these passages that has given rise to the theory the Rapture. Especially of Pre-Tribulationism. And indeed this reluctance gives birth to the whole house of Dispensationalism. To put it another way, all eschatology up to now has been fraught with plain old UNBELIEF! Unwillingness to face up to what these scriptures are saying to us in very plain terms, has led us into erroneous rapture theories. And these doctrinal errors have become some of the best fortified strongholds the enemy has in the Church.

Now the above passages are as I have said speaking to us in plain terms. They cannot be said to have been sealed. We simply have chosen to down play, explain away or ignore them.

Since the time of the end is near at hand, other passages have been unsealed which confirm this unthinkable alternative. These are mainly to give us understanding of certain types and allegories, but their understanding really nails down this thesis.

For example: the Death and Resurrection of the Church is shown typically, with Samson as a type of the church, Elisha as a type of the end time church, Jesus 3 and 1/2 year ministry as a pattern for the end time church and Paul as a type of the church. Romans 15 speaks of it as the 'offering up of the Gentiles'. In Exodus, the passage through the red sea, seen as a type of baptism. It is of course 'baptism into His death' and therefore a type of the death and resurrection of the Church.

If we are willing to face up to the meaning of these certain scriptures, then we can see that this is indeed what shall come to pass

When I shared the first draft of this paper with my associate pastor. He had two reactions. "Boy I sure hope you're wrong about this!" and after reading more he said "But Why?"

Well the why part is what's exciting about all this. Its for the Glory of God. If we can see the Lords purpose in this, which I believe we can, then we can confidently go forward into it. We can do it with our face set like flint, as Jesus did, knowing the glory that is to follow.

This general martyrdom of the church serves a two fold purpose of the Lord. One is the redemption of Israel. The second is the judgment of the wicked at the return or the Lord. These two are closely linked.

The first purpose is the redemption of Israel. We know that blindness is come upon Israel, until the fullness of the Gentiles has come in. This fullness is accomplished by completing the Great Commission. When the gospel is preached through out all the world, then the end comes. The martyrdom of the end time church marks the completion, and the harvesting of the Gentiles. Then the blindness can be removed from Israel.

In fact it is the very martyrdom of the church that allows, or causes if you will, the blindness to be removed. And the willingness (Ps. 110:3) of the church to suffer this martyrdom is what will bring Israel into the body of Christ. This is seen typically, in the death of Samson (Judges), in Romans 11, and in Romans 15, where Paul's trip to Jerusalem speaks of the second coming of the Lord. When the blindness is removed, Israel will see her true condition and repent. (Joel, Jeremiah, Zechariah, Ezekiel). Then she will call upon the Lord. He will hear and He will answer, and He will be Glorified. And since the Bride of Christ is thereby completed, He will return! So the 'grafting back in' of Romans 11 produces 'life from the dead', namely the resurrection!

The resurrection of the church will follow after a very brief interval; along with the 'rapture' of those alive and remaining on earth. The story of Daniel in the Lions Den, the passing of Israel through the Red Sea, the voyage and shipwreck of Paul are all typical of the death and resurrection of the church.

The first purpose is mercy.

> "Through your mercy they may obtain mercy." (Rom. 11:31; 12:1) See also Psalm 116:15.

The second purpose is judgment.

The Lord's immediate cause for bringing judgment on the enemy is because of what the enemy has done to 'his people'. That is to both the Church and to Israel. This is seen in Joel, Zechariah and Revelation.

It is also seen typically in the return of Jehu as a type of the second coming of the Lord in 2 kings. (Judgment comes to the House of Ahab, and to Jezebel, to avenge the blood of the prophets and because, specifically, he slew Naboth and took his vineyard. The vineyard speaks of the church and "Naboth" means fruit. (2 Kings 9:7,27) The passages in Exodus and Daniel mentioned above also feature this judgment. Also the judgment at Belshazar's feast in Daniel 5 shows this.) [Also see The How and the Therefore and The Precious by Bill Somers]

(So why does the enemy destroy the church and nearly destroy Israel, if doing so means the end of his kingdom? For the same reason he crucified Jesus. Selfishness. By nature selfishness will always chose short term gain even in the face of long term pain. Selfishness is the opposite of Wisdom. It is self destructive.)

The first purpose is mercy. The second purpose is judgment.
In these two we find the very nature of God. We behold both His kindness and His severity.
And in the DAY OF HIS POWER we will offer ourselves willingly, for His Glory!
To be fully conformed to Christ is to be obedient unto death.

> For this God is our God for ever and ever: he will be our guide even unto death. Psalm 48:14

Back to: HOMEPAGE or FILELIST of
Bill Somers Prophetic Vision

Ushers Of My Glory

Dee Hoetmer

12th July 2005
What is it you seek Beloveds in this coming great move of My Spirit. Are you seeing yourselves in charge of great ministries, on the podium teaching and preaching? Are you seeking vain glorification, gratification for all of the years of being hidden and rejected. Do you seek some recompense for your suffering or do you seek to glorify My Holy Name!

I know the hearts of those who have truly died to themselves in this harsh season of testing, as it were, by fire. They are those who truly want to remain hidden, to receive no glory or thanks, or recognition for themselves, but seek only to be servants, of ushers in of My Glory! Those truly of My heart seek only to save that which is lost, to restore the broken hearted and to set the captives free. They seek only to undo the work of the enemy and to see those languishing in the pit of despair and pain to be set free and returned to fellowship with their Father.

They desire to see miracles only to have Jesus glorified. They desire to see the lame walk and the blind see, not to confirm that they themselves are someone special but that the true God and Creator may be made known to man! They have the heart of a servant and seek no reward! They have no desire to take any glory for themselves and are in reverent fear of Me so that they know they would die if they did so!

Isaiah 42:8 I am the LORD: that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images.

These are those that will be ushering in My glory. These are those that will be bearers of My glory, of My healing and restoring anointing. These are those who see themselves only as conduits and know that they themselves are as nothing without Me. They have no power, knowledge or life outside of My indwelling them.

Arise My Beloveds in the new anointing I am bestowing upon you. Walk as spiritual giants, kings and champions upon the face of the earth and everywhere your foot treads it will be given unto you, in My authority through you. Go forth proclaiming and re claiming. Do not fear for the I AM is with you every step of the way. You will begin by taking baby steps and will grow in confidence in Me till the awesome, the miraculous, will be everyday occurrences for you!

Jos 1:1 Now after the death of Moses the servant of the LORD it came to pass, that the LORD spake unto Joshua the son of Nun, Moses' minister, saying, 1:2 MOSES MY SERVANT IS DEAD; {the old order is dead} NOW THEREFORE ARISE, GO OVER THIS JORDAN, THOU, AND ALL THIS PEOPLE, UNTO THE LAND WHICH I DO GIVE UNTO THEM, EVEN TO THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL.1:3 EVERY PLACE THAT THE SOLE OF YOUR FOOT TREAD UPON, THAT HAVE I GIVEN UNTO YOU, that have I given unto you, as I said unto Moses.

You have been broken for My purposes, take care to stay in humility and to keep your eyes looking into My eyes for that will keep you from the great destruction of creeping pride. Take care to stay in communion with the author and finisher of your faith and the source of the anointing flowing through you. Do only as I show you and speak only that which I tell you, for so I did when walking upon the face of the earth; I did only what I saw My Father do. You are My Beautiful Beloveds, A GENERATION OF BROKEN ONES THAT WILL USHER IN MY GLORY!

John 5:30 I CAN OF MINE OWN SELF DO NOTHING: AS I HEAR, I JUDGE: and my judgment is just; because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me

John 8:28 Then said Jesus unto them, When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and THAT I DO NOTHING OF MYSELF; BUT AS MY FATHER TAUGHT ME, I SPEAK THESE THINGS.

dee@heartbeatofthefather.co.za http://www.heartbeatofthefather.co.za

Unoffendable Part Two

Francis Frangipane

"Then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another . . . and because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold" (Matt 24:10-12 KJV).

The Sequence That Leads To Apostasy

In our last teaching we looked at offenses and examined the lethal effect an offended spirit could have upon our lives. We discussed how the only way to not be permanently offended was to attain the unoffendable heart of Jesus Christ.

Attaining Christ's heart is not a minor issue. Remember, Jesus warned that, in the last days, "many" would be offended. A wounded spirit is not the same thing as an offended spirit - an offense occurs when we do not process our wounds in a Christlike manner. Indeed, an offended spirit, left unattended and brooding in our minds, will soon manifest as betrayal, hatred and cold love. Jesus said offenses would be the ultimate cause that leads many to fall from faith. Listen well: Jesus linked the real cause of apostasy not to wrong doctrines, but wrong reactions.

Aren't right doctrines important? Of course, but we can have right information and still have a wrong response. Doctrinal information can be upgraded and refined, but Proverbs warns that someone "offended is harder to be won than a strong city"; and "contentions" between people "are like the bars of a castle" (Prov 18:19).

Yes, beware of false leaders, but more deceitful than false prophets or teachers is our own heart when it is offended (Jer 17:9). Are you living with an offended heart? If so, you are gradually slipping away from true Christianity, which is known for its agape love.

Thus, dealing with an offended heart is vital in maintaining ongoing spiritual maturity. For this reason, we need to look again at the things which offend us.

False Expectations

Unrealistic or exaggerated expectations inevitably will cause others to fall short and offend us. Some desire their spouse or pastor or friends to meet their every need. However, at the deepest level our soul was created to find its security in God, not man. When the Almighty truly becomes our security, our peace flows from our awareness of His love and unlimited capabilities. As people who put their confidence in God, we can live comfortably with imperfect people around us.

Still, the very power of our expectations can choke out the sweetness of a personal relationship. Suppose that, instead of burdening people with our expectations, we simply learned to appreciate them for themselves - no strings attached. What if we approach family and friends with gratitude for what they are doing rather than disappointment for what they failed to do?

Suppose that a husband, instead of expecting a full course dinner from his wife each night, learned to appreciate whatever she was able to offer him? Then, instead of his failed expectation degrading into an offense, there would be a living, sincere appreciation for the food his wife prepared. I know we have arrangements by common consent, but in reality, a wife is under no obligation to cook special meals or do housekeeping. You did not marry her to be your housekeeper, but to become one with her.

Or imagine a husband who works a long, tiring job. However, his wife expects that he will work another two hours at home or go shopping with her or listen attentively about her problems. What if, instead, she welcomed him at the door and sincerely thanked him for daily giving himself to support their family? What if she met him, not with demands, but with appreciation? Perhaps she might even massage his shoulders and, because of love, have his favorite meal prepared.

You see, expectations can seem like legitimate aspects of a relationship, but they can also cause us to be disappointed and offended when people fall short. I have known situations in the past where my expectations actually blinded me to the efforts being made by a loved one. They were trying to improve in an area I was unaware of because my focus was preset upon a different expectation. I should have been grateful and encouraging.

Of course, today I discuss issues and expectations with those close to me, but the weight of my expectation is not on others, but upon myself to be Christlike and sensitive to those around me. I put a premium upon enjoying the uniqueness of others, sincerely thanking God for their contribution to my life.

When God Himself Offends Us

The fact is, false expectations can become a source of many deep offenses. However, one of the worst offenses we can suffer is when God Himself purposely offends us.

In 2 Kings 5, we read the story of when Naaman, a Syrian general, sought to be healed of leprosy by Elisha, the prophet. When Naaman and his entourage arrived at Elisha's house, Elisha didn't greet him personally, but instead sent his servant with a word/cure for Naaman. It was a simple assignment for the military leader: wash seven times in the Jordan River. However, the cure offended Naaman. Why didn't the prophet himself come out? Why this muddy Jordan? Scripture says that "Naaman was furious."

An offended spirit is an angry spirit. In this case, Naaman was beyond mad; he was furious. Do you find that you are always mad at a particular person? It's because they have offended you and you haven't forgiven them. Naaman was offended at Elisha, but what was the real cause of Naaman's offense? Listen to his words. He said, "Behold, I thought, 'He will surely come out to me, and stand and call on the name of the Lord his God, and wave his hand over the place, and cure the leper'" (verse 11).

Catch the phrase, "Behold, I thought . . ." In truth, Naaman was not offended by Elisha, but by his own failed expectations. He probably spent many hours envisioning the moment of healing. He even pictured himself testifying of how the man of God healed him. When it didn't happen according to his plan, he was offended.

Friends, before the Lord heals you or assigns you some new, elevated position of service, He will often offend you. Why? What is it that gets offended in us? Usually, it is our pride. We come to God desiring physical healing, but the Lord wants us, not only to be healed, but to be humble. Yes, God heals us through our faith, but there our times when our own pride keeps us from receiving the method of God's healing. The Lord offends us to humble us, so He can give us grace. Faith works through grace, but God only gives grace to the humble.

Look at how often Jesus offended people before He healed them. Once, He actually spit on the ground, made mud and put it on a blind man's eyes, and then told him to walk across town that way! Imagine if you were next in the healing line and saw what the guy before you had to do. Admit it, we each would be looking for another healing ministry, one that is a little less offensive! On another occasion He told a woman who came seeking her daughter's healing that she was an unclean dog; another time, He stuck His fingers in the ears of a man to heal his deafness. The Lord often offended people before He healed them.

If we would learn to humble ourselves in the offense, we would discover that the apparent offense was, in realty, a door that led into the manifest power of God. When Jesus called the Canaanite woman a "dog," instead of being offended, she said, "Yes, Lord, but even the dogs feed on the crumbs" (Matt 15:27). When Jesus told the man to walk across town with mud in his eyes, the man didn't argue or ask for a more dignified healing; he humbled himself and came back seeing. When Elisha told Naaman to dip in the Jordan seven times, the offense wounded him. Yet, when he humbled himself, his leprosy was replaced with the skin of a little child. His skin became as a child, because his heart, through humility, became as a child.

Maybe you haven't received your healing or breakthrough yet because to walk the path set before you is beneath your dignity. Maybe you need to get rid of your dignity and go to that Pentecostal or Baptist church you've been making fun of, then ask them to pray for you. God wants to heal you, but He also wants to renew and transform you with His grace.

Overcome Offenses
When we study what Jesus taught, it is obvious that He came to make us "unoffendable." Consider: He says that if someone slaps you on one cheek, offer him the other. He said to love our enemies and bless those who curse us. What He's really doing is showing us how an unoffendable heart of love overcomes all adversity.

We pray, "Lord, I want to change." To answer our prayer, He sometimes must put us in situations that perfectly offend us. The offense itself awakens our need of grace. Thus, the Lord precipitates change by first offending the area of our soul He desires to transform. He does not expect us to merely survive this adversity, but to become Christlike in it. Ask Joseph in the Old Testament: the "land of offense" became the land of his anointing and power. Listen my friends: the destiny God has for man unfolds or dies at the junction of offense. How we handle offense is the key to our tomorrow.

"Those who love [God's] law have great peace, and nothing causes them to stumble" (Ps 119:165).

Lord, grant me that new creation heart that can walk as Jesus walked, through a world of offenses without stumbling. I want to see everything as an opportunity to pray, everything as an opportunity to become Christlike. Lord help me to interpret offenses as opportunities that lead to transformations. Grant me, Lord Jesus, the pulse and beat of Your unoffendable heart. Amen.

Land of Offense
Francis Frangipane

The 'Land of Offense' Becomes the Land of Anointing and Power"
by Francis Frangipane
Frangipane Ministries, Inc.
www.frangipane.org
comments@frangipane.org

Note: This message was first released in March of 2002. We have felt it was timely to republish it. If you are interested in attaining an unoffendable heart, please consider enrolling in our online school, In Christ's Image Training*. Cutoff for this term is March 23. More info: www.icitc.org.*

"Then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another . . . and because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold." Matthew 24:10-12, KJV

The Sequence That Leads To Apostasy

In our last teaching we looked at offenses and examined the lethal effect an offended spirit could have upon our lives. We discussed how the only way to not be permanently offended was to attain the unoffendable heart of Jesus Christ.

Attaining Christ's heart is not a minor issue. Remember, Jesus warned that, in the last days, "many" would be offended. A wounded spirit is not the same thing as an offended spirit -- an offense occurs when we do not process our wounds in a Christlike manner. Indeed, an offended spirit, left unattended and brooding in our minds, will soon manifest as betrayal, hatred, and cold love. Jesus said offenses would be the ultimate cause that leads many to fall from faith. Listen well: Jesus linked the real cause of apostasy not to wrong doctrines, but wrong reactions.

Aren't right doctrines important? Of course, but we can have right information and still have a wrong response. Doctrinal information can be upgraded and refined, but Proverbs warns that someone "offended is harder to be won than a strong city"; and "contentions" between people "are like the bars of a castle" (Proverbs 18:19).

Yes, beware of false leaders, but more deceitful than false prophets or teachers is our own heart when it is offended (Jeremiah 17:9). Are you living with an offended heart? If so, you are gradually slipping away from true Christianity, which is known for its agape love.

Thus, dealing with an offended heart is vital in maintaining ongoing spiritual maturity. For this reason, we need to look again at the things which offend us.

False Expectations

Unrealistic or exaggerated expectations inevitably will cause others to fall short and offend us. Some desire their spouse or pastor or friends to meet their every need. However, at the deepest level our soul was created to find its security in God, not man. When the Almighty truly becomes our security, our peace flows from our awareness of His love and unlimited capabilities. As people who put their confidence in God, we can live comfortably with imperfect people around us.

Still, the very power of our expectations can choke out the sweetness of a personal relationship. Suppose that, instead of burdening people with our expectations, we simply learned to appreciate them for themselves -- no strings attached. What if we approach family and friends with gratitude for what they are doing rather than disappointment for what they failed to do?

Suppose that a husband, instead of expecting a full course dinner from his wife each night, learned to appreciate whatever she was able to offer him? Then, instead of his failed expectation degrading into an offense, there would be a living, sincere appreciation for the food his wife prepared. I know we have arrangements by common consent, but in reality, a wife is under no obligation to cook special meals or do housekeeping. You did not marry her to be your housekeeper, but to become one with her.

Or imagine a husband who works a long, tiring job. However, his wife expects that he will work another two hours at home or go shopping with her or listen attentively about her problems. What if, instead, she welcomed him at the door and sincerely thanked him for daily giving himself to support their family? What if she met him, not with demands, but with appreciation? Perhaps she might even massage his shoulders and, because of love, have his favorite meal prepared.

You see, expectations can seem like legitimate aspects of a relationship, but they can also cause us to be disappointed and offended when people fall short. I have known situations in the past where my expectations actually blinded me to the efforts being made by a loved one. They were trying to improve in an area I was unaware of because my focus was preset upon a different expectation. I should have been grateful and encouraging.

Of course, today I discuss issues and expectations with those close to me, but the weight of my expectation is not on others, but upon myself to be Christlike and sensitive to those around me. I put a premium upon enjoying the uniqueness of others, sincerely thanking God for their contributions to my life.

When God Himself Offends Us

The fact is, false expectations can become a source of many deep offenses. However, one of the worst offenses we can suffer is when God Himself purposely offends us.

In II Kings 5, we read the story of when Naaman, a Syrian general, sought to be healed of leprosy by Elisha, the prophet. When Naaman and his entourage arrived at Elisha's house, Elisha didn't greet him personally, but instead sent his servant with a word/cure for Naaman. It was a simple assignment for the military leader: Wash seven times in the Jordan River. However, the cure offended Naaman. Why didn't the prophet himself come out? Why this muddy Jordan? Scripture says that "Naaman was furious."

An offended spirit is an angry spirit. In this case, Naaman was beyond mad; he was furious. Do you find that you are always mad at a particular person? It's because they have offended you and you haven't forgiven them. Naaman was offended at Elisha, but what was the real cause of Naaman's offense? Listen to his words. He said, "Behold, I thought, 'He will surely come out to me, and stand and call on the name of the Lord his God, and wave his hand over the place, and cure the leper'" (verse 11).

Catch the phrase, "Behold, I thought . . . " In truth, Naaman was not offended by Elisha, but by his own failed expectations. He probably spent many hours envisioning the moment of healing. He even pictured himself testifying of how the man of God healed him. When it didn't happen according to his plan, he was offended.

Friends, before the Lord heals you or assigns you some new, elevated position of service, He will often offend you. Why? What is it that gets offended in us? Usually, it is our pride. We come to God desiring physical healing, but the Lord wants us, not only to be healed, but to be humble. Yes, God heals us through our faith, but there our times when our own pride keeps us from receiving the method of God's healing. The Lord offends us to humble us, so He can give us grace. Faith works through grace, but God only gives grace to the humble.

Humble Yourself in the Offense, and You Will Be Transformed

Look at how often Jesus offended people before He healed them. Once, He actually spit on the ground, made mud and put it on a blind man's eyes, and then told him to walk across town that way! Imagine if you were next in the healing line and saw what the guy before you had to do. Admit it, we each would be looking for another healing ministry, one that is a little less offensive! On another occasion He told a woman who came seeking her daughter's healing that she was an unclean dog; another time, He stuck His fingers in the ears of a man to heal his deafness. The Lord often offended people before He healed them.

If we would learn to humble ourselves in the offense, we would discover that the apparent offense was, in reality, a door that led into the manifest power of God. When Jesus called the Canaanite woman a "dog," instead of being offended, she said, "Yes, Lord, but even the dogs feed on the crumbs" (Matthew 15:27). When Jesus told the man to walk across town with mud in his eyes, the man didn't argue or ask for a more dignified healing; he humbled himself and came back seeing. When Elisha told Naaman to dip in the Jordan seven times, the offense wounded him. Yet, when he humbled himself, his leprosy was replaced with the skin of a little child. His skin became as a child, because his heart, through humility, became as a child.

Maybe you haven't received your healing or breakthrough yet because to walk the path set before you is beneath your dignity. Maybe you need to get rid of your dignity and go to that Pentecostal or Baptist church you've been making fun of, then ask them to pray for you. God wants to heal you, but He also wants to renew and transform you with His grace.

Overcome Offenses

When we study what Jesus taught, it is obvious that He came to make us "unoffendable." Consider: He says that if someone slaps you on one cheek, offer him the other. He said to love our enemies and bless those who curse us. What He's really doing is showing us how an unoffendable heart of love overcomes all adversity.

We pray, "Lord, I want to change." To answer our prayer, He sometimes must put us in situations that perfectly offend us. The offense itself awakens our need of grace. Thus, the Lord precipitates change by first offending the area of our soul He desires to transform. He does not expect us to merely survive this adversity, but to become Christlike in it. Ask Joseph in the Old Testament: the "land of offense" became the land of his anointing and power. Listen my friends: the destiny God has for man unfolds or dies at the junction of offense. How we handle offense is the key to our tomorrow.

"Those who love [God's] law have great peace, and nothing causes them to stumble."
Psalm 119:165

Lord, grant me that new creation heart that can walk as Jesus walked, through a world of offenses without stumbling. I want to see everything as an opportunity to pray, everything as an opportunity to become Christlike. Lord, help me to interpret offenses as opportunities that lead to transformations. Grant me, Lord Jesus, the pulse and beat of Your unoffendable heart. Amen.

by Francis Frangipane
Frangipane Ministries, Inc.
www.frangipane.org
comments@frangipane.org

A service of Frangipane Ministries, Inc.
Copyright (c) 2005
All rights reserved.

Upper Midwest

Jeff Culver

I was just ending worship last night and getting ready for the message when the Lord began to speak to my heart.
He spoke to me of a time of trial coming to the Upper Midwest region.
He showed me a picture of a road with a corner, saying "it is just around the bend."
He then said that some would call it famine, but it will not be.
He then said "crop failure."

I was strongly impressed that there will be a time of financial hardship in the near future (w/in 3 yrs.) that would threaten the Upper Midwest. He then urged His people that they "get their financial houses in order" that they may be prepared for this hardship. It is time to get out of debt.

The Lord then reminded me of the prophetic warning of famine in scripture, Acts 11:27-30.

He is the One who reveals what is to come, to prepare His people for what lies ahead.

Upon What Rock?

Danny Korakas

May 24, 2005
"Upon this rock I will build my church and the gates of hell will not prevail against it." (Matthew 16:18)

I find this to be an interesting statement by Jesus following Peter's confession, "You are the Christ, the Son of the living God." Jesus could have confirmed this statement, but chose to turn from Himself and declare His love and mission for the church. What an incredible statement of truth by our Lord. Also true, is the church's failure to really believe this statement of the Lord and walk in it. This statement has also generated a considerable amount of misunderstanding and controversy within the church. Many who have failed to understand the ROLE or DEFINITION of the church have been caught in the bondage of religion and dead works. Others have embraced a false understanding concerning the FOUNDATION of the church and have fallen into fleshly "man-worship." Yet, others have a warped sense of purpose concerning the MISSION of the church.

The defining of the church becomes distorted when the life of an "organism" is mixed with the life of an "organization." Jesus did not plant a church organization, but a vibrant and living organism filled with the breath and Spirit of God. An organization has several characteristics that lend to its survival. The first is that an organization can only survive with a hierarchal form of government. Layers of man-appointed authority create a structure of class, importance, and value. Thus, a competitive environment manifests for those who are seeking purpose and value, which will ultimately lead to frustration as those at the "top" strive to hold their place of elevated status, title and sense of importance. Secondly, an organization needs "money" to survive. Organizations thrive on the concept that "bigger is better." Bigger buildings, bigger staffs, and more "workers" equate to success and the fallacy that "WE must be doing it right."

The church that Jesus Christ gave life to was a living organism that the Bible refers to as the "Body of Christ." Throughout the scriptures, (ex. 1 Corinthians 12 and Ephesians 4) the church is referred or compared to a BODY that is diverse, spiritually vibrant, growing, and complex in its function. Every body part has a specific role or purpose for the well being and quality of life that the whole body experiences. The human body moves, speaks, and functions with order through the leading and what originates within the "head." The Bible states that "Jesus Christ is the head of the church body." (Ephesians 4:15-16) You and I (the church) are what makes up or completes the rest of the body. Although each of us have a distinct part to play in the health and well-being of the entire body…None of us hold a "hierarchal" position in the true body of Christ as being of greater value than the rest of the body. In other words, no body part holds a greater preference over another. Actually, the Bible says "that the parts that many see as the least important or desirable, should receive the greater care."

It seems to be in man's fleshly nature to attach a "man" to a position of hierarchy to satisfy his innate desire to worship what he can see and the belief in the core of one's soul that spiritual promotion is attained through the auspices of man. This has become evident in the twisting of the opening verse of scripture. Millions around the world have set "Peter" as the foundation of the church.

When Jesus said, "Upon this rock I will build my church," He was not indicating that Peter would be the foundation or building point of the church. As a matter of fact, the opposite would true. No man, Peter or any other could possibly share in the glory of Christ – His church. Jesus was obviously referring to Himself as the Rock of Salvation that Peter had previously proclaimed – "You are the Messiah, the Son of the living God." It stands to reason that the foundation and rock solid truth required to birth the church and kingdom of God would come through Christ alone. "All things were made through Him, and without Him nothing was made that was made." (John 1:3)

The name "Peter" (petros in the Greek language) means stone or small boulder. It is also true that Jesus re-naming Simon would have a symbolic application to the corporate church – you and I. It is the Lord's heart and desire that each of us become a stepping stone to following generation. Sadly, this has not transpired. Rather, we are still striving for the discipline and anointing that the first century church walked in. The plan and promise of "greater works than these" hinged upon the commitment of each preceding generation laying a "stepping stone" of servant-hood, spiritual motherhood, and fatherhood to the next generation. However, man (and much of the church) in its inherit desire to worship with his natural eyes and understanding has looked upon the past as the standard of spiritual excellence rather than themselves becoming spiritually excellent for the future of the church and our young people to witness.

It is true that Peter and the other disciples are mentioned in Ephesians 2:19-22 as "foundational stones." The multiplicity in the word "disciples" (plural) indicates a church that is living and a continually growing building that is made up of many individual stones. You and I, along with the rest of the Jesus' disciples throughout history are living stones being built into a spiritual house or habitation. The Lord Jesus never intended or declared that Peter would be the massive and permanent rock foundation that would "support" and anchor the church through the winds of adversity in a fallen world. In Matthew 16:18 Jesus used two different forms of the following Greek words: "You are Peter, ("petros" a stone or small rock) and "Upon this rock ("Petra" a massive rock).

"Therefore whoever hears these sayings of Mine, and does them, I will liken him to a wise man who built his house on the rock: and the rain descended, the floods came, and the winds blew and beat on that house; and it did not fall, for it was founded on the rock. But everyone who hears these sayings of Mine, and does not do them, will be like a foolish man who built his house on the sand: and the rain descended, the floods came, and the winds blew and beat on that house; and it fell. And great was its fall." (Matthew 7:24-27)

Those who put the Words of Jesus into practice are like a wise man who built his house upon a rock (Petra). Jesus continues by saying, "that the house would not fall because it had its foundation on the rock (Petra). The foundation that we are to build our spiritual house or habitation upon is clearly Jesus Christ and not upon the works of man. The foundations of the grandest cathedrals and the edifices of the largest churches are not founded upon Christ. They are mere buildings of dead cement stones. The true and living church is you and I (living stones) built upon the foundation of Jesus Christ – The Word made flesh…The Rock (Petra) of our salvation.

"For no other foundation can anyone lay than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ." (1 Corinthians 3:11)

The Bible does not contain a single verse that ascribes Peter or any other man or successor (including the pope) to that of "head of the church." The Bible does say in Ephesians 1:22 that "God placed ALL things under Christ's feet and appointed Him to be head over everything for the church, which is His body." The head and authority over the church belongs to exclusively to Jesus Christ.

I find it difficult to look upon the spiritual landscape of today's "modern church." The picture that we have created for the world to behold is an organization that thrives and survives on mammon, and has failed to die to herself in becoming a stepping stone to the next generation. I would not make these statements if the church was walking in the realm of the Spirit that I witness in scripture. Please understand that this is not a critique to any one individual, but a truthful observation from one man's viewpoint of the church through the course of his life and "church" experience. The power, anointing and dynamic that the biblical church possessed that changed the world and the course of history is mysteriously missing in today's structure known as the "church." The stepping stone and example that our young people are witnessing from our generation is a caricature of a vibrant and relational body with each joint encouraged to supply its part. Rather, the church is equated with denominations, buildings, and the association of the person "man" who pastors it. Beloved, this is not the model or the portrait of Christ's love and grace that He designed and called us to be.

Many of us associate a "kingdom" as a literal place of buildings. (The more buildings there are, the bigger the kingdom.) Many others, associate a kingdom exclusively with a king. Both of these mind-sets have created man-made religious kingdoms built with the stones of the earth and the worship of earthly "kings" that rule within them. A kingdom cannot exist without people. A king can have the grandest castles and largest tracks of land, but without people, there is not a kingdom…The kingdom of God is you and me (Living stones). We are all subjects to the King of all Kings – The Lord Jesus Christ. We will continue to aimlessly stumble in our drunkenness of reliance upon man until we choose to seek first and build the kingdom of God. This is the foundational mandate that Christ laid down in founding the church: That we recognize that Christ alone (not man) is the head of the church and that we grow as a kingdom when we build each other up in love and allow each joint of the body to supply their part. (See Ephesians 4:1-16)

I have been doing a great deal of tile work lately in our home, and two things are essential for a lasting and beautiful living environment or habitation. The first is that the tile must be placed on a cement or mortar foundation to keep it from separating and cracking. Likewise, Jesus Christ, and not the traditions and dogmas of men is the foundation of our faith, spiritual growth and our spiritual promotion to the next level of glory. Secondly, the tile must be attached to the foundation by mortar. Prophetically, the Lord is calling forth a people who are the mortar of the kingdom. These are people (I believe it may be you if you are reading this. Certainly, it is not by happenstance or accident.) who will bring strength and a bonding of unity to the King's people – the church. People of mortar are like tendons and ligaments in the body. These are sometimes body parts that have been forgotten or don't seem to hold a great importance such as the heart or the lungs. However, the tendons and ligaments is what allows the body to function, move and have its being.

Permission granted to reprint articles by WaterMark Ministry in their entirety.

www.watermarkministry.org.

www.watermarkministry.injesus.com

Unlocking The Door To The Holy Of Holies

Judy Curmi

3-13-2005

I saw the brazen altar in the Temple with a fire burning on it. The fire was just a small fire, but it was burning steadily. Then the Lord said:*

I have put my holy fire inside of you. This fire has burned slowly but steadily. I say that the days of the small fires are about to end, for I am going to turn up the heat and I am going to turn it up to high. For those who have followed me faithfully, no longer will the fire of their love for me and the things of my heart remain on simmer, but I am going to turn up the heat to high.

I will burn up the sacrifices and the incense will ascend as a mighty billowing cloud of smoke. I am going to break barriers and bondages. I am going to rend afresh the veil into the Holy of Holies, so that those who have sought me diligently will have access to things of the Spirit they can not currently even imagine.

The days of smallness and struggling are over, for I AM about to do great things in the earth. The mountains will tremble as I pass by. The winds will blow and the seas will roar in agreement as I begin my decent to earth to establish my eternal kingdom.

Many have prayed for long periods of time and not received answers. Many think I have not heard them or that I have forgotten them, but my ways are not man’s ways and my timing is not man’s timing. I am getting ready to respond. The answers to many prayers will come in a flood of affirmatives. I have not gone deaf, nor is my arm to short to respond. My timing is impeccable, but it is not within the understanding of the mind of carnal man.

You have also heard it said that "time is going to speed up". This is part of the labor process, for the labor is a quickening process as new life begins to come forth.

Every word in my Word is true and every promise will be fulfilled right on schedule. Those who are with me in the Holy of Holies will have a much better idea of what is going on, than those who are running to and fro with the crowds in the streets.

In the world "mobs" are coming. Desperation is coming as the birth pangs intensify and those without me have no one to whom they can turn for answers or relief.

It will be the time for my set-apart ones to bring forth that which I have placed and nurtured inside of them. Their ways and their answers will not be carnal, but will flow from the moving of my Spirit. My chosen will go forth with signs, wonders and great manifestations of my mighty power.

I am going to win this battle. I am coming to establish my eternal reign. Those who think they can gain control of the world, and can govern as they please (without ME), are soon to find out how very wrong they are. I will burst their bubbles as easily as a straight pin can burst a soap bubble!

Many think they can do precisely as they please. They can be as rebellious and as defiled as they desire to be. Soon – and I do mean soon – they are about to discover the error of their ways.

Satan has set his traps, but I am calling all of my children, wherever they may be, to turn their backs on those traps, lies and schemes and come to me. I alone have the words of life. I alone will be able to lift you above the events that are about to unfold, so that you can see more clearly. Only I will know what you should do and I will communicate with you through my Spirit - if you will listen.

The days of "wine and roses" are over. The time of feasts and playing games is over. The greatest evil ever to befall man looms now on the horizon. This evil will have its day, but I am following right behind. Once it has run its course I will remove it. I will also remove those who have rebelled against me, determined to be in control and run their lives any way that they choose. [Matt. 13:24-43]

Watch now as I begin to turn up the heat, both in the natural and in the supernatural, for the flames on my brazen altars will light the sky. The smoke will ascend and there will be fires and pillars of smoke.

It is time to run to me with all of your heart. Hide yourself under the shelter of my wings and I will lift you up. There will be no place else that will be safe.

I am unlocking doors to mysteries and secrets. I am unlocking the door to the Holy of Holies. IT IS TIME TO ENTER IN AND MEET YOUR GOD!

Your Jesus

The brasen altar was the largest article in the tabernacle. Its dimensions were 5x5x3 cubits. The sides were 5x5 making it "four square". Each of the four corners contained a horn. The brasen altar was made of shittem wood overlain with brass. All of the required animal sacrifices were made on this altar including the lamb, bullock, goat, heifer and turtledove. All of the offerings also took place on the brazen altar including the burnt offering, the meat or meal offering, the peace or wave offering and the sin and trespass offerings. The fire on the brasen altar was required to be perpetual and was kindled by God.*

The brasen altar is a picture of the cross. It is also a picture of the place where we are to lay down our lives as a living sacrifice and allow God to purge us of our sins, our pride and our worship of the world. In the book of Romans we are urged to offer up our lives as a living sacrifice. In 1 Peter it also talks of spiritual sacrifices.

Romans 12:1 I appeal to you therefore, brethren, and beg of you in view of [all] the mercies of God, to make a decisive dedication of your bodies [presenting all your members and faculties] as a living sacrifice, holy (devoted, consecrated) and well pleasing to God, which is your reasonable (rational, intelligent) service and spiritual worship. (AMP)

1 Peter 2:4-5 Come to Him [then, to that] Living Stone which men tried and threw away, but which is chosen [and] prepared in God’s sight. [Come] and, like living stones, be yourselves built [into] a spiritual house, for a holy (dedicated, consecrated) priesthood, to offer up [those] spiritual sacrifices [that are] acceptable and pleasing to God through Jesus Christ. (AMP)

The incense in the tabernacle was burned on the altar of incense. This smaller altar was also made of shittem wood, but was overlain with pure gold. The smoke from the altar of incense arose as a sweet smelling cloud. This altar is a picture of our prayer, praise and worship as they ascend to the throne of God.

Coals from off of the brasen altar were used to light the incense on the altar of incense. It was the altar of incense that was carried into the Holy of Holies when the High Priest entered once a year. The cloud of smoke was to cover the mercy seat so that the High Priest would not look on the glory of God and die.

Quicken: To make more rapid; speed up; accelerate*

Joel 2:28-32 And it shall come to pass afterward that I will pour our my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams and your young men shall see visions. And also upon the servants and upon the handmaidens in those days will I pour out my spirit.

And I will show wonders in the heavens and on the earth, blood and fire and pillars of smoke. The sun shall be turned into darkness and the moon into blood, before the great and terrible day of the Lord comes.

And it shall come to pass that whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be delivered; for in mount Zion and in Jerusalem shall be deliverance, as the Lord has said to the remnant whom the Lord has called.

Uncovering The Feet of the Lord

Mark Kaphaem

There is a verse in the story of Ruth that has captivated me for some time now.

Ruth 3:7 - "When Boaz had finished eating and drinking and was in good spirits, he went over to lie down at the far end of the grain pile. Ruth approached quietly, uncovered his feet and lay down".

Boaz in this verse is a type of the Lord. There is something in the act of uncovering the feet of the Lord that makes my heart soar.
Pris Van Sutphin in a recent article spoke of the act of uncovering the feet in Jewish tradition as an act of betrothal.
http://Upstream.injesus.com.

This morning as I was again dwelling on this beautiful picture of uncovering His feet, I believe the Lord spoke another meaning to me that has ramifications for our personal lives, the church as a whole, America and Israel. As I was dwelling on the feet of the Lord, John's vision of Christ in the book of revelation came to mind.

Revelations 1:12-18
"I turned around to see the voice that was speaking to me. And when I turned I saw seven golden lampstands, and among the lampstands was someone "like a son of man," dressed in a robe reaching down to his feet and with a golden sash around his chest. His head and hair were white like wool, as white as snow, and his eyes were like blazing fire. His feet were like bronze glowing in a furnace, and his voice was like the sound of rushing waters. In his right hand he held seven stars, and out of his mouth came a sharp double-edged sword. His face was like the sun shining in all its brilliance. When I saw him, I fell at his feet as though dead. Then he placed his right hand on me and said: "Do not be afraid. I am the First and the Last. I am the Living One; I was dead, and behold I am alive for ever and ever! And I hold the keys of death and Hades".

Here is another case where someone fell at the feet of the Lord. Only this time it was in fear of His awesome presence. And His feet were like brass glowing in a furnace which represents judgment or refining.

A light began to come came on and I looked through the Bible at other times people had come to the feet of the Lord.

There is the beautiful story of coming to the feet of Jesus in Luke 7:38. "and as she stood behind him at his feet weeping, she began to wet his feet with her tears. Then she wiped them with her hair, kissed them and poured perfume on them". Most believe this was the same women from John chapter eight who was caught in adultery. In this case and in the symbolic case with Ruth, they came to the feet of the Lord in response to His great kindness and mercy.

There are many other cases in the Gospels where those who fell at the feet of the Lord did so seeking His mercy and experienced great healing.

Mark 5:22, Jairus fell at the feet of the Lord for healing for his daughter.
Mark 5:33, The women who was healed from the issue of blood fell at His feet.
Mark 7:25, The gentile women cried out for her daughter with a unclean spirit at the feet of the Lord.
Luke 8:33, The Gerasenes demoniac was found sitting at the feet of Jesus.
Luke 10:39, Mary sat at the feet of Jesus and listened.

The feet of Jesus are a very precious place for those who believe. They are a place of mercy, healing, deliverance, restoration, teaching and life. And yet in the vision of John in revelation we see the feet of Jesus representing judgment and refining. Here is what the Lord spoke to me about uncovering His feet.

When we come to His feet in response to His Love and Kindness or to cry out for mercy we embrace His uncovered feet. We embrace His feet of flesh that were nailed to the cross for our redemption. These are the feet that are so precious to us who are being saved. They are the feet where we lay down our lives and rise up in the life of Jesus to be one with Him. This is why I love the story of Ruth that symbolizes this very act.

The word I believe the Lord is speaking to me is that His feet of bronze glowing in a furnace are coming. But that if we will come and cry out at those feet of bronze they will be uncovered and we will experience the feet of flesh. I believe this is true for our personal lives, for our families, for our churches, our communities and for our Nation.

I particularly feel this is a word for America. The time is late but the Lord is good and full of mercy. Who knows the heart of the Lord. Perhaps if we cry out at His feet it will lesson the judgment coming to America and turn it to healing and restoration instead. Who knows the heart of the Lord. Will we ever know His heart if we do not come to His feet.

I also see a beautiful picture in the story of Ruth for Israel. Naomi, representing Israel in this story had been cut off from her heritage through the death of her husband and sons. But she was restored through Ruth, a gentile coming to the feet of her Kinsman Redeemer.

Will we go to the Lord and uncover His feet for the restoration of Israel? If we come to know His heart I believe we will. And we come to know His heart at His feet.

When John saw the revelation of the Lord and fell at His feet in fear, the Lord told Him the following.

Revelations 1:17-18.
When I saw him, I fell at his feet as though dead. Then he placed his right hand on me and said: "Do not be afraid. I am the First and the Last. I am the Living One; I was dead, and behold I am alive for ever and ever! And I hold the keys of death and Hades.

We do not need to fear in this hour. for it is our beloved that holds the keys and is in control.

Ruth greatly pleased Boaz by giving herself to him at his feet. Here is his response to her.

Ruth 3:10-11
"The LORD bless you, my daughter," he replied. "This kindness is greater than that which you showed earlier: You have not run after the younger men, whether rich or poor. And now, my daughter, don't be afraid. I will do for you all you ask. All my fellow townsmen know that you are a woman of noble character.

Boaz told her to not be afraid, that he would do all she asked of him. Jesus is telling us not to be afraid. As we give ourselves to Him at His feet, He will do as we ask. (Matt 16:19) (Matt 7:7-8).

Let us go to the feet of the Lord and uncover His mercy, healing, deliverance, restoration, understanding and life. Not only for ourselves but for our families, for our churches, our communities for our Nation and for Israel. Let's not stand before the Lord on that day and see all that could have been done. Let us give ourselves at His feet and come to know His heart and see what can be done while it is still day. For the night is coming.

Blessings in the Love of our Kinsman Redeemer,

Mark Kaphaem
mkap@insightbb.com
http://home.insightbb.com/~mkap/

Upstream The Gate of the Fish

Dave Hood

(UK)

At the outset, I would like to say that this is for a lady who’s chat name is Divine, who, should she read this, may she be blessed, for this is Gods word for her. Apart from her, it is to every precious child of God and for those in the country of the United Kingdom, whom God loves…but also for every lover of Gods Kingdom itself.

This is essentially the story of the epic struggle salmon face as each battles upstream against the rivers downward tide to the spawning grounds of the upper pools, nearer to the beginning of the rivers source. It mimics, mirrors, represents through their struggle the struggle of every Christian and every country that would desire to live for and under God. No matter how young, old or able. This is a message of struggle, but also a message of hope.

Deep down inside every Christian is the same desire as that of the salmon. Deep down in each of us is the core, the underlying desire to spend oneself for God in the spawning grounds. It’s a journey each one of us makes, full of trepidation, danger and trouble. The source of that danger is the rocks and falls, the rapids and currents. The journey is often all too hard, the obstacles almost too difficult and high to overcome.

Some of us find ourselves, lingering in slower eddies and pools at the side of the main stream. Some of us rest here but spend too short a time before we dash and venture out again. Others spent of their energy find themselves lingering longer than they need, not wanting to face the rigors of the flight upstream.

Our desire and longing, built into each one of us, is to make that journey in love and to create, to procreate for God and to produce from the milt of our lives, offspring for Him.

Many of us become too tired and worn down, to scared, to idle, to lonely, to troubled and to worried to believe that we can even want to, never mind engage and finally make and complete the journey. It is a message of hope, why?, because in the midst of this struggle God wants to reverse the flow of the stream, of this waters currents, to connect you once again to the very flow of His source, not against you, but for you.

And its seems so lonely and hard, for each and every fish has to make its own journey, deposited in the throng of the shoals, to make, compete and complete within the pools shallows. Depositing their seed, setting off the process that makes more children for Him. Children, those themselves will find the desire to swim upstream for and to Him.

All this against the current of opinion, against the rocks of adversity, against the falls of sin, avoiding the many predators. The bear, the fox, the falcon and the eagle and the crow. Above all to avoid the greatest predator…man…within (ourselves) and without (our kind)

The last is self explanatory; the danger is often within the church and not necessarily without. The fox is the one who spoils, eats the spoils the larger animals leave, the crow falls on that which is essentially carrion, what’s left when all have had their piece. The falcon, is the bird of prey as is the eagle and the eagle, the prophetic that has damaged the church, though not all eagles are damaging and not all eagles are undamaged as we seemingly shoo them away from the fish.

Some of us wonder if we will ever get there, to the end of our journey, to be fruitful in our quest of duty in love. Perhaps some of us wonder…will we be found where we lie, or where we fall? Some gasping for breath, some cut by our falls and collisions, some rudderless, worn in the fins of our tails, with some or part of them missing. A wounded monster, crippled and on the brink, gasping for breath and life.

But hear me, hear this…a surge is coming, a currents flow that is contrary to the flow downstream, a flow that is greater and stronger than its downward surge and plume. It flows on this rivers far bank…and listen, look and see…I see many finding it.

